"CARROTINE"
THE STRONGEST & BEST

BUTTER COLOURING.

This remarkable Liquid gives to Butter a beautiful natural straw-like appearance. Being perfectly soluble, there is an uniformity of colour. It imparts neither taste nor smell and is quite harmless.

Keep the Bottle in a Cool & Dark place.

After the Cream is put into the Churn to every two and a half or three gallons, add one tea-spoonful of the "CARROTINE," and then proceed in the usual manner.

DENNIS'S

ESTATE OFFICE, ELKINGTON HALL, 1896.

"After an extensive use of Dennis's 'Lincolnshire' Pig Powders for the last few years, I have come to the conclusion that they are the best remedy in the market for the prevention and cure of all diseases to which Pigs are subject, and, if used as directed cannot fail to give satisfaction to all purchasers."

November, 5, 1901.

"Your powders have this week again saved the life of one of my prize pigs which my Stockman declared could not live many hours."

B. G. STONE, Steward to W. H. SMYTH, Esq., J.P.

ATHERSTONE, September, 1901.

"Please send me three dozens more of your Pig Powders, they are excellent. Anything I can do to further the sale of them will give me pleasure. Nothing in my opinion equals them." E. A. ADCOCK.

'LINCOLNSHIRE'

WELLINGBORO, November, 1900.

"I have used your Pig Powders for twelve years, and I have bred some of the finest Sows in the County and have never had swine fever or any Disease amongst my pigs. I am now using them for my poultry, and I get more eggs and finer birds." J. PARBERRY.

PIG POWDERS

The manager of a Store in Nottinghamshire says:— November, 1900.

"We sell regularly three fifteen shilling boxes of your Pig Powders weekly, and it's useless offering our customers any other than Dennis's Lincolnshire, they simply won't have others."

EXCEL

Dear Sir,

LOUTH, 1890.

"I had two pigs which, previous to using Dennis's Pig Powders, were nearly blind, covered with mange, and would scarcely eat anything, but after giving a few doses, their skin became covered with large liver-coloured spots, but these gradually disappeared, and their appetite soon became so good that they would eat almost anything. Afterwards, an occasional dose kept them in health, and I never had pigs which did better."

Yours &c., ROBERT FLETCHER.

ACTON, December, 1900.
Please send in one dozen more Pig Powders. I have been trying them for my poultry, they fully satisfy me and I highly recommend them. W. BUCKLAND.

ASHBY HALL, October, 1899.
I am using a good many of your Pig Powders for my poultry, and find them a capital thing to keep them in health, and they certainly increase the quantity of eggs. C. A. LONG.

WALTON, March, 1900.
I use a lot of your Pig Powders for poultry, I find them excellent for keeping fowls in good order and inducing them to lay more eggs. I have recommended them to a great many of my friends, and the result has pleased them. H. CELLERS.

WORMS IN PIGS.

Many pigs suffer from worms and do not thrive well, being always restless. Care should be taken to examine the sty for worms, and if any are found or are suspected, give Dennis's Worm Powders for Pigs.

They will soon remove all worms, and if used with Dennis's 'Lincolnshire' Pig Powders will speedily cure this troublesome disease.

OLD COLWICK, November, 1900.
I gave one Worm Powder to my Pig, and a cup of linseed oil eight hours after. The following morning I found twelve large worms, one twelve inches long. F. LEESON.
