

Journal of further voyages for the P.&O.; Company between Bombay, Singapore and Hong Kong, and on a return voyage to England.

Publication/Creation

August 1854-June 1855

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/qcfztjda>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

The Library of the Wellcome Institute for the History of Medicine

Accession Number

Press Mark

MS. 5959

Aug. 28. 1854

- June 4. 1855

1

SS. "CADIZ"

← Poona
? Bombay!

Monday, August 28th, 1854.

Up at 5 o'clock and rode all round ^{the} city; visited ^{the Parbuttee reservoirs}; returned, unable to ^{go to mess-} ~~eat~~ breakfast, feel completely done, ^{can eat nothing;} try to sleep, fail; am visited by ^{the} Indian Jugglers, ^{am} astonished ^{to see} at their ^{wonderful} performance; 1st, taking from his mouth a quantity of ^{various} articles sufficient to fill a quart pot; after which he emitted from his mouth ^{smoke and} flames of fire; 2nd, lifting ^a stone weighing 56 lbs. by inserting small cup-shaped shells under his eyelids and so lifting by strings attached to the same; ^{[32] by making a tree grow in the path, &c. &c.} ~~a growing tree.~~ Dress at 1 p.m. for tiffin at mess and find I can eat nothing; return to Ponsonby's and he accompanies me to the Post Office where I find buggy in readiness. At 6 p.m. I bid adieu to Ponsonby and my black coachman takes the reins; ~~then~~ we are off for the night. The cool evening ^{air} revives me ^{a little} ~~somewhat~~ and I pick a few sandwiches; we bowl along at a furious ^{pace} ~~rate~~ and attended with much danger; the drivers are often killed. meet many camels on ~~the~~ road, one quantity of 30 head, nose and tail, almost turned over by running against them. 12 Midnight, arrive at ^[Khandāla] Khundalla, am carried down the Ghauts in ~~4~~ palanquin, get to sleep during this time. At bottom get into another buggy and away; see some jackals, nearly drive over one. Get to Vollum at 5 a.m., & thence on board a small ^{Snake} steamer ~~"Snake"~~ and go alongside "Cadiz" at Mazagon; dreadfully knocked up. Am pleased at getting once more home, try to sleep, find it impossible; turn in early, ^a good night.

Monday, August 28th, 1884.
Up at 5 o'clock and rode all round city; visited turned, unable to ~~eat~~ breakfast, feel completely done, try to sleep, fail; am visited by Indian jugglers, ~~and~~ entertained their performance; fat, taking from his mouth a quantity of stick sufficient to fill a quart pot, after which he emitted from his mouth flames of fire; and, lifting stone weighing 50 lbs. by inserting small cup-shaped shells under his armpits and so lifting by strings attached to the same; ~~and~~ Dress at 1 p.m. for dinner at mess and find I can eat nothing; return to Bensonby's and he accompanies me to the Post Office where I find buggy in readiness. At 2 p.m. I bid adieu to Bensonby and my black coachman takes the reins; ~~and~~ we are off for the night. The cool evening revives me somewhat and I pick a few sandwiches; we bow along at a furious rate and attended with much danger; the drivers are often killed. Next many camels on the road, one quantity of 30 head, nose and tail, almost turned over by running against them. 12 Midnight, arrive at Khambalia, am carried down the Ghats in a palanquin, get to sleep during this time. At bottom get into another buggy and away; see some jackals, nearly drive over one. Get to Volium at 3 a.m. & chance on board a small steamer "Munster" and go alongside "Gadia" at Maxagon; dreadfully knocked up. Am pleased at getting once more home, try to sleep, find it impossible; turn in early, good night.

Bombay. 30th and 31st August. 1854

Visit the fort, call on friends, see Sillar, find no money sent from Hong Kong, am in distress as to what I take up to China. Tiff. at Bank and proceed to ship; am feeling very seedy; ^acoldness about the stomach and general lassitude; go to bed, at midnight wake up with fearful griping pains; bear it till 2 a.m., 31st, when I vomit and am purged; send for surgeon of "Pottinger"; says I have Cholera, am drawn together with cramps, quite cold and vomiting frequently; Dr. Goodall sent for and also Dr. Nevell; 8 a.m., find I am better, 11 a.m., still better; take great potions of physic; the day is spent in thinking of the uncertainty of life and how soon we are cut off and ^{are} gone. I am grateful to Almighty God for his loving and tender mercies to an undeserving sinner and earnestly pray that this warning may through his blessing make me ever have in mind that we are only here for a short time and to make such use of it as God desires for our eternal welfare. Great sickness prevails in Bombay, fever, cholera and acute dysentery; many valuable lives are daily lost. Receive kind wishes from all Company's Serv(ants &c. &c.)

Long. 75.34 E.

247 miles.

Winds W.S.W.

Fresh breeze, squalls.

Bar. max. 29.76. min. 29.68.

Therm. max. 82. min. 80.

Carrying all sail, going ~~gloriously~~ gloriously.

South and West Avenue 1874

Bombay

Visit the fort, call on friends, see sister, find no money sent from Hong Kong, am in distress as to what I take up to China, till at last and proceed to ship, am feeling very sore, coldness about the stomach and general lassitude; go to bed, at midnight wake up with fearful gripping pains; bear it till 3 a.m., then I vomit and am purged; some for surgeon of "Portico"; says I have cholera, am drawn together with cramps, quite cold and vomiting frequently; Dr. Goodall sent for and also Dr. Nevill; 8 a.m., find I am better, 11 a.m., still better; take great portions of physic; the day is spent in thinking of the uncertainty of life and how soon we are out of it and gone.
I am grateful to Almighty God for his loving and tender mercies to an undervaluing sinner and earnestly pray that this warning may through his blessing make me ever have in mind that he is (only here) for a short time and to make such use of it as God desires for our eternal welfare. Great sickness prevails in Bombay, fever, cholera and acute dysentery; many valuable lives are daily lost. Receive kind wishes from all Company's servants &c.

Prose

Prose

Prose

Friday, September 1st. 1854.

7 a.m., pay my Tailor and am able to dress myself and get my breakfast with the rest. 9 a.m., farewell to this horrible hole and once more on ^{our} way to China, find myself very weak.

Lat. 18 26.N. Long. 72.40 E. ^{Course & Distance varies.} 29 miles. Am feel-

^{Bearing & Distance Bunt Island 5.14. E. 15.8 miles}
 Wind, N.W.W. Squally, with [^{heavy rains?}] 12 miles. 9.5 p.m.

Bar. Max. 29.72 Min. 29.64. Splendid run of 3 days 12 hours.

Thermom. " 85 " 83

Have no passengers but Adm. Agent, old friend Ponsonby.

During the night we lay off the harbour not being able to get in; 6.15, receive

Saturday, Sept. 2nd. 1854. An extra Lat. 13.44 Long. 73.38 E. ^{Course & Distance S. 10. E. 29.2 miles. Bearing & Distance Mount Dilly 5.35 E. 12.5 miles.}
 Bar. Max. 29.69. Min. 29.62.

Thermom. Max 82. Min 80. as to the wars.

Winds S.W. in not Light breeze ^{and} cloudy. Shall receive from Passed during ^{the} night Steamer supposed to be ^{the} "Pottinger"; fine breeze and we are shooting along, the coast in view and all sail set, our run is splendid. All well.

Wednesday 5th. Sept. 1854.

Sunday, 3rd. 8 Sept. 1854.

Lat. 10.5.N. Long. 75.34 E. ^{Course & Distance S. 27.30 E.} 247 miles.

^{Bearing & Distance Quillon Flagstaff 5.40. E. 95 miles.}
 Winds. W.S.W. Fresh breeze, squalls.

Bar. max. 29.76. min. 29.68. Therm. Max. 82. min. 80.

Carrying all sail, going ^{on} gloriously. He seems not to get older; we (with Ponsonby) talk of old by-gones of West India service. At 1.30, having received all cargo from Bengal, slipped

GALLE

Prevail;

at Pier
Bar
Thom

Presiding

Lat. 7.5 N. Long. 78.70 E.
Course & Distance S. 44 E. 25.3 miles.
Bearing & Distance Point de Galle Light House S. 58. 117 miles.

Monday, 4th. Sept. 1854 breeze and

Bar. - - - - - Max. 29.77. - - - - - Min. 29.72. Head

Thermom. - - - - - Max 83. - - - - - Min 77.

Prevail; Wind S - - - Westerly, steady breeze, cloudy.

Delightfully ^{cool} weather, ^{and} we are going along merrily. I Am feeling myself much better. 8 p.m., Galle light, 12 miles. 9.5. ^{per.} showed blue light and rocket. Splendid run of 3 days 12 hours.

at Point de Galle.
Prevailing winds W. fresh breeze & fine.
Bar. max. 29.77. min. 29.71.
Therm. max. 80. min. 79.

noon Tuesday 5th. Sept. 1854

During the night we lay off ^{Galle} the harbour not being able to get in; 6.15., received Pilot, 6.40., anchored. An extraordinarily fast passage, average ^{of} 12 knots. At 3.45 p.m. "Bengal" arrived from Suez, bringing us little news as to the wars. Disappointed in not getting any letters. Shall receive from "Bengal" only 3 passengers, a Jew, ^a Yankee and a Scotchman. Cool fine evening; and am finding myself better.

at Point de Galle.

Wednesday, 6th. Sept. 1854.

Bar. - - - - - Max. 29.79. - - - - - Min. 29.74

Thermom. - - - - - Max. 81. - - - - - Min 79. run of 310

Prevail; Winds - - S.W., squally with rain. everything most favourable.

My old friend Perseval pays me a visit; he seems not to get older; we (with Ponsonby) talk of old by-gones of West India service. At 1.30 ^{p.m.} having received all cargo ^{to} from "Bengal", slipped Wind S.W. Moderate cloudy.

Bar. 29.74
 Thermom. 81
 Wind S.W., squally with rain.
 My old friend Perceval pays me a visit; he seems not to get older; we (with Bonaparte) talk of old pygmies of West India service. At 1.30 having received all cargo from Bengal, shipped at 1.30.

Wednesday, 6th Sept 1874
 Bar. 29.74
 Thermom. 81
 Wind S.W., squally with rain.
 Disappointed in not getting any letters. Shall receive from his arrived from Goa, bringing us little news as to the war.
 Finally last passage, average 18 knots. At 3.45 p.m. "Herald" got in; 6.15, received Pilot, 4.40, anchored. An extra-During the night we lay off the harbor not being able to showed blue light and rocket. Splendid run of 3 days 12 hours.
 the myself much better. 8 p.m. Dull light, 12 miles. 9.30 p.m.
 Delightful weather, we are going along merrily. Am feel-Wind S.W., steady breeze, cloudy.

Thursday, 7th Sept 1874
 Bar. 29.74
 Thermom. 81
 Wind S.W., squally with rain.
 My old friend Perceval pays me a visit; he seems not to get older; we (with Bonaparte) talk of old pygmies of West India service. At 1.30 having received all cargo from Bengal, shipped at 1.30.

Private ANG
 Private Private
 Let Pro

from moorings and proceeded to sea; have a fair breeze and everything looks ^{up} well for a fast passage; passed Doudra Head ^{Doudra?} about four, and then set all sail.

Sunday, Sept. 10th. 1854.

Thursday, 7th. Sept. 1854.

Lat. 6. 3. N.

Long. 84. 27. E.

Course distance E.

255 miles.

Bearing and distance Pulo Rondo E. 643 miles.

Prevail; Winds S.S.W. Fresh breeze, cloudy.
Bar. max. 29.80. min. 29.72. Therm. max. 83. min. 81.

I rise early as usual but not with that feeling of lightness as from refreshing sleep; dull spirits etc. We are ^{booming} going along splendidly at the rate of $11\frac{1}{2}$ to $12\frac{1}{2}$ knots and shall make a splendid run; hope to cross the Bay in $4\frac{1}{2}$ days. All find the ship more comfortable since the black sheep left. ^{the ship} Old Ponsonby is an intense humbug and easily weathered by flattery; how easily we see the faults and weak points of our companions while we little know our own.

Friday, Sept. 8th. 1854.

Lat. 5.50. N.

Long. 89. 10 E.

Course distance S. 87 E. 310 miles

Bearing and distance Pulo Rondo N. 88. 330 mi.

310 miles.

Bar. max. 29.70 min. 29.73
Therm. max. 85 .. 82.

Prevail; Winds S.S.W.

Steady breeze, fine.

Still making 12 knots per hour and a glorious run of 310 miles, the longest I have ever made; everything ^[now] most favourable.

Lat. 5.49 N. Long. 94.4 E. Course dist. 2. 280 miles Bearing and distance Pulo Rondo N. 72. E. 52 miles.

Prevail; wind S.S.W.

Saturday, 9th. Sept. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.77.

Min. 29.68

Thermom. Max. 84. Min 80.

Wind S.S.W.

Moderate ^{bruzed} cloudy.

from morning and proceeded to east; have a fair breeze and everything looks well for a fair passage; passed Borda Head about four and then set all sail.

Thursday, 24th Sept 1854
Lat. 6. 50. N. Long. 82. 10. E.
Wind S.W. Moderate Cloudy.
Bar. Max. 29.77 Min. 29.68 Therm. Max. 84 Min. 80.
I rise early as usual but not with that feeling of lightness as on previous days; dull spirits etc. We are going along gloriously at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 knots and still make a glorious run; hope to cross the bar in 4 days. All find the ship more comfortable since the black sheep left. Old Benson by its intense humor and easily weathered by flattery; how easily we see the faults and weak points of our companions while we little know our own.

PENANG

Friday, 25th Sept 1854
Lat. 6. 50. N. Long. 82. 10. E.
Wind S.W. Steady breeze, fine.
Still making 1 1/2 knots per hour and a glorious run of 310 miles, the longest I have ever made; everything most favorable.

Saturday, 26th Sept 1854
Lat. 6. 50. N. Long. 82. 10. E.
Wind S.W. Moderate Cloudy.
Bar. Max. 29.77 Min. 29.68 Therm. Max. 84 Min. 80.

Making good run but wind failing us; passed Pulo Rondo at 5 o'clock. Land of Sumatra in sight S. All is now quietness here; they have received another corps of native Infantry from Madras. Sparks Sunday, Sept. 10th. 1854.

Lat. 5.47 N. ^{Course & Distance E} and Long. 98.36 E. ^{234 miles.} ^{Bearing & Distance} ^{Moorka (Hra)} ^{S 82 E. 115 mi.}

Personality Winds S — S.E. Light breeze ^{and} cloudy.

Bar. max. 29.81 min. 29.73. Therm. max. 85. min. 82.

2.50 ^{pm} passed Pulo Pera. 4.45, saw Penang. 11.25, anchored in roadstead off Penang, and find Dr. Maillardet has not ordered money for ~~me~~ ^{me. 500} ~~Maggon~~. ^{after passing through most stink-} ing premises, arrive at the crawl beneath a platform in the road; the swell was so great ^{Monday, 11th. Sept. 1854.} so poor and ex-Lat. 4.3 N. Long. 100.21 E. ^{Course & Distance varies 85 miles.} ^{Bearing & Distance} ^{Floating} ^{Light S. 28 E. 82 miles.}

Bar. — Max. 29.84. — Min. 29.71. ^{varied with}

Thermom. — 87. — 83. ^{After resting there some}

Personality Winds S — S.S.E. ^{and} Steady breeze ^{fine.} ^{thence down to} ^{am.} At 2.30, left Penang and proceeded through South channel; discharged Pilot off Pulo Rena. The day sultry; booming down straits once more. 10 a.m., passed below the ^a Sambilangs and

Pulo; ^{Jarls} 7.50 passed ^F Floating ^L Light. ^{Lighthouse and several sailing}

ships bound the same way as ourselves. At 10.30, sighted Pulo

Var, a splendid run of ^{Tuesday, 12th. Sept. 1854.}

Lat. 1.24 N. — Long. 103.12 E. ^{Course & Distance} ^{234 miles.} ^{Bearing & Distance} ^{Coral Island} ^{S 56 E. 13 miles.}

Personality Winds — E.S.E. Light breeze ^{and} fine.

Bar. max. 29.83. min. 29.73. Therm. max. 88. min. 83.

Lat. Fine fresh morning, just passed ^{outer} Water Island, 6 a.m., and shall get into Singapore to-night; 2.55. passed Rabbit and Coney

Fine weather, fair wind but light. 9.30, exchanged colour

with ^{Faint}

...making good run but wind falling we passed Pulau Rondo at 8 o'clock. Land of Sumatra in sight.

Sunday, Sept. 10th, 1854.
Lat. 5.47 N. Long. 98.50 E. 234 miles.

Singapore

...in morning of Penang and Tind. Mr. Wallbridge has not ordered money for message.

Monday, 11th Sept. 1854.
Lat. 5.51 N. Long. 98.54 E. 234 miles.

At 2.30, left Penang and proceeded through South Channel; discharged Pilot off Pulau Rona. The day sultry; booming deep strata once more. 10 a.m. passed below the Sumbilang and Pulau; 7.50 passed floating light.

Tuesday, 12th Sept. 1854.
Lat. 1.24 N. Long. 103.12 E. 234 miles.

...fine fresh morning, just passed Water Island, 6 a.m., and shell get into Singapore to-night; 2.55. passed Rabbit and Coney

Have nearly ^[erected a] Lighthouse. 4.p.m., anchored in Singapore and get little news. Marshall dines with us. All is now quietness here; they have received another corps of native Infantry from Madras. Sparks asks me to come and take a bed, refuse, not feeling well and having taken medicine.

At Singapore. Wednesday, 13th. Sept. 1854.

Proceed on shore with Yankee Boyd; find no persons moving. Go to Bazaar for turtle and after passing through ^{the} most stinking premises, arrive at the crawl beneath a platform in the mud; the smell was so great that on ^{hauling} taking up 2 so poor and expensive that I could not buy, got away covered with mud; disgusted and sick I go to "London" Hotel; after resting there some little time, call on ^{W.J. ~~W.B.~~ R. [or Mrs R.]} and breakfast, thence ^{drive} ~~down~~ to Lieut. Dunn; find only Mrs D. at home, a very nice little woman. Find ^{Mr} Roberts on board, going up to China with us, also a dreadful Dutchman, snob. At 2.15., receive mails and get under weigh; at 4.55 pass Pedra Branka Lighthouse and several sailing ships bound the same way as ourselves. At 10.30. sighted Pulo Var, a splendid run of 14 knots with the tide.

Thursday, 14th Sept. 1854.

Lat. 4.33 N. — Long. 105.42 E. ^{course & distance} 5.24.E. 247 miles.

Winds NE. ~~SE~~ E. — Light/clear weather.

Bar. max. 29.80 min. 29.73. Therm. max. 85. min. 83.

Fine weather, fair wind but light. 9.30, exchanged colour

with "Favourite" or "Hamrick"?

Friday, 15th. Sept. 1854.

Lat. 7.15 N.; long. 108.45 E. course & distance N. 47 E. 256 miles. Bearing & dist. Alexandrie shoal N. 46 E. 253 miles.
Bar. ——— Max. 29.87. ——— Min. 29.82.

Thermom. " 88 " 83.

Prevailing news S.W. light breeze & fine.

Everything progressing favourably, and pleasantly.

Early this morning made the land and apex Mars. 11.30, rounded N.E. point of. Saturday, 16th. Sept. 1854.

Lat. 10.8 N. Long. 111.57 E. course & distance N. 48 E. 261 miles.

Wind S — ~~SE~~ ^{West by South} Fine clear weather.
Bar. max. 29.84. min. 29.77. Therm. max. 88 — min. 84.

Not making so good ~~progress~~ ^{a passage} as we expected; no breeze to help us. Captain not looking well but does not explain. Masqui!

Wednesday, 20th. Sept. 1854.

Lat. 14.45 E. Long. 113.22 E. Sunday, 17th. Sept. 1854.

Bar. ——— Max. 29.73. ——— Min. 29.69. Therm. max. 85 — min. 81.

Wind West. ——— Fresh breezes and ~~fine~~ ^{fine}.

Made good run, ^{but} wind now failing us, stormy and threatening aspect, head winds at night. Canton in a state of siege, all ladies left for Macao, all money afloat, expect to be burnt down every night. A few days ^{Sept.} Monday, 18th. 1854.

Lat. 18.32 N. Long. 114.22 E. course & distance N. 14 E. 234 miles.

Prevailing Winds N.E. Strong breeze, ~~SE~~ ^{fine}.
Bar. max. 29.66. min. 29.59. Therm. max. 84. min. 81.

Weather ~~stormy~~ ^{showing}; every symptom of being bad; showing Typhoon symptoms; most anxious to get in to-morrow.

had marched thence inland, went over in boats, attacked and took it and then sent for the Mandarin (Imperialists) and gave it

Bar. 29.97. Temp. 82.5. Wind S.W. 10-15. Light breeze. Everything progressing favorably, and pleasantly.

Saturday, 14th Sept. 1894. Bar. 29.97. Temp. 82.5. Wind S.W. 10-15. Light breeze. Everything progressing favorably, and pleasantly.

Sunday, 15th Sept. 1894. Bar. 29.97. Temp. 82.5. Wind S.W. 10-15. Light breeze. Everything progressing favorably, and pleasantly.

Monday, 16th Sept. 1894. Bar. 29.97. Temp. 82.5. Wind S.W. 10-15. Light breeze. Everything progressing favorably, and pleasantly.

Tuesday, 17th Sept. 1894. Bar. 29.97. Temp. 82.5. Wind S.W. 10-15. Light breeze. Everything progressing favorably, and pleasantly.

Wednesday, 18th Sept. 1894. Bar. 29.97. Temp. 82.5. Wind S.W. 10-15. Light breeze. Everything progressing favorably, and pleasantly.

HONG KONG

up to them by their paying (a sum) ; they returned to Hong Kong victorious; this is the Tuesday, 19th. Sept. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.72. Min. 29.58.
Thermom. " 81. " 79.

Winds N.E. ——— Heavy, dull weather.

Early this morning made the land and ^{Asses} ~~Apes~~ Ears. 11.30, rounded N.E. point ^{of} ~~12 noon~~ ^{12 noon} ~~now~~ running through little Lamma Channel and had good view of ^{Stanley} ~~Stanton~~ and Aberdeen ~~on~~ Hong Kong, also pretty Bay ^(Lamma) ~~on~~ Lamma. 1 p.m., anchored in Hong Kong harbour.

Wednesday, 20th. Sept. 1854.

A miserable ^{and} ~~blowing~~ ² ~~wet~~ ¹ day; discharging cargo; news here small; all trade is stopped up the river, ^{Canton} shipping at Whampoa not able to get freights; large chops of tea not able to come down without paying toll to the rebels, ^{of} 4000 ^{taels} ~~dollars~~ per chop.
Thinkee too much ^a squeeze. Canton in a state of siege, all ladies left for Macao, all money afloat, expect to be burnt down every night. A few days since City of Cowloon fell into the hands of the rebels; this city is stationed on the opposite side facing Victoria ^{on the main} but not seen as it is in a harbour, a projecting headland hiding it. The coolies and boatmen here (Hong Kong) collected a force of 500 and armed themselves; and when the rebel had marched ^{from} thence inland, went over in boats, attacked and took it and then sent for the Mandarins (Imperialists) and gave it

Tuesday, 18th Sept. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.72. Min. 29.52. Therm. 81.

Wind: W. E. Heavy, diffused.

Early this morning made the land and sea bars. 11.30, rounded N.E. point of Lamma; saw running through little Lamma Channel and good view of ~~Stanley~~ and Aberdeen on Hong Kong. Also pretty Bay of Lamma. 1 p.m., anchored in Hong Kong harbor.

Wednesday, 20th Sept. 1854.

A miserable blowing wet day; discharging cargo; new here small; all trade is stopped up the river shipping at Whampoa not able to get freights; large cargo of tea not able to come down without paying toll to the rebels, 1000 ~~taels~~ ^{taels} per cargo. Think too much expense. Canton in a state of siege, all ladies left for Macao, all money almost, expect to be burnt down every night. A few days since City of Cowloon fell into the hands of the rebels; this city is stationed on the opposite side facing Victoria ^{on the bank} but not seen as it is in a harbour, a protecting headland hiding it. The coolies and boatmen here (Hong Kong) collected a force of 500 and armed themselves and when the rebels had marched ^{from} thence inland, went over in boats, attacked and took it and then sent for the Mandarin (Imperialist) and gave it.

up to them by their paying 10500#; they returned to Hong Kong victorious; this is the style of warfare here. Sir J. Bowring has just left in the "Barracouta" with wealthy merchants for Peking to see the Emperor with American plenipotentiary ~~with~~ ^{here (U.S.S. -----)} regard to the stoppage of trade; ~~left~~ ^{left} to-day for Shanghai on her way to Peking

Thursday, Sept. 21st. 1854.

~~Every~~ ^{Every} excitement prevails here on board; we are to paint Ship and so on; Commander living on shore, better; find my opium sold better than I expected. "Norma" down from Whampoa, "Chusan" to take the mails of the 27th; Ship just arrived, having been attacked by Pirates, ~~but~~ ^{and} fortunately beat them off. The Islands and Creeks are swarming with them. Call on Skinner, find Marsh is off to the wars; Skinner, as usual, grumbling. Weather most changeable and miserable; feeling unwell, the old complaint; see Barton who prescribes for me; take a walk and settle down.

Friday, 22nd. Sept. 1854.

Call on Surgeon of "Norma", White, and see if I can get him to change as I wish to see Australia; find it no go. Am disgusted at Mr Walker's conduct during my absence in seizing my Goats saved from "Douro"; wish to go to law about it, but find that being Company's servant I can lay no claims to them; in any

up to them by their paying (a sum) they returned to Hong Kong victorious; this is the style of warfare here. Sir J. Bowring has just left in the "Harrington" with wealthy merchants for Peking to see the Emperor with American plenipotentiaries with regard to the stoppage of trade. (a.s.s.) on her way to Peking

Thursday, Sept. 21st. 1854.
Ship and so on; Commander living on shore, better; find me of him sold better than I expected. "Hornet" down from Whampoa "Ginnery" to take the mail of the 27th; ship just arrived having been attacked by pirates, but fortunately beat them off.
The Islands and Creeks are swarming with them. Call on Skinner find Marsh is off to the wars; Skinner, as usual, examining.
Weather most changeable and miserable; feeling myself, the old complaint; see Barton who prescribes for me; take a walk and settle down.

Friday, Sept. 22nd. 1854.
Call on Surgeon of "Hornet", White, and see if I can get him to change as I wish to see Australia; find it no go. As distressed at Mr. Walker's conduct during my absence in stating my Goats saved from "Doro"; wish to go to law about it, but find that being Company's servant I can lay no claims to them; in any case it is not the Act of a Superintendent or a Gentleman; 3 paltry Goats! but he is a low bred thief, no principle, so I cut him; remain on board and beg the surgeon White to dine with me to-morrow, but find it no go; get Blue Devils and mope about disgusted.

Tuesday, 20th. Sept. 1854.

To-day Aldham leave Saturday, 23rd Sept. 1854 what a wonder!

(Selected) First news this morning is that the ^{chief} Engineer of "Norma" jumped overboard during the night, and his body picked up this morning off E. point. He was a drunkard and delirious, committed suicide; a ^[quartermaster] Q.M. on watch heard someone in the water and saw the drowning man, lowered the ladder and that was all, said nothing till next morning; as he thought it was a Chinaman; no boat was lowered; this I consider an infamous shame, so to lose a man. Cowloon side very disturbed, nevertheless Commander and ^{my} self with revolvers take a trip on foot over the paddy fields to find where the snipe are; we then mount the hill commanding the City of Cowloon and unmolested get to ship about 1.30 ^{p.m.}, very tired; remain on board that day.

and get coffee; then proceed to dress and again go on board to breakfast; see that cable Sunday, 24th. Sept. 1854.

Another miserable cold North wind and plenty of rain; accompany Baker and Mac to Bethel, find congregation small, not more than 7 in all. ^{Continued} ~~Out~~ all day, wet and miserable; no news. Dine on shore with Drs ^a Horland and Chaldicott. on board, afterwards go to sale of books &c.

case it is not the Act of a Superintendent or a Gentleman; 3 dirty Gents! but he is a low bred thief, no principle, so I out him; remain on board and see the surgeon White to dine with me to-morrow, but find it no use; got nine Dollars and some about disgusted.

Saturday, 23rd Sept 1884

First news this morning is that the "Hornet" of "Horn" jumped overboard during the night, and his body picked up this morning off W. point. He was a drunken and delirious, committed suicide; a M. on watch heard someone in the water and saw the drowning man, lowered the ladder and that was all, said nothing till next morning; as he thought it was a Chinaman;
 no boat was lowered; this I consider an infamous shame, so to lose a man. Gensoon also very disturbed; nevertheless Gens mander and self with revolver take a trip on foot over the badly fields to find where the snipe are; we then mount the hill commanding the City of Coosges and unloaded got to ship about 1.30, very tired; remain on board that day.

Sunday, 24th Sept 1884

A miserable cold North wind and plenty of rain; accompany Baker and Mac to Bethel, find congregation small, not more than 7 in all. ^{Continued} Wet and miserable; no news. Dine on shore with Mrs Holland and Chaidictor.

Monday, 25th September. 1854.

"Norma" steamed out for Singapore to-day. Am passive; ^{quiet.} getting cabin properly painted and gilded, everything ~~sweet~~ ^{as} usual reading over the will of the Commissariat.

Tuesday, 26th. Sept. 1854.

To-day Aldham leaves for Canton on a visit; what a wonder! Call on Lady Bowring and dine with them ^{tomorrow or} on Friday; prepare and finish my letters and send to post for ^{"Chinaman"} ~~Christ~~ to-morrow. A pirate junk taken with 6 men and prosecuted. and view it is from this lofty peak. Dine with Skinner.

Wednesday, 27th. Sept. 1854.

After seeing Steamer ^{"Chinaman"?} off, call on Skinner and get a bed at Commissariat. Take a walk with Commander ^{and} at 7 o'clock after making arrangements on board, ^{and} dine with my fat friend on the leavings of Marsh and Co.; get things packed up at Skinner's and proceed to live on board, intending to go to Canton to-morrow.

Thursday, 28th. Sept. 1854.

Rise early and take a pull with young ^{these} round the ship and get coffee; then proceed to dress and again go on board to breakfast; see that cabin and dispensary go on all serene. Another ship has arrived running the gauntlet of Pirates. 24 hours. Sir. W. Hoste, H.M.S. "Spartan", declines going out as no head money is now given; all provisions are ~~now~~ stopped and vegetables not to be had. Take a walk and dine on board, afterwards ^{which} go to sale of books, &c.

Monday, 25th September 1854

"Norma" steamed out for Singapore to-day. An aggressive & getting cabin properly painted and gilded, everything

Tuesday, 26th Sept. 1854

To-day Alphonse leaves for Canton on a visit; what a wonder!
 Call on Lady Bowring and dine with them on Friday; prepare and finish my letters and send to post for Canton to-morrow. A pirate junk taken with 6 men and prosecuted

Wednesday, 27th Sept. 1854

After seeing Governor off, call on Skinner and get a bed at Commissioner's. Take a walk with Commander at 3 o'clock after making arrangements on board, a fine windy day on the leaving of Harsh and Co. a fine packing

Thursday, 28th Sept. 1854

Rise early and take a pull with young and get coffee; then proceed to dress and again go on board to breakfast, see that cabin and dispensary gotten all serene Another ship has arrived running the gamut of pirates.
 Sir. W. Hoate, H.M.S. "Spartan", declines going out as no head money is now given; all provisions are now stopped and vegetables not to be had. Take a walk and dine on board, afterwards go to sale of books &c.

Pirates
Rebels, others Imperial Friday, 29th. Sept. 1854.

Dine with Lady Bowring, ^{and} find it most slow; won't catch me again at that work. Return to Commissariat and find Skinner as usual reading over the ill usages of Commissariats. at once go to Harel and Co.; find Davis away at Macao with his son.

Marshall is here and a Saturday, 30th. Sept. 1854. new comer;

Capt. Get ^{Capt.} Roberts to climb to the top of Victoria Peak; a beautiful day; and enjoy it till at the top when the wind was so cold and I so warm that I felt sick. A grand view it is from this lofty peak. Dine with Skinner. Oct. 1854

Rise early and after breakfast proceed to Harel, Pyramjee and Co.; sell my watch Sunday, October 1st. 1854. cases etc.;

After breakfast, get ready for Church; a miserable wet morning and few there. At 2 p.m., dine with Smith, ^{and} Bimelow and C^o. Steamer "Anne" from Macao; get things packed up at Skinner's and proceed to live on board, intending to go to Canton to-morrow. but we saw them engage and the firing kept up some 3 hours.

Marshall, who the other day visited the camp during an engagement, Monday, October 2nd. 1854. that they was Go on board. ^{the} "Hong Kong" steamer and find to my disgust she is to tow a ship to Whampoa which will make a whole 24 hours difference. Meet John Dent and others, Mr. Murry, a Capt. Porter, the Straitsman &c. Spend a miserable time going up the river; pass quantities of armed junks, some ^{Rebels} ~~Pirates~~ ^{on} and

Friday, Sept. 18th. 1854.

Time with Lady Bowring, find it most slow; won't catch me again at that work. Return to Commissioner and find Skinner as usual reading over the ill usages of Commissioners.

Saturday, 19th. Sept. 1854.

Get Roberts to climb to the top of Victoria Peak; a beautiful day; and enjoy it till at the top when the wind was so cold and I so warm that I felt sick. A grand view is from this lofty peak. Time with Skinner.

Sunday, October 1st. 1854.

After breakfast, got ready for Church; a miserable walk. At 2 p.m., dine with Ralph, Binkley and G. Steamer Anne from Macao; get things packed up at Skinner's and proceed to live on board, intending to go to Canton to-morrow.

Monday, October 2nd. 1854.

"Hong Kong" steamer and find to my disgust the first few passengers who have taken passage. The little steamer, West John, Pentland, and others, through accident and other causes, are all crowded with passengers. The river; the passengers are all crowded together, and the sale of books is.

Pirates

~~Rebels~~, others Imperialists.

^{Oct.}
Tuesday, 3rd. ~~Oct.~~ 1854.

Arrived at the Factories, Canton 8.30 a.m., and at once go to Morel and Co.; find Davis away at Macao with his son. ~~old~~ and Marshall is here and a young consumptive man, Chitty, new comer; just sitting down to breakfast, join them; dress and see Fischer; make calls, find no Ladies &c.

Wednesday, 4th. ^{Canton} Oct. 1854.

[Rustumjee Pyramjee ?]

Rise early and after breakfast proceed to Rist Byramjee and Co.; sell my watch for 350 Rupees; make ^{a few} purchases etc.; during the afternoon go to the top of the house, ^{to} the elevated bamboo tower, and get a beautiful view of the city and the fort on the hill of the range of ~~the~~ White Mountains round which is the Imperialist's encampment; the ^{encamped} rebels we could not see being some 4 miles further; but we saw them engage and the firing kept up some 3 hours. Marshall, who the other day visited the camp during an engagement, told me what a farce it was; that they were both at a respectful distance and that the shot from their guns could be seen rolling towards each other on the plain below. 500 Europeans could disperse the whole multitude of them, so completely disorganized ^{are} ~~were~~ they. No business is now being done; no teas can come down the river and everything is suspended

ed

Printed
Rebels, others Imperialists.

Oct. 1854.
Tuesday, 2nd Oct. 1854.

Arrived at the factories, Canton 2.30 a.m., and as soon as to Mori and Co. 1. 1/2 and Davis away at home with his son.
Marshall is here and a young conscriptive man, Chilly, new comer;
just sitting down to breakfast, John then; dress and see Fisher;
into cells, find no ladies so.

Wednesday, 3rd Oct. 1854.

Rise early and after breakfast proceed to First Prison.
and Co. 1. 1/2 sell my watch for 250 Rupees; make purchases etc.
during the afternoon go to the top of the house, the elevated bamboo tower, and get a beautiful view of the city and suburbs on the hill of the range of White Mountains round which is the Imperialist encampment; the rebels we could not see being some 4 miles further but we saw them engage and the firing kept up some 3 hours. Marshall, who the other day visited the camp during an engagement, told me what a fierce it was; that they were both at a respectful distance and that the shot from their guns could be seen rolling towards each other on the plain below.
500 Europeans could disperse the whole multitude of them, so completely disorganized were they. No business is now being done; no tea can come down the river and everything is suspended.

in every house

All books, papers, etc., are packed up ready at a moment's notice to be shipped on board vessels lying off the factories. At night fires are seen continually breaking out; one the other day burnt down 20 thousand houses and approached so near the English that Marines were stationed ready to pull down Old and New China Streets.

Thursday, Oct. 5th. 1854.

Dine with Fischer, intend staying till Monday; take No. 3 in a four-oar up the Macao Passage and enjoy it very much.

Canton men are mad after two women, great vocalists and musicians; what fools men become! Call on Rev. - Gray, Consulate Chaplain and find him a ^{Christ's man} ~~Christian~~ knowing all the good fellows during Bob's time; while in conversation friend Mardason drops in; ^{and} we recognize each other and have a long talk of Hastings etc, etc.; he is soon going home. Buy of Marshall 11,000 cigars. Meet at Fischer's, Fletcher, Dr. Dixon, Gibbs etc., and enjoy myself very much. An engagement all night by the firing.

Sunday, 8th. Oct. 1854.

Rise early, find a beautiful day; "Sir C. Forbes" in and going down at 2 p.m.; into Friday, 6th. Oct. 1854. breakfast bid Dine with Gibbs and decline dining with Gibbs. No news of importance; every appearance of a typhoon, ^{the} wind getting up, and the glass falling. Meet Capt. McDermott of Canton at Gibbs'.

in every house

All books, papers, etc., are packed up ready at a moment's notice to be shipped on board vessels lying off the coast. At night fires are seen continually breaking out; one fire after day burns down 20 thousand houses and approaches so near the English that houses were stationed ready to pull down old and new China streets.

Thursday, Oct. 25. 1854.

Dine with Fischer, intend playing bill Monday, take boat in a four-oar up the Macao Passage and enjoy it very much. Gentlemen are and after two women, great vocalists and musicians; what fools men become! Call on Rev. Mr. Gray, Consul-General and find him a ^{Christian} ~~man~~ knowing all the good fellows during his time; while in conversation I find that he has been in the West, we recognize each other and have a long talk with him; etc., etc.; he is now going home. Meet at Fischer's, Fischer, Dr. Dixon, Gibb, etc., and enjoy myself very much. An engagement all night by the firing.

Friday, Oct. 26. 1854. Dine with Gibb and decline taking with him. No news of importance; every appearance of a typhoon, wind getting up, glass falling. Meet Capt. McDermott of Canton and Gibb.

As Davis and Son come home to-night I take up my quarters at Mr Fischer's and after making ^{arrangements} ~~engagement~~ to go to the camp to-morrow morning with Mrs. , retire to bed; slept well but early in the morning Mr. ^{Fischer} ~~P.~~ came to enquire after my health and to tell me the hurricane must have been fearful at Hong Kong; showed me all the necessary arrangements of my apartment &c.

Saturday, 7th. Oct. 1854.

Incessant rain, ^{and} blowing a gale of wind, many bamboo turrets are no more; after breakfast go to ^{the} gardens and find ~~many~~ trees rooted up and the garden in a wilderness; the Bamboo scaffolding supporting the matting opposite Jardine's house is all blown down and making a sad mess around. I call on Davis and ^{not} ~~am~~ with him more than ^{one} ~~an~~ hour. ^{and} I find the Hong is flooded a foot deep and that the river has overrun the banks. Get back to Fischer too late for tiffin and content myself by reading the remainder of the day. good night after my hot bath last night but still

Sunday, 8th. Oct. 1854.

Rise early, ^{and} find a beautiful day; "Sir C. Forbes" in and going down at 2 p.m.; intend to go in her. After breakfast bid adieu to all friends, and after church proceed on board her. Am not feeling well, and tho' a hot day am feeling cold and shivering; take 10 grs. of Quinine; feel better, make a good

As Davis and Son came home to-night I took up my quarters at Mr. Fischer's and after making arrangements to go to the camp to-morrow morning with Mrs. Fischer, retired to bed; slept well but early in the morning Mr. Fischer came to enquire after my health and to tell me the hurricane must have been fearful at Hong Kong; showed me all the necessary arrangements of my apartment &c.

Saturday, 7th Oct 1854.

Incense rain, blowing a gale of wind, many bamboo trees are no more; after breakfast go to garden and find many trees rooted up and the garden in a wilderness; the bamboo scaffolding supporting the matting opposite Jardine's house is all blown down and making a sad mess around. I call on Davis and sit with him more than an hour. I find the Hong is flooded a foot deep and that the river has overrun the banks. Get back to Fischer, too late for tillin and content myself by reading the remainder of the day.

Sunday, 8th Oct 1854.

Rise early, find a beautiful day; Sir G. Forbes in and going down at 2 p.m.; intend to go in her. After breakfast bid adieu to all friends, and after church proceed on board her. Am not feeling well, and tho' a hot day am feeling cold and shivering; take 10 grs. of Quinine; feel better, make a good dinner; go to bed feverish and sick; sleep pretty well and ~~Am better~~ in the morning, ^{with the} exception ^{of} being very relaxed and a good deal of pain in the lower belly, ^[previous?] am surprised at my having felt so queer the following evening.

Hong Kong

17.

Monday, 9th. Oct. 1854.

At Hong Kong go on board my ship and find all well. On Saturday "Cadiz" broke adrift from her moorings; ^{and} fortunately had got up steam but she carried away the bowsprit of one Laucher;
had to anchor on the other side for the night; on Sunday on her return ^{she tried} ~~had~~ to pick up her chain etc., ^{and} got foul of a Laucher, & lost her boat davits and smashed ⁱⁿ all the bows of the Laucher.
Am not feeling so well; much pain, ^{and} evidently dysentery; Dr.
Barton sees me, recommends quietness and prescribes.

Tuesday, 10th. Oct. 1854.

Pass a good night after my hot bath last night but still feel very unwell; Dr. Barton sends more medicine. Many vessels are lost and many on the "Prattas"; "Lady M. Wood" goes to rescue the crews; "Canton" goes out to tow dismasted ship. ~~Everthing~~ is ^{as} hustle on board us ^{as} we sail to-morrow. Get 2 Bills in Bombay; one from Pereira (Dent's) at 245 Rup. amount 730. 8.8. rup.
other from Rustomjee Pyramjee, amount 350 Rup.; get all business settled and am feeling contented in mind. Apply 12 leeches to dinner; go to bed (overcast and sick; sleep pretty well and ~~nothing~~ in the morning ^{at 11} exception being very relaxed and a good deal of pain in the lower belly, am surprised at my having felt so queer the following evening.

Monday, 9th Oct. 1874

At Hong Kong go on board my ship and find all well. On Saturday "Gladys" broke adrift from her moorings; fortunately had got up steam but she carried away the bowsprit of one launch;
 had to anchor on the other side for the night; on Sunday on her return had to pick up her chain etc. got foul of a launch, & lost her port davit and smashed all the bow of the launch.
 Am not feeling so well; much pain, evidently dysentery; Dr.
 Barton sees me, recommends quinine and griseofulva.

Tuesday, 10th Oct. 1874

Pass a good night after my hot bath last night but still feel very unwell; Dr. Barton sends more medicine. Many vessels are lost and many on the "Pratt"; "Lady M. Wood" goes to rescue the crew; "Canton" goes out to tow dismantled ship. Everything is hustle on board as we sail to-morrow. Got 2 bills in Hong-bay; one from Porcetta (Dent's) at 245 Rmp. amount $730. 8.8. 74.
 other from Rutherford James, amount 350 Rmp.; get all business settled and am feeling contented in mind. Apply 12 leeches to Hypochondria region, take 10 gr. Dover' powder, ^{and} pass pretty good night. ^{fever} ~~watched~~ night, sleepless and in ~~fever~~, Barton goes so early, pronounced as better, although I do not feel so; how I think of Jamaica when? Wednesday, 11th. Oct. 1854. 4 Officers on

Am feeling exceedingly ill this morning; Dr. Barton comes to see me and considers my case so serious ^{as to} ~~that he~~ recommend ^{my} being at once removed to the shore as my life would be in danger going to sea without medical attendance. Arrangements are made and with an aching heart and throbbing temples I bid adieu to my companions and go over the side to a boat where are all my traps; a hot tear fills my eye and ~~I~~ look back no more ^{to her.} ~~as~~ A sedan chair carries me to Shaw's City Hotel where I am placed in a filthy top room at the beginning of a passage leading to others. another P. and O. Officer is there, "Billamore" sick and he assists me with my servant in getting ⁱⁿ to bed; I am very ill, dysentery in the acute form and now a severe rigor and fever of the country is also ushered in. Barton is most kind and attentive, more leeches etc.,; a fearful night and the noise of billiards and bowls, skittles up to 1 a.m. with drunken men ~~singing as they~~ ^{ing} pass ^{singing} my room ^{are} "We won't go home till morning". My miseries ^{were} great indeed; smells from below (the Bar) shocking and this on a bed of sickness, not having a friend to speak ^a ~~so~~ kind word to me; I lay tossing in agony till morning; I thought of home, its associations and comforts and still I thought. ^{not to ask me how} Hypocritism, take 10 grs. Fever, powder, pass pretty good night.

Wednesday, 11th Oct. 1884.

Am feeling exceedingly ill this morning; Dr. Barton comes to see me and considers my case so serious that he recommends my being at once removed to the shore as my life would be in danger going to sea without medical attendance. Arrangements are made and with an aching heart and throbbing temples I bid adieu to my companions and go over the side to a boat where are all my traps; a hot tear fills my eye and I look back no more. A sedan chair carries me to Shaw's City Hotel where I am placed in a fifty top room at the beginning of a passage leading to others. Another P. and O. Officer is there, "Williammore" sick and he assists me with my servant in getting to bed; I am very ill, dysentery in the acute form and now a severe rigor and fever of the country is also ushered in. Barton is most kind and attentive, more so than ever; a fearful night and the noise of billiards and bowls; skittles up to 1 a.m. with drunken men singing and passing my room. "We won't go home till morning." My miseries are great indeed; smells from below (the Bar) knocking and this on a bed of sickness, not having a friend to speak a kind word to me; lying tossing in agony till morning; I thought of home, its associations and comforts and still I thought.

Thursday, 12th. Oct. 1854. to Canton;

Passed a wretched night, sleepless and in ~~pain~~^{fever}; Barton sees me early, pronounces me better, although I do not feel so; how I think of Jamaica when I sent so many of my men and 4 Officers on shore with yellow fever and left them; ~~as well~~^{of} what their feelings must have been, having no friends to console or comfort them. ~~and~~^I fancy they must have felt as I now feel. Received and many visitors all apparently anxious to know how I am. wish, a Steamship "Erin", Rogers just in. ~~the whole harbour~~ I now

Friday, 13th. Oct. 1854. in Lady M.

Have passed a better night and am better this morning. Rogers and Dr. Goodall call to see me. Pass a miserable day, vomiting etc.

Saturday, 14th. Oct. 1854.

Am still better; dysentery leaving me and no return of fever. Dr. Chaldecote called to see me and begs me to remove to his place; I promise to do so on Friday, feel myself improving. ~~to remain quiet where I am.~~ Mrs. Harland and Chaldecote try to make me comfortable.

Sunday, 15th. Oct. 1854.

Passed a better night although "bowls" was the "order of the night". Mr Walker, Superintendent called, not to ask me how

Thursday, 12th. Oct. 1854.

Passed a wretched night, sleepless and in pain; Barton sees me early, pronounces me better, although I do not feel so; how I think of Lancelotti when I sent so many of my men and 4 Officers on shore with yellow fever, and left them ~~to~~ ^{to} their fates, having no friends to console or comfort them. ^{Why} fancy they must have felt as I now feel. Received many visitors all apparently anxious to know how I am. Steamer "Tiffin", Rogers just in.

Friday, 13th. Oct. 1854.

Have passed a better night and am better this morning. Rogers and Dr. Goodall call to see me. Pass a miserable day, vomiting etc.

Saturday, 14th. Oct. 1854.

Am still better; dysentery leaving me and no return of fever. Dr. Chabocote called to see me and begs me to remove to his place; I promise to do so on Friday, feel much better.

Sunday, 15th. Oct. 1854.

Passed a better night although "bowls" was the "order of the night". Mr Walker Superintendent called, not to ask me how

I was, but to talk of my not asking him leave to go to Canton; we have a great row about the goats, etc. passengers; am glad I was not in her, although I ought to have taken a berth as Dr. Farguhar her surgeon is in. Monday, 16th. Oct. 1854. I hope to join. Am sufficiently well to sit up and write some letters; am determined to get out of this hole and at 2 a.m. have Chaldecote's chair sent for me. I am very comfortable at Harland and Chaldecote's, comfortable bedroom and everything I can wish, a beautiful situation with view over the whole harbour. I now begin to feel myself improving but my legs at present are of little use to me. I think I may be able to go up in ^{the} "Lady M. Wood" to Shanghai &c. they then took a lady passenger from the ship and set her on fire; the crew were fortunately taken off by a fishing junk; Tuesday, 17th. Oct. 1854. from "Spartan" and still improving; receive great kindness from my hosts and am feeling lighter in spirits. the ~~summers~~ cargo and destroyed them with 30 Chinese; the woman has not yet been heard of.

Wednesday, Oct. 18th. 1854

Decide ^{that} I am not well enough to go in "Lady M. Wood" and am therefore to remain quiet where I am. Mrs. Harland and Chaldecott try to make me comfortable. Pirate Island; she has taken a great deal of the cargo off, destroyed 3 villages and about 250 Pirates; they had great excitement, no European killed. I hear they could not reduce a stronghold and fort and are going

Thursday, 19th. Oct. 1854

"Lady M. Wood" sailed and carried 38 passengers; am glad I was not in her, although I ought to have taken a berth as Dr. Farquhar her surgeon is now in my place in "Cadiz"; I hope to join her on her return. ^{Masqui!}

Friday, 20th. Oct. 1854,

Am greatly improved and allowed to take wine; amuse myself by writing and drawing. "Lady M. Wood" went last Tuesday to save a ship from Pirates but too late; she was dismasted and the Pirates took her, ran her on shore and then made the crew work at taking out her cargo; they then took a lady passenger from the ship and set her on fire; the crew were fortunately taken off by a fishing junk; the "Lady M." had 100 men from "Spartan" and they pulled into a shallow harbour of the Island to 2 villages where they found some of the ~~crew and~~ cargo and destroyed them with 30 Chinese; the woman has not yet been heard of.

