

The face of a youth advertising STOP AIDS evenings for young gay and bisexual men. Colour lithograph.

Contributors

California. Department of Health.

Publication/Creation

San Francisco : Stop AIDS Project, [between 1900 and 1999] (U.S.A. : Public Media Center)

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/ebhsmy4y>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

wellcome collection

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

“He looks young and healthy,
so it’s probably O.K.”

No matter how much we know about staying safe, we don't always do it. That's why young gay and bisexual men in San Francisco put together STOP AIDS evenings – one-time, free and friendly discussions about hot, healthy sex. We'll talk about how to thrive in the age of AIDS. Give us a call today. Let's help each other build our future.

STOP
AIDS PROJECT

(415) 621-7177

Volunteers needed for the Young Men's Program.

This advertisement is funded by the Office of AIDS, California State Department of Health Services, and the San Francisco Department of Health AIDS Office. Prepared by Public Media Center.