Handwritten text on a palm leaf strip, likely a list or record. The text is arranged in four horizontal lines. On the right side, there are four small vertical marks, possibly serving as a column for numbers or dates. A string is tied through a hole on the left side of the strip.

Handwritten text on a second palm leaf strip, continuing the list or record. Similar to the first strip, it features four lines of text and four vertical marks on the right. A string is also tied through a hole on the left side.

Handwritten text on a palm leaf strip, likely a page from an ancient manuscript. The text is written in a script that appears to be Tamil or a related South Asian script. The leaf is tied with a string at the top and has a hole for binding.

Handwritten text on a second palm leaf strip, continuing the script from the first strip. It also features a hole for binding and is secured with a string.