Saturday, 21st. Oct. 1854.

Am able to get out for a walk, good appetite. The "Ann" Steamer has just arrived from the Pirate Island; she has taken a great deal of the cargo off, destroyed 3 Villages and about 35 Pirates; they had great excitement, no European killed. I hear they could not reduce a stronghold and fort and are going

Thursday, 19th. Oct. 1854

"Lady M. Wood" sailed and carried 30 passengers; and I was not in her, although I ought to have taken a berth as Dr. Parry had her surgeon is now in my place in "Gladia"; I hope to join her on her return.

Friday, 20th. Oct. 1854

Am greatly improved and allowed to take wine; amuse myself by writing and drawing. "Lady M. Wood" went last Tuesday to save a ship from pirates but too late; she was dismantled and the pirates took her; ran her on shore and then made the crew work at taking out her cargo; they then took a lady passenger from the ship and set her on fire; the crew were fortunately taken off by a fishing junk; the "Lady M." had 100 men from "Spartan" and they pulled into a shallow harbor of the island to 2 villages where they found some of the ~~main~~ cargo and destroyed them with 30 Chinese; the woman has not yet been heard of.

Saturday, 21st. Oct. 1854

Am able to get out for a walk, good appetite. The "Ann" Steamer has just arrived from the Pirate Island; she has taken a great deal of the cargo off, destroyed 3 villages and about 35 pirates; they had great excitement, no European killed. I hear they could not reduce a stronghold and fort and are going on Monday with 500 soldiers, land and take it in the rear. I have volunteered to accompany the boats to attack by sea as Medico not yet accepted; she has brought back the French woman. feel myself still very weak. Weather becoming hot again.

Therm. Max. 78° Min. 72° Sunday, 22nd. Oct. 1854.

Getting nice cool weather. ^{Am} feeling better every hour. Church in morning; ^{walk;} visit the Governor's new house, dine at 5 p.m. High mails at 10.30 a.m. News of war not important. Cholera very bad in London, 4000 Monday, 23rd. Oct. 1854. Thermom. Max. 72. Min. 62. with Billiards; Rogers dines with

Find the change so sudden that I cannot keep warm; what a changeable climate! Take a long walk to the "Happy Valley"; feel a coldness in my internals and abdomen, & order some flannel belts. "Erin" is in and I write chit to Surgeon saying ^{myself and} Chaldecott ~~and self~~ will dine with him to-morrow. ing expected in tonight; arrived at 8 p.m. in "Winchester". Rogers dines with us again to-day. Write all Tuesday, 24th. Oct. 1854.

Have decided on remaining here till ^{the} "Lady ^{Mary}" returns and take a trip to Shanghai in her instead of going to Singapore and so on. Dine on board "Erin" after a long walk to "West Point" and enjoy myself very much. "Forbes" in but not yet heard the news. The weather clear and fine, temperature variable.

there is an expedition against the Pirates on Monday and am just in time to get my portmanteau from ^{S. H[ong] R[ong]} as he is about starting.

on Monday with 300 soldiers, land and take it in the year. I have volunteered to accompany the boats to return by sea and have not yet accepted; she has promised back the French woman.

Sunday, 22nd Oct. 1854.

Getting nice cool weather, ^{and} feeling better every hour. Church in morning; visit the Governor's new house, dine at 5 p.m.

Monday, 23rd Oct. 1854.

Thermom. Max. 78. Min. 62. Find the change so sudden that I cannot keep warm; what a changeable climate! Take a long walk to the "Happy Valley"; feel a coldness in my intestines and abdomen, order some flannel belts. "Krin" is in and I write a bit to Surgeon saying "Childe" will dine with him to-morrow.

Tuesday, 24th Oct. 1854.

Have decided on remaining here till "Lady" returns and take a trip to Shanghai in her instead of going to Singapore and so on. Dine on board "Krin" after a long walk to "West Point" and enjoy myself very much. "Krin" in but not yet heard the news. The weather clear and fine, temperature variable.

Wednesday, 25th. Oct. 1854.
and "Siren" [?]

Arrived this day, H.M.S.S. "Barracouta" / expecting Admiral.
Take a long walk with Rogers and feel fatigued; dine with him, feel myself still very weak. Weather becoming hot again.

Thursday, 26th. Oct. 1854.

Arrived H.M.S. "Styx"; no Admiral. Arrived "Malta" with English mails at 10.30 a.m. News of war not important. Cholera very bad in London, 4000 deaths. Call on Rogers; tiffin with friend ^[Bernaert?] Berenaert; amuse myself with Billiards; Rogers dines with us Doctors, ^{and} we retire 10.30. Posted 7 letters this day to Bob, Walter, Humphrey, Edwin, Captains Onslow, Marshall and Roberts.

Friday, 27th. Oct. 1854.

Mail detained on account of Admiral being expected in tonight; arrived at 8 p.m. in "Winchester". Rogers dines with us again to-day. Write all letters; arrange to go to Macao tomorrow.

Saturday, 28th. Oct. 1854

Pack up. ^{And at 12} Take luggage on board Steamer "Hong Kong"; then proceed to "Erin", tiffin and write all letters. Hear ~~that~~ there is an expedition against the Pirates on Monday and am just in time to get my portmanteau from ^{S. H[ong] K[ong]} as she is about starting.

Wednesday, 28th Oct. 1854

Arrived this day, H.M.S. "Harrington" expecting Admiral. Take a long walk with Rogers and feel fatigued; dine with him. Feel myself still very weak. Weather becoming hot again.

Thursday, 29th Oct. 1854

Arrived H.M.S. "Harrington"; no Admiral. Arrived "Harrington" with Rogers. Dish ready at 10.30 a.m. News of war not important. Officers very bad in London, 4000 deaths. Call on Rogers; tiffin with friend Bennett; amuse myself with Billiards; Rogers dines with us. Rogers, we retire 10.30. Posted 7 letters this day to Bob, Walter, Humphrey, Edwin, Captain Onslow, Marshall and Roberts.

Friday, 30th Oct. 1854

Mail detained on account of Admiral being expected in to-night; arrived at 8 p.m. in "Winchester". Rogers dines with us again to-day. Write all letters; arrange to go to Monaco tomorrow. Rogers and I are to go to Monaco tomorrow. Rogers and I are to go to Monaco tomorrow. Rogers and I are to go to Monaco tomorrow.

Saturday, 31st Oct. 1854

Take luggage on board Steamer "Hong Kong"; then proceed to "Harrington", tiffin and write all letters. Hear that there is an expedition against the Pirates on Monday and am just in time to get my portmanteau from as she is about starting.

Sunday, 29th. Oct. 1854.

(Hong Kong)

Go to Church; hear good sermon. See Callack, Supt. of Police, who tells me arrangements with the Admiral are not yet settled but that "Forbes" and "Ann" are chartered and the "Styx" "Barracoutta" and "^{Encounter}~~Encounter~~", H.M. Ships are to accompany the others and remain outside on blockade while the smaller steamers tow in the gunboats 30 miles and destroy and massacre all coming to hand; then the big ships will bombard the forts. The Pirates' stronghold is a lagoon in the shape of a horseshoe surrounded by high hills on which are stationed fortifications immensely strong.

Monday, 30th. Oct. 1854.

Early morning, no appearance of a start; all much fear that news has already gone to the 200 Junks and that all have cleared out; what a bad system it is to go on; shall hear shortly all arrangements. 10 a.m., Col. ^{Cain}~~Cain~~ has been on board Admiral Sir W. Stirling's ship, and it is decided they cannot act till they have Chinese permission, so Caldwell is despatched to Cowloon to see the authorities there. 4.30 ^{p.m.} Caldwell has returned and the Mandarin are at the Bogue, and therefore nothing can be done till the great men of Canton are consulted. I go on Cowloon side; practise pistol and rifle shooting but much fear I shall not have a crack at the Ladrones.

24
Sunday, 30th Oct-1854

Go to Church; hear good sermon. - See Callack, Capt. of Police, who tells me arrangements with the Admiralty are not yet settled but that "Torp" and "Ann" are chartered and the "Seyx" "Barracouta" and "Hannover", H.M. Ships are to accompany the others and remain outside on blockade while the smaller steamers tow in the gunboats 30 miles and destroy and massacre all coming to hand; then the big ships will bombard the forts. The Pirates' stronghold is a lagoon in the shape of a horseshoe surrounded by high hills on which are stationed fortifications immensely strong.

Monday, 30th Oct-1854

Early morning, no appearance of a start; all much fear that news has already gone to the 300 Junks and that all have ordered out; what a bad system it is to go on, shall hear shortly all arrangements. 10 a.m., Col. ^{Cox} has been on board Admiral Sir W. Stirling's ship, and it is decided they cannot act till they have Chinese permission, so Caldwell is despatched to Cowloon to see the authorities there. 4.30 Caldwell has returned and the Mandarins are at the Regent and therefore nothing can be done till the great men of Canton are consulted. I go on Cowloon side; practice pistol and rifle shooting but much fear I shall not have a crack at the Japones.

Tuesday, 31st. Oct. 1854.

We are now having delightful weather and clear. No news. Proceed on board "Forbes" and, after tiffin, go ^{to} ~~on~~ Cowloon side shooting. ^{Have} ~~Went~~ great fun, but only bag one brace of Quail; our match of Bull shooting comes off and I take everything.

Wednesday, November 1st. 1854.

Feeling very well to-day. Call on Mr. Walker to ask if he allows me subsistence money; he tells me ^{that} when a ship is in harbour he will give me an order to live on board but nothing more, and also that I am to make my request in writing; he is a most unpleasant man to deal with. Also to Dr. Barton for certificate to show Mr. W. that I was not well enough to proceed On "Lady M." which he refuses to do, showing that blackguards are to be met with ~~even~~ in our own profession. "Enterprise" from the Arctic regions has just come in ^{from} after an absence of 4 years, supposed to be lost. Man of War's boats this night despatched against Pirates.

Thursday, Nov. 2nd. 1854

"Barracoutta" and ^{"Encounter"} ~~"Enterprise"~~ with "Yankee Queen" and all the Men of War boats ^{in tow} proceed to the [capsing moon?] passage to destroy Pirates. Go out shooting with Dr. Chaldicott and enjoy the beautiful scenery from the ^{Stanley} road over the mountains at the back

Thursday, 31st Oct. 1884

We are now having delightful weather and clear. No news. Proceed on board "Porpoise" and after tillin, go on Cowleson side shooting. ^{How} Great fun, but only bag one brace of quail; our match of Bill shooting comes off and I take everything.

Wednesday, November 1st. 1884

Feeling very well to-day. Call on Mr. Walker to ask if he allows me subsistence money; he tells me when a ship is in harbour he will give me an order to give on board but nothing more and also that I am to make my request in writing; he is a most unpleasant man to deal with. Also to Dr. Barton for certificate to show Mr. W. that I was not well enough to proceed On "Lady N." which he refuses to do, showing that blackguards are to be met with ~~in~~ in our own profession. "Enterprise" from the Arctic regions has just come in after an absence of 4 years, supposed to be lost. Man of War's boats this night despatched against pirates.

Thursday, Nov. 2nd. 1884

"Enterprise" and "Porpoise" with "Yankee Queen" and all the men of War boats proceed to the ^{in the} ~~bay~~ ^{bay} to destroy pirates. Go out shooting with Dr. Chablisoff and enjoy the beautiful scenery from the ^{small} ~~road~~ ^{small} over the mountains at the back of the Happy Valley. I am picking up my strength fast and find Hong Kong air ~~is~~ better than I thought. ~~he intends starting to-~~

~~morrow for shooting; everything is arranged to start at 4 a.m.~~

~~Take a delightful walk~~ Friday, 3rd. Nov. 1854.

This day is spent idly. I take a long walk with Dr. Harland round West Point and then up the deep ravine on the other side of Peak, over the Gap and home. ~~skel at Quasi Store Wharf~~

~~where we all jump into a China boat and soon settle down. We~~

~~steer towards the West to~~ Saturday, 4th. Nov. 1854 ~~by 2 pictures-~~

Have a day's shipe shooting ~~at~~ ^{on} Cowloon side and poor sport; am disgusted but enjoy the fun of walking. Dine on board "Forbes" Men of War return having destroyed 20 Junks and a few lives.

~~pretty spot stationed at~~ ~~Sunday, 5th.~~ ~~a deep ravine. We were~~

~~soon on our way to the spot~~ Sunday, 5th. Nov. 1854. ~~up the ravine~~

~~Will~~ Go to Church in afternoon. Dine at 6 o'clock. No news, ^{and then} expecting the English mail. ~~the tops of these lofty hills we~~

~~command a grand view of the country behind and water beneath~~

~~with the little bay in~~ Monday, Nov. 6th. 1854. ~~red, the Islands~~

~~form~~ Are on our way for some shooting when "Shanghai" comes in and stops it all. Climb the Peak up the most precipitous ^{part} and most dangerous ~~part~~; determine, ^{when} half way up on not proceeding further but find I cannot descend, must proceed; am sadly fati-²gued on getting to the Peak; come home by the Gap. ~~flozzid.~~

~~sport. At 11 a.m. we returned to breakfast on board where we all~~ of the Happy Valley. I am picking up my strength fast and find Hong Kong air is better than I thought.

Friday, 3rd Nov. 1854.

This day is spent idly. I take a long walk with Dr. Harland round West Point and then up the deep ravine on the other side of Peak, over the Gap and home.

Saturday, 4th Nov. 1854.

Have a day's ship shooting. Goodison side and poor sport; am disgusted but enjoy the fun of walking. Dinner on board. Men of war return having destroyed 20 tanks and a few lives.

Sunday, 5th Nov. 1854.

Go to Church in afternoon. Dine at 6 o'clock. No news, expecting the English mail.

Monday, 6th Nov. 1854.

Are on our way for some shooting when "Stanhurst" comes in and stops it all. Climb the Peak up the west precipitous and most dangerous way; descending half way up on not proceeding further but find I cannot descend, must proceed; am sadly fatigued on getting to the Peak; come home by the Gap.

Nov.
Tuesday, 7th. ~~Oct.~~ 1854.

Call on Duas to know at what hour he intends starting tomorrow for shooting; everything is arranged to start at 4 ^{am.}
Take a delightful walk ^{to the} Eastward on ^{the} Stanley Road. 3 brace of Wednesday, 8th. Nov. 1854.

Up at 3.30 ^{am.} and meet at 4 Mr. Gaskel at Duas' Store Wharf where we all jump into a China boat and soon settle down. We steer towards the West to the Throat Gates formed by 2 picturesque Islands ^{and} forming a narrow passage where we arrive at about 6. We now each take a cup of hot coffee and eggs and soon land on the mainland opposite where is a deserted ruined village, a ^{most} pretty spot stationed at the mouth of a deep ravine. We were soon on our way to the shooting ground [&] winding up the ravine till we reached a gap at the top and thence up another of the most ^{picturesque} nature. From the tops of these lofty hills we command a grand view of the country behind and ^{the} water beneath with the little bay in which our boat was ^{stationed & anchored} anchored, the Islands forming the narrow passage ^(throat gates) in the distance threading among the Islands H.M. Steamer "Encounter", directly beneath us ~~the~~ the Steamer "Hong Kong" ^{on the way to the Bocca Tigris}. No ^{person} can fancy the scenery. We soon arrived at a Village surrounded by paddy fields on the table land and began our hard work. The day was hot, no air, no sport. At 11 a.m. we returned to breakfast on board where we ^{all}

Tuesday, 7th Nov 1924

Call on Dora to know at what hour he intends starting tomorrow for shooting; everything is arranged to start at 4 a.m. Take a delightful walk Eastward on Stanley Road.

Wednesday, 8th Nov 1924

Up at 3.30 and meet at 4.15 at the Quaker at Cross Street where we all jump into a China boat and soon settle down. After towards the West to the Throat Gate formed by 2 pillars the islands forming a narrow passage where we arrived at about 6 a.m. We now each take a cup of hot coffee and eggs and soon settle on the mainland opposite where is a deserted ruined village. Pretty spot stationed at the mouth of a deep ravine. We were soon on our way to the shooting ground winding up the ravine till we reached a gap at the top and thence up another of the most ~~lovely~~ nature. From the tops of these lofty hills we command a grand view of the country behind and water beneath with the little bay in which our boat was anchored. The islands forming the narrow passage in the distance threatening the islands. H.M. Steamer "Huntmaster" directly beneath us the Steamer "Horn Kong". No one can fancy the scenery. We soon arrived at a village and by 11.15 had lunch. I had one beer and one hard work. At 11 a.m. we returned to breakfast on board where we were.

did execution. 12 a.m., got under weigh for ^{on} Pirates' Bay for snipe shooting up an arm of the sea at the back of the Island forming Throat Gates, where we arrived at 2 p.m. at the village. We soon shot over the ground, bagging 3 brace of painted snipe. I here found it necessary to walk through the paddy ^{up} above my knees in wind and water. 3.30., got under weigh for ^{which was} an island close to where we landed and ^{mounted} ~~walked up~~ the hills, where we ~~landed and~~ looked down upon a village with cultivated ground surrounded by high hills; could hardly fancy anything ~~was~~ ^{so} fairy like. After a great piece of fun in which Duas' dogs attacked some tame ducks and killed some, we embarked and sat down to a good dinner arriving home about 7.30, heartily tired.

Thursday, Nov. 9th. 1854.

Find myself exceedingly tired to-day. After what Duas told me last night, called on Barton to explain that the reported accusation of my having made public my offer of joining him in practice was false and left him friends. Hear that a Piratical expedition will sail soon to destroy their strongholds.

Friday, 10th. Nov. 1854.

Early this morning received a call from Dr. Barton who requested a 3rd party to be present while he put to me some questions

did execution. 12 a.m. got under water for Bay for snipe shooting up an arm of the sea at the back of the island forming Three Gates, where we arrived at 3 p.m. at the village. We soon shot over the ground, bagging 3 brace of painted snipe. I have found it necessary to walk through the paddy above my knees in wind and water. 2.30. got under water for an island close to where we landed and ~~was~~ the hills where we landed and looked down upon a village with cultivated ground surrounded by high hills; could hardly fancy anything ~~so~~ fairy like. After a great piece of fun in which Duns, dogs attacked some tame ducks and killed some, we embarked and set down to a good dinner arriving home about 7.30, heartily tired.
Thursday, Nov. 29th 1884.
 Found myself exceedingly tired to-day. After what Duns told me last night, called on Barton to explain that the report of accusation of my having made public my offer of joining him in practice was false and left him friends. Hear that a first-class expedition will sail soon to destroy their stronghold.
Friday, 10th Nov 1884.
 Early this morning received a call from Dr. Barton who requested a 3rd party to be present while he put to me some ques-

Having got Harland, they were put to me and answered to his satisfaction, after which another shake of hands and parted, tho' not ^{so} friendly as ^{usual} before. Chaldecott and myself walk to Stanley by the coast and return through little Hong Kong up the sides of a pretty stream receiving the waters from all the gullies of the interior and forming many pretty cascades into deep basins in which ^{Were some} ~~are~~ fish ~~some~~ resembling trout ^{some} ~~near~~ a foot long. Chaldecott knocked up, distance 20 miles.

Saturday, November 11th. 1854.

A most exciting day as the combined squadron is to leave Hong Kong against the Pirates to destroy their nests and strong holds. P. and O. Steamers "Canton" and "Sir ^{Charles} Forbes" are chartered by the unfortunate Chinamen who were attacked and robbed of ^{Lo ?} 70,000 dollars, and their wives and families murdered; these vessels to assist in towing the gun boats ^{for} ~~into~~ action. Make application to go as Surgeon and with difficulty succeed in getting attached to "Forbes", the Admiral, Sir J. Stirling, not allowing any ^{Amateur?} ~~one~~ to join. At noon H.M. ^{ship} "Barracoutta" left the harbour; at 4.15 the "Encounter" got under weigh, ^{towing} ~~having~~ the Chinese Imperial ^{ist} War Junk and tender ~~into~~ and steamed out of harbour followed by ourselves ("Forbes"), "Canton" and American "Queen". 5 p.m., took our positions under weigh; soon joined by "Styx". Steering SSW. among the small Islands at the mouth

Having got Harland, they were put to me and answered to his satisfaction, after which another shake of hands and parted, the not ^{so} friendly as ~~before~~ Chaldecott and myself walk to Stanley by the coast and return through Little Hong Kong up the sides of a pretty stream receiving the waters from all the gullies of the interior and forming many pretty cascades into deep basins in which ~~the fish~~ ^{some} assembling trout ~~swam~~ a foot long. Chaldecott knocked up distance 20 miles.

Saturday, November 11th, 1854.

A most exciting day as the combined squadron is to leave Hong Kong against the pirates to destroy their nests and strong holds. P. and O. Steamers "Canton" and "Sir J. Forbes" are chartered by the unfortunate Chinamen who were attacked and robbed of £70,000 of dollars, and their wives and families murdered; these vessels to assist in towing the gun boats action. Make application to go as Surgeon and with difficulty succeed in getting attached to "Forbes", the Admiral, Sir J. Stirling, not allowing anyone to join. At noon H.M.S. "Barrecootta" left the harbour; at 4.15 the "Encounter" got under weigh, the Chinese Imperial War Junk and tender ~~and~~ and steamed out of harbour followed by ourselves ("Forbes"), "Canton" and American "Queen". 5 p.m., took our positions under weigh; soon joined by "Styx". Steering S.W. among the small islands at the mouth of the river; steaming half speed all night we passed the islands of Shan-^{tiao}~~tee~~ and Macao, steering for the Island of Ty-lo about 70 miles from Hong Kong and the strong hold of the Pirates. All the ships kept pretty well together during the night, occasionally having to stop for others.

Sunday, Nov. 12th. 1854

At daybreak high land of Ty-lo ahead. 7.30 found by the "Barracouta" and at 8.30 entered the passage between Islands of Kow-Kok and Ty-kam to get to the back of Ty-lo. Our force as follows;-

"Encounter" Capt. O'Callaghan. 12 guns.

"Barracouta" " Parker 6 "

"Styx" " Woolcomb 6 "

"Canton" } and guns 12 and 6 pounds.
"Forbes" } Steamers properly manned with 12 guns
"Queen" } ~~(12 lbs)~~

"Winchesters' launch Lieut. Fellows 2 guns (12 lbs.)

"Spartan's launch Lieut. Grollager

Chinese Junk.

At 10.30 after rounding a rocky point a beautiful Bay opened to the leeward of Kow-kok at the bottom of which was the remains of a Village and 3 Junks at anchor. A signal was made to anchor; preparations and signals are made for attacking them with ~~much~~ much delay; during these preparations the Pirates were at work removing from the junks everything valuable and of the river, assuming half speed all night. We passed the islands of Shan-shan and Hsiao, assisting for the island of Ty-lo about 30 miles from Hong Kong and the narrow hold of the Pirates. All the ships kept pretty well together during the night, occasionally having to stop for others.

At daybreak the island of Ty-lo ahead. 7.30. Forward by the "Barrow" and at 8.30 entered the passage between islands of Kow-kok and Ty-lo to get to the back of Ty-lo. Our force as follows:--

"Encounter" Capt. O'Callaghan, 12 guns.
 "Barrow" Parker, 6"
 "Styx" Woolcomb, 6"
 "Canton" 12 and 18 pounders.
 "Torpedos" Steamers properly manned
 "Queen"

"Winchester" launch Lieut. Vellous (12 lbs)
 "Spartan" launch Lieut. Grollager
 Chinese Junk.

At 10.30 after rounding a rocky point a beautiful bay opened to the leeward of Kow-kok at the bottom of which was the remains of a village and 3 junks at anchor. A signal was made to anchor; preparations and signals are made for attacking them without much delay; during these preparations the Pirates were at work removing from the junks everything valuable and with a glass could see them labouring up the steep side of the hill assisted by numbers on the hilltop; about halfway up the hill was a dark place like a Chinese grave from which could be seen distinctly a quantity of articles removed and ^{carried} ~~coming~~ up the hillside the men returning for fresh loads. After 2 hours the "Winchester"s launch and pinnacle of "Spartan" towed in by "Canton" went on board and found them deserted; everything as guns, powder etc., had been removed, nothing was found worth taking and they were fired; the party landed and went some little distance up the hill but finding nothing returned; in a very short space of time the junks became ^{one} ~~a~~ mass of fire, the smoke curling and rising among the hills and at the top of these ^{their} ~~the~~ late owners gazing down upon the destruction. One of these soon settled ^{having} ~~the~~ powder; explosion ^{was} exceedingly picturesque closing from sight the pretty joss house at the top of the village and the white sandy beach strewn with the charred ^{particles} ~~remains~~ of the wreck; the name of the village is Ho-powshan. 2 p.m., "Canton" with "winchester" launch in tow proceeds to Ty-loo, the Island opposite to the strong harbour of Kulau and after 3 hours out of sight, signalled for us all to steam up and we anchored about 2 miles from the point round which is Kulau. "Canton" reports having seen a number of Junks in the harbour and the Portuguese Lorch ^{Amazona} "Amazona" from Macao by appointment at 5 p.m., ^{while} ~~at~~ crossing the mouth of the ^{harbour} ~~river~~ was fired on by the Pirates officers commanding ~~to~~ assert it to be the strongest natural showing a determination to resist. 7.30., "Spartan"s pinnace and paddle box boat from "Barracouta" came alongside well manned with orders to proceed to the entrance of Kulau harbour, the "Canton" taking in tow the Portuguese Lorch. 8.25^{pm.}, anchor off the mouth of harbour and the Man of War boats row guard making a complete blockade; the Pirates open fire on us during the night, shots dropping short.

Flags along the battery ~~and~~ again showed impatience to begin opening fire.

Monday, 13th. Nov. 1854.

2.25 a.m., return to squadron and at 5 a.m., with "Canton" tow up remainder of boats; we now steam in much closer and every preparation is made to open the battle. 7.30., Lorch drops in nearer and Pirates open 6 heavy guns with ~~little~~ ^{little} effect; we now see what a formidable appearance they show. The harbour of Kulau ~~is~~ is in shape not unlike a horse shoe but a little more contracted at the curve; its mouth is about 1½ miles from point to point and on each side are precipitous ^{sugged} hills, its shores dark black rocks; at the head of the harbour on the right shore is the mouth of a creek exceedingly narrow ^{at its mouth} and taking a sharp turn towards the left, thereby forming a tongue of land on which stands a strong battery of guns, 21 in number, guarding the mouth of the creek; 3 large Junks were anchored and inside the battery up the creek were 45 more; ~~this~~ ^{this} creek by its ~~rounding~~ ^{undulating} forms ~~and~~ ^{a natural} natural basin, the battery entirely protecting them; the Naval Officers commanding ~~it~~ assert it to be the strongest natural showing a determination to resist. 7.30. "Spartan" a tugboat and paddle box boat from "Harrington" came alongside with with orders to proceed to the entrance of Indian Harbor, the "Canton" taking in tow the Portuguese schooner. 8.30. A tugboat off the mouth of harbor and the men of war boats row guard.

making a complete blockade; the Pirates open fire on us during the night, shots dropping short.

Monday, 13th. Nov. 1854.

7.25 a.m., return to squadron and at 8 a.m., with "Canton" tow up remainder of boats; we now steam in much closer and every preparation is made to open the battle. 7.30. Pirates drop in nearer and Pirates open a heavy gun with ^{little} effect; we now see what a formidable appearance they show. The harbor of ^{Kelau} is in shape not unlike a horse shoe but a little more contracted at the curve; the mouth is about 1 1/2 miles from point to point and on each side are precipitous hills, the shores dark black rocks; at the head of the harbor on the right shore is the mouth of a creek exceedingly narrow and taking a sharp turn to the left, thereby forming a tongue of land on which stands a strong battery of guns, 21 in number, guarding the mouth of the creek; 3 large tanks were anchored and under the battery on the creek were 40 more; the creek by its narrow turns and natural basin, the battery entirely protecting them; the naval Officers commanding assert it to be the strongest natural rear of cannon now became general and almost stunning, every fortification many of them ever saw. All the ships' boats now came alongside "Forbes" for division; and being anxious to see the fun closer, I offered my services to Capt. O'Callaghan who appointed me Surgeon to the ~~first~~ ^{Port} division of the landing party and at once placed me on one of the "Barraconta"s paddle-box boats. At 7.45 we now saw vast quantities of men at the batteries and numbers joining them from the hills hoisted their flags along the battery ^{some 30,} ~~8.30~~, and again showed impatience to begin opening fire.

Divisions as follows; -

Port Division, Lieut. Palliser commanding;

Both boats of "Barraconta"	P.O.B. each 1.24.
"Spartan"s Pinnace	19, 12 lbs.
"Barraconta"s "	19, 12 lbs.

Stationary under Starboard Division, Lieut. Fellows commanding;

"Winchester" pinnace	2.12 (lbs)
"Styx"	Bd. Bs. 1, 32 each
" Pinnace	1, 12.

9.15., Orders ~~being~~ ^{were} now given to take our positions, the Lorcha getting up anchor and dropping ~~into~~ ^{within} gunshot and taking the centre, the Pirates now opened fire from every gun as we pulled in and the Lorcha returned it; at first a little too high but afterwards with good effect and now the excitement began as we came within range of their guns and returned their fire; the fortification many of them ever seen. All the ships' boats now came alongside "Porpoise" for division and being anxious to see the two officers, I offered my services to Capt. O'Callaghan who appointed me surgeon to the ~~division~~ division of the landing party and at once placed me on one of the "Barracoutas" paddle-box boats. At 7.45 we now saw vast quantities of men at the batteries and numbers joining them from the hills hoisted their flags along the battery ~~2.30~~ and again showed impatience to begin opening fire.

Divisions as follows:-
 Port Division, Lieut. Palliser commanding;
 Both boats of "Barracoutas" P.O.H. each 1.24.
 "Porpoise" Pinnace 10, 12 lbs.
 "Barracoutas" 10, 12 lbs.

~~Stationary water~~
~~2.30~~ Lieut. Fellows commanding;
 "Porpoise" Pinnace 2.12 (10)
 "Barracoutas" 1.32 each 1, 12.
 9.15, Orders were now given to take our positions, the Porpoise getting up anchor and dropping ~~the~~ gunnshot and taking the centre, the Pirates now opened fire from every gun as we pulled in and the Porpoise returned it; at first a little too high but afterwards with good effect and now the excitement began as we came within range of their guns and returned their fire; the roar of cannon now became general and almost stunning, every shot from the boats telling beautifully; the water near shore seemed alive from the Pirate guns, yet many fell short; I saw one shot pass over the "Winchester" launch after having first struck the water then making a bound and ~~again~~ over the boat and ^{again} dropping; the same occurred with us and one struck the water so close to our stern as to splash us with water; I confess the first ^{shot} that passed over us hopping along the water, I expected to pass through us. We fired but two shells while I was in the boat but they told splendidly, bursting not 10 feet from the Battery. Now came the difficulty of landing, it being low water and every man of my party had to wade up to his middie and scramble ^{over} ~~as~~ the pointed ^{unseen} rocks. The Pirates now saw our intention and many were seen running along the beach to meet us as we were scrambling and tumbling over the rock-bound shore in pell mell order towards them; they now opened fire, as we approached, from the Battery with grape and canister and it was at this moment I thought I should soon have a case as the shot showered among us splintering the rocks about us. We were soon however out of the ^{bearing} ~~reach~~ of their guns and began to form into order, expecting every ^{moment} ~~minute~~ to be attacked by a party ^{which} ~~when~~ we ^{We soon perceived them} saw clambering up a gulley and at once opened fire. Orders were given to cease firing and, after being joined by Capt.

Woolcomb's party, formed to take the battery in the flank; During ing through the last paddy field up to our knees in water; when

Foot of cannon now became general and almost stunning, every shot from the boats telling beautifully; the water near shore seemed alive from the pirate guns, yet many fell short; I saw one shot pass over the "Winchester" Island after having first struck the water then making a bound and ~~leaving~~ over the boat and ~~the~~ dropping; the same occurred with us and one struck the water so close to our stern as to splash us with water; I confess the first that passed over us hopping along the water; I expected to pass through us. We fired but two shells while I was in the boat but they told splendidly, bursting not 10 feet from the Battery. Now came the difficulty of landing, if being low water and every man of my party had to wade up to his middle and scramble as the pointed rocks. The pirates now saw our intention and many were soon running along the beach to meet us as we were scrambling and wading over the rock-bound shore in self help order towards them; they now opened fire as we approached from the Battery with grape and canister and it was at this moment I thought I should soon have a case as the shot showered among us splintering the rocks about us. We were soon however out of the ~~reach~~ of their guns and began to form into order, expecting every ~~moment~~ to be attacked by a party ~~which~~ we saw clambering up a gully and at once opened fire. Orders were given to cease firing and, after being joined by Capt.
Woodcomb's party, formed to take the Battery in the flank. During this delay I distinctly saw the shots and shell strike the battery, ^{and} ploughing up the stones and earth; and before landing could see ^{their} ~~the~~ people repairing the damaged parts; ^(So advanced) as we advanced. [^] the starboard landing party; the Pirates ceased firing; the battery silenced.

[^] Away they cut in great numbers up the valley, the starboard party being the first in the Battery and the guns spiked; 7 mutilated corpses ^{were} ~~are~~ lying by the guns. The Marines now took their position and advanced up the left side of the valley keeping up a continual fire at the hordes on the hills and among the bushes above. Passing a village on the left entirely deserted, the division to which I was attached took the right side of the valley and left bank of the creek in which were the deserted junks, save one whereon sat a poor old man, a cripple, who was being nearly shot by some of my party but saved by Lieut. Fellows; this poor creature was however brutally murdered not 10 minutes afterwards by the crew of the Lorcha and his basket of oranges strewed about the deck; the rear party examining the junks took 9 prisoners found in the hold of a junk. We now saw them mustering in ^{strength} ~~force~~ near a new Joss house on the left of the valley side and soon after opened fire from three 6 pounders and 2 gingalls on the advancing body of Marines. We had now waded through paddy fields and were almost abreast of this battery and Captain Woolcomb showing us the lead, we began wading through the last paddy field up to our knees in water; when at the other 2 men but they escaped. A great deal of shooting within 100 yards the enemy suddenly turned one of the guns upon us and we could distinctly see the joss stick put to the priming when Captain Woolcomb [ordered us] to throw ourselves on our faces the contents of the gun (canister) passed over us not injuring one but so close as to mow the tops of the paddy off directly above^{us}. We immediately jumped up and saw the Marines at a trot and the enemy making for a village ~~higher~~^{further} up the valley; the guns were immediately spiked and we opened fire upon ~~the~~ enemy, Commanding Officer and myself ^{3 2 1} leading; we soon crossed the field(?) and stopped till the remainder came up, the Pirates having taken to the Village and the jungle ~~round~~^{surrounding} it. I had here 2 good shots at a man climbing over a wall; missed my first barrel (smooth bore) but brought down the 2nd (rifle); the remainder of ~~my~~^{at once} party having joined us, we ~~charged~~^{at once} up the Village and here Capt. Woolcomb taking the lead, the whole scrambled up the narrow alleys and passages pell mell. I however took a path to the left divided by some cottages from the main party followed by 4 blue jackets and here 4 yards above me on the terrace of a Joss house stood 3 Chinamen, ~~listening~~^{listening} to the main party; no sooner caught sight of us than they took to their heels, not however before my rifle had covered one who received the contents through his chest and throwing up [?] his hands ~~and head~~^{and} he fell dead; my other barrel with those of the tars were discharg

ed

within 100 yards the enemy suddenly turned one of the guns upon us and we could distinctly see the loss which had to the prize when Captain Woodcock ordered us to throw ourselves on our faces the contents of the gun (conical) passed over us not injuring one but so close as to show the tops of the heads of the above. We immediately jumped up and saw the Marines at a first and the enemy retreating for a village ~~up the valley~~ the guns were immediately spiked and we opened fire upon the enemy Company Officer and myself leading, we soon crossed the river and stopped till the remainder came up, the pirates having taken to the village and the jungle ~~was~~ I had been a good shot at a man climbing over a wall; missed my first barrel (almost bore) but brought down the 2nd Rifle, the remainder of the party having joined us, we emerged up the village and here Capt.
Woodcock taking the lead, the whole scrambled up the narrow alley and passages pell mell. I however took a path to the left divided by some cottages from the main party followed by a blue jacket and here 4 yards above me on the terrace of a house stood 3 Chinamen, ~~to the main party~~ no sooner caught sight of us than they took to their heels, not however before my rifle had covered one who received the constant through his chest and throwing up his hands ~~and~~ he fell dead; my other barrel with those of the two were disposed

at the other 2 men but they escaped. A great deal of shooting and banging and few killed, Naval Officer and myself ^{gaining} ~~going to~~ the top of ^{the} village to ^a Joss house; here orders ³ ~~were given~~ ² ~~could be heard~~ to return while the Marines with Capt. Parker pursued the remainder of the Pirates up the valley; I could not however follow till I got many curios from the Joss house; the plundering was general, ~~doors~~ smashed in and everything worth taking removed. This village built on the face of the hill at angle of 45 deg., terrace above terrace as most of the Chinese Villages are, is most picturesque, the ~~Joss~~ ^{God} house commanding the highest part; all is surrounded by evergreens, chestnuts and walnut trees. Those remaining in the village began general plunder and destruction; Blue jackets shooting pigs, poultry and dogs, leaving the pigs half dead and wounded, which I amused myself by putting out of their misery with my "Dean Adams". Soon was this pretty hamlet in flames and a heap of blackened walls. I followed the advanced party and surmounting a rise in the valley ^{passing} through a narrow pass, again came ^{into another} ~~upon a narrow~~ valley as picturesque as the other where the sea washed a pretty sandy beach and in a recess or gulley was a fishing village and some junks, 3 ^{of} which we burnt. This valley on the ^{south} east of Ty-lo is directly opposite to Ku-lan being separated ^{only} by the ridge and small pass before mentioned, the same range of high hills passing directly through the island and forming the sides of the valleys. I have seen few more picturesque spots in China. Soon returned and found the party destroying the Junks, 51 on fire, full of rice, log-wood etc. What ^a destruction! What a glorious sight as every now and then an explosion would occur lifting the whole deck into the air and throwing up a perpendicular ^{column} volume of white smoke soon to be mingled with the rest. Crossed the paddy fields to the first village then being plundered; obtained from Joss house Gods, ^{and} tablets etc. Amusing to see the Jacks some dressing themselves in Chinese clothes, others with ^{the} heads of fowls passed through their sword belts, the bodies forming a complete girdle, another washing and cleaning a pig at a pool, another carrying one alive on his back to the boats, another leading a calf by a string to his boat; all plunder and trophies. Filled the Joss house with straw and fired, the stacks burning, the village on ^{opposite} ~~the other~~ side of the valley ^{on fire} ~~burning~~, the hill-tops darkened by dense smoke, showing these wretched people the fruits of their lawless life of murder. Found two pretty brass guns with V.R. on them, ^{could} ~~could~~ not carry them away, gave them to American Officer. All men, ^{both} ~~the~~ Marines and Blue Jackets carrying away trophies, either household Gods, bronzes or clothes. Americans fill their boats with plunder and josses. Mandarin and his Braves employed in getting the guns from fort into his boat, also rice, pigs, fowls etc. Met my friend Napier with 2 sails. 4 p.m., all firing ceased on the hill and men returning, ordered to embark; got on board my ship being knocked up, the party destroying the junk, at the time of the 1935 wood etc. What destruction! What a glorious sight as every now and then an explosion would occur lifting the whole back into the air and throwing up a perpendicular column of white smoke soon to be mingled with the rest. Overhead the party flew to the river village then being pumdered, scattered from Jones house gods, tablets etc. Amusing to see the junk scene pressing themselves in Chinese clothes, others with hands of towels passed through their sword belts, the bodies forming a complete circle, another washing and cleaning a pig at a pool, another carrying one alive on his back as the boats, another landing a calf by a string to his boat, all pumder and pumder.

 Filled the junk house with straw and fired, the stacks burning, the village on ^{opposite} side of the valley ~~the hill~~, the hill tops darkened by dense smoke, showing these watched people the fruits of their lawless life of murder. Found two pretty brass guns with V.R. on them, ^{could} not carry them away, gave them to American Officer. All men, both ~~men~~ garden and blue jackets carrying away trophies, either household gods, bronzes or clothes.
 Americans fill their boats with pumder and Jones. Mandarins and his slaves employed in getting the guns from Fort into his boat, also rice, pigs, towels etc. ~~set by~~ Friend Roger with 2 balls. 4 p.m., all firing ceased on the hill and men returning, ordered to embark; got on board by ship being knocked up.

having taken nothing since 7.30 a.m. It was an imposing sight from the water to behold the flames rising from the junks and the 3 villages; took a rough sketch of the scene. 5.50., took in tow the ~~Man~~ of War boats, picked up anchor and returned to the ships anchoring under the quarter of the "Encounter". Although 3 miles from the scene of destruction and separated by lofty hills from our view, yet the whole ^{sky & heavens were} ~~was~~ illuminated showing the clear rugged outline of the hills, over which seemed to float a curtain of dark smoke; retired and slept soundly till daybreak.

4.30. rounded the headland and entered ~~the~~ harbour. While at dinner got aground Tuesday, Nov. 14th. 1854. float, tide Bar. Max. 30.03 Min. 29.96. As we enter the creek all the

Ther. " 80 " 72. fragments of the burnt junks, 100

Up at daybreak; a fine clear morning and the fleet ^{resting} ~~rising~~ on the bosom of the waters unconscious of the past; no sound is heard but the whistle of the Boatswain from the nearest ship the "Encounter" and the "Barracouta" getting under weigh for Hong Kong. Soon however all is bustle in Ty-ho (or Kulan) Bay and we receive signals to get up steam. 8.25. ^{am} Took the "Styx" paddle boat and the "Winchester" launch in tow with Marines and Blue Jackets and steam to the opposite side of the Island, to the village and sandy bay of the opposite valley to ^{Kulan,} ~~Hulaw~~.

Orders given from Commanding Officer that no one except those attached to party to go on shore and the landing party to scour having taken nothing since 7.30 am. It was exceedingly bright from the water so behind the flames rising from the tanks and the 3 villages; took a rough sketch of the scene. 8.30. Took in tow the Nam of war boats, picked up anchor and returned to the ships anchoring under the quarter of the "Encounter". Although 3 miles from the scene of destruction and separated by lofty hills from our view, yet the whole illuminated showing the clear rugged outline of the hills, over which seemed to float a curtain of dark smoke; retired and slept soundly till daylight.

Tuesday, Nov. 14th. 1854.
Bar. Max. 30.03 Min. 29.95. A fine clear morning and the first up at daylight; a fine clear morning and the first on the beach of the waters unobscured of the past; no sound is heard but the whistle of the Postward from the nearest ship the "Encounter" and the "Hesperus" getting under weigh for Hong Kong. Soon however all is quiet in the bay and we receive signals to get up steam. 8.35. Took the "Styx" paddle boat and the "Wingmaster" launch in tow with Harrier and five boats and steam to the opposite side of the island, to the village and sandy bay of the opposite valley to the Orders given from Commanding Officer that no one except those attached to party to go on shore and the landing party to return the island and shoot all that could not be taken prisoners.

11a.m., anchored in Bay; boats rowing on shore, see great quantities of men winding up the face of the hill carrying goods on bamboos; see them carrying packages along the hill tops.

Scouring party lands, forms, sets fire to remaining dwellings and temple, the fire catching the dry hillside. Noon, Despatch ^{marines on the track.} boat to give information; the hill side on fire and spreading wide. ^{pm.} 1.30., Lieut. Fellows returns with increase of Josses; get under weigh and steam to Ku-lan with the men's dinners.

4.30, rounded the headland and entered ^{Kulan} ~~the lo~~ harbour. While at dinner get ^{on} ~~the~~ ground with Lieut. Fellows; get afloat, tide rising and proceed ^{with Lieut. Fellows} on shore. As we enter the creek all the ^{use} coast and sides ^{side} black, with the fragments of the burnt junks; not a vestige remains of that great Pirate fleet. We pull up and round the acute angle of the natural dock on whose banks are still smouldering ^{of some} ~~some of~~ the remains of the boats and land on the ruined battery; am joined by our Steward and 3 Blue Jackets and at once cut across the fields to the first left village where we soon load our men with pigs and fowls; walk further up valley, discover ⁱⁿ a rice field (some of which was cut and the hooks thrown down, evidently used on the day of attack) a Chinese chest which I break open and find ^{the} 2 Bills of Lading of the "Caldera" (Ship taken by Pirates), also some Chinese bills for Saltpetre. Shot a half wild dog and on going to see him broad way passing ~~my~~ islands at the mouth of the river extremely

the island and shoot all that could not be taken prisoners.
11 a.m., anchored in Bay; boats rowing on shore, see great quantities of men winding up the face of the hill carrying goods on bamboos; see them carrying packages along the hill sides.
Scouring party lands, forms, see fire to remaining buildings and temple, the fire catching the dry hillside. Noon, dispatch boat to give information; the hill side on fire and spreading wide. 1.30, Lieut. Pellos returns with increase of losses; get under weigh and steam to Kul-lan with the men's dinner.
4.30, rounded the headland and entered ~~Kul-lan~~ harbour. While at dinner get ~~around~~ with Lieut. Pellos; get afloat, tide rising and proceed on shore. As we enter the creek all the shot coast and sides black with the fragments of the burnt junk; see a vestige remains of that great pirate fleet. We pull up and round the acute angle of the natural dock on whose banks are still smouldering ~~remains~~ the remains of the boats and land on the ruined battery; see joined by our Steward and 2 Nine Jacks and at once cut across the fields to the first village where we soon load our men with pigs and fowls; walk further up valley, discover a rice field (some of which was cut and the hooks thrown down, evidently used on the day of attack) a Chinese chest which I break open and find 2 bills of lading of the "Calder" (Ship taken by Pirates), also some Chinese bills for Salpêtre. Shot a half wild dog and on going to see him stumbled over a dead Chinaman, (had evidently) died wounded. Found none of the Pigs destroyed the day previous. Scouring party return from the hills, bring with them 5 prisoners, having shot 9. They discover an honest village on the ^{opposite} ~~other~~ side and spare them. One of the Officers described it as great fun resembling deer stalking; having his rifle he had some good shots, killing 3 men during the day at from 100 to 500 yards. We heard the popping all day among the hills and as we (steamed?) saw an occasional poor devil at full speed making for some stronghold. The number killed is ^{calculated} ~~stated~~ to be about 70. Prisoners taken 37 including yesterday; ~~we had~~ only one man killed in our side, an American Sailor who is supposed to have shot himself while plundering. At 5.30., take the boats in tow and again join the fleet; the fire has extended to the hill tops and all one mass of fire. 8.45., turn in.

Wednesday, Nov. 15th. 1854.

3.30., Signal to weigh anchor and get under weigh with "Spartan"s pinnace in tow. At 9. ^{am.} sight Ladrone and smoke of "Barracouta" visible. 11a.m., anchor off Little Ladrone. "Barracouta" brings news of the great ^{from Hongkong} Battle of Alma, 1600 British and 1400 French; ^{hors de combat} brought by "Singapore". Thanks of people and admiral of Hong Kong for our services and gallant conduct at Ty-lo. Noon get under weigh and accompany fleet up the broad way passing ^{among} ~~many~~ islands at the mouth of the river extremely stumbled over a dead Chinaman, ^{and evidently died wounded.} Found none of the pigs destroyed the day previous. ^{Scouring} party return from the hills, bring with them 3 prisoners, having shot 2. They discover an honest village on the ^{opposite} side and spare them. One of the Officers described it as great fun to something like stalking; having his rifle he had some good shots. killing 3 men during the day at from 100 to 500 yards. We heard the popping all day among the hills and as we returned saw an occasional poor devil at full speed making for some stronghold. The number killed is ^{calculated} to be about 70.

 Prisoners taken 37 including yesterday; ~~and~~ only one man killed in our side, an American sailor who is supposed to have shot himself while plundering. At 5.30, take the boats in tow and again join the fleet; the fire has extended to the hill tops and all one mass of fire. 8.45, turn in.
 Wednesday, Nov. 15th, 1872.
 8.30, signal to weigh anchor and get under weigh with "Spartan" pinnace in tow. At 9, eight ladrones and smoke of "Barracotta" visible. 11 a.m., anchor off Little Ladrones.
 "Barracotta" brings news of the Great Battle of Aikwa, 1800 B.C.
 1st and 1400 French; brought by "Singapore". Thanks of people and admiral of Hong Kong for our services and gallant conduct at Ty-lo. Noon get under weigh and accompany fleet up the broad way passing ^{many} islands at the mouth of the river extremely picturesque; pass the passages of Macao at the back of Macao Is-and at 3.45 dropped anchor off Skeleton Island land; and abreast of B peak, in 3½ fathoms. These waters are exceedingly pretty and full of wild fowl. No movements on the part of the Commodore, supposed to find a strong fleet up this river of 300 Junks and some great fighting; get information that some 50 Junks passed through the Bogue and joined the Imperial-ists; got on shore at B peak and find plenty of wild fowl among the paddy and rushes and good shooting.

Thursday, 16th Nov. 1854.

6 a.m., get orders in "Canton" to proceed up to and having Capt. F. Challenger, and towing "Winchester"s launch; am much disappointed in not knowing of it in time to go with her. She proceeded up to where the river branches about 23 miles and found 23 Imperialist Junks, thence up that part where no Europ^{ever}ean was before for 40 miles; passing ^{up} ~~this~~ a beautiful country full of wild fowl till they came to ~~the~~, the great rebel stronghold. Here 300 Junks met them and prepared to attack them but finding they were after Pirates, chin-chin them; pretty clearly proved that the Junks 300 which we were in pursuit of had that day joined Rebel and Imperialists and therefore we observing neutrality could not ^{touch them} ~~touch them~~ The description they give of this day will be entered elsewhere. The Pirate Chief had become a Mandarin of the red button.

sharp this celebrated old ship gets under weigh, photographer; pass the passages of the back of the lake island and breast of 3 peak, 23 fathoms. These waters are exceedingly pretty and full of wild fowl. No movements on the part of the Commodore, supposed to find a strong fleet up this river of 500 tanks and some great fighting; get information that some 30 tanks passed through the Bogus and joined the Imperial-ists; got on shore at 5 peak and find plenty of wild fowl

among the paddy and rushes and good shooting.

