The health of your pet is every bit as important as the health of any other member of your family. And since 1 in 3 pets suffer an accident or illness every year, it's not worth leaving your pet's health care to chance. Fortunately, most pets can now recover quickly from conditions that have in the past meant making heartbreaking decisions. But treatment isn't cheap and, with no NHS for animals, it's up to you to meet the cost.

Avoid the worry of high vet bills

Treating a Labrador for hip problems can cost up to £1,500. Caring for a cat injured in a road accident can cost £850. So, when you're already worrying about a poorly pet, why add the concern of how you're going to pay an enormous vet bill? We offer highly competitive, individually tailored premiums for your pet and monthly direct debits make budgeting easy.
