

A weight-lifter sits on a bench with his weights at his side as someone offers him a steroid injection; a warning not to share vials and used needles for steroids; advertisement for The Steroid Project as part of the Kingston AIDS Project funded by the National AIDS Strategy, Health Canada. Colour lithograph by Alice Whissell.

Contributors

Canada. Health Canada.

Publication/Creation

Kingston (Ontario) : Health Canada, [between 1900 and 1999]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/annkeqhg>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

Intramuscular Steroids and HIV/AIDS

Lift the weight off your mind...
Don't share vials and used needles.

This poster is developed and distributed through the Keep Six! Needle Exchange, a program of the Kingston AIDS Project.

The Steroid Project was funded by the AIDS Education and Prevention Unit Under the National AIDS Contribution Program of the national AIDS Strategy, Health Canada.

Illustration by Alice Whissell.