AMBASSADE DE FRANCE,
A LONDRES.

10th November 1913

Dear Sir,

In answer to your letter of the 8th inst., I am desired by hon. a. de Fleuriat to inform you that you can send the two parcels of medals to the French Embassy on Thursday next between 12 & 1 o'clock, if convenient to you. We shall forward them to Paris the same evening by our special messengers.

The Railway charges

we have to pay are 1/1 per 10 lbs, i.e. for 100 lbs.
10/10 which you can send to the Embassy with the packages.

I am,

Dear Sir,

Yours faithfully,

J. P. Kennedy
Sec^y

C. J. S. Thompson Esq^r
Curator

Historical Medical Museum

54^A Wigmore Street.

8 November 1913.

Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you very cordially for your kind offer, which I gratefully accept. I shall be very pleased to avail myself of the good offices of your messenger to take the parcels of medals through to Paris, for us.

There are two packages weighing ~~approximately~~ 300 lbs. and 20 lbs. respectively. Each will be fully directed to the owner, and if you will kindly inform me when you would like them sent to the Embassy, I will forward them at any time convenient to you.

Again thanking you very cordially for your kind assistance in the matter,

I am,

Faithfully yours,

The Secretary,
The French Embassy,
Albert Gate, W.

6 November 1913.

Dear Sir,

During the meeting of the International Congress of Medicine in London in August last, Professor Blanchard and Dr. Paul Raymond of Paris lent us their interesting collections of medical medals for the Historical Medical Museum of the Congress.

We are now desirous of returning these medals to their owners in Paris, and I understand there will be some difficulty with the Custom House in so doing, unless we can obtain a letter from His Excellency the French Ambassador in London. As we are anxious that the gentlemen who kindly lent these objects should not be put to any inconvenience, we should much appreciate your kindness if you could furnish us with a note to be sent with the parcels which would ensure that the objects would reach their respective owners without any trouble or Custom House examination.

Thanking you in anticipation,

I am,

The Secretary,
The French Embassy.

Faithfully yours,

C. J. S. T
