

A message about the effect of AIDS with the word 'AIDS' (?) repeatedly crossed out; an advertisement for the AIDS Hotline by the Department of Health, Government of Hong Kong. Colour lithograph, ca. 1995.

Publication/Creation

Hong Kong : Department of Health, Hong Kong, [1995?] (Hong Kong; Printed by the Government Printer)

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/akvy3b62>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

Most people find it difficult to talk about ~~AIDS~~.

But one of the best ways to protect yourself against ~~AIDS~~ is to do exactly that.

If ~~AIDS~~ doesn't affect you,
then it affects your family.

If ~~AIDS~~ doesn't affect your family,
it affects your friends.

When we stop hiding from ~~AIDS~~, we start learning how to deal with it.

The more you know, the less the risk.

Call the AIDS Hotline on 780 2211 or pick up a leaflet at district offices, clinics, public hospitals or the Central Health Education Unit of Department of Health, 7th Floor, Southorn Centre, Wan Chai.