DR. WEIL Recommends

"It came as a terrible shock when one of my Rhodesian Ridgebacks became seriously ill. I did some research and discovered that most pet foods contain animal byproducts and slaughterhouse scraps that I never knew I was feeding my pets. My endorsement of Pet Promise is a renewed promise of purity and responsibility to both of my pets, Jambo and Daisy."

Pet Promise foods always start with a pure protein source as the first ingredient. Never animal meals which contain rendered protein. Our foods contain protein that's been cooked only once (to maintain optimal nutritional value), not twice, like pet foods that use rendered meat.
