

Two graphic male faces in act of kissing, with text on risks of starting new relationships; an advertisement for the National Aids Helpline by the Liverpool Health Promotion Agency. Colour lithograph, 1994.

Publication/Creation

[Liverpool] : Liverpool Health Promotion Agency, 1994.

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/ftnnw6k6>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

Swept off your feet? Still unsure? Excited,
Anxious and unable to think straight!
Starting new relationships & discovering your sexuality can be a confusing time.
But, there is one thing to always remember - Safer sex. Using a kitemarked Condom & water based lubricant if you're going to have anal sex, is still the best way to avoid HIV and many other STD's. You can discuss sex and the HIV test in complete confidence, and also find out about local services by calling the National AIDS Helpline.

Carry on Caring...

