BRONCHIAL COUGH ELECTUARY

Specially prepared for all kinds of COUGHS, also for SORE THROAT, &c.

This form of administering Medicine has many advantages over the old-fashioned method of Balls and Drinks, viz.——

It is easily given, and is not liable to bring on a fit of Coughing during the operation, as is frequently the case when giving a Drink or Ball.

It is more efficacious, as the medicament does not pass straight to the stomach but remains for some time in actual contact with the affected parts.

DIRECTIONS.—Draw the tongue gently forward and place the Electuary by means of a spatula or flat smooth piece of wood on the thick part of it. DOSE.—One table-spoonful, once or twice a day. Ponies, half the quantity.

This Preparation containing Belladonna is labelled POISON, in compliance with the Pharmacy Act.