Thursday, 1st Nov. 1874.

At 6 a.m. got orders in "Canton" to proceed up to and having Capt. ~~W. H. H.~~ and towing "Winchester" launch; as much disappointed in not knowing of it in time to go with her. She proceeded up to where the river branches about 23 miles and found 23 Imperialist tanks, hence up that part where no European was before for 40 miles; passing ~~the~~ a beautiful country full of wild fowl till they came to ~~the~~ the great rebel stronghold. Here 300 tanks met them and prepared to attack them but finding they were after pirates, chin-chin them; pretty clearly proved that the tanks 300 which we were in pursuit of had that day joined Rebel and ~~Imperialist~~ and therefore we observing the neutrality could not ~~be~~ The description they give of this day will be entered elsewhere. The Pirate Chief had become a bandit of the red button.

Capt. ~~Parker~~, Commander Friday, 17th. November 1854. ~~del~~, called the Schoon passing the Gunloon on our left with Hong Kong coast and "Canton" returned at daylight. Orders given for "Styx", "Barracouta" and "Encounter" to return to Hong Kong while Head
 "Canton" and "Forbes" proceeded to the dwellings of the Mandarins ^{River, a} ~~of~~ branch of ~~the~~ Canton river near Bogue. Hearing "Lady M. Wood" would leave Hong Kong for Shanghai to-morrow, got a passage in "Barracouta"; dining with Capt. Parker and got in at 7 p.m.

Saturday, 18th. November 1854.

Rose early and hearing "Lady ^{Mary} ~~M.~~ Wood" sailed for Shanghai at 3 p.m. ^f this day, went to the office to see Mr. Walker to know if my services would be required. After 3 hours see him and am informed that if I please I can go but must go ^{into} ~~in~~ a berth with a passenger; prefer this to losing a chance of seeing the North of China. Call on friend Sillar and get a cabin between us. Pack up all my serviceable traps and leaving my ^{boy} behind, proceed on board and settle down. Find many of the Passengers are old friends; their names are; 2 Sillars, Mrs
 Do, 2 Children, 2 Servants, Mr. McClure, Mr. Campbell, Mr. How^e ^{Travelling gent.} ~~Draveley~~, Mr. and Mrs Spooner, 2 Children, ^{and party} ~~Sparks~~, Miss Spooner, 5 Servants, Mr Foster, Walsh, Boyd, Gibb, Dana, Hall, Parker,
 Burrows, 5 Chinese, 2 Portuguese, 1 Frenchman.

At 2 p.m., sharp this celebrated old ship gets under weigh,

Friday, 17th. December 1854.
 "Ganton" returned at daylight. "Gordon" given for "Styx",
 "Baraboo" and "Encounter" to return to Hong Kong while
 "Ganton" and "Horse" proceeded to the dwellings of the hands-some branch of the Canton river near Hogue. Hearing "Lady"
 "Wood" would leave Hong Kong for Shanghai to-morrow, got a passage in "Baraboo"; dining with Capt. Parker and got in at 7 p.m.

Saturday, 18th. December 1854.
 Rose early and hearing "Lady" ^{Wood} called for Shanghai at 3 p.m. this day, went to the office to see Mr. Walker to know if my services would be required. After 3 hours see him and am informed that if I please I can go but must go for a berth with a passenger; prefer this to losing a chance of seeing the North of China. Call on friend Sillar and get a cabin between us. Pack up all my serviceable traps and leaving my key behind, proceed on board and settle down. Find many of the passengers are old friends; their names are: 2 Sillars, Mrs.
 Dr. 2 Children, 2 Servants, Mr. McGilvray, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Hume,
 Mr. and Mrs. Spooner, 2 Children, 2 Servants, Miss Spooner, 2 Servants, Mr. Foster, Wain, Boyd, Gibb, Dana, Hall, Parker,
 Burrows, 2 Chinese, 2 Portuguese, 1 Frenchman.
 At 2 p.m., sharp this celebrated old ship gets under weigh.

Capt. Jameson, Commander; and we take the S.E. Channel, called the Simoon passing the Cowloon on our left ^{and} ~~with~~ Hong Kong coast and Stonecutter's Villages; ^{on our left} ~~soon~~ pass through the islands outside and get clear of the land running along the coast. Head sea, passengers sick.

Sunday, 19th November 1854.

Lat. 22.44 N. Long. 116.54 E. ^{course & distance N. 24 E 124 miles.}

Wind. E.N.E. ^{Bearing & Dist. Black Mount N.W. by N. 11 miles.} Clear fine weather.

Barometer Max. 30.29. Min. 30.25.

Thermom. " 70. " 68.

Find my miserable cabin too small and no room to dress or put one's things away in; with 2 people most miserable; get up and find a poor muster at breakfast; are running along the Coast similar to that at Cowloon, mountainous and barren. Can see ^{breaker} point on our port bow which we pass at 3.50 p.m. Muster and have prayers at 10 a.m. Find "Lady M." a most filthy creature and no comfort anywhere; find clear weather but ^{N.E.} strong ^{cut} monsoon, heavy sea, making about 5 knots an hour; the air is getting perceptibly colder and more bracing and I have all hopes of its doing me good. Pass many junks with their sails ^{cut} ~~set~~ very differently from those at Hong Kong and South. Passengers soon find out that I am Dr. and begin their troubles. ^{Turn in early.} ~~Immediately~~ noon are 40 miles from White Dogs, about 20 miles from the

Capt. Jameson, Commander, and we take the S.W. Channel, called the Simoon passing the Cowloon on our left ^{and} Hong Kong coast and Stonecutter's Village; ^{we} pass through the islands outside and get clear of the land running along the coast. Head see, passengers sick.
Sunday, 19th November 1874.
Lat. 22.44 N. Long. 113.34 E. 124 miles.
Wind. E.N.E. Clear fine weather.
Barometer. 30.29. Min. 30.25.
Thermom. 70. " " 68.
Find my miserable cabin too small and no room to dress or put one's things away in; with 2 people most miserable; get up and find a poor master at breakfast; are running along the coast similar to that at Cowloon, mountains and barren. Can see point on our port bow which we pass at 3.50 A.M. Master and have prayers at 10 A.M. Find "bad M." a most filthy creature and no comfort anywhere; find clear weather but strong monsoon, heavy sea, making about 5 knots an hour; the air is getting perceptibly colder and more bracing and I have all hopes of its doing me good. Pass many junka with their sails ^{out} very differently from those at Hong Kong and Southern. Passengers soon find out that I am Dr. and begin their troubles.

Monday, Nov. 20th. 1854.

Lat. 23.40.N.

Long. 117.54.

Course & Distance N.E. 114 miles.

Bearing & Distance Chappel Island N. 2 1/2. 32 mi

Winds

N.E.

Clear and fine; head sea, strong breeze.

Bar. Max. 30.29. Min. 30.27.

Therm. Max. 67. Min. 65.

At 5.30 p.m., passed Chappel Island which is off Amoy; see the high land of the Coast; once more I am out of the Tropics; what a pleasure one feels after passing 12 months within them; we are getting cooler weather hourly as we pass. ^{north} Our ship is not comfortable nor fast, 5 knots an hour; passengers nearly all sick. In conversation to-day at dinner ² Heath, an old Scotchman, I find to be a very great traveller; and strange to say we had been ship-mates together in "Clyde" ^{the old} ~~in~~ ^{to the} West Indies and that he had crossed ^{the} Isthmus of ^{Panama} Panama just one month before me; we enjoy our society and bring up many curious anecdotes to the amusement of the few people ^{the} at table; he nearly suffered the same accident as myself crossing ^{the} mountain stream; ^{near Panama} how wonderful to meet with acquaintance more than two thirds round ^{the} world from place last met.

Lat. 25.19. Long. —

Course & Distance N. 66° E. 144 mi.

Bearing & Distance White Dogs N. 6° E. 40 mi.

Bar. ——— Max. 30.30.

Tuesday, 21st. Nov. 1854.

Prevailing Wind N.E. fine strong breeze & cloudy.

Min. 30.28.

144 miles.

Thermom.

" 68.

" 64.

"Lady Mary" behaves ^{herself} very badly; ~~sitting~~ ^{wetting} all on deck.

Sight early Turnabout Island and passed it at 1.30 a.m. At noon are 40 miles from White Dogs, ^{2 miserable barren islands} about 20 miles from the

Monday, Nov. 20th 1882

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Clear and fine; head sea, strong breeze.

At 8.30 a.m. passed Chappel Island which is off Amoy; sea

the high land of the Coast; once more I am out of the Tropics;

what a pleasure one feels after passing 12 months within them;

we are getting cooler weather hourly as we pass. Our ship is not comfortable nor fast, 3 knots an hour; passengers nearly all sick. In conversation to-day at dinner, Heath, an old Scotchman, I find to be a very great traveller and strange to say we had been ship-wrecked together in "Clyde" in West Indies and that he had crossed Isthmus of Panama just one month before me; we enjoy our society and bring up many curious anecdotes to the amusement of the few people at table; he nearly suffered the same accident as myself crossing a mountain stream; how wonderful to meet with acquaintance more than two thirds round world.

from place last met.

1

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Monday, 21st Nov. 1882

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

Lat. 23.40 N. Long. 117.54

view opens on passing through so near to the ~~base~~ ^{islands} coast mouth of the river Min up which we are to go. These ~~are~~ ^{are} ~~miserable barren Islands~~ ^{are} inhabited as we afterwards saw by fishermen, a miserable small village on S.W. side; we arrive off them ^m at 7.25 ^{p.m.} and anchor close to one of them off the village for the night and expect our Pilot ^{from} here. It is a great comfort even to me to get out of the continual pitching outside; we all become in better spirits; even those who had not turned out seem cheerful and hungry.

Wednesday, 22nd. Nov. 1854.

Turn out early, ^a fine morning. Pilot on board; but cannot start owing to want of water; the Island off which we are is only cultivated in some places; it is ^{barren &} rugged and resembling one of the ^{Desertas of the} Madeiras; the air is delightful this early morning as at Bermuda. 9.a.m., up anchor and steam for the Passage to the River Min passing the Seadog Island on our starboard as also many others; by 11.30 ^{we} are entering the mouth of the river; on starboard side high rocky land inhabited and cultivated; on our left a beautiful Island whereon is a large fishing village with lofty pine trees capping the heights; we now approach the first Pass called Kin-pai, ^a guarded by double forts on each side not wider than 100 yards and now having passed the 2 small islands stationed on ^{each} ~~either~~ side, are close to the hidden rock in ^{the} centre of ^{the} Pass where the American Ship went down. Oh! what a grand mouth of the river up which we are to go. These are the islands inhabited as we afterwards saw by the natives, a miserable small village on S.W. side; we arrive off them at 7.30 and anchor close to one of them off the village for the night and expect our Pilot here. It is a great comfort even to me to get out of the continual pitching outside; we all become in better spirits; even those who had not turned out seem cheerful and hungry.

Wednesday, 22nd Nov. 1824.

Turn out early, fine morning. Pilot on board; but cannot start owing to want of water; the island off which we are in only cultivated in some places; it is rugged and resembling one of the Madagascars; the air is delightful this early morning as at Bernina. 9 a.m., up anchor and steam for the Passage to the River. On passing the Seeger Island on our starboard as also many others; by 11.30 are entering the mouth of the river; on starboard side high rocky land, inhabited and cultivated; on our left a beautiful island whereon is a large fishing village with lofty pine trees capping the heights; we now approach the first Pass called Kin-pai, guarded by double forts on each side not wider than 100 yards and now having passed the 2 small islands stationed on either side, are close to the hidden rock in centre of Pass where the American Ship went down. Oh! what a grand view opens on passing through so near to the ~~port~~ ^{port} coast that you could pitch a biscuit on shore; the river now widens and banks are lofty and precipitous with here and there a village situate² on a flat part facing¹ water at the bottom of a deep ravine where the inhabitants grow their rice. The Mountains on each side vary in height from 500 to 3000 feet, ^{and are} formed into terraces ^{even the} from water edge ~~even~~ ^{the} to very peaks by these industrious people, having the appearance of ^{a series of} gigantic steps whereon they cultivate the sweet potato and vegetables; the River still widens and on our right is another opening from the sea only navigable ^{for} ~~by~~ Junks; here the river is at least 2 miles wide and there are several small rocky islets having ^{one or two} ~~a few~~ trees and a small Joss house capping them, resembling exactly the Chinese ^{drawings}. 12.45., We are now passing through the 2nd Pass called Min-gan guarded only by single batteries, one each side. The river now narrows considerably, not wider than 100 yards and continues so for 4 miles; the banks are more precipitous and lofty and many picturesque villages are built on each side with their characteristic Joss house standing well forth from the picture forming a panorama surpassing anything I have ever yet seen; the view before us up this Pass, the water dotted with the peculiar boats, the sparkling of the numerous cascades ~~on each side~~ ^{amongst the mountains} as the Sun shines on them; and the mountains with their grotesque shaped peaks having a blue appearance in the distance with the loud echo of the paddle wheels as ~~the~~ every threading quantities of Junks, Chop boats and Sampanes and having a beautiful Bridge in view so celebrated for its antiquity.

view opens on passing through so near to the coast that you could pitch a biscuit on shore; the river now widens and banks are lofty and precipitous with here and there a village situated on a flat part facing water at the bottom of a deep ravine where the inhabitants grow their rice. The mountains on each side vary in height from 200 to 3000 feet, formed into terraces from water edges ~~and~~ to very peaks by these industrious people, having the appearance of gigantic steps whereon they cultivate the sweet potato and vegetables; the river still widens and on our right is another opening from the sea only navigable for junk; here the river is at least 2 miles wide and there are several small rocky islets having ~~some~~ trees and small tea houses capping them, resembling exactly the Chinese islands. We are now passing through the 2nd Pass called Min-gan guarded only by single battlements, one each side. The river now narrows considerably, not wider than 100 yards and continues so for 4 miles; the banks are more precipitous and lofty and many picturesque villages are built on each side with their characteristic tea house standing well forth from the picture forming a panorama surpassing anything I have ever seen; the view before us up this Pass, the water dotted with the peculiar boats, the sparkling of the numerous cascades ~~and~~ the mountain amongst the mountains as the sun shines on them; and the mountains with their grotesque shaped peaks having a blue appearance in the distance with the loud echo of the paddle wheels as every minute ^{we} pass some deep ravine forbidding from its dark shade and ~~mysterious~~ ^{suggest} aspect, forms ^a pictures so imposing that ^{the finest} Landscape Painter ~~might well~~ ^{would} envy. This river seems to have escaped thro' this ^{mountain} gorge dividing the range and giving water sufficient to float the largest ship. We continue our ^{rapid} course with tide in our favour till we open another reach at the extreme end of which is the Island of Losing with a rocky mound at its extreme point on which ~~are~~ ^{stand} the ruins of a Pagoda 7 Stories high, ^{from which it is named, and} under the lee of which is the anchorage; we now open larger plots at the bottoms of ravines cultivated with paddy but the hills having the same aspect. At 2 p.m., round Pagoda Point and anchor; find 3 English ships waiting for cargo and behind are the opium-receiving ships. We are no sooner fast than boats from all ~~parts~~ crowd to hear the news and get despatches; but Sparks with Capt. and myself at once proceed to the City or rather ^{the} ~~that~~ portion of the suburbs of the City of Foo-Chow-foo situated on the river which is about 9 miles from the anchorage; the left bank which is an extensive island is flat and highly cultivated with numbers of Towns interspersed with fine cedars, the right ~~is~~ ^{composed of} also paddy to the foot of the mountains; we soon however come to the extensive plain traversed by the river, the plain of Foo-Chow bounded on every side by mountains, the highest peak of these being near the river (on our right ^{passing up}) and forming the point called Koo-shan. At 4.15 ^{p.m.} arrive at Capt Elley's Office, after threading ^{through} quantities of Junks, Chop boats and Sampans and having a beautiful Bridge in view so celebrated for its antiquity.

minute pass some deep ravine forbidding from its dark shade and ~~the river seems to have escaped~~ ~~the river seems to have escaped~~ this gorge dividing the range and giving water sufficient to float the largest ship. We continue our course with tide in our favour till we open another reach at the extreme end of which is the island of Loosung with a rocky ground at its extreme point on which ~~the ruins of a Pagoda 7 stories high~~ ~~under~~ the lee of which is the anchorage; we now open larger plots at the bottom of ravines cultivated with paddy but the hills having the same aspect. At 2 p.m., round Pagoda Point and anchor;
 find 3 English ships waiting for cargo and behind are the opium-receiving ships. We are no sooner fast than boats from all hands crowd to hear the news and get despatches; but Sparks with Capt. and myself at once proceed to the City or rather ~~port~~ portion of the suburbs of the City of Foo-Chow-too situated on the river which is about 9 miles from the anchorage; the left bank which is an extensive island is flat and highly cultivated with numbers of towns interspersed with fine cedars, the right ~~bank~~ also paddy to the foot of the mountains; we soon however come to the extensive plain traversed by the river, the plain of Foo-Chow bounded on every side by mountains, the highest peak of these being near the river (on our right) ~~and forming the point~~ called Koo-shan. At 4.15 ~~arrive at Capt. Miles's Office~~ after threading quantities of Junk, Chop boats and sampans and having a beautiful bridge in view we celebrated for its antiquity.

We here ^{found} ~~find~~ all the English living in Chinese houses on this Island formed by the dividing of the river [and called Chung-Chow; miserable places, cramped Chinese Streets densely populated; fortunately however they have chosen those facing the water and the pleasantest of these ^{at that part} is Mr. Williams' facing the upper part of the river and having an extended view of many miles. We called on him and found Mr. and Mrs W. well; he took us to Capt. Crawford's which has a view of the river down ^{stream;} where we found comfortable quarters and a good dinner. Being tired and having a great deal to see on the following day we soon turned in to ^{sleep on} Chinese bedsteads; but the weather being cold ^{61°F} we soon fell asleep under cover of 2 good blankets. At Mr. Williams' we were fortunate enough to meet the only English Missionary here; he is living in the City of Foo-Chow on one of the hills and hearing we intended visiting the place, kindly asked us to his house and early so that we might see everything. Strange to say he is also a medical man and combines the two ^{making a good thing fit}; we found him to be a Suffolk man as ourselves.

Thursday, 23rd. Nov. 1854.

Bar. Max. 30.48. Min. 30.44

Thermom. " 62. " 60.

Prevailing Wind. N.E. Fine clear weather.

Cold morning ^{And} at 6 a.m. Out to visit the Bridge leading

We have ~~seen~~ all the English living in Chinese houses on this island formed by the ~~bank~~ of the river and called Ching-Chow; miserable places, cramped Chinese streets densely populated; fortunately however they have chosen these facing the water and the pleasantest of these is Mr. Williams' facing the upper part of the river and having an extended view of many miles. We called on him and found Mr. and Mrs. W. well; he took us to Capt. Crawford's which has a view of the river down where we found comfortable quarters and a good dinner. Being tired and having a great deal to see on the following day we soon turned in to Ching-Chow but the weather being cold we soon fell asleep under cover of 2 good blankets. At Mr. Williams' we were fortunate enough to meet the only English missionary here; he is living in the City of Poo-Chow on one of the hills and hearing we intended visiting the place, kindly asked us to his house and early so that we might see everything. Strange to say he is also a medical man and combines the two; we found him to be a Suffolk man as ourselves.

Thursday, 23rd Nov. 1854
Bar. 30.48 Max. 30.48 Min. 30.44
Thermom. 62. " " 60.
Wind. N.E. Fine clear weather.
Cold morning at 6 a.m. Out to visit the Bridge leading the amount of labour in placing these slabs without the use of any levers, equal to England, and particularly at so early a period, with a current equal to a cataract rushing down, only to the City side; this is one of the most wonderful ^{pieces of} structures

50.

I have ever ^{saw} ~~seen~~; its age ^{is} upwards of 600 years, $\frac{3}{4}$ mile in length 20 feet wide and composed of 35 arches built of granite; one half the causeway is occupied by shops built after the Chinese fashion but what is most wonderful ^{of all} is the span of the arch being 40(?) feet not arched but merely one solid slab of granite placed on the supporting piers and measuring 40 feet in length, by $3\frac{1}{4}$ feet thick, ^{by about from} 6 to 8 feet in width but the latter we could not see; the whole structure is without mortar, the stones being laid on one another; ~~the whole structure~~ shows the industry and perseverance of these people. After taking a sketch of this, we walked thro' the narrow street to the opposite side of the Island and crossed a similarly constructed Bridge but smaller, to the great Island 17 miles by 5, called Wan-tye and visited the Joss house and wonderfully carved granite pillars, then ascended the hill above from which we had an extended view of the lesser Island from which we started or rather the roofs of the houses covering it and in the distance the walled City, Foo-Chow foo. After breakfast we jumped into chairs and crossing the bridge, continued our journey to the city through a narrow filthy causeway so (?cramped) with people as to be almost blocked up and so narrow that with difficulty could 2 chairs pass, the light ^{above} almost excluded by ^{the} house tops and the shops mostly those life, however, are the same; they are in themselves the lower

It is a very old bridge, and is a very fine specimen of the old Chinese architecture. It is a very old bridge, and is a very fine specimen of the old Chinese architecture.

to the city side; this is one of the most wonderful structures I have ever seen; its length is 200 yards, 1/2 mile in length 20 feet wide and composed of 25 arches built of granite; one half the causeway is occupied by shops built after the Chinese fashion but what is most wonderful is the span of the arches being 40 feet not arched but merely one solid slab of granite placed on the supporting piers and measuring 40 feet in length, 3 1/2 feet thick, 2 to 3 feet in width but the latter we could not see; the whole structure is without mortar, the stones being laid on one another; ~~the whole structure shows the industry and~~ perseverance of these people. After taking a sketch of this we walked thro' the narrow street to the opposite side of the island and crossed a similarly constructed Bridge and walked to the great island 17 miles by S. called Wan-tye and visited the two houses and wonderfully carved granite pillars, then ascended the hill above from which we had an extended view of the lesser island from which we started or rather the roofs of the houses covering it and in the distance the walled city, Foo-Show too. After breakfast we jumped into chairs and crossing the bridge, continued our journey to the city through a narrow filthy causeway so crammed with people as to be almost blocked up and so narrow that with difficulty double carriages pass, the light almost excluded by house-tops and the shops mostly those sold morning at 8 a.m. Out to visit the bridge leading of the same trade congregating in the same part, first passing through the Fish Market, then the Butcher's, ^{then the} Blacksmiths', Shoemakers' etc., each ^{one class} ~~shop~~ emitting the disagreeable smell peculiar to the trade. After being nearly thrown from the shoulders of my Bearers several times and becoming almost sickened from the closeness of the air, we passed through the strong gates to the City, having gone 3 miles in 1½ hour. We soon arrived at a ^{little} hill on which our Missionary Dr. resided and fortunately found him at home and ready to accompany us to any part we pleased. His house, a Chinese Temple, is on an elevated rock 150 feet high from which you command a view of the whole city or the tops of the houses, for not one street can you see being so narrow, also the many Pagodas and Public Buildings. We soon found ourselves in Curiosity Street and as usual followed by a great crowd and made some cheap purchases of Bronzes, carved soap stones, Josses etc, peculiar to this part. We then walked thro' various parts of the City of the same narrow stinking filthy streets, visited the great Confusian Temple, the Treasury and that ^{portion} ~~part~~ of the City exclusively occupied by the Tartars. Foo-Chow-Foo is one of the 5 Ports allowed to Europeans to trade according to the treaty of 1842. They are much prettier than the South, lose that almond shaped eye, are larger, better and considerably more civil to strangers; their habits and mode of life, however, are the same; they are in themselves the lower stationed there.

class, the beasts of burthen; everything is moved and carried on their shoulders, small articles and provisions in baskets at the ends of a Bamboo about 6 ft. in length; and it is wonderful with what facility they carry immense loads, passing each other in these narrow streets without accident. I have never yet seen a Cart, Carriage or wheeled conveyance, Timbers, guns etc., weighing some 5 Tons, are conveyed through the streets by a multiplicity of these creatures ^{with bamboos} with little inconvenience. The Granite here is far superior and of finer quality than in the South ^{not having the Iron or in it which is,} ~~and is not~~ so acted upon by the atmosphere. The mode in which the poor are supported is very shocking; we witnessed many lying in the ^{public} streets and near the gateways of the city in the most miserable state, some evidently dying; these people can claim 1 cash from each Shopkeeper near the part, which is the 1700 part of a dollar and by this means they die of ^{slow} starvation; when dead the Government makes the Shopkeeper at whose door he dies, pay the expenses of interment; this however, is better than the ^{I believe} South where they are beheaded when getting into this state. ^{- Foo} Foo-Chow is the capital of the Province of Fo-kien and although it is one of the best ports for receiving the teas which come by water direct from the farms and ^{having} ~~have~~ no land conveyance which is such a great drawback and expense, yet the dangers of the river are ^{great a} so numerous ~~and great~~ to sailing vessels that it will never become of importance unless steam tugs are stationed there.

class, the beasts of burden; everything is moved and carried on their shoulders, small articles and provisions in baskets at the ends of a bamboo about 5 ft. in length and it is wonderful with what facility they carry immense loads, passing each other in these narrow streets without accident. I have never yet seen a cart, carriage or wheeled conveyance, timber, guns etc., weighing more than 5 tons, are conveyed through the streets by a multiplicity of these creatures with little inconvenience. The Granite here is far superior and of finer quality than in the South ^{as noted upon by the atmosphere.} The mode in which the poor are supported is very shocking; we witnessed many lying in the streets and near the gateways of the city in the most miserable state, some evidently dying; these people can claim I learn from each Shekheper near the port, which is the 1700 part of a dollar and by this means they die of starvation; when dead the Government makes the Shekheper at whose door he dies pay the expenses of interment; this however, is better than the South where they are beheaded when getting into this state. Foo-chow is the capital of the Province of Fo-kien and although it is one of the best ports for receiving the tea which comes by water direct from the farms and ^{leaving} no land conveyance which is such a great drawback and expense, yet the dangers of the river are so numerous ^{great} as to sailing vessels that it will never become of importance unless steam tugs are stationed there.

Friday, 24th. Nov. 1854.

Bar. Max. 30.48. Min. 20.44

Thermom. " 61. " 59.

Fine clear morning, fresh, ~~and~~ cold; early breakfast, and having placed in a Sampan provender and 2 muskets, the latter being necessary to ensure safety, we soon found ourselves floating down the river to the Koo-shan point, 5 miles, to visit the celebrated Buddhist ^{Koo-shan} Monastery situate ¹⁸⁰⁰ ~~1500~~ ft. up the side of the mountain; being nearly low water we were compelled to land at a small village at the extreme end of the point; our ascent which took us $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours was by short cuts through and over the terraces of sweet potatoes, up the ravines along the narrow ridges till we came to that part of the mountain covered with pines where we entered the paved causeway leading from the levels below by a series of covered steps; this path or road to the monastery is about 15 ft. wide and paved with granite; it was a great relief to us to get ^{on} to it as my companion was getting ^{very} fatigued. The scenery at this height was most imposing and, as we continued our road, continually changed and became more extended; our path was now shaded by the pines ~~and overhanging rocks~~ and on each ~~one~~ ^{was} rock some prayer or text engraved in Chinese characters; we soon arrived at the great Gateway entrance to the Establishment and here as all around the trees were of the ~~very~~ largest description, the ^{spruce} Pines were at least 3 to 4 ft. ⁱⁿ diameter and 150 to 200 ft. high.

Friday, 24th Nov 1924

Bar. Max. 50.44 Min. 30.44

Thermom. " 51 " 38

Pine clear morning, fresh, and cold; early breakfast, and having placed in a Gagan provender and 2 muskets, the latter necessary to ensure safety, we soon found ourselves floating down the river to the Koo-shan point 5 miles to visit the celebrated Buddhist monastery situated 1500 ft. up the side of the mountain; being nearly low water we were compelled to land at a small village at the extreme end of the point; our ascent which took half hour was by short cuts through and over the terraces of sweet potatoes, up the ravines along the narrow ridges till we came to that part of the mountain covered with pines where we entered the paved causeway leading from the level below by a series of covered steps; this path or road to the monastery is about 15 ft. wide and paved with granite; it was a great relief to us to get to it as my companion was getting fatigued. The scenery at this height was most imposing and as we continued our road, continually changed and became more extended; our path was now shaded by the pines and on each side some prayer or text engraved in Chinese characters; we soon arrived at the great gateway entrance to the Establishment and here as all around the trees were of the same largest description the pines were at least 3 to 4 ft. diameter and 150 to 200 ft. high.

We passed and met many of the Monks (Chinese) at labour on the terraces, some carrying, others planting vegetables. the shrubberies were beautifully kept and not a weed to be seen in the road; after entering the enclosure I fancied it to be the approach to ^{some} ~~a~~ Nobleman's Mansion in England; the road winding ~~round~~ some 200 yards, led us immediately in front of the first Great Temple built entirely in the Chinese style, in front of which is an incline ($2\frac{1}{2}$ yds. ^{wide}) paved with granite; the gigantic doors ^(wood?) ~~and~~ open and the imposing figure of Buddha burnished with gold 35 ft. high in sitting posture; the ^{image} ~~figure~~ of this illustrious sage, the originator of the ^{universal} Idolatry of Buddhism is represented with a smiling benign countenance and ^{(?) inordinately} ~~immensely~~ fat; as we entered 2 Priests received us with shaking of hands to conduct us through the Cloisters; on each side of this figure were 3 smaller Gods 6 ft. high; leaving this we entered a large paved court or Square, the centre of which is a large reservoir, the upper side formed by the Great Temple and sides by smaller ones ^{three} each containing 3 gods. We ascended the ^{Grand} ~~great~~ Temple by 30 steps; at the doors are 2 dragons suspended which are occasionally hammered on the back during service. On entering this temple we found it much larger than the previous one and by far the grandest I ^{ever saw} ~~have seen~~ in any part of China; immediately opposite the great doors are 3 great Gods from 20 to 30 ft. high, on each ^{of the group} side 3 smaller, 6 ft. high, and dividing these groups are 2 ~~which~~ Saints; opposite these groups are bronzes of incense and offerings;

We passed and met many of the monks (Chamans) at labour on the terraces, some carrying, others planting vegetables. The shrubbery were beautifully kept and not a weed to be seen in the road; after entering the enclosure I fancied it to be the approach to a ^{small} ~~monastery~~ ^{temple} in England; the road winding ~~some~~ some 200 yards, led us immediately in front of the Great Temple built entirely in the Chinese style, in front of which is an incline ^{with} paved with granite; the gigantic doors ~~open~~ open and the imposing figure of Buddha burnished with gold 35 ft. high in sitting posture; the ~~figure~~ ^{image} of this illustration sage, the originator of the idolatry of Buddhism is represented with a smiling benign countenance and ~~immense~~ ^{large} fat; as we entered 2 priests received us with shaking of hands to conduct us through the cloisters; on each side of this figure were 3 smaller gods 6 ft. high; leaving this we entered a large paved court or square, the centre of which is a large reservoir, the upper side formed by the Great Temple and sides by smaller ones each containing 3 gods. We ascended the ~~temple~~ ^{group} Temple by 30 steps; at the door are 2 dragons suspended which are occasionally hammered on the back during service. On entering this temple we found it much larger than the previous one and by far the grandest I ~~encountered~~ ^{have seen} in any part of China; immediately opposite the great doors are 3 Great Gods from 20 to 30 ft. high, on each side 3 smaller, 6 ft. high, and dividing these groups are 2 Saints; opposite these groups are processions of Japanese and other men;

Each side of the Temple is divided into 3 Recesses each containing 3 Gods or figures of Saints dressed as the Priests and sitting in chairs about 7 ft. high; all these images are ~~now~~ elaborately decorated and gilded, and on the floor were put about 300 (?cushions) for the Priests to kneel on. We found ^{some} ~~a~~ few monks at prayer who performed their duty not taking the slightest notice of us; opposite to ^{one} ~~one~~ group were 4 Monks each with an instrument of music, ^{tambourine, triangle & small?} ~~chanting~~ some fearfully discordant air; at another was one kneeling and muttering, ever and anon striking ^{huge} a drum or tom-tom while another struck a gong; at intervals all the while we could hear the beating of the dragon. At 12 o'clock a large Gong sounded for Chow-chow and we were conducted to the great Dining Hall; this is a ^{large} spacious apartment with tables sufficient for dining 6 or 700 ^{people} ~~persons~~ and we found only 25 to 50 Monks scattered at various tables; they were served with rice ^{etc.} but before eating they all repeated a prayer word for word after the Priest who holding in his hands a small Joss in whose hands were some boiled rice and he paraded this image about the apartment; a large Joss was placed in a pulpit at the end. From this we were shown the Kitchen similar to a large Sugar-boiling house containing ¹² ~~25~~ large Coppers all clean in which the food was cooked; thence to the ^{(?) Abbot's} ~~Principal's~~ Quarters who ^{conducted} ~~took~~ us to the chief apartment having its front entirely open, where we were offered Tea brought in covered cups in which they first put the tea, then filling it with boiling water, it

Each side of the temple is divided into 5 sections each containing 3 beds or figures of saints dressed as the priests and sitting in chairs about 7 ft. high; all these images are ~~made~~ ^{carved} of plaster decorated and gilded, and on the floor were put about 200 (cushions) for the priests to kneel on. We found a few monks at prayer who performed their duty not taking the slightest notice of us; opposite to ~~the~~ group were 4 monks each with an instrument of music, ^{playing} some fearful discordant air; at a rather was one kneeling and muttering, over and anon striking a drum or for some while another struck a gong; at intervals all the while we could hear the beating of the drum. At 12 o'clock a large gong sounded for Chow-chow and we were conducted to the great dining hall; this is a spacious apartment with tables sufficient for dining 6 or 700 ~~persons~~ ^{people} and we found only 25 to 30 monks scattered at various tables; they were served with rice but before eating they all repeated a prayer word for word after the priest who holding in his hands a small bowl in whose hands were some boiled rice and accompanied this image about the apartment; a large bowl was placed in a palpit at the end. From this we were shown the kitchen similar to a large sugar-boiling house containing 25 large copper kettles all clean in which the food was cooked; thence to the ~~bedrooms~~ ^{quarters} quarters who ~~said~~ ^{showed} us to the chief apartment having its front entirely open, where we were offered tea brought in covered cups in which they first put the tea, then filling it with boiling water, it

^{presented} was ~~offered~~ to you, the finest Tea I ever tasted. We here opened ^{prag-} our basket and took our meal; during the whole time the Chief Monks amused themselves by trying on our gloves and shoes and examining our shirts and clothes, talking and laughing heartily the whole time. My friend showed them his watch and its works which astonished them, and ^{with one of the muskets with shot from} ~~I shot a jay on~~ the top branch ^{as} of one ^{I knocked down a jay} of the pines; they were much pleased ^{at} ~~with~~ the effect but considered it wrong taking life; they were all particularly kind and ^{as a comshen(?)} attentive and on our giving them 2 dollars ^{them} they seemed hardly able to express their gratitude and on our leaving ^{them} took off their caps and gave us 3 attempted cheers which we returned. ^{They} ^{must be, I am told, good strong.}

We now took our way up the side of the mountain through the pines and after ascending 400 ft., came to the shoulder ^{of the same} where Sparks finding himself fatigued, declined proceeding further, so leaving him with the Chinamen to enjoy the extensive ^{around him} views; I started by myself unarmed and having only (12 ft. ^{my} bamboo) to assist me to gain the top of the peak 1000 ft. above me; after climbing some 500 ft., the path terminated ^{at} a round clump of ^{huts} ~~there~~ where are 2 or 3 men and a little cultivation and now without guide or path I undertook the last and steepest part of the ascent having in many ^{parts} ~~places~~ to place my foot against ~~al-~~ ~~most~~ perpendicular ~~rocks~~ and regularly shin up. On getting to ^{peak - a view of everything beneath me} the ^{top}, ~~the view below~~ ^{was} surpasses description; on one side ^{the} mouth of the river Min with its 2 passes, winding its ^{course} ~~way~~ up to the ^{behind} Pagoda Island with the many villages on its banks; ~~beyond~~ and far at sea, numerous islands which we (had) passed. I seemed to look down immediately ^{beneath me upon} ~~on~~ the decks of the ships miles from me.

 On the other side, the river continuing its course through the extensive plains of Foo-Chow, its course dividing and forming numerous Islands, Nan-tye ^{being} the largest; ^{behind} beyond the river winding thro' a ravine between the amphitheatre of mountains to plains ^{behind} beyond some 80 miles till lost in distance; from my elevated position I looked down ^{upon} ~~on~~ the walled City and its pagodas with a branch of the river running two thirds of ~~the way~~ round it, the extensive suburbs joining the Island connected by ^{the} Great Bridge the plain intersected by Canals and water courses and dotted by ^{hundreds of} ~~1000~~ villages and ^{immediately} beneath me even from the plain were peaks above peaks, ridges above ridges divided by deep gullies and ravines; 300 ^{cities and} villages can be counted from this peak; how densely populated is China; not a space of ground ^{beneath me was not} ~~below this~~ [^] ~~unculti-~~ vated where it was possible, and on each small patch a wretched dwelling, this in the mountains; the crowded plains and those ^{on the water} living in their sampans can well account for the tremendous number of 320 millions, the last census; and I fully believe ^{if it were possible to count them} ~~double that~~ ~~larger~~ number. ~~now~~. I had little time to enjoy this ^{grandeur} ~~grand view~~ for I knew Sparks would be anxious to return to ~~his~~ ^{our} boat; the descent I found more difficult than ascent but after an absence of ~~one~~ hour I return to him and we soon again got into the road ^{to} ~~for~~ the convent; following this we descended passing ^{by it} ~~6~~ ^{no less than} resting far at sea, numerous islands which we had passed. I seemed to look down immediately the decks of the ship with from me. On the other side, the river continuing its course through the extensive plains of Foo-Chow, the course dividing and forming numerous islands, Nan-tse, the largest; beyond the river winding thro' a ravine between the rugged mountains to plains beyond some 80 miles till lost in distance; from my elevated position I looked down the valley city and its pagodas with a branch of the river running two thirds of the way round it, the extensive suburbs joining the island connected by Great Bridge the plain intersected by canals and water courses and dotted by villages and beneath me even from the plain were peaks above peaks, ridges above ridges divided by deep gullies and ravines; 300 villages can be counted from this peak; how densely populated is China; not a space of ground before the mountain where it was possible and on each small patch a wretched dwelling, this in the mountains; the crowded plains and those living in their sampans can well account for the tremendous number of 380 millions, the last census; and I truly believe I had little time to enjoy this grand view for I knew Sparks would be anxious to return to his boat; the descent I found more difficult than ascent but after an absence of one hour I return to him and we soon again got into the road the convent; following this we descended passing a resting places, buildings containing josses; this led us to the bottom ^{side of the} of the mountain ^(facing the upper part of the river) and to a village at the end of a canal ^{being high water} where we found ^{our} sampan of which we were glad being heartily fatigued.

Returned to Capt. Crawford's where after dinner we bade adieu to our friends and returned to the ship at Pagoda Island and very soon turned in to enjoy refreshing sleep.

Saturday, 25th. Nov. 1854.

Bar. Max. 30.48. Min. 30.44.

Thermom. " 62. " 60.

Wind. N.E. Clear and fine.

At 10 a.m., up anchor and steamed down river passing "Sarcen" surveying vessel, at 11 a.m. I felt quite sorry at leaving such a beautiful country having all the advantages of Mountain ^{flat and} and Valley with abundance of Game peculiar to both. There is here a capital opening for a Doctor; they have Cholera in this part, the only ^{place} ~~part~~ of China where it exists. I am told I had made the best use of my time ^{there} and had seen everything worthy of note and that but few old residents had visited either monastery or peak. We all again enjoyed the scenery on the banks of the river; at 1.30., passed the outer Pass and discharged Pilot. 3.30 Discharged Sea-pilot. 4.30 p.m. passed Sea-Dog, 7.30 Ragged Point ^{bearing} ~~steering~~ West; feeling myself exceedingly stiff and tired from yesterday's exertions; heavy sea, passengers all sick. ^{a retire early} places, building containing houses; this led us to the bottom of the mountain and to a village at the end of a canal where we found a sampan of which we were glad being heartily fatigued. Returned to Capt. Crawford's where after dinner we bade adieu to our friends and returned to the ship at Pagoda Island and very soon turned in to enjoy refreshing sleep.

Saturday, 25th Nov. 1884.

Bar. Max. 30.48. Min. 30.44. Thermom. " 62. Wind. N.E. Clear and fine.

At 10 A.M. up anchor and steamed down river passing "Sarcen" surveying vessel, at 11 A.M. I felt quite sorry at leaving such a beautiful country having all the advantages of Mountain scenery with abundance of game peculiar to both. There is here a capital opening for a doctor; they have Cholera in this part, the only place of China where it exists. I am told I had made the best use of my time and had seen everything worthy of note and that but few old residents had visited either monastery or peak. We all again enjoyed the scenery on the banks of the river; at 1.30. passed the outer Pass and discharged Pilot. 4.30 pm. passed Sea-Dog, 7.30 Reached Point ~~West~~ West; feeling myself exceedingly stiff and tired from yesterday's exertions; heavy sea, passengers all sick.

Sunday, Nov. 26th. Nov. 1854.

Lat. 27.47. Long. Course & Distance N.E. 152 miles.

Prevail Wind. N.E. and fine weather.

Bar. Max. 30.42. Min. 30.38.

Thermom. " 64. " 60.

We are taking the ~~river~~ ^{inner} passage between the mainland and the numerous groups of Islands, through which we thread our course. I think it one of the most anxious times for a Commander ~~as~~ he must be on deck night and day. Passed Island of Nan-ki at daylight, at 11., passed North of Peshaw Island at entrance of Bullock ~~Harbour~~ Harbour, 8 p.m., Tarchow group, centre of East, the air ^{is} now becoming much colder and pleasant, requiring a great coat morning and evening and brisk walking; ^{at mid day} we are never out of sight of land and frequently passing among rugged and barren uninhabited Islands. Poor Mr Smith has become much worse from dysentery, an imprudent step his coming up here. It is expected we shall anchor under the lee of Gutzlaff Island to-morrow night which is the entrance of the River Yang-tze-kiang, up which we proceed some 40 miles to Woo-sang.

Monday, 27th. Nov. 1854.

Lat. 30.7. N. Long. 122.37. E. Course & Distance N. 27 E. 160 miles.

Prevail Wind. N.E. to breeze Moderate breeze, fair & fine.

Bar. max. 30.42. min. 30.36. Therm. max. 63. min. 61.

During the night passed through many passages among the groups of Islands, 9.30. ^{am} passed ^{Tong-ting} ~~Long~~. We are now off ^{the} Island of Chusan; at 11 passed ^{am} ~~Vider~~ ^{Vider}; Noon, passed ^{the} Fisherman's Islands;

Sunday, Nov. 28th, 1875.

Lat. 27.47. Long. 122.27 E. 152 miles.

Wind N.E. weather.

Bar. Max. 30.42. Min. 30.38.

Thermom. " 64. " 60.

We are taking the passage between the mainland and the numerous groups of islands, through which we thread our course. I think it one of the most anxious times for a commander as he must be on deck night and day. Passed island of Nan-ki at daylight, at 11, passed North of Pashaw Island at entrance of Bullock Harbor, 8 p.m., Tarchow group, centre of West, the air now becoming much colder and pleasant, refreshing a great cool morning and evening and brisk walking; we are never out of sight of land and frequently passing among rugged and barren uninhabited islands. Poor Mr. Smith has become much worse from dysentery, an imprudent step his coming up here. It is expected we shall anchor under the lee of Guttaf Island to-morrow night which is the entrance of the River Yang-tse-kiang, up which we proceed some 40 miles to Woo-sang.

Monday, 29th, Nov. 1875.

Lat. 30.7. N. Long. 122.27 E. 150 miles.

Wind N.E. Moderate breeze, clear sky.

Bar. Max. 30.42. Min. 30.38. Thermom. " 64. " 60.
During the night passed through many passages among the groups of islands, 9.30. We are now off island of Chusan; at 11 passed Vider; Noon, passed Fisherman's Islands;

^{rugged} ~~very~~ barren but picturesque and having ^{some} pretty landlocked bays; 3.30., passed between 2 small islands; 5 p.m., Gutzlaff in sight. 6.30., anchored. ^{in 9 fathoms} We are now at the mouth of ~~the~~ ^{this} celebrated river Yang-tze-kiang, on which stands ^{the city of} Nan-king, ^{miles up} which supplies all the flat countries from its origin Thibet and all the Canals, communicates with the Great Canals and Yellow River. The Yang-tze-kiang (or Son of the Sea) is only second to the Mississippi and Amazon, rises Kokonor and receives tributaries from 2 large lakes and many (mountain) streams and (is in length) 2700 miles; its turbid waters can, like ~~many~~ ^{all} large rivers, be seen ~~a great~~ ^{some hundred} ~~distance~~ ^{miles} from its mouth. How cold and damp is the atmosphere here.

Bar. max. 30.34, min. 30.32

Therm. " 64 ; " 60.

Personality, wind light, a cloudy weather.

Tuesday, 28th. Nov. 1854.

Yangtze-kiang

At 6 a.m., weighed anchor and began our course up the ~~river~~ ^{the} to Woo-sung, a town built on the right bank of the mouth of Woo-sung river which empties itself into the Yang-tze about 40 miles from its mouth on the left or South side. ^{here} The water is as thick as the Demerara river, and the banks are flat, resembling ~~it~~ ⁱⁿ every respect; ^{"making" the Demerara river} passing Bush Island on our right, ^{which is} nearly opposite Woo-sung, we entered the ^{Woo-sung} river and at 11.30 ^{am.} dropped anchor a little above ^{the} town and among ^{the} opium receiving ships; we passed at ^{the} entrance the ^{U.S.S.} "Powhatan", Man of War. The banks of the river are raised to prevent too great an overflow at high water and we could only see the tops of the houses ^{from the water}. Immediately went on barren but picturesque and having pretty landlocked bays; 3.30., passed between 2 small islands; 5 p.m., Goulet in sight 4.30., anchored. We are now at the mouth of the celebrated river Yang-tze-kiang, on which stands Nan-king, which supplies all the flat countries from its origin Tibet and all the Canals communicating with the Great Canals and Yellow River. The Yangtze-kiang (or Son of the Sea) is only second to the Mississippi and Amazon, class Kokono and receives tributaries from 2 large lakes and many (mountain) streams and is in length 2700 miles; its turbid waters can, like many large rivers, be seen from its mouth. How cold and damp is the atmosphere here.

 Tuesday, 28th Nov 1854.
 At 6 a.m., weighed anchor and began our course up the to Woo-sung, a town built on the right bank of the mouth of Woosung river which empties itself into the Yang-tze about 40 miles from its mouth on the left or South side. The water is as thick as the Danube river and the banks are flat, resembling in respect passing Bush Island on our right nearly opposite Woo-sung, we entered the river and at 11.30 dropped anchor a little above town and among opium receiving ships; we passed at entrance the "Powhatan", Men of War. The banks of the river are raised to prevent too great an overflow at high water and we could only see the tops of the houses. Immediately went on ^{the} shore on right side to visit the Town, and on getting on the elevated bank, saw nothing before me but a flat country, ^{all} in a state of cultivation, ^{chiefly} ~~principally~~ paddy and cotton, the latter 2 kinds, the common white and ^{some fields of} the yellow or peculiar ~~cotton~~, ^{colour} ~~in a few fields~~, this is well known for making the celebrated nan-keen; on arriving at the town found I had to cross a broad creek ^{by} paying ^{one} ~~of~~ cash for ~~the~~ ferry. This creek is crammed as usual ~~throughout~~ ^{all} China with ^{the} floating population. Of all places I have ever yet witnessed in China, Woosung is the most filthy, the streets narrower and the receptacles for dirt more numerous. Poverty prevails fearfully; at one corner of the Street facing the river is a heap of rubbish where lay 2 poor creatures and being fearfully cold thought they must indeed be ill but fancy my horror ^{after} ~~on~~ poking them with my stick to find they were stiff corpses. An intelligent Chinese, a comprador passing at the time, told me they would remain there till so putrid as to cause the near dwellers to bury them; the passers by were amused at my surprise. ^{surprised(?)} If was also ~~surprised~~ after getting ^{among} ~~through~~ the fields to find the coffins laid in the open air, some to the number of 20 on a little mound, others in the middle of paddy fields or cotton raised about a foot from the ground to prevent water getting to them during irrigation. I examined many of them some so old as to have scarcely any covering, the lid all decayed and exposing to view the heaps of bones. The banks of shore on right side to visit the town and on getting on the elevated bank, saw nothing before me but a flat country in a state of cultivation, ~~principally~~ paddy and cotton, the latter 2 kinds, the common white and the yellow or peculiar ~~sort~~, ~~a few fields~~ well known for making the celebrated non-keen; on arriving at the town found I had to cross a broad creek paying ~~a~~ cash for ~~the~~ ferry. This creek is crammed as usual through ~~China~~ with floating population. Of all places

I have ever yet witnessed in China, Wosung is the most filthy, the streets narrower and the receptacles for dirt more numerous Poverty prevails fearfully; at one corner of the Street facing the river is a heap of rubbish where lay 2 poor creatures and being fearfully cold thought they must indeed be ill but fancy my horror ~~in~~ poking them with my stick to find they were stiff corpses. An intelligent Chinese, a comrade passing at the time, told me they would remain there till so putrid as to cause the near dwellers to bury them; the passers by were amused at my surprise. I was also ~~amused~~ after getting ~~down~~ the fields to find the coffins laid in the open air, some to the number of 30 on a little mound, others in the middle of paddy fields or cotton raised about a foot from the ground to prevent water getting to them during irrigation. I examined many of them some so old as to have scarcely any covering, the lid all decayed and exposing to view the heaps of bones. The banks of the river are fortified in many parts and the embrasures ^{are} of earth, the strong batteries at the corners guarding the Yang-tze-kiang and Woosung rivers have still guns which were repaired after being destroyed by the English in 1842 and there are about 50 not repaired lying in a heap among the ruins of the barracks. The Boats are almost the same in shape as in the South but the Junks are different and have 4 or 5 masts and cotton not mat sails. Returning on board, find Capt. Anderson who kindly supplied ~~me~~ ^{us} with guns and dogs for the morrow's shooting giving us a guide at the same time to show us the birds. He is a perfect Irishman and not averse to hot whiskey and water which he continued to imbibe till 11 p.m., much to my misery as I required sleep before ^{being} ~~having~~ set out at 4 a.m. I saw him off, prepared prog, & retire(?).

