THE DRUG STORES.

5

If you feel a sudden pain that hurts you like a knife,
Often to the chemist you will go,
To get a little bottle of the proper kind of stuff
To cure the influenza don't you know.
If you are a martyr to the toothache or the gout,
Or suffer from an ailment that is chronic,
Just step inside the door of the very latest store,
In half a tick we'll make you up a tonic.

(PATTER) Spoofem's Drug Stores. We've got 300 different kinds of patent medicines in stock. Every story tells a picture, so:-

If you've got a pain in the back,
And pains all over the shop,
Lumbago, mumps, a fit of the "jumps,"
A touch of the "pipity-pop,"
Come to the Drug Store up to date,
And don't go any farther;
Aches and pains, and varicose veins,
We can cure them, rather!

2

If you're in no hurry when you're passing by the door,
Just step inside—you're not compelled to buy.
If there's any kind of physic that you fancy that you'd like.
We'll let you have a sample, just to try.
If you've got a pain that you really can't explain
We'll fix you up a potion or a lotion;
Of physic we've enough, if we poured out all the stuff,
To make a decent river or an ocean.

(PATTER) We've got every kind of drug you can mention— chloroform, belladonna, nux- vomica, salamoniac hip-hip-hip-ecacuanha, dandelion root, overland routes, daisy roots, prussic acid, aquafortis, Turkey rhubarb, jalap, and Johnny Walker. All kinds of powders— tooth powder, face powder, insect powder, and gunpowder. Last week an old lady came in and said, "What do you recommend for an acid rising?" I said, "Madam, the best thing for an acid rising is an acid drop." Whenever a customer comes in I say, "Good morning. Have you used Reachem's Pills?" One day a customer came in and said he was in pain. I said "Where's the pain?" He said, "In the pit of the stomach." I handed him a box of Reachem's Pills and said, "Pass two to the pit." We have to treat all sorts of funny accidents. A woman brought her little boy in one day. He'd swallowed a thermometer. He put it in his mouth, as children often do, and being a very cold day the mercury went down. I had to give him a dose of boiling sea-salt to bring it up. Fruit Salt is another of our specialities. One customer lives on it— buys six bottles a week. He says Fruit Salt's excellent stuff, and Eno's. Then there's Balm of Gilead, one-and-six a bottle. One of our customers has used so much that he's gone balmy. We sell any amount of bunion plasters, corn plasters, and corn solvents. There's one man who suffers with corns— he's bought so much corn-solvent that he's spent a small fortune on it— in fact he's in-solvent now. We sell all kinds of ointments and disappointments, as well as Peruvian Bark, Newfoundland Bark, Bulldog Bark, and Nile Beans for Crocodiles. But the greatest remedy of all is "Obosh," which cures every disease there is— and several others besides. Here's a testimonial to this wonderful remedy.—"Gentlemen— Another leg saved! My great aunt had a bad leg-for forty-seven years. I advised her to try crutches and the doctor advised her to have it off. She used six bottles of your remedy, 'Obosh,' and saved another leg. That makes four legs she's saved in two years." Very funny things occur sometimes. The other day a youngster came in and asked for some castor-oil mixed with something to disguise the taste. I said, "Do you like lemonade, my little man?" The boy said, "What ho! Not 'arf." So I gave him the castor-oil in lemonade, and after he'd taken it he was still waiting about, so I said, "What are you waiting for, my boy?" He said, "I'm waiting for the castor-oil. I said, 'Ah, you've just taken it.' 'Oh!' said the boy, 'Lor' lummy! why it wasn't for me, it was for father.'"

CHORUS. If you've got a pain etc.
