LAI D BY HENS WITH THE FREEDOM TO ROAM IN OPEN
FIELDS AND PASTURES

Tesco Nature's Choice is a range of premium quality foods. They are developed to strict standards, giving consideration to animal welfare, low input farming and the removal of unnecessary additives.

Tesco Nature's Choice Eggs are laid by hens that live on a free range farm.

Throughout the day, they are free to go outdoors and roam across grass fields, where a minimum of 10 square metres of space is allowed for each bird. Fencing around the edge of the fields protects the hens from predators.

For shelter and security at night, or in bad weather, the hens have a spacious house with plenty of bedding or perches.

The farmers who supply Tesco with Nature's Choice Free Range Eggs, are all specially selected and they keep to strict rules of animal welfare.

Nature's Choice Eggs are now available in all our stores in a variety of sizes.
