EDWARDS'

"DESICCATED SOUP"

PATENT

(REGISTERED TRADE MARK.)

Tomato.

This preparation is largely composed of TOMATO, combined with choice garden Vegetables, forming a concentrated and portable article of diet, delicious, healthful, and economical.

The health-giving TOMATO has long been esteemed for its many valuable, and agreeable properties. By arrangements made with extensive growers in those countries where it is cultivated in the highest perfection, the manufacturers are enabled to place within reach of all a delicious Soup composed mainly of TOMATOES. The TOMATO can now be enjoyed at all seasons in as great perfection as during the short TOMATO season, the process adopted retaining the entire flavour of the fresh TOMATO unimpaired. It makes an excellent Soup or an extremely delicious Sauce at a moderate cost, well adapted for domestic use, specially so where vegetables are scarce. It keeps good in all climates, care being taken to close the canister after use.

One table-spoonful will make a basin of rich Soup; 1 lb. makes 6 quarts.

1 lb. lever-top canister, 2s. 6d.; $\frac{1}{2}$ lb., 1s. 3d.; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb., 8d.; and in metal boxes, handsomely labelled and wrapped, containing 1 doz. packets, 2s.
