

A hand holds a playing card bearing a hand, the number '3' and 'La Mano'; representing the idea that AIDS is not spread by shaking hands, an advertisement by Conasida. Colour lithograph by Carlos Gayou, ca. 1996.

Publication/Creation

[Mexico] : Conasida, [1996?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/u44xwu3x>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

¡LA MANO!

*¡Tan llano como la palma
de la mano!*

El SIDA no se transmite por saludar de mano, abrazar o besar en la mejilla; ni al usar sanitarios o albercas; tampoco por el estornudo, la tos o las picaduras de insectos; tampoco por compartir el teléfono, la máquina de escribir y los trastos y cubiertos.

El SIDA no es cuestión de suerte,
sino de VIDA o MUERTE

Para mayor información llama a

TelSIDA 207-40-77

Carlos Gayón