Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Every cold and cough, no matter what its origin, can be relieved and cured, if promptly treated, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This simple but scientific remedy soothes the inflamed respiratory membranes, stimulates the weakened tissues around the seat of the disease, acts upon the fatigued or exhausted system as a mild and healthful sedative, and restores the entire physical organization to its normal tone and vigor.

The anodyne quality of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral makes it particularly valuable in all respiratory disorders which are accompanied by nervousness or sleeplessness. Many lawyers, actors, singers, clergymen, business men, teachers, and writers bear witness to its virtues. It not only cures pectoral troubles, but superinduces the sweet and refreshing sleep so necessary to health, under the conditions of intense brain-work.

This is the medicine on which the world-wide reputation of Dr. Ayer was first established. As a family medicine it is unequalled. It has saved thousands of lives, and the good it has done and is doing, year by year, is beyond estimate. Full directions for use accompany each bottle.
