

A hand holding a square mirror reflecting the face of a woman with a black eye; advertisement for the support provided by the London Lighthouse centre for those affected by HIV and AIDS. Lithograph.

Publication/Creation

[Ladbroke Grove, London] : London Lighthouse, [between 1990 and 1999]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/dhm28ds4>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

She told her husband she was HIV+. He took it badly.

She told her best friends. They took off.

She told us. We listened.

And listened. And listened. She told us she'd spent her life caring for others and that now, when she really needed help, there was no-one.

That's why London Lighthouse provides information, care and support for anyone affected by HIV and AIDS. By the way, she left her husband and is now rebuilding her life again.

Her or him. Young or old. Gay or straight. Black or white. AIDS doesn't care. We do. We need you to as well.

London Lighthouse
A CENTRE FOR PEOPLE FACING THE CHALLENGE OF AIDS