Wednesday, 29th. Nov. 1854

Bar. Max. 30.30. Min. 30.18.

Thermom. " 60. " 50.

Winds - - N.N.E. Rainy, blowing hard.

My disappointment ^{was} great on waking at 4 a.m., to hear the rain descending in torrents; breakfast came and no change, noon and the same; having everything prepared we determined to set out for a few hours in spite of it; landed on the right side and at once took to beating all the standing cotton and having 2 good hours; we only bagged one hen Pheasant and one hare; the the river are fortified in many parts and the embrasures of earth, the strong batteries at the corners guarding the Yangtze-Kiang and Wosung rivers have still guns which were repaired after being destroyed by the English in 1842 and there are about 50 not repaired lying in a heap among the ruins of the barracks. The boats are almost the same in shape as in the South but the junks are different and have 4 or 5 masts and cotton not mat sails. Returning on board, find Capt. Anderson who kindly supplied ~~me~~ with guns and dogs for the morrow's shooting giving us a guide at the same time to show us the birds. He is a perfect Irishman and not averse to hot whiskey and water which he continued to imbibe till 11 p.m., much to my misery as I remained asleep before ~~he~~ ^{he} ~~was~~ out at 4 a.m. I saw him off, prepared to go, ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~he~~ ^{he} ~~was~~ ^{was} ~~out~~ ^{out} ~~at~~ ^{at} ~~4 a.m.~~ ^{4 a.m.} ~~I saw him off.~~ ^{I saw him off.}

Wednesday, 29th Nov 1854

Bar.	Max. 30.30.	Min. 30.18.
Thermom.	" 30.	" 30.18.
Winds	N.E.	Rainy, blowing hard.

My disappointment great on waking at 4 a.m., to hear the rain descending in torrents; breakfast came and no change, noon and the same; having everything prepared we determined to set out for a few hours in spite of it; landed on the right side and at once took to beating all the standing cotton and having 2 good hours; we only bagged one hen Pheasant and one hare; the former got up from a grave or large mound in a cotton field and the other from under a coffin where all the hares are found; the shooting is so good here that it is not uncommon to ~~find and~~ kill in one day 6 brace of Pheasants and 7 or 8 hares. I enjoyed the work as although rain the air was cold and bracing resembling the ^{Nov.} ~~north~~ of England; returned on board and did justice to a good dinner of ^{meat and} fat game, wild fowl, etc. Night becoming clearer and much colder. ^{cold, frosty weather.}

Bar. Max. 30.42 Min. 30.40.

Therm. Max. 55. Min. 45.

Prev. wind N.N.W. Dull & damp weather.

Thursday, 30th. Nov. 1854.

Dull and damp weather. Having discharged our cargo of opium and money, we got under weigh at 1 p.m., and steamed up the river Woo-sung 15 miles to the City of Shang-hai, passing heaps of Junks thrown out of employ by the civil war; passed the Imperialist squadron of War Junks just below the European shipping and anchor just at the turn of the river in the Chow-chow water ~~just~~ opposite the English Consul's. The river has all the same appearance, the bank barricaded to keep the ^{water} ~~river~~ within bounds and the country flat and uninteresting; the appearance of the English and Foreign settlements from the water is exceedingly pretty; the houses are large and each separated by walled gardens. ^{Matheson} Jardine ~~and~~ Co. is the largest of the Buildings and the Custom House built after the Joss house style first strike the eye. The Shipping ^{lay} ~~lies~~ a little further up, ^{river} ~~more~~ opposite former got up from a grave or large mound in a cotton field and the other from under a coffin where all the bones are found; the shooting is so good here that it is not uncommon to find one kill in one day a brace of pheasants and 7 or 8 hares. I enjoyed the work as although rain the air was cold and bracing reminding the ~~ways~~ of England; returned on horse and did justice to a good dinner of fat game, wild fowl, etc. Night becoming clearer and much colder.

Thursday, 30th Nov. 1854.

Bull and damp weather. Having discharged our cargo of opium and money, we got under weigh at 1 p.m., and steamed up the river Woo-sung 15 miles to the City of Shang-hai, passing heaps of junk thrown out of employ by the civil war; passed the Imperial squadron of War Junk just below the European ship-ying and anchor just at the turn of the river in the Chow-chow water ~~front~~ opposite the English Consulate. The river has all the same appearance, the bank paraded to keep the ~~water~~ with in bounds and the country flat and uninteresting; the appearance of the English and Foreign settlements from the water is exceedingly pretty; the houses are large and each separated by walled gardens. Jardine and Co. is the largest of the Buildings and the Custom House built after the 1853 house style first strike the eye. The Shipping ~~from~~ a little further up ~~water~~ opposite the Custom House; great many merchantmen and 3 French, 3 Americans and 2 English Men of War. Proceeded on shore with introductions but find no one able to give me a bed. finding Renaldi, the noted character in assisting the rebels, supplying them with food, ordnance, despatches, etc.,

Friday, Dec. 1st. 1854.

Bar. receded Max. 30.45. the barometer Min. 30.41. Shang-hai for the pur-

Thermom seeing " 42. terior, it is " 32. about a quarter of a

Prevailing
 Wind. - - - N.N.W. clear Fine, cold, frosty weather being occupied by After dressing myself early I went on deck and to my surprise

the Deck found it covered with hoar frost; a clear fresh bracing atmospherewhich so invigorated me that after partook I ~~partake~~ of a very hearty breakfast. Proceeded on shore and found Sparkes and Capt.

Jameson waiting for me. We called on different people and portion of land walked about the ~~ground~~ allowed by the Emperor for Foreigners.

The community of Shanghai is much larger than appears from the water, extending at least 1 to 1½ mile each way, exclusive of the race course; the houses are large and airy, 2 or 3 stories high, having a solid balcony to each, in fact it is a house within a or outer house.

~~house~~ case, all built of solid masonry; the rooms are cheerful and large and furnished completely after the English fashion;

fires are indispensable as the thermometer varies from 18 deg.

to 95 deg. Fahrenheit and for 6 months never above 60 deg.

There is difficulty in getting a solid foundation, being forced to drive piles owing to the swampy nature of the ~~ground~~ soil; but this the Custom House; great many merchants and 3 French, 3 Americans and 2 English men of War. Proceeded on shore with introductions but find no one able to give me a bed.

Friday, Dec. 1st. 1874.
Bar. 30.41. Min. 30.41. Max. 30.41.
Thermon 32.1. " 32.1. " 32.1.
Wind - - - W.W. Cal. fine, cold, frosty weather.
After dressing myself early went on deck and to my surprise found it covered with hoar frost; a clear frost bracing atmosphere which so invigorated me that I ^{at last} ~~was~~ of a very hearty breakfast. Proceeded on shore and found Sparkes and Capt.
Jamson waiting for me. We called on different people and walked about the ^{city of London} ~~ground~~ followed by the Emperor for Foreigners.
The community of Shanghai is much larger than appears from the water, extending at least 1 to 1 1/2 mile each way, exclusive of the race course; the houses are large and airy, 2 or 3 stories high, having a solid balcony to each, in fact it is a house within a house, all built of solid masonry; the rooms are cheerful and large and furnished completely after the English fashion.
Fires are indispensable as the thermometer varies from 18 deg.
to 25 deg. Fahrenheit and for 6 months never above 60 deg.
There is difficulty in getting a solid foundation, being forced to drive piles owing to the swampy nature of the ~~ground~~ ^{land}; but this does not cause so much sickness as is supposed, the changes being the chief [cause of sickness]; like Hong Kong and Canton remittent fever and dysentery prevail. After finding Renalds, the noted character in assisting the rebels, supplying them with food, ordnance, despatches and leading them forth to fight etc., we proceeded towards the besieged City of Shang-hai for the purpose of seeing its interior; it is situated about a quarter of a ³ mile ^{further} up the river from the Foreigners, the space ² being occupied by crowded suburbs. Owing to a disturbance between the Rebels and the French a watch is kept to prevent any of the rebels or those supplying the city with food to approach the Foreign ground. This City has ^{now} been in possession of the Rebels ^{for} 15 months and is continually having battles with the Imperialists; food is prohibited by them ^{Imperialists} and a strict ^{?surveillance?} [watch] is kept. ^{up} After passing through the filthy suburbs we came to a narrow canal and the Guard and soon found ourselves under the City walls. A sight presented itself here which soon dispelled the idea of the city soon falling for want of food; under its walls was a complete Bazaar of all articles of food and from the top the besieged lowering their baskets and ropes for the bags of rice etc.; some 500 must have been under its walls supplying them at the risk of their necks. Mr Renalds pointed out to us several heads of Imperialists taken by the enemy and executed, ^{some} sticking on long bamboos and ^{others} hurled into the ditch below. At the order

does not cause so much sickness as is supposed, the changes being the chief cause of sickness like Hong Kong and Canton. After finding Rematla, remittent fever and dysentery prevail. The noted character in assisting the rebels, supplying them with food, ordnance, despatches and leading them forth to fight etc., we proceeded towards the besieged City of Shanghai for the purpose of seeing its interior; it is situated about a quarter of a mile up the river from the foreigners, the space being occupied by crowded suburbs. Owing to a disturbance between the rebels and the French a watch is kept to prevent any of the rebels or those supplying the city with food to approach the foreign ground. This city has been in possession of the rebels for months and is continually having battles with the Imperialists; food is prohibited by them and a strict watch is kept. After passing through the filthy suburbs we came to a narrow canal and the Guard and soon found ourselves under the City walls. A night presented itself here which soon dispelled the idea of the city soon falling for want of food; under its walls was a complete barrier of all articles of food and from the top the besieged lowering their baskets and ropes for the bags of rice etc.; some 500 must have been under its walls supplying them at the risk of their necks. Mr. Rematla pointed out to us several heads of Imperialists taken by the enemy and executed, sticking on long bamboos and hurled into the ditch below. At the order of Mr. Renalds to some official on the walls, a ladder was lowered and we were soon on the ramparts; everyone of the rebels seemed to be well acquainted with the guide who chin-chinned them; ~~otherwise~~ without him we should not have been admitted, or if so, would not have been safe in the City as they are now exasperated against Foreigners. Renalds now paraded us round the city walls ^{upon the battlements} and pointed out ^{the different places} where the fighting was severe; we saw where the first mine was sprung and the fearful ~~damage~~ ^{breach} it produced, now all repaired, also where several mines were discovered and destroyed by water, burying upwards of 40 Imperialists; also where the second breach was made 50 ^{yards} ~~ft~~ wide through ^{which} the City walls ~~and~~ was nearly captured. All the houses within the City near these breaches were completely riddled with cannon shot as also many of the houses in the centre of the city. From the walls we had a good view of the different camps of the Imperialists, some not 200 yards off; many ^{of them} on seeing us ^{cut} ~~ran~~ away and hid themselves behind a round house. At one Battery the Rebels sadly wished Renalds to open fire on the enemy, but we were pressed for time. We walked through narrow streets ^{scarcely} ~~hardly~~ meeting a person, ^{and not a soldier} everything showed ruin; out of a population of 300,000 only 50,000 now are left; still they hold out and we saw them ^{casting} ~~throwing~~ ball and ^{guns} ~~canons~~ and making powder. We visited the former residence of the ~~were~~ now in ruins; also the ~~Guard~~ and compelled to walk ~~some~~ 2 miles round to get to a good tiffin.

rebel Chief L & Qu-sing. They all seem miserable and evidently given to the fearful habit of opium smoking. Mr. Renalds took us through many houses ^{now} occupied by the rebels and we there witnessed numbers in a state of insensibility from the drug. We then visited the fortifications facing the river and the remains of the junks which they sunk by firing into them which were sent by Emperor to quiet these forts but their system of warfare is very primitive; their guns or most of them are fixed to a certain range and I am sure that 200 British bluejackets would take it. Renalds showed us much property which belonged to him, ^{some} fine bells, gold-covered josses and brass cannon presented him by the chief for his having led them through the breach against the enemy and saving the city; he amused us very much by accounts of fights, and at his own house, showed us trophies from Mandarins he had slain. Renalds is a short thick-set man, dark full open countenance almost covered with black beard and ^{whiskers} ~~mous-~~ ~~taches~~, having so little regard for life or safety that although a reward is offered for his head by the Emperor, and the British Consul refuses to protect him, he still lives in a house ^{close to} ~~near~~ the race course ^{the} furthest from settlement. I saw many things, great curios which I wanted very much but bought of a rebel a Gong to be delivered at Renalds' to-morrow. After again scaling the walls on our return, we were stopped by the French Guard and compelled to walk ^{some} ~~home~~ 2 miles round to get to a good tiffin.

at 2 p.m.

firing, they drove the ~~men~~ Saturday, 2nd. Dec. 1854 again retired with Bar. ~~the wall~~ Max. 30.40.5, ~~wounded~~ Min. 30.36.4 to hand fighting.

Thermom: evening 43. ~~Man to~~ "on I 31: an introduction and in ^{Prevailing} Wind. ~~course~~ — N.W. the ~~ev~~ Fine clear weather. ~~on~~, found her home to be ~~Becke~~ Another fresh cold morning; on deck at 8 a.m., the thermometer was at 30 deg., 2 deg. below freezing point. ~~and~~ After breakfast on shore, and saw more of the comforts of the English, ~~home~~

^{some} having a billiard table in their establishments. ~~also~~ I consider this part far more pleasant than either Hong Kong or Canton for a permanency, for until lately a man ^{might} ~~could~~ go anywhere unmolested and the shooting here is the finest in China. Visited the only Shop ^{? silks?} ~~Street~~ where were magnificent ware^s ~~ware~~; went to the top of the Church and had a ^{good} ~~magnificent~~ view of the community and city with the river and race course and flat country behind;

not a hill ^{was} to be seen higher than a grave though at some distance there are ^{some} hills 200 ft. where Foreigners ^{visit} ~~reside~~ in the warm weather. Walked round the race course, a very good one but not without danger as the Imperialists were popping away all about us, now and then just catching ^a sight of them behind the graves.

All this part is now guarded by the Foreigners and the Grand ~~old~~ Stand is now turned into a Guard House for the English Marines.

Climbed again to the top of the Church to see an action; the ~~re-~~ rebels turned out to meet the Imperialists who generally give them notice that they are coming and after a great deal of ~~moving~~

Saturday, Dec. 18, 1854

Bar. Max. 30.40. Min. 30.30. Thermom. 43. Wind. W.W. Fine clear weather. Another fresh cold morning; on deck at 8 a.m., the thermometer was at 30 deg. 3 deg. below freezing point. After breakfast on shore and saw more of the comforts of the English, having a billiard table in their establishment. I consider this part far more pleasant than either Hong Kong or Canton for a permanent, for until lately a man ^{might} go anywhere unmolested and the shooting here is the finest in China. Visited the only shop ^{where} were magnificent ware ^{houses}; went to the top of the Church and had a magnificent view of the community and city with the river and race course and flat country behind; not a hill to be seen higher than a grave though at some distance there are hills 200 ft. where foreigners ^{live} in the warm weather. Walked round the race course, a very good one but not without danger as the Imperialists were hopping away all about us, now and then just catching sight of them behind the groves. All this part is now guarded by the foreigners and the Grand Stand is now turned into a Guard House for the English Garrison. Climbed again to the top of the Church to see an action; the rebels turned out to meet the Imperialists who generally give them notice that they are coming and after a great deal of firing, they drove the enemy further away and again retired with in the walls; killed 5, wounded 7, no hand to hand fighting.

~~Dine~~ ^{with} this evening ~~to~~ Mr. Man to whom I had an introduction and in the course of the evening in conversation, found her home to be Beckenham and on asking if she knew Mr. Hine, she at once took me for Bob Barton. I soon ~~/undeceived/~~ her and found her name to be Desborough, that she knew Bob well and that her brother and my brother were great chums. We had much chat about the Brahdrams and one of the daughters is now ^{at present} Mrs Smith, the Bishop's wife at Hong Kong. Mrs Man is not handsome but very pleasing. Mr. Man tells me money is easily made here in many ways and that opium is the best to enter into. Return on board; a bitter cold night, has been freezing, ^{all day} ice as thick as two thirds of an Inch. ~~for~~ 3 Shang-hai dollars at 6/8 and have game, 2 brace of

Bar. max 30.38 min 30.34

Therm. " 46 " 38

Prev. wind S by E Change & weather.

Sunday, Dec. 3rd. 1854

Morning cold, but milder than yesterday; find to-day great coat too much ^{for} ~~to~~ walk ^{ing} in. Go to Church; a very pretty one and a large congregation; music good, amateurs etc.; the sermon on the 10 Virgins and very good. Sacrament Sunday and sorry I did not feel sufficiently settled and sobered in mind to partake of it. I find the people of Shang-hai kind and hospitable but there is evidently a party feeling, so detrimental to real comfort. The Chinese here are finer men than in the South, having firing, they drove the enemy further away and again retired with in the walls; killed 5, wounded 7, no hand to hand fighting.

 This evening I had an introduction and in the course of the evening in conversation, found her home to be Beckenham and on asking if she knew Mr. Hall, she at once took me for Bob Barton. I soon ^{discovered} her and found her name to be Desborough, that she knew Bob well and that her brother and my brother were great chums. We had much chat about the Brad-rams and one of the daughters is now Mrs. Smith, the Bishop's wife at Hong Kong. Mrs. Man is not handsome but very pleasing.
 Mr. Man tells me money is easily made here in many ways and that option in the best to enter into. Return on board; a bitter cold night, has been freezing, ice as thick as two thirds of an inch.
 Sunday, Dec. 3rd. 1870
 Morning cold, but milder than yesterday; fine to-day. Great coat too much ^{for} walk in. Go to Church; a very pretty one with large congregation; music good, sermons etc.; the sermon on the 10 Virgins and very good. Sacrament Sunday and sorry I did not feel sufficiently settled and sobered in mind to partake of it. I find the people of Shang-hai kind and hospitable but there is evidently a party feeling, so detrimental to real comfort. The Chinese here are finer men than in the South, having florid complexions mixed however with their natural dark skins; the women also are larger but ~~the~~ their look I will not give ~~an~~ opinion. I dine with the Sillars and enjoy myself; ^I called on Dr. Kirk; found him a queer person. I fancy he snuffs or sleeps or drinks too much for he is prosy and stupid; has introduced me to another Dr. who ~~has~~ evidently takes ~~to~~ ^{too much} drink stronger than water. A Dr. Murry is here, having a good practice.

Monday, 4th. Dec. 1854

Bar. Max. 30.36. Min. 30.34.

Thermom. " 49 " 45.

^{Prev.} Wind. NNW. Fine clear weather.

Fine morning, ^{but} not frosty; go on shore and buy a fat sheep, killed, for 3 Shang-hai dollars at ^{per dollar} 6/8 and have game, 2 brace of pheasants, 2 ducks and 1 hare given me; bid adieu to friends and return on board. Find beside passengers many of their friends who take a trip down to Woo-sung for pleasure. Our decks are covered with game, presents to people in Macao, Canton and Hong Kong, some hundreds of heads of Woodcock, Pheasant, Hares, Duck, Geese, etc., beside some dozen dressed sheep hanging between decks. Our Passengers are Mr. and Mrs Boabloune (French Minister) Count Kelskee (interpreter), 3 First class Chinese, Mr. and Mrs Langley, ^{Smiths} returning find it too cold, 1 German, T. Jones etc., not crowded and every hope to make ~~a~~ a quick florid complexions mixed however with their natural dark skins; the women also are larger but ~~as~~ their look I will not give ~~an~~ opinion. I dine with the Siffars and enjoy myself; called on Dr. Kirk; found him a queer person. I fancy he sniffs or sneezes or drinks too much for he is gross and stupid; has introduced me to another Dr. who ~~has~~ evidently takes ~~the~~ drink stronger than water. A Dr. Murry is here, having a good practice.

Monday, 4th Dec. 1854

Bar. Max. 30.38 Min. 30.34 Therm. 49.5 Wind. NW. Fine clear weather. Fine morning, not frosty; go on shore and buy a fat sheep, killed, for 3 Shang-hai dollars at 8/8 and have game, 2 brace of pheasants, 2 ducks and I have given me; did advise to friends and return on board. Find besides passengers many of their friends who take a trip down to Woo-sung for pleasure. Our decks are covered with game, presents to people in Macao, Canton and Hong Kong, some hundreds of heads of Woodcock, Pheasant, Hares, Duck, Geese, etc., beside some frozen dressed sheep hanging between decks. Our Passengers are Mr. and Mrs. Bonhomme (French Mini-ster) Count Kelske (interpreter), 3 first class Chinese, Mr. and Mrs. Langley, returning finding it too cold, 1 German, T. Jones etc., not crowded and every hope to make a quick passage. Dr. lives at Woo-sung, he is with us, his wife and children; lives in a chop up the creek, a most miserable sickly spot. Many strangers sit down to dinner. Arrive at Woo-sung 4.5 p.m.

Wednesday, 6th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 27.40. N. Long. 121.15. E. Distance 214 miles.

Tuesday, 5th. Dec. 1854.

At noon we are passing Gutzlaff Island river mouth.

Bar. Max. 30.45. Min. 30.39.

Thermom. " 52. " 44.

W. Wind. N.N.W. Fine clear weather.

At 6.40., after dismissing Strangers we up anchor and in 10 minutes again enter ^Q Yang-tze-kiang; we pass immense flights of geese flying towards Bush Island. 11 a.m., sighted Gutzlaff 3. 30., passed through the Chusan group; ^{60 are among fisherman's group.} 8.15., passed Tong-Ting. Once more getting clear of the river but not the colour of the water which is as thick as ^{soup for} ~~sand~~. For 70 miles; have fair wind and weather and smooth water. Our 3 first class Chinese attend dinner; the first time I ever saw it; they are most awkward with the knife and fork, no doubt preferring the chopsticks. they partake of every dish within their reach, dipping their forks into them and taking small quantities as they do with the sticks in Chinese fashion; they are all high Mandarins, ^{one} most religious, sing the Buddhist prayer incessantly; they take ^{this} wine with you but evidently prefer tea which they take at ^{every} ~~their~~ meal;

passage. Dr. lives at Woo-sung, he is with us, his wife and children; lives in a chop up the creek, a most miserable stinky spot. Many strangers sit down to dinner. Arrive at 4.5 p.m.

Thursday, 8th Dec 1924.
At noon we are passing Gushai Island river mouth.
Bar. Max. 30.45. Min. 30.39.
Thermom. " 32. " 44.
Wind. N.W. Fine clear weather.

At 6.40, after dismissing strangers we up anchor and in 10 minutes again enter Yang-tai-kang; we pass immense flights of geese flying towards Bush Island. In a.m., sighted Gushai Island. 5.30, passed through the Chinese group; 6.15, passed Tong-tung. Once more getting clear of the river but not the colour of the water which is as thick as ~~some~~ 70 miles; have fair wind and weather and smooth water. Our 3 first class Chinese attend dinner; the first time I ever saw it; they are most awkward with the knife and fork, no doubt preferring the chopsticks they partake of every dish within their reach, dipping their forks into them and taking small quantities as they do with the sticks in Chinese fashion; they are all high Mandarins, most religious, sing the Buddhist prayer incessantly; they take wine with you but evidently prefer tea which they take at ~~break~~ meal.

the dress of one with the blue button is ~~most~~ magnificent; he has a beautiful beard, a perfect picture of the English Chinese ^{paintings}.

Wind: ~~HR.~~ Fine fresh weather.

Wednesday, 6th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 27.40.N. Long. 121.18E. ^{course & distance S.E.} 214 miles.

^{Prevailing} Winds: --- N.N.E. Fine clear weather. ^{Bearing & distance Peking S. 28 W. 98 miles.}

Bar. Max. 30.43. Min. 30.36.

Thermom. " 60. " 50.

Fine clear morning but great change in atmosphere; the game begins to show highness; our table is well supplied with it and good Shang-hai mutton. We are passing outside the ^{numerous} ~~various~~ groups of islands we passed between going up; see many fishing junks far at sea, a sure sign of fine weather.

Brought up her mail; fearful weather up China sea. Crimea not taken; Sebastopol to be

Thursday, 7th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 24.44N. Long. ^{119.25 E} ~~121.18E~~. ^{course & distance S. 20 W. 208 miles} ~~214 miles.~~

^{Prevailing} Winds: --- N. & NE. Light airs, clear weather. ^{Bearing & distance Chapel Island S.W. Summit N.E.}

Bar. max. 30.36 min 30.24

Therm " 80 " 62.

At 5 a.m., sighted Roundabout Island; 8.10., sighted Octsea 5 p.m., sighted Chapel Island; everything ^{is} monotonous as usual.

The Game begins to smell high as it hangs from spars and davits in the sun. How great is the change of climate, 3 days since we were in freezing latitudes, here in tropical, (80 deg.)

Wind: --- HR.

Fine clear weather.

Before breakfast cut up sheep and distributed my presents

the dress of one with the blue button is ~~more~~ magnificent; he has a beautiful beard, a perfect picture of the English Chinese.

Wednesday, Dec. 19th.

Lat. 27.40 N. Long. 121.18 E. Course 114 miles. Wind - - - N.E. Fine clear weather.

Bar. Max. 30.45 Min. 30.35 Thermom. " 30. " 30.

Fine clear morning but great change in atmosphere; the game begins to show highness; our table is well supplied with it and good Shang-hai mutton. We are passing outside the ~~harbour~~ groups of islands we passed between Kook up; see many fishing junks far at sea, a sure sign of fine weather.

Thursday, Dec. 20th.

Lat. 24.44 N. Long. 119.22 E. Course 114 miles. Wind - - - W. & NW. Light air, clear weather.

At 8 a.m., sighted Roundabout Island; 8.10., sighted Octree 5 p.m., sighted Chapel Island; everything monotonous as usual. The game begins to smell high as it hangs from spars and davits in the sun. How great is the change of climate, 3 days since we were in freezing latitudes, here in tropical (80 deg.)

Friday, 8th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 22.38N.

Long. 115.48 E.

Course & Distance 53 by 10

236 miles.

Winds

NE.

Fine fresh weather.

Baromet 30.18

Therm 75

NE. monsoon;

Having strong winds and doing well; pass many square rigged vessels and through vast quantities of fishing junks in pairs, each having the end of a ~~crawl~~ ^{trawl} and sailing before the wind.

Amuse myself by ^{at} lotting out my game and mutton for presents and directing them as $\frac{1}{2}$ Mutton ^{to} brace of Pheasants, to one, 1 Hare, 2 Ducks, ^{to} another, etc.

All are anxious to hear the news from home and every one expects the ^{Crimea taken} ~~token~~. I am also anxious to ^{know} hear if any money has come for me in dollars etc. How uncertain it is that the "Cadiz" will be the next ship. At 9.45 ^{p.m. arrive; and} ~~the~~ news is that ~~the~~ "Chusan" had to put back to Singapore. "Ganges" brought up her mail; fearful weather up China sea. ^{The} Crimea not taken; Sebastopol to be attacked shortly. No letters or money for me, unsatisfactory. Great bustle, persons taking game not belonging to them; have to keep watch over my property, nice state of morality in her Ladyship's domains.

Saturday, 9th. Dec. 1854.

[Hongkong]

Bar.

Max. 30.18.

Min. 30.02.

Thermom.

" 75.

" 70.

Winds

NE.

Fine clear weather.

Before breakfast cut up sheep and distributed my presents

Friday, 21st Dec. 1884.
 Lat. 22.30N. Long. 118.48 E. 8.45 miles.
 Wind: NE. Fine fresh weather.
 Strong breeze and doing well; pass many square rigged vessels and through vast quantities of fishing junk in pairs, each having the end of a reef and sailing before the wind.
 Amuse myself by jostling out my game and mutton for presents and directing them as 1/2 mutton brace of pheasants, to one, I have, 2 trucks, to another, etc. All are anxious to hear the news from home and every one expects the news. I am also anxious to hear if any money has come for me in dollars etc. How uncertain it is that the "Cadia" will be the next ship. At 9.45 news is that the "Chusan" had to put back to Singapore. "Ganges" brought up her mail; fearful weather up China sea. Crimes not taken; Sebastopol to be attacked shortly. No letters or money for me, unattractive. Great bustle, persons taking game not belonging to them; have to keep watch over my property, nice state of morality in her ladyship's domains.
 Saturday, 22nd Dec. 1884.
 Lat. 23.18N. Long. 119.02 E. 10.02 miles.
 Wind: NE. Fine clear weather.
 Before breakfast out up sheep and distributed my presents of "mutton and game".; called on friends. Dine with Dr. Chaldicott. [10.30 p.m. --- On board and gun fire from Fort William, feel sure it is "Cadiz". 2 ^{a.} p.m., Engineer Peddigrue informs me to my great delight that such is the ship bringing no mails and with order to receive the 11th Mail for home.

Bar. max. 30.14 min 30.09
Therm " 72 " 68

Prevailing Wind E.N.E. Fine clear weather.

Sunday, 10th. Dec. 1854.

Went on board to breakfast and found my old ^{ship-mates} friends delighted to see me once more among them; sorry to hear Dr. Farquhar not appreciated. Find Roberts the same as ever and hear all his stories &c. "Cadiz" has beaten all ships on this line. Church with Roberts; not feeling well, see Dr. Harland. Walk with Capt. Morven and Roberts, and at 5 o'clock, dine on board "Lady M.", meeting ^{my} old friend Church, Surgeon of "Ganges".

Monday, 11th. Dec. 1854.

Bar. Max. 30.18.

Min. 30.08.

Thermom. " 73.

" 67.

Prevailing Winds --- W.E.

Fine clear weather.

Mails delayed one day. Obtain from Mr. Walker as pay for 3 Months and 1 day, 182 \pounds . Borrow from Capt. Roberts 150 \pounds and realize only ^{my} two Bills of 1080 ^{Rupies} and 450 \pounds . Receive from Roberts of Maillardet 50 \pounds and from Macfarlane ¹² \pounds lent him and I pay into the hands of a Jew, Mr. A. Berenhart 830 \pounds to invest in a shipment] of "mutton and game"; called on friends. Spoke with Dr. Chas. Wood. 10.30 p.m. - On board and gun fire from Fort William. 11.30 p.m. - Engineer Beddington informed me that sure it is "Cadia". To my great delight that such is the ship bringing no mail and with order to receive the first mail for home.

Sunday, 10th Dec. 1894.
Went on board to breakfast and found my old friends delighted to see me once more amongst them; sorry to hear Dr. Vargander not appreciated. Find Roberts the same as ever and hear all his stories. "Cadia" has beaten all ships on this line. Churn with Roberts; not feeling well, see Dr. Harland. Walk with Capt. Morven and Roberts, and at 5 o'clock, dine on board "Lady M.", meeting old friend Churn, Surgeon of "Ganges".

Monday, 11th Dec. 1894.
Bar. 30.18. Min. 30.08. Thermom. 75. Winds - W. Fine clear weather.
Mails delayed one day. Obtain from Mr. Walker as pay for 3 months and 1 day, 182 s. Borrow from Capt. Roberts 150s and realize only two bills of 1080 and 450s. Receive from Roberts of Halliday 50s and from Mortimer 12 lent him and I pay into the hands of a Jew, Mr. A. Rosenhart 500s to invest in a shipment.

of Sugar for Shang-hai. I trust it may ^{be} ~~prove~~ successful.

Dine with him, [&] retire.

Bar. Max. 30.21 Min. 30.09

Therm. " 72 " 68

Prev. Wind, NNE. All cloudy weather.

Tuesday, 12th: Dec. 1854.

On shore; receive despatches [&] and bid adieu to my friends; before starting see Friend Duas who tells me I am unwise in putting confidence in Beren^hart and that I may never see my money again; how unfortunate! "Chusan" not yet in, sailing from Singapore 3 days before we did and all my new linen on board. 2 p.m., received mails and passengers, viz., Mr. and Mrs Langley (Bank) Mr McLane (American Minister), Mr. Pierce (Yankee) Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Millar and steam from Hong Kong. ^(silk?)

Wednesday, 13th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 19.04N.

Long. 111.55E.

Course & Distance 234 miles.

Bearing & Distance North Shoal N. 12. W. 123 miles.

Prev. Wind. N. & NNE. Heavy breeze, cloudy.

Bar.

Max. 30.23.

Min. 30.19.

Thermom.

" 74

" 70.

Running into warm weather, air mild; passengers agreeable. The U.S. Minister is not different from his countrymen, the same queer abrupt mode of address. I confess I am sorry I was so foolish as to trust Beren^hart not knowing his private character.

Lat. 19.04N.

Long. 106.33E.

236 miles.

Prev. Wind.

N. by N.

Fresh breeze & clear.

Bar.

Max. 30.0.

Min. 29.95.

Thermom.

" 85.

" 78.

of sugar for Shanghai. I trust it may be successful.
 Fine with him, I believe.

Tuesday, 13th Dec. 1874

On shore; receive despatches and bid adieu to my friends; before starting see friend Jones who tells me I am unwise in putting confidence in Heronhart and that I may never see my money again; how unfortunate! "Chuan" not yet in, sailing from Singapore 3 days before we did and all my new linen on board.
 2 P.M., received cable and passengers, viz., Mr. and Mrs. Langley (Bank), Mr. McLane (American Minister), Mr. Pierce (Yankee)
 Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Miller and steam from Hong Kong.

Wednesday, 14th Dec. 1874

Lat. 19. 04 N. Long. 111. 55 E. some light breeze 2-4 miles.
 Wind. N. & N.W. Heavy breeze, cloudy.
 Bar. Max. 30.23. Min. 30.19.
 Thermom. " 74 " 70.
 Running into warm weather, air mild; passengers agreeable.
 The U.S. Minister is not different from his countrymen, the same queer abrupt mode of address. I confess I am sorry I was so foolish as to trust Heronhart not knowing his private character.

got up this morning Thursday, 14th. Dec. 1854. up curies, and

Lat. 15.2.N. Long. 109.24E. ^{Course & distance S. 32 W.} 281 miles.
^{Bearing & distance Cape Varella S. 128 miles.}

Prev. Winds - NE. Moderate breeze & hazy.

Bar max. 30.20 min. 30.07
 Therm. 75 71.

Made a good run to-day; temperature milder. Noon, are passing the Black Rocks (Coch. China) very quickly. Why should Friend Berenhart get on in business if such a blackguard. I still hope he is honest with me, if not, why £200 are gone from my ~~gaze~~ which will not ruin me but teach me to be more cautious in future. to Mrs Roberts and sleep.

Friday, Dec. 15th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 9.51N. Long. 109.26E. ^{Course & distance S. 31 W.} 310 miles.
^{Bearing & distance Pulo Var S. 31 W. 520 miles.}

Prev. Winds. N. & NNE. Strong and hazy. ^{monsoon} Singapore.

Bar. Max. 30.05. Min. 29.98.

Thermom. " 77. " 73.

Took some physic and feeling quwer; find shipmates all pulling together ^{the} first time for 12 months. All seemed to speak poorly of Dr. Farquhar so they are glad to get me back; are there worse men than myself in the world? Ha! ha! Passed ^{W.} 1/2 mile to Pulo Sapata. Crimen of our brave Countrymen; oh! how

I long to be amongst them, administering to their sick and wounded.

Saturday, 16th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 5.46N. Long. 106.33E. ^{Course & distance S. 31 W.} 286 miles.
^{Bearing & distance Pulo Var S. 31 W. 231 miles.}

Prev. Wind. NE. by N. Fresh breeze & clear.

Bar. Max. 30.0. Min. 29.95.

Thermom. " 80. " 78.

Thursday, 14th Dec 1924.
Lat. 15.2 N. Long. 109.24 E.
Wind - NE. Moderate breeze & hazy.
Made a good run to-day; temperature milder. Noon, we passing the Black Rocks (Cook's China) very quickly. Why should I still Berthart get on in business if such a blackguard. I still hope he is honest with me, if not, why 2500 are gone from my pocket which will not ruin me but teach me to be more cautious in future.

Friday, 15th Dec 1924.
Lat. 9.5 N. Long. 109.28 E.
Wind - N. & NE. Strong and hazy.
Bar. Max. 30.08. Min. 29.98.
Thermom. " 77. " 75.
Took some physic and feeling queer; find shipmates all putting together first time for 12 months. All seemed to speak poorly of Dr. Berthart so they are glad to get me back; are there worse men than myself in the world? That's what I passed time in Pulo Sapata.

Saturday, 16th Dec 1924.
Lat. 5.4 N. Long. 108.35 E.
Wind - NE. by N. Fresh breeze & clear.
Bar. Max. 30.0. Min. 29.95.
Thermom. " 80. " 78.

Get up this morning feeling better. Pack up curios, ~~and~~ write letters; [&] get ready for Singapore.

Sunday, 17th. Dec. 1854. close beneath me

Lat. 1.45.N. Long. 104.35E. ^{Course & distance S. 27. W. 269 miles.}
^{Bury's distance Pedro Branca S. 27. W. 28 miles.}

Wind: N.N.E. Fresh breeze, fair.

Bar. ^{max. 30.0} ^{min. 29.92}
Therm. ⁸⁴ ^{80.}

Get in at 5 p.m., 5 Days 2½ Hours a good run. ^{Hear of the} News of Battle of Alma confirmed; beginning of Bombardment of Sebastopol. Go on shore to Mrs Roberts and sleep.

Monday, 18th. Dec. 1854. Fast: what a blessing it is to avoid that miserable New Harbour at night; sickly,

At New Harbour, Singapore. in, which ship

Bar. Max. 30.04. Min. 29.97. good news generally

Thermom. "Recd 85. on board Pass" 81.5, Dutch, Spaniards and Provisionally wind

Sultry weather. buoy and proceed to sea or straits.

Passed a delightful night in the comfortable bed at Mrs
Roberts'. 5.30., rise to take a long walk round Government Hill and return to breakfast. What glorious news brought in by "Formosa" from the Crimea of our brave Countrymen; oh! how
I long to be amongst them, administering to their sick and wounded.
I feel I would pay to be there; surely I am spending my time here almost neglecting my calling. Drive at 11.30 to New Harbour; find all well and instantly proceed to ^{the} Flagstaff Hill,

Get up this morning feeling better; back up curtains and write letters; get ready for Singapore.

Sunday, 17th Dec. 1894.

Lat. 1.45 N. Long. 104.55 E. Fresh breeze, fair. Wind: W.N.W. Get in at 5 p.m., 5 p.m. a good run. News of battle of Alma confirmed; beginning of bombardment of Sebastopol. On shore to Mrs Roberts and sleep.

Monday, 18th Dec. 1894.

At New Harbour, Singapore.

Bar. Max. 30.04. Min. 29.97. Thermom. 85. All, sultry weather. Passed a delightful night in the comfortable bed at Mrs Roberts. 5.30, rise to take a long walk round Government Hill and return to breakfast. What glorious news brought by "Hermes" from the Crimea of our brave Countrymen; oh! how I long to be amongst them, administering to their sick and wounded. I feel I would pay to be there; surely I am spending my time here almost neglecting my calling. Arrive at 11.30 to New Harbour; find all well and instantly proceed to Raffles Hill.

where I command an extensive view of the undulating country, the town of Singapore and the country bungalows surrounded by their nutmeg plantations, the old harbour and the shipping while the background is formed by the Island of ^{and} close beneath me the picturesque plantation of young cocoa nuts dotted here and there by the blackened trunks of the immense jungle trees which the fire had not consumed ^{while} clearing for the plantation. I took a careful sketch of this imposing view.

Tuesday, 19th Dec. 1854.

Bar. max. 30.08 min 29.88

Therm. " 85 " 82.

Personality: wind light. Fine weather.

(Lying at Singapore) New Harbour.

Rose early and again ^{another} walk before breakfast; what a blessing it is to avoid that miserable New Harbour at night; sickly, swampy, [&] swarming with mosquitoes. No "Erin" in, which ship ought to have arrived on or about the 16th; good news generally comes late. Receive on board Passengers, Dutch, Spaniards and Portuguese. 2 a.m., Slip buoy and proceed to sea or straits.

Wednesday, 20th. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 5.15N.

Long. 100.47.E. ^{Course & Distance} 234 miles.

^{Being a direct Pulo Jarra N. 37 W. 57 miles.}

Prev. Wind S — N.W.

Hot, sultry, dull weather

Bar. max. 29.98 min 29.80

Therm. " 85 " 81.

A cool night but yesterday thermometer at 91 Fahr. Only fancy the change of 63 deg. in 14 days for on the 2nd I was at Shang-hai and thermometer at 31. I confess I feel the change which surpasses those I ^{became} have been accustomed to between West where I command an extensive view of the undulating country, the town of Singapore and the country beyond surrounded by their numerous plantations, the old harbor and the shipping while the background is formed by the island of and close beneath me the picturesque plantation of young coconuts dotted here and there by the blackened trunks of the immense jungle trees which the fire had not consumed ^{while} clearing for the plantation. I took a careful sketch of this imposing view.

Tuesday, 18th Dec. 1854.

(Lying at Singapore) Wednesday

Rose early and again ^{and} walk before breakfast; what a pleasant it is to avoid that miserable New Harbour at night; at last, away, ^{swarming with mosquitoes.} No "Brin" in, which ship ought to have arrived on or about the 14th; good news generally comes late. Receive on board Passengers, Dutch, Spaniards and Portuguese. 2 a.m. Ship buoy and proceed to sea or straits.

Wednesday, 20th Dec. 1854.

Lat. 5.15N. Long. 100.47E. 234 miles. ^{Hot, sultry, dull weather.} Wind S.W. A cool night but yesterday thermometer at 51 Fahr. Only fancy the change of 63 deg. in 14 days for on the 2nd I was at Shang-hai and thermometer at 51. I confess I feel the change which surpasses those I have been accustomed to between West Indies and Southampton.

Saturday, 23rd Dec. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.96.

Min. 29.85.

Thursday, 21st Dec. 1854. Penang.

Bar. Max. 29.95.

Min. 29.85

Thermom. " 88.

" 82.

Wind. WNW. Calm, fine.

Stopped during ^{the} night and early took ⁱⁿ Pilot at mouth of South channel. Passengers as usual rush on shore without breakfast to the waterfalls, all of which I ~~have~~ ^{having} seen before, ~~so~~ remain on board. Take a sketch of this beautiful Island with ^{the} Town and Fort of Cornwallis. No letters for anyone. News Sebastopol besieged, Russians repulsed. 12.10., under weigh for Point de Galle. No pistols.

Friday, 22nd Dec. 1854.

Lat. 6.8.N.

Long. 95.52E.

Distance N. 82. W. 272 miles.

Wind: - NE.

Moderate breeze, fair.

It was on this very day last December that we arrived at Point de Galle in this ship, where we stopped for coal to take us to Bombay. I therefore ^{calculate that I} have been ~~just~~ 12 months in this climate; ^I am becoming sick of it and must try to get on some other line.

Wind. N.W.

Dull, hazy weather.

At 9.45., arrive at Galle. Find the "Horn" from Australia, also ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~the~~ ^{the} Receive a call from Staff Surgeon

India and Southampton.

Thursday, 21st Dec. 1877. P.m.

Bar. Max. 29.95. Min. 29.85.
Thermom. " " 88.
Wind. WNW. Calm, fine.

Stopped during night and early took Pilot at mouth of South channel. Passengers as usual fresh on shore without breakfast to the waterfalls, all of which I have seen before, as remain on board. Take a sketch of this beautiful island with Town and Port of Cornwallis. No letters for anyone. News Sebastopol besieged, Russians repulsed. 12.10., under weigh for Point de Galle. No pistols.

Friday, 22nd Dec. 1877.

Lat. 6.8 N. Long. 95.32E. 372 miles.
Moderate breeze, fair.

It was on this very day last remember that we arrived at Point de Galle in this ship, where we stopped for coal to take us to Bombay. I therefore have been here 12 months in this climate, am becoming sick of it and must try to get on some other line.

Lat. 6° 23' N. Long. 91° 45' E. course a distance N. 84° W. 254 miles.
bearing a distance Point de Galle S. 88° W. 686 miles.

Saturday, 23rd Dec. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.96. Min. 29.85.

Thermom. " 84. " 82.

Prev. Wind. S.W. Dull, ^{to squally} cloudy.

Hot sultry weather. Dyspepsia increased, dull, depressed in spirits.

Wind North. Light air, fine.

Sunday, Dec. 24th. 1854.

Lat. 6° 28' N. Long. 87° 34' E. course a distance N. 89° W. 247 miles.

bearing a distance Point de Galle S. 87° W. 444 miles.

Prev. Wind R. & SE. Fine clear weather.

Bar. Max. 29.97 Min. 29.87.
Thermom. " 85 " 83.

Christmas Eve; a finer day, have Prayers; evidently still dull, no spirits, disgusted.

Lat. 6° 23' N. Long. 95° 14' E. course a distance S. 81° E. 182 miles.

Monday, 25th. Dec. 1854.

Another year has passed over. ^{my} since last Christmas ~~when I~~ was ~~at~~ Mount Dally[?], Malabar Coast; this is Bay of Bengal. When I reflect on the past year how many reasons (I have) to be thankful to God; how little deserving of them.

Thursday, 28th. Dec. 1854.

Tuesday, 26th. Dec. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.90. Min. 29.80.

Thermom. " 84. " 82.

Prev. Wind. N.W. Dull, hazy weather.

At 9.45., arrive at Galle. Find the "Norna" from Australia, also ~~S.S.C.~~ ^{G.S.C.} ? Receive a call from Staff Surgeon

Cowhan
Dr. Cowhan. Evening, take a walk and amuse myself; no news of importance. Capt. Roberts suspended without pay.

Friday, 29th. Dec. 1854.
Lat. 8.17N. Long. 76.30E.
Wednesday, 27th. Dec. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.94. Min. 29.90.

Thermom. " 83. " 79.

Prev. Winds North. Light airs ^{and} fine.

Rise early; pull across harbour with Capt. ^{and walk} ~~Valley~~ to top of hill ^{near to} ~~and~~ school; ^{and} Take a sketch of harbour and Galle peninsula, after which walk three miles to S. East and have ^{an} adventures, first with a large ^{wild} Black ³ and ² White ¹ Monkey in the trees and after with a large Water Iguana which we killed, measuring 6 ft. long, take fore paws as trophy; this animal ^{represents} ~~is of~~ the Lizard tribe of the largest kind, not having ^{serrated} ~~scaly~~ back or crested head, head resembling small flat head of snake. 1 p.m., return call of Dr. Cowhan who advises me to get appointed to the army if I have any interest; remember Sir W. Pym and think of writing.

[P.S.] 10 a.m. "Bombay" from Calcutta.

Sunday 31st. Dec. 1854.
Thursday, 28th. Dec. 1854.

Noon. Slip and put to sea. Leave without ^a letter ^{which was} sent on board "Bombay" and returned, reporting me still in China. Get papers from Bob. Our Passengers are Pritchard, Veterinary Surgeon, Dr. and Mrs Brown (Bombay Army). Crossing the Gulf of Manar, ^{last} get a nasty sea and strong wind; I am feeling like all

Dr. Gorman. Evening, take a walk and amuse myself; no news of importance. Capt. Roberts suspended without pay.

Wednesday, 27th Dec. 1854.

Bar. Max. 29.94. Min. 29.40. Thermom. " 53. " 72. Wind N. Light air. Fine. Rise early; pull across harbour with Capt. Roberts to top of hill and school; take a sketch of harbour and Galie peninsula; after which walk three miles to S. East and have adventures; first with a large Black and White Monkey in the trees and after with a large Water Igama which we killed, measuring 6 ft. long, take fore paws as trophy; this animal ~~is~~ the Island tribe of the largest kind, not having ~~any~~ back or crested head, head resembling small flat head of snake. 1 p.m., return call of Dr. Gorman who advises me to get appointed to the army if I have any interest; remember Sir W. Pym and think of writing.

Thursday, 28th Dec. 1854.

Noon. Slip and put to sea. Leave without letter sent on board "Hornet" and returned, reporting me still in China. Get papers from Bob. Our Passengers are Pritchard, Veterinary Surgeon, Dr. and Mrs Brown (Bombay Army). Crossing the Gulf of Mannar, get a nasty sea and strong wind; I am feeling like all the rest, quite seasick. Prev. Winds.

Bar. max. 29.95 min. 29.85
 Therm. " 83 " 79 fine fresh clear weather.

all the past, of innumerable blessings received and sins committed, undeserving miseries, yet am I spared

Friday, 29th. Dec. 1854.
 Lat. 8.17N. Long. 76.56E.

Bar. Max. 29.94. Min. 29.84.
 Thermom. " 84. " 80.

Prev. Wind. Rise early and weather moderating.

Cape Comorin in sight and as we get under the lee of it, get into ~~enter~~ fair water. 10 a.m., are off Adra-patam point and pass Codiapattin?
 the Crocodile rock where this time last year we were nearly running on to [it]; ~~lost~~, what great reasons we have to be thankful.

Lat. 11.57N. Long. 74.45E.
 Prevailing Wind N.E. Fine fresh breeze.
 Bar. max. 29.96. min. 29.90
 Therm. " 83 " 80. Saturday, 30th. Dec. 1854.

We are running along the shore of Malabar passing the old forts and castles of the First Settlers, The Portuguese Nights and mornings cool and delightful, water smooth. How strange I should feel so seedy, so unwell!

"Singapore" with steam up for sailing to Hong Kong at 9 a.m.

Anchored 8 a.m. Sunday, 31st. Dec. 1854.

