Our Chocolate selection

The Ackermans Story

Ackermans Chocolates were founded nearly fifty years ago by Mr & Mrs Ackerman in North West London. From a small family concern, under the inspirational leadership of Werner Krattiger in the 1970s and '80s, Ackermans has grown to become one of the major handmade chocolate producers in the U.K. Supplying small confectionery specialists and major department stores under the Ackermans brand, as well as the most prestigious retailers under their own label, the emphasis on quality, originality and taste has won the company the premier reputation for handmade chocolates in the United Kingdom. In 1969 they were awarded the Royal Warrant by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother.

Production

In the early days, Ackermans were proud to produce 100 kilos of chocolates per week. By 1989 production had risen to 2,000 kilos and has continued to increase in 1994 to 3,000 kilos. Investment in the latest technology and special equipment and the opening of a second production unit has helped Ackermans to expand production but keep the same handmade quality. Production is flexible to respond to the particular requirements of each individual customer.

The Range

Ackermans offer an exclusive range of loose chocolates based on traditional recipes using only the finest ingredients, including Callebaut Chocolate. The comprehensive selection includes Swiss Style Fresh Cream and Longlife Truffles, Fondant Creams, Chocolate Coated Whole Nuts, Noisettes, Marzipans, Fruits and other specialities in plain, milk and white chocolate. Building on the success of their loose chocolates, Ackermans produce their own range of Packed and Boxed lines.

Beautifully packaged, this range is uniquely adaptable to "own label". Ackermans complete their range with a wonderful array of original gift ideas and specialist items for Valentine's Day, Easter and Christmas. The hand-finished hollow chocolate novelties, from Bunnies and Bears to Hippos and Crocodiles, create a unique chocolate menagerie.

Retail

Ackermans have their own shop in Goldhurst Terrace, London NW6. Export plays an important role in Ackermans future growth. With plans to expand upon their existing network of customers in Europe and the United States, the range is also available worldwide via a Mail Order service.
