KROON, DR. J. E., LEIDEN

1921

Lite

Leiden Aug 2nd 1921

Dear Mr Thompson.

Very many thanks for your letter. Because the Academy now is closed til 19th or 20th of September, there can't be photographed now in the Senate room. Unhappily our library photographer died on the 24th of May last.
And we haven't got another person yet. But as soon we have one again I will ask him if he will be able to do the job in the size you mentioned in your letter. In this hot and dry weather I could not yet come to pack a pile of books and articles as I promised you to send at the first part of July

I had not yet heard that the congress will meet in London next year. I thought it should be now every two years, so the first after this year to take place in 1923. Is the month already stated? In a couple of weeks, better said half of this month I leave for a holiday but hope to be able to send you that which I gathered before leaving.
With very kind regards. Yours sincerely.

J. R. Brown

Dear Sir,

With very many thanks I got yesterday afternoon your sending of books. Most interesting. Where you are intended to go to Paris within a couple of days, I hope to send you the return packet end of the first week of July, perhaps some days later. But in due time you will receive them before the 15th of July. Our mutual friend and colleague de Lint looks on the 10th of this month his father in law; and I think therefore he alone will come to Paris without his wife.

With very many thanks and very kind regards. Yours.

truly J. E. Kroon

Dear Dr.Kroon,

I propose making a section devoted to ancient Dutch Medicine in this Museum, and although we have a good many pictures of Dutch physicians and surgeons from the XVI to the XVIII century, we have not a good portrait of Boerhaave.

Do you know of any good copier of pictures in Leiden who would undertake to make us a copy of the portrait of Boerhaave in the Senate Hall of the University. I think it is the best portrait I have seen of him, and if we could get a copy done a little smaller than the original at a moderate cost, I should be very glad to have one to put among the portraits of Dutch medical men. If you do not know of anyone in Leiden, I will write our friend, Van Gils, who man know of a suitable man in the Hague.

I trust you are keeping well this hot weather, which I expect you are experiencing also in Holland. I saw our friend, de Lint, in Paris at the Congress of the Histoire de la Medicine a few weeks ago, and several of our Dutch colleagues. You may perhaps have heard that the Congress is meeting in London next year, and I hope you will be able to come. I will let you know further particulars later on.

With kind regards.

Sincerely yours,

To

May thanks for your postcard of the 30th ulto, and your kind suggestion about the reprints of articles on the history of medicine from Dutch periodicals. I should like to have them very much for our library, and am making you up a parcel of the publications from the Museum and Bureau in exchange, which I hope to send off shortly.

I hear from Dr. Van Andel that you have got a photograph of the group taken on May 14th, and I shall look forward to seeing it with much interest.

With kind regards,

Dr. Kroon.

Dear Dr. Kroon,

I have just arrived back in London, and wish to take the earliest opportunity to render you my cordial thanks for your kindness to me when in Leiden last week. I shall never forget the kind reception both yourself and all your colleagues gave me, and the pleasant evening we spent at the dinner after the meeting.

I trust we shall meet again on another occasion, and should be most pleased if you ever come to London if you will call upon me and pay a visit to the Historical Medical Museum, where I am sure you would find a great deal to interest you.

I take this opportunity of sending you a new edition of the handbook to this Museum.

With renewed thanks and kind regards,

Faithfully yours,

Dear Dr. Thompson.

Very many thanks for your kindness in sending me this nice little booklet of your historical collections. I am very much obliged for it. In looking it through, the thought occurred to me, if you perhaps could have any use of a good many reprints of articles on history of medicine from Dutch periodicals. As librarian of our Society I have got a good many doubles, and when you can use them, perhaps we could start an exchange of them.

Of course I hope to meet you again sometime, and I shall be very pleased in coming to London to visit you at your museum. With very kind regards, faithfully
yours J. E. Kroom.