Lat. 16.01N. Long. 73.11.E.

Prev. Wind N.E. Fine clear weather, fresh weather.

Bar. Max. 29.98. Min. 29.90.

Thermom. " 83. " 79.

And once again another year is at an end; we have prayers

Crimes; great battle between the Allies 14,000 and Russians

the rest, quite similar. Bar. 29.94
Therm. 84
Wind N.E.
Sea calm

Friday, 28th Dec. 1854

Lat. 8.17N.
Long. 73.11E.
Bar. 29.94
Therm. 84
Wind N.E.
Sea calm

Rise early and weather moderating.
 Cape Comorin in sight and as we got under the lee of it, the Coromandel coast was visible. In a.m., are off Agra-patam point and pass the Coromandel rock where this time last year we were nearly what great reasons we have to be thankful.

Saturday, 29th Dec. 1854

We are running along the shore of Malabar passing the Forts and castles of the first settlers. The Portuguese, Nijalis and mornings cool and delightful, water smooth. How strange I should feel so unwell!

Sunday, 31st Dec. 1854

Lat. 10.01N.
Long. 73.11E.
Bar. 29.94
Therm. 83
Wind N.E.
Sea calm

And once again another year is at an end; we have prayers

below and I retire for the day to my cabin and then I think of all the past, of innumerable blessings received and sins committed, undeserving miserable sinner that I am; yet am I spared to amend my life for the time to come; heartily thankful ^{to almighty God} am I [^] and earnestly do I pray for support and aid from Him to lead a godly life, subduing all evil passions etc.

MONDAY, JAN. 1st, 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.94. Min. 29.90.

Thermom. " 80. " 72.

Prev. Wind. West N.W. Cool fresh breeze.

The morning of another Year has dawned and a happy New Year may it be to us all. We are off the mouth of the Bombay Harbour with the tops of the Ghauts Mountains blue in the distance, with the land mark ^{the} Funnel Hill beautifully defined. The "Queen", ^{H.C.} 5th ~~P.O.~~, is steaming in before us with the mails ^{from} ~~for~~ Aden. We pass her, and, without pilot, steam up to Mazagon where we find "Singapore" with steam up for sailing to Hong Kong at 9 a.m. Anchored 8 a.m. "Malta" here, to sail to Aden on 3rd with mails. Find it true that ^{Capt.} Roberts is suspended and that Aldham is to have ^{the} ship. Proceed to the fort to see Mr. Ritchie but find him too much engaged. ^{and} Sillar's partner a nice person. Opium low, 8.70; intend taking 20 Chests. Bombay is now delightful, ^{with} cool ^{nights} ~~evenings~~ and mornings. Glorious news from Crimea; ^a great battle between the Allies 14,000 and Russians below and I retire for the day to my cabin and then I think of all the past, of innumerable blessings received and mine committed, undervaluing miserable sinners that I am; yet am I spared to amend my life for the time to come; heartily thankful am I and earnestly do I pray for support and aid from Him to lead a godly life, subduing all evil passions etc.

MONDAY, JAN. 18th, 1886.

Bar. 29.94. Min. 29.90. Thermom. 80. " 72. Cool fresh breeze. The morning of another Year has dawned and a happy New Year may it be to us all. We are off the mouth of the Noyah Narrow with the tops of the Ghats Mountains blue in the distance, the land mark Tunnel Hill beautifully defined. The "Queen" is steaming in before us with the masts of Aden. We pass her, and without pilot, steam up to Hasegon where we find "Singapore" with steam up for sailing to Hong Kong at 9 a.m. Anchored 8 a.m. "Malta" here, to sail to Aden on 3rd with masts. Find it true that Roberts is suspended and that Aldham is to have ship. Proceed to the fort to see Mr. Ritchie but find him too much engaged. Siller's partner a nice person. Optum low, 8.70; intend taking 20 chests. Bombay is now delightful, cool mornings and mornings. Glorious news from Crimea; great battle between the Allies 14,000 and Russians

60,000; the latter totally routed leaving 15000 killed and wounded; ^{Allies—} English ⁽²⁹⁰⁰⁾ ~~(2000)~~, French 1400. fixing gear for boat; try her and find many faults; go up the stream for pistol practice. Finish some drawings and try Tuesday, Jan. 2nd. 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.99. Min. 29.96.

Thermom. " 80. Friday, 5th. 76.

Pres. Wind. N.W. 30.0 Fine fresh breeze ^{and} clear.

Am determined to write to Sir ^{William} Pym for an appointment in the army and sit down, giving him a detailed account of my services ⁱⁿ West Indies and ^{those of the} ~~also in~~ East. Write also to Robert, requesting him to see Sir W. to ascertain if it is possible to succeed. Write to Sandilands, begging him not to send money; to Walker not to send pistols, etc. Post all these and feel lighter in mind. ever comes in 6 hours later and brings mails but as usual not a line for me. Take my evening stroll and dine at

Bar. Max. 30.03. Min. 29.97
Therm. 79

Wednesday, 3rd. 1855.

"Malta" leaves for Aden with mails and we are soon to ^{have} ~~have~~ in ^{the} "Erin". Oh! may she bring the fall of Sebastopol and good news of our brave countrymen! Go to Office, see Mr. Ritchie, find him very busy, cannot answer ^{the} questions regarding cabins.
Inform him of my state of health, ^{and} also of ^a ~~the~~ probability of my leaving for home on my return from next voyage. Come on board and try new boat as far as light ship. (?)

60,000; the latter totally routed leaving 1800 killed and wounded; English 2400, French 1400.

Tuesday, Jan. 22. 1857.

Bar. Max. 22.52. Min. 22.52.
Thermom. " 80. " 76.
Wind. N.W. Fine fresh breeze clear.
Am determined to write to Sir W. Pym for an appointment in the army and sit down, giving him a detailed account of my services in West India and elsewhere. Write also to Robert, requesting him to see Sir W. to ascertain if it is possible to succeed. Write to Sandilands, begging him not to send money; to Walker not to send pistols, etc. Post all these and feel lighter in mind.

Wednesday, 31st. 1857.

"Malta" leaves for Aden with mails and we are soon to in "Rita". Oh! may she bring the fall of Sebastopol and good news of our brave countrymen! Go to Office, see Mr. Ritchie, find him very busy, cannot answer questions regarding cabins. Inform him of my state of health, also of the probability of my leaving for home on my return from next voyage. Come on board and try new post as far as lightship.

Bar. Max. 30.04 Min. 30.00
Therm. " 78 " 72

Monday, 8th Jan. 1855.
Thursday, 4th Jan. 1855.

Remain on board all day fixing gear for boat; try her and find many faults; go up the stream for pistol practice. Finish some drawings and try to make myself happy. Call on Capt. Rogers and Goodall, find both out. Borrow gun.

make arrangements for a trip to Panwell, shooting for to-morrow

Friday, 5th Jan. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.06 Min. 30.02.

Thermom. " 78. " 71.

Get away from ship at 9.30 in "Achilles" boat; have a comfortable evening and light wind; we soon get to the mouth of the river in 2nd Cutter; visit Mahomedan Tomb, 7 miles from Mazagon. Pass River, passing Butcher's Island and that of Elephanta on

Bar. Max. 30.06 Min. 30.00
Therm. " 80 " 76.

Saturday, 6th Jan. 1855.

Nothing transpires, save "Erin" comes in with passengers. ^{Forose} the heat of the sun; enjoy ^{after} sun; ^{only} shot down the river and get on board ship at 10.30 p.m., ^{sail} tired and sleepy. as usual not a line for me. Take my evening ~~stroll~~ and dine at 7 o'clock because McFarlane and friends, Aldham and friends have a party. I leave them early as the morrow is Sunday and I hope to take the Sacrament.

Bar. Max. 30.08 Min. 30.01
Therm. " 75 " 71

Sunday, 7th Jan. 1855.

To Church, find no communion; return after service to ship, and spend a quiet day.

low (the partner of Sillar and Co.); he drives me to Malabar Hill where I dine and stay the night; we have a pleasant party of 4 and Lawrence amuses us by singing, accompanying himself on the piano which he plays well and sings splendidly.

Bar. 30.00
Therm. 72
Time 72

Thursday, 4th Jan. 1934

Remain on board all day fixing gear for boat; try her and find many faults; go up the stream for pistol practice. Finish some drawings and try to make myself happy.

Friday, 5th Jan. 1934

Bar. 30.00
Therm. 78
Time 71

Nothing transpires to-day generally. I cruise about bar-boat in 2nd Cutler; visit Mahomedan Tomb, 7 miles from Manggon.

Saturday, 6th Jan. 1934

Bar. 30.00
Therm. 80
Time 70

Nothing transpires, save "Erin" comes in with passengers. The "Erin" however comes in 8 hours later and brings mail but as usual not a line for me. Take my evening stroll and dine at 7 o'clock because McFarlane and friends, Albin and friends have a party. I leave them early as the morrow is Sunday and I hope to take the Sacrament.

Sunday, 7th Jan. 1934

Bar. 30.00
Therm. 72
Time 72

To Church, find no communion; return after service to ship, spend quiet day.

Monday, 8th Jan. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.07 Min. 30.03.

Thermom. " 74. " 70.

How charming the weather, so cool and pleasant; sleep on the billiard table ^{getting} ~~finishing~~ ^{finished} some drawings, "Point de Galle".
Spend a quiet day ~~finishing~~ ^{getting} some drawings, "Point de Galle".
Call on Capt. Rogers and Goodall, find both out. Borrow gun, likeness and also his other friends; he is now all in a bustle making arrangements for a trip to Panwell, shooting for to-morrow moving but asks me to come and stay with him which I intend doing.

Bar. max. 30.09 min. 30.01
Therm. " 74 " 69.

Tuesday, 9th Jan. 1855.

Get away from ship at 9.30 in "Achilles" boat; have a comfortable awning and light wind; we soon get to the mouth of the Panwell River, passing Butcher's Island and that of Elephanta on our right; get some capital shooting, Golden Plover, Snipe, Duck; arrive at Panwell at 3 ^{p.m.} and like fools cruise about this filthy district in the heat of the sun; enjoy our ^{dinner} ~~run~~; shoot down the river and get on board ship at 10.30 p.m., tired and sleepy.

Wednesday, 10th Jan. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.05.

Thermom. " 73. " 68.

Go on shore with Roberts, see his nag, a good one. Drove to Byculah Church, take a sitting. Thence to Port to see Mr. Ritchie ^{the Co.} tells me he cannot allow me to go to Goa (strange the use of a Bunda Boat. Make up a party for the Goa trip, to start on 15th. ^{Monday} also that there is no room on ship for my opium (stranger still); feel disgusted and almost commit myself. See Lawrence who tells me he has sold cigars; return to ship, sail where I dine and stay the night; we have a pleasant party of 4 and Lawrence amuses us by singing, accompanying himself on the piano which he plays well; and sings splendidly.

Monday, 8th Jan 1917

Min. 30.03.

Max. 30.07

Bar.

" 70.

"

Thermom.

Spent a quiet day finishing some drawings, "Point de Galie".

Call on Capt. Rogers and Goodall, find both out. Borrow gun.

make arrangements for a trip to Panwell, shooting for to-morrow

Tuesday, 9th Jan 1917

Get away from ship at 9.30 in "Achilles" boat; have a comfortable swing and light wind; we soon get to the mouth of the Rommel River, passing Butcher's Island and that of Kiephants on our right; get some capital shooting, Golden Plover, Snipe, Duck; arrive at Panwell at 3 and like fools cruise about this filthy district in the heat of the sun; enjoy our gun; shoot down the river and get on board ship at 10.30 p.m., tired and sleepy.

Wednesday, 10th Jan 1917

Min. 30.08.

Max. 30.10.

Bar.

" 68.

"

Thermom.

Take telegram to Fort. See Mr. Ritchie and can only get the use of a Honda Boat. Make up a party for the Gos trip to start on 15th. See Lawrence whom I find to be a very nice fellow (the partner of Siller and Co.); he drives me to Malabar Hill where I dine and stay the night; we have a pleasant party of 4 and Lawrence amuses us by singing, accompanying himself on the piano which he plays well; and sings splendidly.

Bar. Max. 30.12. Min. 30.07
Therm. " 75 " 66.

Thursday, 11th. Jan. 1855

How charming ^{is} the weather, so cool and pleasant; sleep on the billiard table, a jolly big bed. Lawrence amuses himself by taking photographs and has a good collection; he takes my likeness and also his other friends; he is now all in a bustle moving but asks me to come and stay with him which I intend doing as soon as the ship goes into dock. Write ^{to} Mr. Ritchie for shipping order for opium and return to ship, Marzagon.

Bar. Max. 30.06 Min. 30.01
Therm. " 78 " 72

Friday, 12th. Jan. 1855.

Another ~~quiet~~ ^{quiet} day on board; see ^{Bunda} Boat and get everything in readiness for starting on Monday; take my evening cruise up the harbour.

Saturday, 13th. Jan. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.06.

Min. 29.96.

Thermom. " 78.

" 70.

Go on shore with ^{Capt.} Roberts, see his nag, a good one. Drove to Bycullah Church, ^{and} take a sitting. ^{Drive} Thence to Fort to see Mr. Ritchie who tells me he cannot allow me to go to Goa (strange conduct) and also that there is no room ⁱⁿ ship for my opium (stranger still); feel disgusted and almost commit myself. See Lawrence who tells me he has sold cigars; return to Ship, sail round Butcher's Island.

Bar. 30.00. 30.00. 30.00.
Therm. 72. 72. 72.

Thursday, 11th Jan. 1872

How charming the weather, so cool and pleasant; sleep on the billiard table, a jolly big bed. Lawrence amuses himself by taking photographs and has a good collection; he takes my likeness and also his other friends; he is now all in a bustle moving but asks me to come and stay with him which I intend doing as soon as the ship goes into dock. Write Mr. Ritchie for shipping order for opium and return to ship, Manager.

Bar. 30.00. 30.00. 30.00.
Therm. 72. 72. 72.

Friday, 12th Jan. 1872

Another busy day on board; see Boat and get everything in readiness for starting on Monday; take my evening cruise up the harbour.

Saturday, 13th Jan. 1872

Bar. 30.00. 30.00. 30.00.
Therm. 72. 72. 72.

Go on shore with Roberts, see his nag, a good one. Drive to Synchian Church, take a sitting. Thence to Fort to see Ritchie who tells me he cannot allow me to go to Goa (strange conduct) and also that there is no room on ship for my opium (stranger still); feel disgusted and almost commit myself. See Lawrence who tells me he has sold cigars; return to ship, sail round Butcher's Island.

Bar. max. 30.07 min. 30.05.
Therm. .. 73 .. 62

Sunday, 14th. Jan. 1855.

Rise with a tranquil mind and go to Church; there I receive the Sacrament, so refreshing; am happier and spend the remainder of the day in retirement.

Thursday, 15th. Jan. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.15. Min. 30.05.

Thermom. " 72. " 64.

Wind. N.W. Fine clear weather.

A quiet day; drawing, writing letters for mail (17th) and arranging little matters neglected.

Bar. max. 30.09 min. 30.05.
Therm. .. 74 .. 70

Tuesday, 16th. Jan. 1855.

Go to the Fort and make calls; try to arrange ^{going} shooting for to-morrow but fail. Accompany Lawrence to Malabar Hill; dine and sleep there; accept invitation to stay with him and accordingly proceed to ship, now in dock, for clothes. ^{Arriving there} ~~Among them~~ find Capt. Roberts, waiting with Bunda boat to start ~~everything~~ ^{morning} on to ~~Palmer~~ ^{Jaunar}; there to meet the boat to-morrow ~~evening~~ by railway and thence to proceed to Gorrabunda to stay for a few days, being only 8 miles from Bassein on the mainland where is good shooting. Make all arrangements and proceed to fort, thence to Malabar Hill where I take up my quarters with Lawrence; a most delightful spot facing the sea and having the sea breeze always up the

Sunday, 12th Jan. 1892

Rise with a tranquil mind and go to Church; there I receive the Sacrament, so refreshing; am happier and spend the remainder of the day in retirement.

Monday, 13th Jan. 1892

Max. 30.05.

Min. 30.15.

Bar.

" 64.

" 72.

Thermom.

Fine clear weather.

W. Wind.

A quiet day; drawing, writing letters for mail (17th) and arranging little matters neglected.

Tuesday, 14th Jan. 1892

Go to the Fort and make calls; try to arrange shooting for to-morrow but fail. Accompany Lawrence to Malabar Hill; dine and sleep there; accept invitation to stay with him and accordingly proceed to ship, now in dock, for clothes. Among them find Capt. Roberts, waiting with Bunda boat to start everything on to-morrow; there to meet the boat to-morrow ~~morning~~ by railway and thence to proceed to Gorrumbda to stay for a few days being only 8 miles from Bassin on the mainland where is good shooting. Make all arrangements and proceed to Fort, thence to Malabar Hill where I take up my quarters with Lawrence; a most delightful spot facing the sea and having the sea breeze always up the picturesque valley at the top of which is ^{the} ~~his~~ house. at the Bunde at once took possession of the Bungalow and made everything snug.

 afterwards climbed (Wednesday, no entry.) and amused ourselves

Bar. max. 30.10 - min 30.7.
 Therm. " 80 " 79 fine Thursday, 18th. Jan. 1853 buildings and watching

Rise before daybreak and proceed to Mr. Smith's bungalow where Roberts is staying and we ~~start~~ ^{proceed} after breaking our fast ~~for~~ ^t Bycullah Station and arrive there for 7 o'clock train; how crowded with natives. We await the train and soon getting under weigh leave Bombay Island for that of Salsette and in an hour arrive at ^{Tannah} ~~Tamah~~, after passing ^{many} ~~several~~ small stations; this Town is stationed on the water's edge or rather the Castle is;
 and here the river or water forming the Island ^{of Salsette} is ^{so} ~~so~~ narrow that at low water you may walk across; here no bridges are built for the railway to ^{pass} ~~cross~~ to mainland. This town once Portuguese, is very straggling, with an old castle or fort guarding ^{the pass of} the water.
 we found our boat and at once proceeded on ^{that} ~~the~~ ^{of the water} part leading to Bassein and towards the other mouth from the sea; the scenery after getting between the hills is very pretty, every promontory having a small ^{tower} ~~temple~~ to protect ^{the old Maharrattas.} ~~it~~ against ~~Pirates~~. After winding between these hills for some hours, we came to a long reach bounded at entrance by ^{the} ~~a~~ ^{perfectly} neck of high land, rocky and wooded where peeps out ^{and} ~~a~~ ^{commanding} the height, an old Portuguese Monastery now in ruins and, at the foot or water's edge, the village of, we continued our passage without much fatigue till the sun got up.

 Go

pictureque valley at the top of which is ~~the~~ house.

(Wednesday, no entry.)

Thursday, 18th Jan. 1937

Jan. max. 50.4 - min. 30.7
Thurs. " 80 " 71

Rise before daybreak and proceed to Mr. Smith's bungalow where Roberts is staying and we ~~wait~~ after breakfast our last ~~to~~ Bynolia Station and arrive there for 7 o'clock train; how crowded with natives. We wait the train and soon getting under weigh leave Bombay Island for that of Salsette and in an hour arrive at ~~Tamoli~~ ^{Tamoli} after passing several small stations; this town is stationed on the water's edge or rather the Castle is and here the river or water forming the island is ~~so~~ ^{very} narrow that at low water you may walk across; here no bridges are built for the railway to ~~cross~~ ^{pass} to mainland. This town once Portuguese is very straggling, with an old castle or fort guarding the water. we found our boat and at once proceeded on ~~the~~ ^{the} part leading to Bassain and towards the other mouth from the sea; the scenery after getting between the hills is very pretty, every promontory having a small ~~town~~ ^{town} to protect ~~it~~ ^{it} against ~~the~~ ^{the} wind. After winding between these hills for some hours, we came to a long reach bounded at entrance by neck of high land, rocks and wooded where peeps out ~~a~~ ^{the} command ~~the~~ ^{the} height, an old Portuguese Monastery now in ruins and at the foot of water's edge, the village of Gorrabunda and the 2 Bungalows. At 3.30., arrived at the Bunda;

^{and} at once took possession of the Bungalow and made everything snug;
 afterwards climbed to the top of the hill and amused ourselves
~~by~~ examining the fine old ruins of the Monastery and ^{buildings} watching ^{till} the sun down, when we returned to our home for the night, much tired. ~~to~~ ^{Smith} Intend rising at 2 a.m.... Friend [^] is large and gross, weighs 14 stone, no sportsman and is easily fatigued; good natured, always amusing, and fond of good living and grog. Our stock of drink is 4 bottles of Brandy, 2 Whiskey, 4 Port, 12 Sherry, 12 Beer, 12 Soda Water and crammed with good cheer.

Bar. max. 30.12 mi. 30.07
 Therm. " 81 " 70.

Friday, 19th Jan. 1895. ^{poor} Passed a ~~miserable~~ night owing to the ^{continual} ~~cough~~ of a miserable Parsee occupying the Porch below; every preparation being made the night before, we started away in our boat at 3 a.m., and having tide in our favour, ^{we} soon reach Bas-sein, 5 a.m., and it being moonlight, we landed and soon groped our way to the massive gateway and entered the city of ruins;
 how beautiful, as by the light of the moon we could trace the outlines of former magnificence now crumbling and uprooted by the tropical jungle bush. A 4 hours' walk brought us to the ^{gateless archway} other ~~gateways~~ and we now began a tiring walk along roads 6 in.
 deep in black sand and dust, passing through village after village, but the morning being cool and having a cheerful guide, we continued our passage without much fatigue till the sun got up.

ground and in half an hour on one paddy field, I killed 3 couple Gerrabunda and the 2 Burghers. At 5.30 p.m. arrived at the Bundas at once took possession of the Burghers and made everything snug afterwards climbed to the top of the hill and amused ourselves examining the fine old ruins of the Monastery and watching the sun down, when we returned to our home for the night, much tired. 2 friends rising at 2 a.m. found the large and gross weight of stone, no sportman and is easily fatigued; good nature red, always amusing, and fond of good living and good food. Our stock of drink is 4 bottles of Brandy, 2 Whiskey, 4 Port, 12

 Cherry, 12 Beer, 12 Soda Water and creamed with good cheese.
 Passed a miserable night owing to the
 of a miserable Parasce occupying the Porch below; every preparation being made the night before, we started away in our boat at 3 a.m., and having tide in our favor, soon reached Bas-sein, 5 a.m., and it being moonlight, we landed and soon explored our way to the massive gateway and entered the city of ruins;
 how beautiful, as by the light of the moon we could trace the outlines of former magnificence now crumbling and uprooted by the tropical jungle bush. A 4 hours' walk brought us to the other ~~part~~ and we now began a stiring walk along roads in deep in black sand and dust, passing through village after village, but the morning being cool and having a cheerful guide, we continued our passage without much fatigue till the sun got up.

We soon after, (7 a.m.) reached our shooting ground, large swamps some 10 ft. deep in water and covered with rush and weed called tanks but found to our great mortification we were too late; the heat now became extreme and we found no excitement. 2 Ducks soon dropped into the tank; and, seeing a frail canoe, I got into it and after half an hour got ^{within} ~~one in~~ shot, bringing ~~it~~ ^{one} down winged; another half hour elapsed before getting him and I shall not forget the fatigue. We now saw the best thing was to return and not being able to obtain a conveyance, not even a B. Cart, we had in the heat of the sun, ^{over} a dusty shadeless road of 7 miles, to get to our boat. Fearfully we suffered and I will never again attempt such madness, perfect suicide; none could eat on getting to the boat, our ^{black} ~~servant~~ done completely. After 2 hours' sleep on our return to Gorra landing, we managed to pick a little and I amused myself by sketching the place. 7.30, aristocratic hour, we dined, having bought for 2 Rupees a fat sheep, the hind quarters, ^{and} wild duck, curry and rice and pancakes ^{afterwards} and a bottle of Port now made us feel ourselves again.

Saturday, Jan. 20th. 1855.

Bar.	Max. 30.08.	Min. 30.06.
Thermom.	" 80.	" 70.

Rose at 6 a.m., refreshed but finding my Capt. and Dungan Smith still sleeping, ^f took my gun quietly and walked to a good snipe ground and in half an hour ~~on~~ one paddy field, I killed 3 couple of Snipe and 1 couple of Plover. 8 a.m., returned to Bungalow, ^{and find} ~~found my~~ companions just thinking of dressing and complaining of stiffness; ^A fearfully hot day; completed my drawing of the place; in the evening shot over the ^{ground} ~~place~~ again in company with Roberts, bagging 3 couple of Snipe. Waited dinner for Oriental Bank men, who promised to join us, till 8 p.m, when we put down some more ^{of} ~~game~~ ^{and} ~~Port wine~~ ^{ac.} ~~not forget~~ ^{and} ~~to give the~~ Parsee a sleeping dose to quiet his cough, & Turned in early; fully intend^{ing} starting for Bombay early ^{on} following morning; none of us have yet got over our scorching walk of Friday.

Bar. max. 30.10 min. 30.06
Therm. " 79 " 75

Sunday, 21st. Jan. 1853:

Having arranged all things, we left this pretty spot with a fair wind ^{Tannah} and tide for ^{wind[ing]} ~~Tamah~~, passing again along the ^{at Tannah} ~~passage~~ between the hills and arrived ^{at Tannah} at 4 p.m., when we at once proceeded to Bungalow, despatching our boat for Bombay. At Bungalow we heard that mail was in, ^{with} but little news from seat of war; Sebastopol not fallen; returned to Bombay in a crowded carriage with Parsees, natives, etc. Got to Malabar to Mr. Smith's ^[Hall] ~~for~~ dinner and found our disappointing friends in high glee at our poor sport, disgusting! 10.30., walked to Lawrence's, found poor friend ^{it} ~~McWraith~~, down with fever; tired; ^I ~~turn~~ in to sleep soundly.

Thursday, 25th. Jan. 1853.

Enjoying myself very much at this place; my friend Lawrence of Snipe and a couple of Plover. 8 a.m., returned to Bungalow, and found my companions just thinking of dressing and complaining of stiffness; A fearfully hot day; completed my drawing of the place; in the evening shot over the ~~river~~ again in company with Roberts, bagging 3 couple of Snipe. Waited dinner for Oriental Bank men, who promised to join us, till 8 p.m., when we put down some more game, sheep and Port wine; not forgetting to give the Parson a sleeping dose to quiet his cough, & turned in early. Fully intended starting for Bombay early following morning; none of us have yet got over our scorching walk of Friday.

Sunday, 21st Jan. 1875

Having arranged all things, we left the pretty spot with a fair wind and tide for Tamsh, passing again along the passage between the hills and arrived at 4 p.m., when we at once proceeded to Bungalow, despatching our boat for Bombay. At Bungalow we heard that mail was in, but little news from seat of war; Robert-opol not fallen; returned to Bombay in a crowded carriage with Parson, natives, etc. Got to Malabar to Mr. Smith's ear dinner and found our disappointing friends in high glee at our poor sport, disgusting! 10.30., walked to Lawrence's, found poor friend McWhirther, down with fever; tired, turn in to sleep sound-is very kind and we take Monday, 22nd. Jan. 1855. every evening Bar. ^{dim} Max. 30.08. an. engage Min. 30.06. very spooney on his be-Thermom. ^{has taken} 82. ^{likewise by photoph} 78.

Rise betimes and get down to ship; there find that Mr.
 Ritchie has been making many enquiries after me and angry that I should have left without his leave, ^{he} that a man had fallen and broken his leg; leave my address at Malabar Hill and return to my comfortable quarters there. 3 of our Ships now here for soldiering, the "Malta", "Precursor" and "Pottinger". 10th Hussar now being shipped by "Preston". Tuesday, 23rd. Jan. 1855. and see our Bar. Chief Max. 30.10. Capt. A Min. 30.06. Steamer "Cadiz", and Thermom. ^{verts} 80. ^{ed prob} 78. ^{ip}.

Have a quiet day, drawing and mounting.

Saturday, 27th. Jan. 1855.
 Bar. ^{Max.} 30.10 ^{min.} 30.00
 Therm. 82. ^{ex} 80. Wednesday, 24th. Jan. 1855. I shall get 1 Call at Office, find Mr Ritchie looking daggers but says nothing; settle accounts with Sillar and Roberts. Call on Parsees who can do nothing for me regarding opium; am compelled to give up all hope of taking any; am very sorry and make up my mind not to stay much longer here if such business cannot be done. Visit Ship; all well.

Thursday, 25th. Jan. 1855.
 Bar. ^{Max.} 30.10 ^{min.} 30.10
 Therm. 82. ^{him} 80. Enjoying myself very much at this place; my friend Lawrence

Monday, 22nd Jan. 1857

Bar. Max. 30.08. Min. 30.06.
Thermom. " 82. " 78.

Rise betimes and got down to ship; there find that Mr. Ritchie has been asking many enquiries after me and angry that I should have left without his leave; that a man had fallen and broken his leg; leave my address at Malabar Hill and return to my comfortable quarters there.

Tuesday, 23rd Jan. 1857

Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.06.
Thermom. " 80. " 78.

Have a quiet day, drawing and mounting.

Wednesday, 24th Jan. 1857

Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.06.
Thermom. " 82. " 78.

Call at Office, find Mr. Ritchie looking daggery but says nothing; settle accounts with Sillar and Roberts. Call on persons who can do nothing for me regarding opium; am compelled to give up all hope of taking any; am very sorry and make up my mind not to stay much longer here if such business cannot be done. Visit Ship; all well.

Thursday, 25th Jan. 1857

Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.06.
Thermom. " 82. " 78.

Enjoying myself very much at this place; my friend Lawrence

Monday, 29th. ^{rides} is very kind and we take long walks and ~~drives~~ every evening before ^{our} dinner; he is an engaged man and very spooney on his beloved. He has taken my likeness by photograph.

Friday, 26th. Jan. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.05.

Thermom. " 83. " 81.

The Government have taken 3 of our Ships now here for soldiering, the "Malta", "Precursor" and "Pottinger". 10th Hussars are now being shipped ^{on board} in "Precursor". Visit Office and see our late Chief Officer now Capt. Aldham of our Steamer "Cadiz", and Capt. Roberts suspended ~~pro~~tem. Visit Ship.

Saturday, 27th. Jan. 1855.

Take our usual exercise. See Roberts who tells me I shall get into a row as Rolls is attacked with fever and I not there.

Sunday, 28th. Jan. 1855.

Am feeling very independent and think of telling Mr. Ritchie if he censures me, to find some other surgeon. Go to Bycullah to Church, and after visit ship; find all well. Rollé better; Find out where ^{Capt.} Aldham is and ^{visit him} to my horror I find him in the same state ^{as} he was just before Xmas 1853, drunk; use every means to stop his ^{luck}, & ^{prefer} ^{him} making his case to be apoplexy.

Monday, 29th. Jan. 1855.

I say adieus to friend on Hill and get to the Ship where I get my Captain and put him on list; then proceed to Mr. Ritchie to report his case; everything succeeds and I again save him from utter ruin.

Tuesday, 30th. Jan. 1855.

Bar. 30.16. Max. 30.16. Min. 30.05.

Thermom. " 81. " 79.

Stay on board all day and find ~~my~~ my treatment and lecture to the Captain have had the desired effect; but left him fearfully shaken.

Capt. Purchase come aboard, the Algham in a great state of ner-

Bar. max. 30.17. min 30.12 Wednesday, 31st. Jan. 1855.

Therm. " 81 " 79

Captain Aldham and ^{myself} proceed to port where he signs all bills of lading and I clear up all my business. Writing letters to ^{& Bob} Bob after which and at 5 p.m., Lawrence and I proceed on board "Precursor" and are much pleased with the manner in which the horses are stabled; below she carries 80 horses and men and will take in tow and charge of the "Earl of Clare" with 100 horses and men in company with "Forose" and 2 others; she sails to-morrow. Dine with Lawrence and Chief Officer of "Precursor", spend a pleasant evening and sleep there.

Monday, 30th Jan. 1852.

I say adieu to friends on Hill and get to the ship where I get my Captain and put him on list; then proceed to Mr. Ritchie to report his case; everything succeeds and I again save him from utter ruin.

Tuesday, 30th Jan. 1852.

Bar. 30.15. Thermom. 81. Min. 30.05. Stay on board all day and find my treatment and lecture to the Captain have had the desired effect; but left him fearful-ly shaken.

Wednesday, 31st Jan. 1852.

Captain Aldham and I proceed to port where he signs all bills of lading and I clear up all my business. Writing letters to Bob after which at 5 p.m., Lawrence and I proceed on board "Pescadore" and are much pleased with the manner in which the horses are stabled; below the carries 80 horses and men and will take in tow and charge of the "Fairy of Clere" with 100 horses and men in company with "Teresa" and 2 others; she sails to-morrow. Fine with Lawrence and Chief Officer of "Pescadore" spend a pleasant evening and sleep there.

Bar. ~~30.16~~ 30.05
Therm. 82. 78.

Thursday, February 1st. 1855.

Spend half the day in photographing with Lawrence; then drive into fort and join Capt. and drive to call on Capt. Roberts at Club. Then on board our Ship; dine at 6 p.m., and have everything ready for next morning.

Friday, Feb. 2nd. 1855.

Lat. 18.31N.

Long. 72.37E. Bar. & Dist. N.

Bar. Wind. NNW. Moderate breeze, ^{and} fine.

Bar. Max. 30.15 Min. 30.05.

Thermom. " 83. " 78.

Early morning fine and all bustle; 8 a.m., Mr. Ritchie and Capt. Purchase come ^{on} board; old Aldham in a great ^{state} ~~state~~ of nervousness. Passengers are Bishop of Madras, Mr. Campbell, Pritchard, Douglas, Dr. A. Umphelly, Waterson, Thomas, 18 Parsees, Natives, ^{Rev.} Glasgow, Mrs and 2 Children.

9 a.m., get under weigh for China. In course of day enter into conversation with Bishop of Madras, an exceedingly nice person; is much pleased with my description of China and the Pirate destruction; considers I am wise in having applied for the Crimea; knows the Brandrams etc. Old Pritchard as jolly as ever. Weather ^{is exceedingly} ~~very~~ warm; ^{are} running along Coast etc.

Thursday, February 1st, 1877

Spent half the day in photographing with Lawrence; then drive into Fort and join Capt. and drive to call on Capt. Roberts at Club. Then on board our ship; dine at 6 p.m., and have everything ready for next morning.

Friday, Feb. 2nd, 1877

Long. 72.37W. Lat. 18.31N.

Moderate breeze, fine.

Wind. NW.

Bar. Max. 30.15 Min. 29.05

Thermom. " 82 " 78

Early morning fine and all bustle; 8 a.m., Mr. Ritchie and Capt. Purchase come aboard; old Alden in a great state of nervousness. Passengers are Bishop of Madras, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Chard, Douglas, Dr. A. Unghely, Watson, Thomas, Dr. Parson, Natives, Rev. Glasgow, Mrs. and 2 children. 9 a.m., get under weigh for China. In course of day enter into conversation with Bishop of Madras, an exceedingly nice person; is much pleased with my description of China and the pirate destruction; considers I am wise in having applied for the Crimea; knows the Brandrams etc. Old Pritchard as jolly as ever. Weather ~~is~~ warm; running along coast etc.

Saturday, Feb. 3rd. 1855.

Lat. 14.47N.

Long. 73.36.E.

Course & distance S. 116 E.

235 miles.

Prev. Winds

Northerly; fine, clear Weather.

Bar. max. 30.12 min 30.05
Therm. 85 .. 81.

Am feeling seedy from some remote cause. Aldham anxious about seeing ^{the} land but after getting sights etc., is satisfied. Find Bishop exceedingly pleasant; offers me ^{an} appointment ^{in the} to E.I.C.O's service, Madras.

Sunday, 4th. 1855. off Cananon

Prev. Winds S. & SE. Hot & sultry.

Bar. Max. 30.09.

Min. 30.04.

Thermom. " 86.

" 81.

Early morning, Mount Dilly in sight; 9.30., abreast of it; 10.30., off Baliapatam river, 11.30., drop anchor off Cananonⁿ; Boats ^{lowered} ~~hurried~~ for Bishop to go on ^{shore} them, who gives us his blessing. Mr. ^{chief Officer} takes charge of the boat with Palker who lands it in a heavy surf and C.O. and ^{my} self despatched to see what damage; all safe. Cananonⁿ is exceedingly pretty having a tongue of ^{cliff} land running out on which stands the castle or fort forming a pretty bay; the Bungalows face the sea on ^{an} elevated ground forming an ^{abrupt} ~~almost~~ rocky cliff on which the sea breaks with force; very healthy; European troops station. At 1.30., ^{get} under weigh, running along coast. Long discourse from Mr. Glasgow.

Am feeling seedy from some remote cause. About seeing land but after getting sights etc., is satisfied. Wind Bishop exceedingly pleasant; offers me appointment at E. I. 1.00 service, Madras.

Sunday, 4th. 1875. off Cannanore
Thermom. " 81.
Max. 30.09.
Min. 30.04.

Early morning, Mount Dilly in sight; 9.30., abreast of it; 10.30., off Balispatam river, 11.30., drop anchor off Cannanore; Hosts ^{lower} ~~forward~~ for Bishop to go on ~~them~~, who gives us his blessing. Mr. ^{chief officer} takes charge of the boat with Parker who lands it in a heavy surf and C.O. and self despatched to see what damage; all safe. Cannanore is exceedingly pretty having a tongue of land running out on which stands the castle or fort forming a pretty bay; the Burgealows face the sea on elevated ground forming an ^{admirable} ~~excellent~~ rocky cliff on which the sea breaks with force; very healthy; European troops station. At 1.30., under weigh, running along coast. Long discourse from Mr. Glasgow.

Monday Febr. 5th 1855.

97^a

Lat. 8°35' N. Long.

Prev. winds SSE. Fine clear weather.

Bar. max. 30.18 min 30.06
Therm. .. 84 .. 80.

Course & Dist. S. 20 E. 207 miles
Bearing & Dist. Point de Galle S. 53.5 by E. 263

Are streaming towards Cape Comorin. Passengers jolly.
Nothing moving. No land of consequence of importance.

Tuesday Febr. 6th 1855.

Lat. Ceylon in sight.

Bar. max. 30.10 min 30.14.
Therm. .. 82 .. 80.

A rough night crossing the gulf of Manar. Fine morning. 11.05 land in sight. 4.45 anchored in Galle Harbour. No news. No steamer. French man of war brig "the Victor" no intelligence. News from China bad regarding the prices. Unlucky man I am.

Wednesday Febr. 7th 1855. in Point de Galle.

Bar. max. 30.12 min. 30.08 Prevailing winds WNW. Fine clear weather.
Therm. .. 86 .. 80.

No steamer at present. Cool nights but hot days. Little sickness on shore. Received invitation for tomorrow, to dine with Dr. Cowen, am shooting monkeys in the jungle before breakfast. Kill three. See several very large: 3/7th leave my companions who are annoyed at being so left behind.

Thursday Febr. 8th 1855. in Galle.

Bar. max. 30.15 min. 30.08 Prevailing winds N.E. Calm & sultry.
Therm. .. 84 .. 82

No steamer in sight. anxiously expected. Dine on shore & meet a Cowen's the assistant Surgeon of "Victor". Spend a pleasant time. Mrs Cowen is a most pleasant woman I rather like her. Drive to Cinnamon Garden in the evening, & take the Cowens on board ship, to visit her. Ask the Dutchman to breakfast tomorrow morning.

Friday Febr. 9th 1855.

Bar. max. 30.00 min. 30.02 Prevailing winds Northw. Light breeze & fine.
Therm. .. 84 .. 80.

French friend to breakfast. Mr Barnes 4th officer makes himself disagreeable at the same. Am compelled to speak to him, requesting him not to speak again to me. I hope this will improve him, poor boy. Make up a party for the Marguilly Bungalow 5 miles distant. and there am astonished at my good shooting with a Dean Adam —. Amuse myself very much. Again am forced to speak to Barnes. I fear I must resort to something more stringent.

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and mostly illegible due to fading and the nature of the paper. Some fragments are visible, such as "The first of the", "The second of the", and "The third of the".

Prose

Saturday, Feb. 10th. 1853-

Bar. Max. 30.09. Min. 29.98.
Thermom. " 84. " 80.
Wind. N. Showery, ^{and fine} fair.

No Steamer in sight; rather surprising. How late she is! what can be the cause? Am trying to get up party for Bungalow but not successful. Post my letters to Snapp, Bob and Bos.

Bar. max. 30.05 min. 30.01
Therm. " 84 " 82.
Prev. wind. N.W. Light air & fine.

Sunday, 11th. Feb. 1853.

A quiet day; go to Church; tiffin with Jellicoe, call on Dr.
Cowen, dine on board; take a walk in evening and enjoy myself.
Steamer signalled 5.50 & turn blue light off Lighthouse 8 p.m.

Monday, 12th. Feb. 1853.

Bar. Max. 30.03. Min. 30.0
Thermom. " 86. " 82.

Calms and cloudy.

"Bombay" ^{steamed in} at 7 a.m.; great many passengers for us, some 30. Mrs. Michelet, ^{Mrs. Hancock(?)} T. Haddon, Poolman Mrs. and 2 Misses, ^{governess and} 1 Servant, Mr. Radford, Montesse, ^{Ocea} Ocea, Pareja Mojados, Martinez and 2 Servants, Chapman, Jones, Cooper, Bell, Forrest, Holmes, Backhouse, Reid, ^{Finley} Powley, Tait, Mrs and Capt. Rowan, Mr= Warrington Hood, Cargill and Mrs, 2 Servants, 12 Lascars, 4 others, Jones, 2 Captains. Do all I have to do on shore and so at 4.50., steam out of harbour. Sebastopol not taken and no

Saturday, Feb. 10th. 1877.

Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.98. Thermom. 84. Wind. N. Showery.

No Steamer in sight; rather surprising. How late she is! what can be the cause? Am trying to get up party for Humber now but not successful. Post my letters to Snapp, Bob and Ned.

Sunday, 11th. Feb. 1877.

Bar. 30.02. Min. 30.01. Thermom. 84. Wind. N. Showery.

A quiet day; go to Church; fill in with Jellied calf on Mr. Cowen, dine on board; take a walk in evening and enjoy myself. Steamer signalled 5.50 & turn blue light off light house 8 p.m.

Monday, 12th. Feb. 1877.

Bar. 30.03. Min. 30.0. Thermom. 85. Wind. N. Showery.

Calms and cloudy. "Bombay" steamed at 7 a.m.; great many passengers for us, some 30. Mrs. Micheler, T. Haddon, Booleman Mrs. and 2 Misses, 1 Servant, Mr. Radford, Montague, O'Gee, Pareja Mojados, Martin and 2 Servants, Chapman, Jones, Cooper, Bell, Forrest, Holmes, Backhouse, Reid, Tait, Mrs. and Capt. Rowan, Mrs. Warrington Hood, Gargill and Mrs. 2 Servants, 12 Lascars, 4 others, Jones, 2 Captains. Do all I have to do on shore and at 4.50, steam out of harbor. Sebastopol not taken and no news of importance from the seat of war. A new year sees Sebastopol as strong as ever. Bustle and confusion are the order of the day.

Winds: N by N. Steady breeze, fine. Find our good ship Tuesday, 13th Febr. 1855.

Lat. 5.32N. Long. 82.31E. Course & Distance 5.78.2. 142 miles.

Prev. Winds NE. Fresh breeze, Bearing & Dist. Palo Rondo N. 87½ E. 757 mi. fair & fine. Bar. max. 30.01 min 29.84
Therm. " 83. " 81.

Fine clear morning but find we have strong head winds. Are much crowded in Saloon but ladies are not present, absent from sickness. Chinese Merchants soon ^{find} found out each other and are together.

Lat. 5.3N. Long. 81.35E. Course & Dist. N. 81 E. 194 miles. 178 miles.

Lat. 6°2'N. Long. 85°44'E. Bearing & Dist. Palo Rondo. E. 566 miles. Fine. Wednesday, 14th Febr. 1855.

Prev. Winds E.N.E. Squally with showers. Bar. Max. 30.02 Min. 29.95.
Thermom. " 84. " 80.

Passengers ^{are} beginning to settle down, some rare birds.

One Chinese Francisco who speaks Portuguese, affords great amusement. Capt. and Mrs Romer, 59th Regt., ~~are~~ ^{and} very pleasant people indeed; they are a treat for once; Tait a thorough Scotchman and canny; 4 young Gentlemen going to China for Interpreters to learn Chinese, ^{they are} all precious ~~green~~ ^{green}; Backhouse, an old chum in West Indies.

Sunday, 18th Febr. 1855.

Lat. 5.56N. Long. 97.42E. Course & Dist. 587.46 E. 192 miles.

Wind. E. by N. Strong head winds. Bearing & Dist. Palo Rondo 587.46 E. 177 miles.

news of importance from the seat of war. A new year seen before today as strong as ever. Russia and confusion are the order of the day.

Tuesday, 13th Feb. 1882.

Lat. 5.32N. Long. 82.51E. Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.95. Thermom. 84.
Fresh breeze. Sea a fair. Windy. Are fine clear morning but find we have strong head winds. Are much crowded in Saloon but ladies are not present, absent from sickness. Chinese merchants soon found out each other and are together.

Wednesday, 14th Feb. 1882.

Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.95. Thermom. 84.
Passengers beginning to settle down, some rare birds.
One Chinese Frenchman who speaks Portuguese, affords great amusement. Capt. and Mrs. Rorer, Seth Rogers, very pleasant people indeed; they are a treat for eyes; this a thorough Scotchman and canny; a young gentleman going to China for Interpresers to learn Chinese, all precious goods; Backhouse an old chum in West Indies.

A quiet Sunday. Our Admiralty Agent, Mr. Woodridge, who joined us at Calle, Thursday, 15th Feb. 1855.

Lat. 5.58N. Long. 88.40. Course & Dist. S. 80 E. 389 miles.
Bearing & Dist. Palo Rondo N. 89 E. 389 miles.
Bar. max. 29.98 min. 29.94
Therm. 83 80.
 Prev. Winds E by N. Steady breeze fine.

Find our good ship does not go along as well as might be expected. Passengers pretty jolly. Stewardess taken ill with Anasparta and severe dropsy; constitution breaking up; forced to get her a cabin at great inconvenience to Passengers. Mrs. Cargill a pleasant person. Meet no Ships.

Lat. 3.27N. Long. Friday, 16th Feb. 1855.

Lat. 6.3N. Long. 91.35E. Course & Dist. N. 88 E. 175 miles.
Bearing & Dist. Palo Rondo East 284 miles.
Bar. max. 29.99 min. 29.90
Therm. 86 80
 Prev. Winds E. by N. Light head winds fine.

Everything progressing favourably and pleasantly. I am anxious to get to Penang to find if my guns and pistols are there. 3 2 1 of Mr. Fuller yesterday and left it at Penang. In evening

Lat. 5.55N. Long. 94.31E. Course & Dist. S. 87 E. 176 miles.
Bearing & Dist. Palong Rondo N. 76 E. 39 miles.
Personality winds N.E. strong head wind & sea.
Bar. max. 30.02 min. 29.93
Therm. 85 80
Saturday, 17th Feb. 1855.

An unpleasant sea, many complaining of sickness. I am certainly getting sick of this mode of life; surely it is a great waste of time. Maskee! Wait a little longer, astonish the Passengers with my activity.

Sunday, 18th Feb. 1855.

Lat. 5.56N. Long. 97.42E. Course & Dist. S. 87.56 E. 192 miles.
Bearing & Dist. Palo Pera S. 82.29 E. 77 miles.
 Prev. Wind E. by N. Strong head winds.

Thursday, 18th Feb. 1882

Lat. 5.58N. Long. 88.40. Steady breeze. Fine. 72

Wind our good ship does not go along as well as might be expected. Passengers pretty jolly. Stewards taken ill with Anasarca and severe dropsy; constipation breaking up; forced to get her a cabin at great inconvenience to Passengers. Mrs. Gar- kill a pleasant person. Meet no ships.

Friday, 19th Feb. 1882

Lat. 6.3N. Long. 91.35E. Light head winds. Fine. 78

Everything progressing favourably and pleasantly. I am anxious to get to Penang to find if my guns and pistols arrived there.

Saturday, 17th Feb. 1882

An unpleasant sea, many complaining of sickness. I am certainly getting sick of this mode of life; surely it is a great waste of time. Wait a little longer, astonished Passengers my activity.

Sunday, 18th Feb. 1882

Lat. 5.58N. Long. 97.42E. Strong head winds. 72

A quiet Sunday. Our Admiralty Agent, Mr. Woodridge, who joined us at Galle, officiated ^{in the} ~~at~~ Prayers.

Bar. max. 29.99 min. 29.90
Therm. .. 86 .. 82
Prev. winds NE. Light winds & calm.

Monday, 19th. Febr. 1855.

Arrive at Penang, 8 a.m.; and I then get papers from Mr. Sandilands that have been out ^{there} 3 months and of the utmost importance. I am unfortunate in my Clarendon?, it being a total failure. No pistols.

Tuesday, 20th. Febr. 1855.

Lat. 3.27N.

Long. 101.19E.

Course & distance various 209 miles.
bearing & Dist. Parcelar Hill N. 80 point N 1/2 N.

Prev. Winds. East ^{as various} ~~variable~~; light head winds. Bar. max. 29.98 min. 29.82
Therm. .. 86 .. 82.

Are now steaming through the Straits; and although Aldham is nervous, no misfortune occurs. We left Penang at 1.30 ^{pm.} yesterday, and received Dr. and Mrs ^{Laurain} ~~Deuren~~ ^{for} ~~from~~ Hong Kong. I signed deed of Mr. Fuller yesterday and left it at Penang. In evening our drunken Engineer reports ^{to the Captain that} he has not coal enough to take ^{her} ~~us~~ to Singapore; go slow all night.

Wednesday, 21st Feb. 1855.

Slow all night and at 8 a.m., dropped anchor off harbour, ^{the Beacon entrance of New} ~~harbour~~ 12 miles ^{low} distant from ~~entrance of New Harbour~~; 2 Boats ^{away} with mails; I went in one; with high winds and strong tide we made little way and nearly burnt to death with sun. At 12 Steamer under weigh with Pilot and picked us up after 4 hours of it. Got on to the roads; and then ^{a devil of a} ~~an awful~~ row about the Engineer,

A quiet Sunday. Our Admiralty Agent, Mr. Woodbridge, who joined us at Galle, officiated at prayers.

