

A disillusioned looking doctor holding a stethoscope looks down at his patient flattened by a large expanse of black bearing the words 'AIDS still no cure' with a reminder to practice safe sex (monotone version); an AIDS prevention advertisement by the Central Health Education Bureau in New Delhi. Colour lithograph, ca. 1991.

Publication/Creation

New Delhi (Kotla Road, New Delhi) : Produced by the Central Health and Education Bureau, D.G.H.S., Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, [Feb 1991?] (New Delhi; Printed at Veerendra Printers)

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/ke7te5fu>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

AIDS still no cure

FOLLOW SAFE SEX PRACTICES

PRODUCED BY CENTRAL HEALTH EDUCATION BUREAU, D.G.H.S., MINISTRY OF HEALTH & FAMILY WELFARE, KOTLA ROAD, NEW DELHI-110002 AND PRINTED AT VEERENDRA PRINTERS, NEW DELHI.