FUTURE OF OUR FOOD TODAY BOOKLETS

Note to Readers

The three booklets in the series "Our Food Today" (No. 1 "Rationing in the United Kingdom"; No. 2 "Industrial and Agricultural Workers"; and No. 3 "Children and Young People") are being brought up to date and amalgamated into one booklet under the title: "ABC OF RATIONING IN THE UNITED KINGDOM". The new booklet is expected to be ready shortly.

It contains a comprehensive index and a new table showing the basis on which allowances of rationed and controlled foods for catering establishments are determined. Current allowances can be readily calculated from the table and the tables now given on pages 13-14 of booklet No. 2 and on page 11 of booklet No. 3 are therefore not included in the new booklet.

Anyone wishing to receive copies of the booklet and the subsequent amending supplements should fill in the form below and return it by October 20th, 1951 (November 17th for overseas readers) to:-
Miss C.M. Hodgson, Ministry of Food, Public Relations Division, Dean Bradley House, Horseferry Road, London, S.W.1. Because of the shortage of paper, our print order has been drastically curtailed and readers are therefore requested to keep the number of copies they ask for to a minimum.