Monday, 19th Feb. 1857.

Barometer 29.75 at 5 p.m.
Therm. 84
Wind N. Light breeze.

Arrive at Penang, 8 a.m., and I then get papers from Mr. Sandilands that have been out 3 months and of the utmost importance. I am unfortunate in my ~~choice~~ it being a total failure. No pistols.

Tuesday, 20th Feb. 1857.

Lat. 3.27N. Long. 101.12W. Crossed the equator 209 miles. East wind; light head winds.

Are now steaming through the Straits; and although Albatross is nervous, no misfortune occurs. We left Penang at 1.30. Yesterday and received Mr. and Mrs. ~~James~~ Hong Kong. I signed deed of Mr. Fuller yesterday and left it at Penang. In evening our drunken Engineer reports he has not coal enough to take us to Singapore; so slow all night.

Wednesday, 21st Feb. 1857.

Slow all night and at 8 a.m. dropped anchor off harbour, 12 miles distant from entrance of New Harbour; 2 boats away with mails; I went in one; with high winds and strong tide we made little way and nearly burnt to death with sun. At 12 Steamer under with Pilot and picked us up after 4 hours of it. Got on to the roads; and then ~~arrived~~ row about the Engine.

who is reported to Directors at home, a beast. Proceed on shore and stay with Friend Sparkes the night. Get here my long absent clothes and find I am robbed of all my new shirts and collars and a rat inhabiting ^{the} remainder; how unfortunate I am to be sure! Despatch my papers to Sandilands, signing ^{the} transfer shares to Humphrey, £120.

Bar. max. 30.06, min. 29.95
Therm. " 86

Thursday, 22nd Feb. 1855.

Temperature, 86 - 88.

Prev. winds N.N.E. showers and dull.

Find no letters from China from Berenhard; spend a slow morning at the Office in ^{the} rain. Get on board at 3; at 4 get under weigh and steam out of ^{the} harbour. Passenger in addition: ~~the~~ ^{and one} Interpreter, Mr. ^{W.H.} Medhurst for Chinese, ^{and one} Solitary German Missionary. Still fine weather; how fortunate we are. Passengers in high spirits; should make a good run ~~if~~ ^{if} not such bad engines. Stewardess very Friday, Feb. 23rd. 1855.

Lat. 3.34.

Long. 104.57E.

Course & distance ^{N. 14° 27' E.} 176 miles.

Prev. Winds

~~N. by E.~~

Moderate head winds N by E. Fine.

Bar.

Max. 30.02

Min. 29.92.

Thermom.

"

84.

"

80.

At 4 a.m., passed Pulo Var; exceedingly fine weather.

Find Mr. Medhurst a very nice fellow, pleasant on account of his knowledge of Chinese. Our decks as usual loaded with coal; and head wind driving plenty of dust aft. Mrs Romer's child in a dreadful state of filth.

who is reported to Directors at home, a peasant. Proceed on shore and stay with friend Sparkes the night. Get heavy long absent clothes and find I am robbed of all my new shirts and collars and a rat inhabiting remainder; how unfortunate I am to be sure! Requested my papers to be sent to the transfer station to Hongkong, £5.10.

Thursday, 22nd Feb. 1852.

Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.92.

Thermom. 84. " 84. " 80.

Find no letters from Bernehard; spend a slow morning at the Office in rain. Get on board at 3; at 4 get under weigh and steam out of harbor. Passenger in addition: The Interpreter, Mr. Hedhurst for Chinese, & solitary German Missionary.

Friday, 23rd Feb. 1852.

Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.92. Thermom. 84. " 84. " 80. Lat. 3.34. Long. 104.57E. 176 miles.

At 4 a.m., passed Pulo Var; exceedingly fine weather. Find Mr. Hedhurst a very nice fellow, pleasant on account of his knowledge of Chinese. Our decks as usual loaded with coal; and head wind driving plenty of dust aft. Mrs. Romer's child in a dreadful state of filth.

Saturday, 24th. Feb. 1855.

Lat. 6.34.

Long. 106.37E.

course & distance 28.55

205 miles.

Continued fine weather.

Good day's run.

Bar. max. 30.03 min 29.98

Therm. 83 .. 80

Sunday, 25th. Feb. 1855.

Lat. 9.16N Long. 108.29E.

Bar. Max. 30.07.

Min. 29.99.

course & distance N. 34° 30' E.

196 miles.

Thermom.

82.

80.

80.

Prev. Winds like N.N.E. Moderate head winds, fine.

Still fine weather.

Prayers.

Pass Pulo

at 7 p.m.

Monday, 26th. Feb. 1855.

Lat. 11.46N.

Long. 110.18E.

course & distance 35.18 E.

185 miles

Prev. Winds 19.3 N.N.E.

Light winds, fine.

Bar. max. 30.12 min 29.98

Still fine weather; how fortunate we are.

Passengers in high spirits; should make a good run of it if not such bad engineers. A Stewardess very unwell, evidently breaking up.

Tuesday, 27th. Feb. 1855.

Lat. 14.37N Long. 112.18 E.

Bar. Max. 30.10.

Min. 30.08.

course & distance N. 34° 26' E.

207 miles.

Thermom.

80.

78.

78.

Prev. Winds N.N.E. Light breeze, fine.

Everything progressing favourably with fine weather.

Passengers laugh at my prognosticating bad; never were such times as these.

Friday, 2nd. March 1855.

Bar.

Max. 30.29.

Min. 30.18.

Thermom.

82.

80.

80.

Wind.

N.N.E.

Strong breeze, fine.

Saturday, 24th. July. 1882.

Lat. 5.34. Long. 10.37. 205 miles.
Continued fine weather. Good day's run. 24th. July. 1882.

Sunday, 25th. July. 1882.

Lat. 4.16. Long. 10.27. 198 miles.
Bar. Max. 30.07. Min. 29.89. Thermom. 82. 80.

Winds S.W. Moderate head winds. Fine.
Still fine weather. Pass Pulo at 7 p.m.

Monday, 26th. July. 1882.

Lat. 11.46N. Long. 11.18E. 185 miles.
Winds N.W. Light winds. Fine.
Still fine weather; how fortunate we are. Passengers in high spirits; should make a good run if not such bad engineers. Stewards very unwell, evidently breaking up.

Tuesday, 27th. July. 1882.

Lat. 16.17N. Long. 11.18E. 207 miles.
Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.08. Thermom. 80. 78.

Everything progressing favourably with fine weather.
Passengers laugh at my prognosticating bad; never were such times as these.

Pro
Ba
Th

Pro

Early morning, Lemas in sight. At 10.25, anchored in Hong

Wednesday, 28th. Feb. 1855.

Lat. 17.58N. Long. 113.47E. course & distance N 24 E 219 miles.

Prev Wind. N.E. Strong Gale, squally.

Bar. max 30.28 min 30.08
Therm " 75 " 66

Increasing breeze, 9.30., I am right in my opinion, blowing harder, getting worse. I now have the laugh against them; all hands sick and in very miserable state. ^a Weather getting worse,

^{and the} sea like a boiling pot, throwing seas over her in every quarter;

at same time forced to slow the engines as the sea is too much for her; a crippled ship.

Last night I dined with Berenhart, presenting him with onions and Bombay ducks; to my great delight he has put out my Thursday, March 1st. 1855.

Lat. 19.34N. Long. 113.48E. course & dist. N. 95 miles.

Bar. Max. 30.31. Min. 30.26. Bearing & dist. N.E. point of Lema N 14 E. 157 miles.

Thermom. " 69. " 60.

Prevailing wind N.E. strong gale with squalls.

A most miserable night with the Ship rolling fearfully.

Called up last night to see Dr. Laurain who had taken too much whiskey toddy and fallen from the top of the companion and dislocated his humerus ^{with the} axilla; ~~he~~ immediately reduced it, for which I got abused for roughness; toward evening sea becoming smoother.

Follow her in a fast boat the following morning to a pretty place in the Simoon Passage, was attacked by Pirates and captured and nothing ever seen of the boat. 2 men out of 10 returned.

Friday, 2nd. March 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.29. Min. 30.18.

Thermom. " 62. " 60.

Prev Wind. N.N.E. Strong breeze, ^{as} fine.

Early morning, ^{the} Lemas in sight. ^{and} At 10.25, ^{arr.} anchored in Hong Kong harbour. ^{the} News bad as to opium; ^I glad of it. China still unsettled; Shang-hai attacked by ^{the} French; ^{and} driven back after entering breach; ^{leaving} 8 killed, 40 wounded. Canton still blockaded. Rebels possess ^{the} ~~Canton~~ River. Blenheim Reach.

At 10.45, got away from "Fort William" and got old Aldham to go to Church with me; proceeded to shore for a long walk, after which dined with Duas, and Miss Jarvis; tells me about the great fire destroying all the China houses near Police Station. They are sorry I am going away from Hong Kong station.

Bar. Max. 30.26. Min. 30.18.

Thermom. " 63. " 59.

Pres. Winds N.E. Light breeze, fine weather.

Last night I dined with Berenhart, presenting him with onions and Bombay ducks; to my great delight he has put out my money at mortgage at 24 % for 2½ months to be paid up on ^{the} 12th. inst. I see Mr. Duas; find ^{them} all well. Tell him the news; who thinks it will be paid me. See Brown who has now become ^a partner with Gaskell, Solicitors, who will obtain me a landed mortgage at 12% for 6 months which seems folly. Make plenty of calls on old friends and get plenty of invitations. Dine with little Office Yellowes. Ask friends to dinner. My poor Stewardess whom I got on shore on the 3rd to Shaw's Hotel, seems gradually sinking in- deed I am surprised ^{beds &c} hanging on so long. I sincerely trust she is a true Christian. Williams dines with us and keeps us up late. 8.20, "Canton" comes in and goes alongside "Fort William" ed and nothing ever seen of the boats; 2 men out of 10 returned.

Early morning, James in sight. At 10.30, anchored in Hong Kong harbour. News had as to opinion; glad of it. China still unsettled; Shanghai attacked by French; driven back after entering breach; 8 killed, 40 wounded. Canton still blockaded. ~~Taken from the~~

Saturday, 3rd June 1872.

Bar. Max. 30.25. Min. 30.18. Thermom. " 52. Wind N.E. Light breeze, fine weather. Last night I dined with Berenhardt, presenting him with a-mons and Bombay ducks; to my great delight he has put out my money at mortgage at 24% for 24 months to be paid up on 12th. I see Mr. Dunn; find all well. Tell him the news; who thinks it will be paid me. See Brown who has now become partner with Gaskell, Solicitors who will obtain me a landed mortgage at 12% for 6 months which seems folly. Make plenty of calls on old friends and get plenty of invitations. Dine with little Office. Mason who goes home with us; hear all the news of pirates and murders; my old friend Dunn, who sent his boat away over night with his dogs and guns with provisions for 5 days, intending to follow her in a fast boat the following morning to a pretty place in the Simon Passage, was attacked by pirates and captured and nothing ever seen of the boat; 2 men out of 10 returned.

Sunday, 4th. March 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.20. Min. 30.15.

Thermom. " 65. " 61.

Bar. Wind. E.N.E. Light breeze, fine.

At 10.a.m, got away from "Fort William" and got old Aldham to go to Church with me; proceeded on shore for a long walk, after which dined with ^{old} Duas; and Miss Fervis tells me about the great fire destroying all the China houses near ^{the} Police Station. They are sorry I am going away from ^{the} Hong Kong station.

his Colt against my Dean and I pocket 2 Dollars of his. Pass along the Islands and to the South East coast of Canton and

Monday, 5th. March 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.12. Min. 30.05.

Thermom. " 65. " 55.

Bar. Wind. E.S.E. Light breeze, ^{and} fine.

Aldham and self tiff. with Brown. Gaskell leaves on ^{the} 16th for Australia. Call on Sir James Stirling, Admiral, and Capt. Fellowes. Ask friends to dinner. My poor Stewardess whom I got on shore on the 3rd to Shaw's Hotel, seems gradually sinking; indeed I am surprised at her hanging on so long. I sincerely trust she is a true Christian. Gillmore dines with us and ^{he} keeps us up late. 9.20., "Canton" comes in and goes alongside ^{the} "Fort William" standing most prominent. On dropping our anchor we were surrounded by small sampans, sculled by women shrieking to us to "takey in boat".

Sunday, 4th March 1887

Min. 30.15.

Max. 30.20.

Bar.

" 31.

" 32.

Thermom.

Wind. E.S.W. Light breeze, fine.

At 10 a.m. got away from "Port William" and got old Aldham to go to Church with me; proceeded on shore for a long walk, after which dined with Dues; and Miss Fervat tells me about the great fire destroying all the China houses near Police Station. They are sorry I am going away from Hong Kong station.

Monday, 5th March 1887

Min. 30.05.

Max. 30.12.

Bar.

" 32.

" 33.

Thermom.

Wind. E.S.W. Light breeze, fine.

Aldham and self left with Brown. Gaskell leaves on 10th for Australia. Call on Sir James Stirling, Admiral, and Capt. Follows. Ask friends to dinner. My poor Stewards when I got on shore on the 3rd to Shaw's Hotel, seems gradually sinking; indeed I am surprised at her hanging on so long. I sincerely trust she is a true Christian. Gilmore dines with us and keeps us up late. 9.30. "Canton" comes in and goes alongside. Sweet William.

Tuesday, 6th. March. 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.07. Min. 30.

Thermom. " 68. " 64.

Winds N.E. Light airs, dull.

This morning find ^{the} "Canton starts for Macao at 2 p.m. Get Dr. Barton to do duty; report my intentions to Mr. Walker and start in company with Mr Woolridge for Canton via Macao. We have a very jolly party, among whom is Taleat, Editor to the "Friend of China" paper who challenges me after dinner to shoot his Colt against my Dean and I pocket 2 Dollars of his. Pass among the Islands and to the South and East coast of Canton and get to Macao just before dark; we had a beautiful view of ^{the} harbour and parade with the continued line of fine houses after the Portuguese style. The harbour and town are protected by forts at each extremity of the Crescent and ^{again} ~~also~~ by one at the back; all ^{situated} on elevated positions overlooking the town. It is built upon the Island of its own name on a head land connected with the larger part by a neck of land not wider than 200 yards, across which is a strong wall showing the boundary and protected by ^{strong} gates against the Chinese portion. The Town is surrounded by a strong wall and from the ^{water} ~~river~~ is exceedingly pretty, the large Church and Nunnery of St. ^{full open} standing most prominent. On dropping our anchor we were surrounded by small sampans, sculled by women shrieking to us to "takey in boat".

Tuesday, Oct. 27, 1903.
 Har. Max. 30.07. Min. 30.07.
 Thermom. " 68. " 64.
 Wind N.E. Light air, buff.

This morning find Canton starts for Macao at 8 p.m. Get Dr. Barton to do duty; report my intentions to Mr. Walker and start in company with Mr. Woolridge for Canton via Macao. We have a very jolly party, among whom is Talbot, Editor to the "Friend of China" paper who challenges me after dinner to shoot his Colt against my Dean and I pocket 2 Dollars of his. Pass among the islands and to the South and East coast of Canton and get to Macao just before dark; we had a beautiful view of harbour and parade with the continued line of fine houses after the Portuguese style. The harbour and town are protected by forts at each extremity of the Crescent and also by one at the back; all on elevated positions overlooking the town. It is built upon the island of its own name on a head land connected with the larger part by a neck of land not wider than 200 yards, across which is a strong wall showing the boundary and protected by gates against the Chinese portion. The town is surrounded by a strong wall and from the ~~side~~ ^{west} is exceedingly pretty;
 the large Church and Nunnery of St. ^{Francis} standing most prominent. On dropping our anchor we were surrounded by small sampans, sculled by women shrieking to us to "takey in boat!"

Admiralty Agent and I ^{were} soon in one, winding our way through the great number of Junks anchored off the pier off Government House and by a guide soon found out Mr. Davis' quarters where we should be made comfortable; he was surprised to see me and gave us beds etc. We soon found ^{out} Mr. Talent and it being moonlight, he drove us all over the place, taking us past the Burial ground to New Harbour, thence to the boundary walls or ruins of them, across the race course and by another way into the town again. It was close to the boundary that the Governor was pulled from his horse and murdered. Find we have to start at 10 p.m., and only just time to save our passage.

Wednesd^y, 7th. March 1855

Bar. at this Max. 30.06.; Min. 29.94. Thermom. On arrival 73. Canton, 67. were much surprised at

Prev. Wind: E.N.E. Dull foggy weather. Last night found ~~good~~ many passengers I knew; Davis and Son, Gibbs, Dr. Dixon ^{Donner} etc. Left last night at 10 and only steamed ^{1 hour} ~~slow~~; so dense was the fog that we cast off the Lorch and anchored for the night; this morning at 8.30. ^{am.} it cleared up and we steamed up to the 9 Islands and having passed outside we discovered the "Pipes" Steamer, full speed but not moving from something like a large rock close to her and many a little further from her. All hands with Capt. McDermott, declared her to be nearer to the Blenheim reach, we could hear the boom of Admiralty Agent and I soon in one, winding our way through the great number of junks anchored off the pier off Government House and by a guide soon found out Mr. Davis' quarters where we should be made comfortable; he was surprised to see me and gave us beds etc. We soon found Mr. Talant and it being moonlight, he drove us all over the place, taking us past the burial ground to New Harbour, thence to the boundary walls or ruins of them, across the race course and by another way into the town again. It was close to the boundary that the Governor was pulled from his horse and murdered. Find we have to start at 10 p.m., and only just time to save our passage.

Wednesday, 7th March 1857

Bar. Max. 30.06. Min. 29.94. Thermom. " 73. " 87. W. Windy. E. N. E. Dull foggy weather. Last night found ~~most~~ many passengers I knew; Davis and Son, Gibbs, Dr. Dixon, etc. Left last night at 10 and only steamed ~~away~~ ^{down} so dense was the fog that we cast off the anchor and anchored for the night; this morning at 8.30. is cleared up and we steamed up to the 3 islands and having passed outside we discovered the "Pique" Steamer, full speed but not moving, something like a large rock close to her and many a little further from her. All hands with Capt. McDermott, declared her to be on shore; we instantly cast off the Lorch and steamed down to her heavy guns, saw the smoke rising and passed many dead bodies, to render ~~her~~ assistance; we heard the report of ~~her~~ guns. ^{Supposed to be hers.)} arriving at Whampoa we found that the Imperialists ^{that} ~~had~~ taken the fort at Blenheim reach, capturing more than 100 junks; this was great news. ^{On coming to the strong} the fog cleared ~~away~~; we saw the rocks where the "Pipes" was, forts at 2nd Pagoda, found a ~~large~~ ^{large} ~~squadron~~ ^{squadron} of Mandarin Junks and but not a vestige of her nor could we perceive her anywhere, so brought the news to Canton at 7 p.m. We put up at Davis' house fancying she must have got off during our stay, we up anchor and ~~soon~~ ^{soon} retired much fatigued ^{after a long & passage} ~~and~~ ^{we} ~~again~~ ^{again} picking up our charge. In the course of an hour we ~~pleased~~ ^{smoke} ~~one~~ ^{one} can now go outside the suburbs ^{in company (2) Moon?} saw her ~~steam~~ ^{soon} ahead and also another blowing off steam; in 3 hours we picked her up and as we neared her we discovered she still had the rock close to her, ^{resembling a rock so much that} ~~on~~ ^{on} We were all deceived, in finding it to be an immense junk filled up with cargo forming the oddest thing possible; ^{we now} found out our mistake ^{that this was the} rock. On arriving at Canton, ^{we found that} ~~find~~ they were much surprised at our ~~manoeuvring~~ and the guns we fired and strange to say the guns we heard were only the echo of our own from the island near us. After a good night's rest and a warm bath, breakfast etc. At 3 p.m., we passed through the bogue, some of which belonged to the Rebels and off Tiger's Island were 7 Mandarin Junks holding the fort which they had taken from the Rebels the day before; and it was in a sad state of ruin. As we approached ^{toward} the 2nd Bar Pagoda, we came in sight of a large quantity of ^{large} ~~Junks~~ ^{as we approached them} ~~which~~ we found to be the Rebel fleet, heavily manned and pulling with their large sweeps in all haste, some 200 in number. Approaching nearer to the Blenheim reach, we could hear the boom of

be on shore; we instantly cast off the anchor and steamed down to render assistance; we heard the report of ~~the~~ guns ^{apparently}
 When we got abreast of her, the fog thickened so much we were ~~unable~~ ^{forced} to drop anchor and fired a gun which was answered; we kept the bell ringing to guide any boat from her; after ~~an~~ hour the fog cleared ~~away~~; we saw the rocks where the "Tiger" was, but not a vestige of her nor could we perceive her anywhere, so tacking and must have got off during our stay, we up anchor and ~~again~~ ^{again} picked up our charge. In the course of an hour we saw her ~~ahead~~ ^{ahead} and also another blowing off steam; in 3 hours we picked her up and as we neared her we discovered she still had the rock close to her. We were all deceived, ~~and~~ finding it to be an immense tank filled up with cargo forming the oddest thing possible; found out our mistake that this was the rock. On arriving at Canton, ~~they~~ ^{we found} they were much surprised at our ~~discovery~~ and the guns we fired and strange to say the guns we heard were only the echoes of our own from the island near us.
 At 3 p.m., we passed through the bays, some of which belonged to the Rebels and off Tiger's Island were 7 Mandarin Tanks holding the fort which they had taken from the Rebels the day before; and it was in a sad state of ruin. As we approached the 2nd Bar Passage, we came in sight of a large quantity of ~~tanks~~ ^{gunboats} we found to be the Rebel fleet, heavily manned and pulling with their large sweeps in all haste, some 200 in number. Approaching nearer to the Blenheim reach, we could hear the boom of purchasing ^{and} carved ivory, sandal wood, lacquer ware, silk, heavy guns; saw the smoke rising and passed many dead bodies; on gongs, slippers etc. ^{the previous day} arriving at Whampoa we found that the Imperialists had gained ^{the} victory ~~on the previous day~~ over the Rebels at Whampoa; and had this day taken the fort at Elenheim reach, capturing no less than 100 junks; this was great news. On coming to the Strong forts at 2nd Pagoda, found a ~~large~~ ^{strong} squadron of Mandarin Junks and brought the news to Canton at 7 p.m. We put up at Davis' house and soon retired much fatigued at so long a passage. We are pleased that one can now go outside the suburbs without much danger and even to the White Cloud Mountains in a large party well armed.

Wind. S.E. Full gloomy weather.

Turn out early; adjourn to the meeting place, the Church.

Thursday, 8th. March 1855

Bar. Max 30.01. Min. 29.96.

Thermom. " 70. " 64.

Wind. Variable and cloudy.

After a good night's rest and a warm bath, breakfast etc., we walked into the gardens and I there found many old friends, Margesson, ^{Pearce?} Gray etc., and after a little talk, made up a party of 6 to start to-morrow morning for the White Cloud Mountains. Called on old Fischer and friends; all glad to see me. Explain -ed to Fellowes my reason for not getting the chairs, then show- ed Mr Woolridge all the lions of the place, Curiosity Street &c. vegetable gardens, but ~~clean~~ and filth fearful; a kind of mont heavy guns; saw the smoke rising and passed many dead bodies; on arriving at Whampoa we found that the Imperialists had gained ~~the~~ ^{the} victory on the previous day over the Rebels at Whampoa; and had this day taken the fort at Kiamcham reach, capturing no less than 100 tanks; this was great news. On coming to the Strong forts at 2nd Pagoda, found a ~~large~~ ^{large} squadron of Mandarin tanks and brought the news to Canton at 7 p.m. We put up at Davis' house and soon retired much fatigued at so long a passage. We are pleased that one can now go outside the suburbs without much danger and even to the White Cloud Mountains in a large party well armed.

Thursday, 8th. March 1897

Bar.	Max 50.01	Min. 29.96
Thermom.	" 70.	" 64.

Variable and cloudy.

After a good night's rest and a warm bath, breakfast etc., we walked into the gardens and I there found many old friends, Hargreaves, Gray etc., and after a little talk, made up a party of 6 to start to-morrow morning for the White Cloud Mountains. Called on old Fischer and friends; all glad to see me. Explained to Hargreaves my reason for not getting the chairs, then showed Mr. Woolridge all the lions of the place, Curiosity Street etc.

purchasing ^{josses} ~~pipes~~, carved ivory ~~y~~, sandal[?] wood, lacquer ware, silks, gongs, slippers etc. Mr. W. was astonished to see me wend my way among the different streets, twisting, winding and turning and never losing my way. I spend much money, as I think it my last trip to Canton. My friends express their regret at it; how ^{true it may be} ~~truly~~ I cannot say. Dine at Davis's ^{and} retire early. Mr. W. cannot sleep for the row from the watch, bell^s, gongs etc.

White Cloud Mountains passing constantly over graves and burial grounds; indeed the whole ^{is one gigantic}

Friday, 9th. March 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.98. Min. 29.89.

Thermom. " 70. " 60.

Wind. S.E. Dull gloomy weather.

Turn out early; adjourn to the meeting place, the Church. Great booming of Cannon ^{begin both} above and below ^{the} river; and cannot imagine ^{the} cause. Junks crammed with ^{men} Soldiers are passing and repassing. Gongs deafen and ^{confound} ~~confuse~~ the senses. 7 a.m., only 2 companions arrive and we make a start for the Clouds; passing out of the North gate ^{in Zschers' hong} we thread our way through the narrow densely crammed Streets till we ^{get} ~~come~~ to the City walls where we find the walking better, as the houses built against the wall^s are removed to give more room for the defenders of the city to ply [^] their guns and observe any attempt to ^{mining}; after an hour's walk in this manner receiving abuse from all the squalid inhabitants, we get out of the suburbs to the beautifully laid out vegetable gardens, but ^{stink} ~~stench~~ and filth fearful; a kind of moat purchasing ^{things} carved ivory, sandal wood, lacquer ware, silks, gongs, slippers etc. Mr. W. was astonished to see me spend my way among the different streets, twisting, winding and turning and never losing my way. I spend much money as I think it my last trip to Canton. My friends express their regret at it;

 how ~~soon~~ I cannot say. Time as Davis' retire early. Mr.
 W. cannot sleep for the row from the watch, bells, gongs etc.

Friday, 25th March 1887

Bar. Max. 29.88 Min. 29.88
 Thermom. " 70. " 60.
 Wind. S.E. Dull gloomy weather.

Turn out early; adjourn to the meeting place, the Church.
 Great booming of Cannon above and below river; and cannot imagine cause. Tanks crammed with ^{men} soldiers are passing and repassing.
 Gongs beaten and ^{confounding} the senses. 7 a.m., only 2 companions arrive and we make a start for the Clouds; passing out of the North Gate we thread our way through the narrow densely crimined streets till we ^{get} to the City walls where we find the walking better, as the houses built against the walls are removed to give more room for the defenders of the city to ply their guns and observe any attempt to ^{stick} break in; after an hour's walk in this manner receiving abuse from all the agitated inhabitants, we get out of the suburbs to the beautifully laid out vegetable gardens, but ~~attracted~~ and fitch fearful; a kind of most [next page comes first]

113.

we also saw the new portion of the City wall breached by us in the war with their own guns. The General and Officers were kind and amused at us, overhauling our dresses and asking [for] presents; my gloves they got. They had here a large quantity of these wheels and axle trees covered with 10 in. spikes used when the enemy charges, to roll ^{down} upon them, — amusing instruments. We then received tea; and ~~do~~ ^{then} chin-chin and pursued our way up the White Cloud Mountains passing constantly over graves and burial grounds; indeed the whole mountain on this side is one ^{large} gigantic cemetery. We soon found it ^{needless} ~~useless~~ to go further as we ^{became} ~~were~~ enveloped in fog and could see nothing; so despairing we retraced our steps and after 2 hours' hard walking got ^{once more} ~~again~~ to Old China Street; ^{and town(?)} ~~here~~ the atmosphere is impregnated with smoke from the expenditure of gunpowder, a great day of rejoicing at the victories over the Rebels. After tiffin accompanied Mr. Fischer down the river in his "hong" boat to see ^{of} the Rebels prisoners and prizes. After one hour we got a mile down the river with the greatest difficulty through the crowded water; ~~we~~ ^{scarcely} ~~we~~ ^{scarcely} saw the water. The junks were stationed off Dutch folly, many of them very small and having [a] few small guns, the noise ^{was} ~~from the~~ ^{from the} beating of gongs fearful. Having got to the Prison Junks, I with ~~the~~ ² greatest difficulty obtained an entrance down the hatch and found myself among ^{about} 30 prisoners of the most wretched character guarded by ^{the} Imperialist soldiers; many were brutally wounded, some bleeding to death, others with eyes

see p. 114

we also saw the new portion of the City wall breached by us in the war with their own guns. The general and officers were kind and amused at us, overhauling our dresses and asking [for] presents; my gloves they got. They had here a large quantity of these wheels and axle trees covered with 10 in. spikes used when the enemy charges, to roll upon them, ^{damaging} ~~annoying~~ instruments. We then received tea, and ^{the} ~~an~~ chin-chin and pursued our way up the White Cloud Mountains passing constantly over graves and burial grounds; indeed the whole mountain on this side is one ^{large} ~~gigantic~~ cemetery. We soon found it useless to go further as we ~~were~~ ^{had} ~~been~~ ^{found} enveloped in fog and could see nothing; so despairing we retraced our steps and after 2 hours' hard walking got ~~again~~ ^{back} to Old China Street; ^{and there} ~~there~~ the atmosphere is impregnated with smoke from the expenditure of gunpowder, a great day of rejoicing at the victories over the Rebels. After lunch accompanied Mr. Fischer down the river in his boat to see ^{the} ~~the~~ Rebels' prisoners and prizes. After one hour we got a mile down the river with the greatest difficulty through the crowded water; ~~we~~ ^{we} positively ~~we~~ ^{we} saw the water. The junks were stationed off Tutch Tolly, many of them very small and having [a] few small guns, the noise from ~~the~~ ^{the} beating of gongs fearful. Having got to the Prison Junks, I with the greatest difficulty obtained an entrance down the hatch and found myself among 30 prisoners of the most wretched character guarded by Imperialist soldiers; many were brutally wounded, some bleeding to death, others with eyes kept us still to the wall and in the waters of this a peculiar weed was growing, evidently cultivated for chow-chow... On our path we passed the bodies of 2 poor ^{creatures} ~~people~~ who had dropped down from starvation ³ and ² fatigue with their bundles on their backs, perfectly dead; this is common wherever you go in China.

We now arrived at # 5 Story Pagoda on the walls and thence struck up the side of the hill to the celebrated Lord Gough's Fort, ^{This is} stationed on a conical hill of about 200 ft. and can be seen at a great distance coming up the river; it is now surrounded by ~~the~~ ^{encampment} of the Imperialists, some 10,000 men. As we climbed up the hillside, about halfway up, pointed and barbed bamboos sticking ^{about} 4 or 5 inches out of the ground were shown us, ^{and} hardly discernible, ^{and} so ^{cramped} ~~close~~ together ^{as to be impossible to} ~~that you could not~~ get ^{one's} ~~your~~ foot between them; and these circumscribed the whole hill to prevent a sudden attack from the Rebels barefooted; we were much amused at this style of defence. We then visited the interior of ^{one} ~~the~~ tents made to contain 10 men, ^{which was} miserable and filthy, the men half naked, their arms ^{which were} some matchlocks, ~~some~~ gingalls, ~~and~~ 3-headed spears all rusty and unfit for use. We then entered the Fort which was taken by Lord Gough during the war in '42, composed of 2 quadrangular terraces for guns, ^{and} having the magazine at the top ~~the~~ guns miserably mounted and unfit for use; this commands a fine view of the City into which we looked and the river, ^{also the} ~~and~~ suburbs and highly cultivated flats, also the White Cloud Mountains; ^{at the foot of which the} ^{is placed;} ~~we also saw the new portion of the wall (city) breached by us~~ in the war by their own guns. [continued on preceding page] kept us still to the wall and in the waters of this a peculiar weed was growing, evidently cultivated for show-show. On our path we passed the bodies of 2 poor ~~people~~ ^{Chinese} who had dropped down from starvation and fatigue with their bundles on their backs, perfectly dead; this is common wherever you go in China.

 We now arrived at ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~5000~~ ⁵⁰⁰⁰ Pagoda on the wall and thence struck up the side of the hill to the celebrated Lord Gough's Fort, this stationed on a conical hill of about 200 ft. and can be seen at a great distance coming up the river; it is now surrounded by the ~~the~~ ^{the} of the Imperialists, some 10,000 men. As we climbed the hillside, about halfway up, pointed and barbed bamboo sticking 4 or 5 inches out of the ground were shown us, hardly dis-cernible, ~~as they were together~~ ^{as they were together} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~whole~~ ^{whole} ~~hill~~ ^{hill} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~prevent~~ ^{prevent} a sudden attack from the Rebels barbed; we were much amused at this style of defence. We then visited the interior of ~~the~~ ^{the} of the fort made to contain 10 men, miserable and filthy, the men half naked, their arms some matchlocks, ~~some~~ ^{some} ~~3-headed~~ ^{3-headed} spears all rusty and unfit for use. We then entered the fort which was taken by Lord Gough during the war in '42, composed of 3 quadrangular fortresses for guns, having the magazine at the top the guns miserably mounted and unfit for use; this commands a fine view of the city into which we looked and the river, ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~suburbs~~ ^{suburbs} and highly cultivated flats, also the White Cloud Mountains; at the foot of which the ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~also~~ ^{also} ~~can~~ ^{can} ~~be~~ ^{be} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~wall~~ ^{wall} ~~(city)~~ ^(city) ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~fort~~ ^{fort} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~war~~ ^{war} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~1842~~ ¹⁸⁴² ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~city~~ ^{city} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~seen~~ ^{seen} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~the~~

out; some with faces mutilated; a Mandarin explained to me that their heads would be removed the following morning at the execution ground and invited me to be present; they were many of them innocent Villagers; my heart sickened; the smell fearful, the hearty laugh and coarse tongue of the Soldiers disgusting; and I soon made my exit from a place where human life was so cheap; the sight of the River banks crowded with ^(to be seen) nothing but the shaved heads and bronzed faces, the house tops ^{crowded} ~~covered~~ and the junks and sampans crammed, showed the intense excitement and joy of the people of Canton. The greater part of the Prisoners were being paraded about the streets ^{of the city}, some 150 would be beheaded the following morning. I then took W. to see the Now gua's gardens and the Macao reach, also the great Joss House, etc. In evening dined with Margesson, where I spent a very pleasant evening and having packed up everything for an early start the following day, retired to sleep.

on the top of these supported by them is a huge rock some 100 tons, forming an arch or grotto 20 ft. high, 12 ft. wide, Saturday, 10th March 1855. the top of Bar. rock: Max. 29.96. a sun. Min. 29.88. These Gardens are pret- Thermom. on " and 74. pass by far " by 67. Ave seen in China; then Wind. sited E.S.E. over light, cloudy. General's House and then proceed. Great rejoicing ^{prevailed} throughout the night. Rise at 5 a.m. settle all with Moul's Comprador and leave Wooldridge to bring down my baggage. Proceed to the ^m Gynasium by the request of some good part of the whole of Macao.

out; some with faces mutilated & bleeding explained to me that their heads would be removed the following morning at the execution ground and invited me to be present; they were many of them innocent villagers; my heart ached; the small form of the hearty farmer and coarse tongue of the soldier disappearing, and I soon made my exit from a place where human life was as cheap; the night of the River bank crowded with nothing but the shaved heads and bearded faces, the horses legs ^{stayed} and the junkies and sampan owners, showed the intense excitement and joy of the people of Canton. The greater part of the prisoners were being paraded about the streets, some 500 would be behind and the following morning. I then took W. to see the Howqua's garden and the second watch, also the great town-house, etc. In evening dined with Margesson, where I spent a very pleasant evening and having packed up everything for an early start the following day, retired to sleep.

Saturday, 10th March 1852.

Bar. Max. 29.96. Min. 29.88. Wind. S.E. Light, cloudy. Therm. 74.5. All day with the great rejoicing throughout the night. ^{proceeded} Home at 5.30. All with Houl's Corporation and leave Woodbridge to bring down my baggage. Proceed to the Gymnasium by the request of some good hands last night to show them what I could do; was pleased to hear ^{that} no person had been in Canton for some time who could come near me and many of the tricks they had never seen ^{done} before.

Mr. W. meets me there and at 7. proceed on board the ^{steamer} "Tartar", Capt. Soames, for Hong Kong via Macao; find much pains required getting down owing to the crowded river; plenty of chin-chinning ^{going on} pass thro' Whampoa ^{at} 9.30., having taken in tow a junk and much regret to say that ^{poor} Capt. Woolcombe, my righthand ^{companion (?)} in the Kite ^{can (?)} affair, Commander of the "Styx", came on board with remittent fever and also one seaman. We do not get to Macao till 5 when we proceed again on shore to visit the celebrated cave and tomb of Camoën situated in the gardens of a Portuguese Marquis, and commanding an elevated position with an extensive view of the New Harbour and the peninsula joining Macao. It is most curiously formed, being two large masses of rock, the smaller ^{being} detached and some 12 ft. from ^{the} larger and ^{up} on the top of these supported by them is a huge rock some 100 tons, forming an arch or grotto ^{some} 20 ft. high, 12 ft. wide, in which is erected the tomb; the top of the rock is crowned by a summer house. These Gardens are prettily laid out and surpass by far any I have seen in China; thence we visited the ³ Governor's or ² Captain General's ¹ House and then proceeded on board where having no place to lie down, I ^{curled} ~~east~~ myself upon a bunk and ^{bunked it out} lay till morning when we found ourselves comfortably anchored in Hong Kong. The Prior Grande is about the best part of the whole of Macao.

Sunday, 11th. March 1853.

Bar. Max. 29.99. Min. 29.92.

Thermom. " 72. " 68.

Prevailing Winds E.N.E. Light & cloudy weather.

Get everything on board "Cadiz" where I breakfasted and after proceeded on shore to Church, calling ~~at~~ Brownson my way for Capt. Aldham who stayed there; heard good sermon and tiffined with Gaskell. Walked to see Barton; saw my patient Stewardess, ^{see} great change for worse. Dine with Gaskell.

Monday, 12th. March 1853.

Bar. Max. 30.05. Min. 30.01

Thermom " 70. " 66.

Prevailing Winds E. Light, cloudy.

Sleep on board; call on Ellis, Commander H.M.S. , proceed to see Aldham and am sorry to find he is not sober; speak to him and beg him not to drink, how sad. Call on Berenhart for 850⁰/₀ with interest ^{being} 42⁰/₀ who tells me I shall have it to-morrow; tell Brown who writes a letter about it. See Mr. Walker and answer a letter regarding case of . Tiff with Duas. Dine with Mason and proceed early on board. H.M.S "Sybille" in, also French, "Sybille" having lost 100 men with dysentery.

"Canton" in, with 40 guns, 5000, birds' nests etc., and

Sunday, 11th March 1855
Bar. Max. 29.99. Min. 29.02.
Thermom. " 72. " 68.
Winds E.N.E. Light & cloudy weather.

Get everything on board "Gladia" where I breakfasted after proceeding shore to Church, calling at Brownson my way for Capt.
Albham who stayed there; heard good sermon and dined with Gaskell. Walked to see Barton; saw my patient Stewardess, great change for worse. Dine with Gaskell.

Monday, 12th March 1855
Bar. Max. 30.08. Min. 30.01.
Thermom. " 70. " 66.
Winds E. Light, cloudy.

Sleep on board; call on Mills, Commander H.M.S. "Proceed to see Albham and am sorry to find he is not sober; speak to him and beg him not to drink, how sad. Call on Bernhardt for 830X with interest ^{long} who tells me I shall have it to-morrow; tell Brown who writes a letter about it. See Mr. Walker and answer a letter regarding case of . . . Tell with Dias. Dine with Hason and proceed early on board. H.M.S.
"Sphille" in, also French, "Sphille" having lost 100 men with dysentery.

Tuesday, 13th. March 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.05. Min. 30.
Thermom. " 68. " 64.

Winds Fresh breeze, fine weather.

Again great excuses are made by Berenhart to pay up; I begin to fear. Take a dangerous walk through Sherefs or Stone-cutter's Village. Receive a letter from Brown that Aldham is worse; I go to see him and find him drunk; talk to him seriously and lock up all but he gets more and becomes worse. Dine with Harland and get Capt. on board. Many ^{in Hong Kong} have seen it and I fear, this time shall not ^{save} get him off. The news per "Shanghai" from ^{Shanghai} there is that the city is evacuated by the rebels and now in possession of the Mandarins; this, I believe, could never have occurred had not the French and Puritans assisted or interfered. I am sorry for this. Also that a great earthquake has happened at Japan destroying many ³ Towns and ² Villages and that the Russian Frigate "Diana" was in the harbour and went down at her moorings. Why was she allowed to be there at all? Many ^{Thousands} lost their lives in this affair.

Wednesday, 14th. March 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.03 Min. 29.97.
Thermom. " 68. " 60.
Wind. N.E. Cloudy, calm.

"Canton" is in with my gongs, silks, birds' nests etc., and Thursday, 13th March 1897.

 Bar. Max. 30.05. Min. 30.
 Thermom. " 68.
 Wind. Fresh breeze, fine weather.

Again great excuses are made by Herenburt to pay up; I begin to fear. Take a dangerous walk through Sherefs or Stonecutter's Village. Receive a letter from Brown that Alham is worse; I go to see him and find him drunk; talk to him seriously and lock up all but he gets more and becomes worse. Fine with Harland ^{and} Capt. on board. Many have seen it and I fear, this time shall not see him ^{any} ^{more}. The news per "Shanghai" from ^{Shanghai} is that the city is evacuated by the rebels and now in possession of the Mandarins; this, I believe, could never have occurred had not the French and Portuguese assisted or interfered. I am sorry for this. Also that a great earthquake has happened at Japan destroying many towns and villages and that the Russian frigate "Diana" was in the harbour and went down at her moorings. Why was she allowed to be there at all? Many lost their lives in this affair.

Wednesday, 14th March 1897.
 Bar. Max. 30.03. Min. 29.97.
 Thermom. " 68. " 60.
 Wind. N.E. Cloudy, calm.
 "Canton" is in with my gongs, bells, birds' nests etc., and a bill for them, 30%. While engaged on duty, find the Captain drunk by my side, order him to his cabin and lock the door. Go on shore and to my great joy find the money 892 $\frac{1}{2}$ paid to Messrs Gaskell and Brown; to this I add 108 $\frac{1}{2}$ making 1000 which is invested ~~to-day~~ ^{this} in a landed mortgage at 12 % for 6 Months, at the end of which time to be paid to ^{me} Sandilands in the best ^{possible} manner. Am suddenly called to see Aldham who has got out of his window and got more brandy; any officer sees it and I am compelled to see Mr. Walker who insists on Dr. Barton seeing my patient with me. Disease I report as congestion of Brain. W. wishes to appoint another Captain but I defer him till to-morrow morning when a final answer shall be given. Oh! the trouble I have had with this man, but it shall be the last time for ever

Thursday, March 15th. 1853-

Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.92.

Thermom. " 70. " 67.

Winds, N.E. light ^{winds} cloudy weather.

How pleased I am to find we must start from this place; the atmosphere is densely moist and unpleasant. I feel symptoms of dysentery and fever and if I stayed 3 days longer must be ill. Report to ^{me} Walker that Aldham is fit to take his ship and save him once again. Proceed on shore, bid adieu to all friends, and settle all accounts. 2 p.m., having received Mails and Passengers, we steam out of harbour. Passengers as follows,- a bill for the day. While engaged on duty, find the Captain drunk by my side, order him to his cabin and lock the door. Go on shore and to my great joy find the money 8934 paid to Messrs Gaskell and Brown; to this I add 108 making 1000 which is invested ^{the} day in a landed mortgage at 12 1/2 for 6 months, at the end of which time to be paid to Sandilands in the best manner. Am suddenly called to see Aldham who has got out of his window and got more brandy; my officer sees it and I am compelled to see Mr. Walker who insists on Dr. Barton seeing my patient with me. Disease I report as congestion of Brain. W. wishes to appoint another Captain but I defer him till to-morrow morning when a final answer shall be given. Oh! the trouble I have had with this man, but it shall be the last time for ever.

Thursday, March 15th. 1852.

Bar.	Thermom.	W. N.	Light of day	Wind
Max. 30.	" 70.	" 67.	Light of day	W. N.
Min. 29.52.	" 67.	" 67.	Light of day	W. N.

How pleased I am to find we must start from this place; the atmosphere is densely moist and unpleasant. I feel symptoms of dysentery and fever and if I stayed 3 days longer must be ill. Report to Walker that Aldham is fit to take his ship and save him once again. Proceed on shore, bid adieu to all friends, settle all accounts. 2 p.m., having received Mails and Passengers, we steam out of harbour. Passengers as follows:-

Mr. R. Saunders, Capt. Parker, R.N. and Servant, ~~little~~ E.R. Mitchell, Major and Mrs Lodder, 39th Regt. ~~a~~ Child and Servant, Mr. and Mrs Pearson, 2 Children, Chinese Nurse; 9 Spaniards, 1 Signora, Mr. J. Wilks, Delafield, Dr Bois, Mrs. John Dent, Eduljee Purdonjee and 3 Parsees. Mr. Li Cog, Mr. McLean, Mr. Williams, Conolly, Jarrett, A. Campbell, Mrs Dow, 1 Child, 1 Servant, Little Mason, 4 Natives, being 29 1st, 4 Children ^{and} Servants. ^{Major} ~~Mr~~ and Mrs Lodder are very pleasant; she knows the Byams of Antigua and I have met her father at their house in Southampton.

Thermom.

78.

Calm fine weather; Friday, 16th. March 1855.

Lat. 19.31N.

Long. 112.39E.

Course & distance ^{50.25} 152 miles.

Bearing & distance North Shoal S 24° 6' W. 15.8 miles.

Bar. Max. 30.02

Min. 29.96.

Thermom.

"

75.

"

67.

Prevailing Winds.

S.S.E.

Light breeze, fine.

I am feeling myself better as we again get into milder weather. I cannot help thinking this is my last visit to China for some time for I have fully made up my mind to go home if I do not get my appointment to the Army. I find Mrs Dow a great invalid requiring much attention. Passengers ^{are} all jolly. Mr Dent is giving me no trouble; ^{little} Mitchell is my patient, Rheumatism; the good ship does not go, she is evidently being humbugged; what with bad coal and a bad engineer, she is losing her name, all passengers are complaining. My old friend McLean is as jolly

Mr. H. Saunders, Capt. Parker, and servant, Elizabeth; Mitchell, Major and Mrs. Jodder, both being and servant; Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, 2 children, Chinese horses; 9 Spaniards; 1 Signora, Mr. J. Wilks, Delafield, Dr. Bosa, Mrs. John Dent, Kadi- the Purdonjee and 3 persons. Mr. Li Goo, Mr. McLean, Mr. Willis- and, Conolly, Tarrest, A. Campbell, Mrs. Dow, 1 child, 1 servant, Little Mason, 4 natives, being 28 in all, 4 children and servants. Mr. and Mrs. Jodder are very pleasant; she knows the names of Antigua and I have met her father at their house in Southampton.

Friday, 10th March 1857.
 Lat. 19.31N. Long. 118.39W. (Time 10.52 miles)
 Bar. Max. 30.02 Min. 29.98
 Thermom. " 75 " 67
 Wind S.W. Light breeze, fine.

I am feeling myself better as we again get into milder weather. I cannot help thinking this is my last visit to China for some time for I have fully made up my mind to go home if I do not get my appointment to the Army. I find Mrs. Dow a great invalid requiring much attention. Passengers all fairly content. The ship is giving me no trouble; Mitchell is my patient, Rheumatism; the good ship does not go, she is evidently being humbugged; what with bad coal and a bad engineer, she is losing her name, all passengers are complaining. My old friend McLean is as jolly as ever with his Sirs!!!; we have a jolly set round us at table

 Mrs. Dow is worse, have plenty on my hands to keep me employed.

Shocking work we are making of it; chance of being out of coal pleasantly and we were getting on better than any anticipated; a again.

Saturday, 17th. March 1855.

Lat. 16.49N. Long. 110.50E. Course & distance S. 32 W. 192 miles.

Bearing and distance Cape Varella S. 19.34 W. 248 miles.

Winds N.E. Moderate breeze & fine.

Bar. Max. 30.09. Min. 30.

Thermom. " 78. " 70.

Calm fine weather; ship going on steadily at 7 knots. Mrs Dow no better. Patients generally well. Everything goes on as usual.

Sunday, 18th. March 1855.

Lat. 13.54 N. Long. 109.50 E. Course & distance S. 16 W. 211 miles.

Bar. Max. 30.07. Min. 28.97.

Thermom. " 80. " 76.

Winds W. Light breeze, fine.

Bearing & distance Pulo Sapala S. 112 W. 212 miles.

Got a wind at last progress better. Prayers and quiet-ude. Sunday properly observed. Mrs Dow worse; forced to apply fomentations and leeches; irritable stomach and great debility, injection of opium, an over with his girls!!! we have a jolly set round us at table

Mrs Dow is worse, have plenty on my hands to keep me employed.
Shocking work we are making of it; chance of being out of coal again.

Saturday, 17th March 1893

Lat. 10.48N, Long. 110.50E. (Course 110.50E, 192 miles)
Bearing and distance to Cape Mendocino 219.30 10.548 miles.
Winds W. E. Moderate breeze, fine.

Bar. Max. 30.02 Min. 30. Thermom. " 78. " 70.

Calm fine weather; ship going on steadily, knots. Mrs Dow no better. Patients generally well. Everything goes on
as usual.

Sunday, 18th March 1893

Lat. 12.54N Long. 109.50E. (Course 110.50E, 211 miles)
Bar. Max. 30.07 Min. 29.97

Thermom. " 80. " 75.

