Yearly review:

On request by:

David continues to work well, he has been able to improve his timekeeping and he is now receiving the maximum normal reward of £4.00 per week.

He approaches his work conscientiously and his work application is skilful, he is able to maintain a steady work tempo throughout the session.

Manner quiet, makes little social communication, however relates well with his instructor. Still inclined to complain of being bored.

Appearance appears unkempt.
