

A group of men looking in different directions within a red and white border surrounded by comments about AIDS related issues; an advertisement for safer sex in gay relationships by the AIDS Committee of Toronto. Colour lithograph by Sandra Guerra and Paul Johnston, 1994.

Contributors

AIDS Committee of Toronto.

Publication/Creation

Toronto (Box 55, Station F, Toronto, ONT, M4Y 2L4) : AIDS Committee of Toronto, [1994]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/eta3eu5h>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

wellcome collection

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

can you relate?

communication partners

safer sex in gay relationships think about it, talk about it

"We're both young...we won't get HIV."

"We've been together for some time now.
We're safe."

"Oh, I'm in a relationship - I don't need condoms anymore."

Read on... It isn't that simple.
Informational booklets are available through your local AIDS organization.

closed relationships
fuckbuddies
a lot to consider

open relationships lovers
more than trust and love

it's all about you
HIV testing
boyfriends

AIDS Committee of Toronto
Box 55, Station F, Toronto, ONT M4Y 2L4
Office: 399 Church Street at Carlton
416 340-2437 416 340-8122 TTY

copy john maxwell photography sardis guerre & paul johnson design k macosky