Winds W. Light breeze, fine. Evening & distance to Cape Mendocino 211.30 11.512 miles.
Got a wind at last, progress better. Prayers and quietness. Sunney properly observed. Mrs Dow worse; forced to applymentations and leeches. Irritable stomach and great debility, injection of opium, and a good night's sleep. Mrs Dow better. Prayers and quietness.

Lat. $9^{\circ}42'N$. Long. $109^{\circ}13'E$. Course & distance $S 38^{\circ}39'W$. 227 miles
 Bearing & distance Pulo Var. $S 32.37'W$. 5-14 miles, 121.
 Prevailing winds N.N.E. moderate & fine.

Monday, 19th. March 1855

Bar. Max. 30.06. Min. ^{29.86}~~109.13~~ E. ~~227~~ miles.
 Therm. " 84 Min. 80.
 Therm. My patient, better to-day but very much. All goes on pleasantly and we are getting on better than any anticipated; a good breeze at 2 a.m. to Singapore and stay there to coal on account of Collected Buttertooth. No mail in from England and the unpleasant news that we Tuesday, 20th. March 1855. passengers and

Lat. $6.23N$. Long. $106.55E$. Course & distance $S 34^{\circ}28'W$. 241 miles.
 Bearing & dist. Pulo Var $S 30.50'W$. 243 miles.
 Prevailing Winds N.E. Moderate breeze & fine. Asant to be left be-

Bar. at Max. 29.90. Min. 29.82. Am feeling exceedingly Thermom. " on 83. " and " 81. Catherine Hayes, the

col. No marked improvement in my Patient; she will not follow my directions; what can I do?; she gets on deck for an hour.
 John Dent is a very good fellow, promising to do any thing for me if I like to go to Foochee, Foo.

Wednesday, 21st. March 1855.

Lat. $3^{\circ}58'$. Long. $104^{\circ}47'E$. Course & distance $S 32^{\circ}45'W$. 235 miles
 Bar. Max. 29.86. Min. 29.80.

Thermom. " 84. " 80.

Prev. Winds, and N. E. Moderate breeze, fair. and fine
 Bearing & dist. Pulo Var. $S 19.51'W$ 38 miles.
 Are going along jollily. Shall get in to-morrow and am preparing my letters for that port. My patients are, - Mrs Dow John Dent, Major Lodder, little Mitchell and old Eduljee Furdonjee; hope to get a fee from some. Are passing ^{the} Pulo Var 4 p.m.
 9 p.m., saw Pedro Branco light and lay to for the night.

Lat. 10° 42' N. Long. 104° 15' E. Course a distance 28.5 miles
 Bearing distance into Var. 2.50 miles. 2-10 miles
 Proceeding inside N.M.F. - 100 yards a day.

Monday, 18th March 1932

Bar. Max. 30.00. Min. 29.80.
 Therm. 84.
 My patient better to-day but very much. All goes on pleasantly and we are getting on better than any anticipated; a good breeze.

Tuesday, 20th March 1932

Lat. 6° 23' N. Long. 106° 55' E. Course a distance 24.5 miles
 Bearing distance into Var. 2.50 miles. 2-10 miles
 Proceeding inside N.M.F. - 100 yards a day.
 Bar. Max. 29.90. Min. 29.82.
 Therm. 82. " 81.
 No marked improvement in my patient; she will not follow my directions; what can I do? she gets on deck for an hour.
 John Dent is a very good fellow, promising to do any thing for me if I like to go to Foochow.

Wednesday, 21st March 1932

Lat. 3° 28' N. Long. 108° 45' E. Course a distance 22.5 miles. 2-10 miles
 Bearing distance into Var. 2.50 miles. 2-10 miles
 Proceeding inside N.M.F. - 100 yards a day.
 Bar. Max. 29.86. Min. 29.80.
 Therm. 84. " 84.
 Winds; E. E. E. Moderate breeze; calm and fine.
 Are going along jolly. Shall get in to-morrow and am preparing my letters for that port. My patients are - Mrs. Bow John Dent, Major Loder, little Mitchell and old Kibjee burden-too; hope to get a fee from some. Are passing into Var 4 p.m.
 9 p.m., saw Pedro Brance light and lay to for the night.

Thursday, 22nd. March 1853-

Bar. Max. 29.89. Min. 29.84.

Thermom. " 82. " 80.

Wind. A fine morning with a light breeze and nothing can be

Get in at 9 a.m. to Singapore and stay there to coal on account of ^{Colonel? General} ~~Colonel~~ Buttertooth. No mail in from England and the unpleasant news that we are to be crowded with passengers and forced to give up my cabin; am exceedingly disgusted and write many letters ^{to Mrs. R.} but finding it would be unpleasant to be left behind at this particular time, consent. Am feeling exceedingly unwell. Call on Mrs. R., and there see ^{Miss} Catherine Hayes, the celebrated singer and cannot admire her as a beauty. Dine and take up my quarters at Spark's; a most delightful spot in company with my little Friend Mason.

Friday, 23rd. March 1853-

Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.90.

Thermom. " 83. " 80.

A very wet morning and as we shall not ^{sail} ~~start~~ till to-morrow Mason and I remain at the Bungalow and amuse ourselves with drawing etc. After tiffin proceed to Town where I borrow of ^{Cona & Co} Admiralty Agent 40% ^{to pay Admiralty Agent}. Call on friends; am invited to hear the Hayes, but decline. Return early to Bungalow and amuse myself by drawing old Marshall's house. Dinner party in evening; pleasant sant

Thursday, 22nd March 1882

Bar. Max. 29.89. Min. 29.84.
Thermom. " 82. " 80.
Wind. S.W. 10 m.p.h. (at 10 a.m.)
Get in at 9 a.m. to Singapore and stay there to conf on account of Collected Butterflies. No mail in from England and the unpleasant news that we are to be crowded with passengers and forced to give up my cabin; am exceedingly disgusted and write many letters but finding it would be unpleasant to be left behind at this particular time, consent. Am feeling exceedingly unwell. Call on Mrs. R., and there see Catherine Hayes, the celebrated singer and cannot admire her as a beauty. Wine and take up my quarters at Spark's; a most delightful spot in town.
Party with my little friend Mason. (Mason is a very nice boy.)
I like to see the town and the people.

Friday, 23rd March 1882

Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.80.
Thermom. " 83. " 80.
A very wet morning and as we shall not start till to-morrow Mason and I remain at the Bungalow and amuse ourselves with drawing etc. After tillin proceed to town where I borrow of Admission Agents 40s. Call on friends; am invited to hear the Hayes, but decline. Return early to Bungalow and amuse myself by drawing old Marshall's house. Dinner party in evening; please and night of it and exit.

Saturday, 24th. March 1853—

Bar. max. 29.94 min 29.72.

Therm. max. 83. min. 80. time

A fine morning; return early to Ship, and nothing can describe the confusion and riot on board, many turned out of cabins others bunked forward. I am completely miserable having no place to dress or sleep in. 12 noon, General Butterworth and Ladies come on board with all honours; we man the yards, and cheering ⁱⁿ ~~to~~ a great ^{dim} ~~extent~~. Get away and feeling confident I shall not return; turn in on the top of the table to rest but not to sleep. Mail in with the news of Dissolution of Parliament;

Aberdeen out, Palmerston in. An awful account of our poor fellows at ^{the} Crimea; 30,000 Russians passed ^{the} ~~besiegers~~ and got into Sebastopol; a hope that all ^{will} ~~may~~ yet be well. Passengers from Singapore; General, Mrs. and Miss Butterworth, Mr. and Mrs Stertz

2 Daughters, Mr. De Wilde, Eaton, Schulz, Remdorf, Moliere, Hoffland, Don Huesta and Servant, Corregido, Hernandez,, Comes, Leachy and Servants, Bland, Rigg, ^{Aumes} ~~Aumes~~, 2 Natives, 5 Natives,

Mr ^{Schewable} ~~Chenoble~~, Mr Matheson. ~~shot till 11 am. in the burning sun.~~

~~to 11 am. and heat till 11; most~~ ^(our shakies)

silly but on getting to the boat Soda and Sherry restored us; enjoyed ourselves very much and just reached Ship at noon, her time for starting, perfectly fatigued. of China in miniature; shot till 11 am. in the burning sun most silly, but on getting to the boat soda & sherry restored our shakiness. Enjoyed ourselves very much and just reached the ship at 12 am. her time of starting, perfectly fatigued.

Sunday, 25th. March 1855

Lat. 3.17N.

Long. 100.42E.

Prev. Winds ~~SE~~

^{now} Variable, fine.

Bar. Max. 29.94.

Min. 29.84.

Thermom. " 84.

" 80.

A day not spent as it ought to be in the service of God although we had (fully service) performed by a Company's Chaplain. All is bustle and confusion, no order, plan or regularity; I grieve to see it and delighted to ^{have} ~~be~~ it.

Monday, 26th. March 1855

Bar. Max. 29.99.

Min. 29.90.

Thermom. " 85.

" 80.

Arrive at Penang at 6 am. Capt. Parker, ^{R. N. myself} and ~~self~~ proceed to the main land for shooting, a pull of 3 miles. On landing and walking over a flat country divided into sections of young Cocoa nut trees for 4 Miles, we found our guide knew nothing of the ground. Disgusted and hot, we walked across country to the boat again passing through marsh and cocoa nut plantations and brushwood and fell on a spot where we killed 5 couple of ^{full} snipe and 5 of ^{one called the Plant} quail, a pretty small ~~kind~~ of 2 sorts, one grey, the other representing the ~~same~~ partridge of China in miniature; shot till 11 am. in the burning sun; most silly, but on getting to the boat soda & sherry restored our shakiness. Enjoyed ourselves very much and just reached the ship at 12 am. her time of starting, perfectly fatigued.

ward of 50 persons at Tuesday, March 27th. 1855.

Lat. 5.50N. Long. 96.42.E. Course 44th N. 84 W. 206 miles.

Bearing & distance Pulo Rondo N. 81° 26 W. 94 miles.

Prevailing Winds. N.W.

Light calms & sultry weather.

Bar. max. 30.03. min. 29.97. Therm. max. 85. min. 80.

Feel myself stiff and tired this morning; had the game for breakfast. Find the 2nd Class passengers and servants and in fact every person ~~to be~~ who has ^S not a comfortable place to shake down in ^{the} sleep aft in Saloon; ^{awoke} wake up last night with the big toe of a dirty Spaniard in my mouth or between my lips; got up and kicked him off the seat on which he was sleeping; caused a great row and reported ^{the} same to ^{the} Captain, who told me the 2nd Class had no place to sleep in but there, on which I said I should pursue the same course of conduct. All passengers back me up in fighting for 6 ft. of ^{the} dining table, a pretty state of things for an Officer of a respectable Company to be thrown into such a position as to have to fight for sleeping places in Saloons; disgrace indeed. 11., passed Pulo Rondo.

Am rendered totally enfeebled and miserable from having no cabin to turn into but Wednesday, 28th. March 1855.

Lat. 6.15N. Weather Long. 93.E. Course & dist. N. 83 W. 223 miles.

Bearing & dist. Pt. de Galle S. 88. 57. W. 760 miles.

Prev. Winds. NW. N. ~~W.~~ W. Light Airs and calms.

Bar. Max. 30.02. Min. 29.95.

Thermom. " 86. Long. 91. 19E. " 82.

Wind Rise early and laugh heartily at the same thing occurring to Capt. Parker ^{as myself} and self. The close atmosphere breathed by up-

Thermom. " 87. " 82.

Tuesday, March 27, 1933.

Lat. 6.50N. Long. 98.42E. (Course 140.0 miles).
 1300 hours. Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.95. Thermom. 82.
 Wind. W. 10. Air 82. Sea calm. Visibility 10 miles.
 Fog myself still and tired this morning; had the same for breakfast. With the 2nd class passengers and servants and in fact every person ~~to~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~same~~ ^{same} ~~place~~ ^{place} ~~as~~ ^{as} ~~last~~ ^{last} ~~night~~ ^{night} place to shake down in sleep at in Saloon; ~~up~~ ^{up} ~~last~~ ^{last} ~~night~~ ^{night} with the big toe of a dirty Spaniard in my mouth or between my lips; got up and kicked him off the seat on which he was sleeping; caused a great row and reported same to Captain, who told me

 the 2nd class had no place to sleep in but there, on which I said I should pursue the same course of conduct. All passengers back me up in fighting for a ft. of dining table, a pretty state of things for an Officer of a respectable Company to be thrown into such a position as to have to fight for sleeping places in Saloons; disgrace indeed. If, passed Pulo Rondo.

Wednesday, 28th March 1933.

Lat. 6.15N. Long. 98.5E. (Course 140.0 miles).
 1300 hours. Bar. 30.02. Min. 29.95. Thermom. 82.
 Wind. W. 10. Air 82. Sea calm. Visibility 10 miles.
 Fog myself still and tired this morning; had the same for breakfast. With the 2nd class passengers and servants and in fact every person ~~to~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~same~~ ^{same} ~~place~~ ^{place} ~~as~~ ^{as} ~~last~~ ^{last} ~~night~~ ^{night}
 place to shake down in sleep at in Saloon; ~~up~~ ^{up} ~~last~~ ^{last} ~~night~~ ^{night} with the big toe of a dirty Spaniard in my mouth or between my lips; got up and kicked him off the seat on which he was sleeping; caused a great row and reported same to Captain, who told me
 the 2nd class had no place to sleep in but there, on which I said I should pursue the same course of conduct. All passengers back me up in fighting for a ft. of dining table, a pretty state of things for an Officer of a respectable Company to be thrown into such a position as to have to fight for sleeping places in Saloons; disgrace indeed. If, passed Pulo Rondo.

ward of 50 persons sleeping in a cabin $35\frac{1}{2} \times 20$, & badly ventilated, causes many to feel unwell. Lost as we get off Point de Galle at 7.30 p.m., too late to get in. No fees appear to me.

A boat sent in; find Thursday, 29th. March 1855.

Lat. 6.13N. Long. 89.57E. Course & dist. S. 89.31 E. 237 miles.

Bearing & dist. Pt. de Galle. S. 88. 43 W. 335 miles.

Prev. Winds. N.W. Calms & sultry weather.

Bar. Max. 30.06 Min. 29.95 Therm. max. 88 Min. 84.

Extraordinary weather; not a catspaw on ^{the} water, smooth as ^{this continued} glass, the whole passage across the Bay of Bengal. My patients are all recovering ⁱⁿ spite of ^{the} crowded ~~state of~~ ship and all seem charitably disposed. Cool, light breeze.

Get into the harbour by 7 a.m. The mail has passed; no particular news except Friday, March 30th. 1855.

Lat. 6.10N. Long. 85 5E. Course & dist. S.W. 84 W. 239 miles.

Bearing & dist. Point de Galle S. 88° 15' N. 290 miles.

Prev. Winds. S.W. Calms & sultry.

Bar. Max. 30.01 Min. 29.93.

Thermom. " 87. " 84.

Am rendered totally unsettled and miserable from having no cabin to turn into but knowing ^{that} it cannot last for 7 years, am consoled. Weather fair, ^{still} calm and moonlight.

requested by ^{the} Captain to visit Stewardess of "Bengal" under Mr. Grace's charge Saturday, 31st. March 1855

Lat. 6.2E. Long. 81.19E. Course & dist. S. 84 W. 225 miles.

Prev. Winds. Variable, calms & sultry.

Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.90.

Thermom. " 87. " 82.

All delighted ^{at} to see ^{ing} land, 7.30., ^{a.m.} and possibility of getting in to-night but are and lost as we get off Point de Galle at 7.30 p.m., too late to get in. No fees appear to me.

A boat sent in; find "Bengal" waiting full of passengers.

Retire early to bed but no sleep. ^{go to bottom of harbour edge} as near surf as safety will permit; 4 of us agree to swim through it to shore which appears Sunday, April 1st. 1855. Looking back, saw

Bar. one Max. 30.00 and the Min. 29.97. of a fearful sea about

Thermom.; has "just 86. time to turn" 82. it, towered above my Wind. W. It myself a Cool, light breeze. King top, dived and then

Get into the harbour by 7 a.m. The Mail has passed; no particular news except that matters are worse and the ^{Ministry} Admiralty is again changed; how sad it is. All bustle and confusion.

Having no servant, I lose temper with Randals and box his ears, ⁷ returns it, so I lick him properly; get back to my cabin.

All passengers ^{leave} ship for Bengal. No fees, no thanks, no adieux; disgusted I get out of ship and go to Church, after ^{which} ~~ward~~

I feel better. Dine with Dr. Cowen and he tells me no obstacle will stand in the way of my being appointed to the Army. Am requested by ~~(the)~~ Captain ^(? Home) Parnham to visit ^{the} Stewardess of ^{the} "Bengal" under Mr. Grace's charge; find her dying from effusion on the brain after Cholera. Take walk round ^a ramparts ^{to} return on board to tea. Mr. Barnes thinks proper to come and apologize for his conduct ^{6 weeks} some ~~time~~ since and hopes I will forgive him, shake him by the hand.

All delighted to see land, 7.30, and possibility of getting in to-night but are and lost as we get off point de Galie at 7.30 p.m., too late to get in. No fees appear to me. A boat sent in; find "Bengal" waiting full of passengers. Retire early to bed but no sleep.

Sunday, April 1st, 1852.

Bar. Max. 50.00 Min. 29.97. Wind. W. Cool, light breeze. Get into the harbour by 7 a.m. The mail has passed; no particular news except that matters are worse and the situation is again changed; how sad it is. All hostile and confusion. Having no servant, I lose temper with Randall and box his ears. returns it, so I tick him properly; get back to my cabin. All passengers have ship for Bengal. No fees, no thanks, no adieu; disgusted I get out of ship and go to Church, afterwards feel better. Dine with Mr. Gowen and he tells me no obstacles will stand in the way of my being appointed to the Army. requested by Captain (Thornham to visit Stewards of "Bengal" under Mr. Grace's charge; find her dying from effusion on the brain after Cholera. Take walk round ramparts; return on board to tea. Mr. Barnes thinks proper to come and apologize for his conduct some time since and hopes I will forgive him, shake him by the hand.

Monday, April 2nd. 1855

Bar. Max. 30.07. Min. 29.97.

Thermom. " 88. " 84.

Prev. Wind. W. Light and fine.

Get up at 6 ^{am} for a bath; proceed to ^{the} bottom of ^{the} harbour ~~to get~~ as near surf as safety will permit; 4 of us agree to swim through it to ^{the} shore which appeared to be little; on looking back, I saw only one following me and he on the top of a fearful sea about breaking; had just time to turn ^{round to} ~~and~~ face it, towered above my head, felt myself sucked up to its breaking top, dived and then felt myself rushing thro' the water, came to the top exhausted only ^{in time} to dive again to another and to see my companion sucked up to the very top of the approaching breaker and ^{hurled} ~~hauled~~ into the abyss beneath; received the shock better and made fast for the beach, felt the bottom but again ^{receiving} ~~needed~~ to ^{another} ~~avoid the~~ breaker, sucked in again and thrown ^{violently} on the hard bottom, felt frightened and almost insensible, again felt bottom and struck out for ^{the} beach and thank God, succeeded; exhausted I looked round for my companion and presently saw him curled up again and carried along by the surf to within a few yards of where I stood, the water ^{being} up to my middle; ~~soon~~ saw that he was insensible and had the presence of mind to rush to him to save him; ^{from the receding water} with the utmost difficulty dragged him to the shore where in a few moments he recovered himself; the Boat's crew saw our danger but

Monday, April 2nd, 1933

Bar. 30.07

Max. 30.07

Min. 29.97

Thermom. " 30.07

Wind. W. Light and fine.

Get up at 6 a.m. for a bath; proceed to bottom of harbor as near surf as safety will permit; 4 of us agree to swim through it to shore which appeared to be little; on looking back, saw only one following me and he on the top of a fearful sea about breaking; had just time to turn and face it, towered above my head, felt myself sucked up to its breaking top, dived and then felt myself rushing thro' the water, came to the top exhausted only to dive again to another and to see my companion sucked up to the very top of the approaching breaker and hurled into the abyss beneath; received the shock better and made fast for the beach, felt the bottom but again needed to evade the breaker, sucked in again and thrown on the hard bottom, felt frightened and almost insensible, again felt bottom and struck out for the beach and thank God, succeeded; exhausted I looked round for my companion and presently saw him curled up again and carried along by the surf to within a few yards of where I stood, the water up to my middle; soon saw that he was insensible and had the presence of mind to turn to him to save him; with the utmost difficulty dragged him to the shore where in a few moments he recovered himself; the boat's crew saw our danger but could not help us, as she ^{must have been swamped.} ~~was dismayed~~. After 20 minutes my friend became better and I then left him, promising to pull round some 3 miles and bring his clothes. I entered the surf ^{which seemed to be higher} and dived at every sea with the greatest coolness; some ^{I swear} waves were 12 to 15 feet above my head; I reached the boat ^{in safety} but completely knocked up; the clothes ^{were} sent to friend on shore, both he and those on boat declare that I was once not seen for 3 minutes after a sea had broken over me and that they thought I was lost; it is a shelving sandy beach so gradual as to cause the seas to break ^{at} a tremendous distance carrying their uplifted heads some 100 yards; strange to say when we left the boat it appeared calm but from some cause seas came tumbling into the harbour such as are only seen ^{in the strongest} with the S.W. monsoon; one ship snapped her cable. After doing all I had to do on shore, buying curios we got under weigh having the following Passengers: ^{with us, viz:}

Rev.

One guide, Mr. Short, Mr. Muirhead and Servant, Honble. Mr. and Mrs Elliott ^{child} and Servants, Mr. Roper, Capt. Harvey, R. Runchard ^{loss}, 3 Servants, Mr. Adam and Servant, ^{Hormusjee & servant,} Honble. and Mrs Mallet, 1 ^{mat} Servant, Mr Lawrence. Sailed at 2 p.m.

Tuesday, 3rd. April 1855.

Bearings of Cape Comorin NE. 5 miles;
Bar. Max. 29.98. Min. 29.91.

Thermom. " 88. 2 84.

Rev. Winds. Variable & light.

Passengers are settled. I am very sore from yesterday's could not help us, as she was ~~unwilling~~ After 30 minutes my friend became better and I then left him, promising to pull round some 3 miles and bring his clothes. I entered the surf and dived at every sea with the greatest coolness; some waves were 12 to 15 feet above my head; I reached the boat, but completely knocked up; the clothes sent to friend on shore, both he and those on boat declare that I was once not seen for 3 minutes after a sea had broken over me and that they thought I was lost; it is a shelving sandy beach so gradual as to cause the seas to break a tremendous distance carrying their uplifted heads some 100 yards; strange to say when we left the boat it appeared calm but from some cause seas came tumbling into the harbour such as are only seen with the S.W. monsoon; one ship snapped her cable. After doing all I had to do on shore, buying cigarettes we got under weigh having the following passengers:- One Guide, Mr. Short, Mr. Nuthead and Servant, Honble. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and Servants, Mr. Roper, Capt. Harvey, R. Run- charloss, 3 Servants, Mr. Adam and Servant, Honble. and Mrs. Mallet, 1 Servant, Mr. Lawrence. Sailed at 2 p.m.

Tuesday, 3rd April 1901.
Bar. Max. 29.98. Min. 29.01.
Thermom. " 88. " 84.
Winds. Variable light.
Passengers are settled. I am very sore from yesterday's exercise; my friend in affliction is going up to return ^{Prigoin} Lawrence his name is Roper, of whom I have heard Lawrence speak; how lucky he should go up with me, jolly fellow. The Elldots have a child, a wretched noisy creature; they are both advanced in years and ostentatious. Lawrence on board, is gentlemanly, an adventurer from Australia.

Thermom. " 87. Wednesday, 4th. April 1855.

Lat. 10.44N. Long. 75.55E. Course & dist. N. 31° W. 193 miles.

Bearing and distance Sacrifice Rock N. 29° E. 5.3 miles.
Prev. Winds. N.W. Variable. Light and fair. head w. & clear.

Bar. and Max. 29.98. Min. 29.92.

Thermom. " 87. " 83.

Do not seem to settle without a servant, ^{am perfectly unsettled} how miserable.

Making sad ^{runs and shall} ~~seas~~, nothing before Saturday, how unfortunate. ^{Are} ~~in~~ passing close ^{to the land} ~~to~~ Calicut and Lighthouse, pass close to the sacrifice rock ^{at 6.30} which is between Calicut and Cananore where we landed the Bishop at 9 p.m.

Flight ship at 5 a.m., when taking pilot, steamed into harbour and at 7.30, arrived at Managan.

News, death of the Osar Thursday, 5th. April 1855. receive 5 letters

Lat. 13.37N. Sarah, Long. 74.10E. Course & dist. N. 31° W. 201 miles.

Bearing & distance Pigeon Island N. 40° W. 30 miles.
Prev. Winds. N.W. none from Variable, light & fine. Anxious to go to the Bar. and Max. 30.15, 2 from Min. 29.92. and containing answer

Thermom. " 88 that I being " 82. away, he could do nothing Passed Mount Dilly at 11.30. and are making dreadful ^{runs} ~~seas~~, what miserable work. Find a man on board ^{of the of} ~~named~~ Lawrence, an old ^{Tonbridge} ~~Sundridge~~ Boy, a good fellow, also a Mr. Short from Birm-exercise; my friend in affliction is going up to see Lawrence his name is Robert, of whom I have heard Lawrence speak; how lucky he should go up with me, Jolly fellow. The Misses have a child, a wretched noisy creature; they are both advanced in years and ostentatious. Lawrence on board, is gentlemanly, a character from Australia.

Wednesday, 4th April 1852

Lat. 10.44N. Long. 75.55E. (Course 100 miles)
Bar. Max. 29.92. Min. 29.92.
Thermom. " 87. " 85.
Wind N.W. Variable. Light breeze in the day.
Breeze and rain. Rain N.W. 29.92. 8.3 miles.

That seem to settle without a servant, how miserable.
Making sad news, nothing before Saturday, how unfortunate.
passing close to Calicut and Lighthouse, pass close to the sea-riff rock which is between Calicut and Cannanore where we landed the Bishop at 9 p.m.

Thursday, 5th April 1852

Lat. 12.37N. Long. 74.10E. (Course 100 miles)
Bar. Max. 30.00. Min. 29.92.
Thermom. " 88. " 85.
Wind N.W. Variable. Light breeze.

Passed Mount Dilly at 11.30. and are making dreadful what miserable work. Find a man on board named Lawrence, an old ~~Swedish~~ boy, a good fellow also a Mr. Short from Bir-ingham, travelling to see India. ^{feeling} Am very unsettled and anxious ^{the} to hear news at Bombay. ^λ ~~disappointed as it; however I intend to proceed to Europe direct~~

^λ ~~if I can after sick certificate. Call on Hewitt and find him out. Lawrence gone home, so I have no friend to ask to go~~

Lat. $16^{\circ} 38' N$. Long. $73^{\circ} 04' E$. Friday, 6th. April 1855.
 Course & dist. $N 19^{\circ} W$. 192 m.

Winds N.W. Light and fine.

Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.94.

Thermom. " 87. " 82.

^λ ~~Bearing & dist. On the 7. Light N. W. 132 miles~~
 Good Friday, but no Cross Buns. Shall be in to-morrow.

^{Early this morning} ~~passed the "Singapore" bound to China. I am dying to hear the~~ news and ~~to~~ be directed in my future movements.

Saturday, 7th. April 1855.

Bar. Max. 30.01. Min. 29.95.

Thermom. " 87. " 81.

Wind. W. and fine. Fair.

Arrived off the out ~~Flight~~ Ship at 6 a.m., when taking ~~pi-~~ lot, steamed into harbour and at 7.30, arrived at Mazagon.

News, death of the Czar Nicholas of Russia. Receive 5 letters from Walter, Sarah, Edwin, Humphrey, Dr. Maillardet, all old dates, and none from Bob or Sir. W. Pym. Anxious ^{to} go to the fort and then receive ^{from Office} 2 from Robert, kind and containing ^{my} answer that he saw Kirk and that I being so far away, he could do nothing for me; ^{but} advised me to proceed at once to Crimea and take

~~my chance and my credentials~~ to Lord Raglan and ask employment;

a pretty Cock and Bull ^{affair} ~~story~~ I should make of it. I am much Ingham, travelling to see India. Am very unsettled and anxious to hear news at Bombay.

Friday, 6th April 1887
Light and fine. W.W. Wind. 15.38 W. Temp. 71° on E. Corvus at 11.10. 190 m.

Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.94.
Thermom. 87. " 82.
Good Friday, but no Cross Buns. Shall be in to-morrow.
Passed the "Singapore" home to China. I am going to hear the news and to be directed in my future movements.

Saturday, 7th April 1887
Bar. Max. 30.01. Min. 29.98.

Thermom. 87. " 81.
Wind. W. and fine.
Arrived off the out right ship at 6 a.m., when taking 51-lot, steamed into harbor and at 7.30, arrived at Messager.

News, death of the Czar Nicholas of Russia. Receive 5 letters from Walter, Sarah, Edwin, Humphrey, Dr. Wallerstedt all old dates, and none from Bob or Sir W. Pym. Anxious to go to the fort and then receive 2 from Robert, kind and containing answer that he saw Kirk and that I being so far away, he could do nothing for me; advised me to proceed at once to Crimea and take my chance and my credentials to Lord Raglan and ask employment;
a pretty Cook and Bull story I should make of it. I am much and down in the mouth about ^{immediately} disappointed ~~at~~ it; however I intend to proceed to Europe direct ^{if} if I can after sick certificate. Call on Hewett and find him out. Lawrence gone home, ^{and therefore have} ~~so~~ I have no friend to ask ^{me} to go up ^{to} Malabar Hill.

Sunday, 8th. April 1855.

Proceed to the ^{Cathedral} ~~Church~~ in the Fort with Capt. Aldham and then again receive ^{the} Sacrament; spend ^{the} remainder of day ^{the in} quiet ~~ness~~ ^{ness}.

Monday, 9th. April 1855

Go to the fort and find Dr. Youell who considers I ought to go home after which I see Mr. Ritchie who tells me he will make every arrangement etc. Find my mind relieved on that subject. Call on Friend Roper who asks me to spend a day with him; ^{refuse} ~~do~~ ~~line~~ till after the mail. See Oriental Bank fellows and make arrangements to go to Caves on Wednesday.

Tuesday, 10th. April 1855.

After dinner go for a walk. ^{Edwin} ~~Edward~~ Spend a regular hard letter writing day to ~~Edward~~, Walter, Bob, Loo, Sally etc.

Wednesday, 11th. April 1855.

At 11^{am} in company with Admiralty Agent, Mr. Wooldridge, Mr. ^{Lawrence} ~~Aldridge~~ and Barnes, 4th Officer, I started for the Caves of and down in the morning about disappointed as it; however I intend to proceed to Europe direct as if I can after sick certificate. Call on Hewett and find him out. Lawrence gone home, as I have no friend to ask to go up Malabar Hill.

Sunday, 8th April 1882.

Proceed to the ~~garden~~ in the Fort with Capt. Aldham and then again receive Sacrament; spend remainder of day ~~in the~~ ~~garden~~

Monday, 9th April 1882.

Go to the Fort and find Dr. Youell who considers I ought to go home after which I see Mr. Ritchie who tells me he will make every arrangement etc. Find my mind relieved on that subject.
Call on friend Roger who asks me to spend a day with him; time till after the mail. See Oriental Bank fellow and make arrangements to go to Caves on Wednesday.

Tuesday, 10th April 1882.

Spend a regular hard letter writing day to Edmund, Walter,
Bob, Joe, Sally etc.

Wednesday, 11th April 1882.

At 11 in company with Admiralty Agent, Mr. Woolbridge, Mr.
Admiralty and Barnes, 4th Officer, I started for the Caves of Elephanta with Mail ^{boat} ~~box~~ and had a beautiful run down there; ourselves carried away by the tide on the off shore butcher's land; out cars and pulled to the ship, being 10 miles; both blowing a strong breeze; shortly after getting under weigh, sheet ^{carried} ~~blown~~ away, and after repairing, carried away sheet hook; I am at the helm and have much difficulty in managing her, having too much canvas on her and being forced to shake her; all on board a little ^{funky} ~~frightened~~ but after 2 hours get on board 8 p.m., Communion Service and Hymns. Go on board, spend a remarkably quiet day.

Thursday, 12th. April 1853-

Felt very seedy to-day. Proceed to fort and see Lawrence with whom I tiff. Sell my drawers to Macfarlane and 2000 Cigars at 30 Rs. Return on board with Mc. and early to bed is the general rule. ^{Post letters, proceed to Malabar Hill, stake up quarters with Roper.}

Friday, 13th. April 1853-

A whole day's letter writing and quietude.

Saturday, 13th. April 1853-

Stay in house all day, finishing drawings and amusing myself with Soda water Sparrows and Pigeons with a Monte Cristo pistol; the ~~S.W.~~ Bottle and he not having seen the Caves, I sail there and show him all the lions; after this walk him to the top of the opposite hill and show him another temple; ^{after which} ~~then~~ take him a walk ^{slap} ~~sharp~~ across the Island to the ^{ruined} ~~gigantic~~ Elephant carved out of granite; having sent our boat round to meet us, again embarked and the wind failing us and ^{it} ~~becoming~~ dark, we suddenly find

Elephant with tail and had a beautiful run down there;
 spent a very pleasant day and start at 6 in evening to return;
 blowing a strong breeze; shortly after getting under weigh, sheet blows away, and after repairing, carried away sheet hook; I am at the helm and have much difficulty in managing her, having too much canvas on her and being forced to shake her; all on board a little fatigued but after 2 hours get on board 8 p.m., enjoyed myself as usual.

Thursday, 12th April 1872

Felt very seedy to-day. Proceeded to fort and see Lawrence with whom I left. Sail my drawers to Macfarlane and 2000 GI-bars at 30 Rs. Return on board with Mc. and early to bed in the general rule.

Friday, 13th April 1872

A whole day's letter writing and outstude.

Saturday, 14th April 1872

After dinner go for a sail with Mr. Miller, 2nd Officer in the ~~Star~~ Bottle and he not having seen the Caves, I sail there and show him all the lions; after this walk him to the top of the opposite hill and show him another temple; then take him a walk ~~across~~ ^{slap} across the island to the gigantic Elephant carved out of granite; having sent our boat round to meet us, again embarked and the wind falling us and becoming dark, we suddenly find ourselves carried away by the tide on the reef off Butcher's Island; out oars and pulled to the Ship, ^{distance} being 10 miles; both knocked up and tired of Cave ~~seeing~~ ^{seeing}.

Sunday, 15th. April 1855.

Go to the Bycullah Church; very late and only in time for ^{the} Communion Service and Sermon. Go on board, spend a remarkably quiet day.

Monday, 16th. April 1855.

Continue to write ^{all my} letters stating ^{that I am about} I ~~intend~~ to proceed to the good old Country. "Ganges" getting up steam to proceed to Suez; my ship warping into dock. Pack up ^{my} traps, ^{my} go to fort, ^{my} and post letters. ^{Then} proceed to Malabar Hill, ^{my} take up quarters with Roper.

Tuesday, 17th. April 1855.

Stay in ^{the} house all day, finishing ^{my} drawings and amusing myself shooting Sparrows and Pigeons with a Monte Cristo pistol; good shooting.

Wednesday, 18th. April 1855.

Proceed to the fort and amuse myself by drawing; no occurrences worthy ^{of} note. Proceed to Mazagon and Ship; find all well, ^{my} and get ^{the} pistols, ^{my} away again to ^{the} hill.

Thursday, 19th. April 1855

Again to the Fort, visit May of the Blackwood; finish drawings and at 5 p.m., proceed on foot to the hills, 4 Miles along the sands of Back Bay; on our way visit the place on the beach where the Hindoos burn their dead bodies; this is a sort of raised parade; we saw 5 burning, one quite consumed, saw the bones of another frying away, another charred and another just lighted; we had a good inspection of the process; pieces of wood the length of a man and the thickness of one's thigh are piled up about 3 feet; then the body bandaged in white linen is placed lengthwise on these, then the bunks of wood piled over him make it about 7 ft. in height; shavings etc. ^{are} and then placed under the bottom and ignited and the body is gradually consumed, first blistering, then grilling ^{and smelling} something like roast pork, then ^{charning} and lastly nothing but ^{remaining} ashes. It is a good plan of disposing of the dead. On the sands is the burial ground of those who cannot afford wood and the whole beach is lined with human skulls.

Friday, 20th. April 1855.

Prev. winds South, soft mild airs and fine. Leave Roper's comfortable abode. Ask 3 friends to dine on board at 7. and give them ^{Simpson's}; enjoy myself and turn in at 12 p.m.

Thursday, 10th April 1882

Again to the Fort visit of the Blackwood; finish drawings and at 5 p.m., proceed on foot to the hills, a mile along the sands of Back Bay; on our way visit the place on the beach where the Hindoos burn their dead bodies; this is a sort of raised parade; we saw 5 burning, one quite consumed, saw the bones of another flying away, another charred and another just lighted; we had a good inspection of the process; pieces of wood the length of a man and the thickness of one's thigh are piled up about 3 feet; then the body bandaged in white linen is placed lengthwise on these, then the banks of wood piled over him make it about 7 ft. in height; shavings etc. are then placed under the bottom and ignited and the body is gradually consumed, first blistering, then grilling something like roast pork, then charred and lastly nothing but ashes. It is a good plan of disposing of the dead. On the sands is the burial ground of those who cannot afford wood and the whole beach is lined with human skulls.

Friday, 11th April 1882

Leave Roper's comfortable at 7. Ask 2 friends to dine on board at 7 and give them enjoy myself and turn in at 12 p.m.

Saturday, 21st. April 1855-

Remain on ^{board} ship quiet and repose. Heal, Surgeon of "Malta".

Sunday, 22nd. April 1855-

Proceed to Church with Captain and ^{keep quiet} ^{weather} exceedingly hot and unpleasant.

Saturday, 23rd. April 1855-

Go to Fort Seedy; get my invaliding ticket; dine with Pringle & sleep at ^{Mr.} Muller's.

Monday, 23rd. April 1855.

Rise early with Muller and go to the Railway; meet friends who with all proceed to the furthest extent of line 34 miles, to Calliar, a miserable native Village; then get into Cow Carts and travel 5 miles along a most dusty hot road over scorched plains to a temple in ruins; certainly ^{very} beautifully carved and pillars superb but not worth all the trouble and expense. After a dusty ride back we dine and again enter the rail for Bycullah.

Tuesday, 24th. April 1855-

Feel myself very seedy and keep quiet. Dine at Pringle's of the Club etc.

Find one of the Crew was attacked and sent to hospital, 10 minutes, 1 Chinese seized with cramps and symptoms but trust sincerely it is not a case. May God in his infinite mercy protect us from such a scourge. See my patient frequently during the day and find all the symptoms disperse by treatment. Work hard

Wednesday, 25th. April 1855-

Hear that Dr. Sulasin is going home with us; I am rather disgusted. Remain all day packing up.

Saturday, 21st. April 1882

Remain on ship quiet and repose.

Sunday, 22nd. April 1882

Proceed to Church with Capt. and keep going, exceedingly hot and unpleasant.

Monday, 23rd. April 1882

Rise early with Muller and go to the Railway; meet friends who with all proceed to the furthest extent of line 34 miles, to Gallian, a miserable native village; then get into Cow Gars and travel 5 miles along a most dusty hot road over scorched plains to a temple in ruins; certainly beautifully carved and pillars superb but not worth all the trouble and expense. After a dusty ride back we dine and again enter the rail for Rynulian.

Tuesday, 24th. April 1882

Feel myself very seedy and keep quiet. Dine at Pringle's of the Club etc.

Wednesday, 25th. April 1882

Hear that Dr. Sulzstein is going home with us; am rather disgusted. Remain all day packing up.

all day getting my remaining things consigned to trunks; what a understanding Thursday, 26th. April 1855.

All day packing up; dine with O'Neal, Surgeon of "Malta".
 am satisfied that all is secure; proceed in evening to "Erin"

and make arrangements to join her to-morrow; turn in early.

Friday, April 27th. 1855.

All day packing up. Took Physic.

Tuesday, May 1st. 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.75. Saturday, 28th. April 1855.

Go to fort seedy; get my invaliding ticket; dine with Pringle & sleep at Logan's. rather.

Am truly thankful to rise refreshed and find my patient well with no fresh cases. Sunday, 29th. April 1855. ad adieu to my ship. After Church, go to Malabar Hill & dine with Lawrence and sleep there the night; a comfortable place and pleasant.

The floating mass of iron and wood, my late home and conveyance for 30 months, having carried Monday, 30th. April 1855. last farewell

Rise early, refreshed with sleep and take my usual turn on the Bar, after which a and bath, then breakfast, and return with Capt. to Mazagon. Am grieved to hear the Cholera has broken out among the Europeans of the Dockyard; 2 deaths occurred last night. Get on board & find one of the Crew was attacked and sent to hospital, 10 minutes, 1 Chinese seized with cramps and symptoms but trust sincerely it is not a case. May God in his infinite mercy protect us from the feared ~~such a~~ scourge. See my patient frequently during the day and find all the symptoms disperse by treatment. Work hard

I am comfortably housed and turn in about 12 p.m.

Thursday, 28th April 1852

All day packing up; dine with O'Neal, Surgeon of "Malta".

Friday, April 29th 1852

All day packing up. Took Physic.

Saturday, 30th April 1852

Go to fort ready; get my invaliding ticket; dine with Pringle, sleep at Logan's.

Sunday, 30th April 1852

After Church, go to Malabar Hill; dine with Lawrence and sleep there the night; a comfortable place and pleasant.

Monday, 30th April 1852

Refreshed with sleep and Rise early; take my usual turn on the Bar, after which path, steam breakfast, and return with Capt. to Massagon. Am grieved to hear the Cholera has broken out among the Europeans of the Dockyard; 2 deaths occurred last night. Get on board.

Find one of the crew was attacked and sent to hospital. 10 minutes, 1 Chinese seized with cramps and symptoms but treat sincerely it is not a case. May God in his infinite mercy protect us from such scourge. See my patient frequently during the day and find all the symptoms disappear by treatment. Work hard new.

all day getting my remaining things consigned to trunks; what a dreadful ^{undertaking} thing is ~~a~~ packing for ~~the~~ ^{the} transit of the desert. I am satisfied that all ~~is~~ ^{are} secure; proceed in evening to "Erin" and make arrangements to join her to-morrow; turn in early.

Thermom.

Tuesday, May 1st. 1853.

Bar. Max. 29.76.

Min. 29.75.

Thermom. " 88.

" 84.

Prev. Winds West.

Fine weather.

Am truly thankful to rise refreshed and find my patient well with no fresh cases. Finish packing, and bid adieu to my shipmates, jump into ^a boat alongside and pull for my passage ship give the "Cadiz" a long farewell look and then turn from the floating mass of iron and wood, my late home and conveyance for 20 months, having carried me upwards of 70,000 miles. Farewell Mazagon, perhaps for ever, farewell the stinking Dockyard and still more filthy suburbs, farewell to your boasted mango groves of unrivalled sweetness and your pestilential sickly month of May; how sad to find the season set in with such malignity; this fearful month set in with 300 deaths a day. At 12. we steam to the Fort, Apollo Bunda where after dinner I go bid adieu to all my friends, pay every cent I owe, return on board where all is confusion. Passengers coming on board the whole day with their friends to say Goodbye, more or less in a state of ^{tears} ~~tears~~. I am comfortably housed and turn in about 12 p.m.

All day getting my remaining things consigned to trunks; what a dreadful ^{unpleasant} ~~is~~ packing for ~~the~~ transit of the desert. I am satisfied that all ~~is~~ secure; proceed in evening to "Erin"
 and make arrangements to join her to-morrow; turn in early.

Tuesday, May 1st, 1882.

Bar. 29.76. Max. 29.76. Min. 29.76.
 Thermom. 84. Wind? West. Fine weather.
 Am truly thankful to rise refreshed and find my patient well with no fresh cases. Finish packing, ~~and~~ bid adieu to my shipmate, jump into boat alongside and pull for my passage ship Give the "Gladia" a long farewell look and then turn from the floating mass of iron and wood, my late home and conveyance for 20 months, having carried me upwards of 70,000 miles, farewell Massagon, perhaps for ever, farewell the stinking Dockyard and still more filthy suburbs, farewell to your boasted mango groves of unrivalled sweetness and your pestiferous sticky month of May; how sad to find the season set in with such malignity; this fearful month set in with 300 deaths a day. At 12.45 we steam to the Port, Apollo Bunder where after dinner I got bid adieu to all my friends, pay every cent I owe, return on board where all is confusion, passengers coming on board the whole day with their friends to say goodbye, more or less in a state of ~~land~~
 I am comfortably housed and turn in about 12 p.m.

Wednesday, 2nd.

Lat. 18.39N. Long. 71.52 W. Course & dist. S. 75 W. 87 miles.
 Bearing & dist. Cape Aden 77° 03 W. 1584 miles.
 Prev. Winds N.N.W. Calms & fine weather.

Bar. Max. 29.84. Min. 29.74.

Thermom. " 85. " 84.

Awakened early by ship's engines; ^{the} look out of port, find it just ^{the} daylight 5 a.m., and catch sight of the shore, the fort, the Cathedral and the Building at Calabria; give them a long farewell look and offer a prayer of thanksgiving for the many mercies received during my ^{sojourn out in the East} long stay on the coast and that I am once more on my way to the Land of the West. Find I am in a cabin with 2 others and ^{precious} ~~very~~ close and hot; exchange looks without speaking and go on deck & dress myself forward. Breakfast; most absurd to see the seedy muster of passengers with still more seedy countenances; appear to be all pleasant fellows; ^{Passengers are} - Capt. Robinson Major Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Cadabe, 2 Children, 2 Servants, Capt. and Mrs Pestans, ^{4 children, 1 servant} Mr. Brockman, ^{Knivett} Col. Kingscote, 1 Child, Mr. Carnac, Dr Woodfries, Capt Upham, Mr Raikes, ^{Baughaw} Guthrie, Palmer, Laurence, Lieut. Elgood, Major Ross, Capt. ^{SW} Woyle. Wood and Capt. A.O. Wood, G. Deutz esqre, ^{Padre} Keenpheran, ^{ali} Hampson, Green, Lieut. Close and Servant, 58 Troopers, Catsom ^{Ali} ~~Also~~ Hermajee.

To my astonishment, find 4 in my cabin instead of 3; kick up a row find Mr. Guthrie the aggressor. How tedious one finds the life of a passenger, how much more pleasant to have something

Wednesday, 2nd.

Lat. 18.30N. Long. 71.52W. Current - 1/2 mile. Barometer 30.02. Wind N.W. Calm at night.

Bar. Max. 29.84. Min. 29.74.

Thermom. " 85. " 84.

Awakened early by ship's engine. Look out of port, find it just ^{at} light 5 a.m., and catch sight of the shore, the fort, the Cathedral and the Building at Calabar; give them a long farewell look and offer a prayer of thanksgiving for the many mercies received during my long stay on the coast and that I am once more on my way to the land of the West. Find I am in a cabin with 2 others and ^{very} close and hot; exchange looks without speaking and go on deck & dress myself forward. Breakfast; most absurd to see the ready muster of passengers with still more ready countenances; appear to be all pleasant fellows. ^{Passengers are} Capt. Robinson, Major Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Gable, 2 children, 2 servants, Capt. and Mrs. Parsons, Mr. Brockman, ^{Mr. and Mrs. Parsons} 1 child, Mr. Carr, Mac, Dr. Woodley, Capt. Upham, Mr. Raikes, ^{Mr. and Mrs. Parsons} Guitier, Palmer, Lawrence, Lieut. Alfred, Major Ross, Capt. Wolfe, Wood ^{2nd} Capt. A.O. Wood, G. Davis, ^{Mr. and Mrs. Parsons} Keeney, Thompson, Green, Lieut. Close and Servant, 58 Troopers, Calson ^{Mr. and Mrs. Parsons} Hester.

Thursday, 3rd.

Lat. 17.46N. Long. 68.38W. Course + dist. S. 75W. 198 miles.

Bearing + dist. Cape Aden 47° 29' W. 1394 miles

Prev. Winds NNW. Fresh breeze, fine.

Bar. max. 29.90. Min. 29.75. Therm. max. 84. Min. 82.

How pleasant to find myself again on ^{the} homeward voyage, a passenger at ^{the} Company's expense and going over ^{the} water, the Arabian Sea, and a line never before seen to Aden, Red Sea, Suez, ^{Desert} Egypt, Cairo, Alexandria etc., to read the description given by ^{his} S. Warburton in ~~the~~ "Crescent" and the "Cross". Passengers make a better show to-day and of course the conversation is ^{upon} the sea, ^{weather, sea sickness} the ~~sadness~~ of sea sickness, the route you intend to take ^{it by} ~~and~~ Trieste or Marseilles, making up a party to visit the Pyramids. It is very amusing to hear fellows giving accounts of their ^{transit} ~~travels~~ and the griffins, all attention among whom are Short, Laurence and myself and some 12 more; all are now shaking down into their places but the ladies have not shown up yet.

Friday, May 4th.

Lat. 16.43N.

Long. 65.07W.

Course + dist. ^{S. 76W.} 209 miles.

Bearing + dist. Cape Aden 54° 20' W. 1185 miles.

Prev. Winds N.W. Fine weather, fresh breeze.

Bar. Max. 29.90. Min. 29.80.

Thermom. " 86. " 82.

To my astonishment, find 4 in my cabin instead of 3; kick up a row find Mr. Guthrie the aggressor. How tedious one finds the life of a passenger, how much more pleasant to have something face; all sleep on deck and in early morning how absurdly ridic-

Thursday, 3rd.

Lat. 17.45N. Long. 55.35W. Course 140.2 120. 108 miles.
 Breeze, fair, 12-14. Wind, NW.
 Sea, smooth. Fresh breeze, fine.
 How pleasant to find myself again on homeward voyage, a passenger at ^{last} company's expense and going over the Arabian Sea and a line never before seen to Aden, Red Sea, Suez, Egypt, Cal-to, Alexandria etc., to read the description given by Warburton in the "Crescent" and the "Cross". Passengers make a better show to-day and of course the conversation is upon the sea, ^{the weather} of sea sickness, the route you intend to take and Trieste or Marseilles, making up a party to visit the Pyramids. It is very amusing to hear fellows giving accounts of their ^{travels} and the trifling attention among whom are Short, Lawrence and myself and some 12 more; all are now shaking down into their places but the ladies have not shown up yet.

