

A heavily pregnant naked woman holding her belly with one hand and her breast with the other; advertisement for the AIDS Hotline of the National AIDS Programme of Trinidad & Tobago. Lithograph, ca.

Contributors

Pan American Health Organization.

Publication/Creation

Trinidad & Tobago : National AIDS Programme of Trinidad & Tobago, [1996?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/jzcpc2nk>

License and attribution

You have permission to make copies of this work under a Creative Commons, Attribution, Non-commercial license.

Non-commercial use includes private study, academic research, teaching, and other activities that are not primarily intended for, or directed towards, commercial advantage or private monetary compensation. See the Legal Code for further information.

Image source should be attributed as specified in the full catalogue record. If no source is given the image should be attributed to Wellcome Collection.

Just Because You're PREGNANT
Doesn't Mean You or Your Baby are Protected from AIDS

If you're thinking about having a baby, or you're pregnant, you and your partner should:

- Consider taking an HIV test (it's simple and safe)
- Stay faithful to each other
- Continue to practice safer sex

For more information, contact:
Porta Kabin 1, Eric Williams Medical Sciences Complex,
Mount Hope. Tel: 645 2640; Ext. 5857

AIDS HOTLINE 625-AIDS

A message from the Pan-American Health Organisation and the National AIDS Programme.