The numbers at each corner and the center of your book cover are placed so to help you make a straight flap as instructed in panel 2.

Place flap 'A' on the center of cover (shown) and do not cut it out until you have a flap. If you have to, cut to make a flap.

FLAP "A"
Cut to make flap and fold under on shown. This makes the translation more, longer lasting, and offers for more protection than other methods.

Place flap 'B' on both, printed side shown. Fold in center flap A and B. Place book on front flap.

Flap 'C' and 'D' are both printed. Fold both over sides and center with book. The printed side will be on the outside. The printed side will be on the inside. The printed side will be on the outside.
