Dear Mr. Thompson,

Thank you very much indeed for the exceedingly interesting and valuable historical notes you have sent to me.
I am incorporating them into the text of my book.

With kind regards

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Hertz,

I have pleasure in enclosing a few rough historical notes on the various purgatives you marked in your proof which I trust may be of some service to you. They only embody facts that you have not, I think, already mentioned.

I regret I cannot tell you the origin of the engraving of the ibis. It came to us with a parcel of other engravings without the source being indicated, but it evidently was intended to illustrate the passage in Pliny.

I am,

Faithfully yours,

Dear Mr. Thompson,

Thank you very much for the photograph of the coin, which will do beautifully. Can you let me know its exact source, — its date, whether it was published as an illustration to Herodotus, Lib. II, Cap. LXXVII, or independently?

I enclose a few pages of my proofs which relate to historical matters where I have risked lives there. I should be most grateful for any corrections or additions you could suggest. As you see, I have no ~~new~~ note on the history of Cassara, donna of Valere's apartment

Yours very sincerely

Dear Dr. Hertz,

I have pleasure in enclosing you a photograph of the Stork

Dear Sir,

In reply to your kind letter of the 19th inst. asking for permission to reproduce the engraving of the ibis in the Historical Medical Museum, I regret we shall be unable to photograph any objects here until the end of September just before the Museum closes. I will bear your application in mind, and write to you again on the matter.

If you will kindly let me know what enema syringes you are desirous of reproducing, I will make a note of them also. Perhaps you could call here some afternoon next week at your convenience, and point these out to me.

Faithfully yours,

Curator.

Dear Sir,

I am shuttling out a second edition of my work on "Constipation & Allied Intestinal Disorders" published in 1907. In the first edition I referred to the myth about the ibis as the originator of the enema. I am writing to ask you whether you could be good enough to allow me to reproduce the remarkable engraving illustrating this point, which is in your wonderful Medical Museum, as I should like it to mark as a footnote to the new edition. If practicable I should also like to make drawings for reproduction of some of the ^{interesting} ~~curious~~ collection of enema-springs.

With apologies for troubling you Yours faithfully

Arthur P. Hill M.D., D.R.C.P.
