Mr. W. J. BLAKEY, Paper Merchant, Stockton-on-Tees, writes November 18th, 1890.

Sometime ago I had a bad attack of Whooping Cough. The fits of coughing were so severe and frequent that for days I was confined to my room: although I had a Doctor nothing that I took did me any good. Soon as I commenced with "LICORICINE" I felt its remedial action at once. When I began to get about again I carried a small bottle with me, and always found a little to give speedy relief when a fit of coughing came on. I have such a high opinion of this medicine, that I have great pleasure in recommending it to others.
