

Neuralgia, face-ache, tic in the head, & toothache are cured certainly, safely, and speedily, by Tikheel... / Clarke, Bleasdale, Bell & Co.

Contributors

Clarke, Bleasdale, Bell & Co.

Publication/Creation

York : Clarke, Bleasdale, Bell & Co., [1880?] (York : Ben Johnson & Co.)

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/gf8j6t2a>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

One dose (two tablespoonfuls) will in a few minutes certainly relieve the intense pain of Neuralgia in the Head, Face-ache, and Toothache.

NEURALGIA

FACE-ACHE, TIC IN THE HEAD, & TOOTHACHE,

ARE CURED

CERTAINLY, SAFELY, AND SPEEDILY,

BY

TIKHEEL

This remedy is probably the most valuable that has for some years been brought before the public, and it is the first successful attempt to cure a very common but painful class of diseases by the application of a hitherto almost unknown physiological fact.

The proprietors of TIKHEEL have every confidence in introducing this medicine, not by any means as a cure for every ache and pain, but rather as a certain and scientific mode of removing one pain only—that of Neuralgia in the Head, Face, and Teeth, popularly known as "Tic."

These painful affections, from which most people at times suffer more or less, will be certainly and speedily and safely cured by TIKHEEL.

TIKHEEL will at once remove the Toothache to which the female sex is, at times peculiarly subject.

The dose of TIKHEEL is two tablespoonfuls three times a day. This is a perfectly safe dose. Tikheel contains no Morphia nor Opium, nor any preparation thereof.

[OVER.]

If, after the contents of two bottles are taken, the pain is not relieved, the supposed Neuralgia is probably sympathetic pain proceeding from disease in some other part of the body, which TIKHEEL is powerless to alleviate or cure.

Lastly, although TIKHEEL, when taken at bedtime, will generally ensure a refreshing night's rest, its use, perfectly legitimate in cases of Neuralgia, &c., must not be perverted into a habit; yet, unlike Chloral Hydrate, it is not depressing nor injurious to a weak heart.

When the disease is cured the medicine should be discontinued; it will then be found that, should cold, or damp, or want of tone again bring on Neuralgia, TIKHEEL will again remove it.

ALL CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE

can procure this medicine from their Wholesale Druggist or Patent Medicine House, and the purchaser must not be induced to

"TRY SOMETHING ELSE,"

for there is nothing to compare with TIKHEEL as a cure for Face-ache, Toothache, and Tic in the Head.

The price is Half-a-Crown for a Bottle containing six doses. The word Tikheel is stamped on the bottle. The label is cream-colored, with the impression of a watch in yellow (the Trade Mark) underlying the printed directions.

EDINBURGH: Raimes & Co. GLASGOW: Apothecaries' Company. LONDON: Edwards & Son, and all Patent Medicine Houses and Wholesale Druggists. LIVERPOOL: Evans, Sons, & Co. MANCHESTER: James Woolley, Sons, & Co. THIRSK: Foggitt. LEEDS: Goodall, Backhouse, & Co.

YORK: CLARKE, BLEASDALE, BELL, & CO.,

Manufacturers for the Proprietors.