Friday, May 4th.

Lat. 16.45N. Long. 55.07W. Course 140.2 130. 120 miles.
 Breeze, fair, 12-14. Wind, NW.
 Sea, smooth. Fresh breeze, fine.
 Bar. Max. 29.90. Min. 29.80.
 Thermom. " 86. " 82.
 To my astonishment, find 4 in my cabin instead of 3; kick up a row find Mr. Guthrie the aggressor. How tedious one finds the life of a passenger, how much more pleasant to have something to do; read and find passengers jolly. Short at dinner gives vent to his pent up feelings to all passengers describing his happy and humble home. Are merrily progressing across ^{the} Arabian Sea to the narrow entrance of the Red Sea formed by the Coast of Arabia to our North and that of Africa ^{in Somali} to our South. We have some very good fellows on board; many are arranging parties to proceed from Alexandria to Trieste, home, others via Marseilles; I fear I must go by Southampton but we live in hope.

Saturday, May 5th.

Lat. 15.38N. Long. 61.02W. Course + dist. W. 16S. 244 miles.

Nearing Cape Aden 49.21. 936 miles.
Prev. Winds Variable N. & Fine. Bar. max. 29.80 Min. 29.84 Therm. max. 87. Min. 84.
Nothing occurs worthy notice; our ship makes better way, water calmer. Ladies show up; ^{not} neither pretty nor fair, chiefly Greeks ~~and~~ Portuguese; we have Armenians, Albanians, Greeks, Jews, Persians, Ethiopians, Turks with our nations of India, such a mess of them.

Sunday, May 6th.

Lat. 14.26N. Long. 57.11W. Course + dist. W. 18S. 236 miles.

Nearing Cape Aden 51° 45' W. 704 miles.
Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.81.

Thermom. " 89. " 86.

Prev. winds variable, fine W. swell + fine.

How pleasantly we are going along in a perfect calm of surface; all sleep on deck and in early morning how absurdly ridic-to do; read and find passengers jolly. Short at dinner gives vent to his pent up feelings to all passengers describing his happy and humble home. Are merrily progressing across Arabian Sea to the narrow entrance of the Red Sea formed by the Coast of Arabia to our North and East of Africa to our South.

 We have some very good fellows on board; many are arranging parties to proceed from Alexandria to Trieste, home, others via Marseilles; I fear I must go by Southampton but we live in hope.

Saturday, May 5th.

Lat. 15.38N. Long. 51.02W. Course 142. W. 142. 244 miles.
 Bar. 29.88. Therm. 89. Wind N. + E. Force 2. Sea 2.4. Bar. 29.84. Therm. 87. Wind N. + E. Force 2. Sea 2.4. Bar. 29.84. Therm. 87. Wind N. + E. Force 2. Sea 2.4.
 Nothing occurs worth notice; our ship makes better way, water calmer. Ladies show up; neither pretty nor fair, chiefly Greeks and Portuguese; we have Armenians, Albanians, Greeks, Jews, Persians, Ethiopians, Turks with our nations of India, such a mass of them.

Sunday, May 6th.

Lat. 14.20N. Long. 57.11W. Course 142. W. 142. 236 miles.
 Bar. 29.88. Therm. 89. Wind N. + E. Force 2. Sea 2.4. Bar. 29.84. Therm. 87. Wind N. + E. Force 2. Sea 2.4.
 How pleasantly we are going along in a perfect calm of surface; all sleep on deck and in early morning how absurdly ridiculous to see some 30 people suddenly packing up ^{their} bedding and scrambling down the companion being disturbed by the boatswain washing decks and truly taking up their beds and walking below. How pleasant to travel with a man Capt. Rogers who 7 years ago was shipmate with me in "Clyde" as 1st Officer. Have prayers and quiet. ~~aching sleep on deck; many who were too ill and slept below, complain of the fearful heat; dull morning and rain, clears up at noon.~~ Sunday, May 6th. ~~Aden to-morrow.~~ All ~~in~~

Lat. 14.26N. ~~delight~~ Long. 57.11W. ~~place.~~ 236 miles.

Wind Variable, W. swell, fine.

Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.81.

Thermom. " 89. " 86.

~~Rev. Wind.~~ How pleasantly we are going along in a perfect calm of surface. ~~light of high land on our starboard bow at 6 a.m., the~~ ~~land of Arabia Felix. All in high spirits at arriving to-day.~~

~~10 a.m., sighted Cape A.~~ Monday, May 7th. 1853 ~~island in appear-~~

Lat. 13.44N. ~~near~~ Long. 53.20 E. ~~Course + dist.~~ W. N. S. 224 miles.

~~Bearing + dist. Cape Aden~~ S 02° 54' W. 477 miles.

~~Rev. Winds~~ S.E. on ~~the~~ Fine weather, intensely hot. ~~to the entr-~~

Bar. max. 29.88 min. 29.86. Therm. max. 89. min. 87.

~~ance~~ Being forced to sleep on deck from the excessive heat below

~~we~~ get used to early rising; how it would astonish our people at home to see a deck almost covered with sleepy 1st Class passengers. ~~Meet~~ a Dr. Woodfries who met me in 146 ^{the} at Univ: coll.

Finch. Are now in ^{the} funnel-shaped entrance to ^{the} Red Sea. ~~by vol-~~

~~? conic eruptions,~~ ^{the} the sea it has a black or dark appearance, ^{the} not the shadow of ^{and} vegetation and to all appearance like a large allows to see some 30 people suddenly packing up bedding and scrambling down the companion being disturbed by the postman washing decks and truly taking up their beds and walking below. How pleasant to travel with a man Capt. Rogers who 7 years ago was shipmate with me in "Clvde" as 1st Officer. Have prayers and quiet.

Sunday, May 6th.
 Lat. 14.20N. Long. 87.11W. 280 miles.
 Wind Variable, W. swell, fine.
 Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.81.
 Thermom. " 89. " 86.
 How pleasantly we are going along in a perfect calm of surface.

Monday, May 7th 1887
 Lat. 13.44N. Long. 83.28W. 284 miles.
 Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.81.
 Thermom. Max. 89. Min. 86.
 Fine weather, intensely hot.
 Being forced to sleep on deck from the excessive heat below.
 My cot used to early rising; how it would astonish our people at home to see a deck almost covered with sleepy fat class passengers. Met a Dr. Woodruff who met me in the at Univ: coll.
 Are now in tunnel-shaped entrance to Red Sea.
 Becoming a little Cape Verde 23.12 W. 47 miles.
 Fine weather, intensely hot.

Tuesday, 8th. May 1855.

Lat. 13.^{D4} ~~4~~ N. Long. 49.17 E. Course & dist. W-S. 254 miles.
 Bearing & dist. Cape Aden W 9 S. 224 miles.
 Prev. Winds S.W. Fine, fresh breeze.

Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.80.

Thermom. " 87. " 85.

A refreshing sleep on deck; many who were too ill and slept below, complain of the fearful heat; dull morning and rain, clears up at noon. We are to get into Aden to-morrow. All expectation and delight to see the place.

Wednesday, 9th. May 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.90. Min. 29.80.

Thermom. " 92. " 88.

Prev. Winds N.E. Calm, fine.

In sight of high land on our starboard bow at 6 a.m., the land of Arabia Felix. All in high spirits at arriving to-day. 10 a.m., sighted Cape Aden, a high mountainous island in appearance; as we near it, so we perceive the extraordinary formation and on our running along itrounding the Cape to the entrance of the harbour, it is truly picturesque; one high rock some 6 miles in depth 2000 ft. high, attached to mainland by a low sandy neck of land from the vast deserts of Arabia; this rock is a most wonderful formation being thrown up into acute peaks and angles, sharp perpendicular ridges torn into every shape by volcanic eruptions; from the sea it has a black or dark appearance, not the shadow of vegetation and to all appearance like a large

Lat. 13° 15' N. Long. 45° 15' W. 254 miles.
 Plover, 2 W. 254 miles.
 Pine, 254 miles.
 Tuesday, 8th May 1893

Bar. Max. 29.88 Min. 29.80
 Thermom. " 87. " 85.

A refreshing sleep on deck; many who were too ill and slept below, complain of the fearful heat; dull morning and rain, clears up at noon. We are to get into Aden to-morrow. All ex- pectation and delight to see the place.

Wednesday, 9th May 1893
 Bar. Max. 29.80 Min. 29.80
 Thermom. " 92. " 88.

Wind N.E. Calm, fine. In sight of high land on our starboard bow at 6 a.m., the land of Arabia Felix. All in high spirits at arriving to-day. 10 a.m., sighted Cape Aden, a high mountainous island in appar- ance; as we near it, so we perceive the extraordinary form- ation and on our running along it, the Cape to the entr- ance of the harbour, it is truly picturesque; one high rock some 6 miles in depth 2000 ft. high, attached to mainland by a low neck of land from the vast deserts of Arabia; this rock is a most wonderful formation being thrown up into acute peaks and angles, sharp perpendicular ridges torn into every shape by vol- canic eruptions; from the sea it has a black or dark appearance, not the shadow of vegetation and to all appearance like a large clinker from a furnace; how truly it may be called the cinder of the East. At 3.30 p.m., we drop our anchor opposite the Agent's house ^{which is} separated by an abrupt lip of a volcano from the valley in which is a miserable hotel and some cantonments; behind this valley towers the highest peak on which stands the Signal station like a Falcon's nest having ^{the most} ~~fearfully~~ precipitous sides. After dinner I went on them and visited the wretched Hotel. We had also the pleasure of passing among the tents of the 1st European Fusiliers; we then ascended the hills of black rock, the tower so ~~well~~ ^{beautifully} fortified ^{by} ~~with~~ double ditches, the first ramparts mounting 12 guns and the ~~tower~~ itself 4. It seems almost impossible to take (?) into this, the settlers fly when attacked by the Arabs; there are only a few here. We then climbed the ^{hill} ~~pile~~ of extraordinary appearance which has been scarped to 40 ft. perpendicular to prevent an enemy getting possession of the top which would command the batteries and tower; great labour is expended. Orders being given to Hotel for horses, we walked to the boat through the ^{desert} sand. Our news here was very singular and only shows how true the Arab motto is. The Burton expedition to the opposite side of this entrance to the Coast of Africa to explore; they were 4 in number and accompanied by a few of a tribe of Arabs; on landing they were received hospitably by the remainder of the tribe and had just pitched their tent when the Arabs attacked them and they fought their way through them with nothing climber from a furnace; how truly it may be called the Chimney of the East. At 3.30 P.M., we drop our anchor opposite the Agent's house, separated by an abrupt lip of a volcano from the valley in which is a miserable hotel and some accommodations; behind this valley towers the highest peak on which stands the Signal station like a falcon's nest having ^{the most} fearful precipitous sides.

After dinner I went on them and visited the wretched Hotel. ^{It}
We had also the pleasure of passing among the tents of the ^{1st} European Fusiliers; we then ascended the hills of black rock, the tower so ^{well} fortified with double ditches, the first ramparts mounting 12 guns and the tower itself 4. It seems almost impossible to ^{reach} into this, the settlers fly when attacked by the Arabs; there are only a few here. We then climbed the side of extraordinary appearance which has been scarpes to 40
ft. perpendicular to prevent an enemy getting possession of the top which would command the batteries and tower; great labour is expended. Orders being given to Hotel for horses, we walked to the boat through the sand. Our news here was very singular and only shows how true the Arab motto is. The Burton expedition to the opposite side of this entrance to the Coast of Africa to explore; they were 4 in number and accompanied by a few of a tribe of Arabs; on landing they were received hospitably by the remainder of the tribe and had just pitched their tent when the Arabs attacked them and they fought their way through them with nothing at the bottom of a large basin having a piece removed, facing but Dean Adams and although severely wounded, one having received 12 wounds from their spears, they managed to get to the boat, jagged grotesque peaks of the hills, black and scorched, at least 1500 to 2000 ft. these are natural and jagged, and we passed among the miserable dwellings of our native troops and at once crossed the narrow causeway to Sera Island which we ascended; this is now joined to Ashi by the artificial causeway is surmounted by a strong fortification party strongly armed, went some 10 miles into the country for sport and while asleep in their tents were brutally murdered, Captain in Bombay Army.

Thursday, 10th. May 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.90.

Min. 29.85.

Thermom.

" 92.

" 87.

Wind E.N.E.

Calm & fine.

At 4 a.m. we rose and at 5. were in the saddle on our way to the fortifications and camp; after riding across a sandy plain at the foot of the crescent shaped ^{perpendicular} mountains, evidently the ^{lip} top of an exhausted volcano, we ascended ^{to the lowest point} and entered a gateway ^{to and} the Town guarding a grand pass of some 200 ft. over which the fortifications cross on a fine arch thrown over the pass; ^{of immense strength} emerging from this we looked down ^{at} on the camp beneath ^{in another plain} another similar ^{to the one we crossed and} plain; the white buildings and flat roofs very much resembling the pictures of Jerusalem; the camp is situated as it were but Dean Adams and although severely wounded, one having received 12 wounds from their spears, they managed to get to the boat, except one who found the revolver after the first shot became jammed and perished, poor fellow, a Bombay Navy Lieutenant. In this beautiful harbor the finest in these parts is an island, hardly to be so called as at low water it is connected with the mainland. Here some poor sailors went to gather a few days since and while so occupied were attacked and one man shot; a few years since a party strongly armed, went some 10 miles into the country for sport and while asleep in their tents were brutally murdered. Captain in Bombay Army.

Thursday, 10th May 1857.

Bar.	Max. 29.90.	Min. 29.85.
Thermom.	" 92.	" 87.
Wind.	E.N.E.	Calm.

At 4 a.m. arose and at 5. were in the saddle on our way to the fortifications and camp; after riding across a sandy plain at the foot of the crescent shaped mountain, evidently the of an exhausted volcano, we ascended and entered a gateway to the town guarding a grand pass of some 200 ft. over which the fortifications cross on a fine arch thrown over the pass, emerging from this we looked down on the camp beneath in another plain. Far along the white buildings and flat roofs very much resembling the pictures of Jerusalem; the camp is situated as it were at the bottom of a large basin having ^{one} ~~a~~ piece removed, facing the Bay formed by Sera Island; the rough perpendicular sides and jagged grotesque peaks of the ^{lips} hills, black and scorched, must be at least 1500 to 2000ft; these are natural and ^{impenetrable} ~~imperishable~~ (safeguards), only inhabited by wild dogs, monkeys and hyaenas;

 we passed among the miserable dwellings of our ~~own 36th and the~~
^{and European troops 86th} native troops and at once crossed the small narrow causeway to Sera Island which we ascended; this rock now joined to Aden by the artificial causeway is surmounted by a strong Martello Tower which commands the camp and the portion of the bay formed by it and the ~~Isthmus~~ ; it is most difficult and dangerous to ascend; finding the Sun scorching hot even at 8., we soon thought it necessary to return to the Ship where we remained till evening and again mounted to visit the real fortifications. We now proceeded along the road leading to the left before entering the grand Pass and which leads to the only narrow pass connecting the main land; we soon passed ^{the gates} ~~the gates~~ of a strong Martello Tower and then took a sudden turn at right angles and entered the fortifications over a draw bridge; here we entered a plain of ^{one} ~~a~~ mile across studded with the encampment; this plain faces at once the Isthmus having at each extremity the abrupt termination of the crescent shaped cliffs and, uniting them, ~~the~~ the strong fortifications and deep dry ditches on left; here ^{stands} ~~strong~~ a strongly fortified tower and from this to the ditch on the very edge of its precipitous sides a strong wall and series of steps for armed men and from ^{it} to the ^{very} Grand Pass and Tower above built under the ^{scarped} cliffs of the ^{grand} Crater runs a strong wall over the edge of the ^{lips of this crater} Crater having ^{their} ~~its~~ sidescarped 50 ft. outward. We rode to the very top of the Grand Pass and then ascended 250 steps to the Town where we commanded a view of the whole ^{which was grand & impregnable}; descending ~~this~~, we crossed the flat to the opposite side and entered a tunnel under these natural walls 600 ft. long and entered another fortification similar to the last in formation and size and thence at the opposite side through another tunnel into the Grand Crater where is the Camp. All these works bristling with cannon seem built for a stronger enemy than the tribes of Arabs and may truly be called the "key of the Red Sea", having a harbour to receive the navies of the World. We visited the Bay where the English landed and took the place, being ^{that} ~~just~~ at the back of Sera. We passed by strong gates on to the sandy Isthmus by a ~~glac~~ and had a scamper on the Arabian desert, but only ^{one} ~~a~~ mile, as it was dangerous. Here in the Camp in the Grand Square were Arabs and their Camels, some 200 of the latter, poor ^{meagre} ~~skinny~~ ^{creatures} ~~things~~, these have free access to the place bringing in provisions and vegetables and merchandize from the interior. What a perfectly Oriental sight is this Bazaar, ^{variegated among} the camels ~~variegated~~ by the various coloured turbans of the drivers Returning, we witness on our road a grand Oriental Sunset and to rest.

steps for armed men and from the Grand Pass and Tower above built under the cliffs of the Greater runs a strong wall over the edge of the Greater having ^{scarcely} ~~the~~ ^{edge of the} ~~side~~ ^{edge} ~~scarcely~~ 50 ft. outward. We rode to the very top of the Grand Pass and then ascended 250 steps to the Town where we commanded a view of the whole descending ~~the~~ ^{which was gained in a moment} we crossed the flat to the opposite side and entered a tunnel under these natural walls 500 ft. long and entered behind in the distance in the desert the morning ship of the deserts, now lost in haze, again appearing through the haze, the thin legs of the camels scarcely visible moving through suffocating heat.
 harbour to receive the navies of the World. We visited the Bay where the English landed and took the place, being ^{very} ~~at the~~ back of Sera. We passed by strong gates on to the sandy Tash-and had a scorpion on the Arabian desert, but only Here in the Camp in the Grand
 Square were Arabs and their Camels, some 200 of the latter, poor ^{these} ~~these~~ ^{skinny} ~~these~~ have free access to the place bringing in provisions and vegetables from the inter-tor. What a perfectly Oriental sight is this Bazaar, the camels ~~various~~ ^{various} ~~coloured~~ ^{coloured} turbans of the drivers Returning, we witness on our road a Grand Oriental Sunset and to Prev.

Prev.

A day of rest. Friday, May 12th. 1855.

Bar. red. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.85.

Thermom. " 89. " 85.

Prev. Winds E. friends in Calms and fine. Satisfaction exhibited on board Rose at 3.30 a.m., and ^{on} ~~to the~~ shore climb to the Signal Station 2000 ft. up a circuitous path, ^{most} dangerous and difficult; from here behold! beneath you the exhausted Volcanic basins with their sharp rugged lips; ^{owing to our} Our ascent was most difficult, having to ride over a very bad road, equal to that ^{of} ~~the~~ Panama Isthmus. We had to ride first to camp, thence 2 miles ^{the} to foot of ^{the} crater. We got to the precipitous peak at sunrise and saw the effect ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the sun} rising from the ^{horizon of the} desert ^{is} blood red; ^{near} we found here 3 Lascars who gave us milk and water ^{to drink}. Our view of the Steamers and shipping was grand, appearing to be almost over them; while there a ship was sighted and a gun fired. I instantly ^{climbed to the cross trees and} waved my hat and ^{the passengers} ~~could~~ with glasses distinctly made ^{me} ~~them~~ out. ^(as the gun fired I) I would recommend all ^{passengers} ~~persons~~ visiting Aden to climb this mountain as it gives ^{me} a bird's eye view of the cinder on which ^{he} stands, the harbour and fortifications; very few can undertake this hard journey before breakfast, & ^{no person after it.}

day passes wretchedly. Saturday, 12th. May. 1855.

Bar. Max. 29.88. and also Min. 29.85. towards the celebrat-

Thermom. " 89. " 87. 2 months by the 18-

Prev. Winds.

Calms & sultry.

Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.85. Thermom. 89. Calms and fine. Friday, May 15th. 1897.

Rose at 3.30 a.m., and the shore climb to the Signal Station 2000 ft. up a circuitous path, dangerous and difficult; from here beheld the exhausted Volcano basin with their sharp rugged tips. Our ascent was most difficult, having to ride over a very bad road, equal to that of Panama. I had to ride first to camp, thence 2 miles to foot of crater. We got to the precipitous peak at sunrise and saw the effect of the rising from the desert floor. We found here 3 fascera who gave us milk and water. Our view of the Steamer and ship- ping was grand, appearing to be almost over them; while there a ship was sighted and a gun fired. I instantly waved my hat and the gun fired. I would recom- mend all visiting Aden to climb this mountain as it gives a bird's eye view of the view on which stands the har- bor and fortifications; very few can undertake this hard jour- ny before breakfast, & no person after it.

Bar. Max. 29.88. Min. 29.85. Thermom. 89. Calms and fine. Saturday, 16th. May. 1897.

A day of rest. At 4 p.m., Steamer signalled and at 7.30., entered ^{the} harbour; go on board her, ^{the} "Bentinck", find her full, 150 passengers, therefore shall proceed in "Erin" on to Suez; meet many old friends in her. Great dissatisfaction ^{exists} ~~exhibited~~ on board ^{here} as we shall have to take in ~~some~~ more coals and not start till after the "Bentinck" and we shall not begin to coal till tomorrow, whereas "Bentinck" coals all night. I take walk ^{over} ~~on~~ the hills to a sandy beach and collect shells, also ^{get} many eggs and amongst them an ostrich egg; saw a Camel evidently dying from overwork; the Camels are wretchedly meagre and lean and enormously ^{burdened} ~~overburdened~~; they are generally sore and skinless in many ^{parts} ~~places~~; the donkeys are also small and miserably treated but the ^{Tato} horses are very fair having a good proportion of Arab blood in them.

And now we are absolutely in the Red Sea, the waters we now plough the very same that divide ^{May 1855} the Israelites to Bab. Mass. 29.89. Min. 29.85- Sunday, 13th Therm. mass. 89. Min. 86. Prev. winds N.E. variable & fine. A sorry day, in the midst of coal dust and growling passengers; they rise from the decks complaining as when they retired. We give up the mails to the "Bentinck" as she is to arrive first and ^{to get first} ~~will have the~~ choice of desert travelling; she sails at 9.15., and gets 5 miles ahead before we start at 10 a.m. The day passes wretchedly ^{away} and sorrowfully ~~away~~ ---. We pass the ² rocks corresponding to Aden and along the coast towards the celebrated Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb separated into 2 mouths by the Is-

A day of rest. At 4 p.m. Steamer signalled and at 7.30 entered harbor; go on board her, "Bentinnok", find her full, 150 passengers, therefore shall proceed in "Krin" on to Suva; meet many old friends in her. Great dissatisfaction ~~on~~ ^{at} board as we shall have to take in some more coals and not start till after the "Bentinnok" and we shall not begin to coal till tomorrow, whereas "Bentinnok" coals all night. I take walk ~~on~~ ^{over} the hills to a sandy beach and collect shells, also many eggs and amongst them an ostrich egg; saw a Camel evidently dying from overwork; the Camels are wretchedly meagre and lean and enormously ~~enormously~~ ^{emaciated}; they are generally sore and skinless in many places; the donkeys are also small and miserably treated but the horses are very fat having a good proportion of Arab blood in them.

May 1912
Sunday, 13th June, 1912
A sorry day, in the midst of coal dust and growling passengers; they rise from the decks complaining as when they retired. We give up the mails to the "Bentinnok" as she is to arrive first and with ~~the~~ ^{the} choice of desert travelling; she sails at 9.15., and gets 5 miles ahead before we start at 10 a.m. The day passes wretchedly and sorrowfully ~~and~~ ^{and} we pass the rocks corresponding to Aden and along the coast towards the celebrated Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb separated into 2 months by the island of Serim being between the Coasts 10 miles, the smaller passage being 2 miles, the large ^{one} or that between Island and Africa ^{being} 5, the islands 3 miles. To our utter delight we are overhauling the "Bentinck" and after dinner ^{are not} 3 miles from her; keep up the chase ^{during} ~~through~~ the Passage ^{through} ~~of~~ the Little Strait; 8 a.m., close to her and at 9. pass her, the Strait ^{is} about a mile through. We all retire in good spirits at the thought of being in before her.

Monday, 14th May, 1855.

Lat. 14.51N.

Long. 42.27E.

Prev. Winds N.E.

Light head winds.

Bar.

Max. 29.75.

Min. 29.72.

Thermom.

"

93.

"

90.

And now we are absolutely in the Red Sea, the waters we now plough the very same that divided to allow the Israelites to pass and that drowned the vagabond Pharaoh. Passed a cool and pleasant night on deck during which time we on our starboard bow have the celebrated city of Mocha where the coffee of best quality is produced; on our port ^{the numerous} ~~group~~ of small islands. At 5 a.m., we turned out and found "Bentinck" had caught us up and on our port beam and we together pass the Isle of Gibbets; find all endeavours to pass ~~the~~ ship fruitless; all hands are excited and some despair. Am consulted by Mr. Bagshaw for whom I prescribe. The "Bentinck" gains and is getting away from us.

land of Serimbene being the coast 10 miles, the smaller passage being 2 miles, the larger or that between island and Africa, the islands 3 miles. To our utter delight we are overhauling the "Gentle" and after dinner, not 2 miles from her, keep up the chase ^{through} the passage ^{of the little strait}; 8 a.m., close to her and at 2 p.m. pass her, the strait about a mile through. We all retire to good nights at the thought of being in before her.

Monday, 14th May, 1857.

Long. 42.27E.

Lat. 14.51N.

Light head winds.

Wind N.E.

Min. 29.72.

Max. 29.75.

Bar.

80.

93.

Thermom.

And now we are absolutely in the Red Sea, the waters we now plough the very same that divided to allow the Israelites to pass and that drowned the vengeful Pharaoh. Passed a cool and pleasant night on deck during which time we on our starboard bow have the celebrated city of Mecca where the coffee of best quality is produced; on our port ^{the women} group of small islands. At 5 a.m., we turned out and found "Gentle" had caught us up and on our port beam and we together pass the Isle of Gibbata; find all endeavours to pass ship fruitless; all hands are excited and some despair. Am consulted by Mr. Bagshaw for whom I prescribe. The "Gentle" gains and is getting away from us.

1.30 p.m., pass the Jebayer Islands on our starboard side; at 2. we sight ~~Gibbet~~ ^{Gibbet Tier} and are now slashing along after Bentinck like demons. At 6 pm we are abreast of ~~her~~ ^{Gibbet Tier and both ships are now abreast,} ~~this island~~ ^{at} ~~(Gibbet)~~ ^{900 feet high,} is of volcanic origin ~~800 ft. high~~ and its peak is often seen smoking and covered with white lava. We now get up a subscription for the Firemen to fire with all their might and gloriously it answers, for steam now issues from her steam pipes; we have passed our antagonist and thrashing the water furiously; it is a fearful sight, the black stokers labouring in an atmosphere of 130 deg. and to keep themselves from fainting, throwing water over themselves; ^{heavy bets were made and} ~~leaving horses~~ all go to bed excited.

~~trace the ship~~ ~~we are nearly out of her sight and al-~~ though the ship ~~is~~ Tuesday, 15th May 1855. ~~to keep our po-~~

Lat. 18.02N. Long. 39.53E. ~~getting first start before~~

Prev. Winds N. Clear. ~~the wind being nearly out of~~

Bar. ~~trans~~ Max. 29.81. Min. 29.72.

Thermom. " 92. " 87.

5 a.m., all rise in the same excitement; she is 3 miles astern of us, hurrah! Intense excitement prevails all day; naked firemen rush on deck to see the progress made and to cool their reeking skins in the heated atmosphere of this cauldron ^{sea, 94°.} Down they dive to their infernal cavern, nothing is heard but the shovel, the ^{intense} vibration of machinery, the blowing off of superabundant steam; we still increase our distance, at noon 8 miles ahead; our little ship seems shaken from stem to stern and no person can put pen to paper.

1.30 p.m., pass the Tanager Islands on our starboard side; at 2. we sight ^{Bibber} ~~the~~ and are now alone along after Boninck like demons. At 6 p.m. we are abreast of ^{the} ~~this~~ island ^{the} ~~is~~ of volcanic origin 800 ft. high and the peak is often seen smoking and covered with white lava. We now get up a subscription for the firemen to fire with all their might and glorious- in it answers, for steam now issues from her steam pipes; we have passed our antagonist and thrashing the water furiously; it is a fearful sight, the black smokers labouring in an atmos- phere of 130 deg. and to keep themselves from fainting, throwing water over themselves; ^{heavy} ~~feeling~~ ^{boiling} ~~boiling~~ ^{water} ~~water~~ all go to bed excited.

Tuesday, 15th May 1877

Lat. 18.02N. Long. 39.33E. Clear. Wind S.W. Bar. Max. 29.81. Min. 29.72. Thermom. " 92. " 87.

5 a.m., all rise in the same excitement; she is 3 miles a- stern of us, hurrah! Intense excitement prevails all day; naked firemen rush on deck to see the progress made and to cool their reeking skins in the heated atmosphere of this cauldron. ^{Down} they dive to their internal cavern, nothing is heard but the ^{noise} ~~vibration~~ of machinery, the blowing off of super- abundant steam; we still increase our distance, at noon 8 miles ahead; our little ship seems shaken from stem to stern and no person can put pen to paper.

10 to 1 on "Erin" in this long regatta by 4 hours ! Our poor devils below deserve their backsheesh sweltering in heat and dust. We draw for our allotted ^{vans} ~~places~~ for the desert and my party composed of Dr. Woolfries, Capt. ^V Noyle and Jephson, Mr. Palmer and Guthrie are last.

Friday, 15th May, 1855.
 Wednesday, 16th May, 1855.

Lat. 21.6N.

Long. 37.40E.

Prev. Winds

Variable, hot & sultry calms.

Bar.

Max. 29.80.

Min. 29.72.

Thermom.

"

88.

"

83.

How glorious ! not a speck, not a cloud, not one object to trace the "Bentinck"; we are entirely out of ^{of} her sight and although the wind and sea are against us, we hope to keep our position; are all speculating as to ^{our} getting first start before "Bentinck"; how pleasantly cool is the wind ^h being nearly out of the tropics.

Thursday, 17th May, 1855.

Lat. 24.13N.

Long. 36E.

Prev. Winds

N.E.

Strong head wind.

Therm. max. 83.

min. 80.

how disgusting!

Early day break, how sad, the "Bentinck" is in sight; we ^{got up subscription} ~~now again subscribe~~ for firemen again steam escapes from pipe and again we leave her astern. At 9. we pass the miserably to to I on "Brin" in this long regatta by 4 hours! Our poor devil's below deserve their backbones aching in heat and dust. We draw for our allotted ^{share} for the desert and my party composed of Dr. Woolfries, Capt. Joyce and Johnson, Mr. Palmer and Guthrie are last.

Wednesday, 14th May, 1911.
Lat. 21.5W. Long. 37.40W.
Wind Variable, hot & sultry calm.
Bar. Max. 29.60. Min. 29.72.
Thermom. " 88. " 83.
How glorious! not a speck, not a cloud, not one object to trace the "Bentlinek"; we are entirely out of sight and although the wind and sea are against us, we hope to keep our position; are all speculating as to getting first start before "Bentlinek"; how pleasantly cool is the wind & being nearly out of the tropics.

Thursday, 15th May, 1911.
Lat. 24.13N. Long. 36E.
Wind? N.W. Strong head wind. ^{very disagreeing!}
Bar. Max. 29.80. Min. 29.
Early day break, how sad, the "Bentlinek" is in sight we now ^{get up subscription} ~~again~~ ^{for} ~~firemen~~ ^{again} steam escapes from pipe and again we leave her astern. At 2. we pass the miserable being $23^{\circ}36'N.$ & $36^{\circ}14'E.$ This island is a barren Island Of St John's on our port side, once famous for its emeralds, now only for ~~the~~ turtle. We are now in sight of the coast of Upper Egypt, indistinct in the distance towards evening.

Close to Shadwan Island,
Thermom. Max. 82.

Friday, 18th. May 1855.

Min. 79.

Lat. $24^{\circ}20'$ Long. $34^{\circ}6'$

Passed at 3 a.m., Brothers Islands; strong head wind; soon make ^{the} high land of ^{the} Mount Sinai Peninsula which forms the Gulfs of Suez and Akabah, Ras Mohammed being the extreme point. No sight of other ship. At noon are close to Shadwan Island and keep close to its eastern shore; this is a miserable rocky and sandy island, having no vegetation, water etc., and thrown into pointed black peaks and gullies; this is the entrance of the Straits of Jubal; on our left ^{side is} nothing but reefs and foam, on our right rugged sterile hills and sands. 2.30., pass Island Jubal from which ^{the} Straits ^{their} take name. At 3., pass the Peninsula Zeiter which terminates this Strait and now we are in the Gulf of Suez, 120 miles from the Town; on each side is the land about 5 miles distant, Mount Sinai on our right, the Land of Egypt on our left with Mount ^{Agila 10,000 ft.} ~~Agila~~. All preparations ^{are} made for ^{an} early landing to-morrow.

Saturday, 19th May, 1855.

At 4 a.m., we are roused out and told to make every preparation.

being 23° 30' N. & 36° 14' E. This distance between Island of St John's on our port side & once famous for its weather, now only for its beauty. We are now in sight of the coast of Upper Egypt, including in the distance towards evening.

Close to Shadwan Island
 Thermom. Max. 82.
 Min. 79.
 Friday, 18th May, 1877.
 Lat. 24° 24' N. Long. 34° 10' E.

Passed at 3 a.m., Brothers Islands; strong head wind; soon make high land of Mount Sinai Peninsula which forms the Gulf of Suez and Akabah, Ras Mohammed being the extreme point. No sight of other ship. At noon are close to Shadwan Island and keep close to its eastern shore; this is a miserable rocky and sandy island, having no vegetation, water etc., and thrown into pointed black peaks and gullies; this is the entrance of the Straits of Tiber; on our left nothing but reefs and foam, on our right rugged sterile hills and sands. 2.30., pass Island Tiber from which Straits take name. At 3., pass the Peninsula Zetter which terminates this Strait and now we are in the Gulf of Suez, 120 miles from the Town; on each side is the land about 5 miles distant, Mount Sinai on our right, the land of Egypt on our left with Mount Sinai. All preparations made for early landing to-morrow.

Saturday, 19th May, 1877.
 At 4 a.m., we are roused out and told to make every preparation for a start. We soon pass the portion of the Red Sea where the Children of Israel crossed and being daylight, could see the few trees round the Wells of Moses on our right and the rugged pass in the hills on our left. At high water this part is about 5 miles across but at low not more than 2 owing to a neck of sand stretching out from ^{the} Mount Sinai ^{peninsula} plain, and this part is not more than 9 miles from the City of Suez. At 6.15., we anchor in the harbour or head of the Red Sea and ^{the} town of Suez (the hotel ^{being} the most conspicuous part, ^{the} remainder ^{being} miserable mud and clay flat roofed houses and huts) built on a tongue of low sand from the desert and not a vestige of garden or vegetation to be seen. After breakfast we jumped into the little Steamer sent ^{to} receive us and at 10 a.m., landed at the wooden Bunda; never was such a miserable place, resembling the miserable hovels of ^{villages in} India. The Hotel is tolerably comfortable, a large square building having a court within and a ^{strong} ~~large~~ stone balcony from which you enter your rooms. The "Bentinck" ^{has} arrived 3 hours after us; we have the preference of first start and although in the last batch of this number I manage to get into the 2nd Van with a Spanish Family, Capt. Pastano; ^{every} bustle and confusion ^{is} ~~every~~ where seen; friends for the ^{whole} voyage quarrel about the ~~Vans~~ and ^{for themselves} take the best they see. ~~Baggage~~ ^{Baggage} is hurled into us from an enclosure close to the Pier and large fine Camels kneel to be loaded, some 300 of these patient creatures ~~are~~ ^{are} present. At 11 ~~am~~^{the} the first set of Vans start, each containⁿg 6 persons; are on 2 wheels ~~like~~^{and not unlike} an omnibus and drawn by 2 mules as wheelers and 2 strong Arabian leaders; the mules are fine strong animals. We walk through ^{the} Bazaar, pass the gate and launch as it were into the hot burning desert; we soon find the veil most useful as we are smothered in dust and sand, sometimes taking the lead and sometimes ^{being} behind; our pace is rapid in proportion to the ground we pass over, sometimes being deep in sand at others firmer from stone; how truly wonderful is the mirage. As we are leaving Suez and the shipping, the town being detached as it were from the land forms a raised island and as we increase our distance from the ships they seem to enlarge and rise in ^{the} air and the water on which they float is only distinguishable from the ~~marsh~~^{mirage} by its clear blue in contrast with the light silvery colour of the ~~other~~^{latter} which approaches as near to us as $\frac{1}{4}$ mile, continually changing and forming fancy islands. We soon get over the first stage and pass Jacob's well and now the desert begins to show itself in a more fearful form as we pass hundreds of ³ ² ¹ skeletons of Camels which have perished from want of water and fatigue, their white bones ⁱⁿ ~~sadly~~ contrasting with the brown sand on which they have perished; we witnessed one poor patient creature waiting for the last struggle; it lay on its side hanging its long neck extended and its eye turned upwards as if watching the movements of the ill-omened bird the Vulture, impatiently wait-

The first set of vans start, each containing 5 persons; are on 2 wheels ^{and are pulled} ~~drawn~~ by 2 mules as wheelers and 2 strong Arabian leaders; the mules are fine strong animals. We walk through ^{the} ~~pass~~ ^{pass} the gate and launch as it were into the the hot burning desert; we soon find the veil most useful as we are smothered in dust and sand, sometimes taking the lead and sometimes ^{being} ~~behind~~; our pace is rapid in proportion to the ground we pass over, sometimes being deep in sand at others times from alone; how truly wonderful is the mirage. As we are leaving Gues and the shipping, the town being detached as it were from the land forms a raised island and as we increase our distance from the ships they seem to enlarge and rise into the air and the water on which they float is only distinguishable from the ~~water~~ by its clear blue in contrast with the light silvery colour of the ^{water} ~~air~~ which approaches us near to us as 1 mile, continually changing and forming fancy islands. We soon get over the first stage and pass Jacob's well and now the desert begins to show itself in a more fearful form as we pass hundreds of ^{skel-} etons of camels which have perished from want of water and fallen, their white bones ^{contrast} ~~contrast~~ with the brown sand on which they have perished; we witnessed one poor patient creature waiting for the last struggle; it lay on its side hanging its long neck extended and its eye turned upwards as if watching the movements of the life-giving bird the Vulture, impatiently waiting to begin his repast on his carcase. After 4 stages we arrived at a refreshment Station at 2 p.m., being about 22 miles where we found a pretty fair tiffin, Irish stew being the chief article of food; we continued our journey onward over burning sand and passing through hot air and dust inflaming our nostrils and bloodshot eyes, jolting first out of the road ^{of dust less} to even ground then over the raised bank again, each van driver trying to get the lead for increase of backsheesh. On our South side as our course lay West is a rugged range of high barren hills with heaps of drifted sand and on our North side black large stones on uneven dark sand, having a few stunted shrubs. We pass many caravans, sometimes as many as 200 or 300 camels all heavily laden, giving the true picture to the desert. At 6 p.m., we arrive at the Central Station where we get a hasty dinner and on our North ^{at} about 2 miles on an eminence stands the Palace of Mahomet Ali, who leaving Cairo when the Cholera was so bad, ^{so well} lived in a tent on this spot and finding the air agree with him, erected a Palace; it looks unnaturally strange standing alone in the midst of the Great Desert. We soon came to better ground, ^{and} having ^{the} appearance of McAdamsing. The Central Station is 46 miles from Suez and 42 from Cairo and it becoming dark, we many of us fell asleep or dozed. We met at 9 p.m., the passengers of the "Indus" from Alexandria and stayed to hear the news (nothing); they contrasted well with us, the homeward bound ing to begin his report on his carcase. After 4 stages we arrived at a refreshment station at 2 p.m., being about 22 miles where we found a pretty fair cliff, Irish stew being the chief article of food; we continued our journey onward over burning sand and passing through hot air and dust inflaming our nostrils and bloodshot eyes, joining first out of the road to even ground then over the raised bank again, each van driver trying to get the lead for increase of speed. On our South side as our course lay West is a rugged range of high barren hills with heaps of drifted sand and on our North side black large stones on uneven dark sand, having a few stunted shrubs. We pass many caravans, sometimes as many as 200 or 300 camels all heavily laden, giving the true picture to the desert. At 6 p.m. we arrive at the Central Station where we get a heavy dinner and on our North side about 2 miles on an eminence stands the Palace of Mahomet Ali, who leaving Cairo when the Cholera was so bad, had lived in a tent on this spot and finding the air agree with him erected a Palace; it looks wonderfully strange standing alone in the midst of the Great Desert. We soon came to better ground having the appearance of ^{the} Mohammedan. The Central Station is 45 miles from Suez and 42 from Cairo and it becoming dark, we many of us fell asleep or dozed. We met at 9 p.m. the passengers of the "Indus" from Alexandria and stayed to hear the news (nothing); they contrasted well with us, the homeward bound singing and cheering while they were all enquiries as to the heat of the Red Sea etc. At 11.30 ^{pm.} came to the last Refreshment Station, tea ~~and~~ ^{or} coffee and at 2^{am} we entered Cairo by an avenue of small trees and lighted through the gate and streets of this grand city by men holding on the end of an 8 ft. pole a complete fireplace of burning blazing wood which gives splendid light. Preferring going to the best Hotel "Shepherd's", I ~~leave~~ ^{left} my friends at the "d'Orion" and then to Shepherd's where I find Short about to turn in; having made all arrangements ^{or} obtaining a good Dragoman to start for the Pyramids at 5 a.m., I turned in at 3 a.m. of 20th. flow of the great river. ^{soon} arrived at the

Sunday, May 20th. 1845.

Called at 5 a.m., and feel myself refreshed with 2 hours' sleep. Having everything ready we mounted our donkeys, 6 a.m. at the steps of Shepherd's Hotel for the Pyramids of Ghizeh about 10 miles from Cairo on the other side of the Nile. Our road lay through the different Bazaars, narrow and filthy, to that part of the Nile above Boulak and Rhoda Island; here we descended the steep dusty banks of the turbid Nile and took one of the many ferry boats into which the donkeys are taught to leap. We were soon across the main stream and rounded the sandy neck of land forming the landing place on the Ghizeh side and here the donkeys leaped out as they did into the boat and we all again mounted; our dragoman now took the lead through a crowded mar-singing and cheering while they were all enquiring as to the head of the Red Sea etc. At 11.30 we came to the last refreshment station, tea and coffee and at 2 a.m. we entered Cairo by an avenue of small trees and lighted through the gates and streets of this grand city by men holding on the end of an 8 ft. pole a complete fireplace of burning blazing wood which gives splendid light. Preferring going to the best hotel "Shepherd's", I found my friends at the "Orient" and then to Shepherd's where I find short about to turn in; having made all arrangements obtaining a good draughtman to start for the Pyramids at 5 a.m., I turned in at 3 a.m. of 30th.

Sunday, May 30th, 1912

Called at 5 a.m., and feel myself refreshed with 8 hours sleep. Having everything ready we mounted our donkeys, 6 a.m. at the steps of Shepherd's Hotel for the Pyramids of Giza. Our road lay through the different Bazaars, narrow and filthy, to that part of the Nile above Boulak and Rhoda Island; here we descended the steep dusty banks of the turbid Nile and took one of the many ferry boats into which the donkeys are caught to leap. We were soon across the main stream and rounded the sandy neck of land forming the landing place on the Giza side and here the donkeys leaped out as they did into the boat and we all again mounted; our draughtman now took the lead through a crowded market of every imaginable commodity, thence through a grove of date palms under the shade of which were the oxen treading out the corn, others drawing a drag on 4 axle trees having on each 4 wheels of plate iron 1 ft. ^{1/2} diameter; on this a man sits and describes a circle over the corn laid down to be thrashed. Emerging from these trees we got the first glance of the Pyramids, awfully grand in their position on the ^{edge of the} Great Desert; our road now lay through fertile fields of corn and beans, the soil being quite dark with every appearance of richness. Our dragoman tells us they obtain 2 crops a year from the richness of the soil caused by the overflow of the great river. Soon arrived at the wretched mud Village near ^{the} ascent to the table land of the Pyramids and soon ascend the precipitous ^[word missing] everywhere burrowed with tombs. On approaching these wonderful erections they appear to be of no considerable magnitude but on coming to the foot and looking up ^{the} reality breaks upon the senses. At the foot of the Great Pyramid we stood with impatient Arabs, strong muscular fellows ready to seize us and drag us to the top; having made engagement for 2 Rupees each, we began the ascent having two fellows to catch hold of our hands and one behind pushing you and literally lifting you up the steps of 3 ft. or more; these buildings were once smoothed by stucco but are now bare showing their construction of immense pieces of stone laid in such a manner as to form a series of steps of about 3 ft. or more to the top; at first it appeared formidable but I soon

ket of every imaginable commodity, thence through a grove of date palms under the shade of which were the oxen treading out the corn, others drawing a drag on a axle trees having on each wheels of plate iron 1 ft. diameter; on this a man sits and guides a circle over the corn laid down to be thrashed. From these trees we got the first glance of the Pyramids, now fully grand in their position on the Great Desert; our road now lay through fertile fields of corn and beans, the soil being quite dark with every appearance of richness. Our dragoman tells us they obtain 2 crops a year from the richness of the soil caused by the overflow of the great river. Soon arrived at the wretched mud village near the ascent to the table land of the Pyramids and soon ascended the precipitous ^{cliff} everywhere but rowed with tembs. On approaching these wonderful erections they appear to be of no considerable magnitude but on coming to the foot and looking up, the reality breaks upon the senses. At the foot of the Great Pyramid we stood with impatient Arabs, strong muscular fellows ready to seize us and drag us to the top; having made arrangement for 2 Rupees each, we began the ascent having two fellows to catch hold of our hands and one behind pushing you and literally lifting you up the steps of 3 ft. or more; these buildings were once smoothed by stone but are now bare showing their construction of immense pieces of stone laid in such a manner as to form a series of steps of about 3 ft. or more to the top; at first it appeared formidable but I soon from these close and confined ~~passages~~. The Pyramid was shook off my companions and assistants and took the lead myself, arriving (first at the top). I found the Arabs a great bore, dragging after me and continually asking for backsheesh or presents. My friend Short was some time after me having nearly tired out his Arabs. The view from the top is grand indeed, to the West, the great desert ~~with~~ ⁱⁿ its awful barrenness, East the grand City of Cairo with its thousand minarets and mosques and ~~its~~ celebrated citadel, South, the pyramids of Sakhara, the fertile valley of the Nile and the chimneys of Mehmnet Ali's Sugar factories and the site of the celebrated City of Memphis, North, the beautiful winding Nile and its fertile banks, beautifully contrasting with the surrounding desert. After descending, we entered the opening of the interior, situated about 30 ft. from the bottom of the South side; we passed along a narrow passage of 5 ft. square descending along a slippery footing for some 300 ft. and thence up a much more difficult one, so narrow and slippery that it required you to go on ~~your~~ hands and knees for safety; we soon came to the openings of 2 Passages, one still ascending and more spacious to the King's Chamber and one small and contracted to the Queen's Chamber; we visited the King's first, ^{and requiring me to almost whisper to be heard} an immense vault; we saw the 2 empty stone coffins but our light ^{being} ~~was~~ so bad we could not judge of the ~~size or~~ dimensions; ^{this chamber} the Queen's was much smaller ~~encrusted~~ with salt and smelling ~~was~~ ^{the} strongly of torch smoke; we were not sorry to escape shook off my companions and assistants and took the lead myself, arriving first at the top. I found the Arabs a great bore, dragging after me and continually asking for bakshish or bribes.

 My friend Short was some time after me having nearly slipped out his Arabs. The view from the top is grand indeed, to the West, the great desert with its awful barrenness, East the Grand City of Cairo with its thousand minarets and mosques and its celebrated citadel, South, the pyramids of Sakharah, the fertile valley of the Nile and the chimneys of Helwan. All this factories and the site of the celebrated City of Memphis, North,
 the beautiful winding Nile and its fertile banks, beautifully contrasting with the surrounding desert. After descending, we entered the opening of the interior, situated about 30 ft. from the bottom of the South side; we passed along a narrow passage of 5 ft. square descending along a slippery footing for some 300 ft. and thence up a much more difficult one, so narrow and slippery that it required you to go on your hands and knees for safety; we soon came to the openings of 2 passages, one still ascending and more spacious to the King's Chamber and one small
 and contracted to the Queen's Chamber; we visited the King's first, an immense vault, we saw the empty stone coffins but our light was so bad we could not judge of the dimensions.
 Then the Queen's was much smaller, furnished with salt and small the strength of torch smoke; we were not sorry to escape and returning we almost whirled in the dark being the Queen's from these close and confined ^{interments} ~~apartments~~. The Pyramid was built by Cheops, or Saphis, a pile of 3,000,000 Tons of Stone, 85,000,000 cubic feet; the base is supposed to occupy a space the size of Lincoln's Inn Fields, height 460 ft; I attempted the ascent of the next to it but found it rather dangerous; the 3rd Pyramid is much smaller; we now visited the Sphynx, almost buried in the sand, having only the head and shoulders above ground and this must be at least 40 ft. high; it is certainly a most stupendous monument of heathenism. We now entered many of the tombs on the hillside, in one of which we partook of our Turkey, ^{and} a bottle of ~~Port~~ Wine, finishing the whole and enjoying it amazingly. After paying all expenses, we again mounted and made the best of our way back to the banks of the Nile, and on crossing, visited the Island and its gardens and the Nilometer; thence through the Turkish Bazaar where dresses of every country are to be seen from ^{the} English to ^{the} Nubian and Abyssinian; returned to Hotel, ^{we} washed and dressed ^{at} ^{the} ^{while} ~~d~~ ^{with} ~~with~~ our Dragoman, obtained fresh donkeys and again mounting ^{we} started for the wonderful Petrified Forest, through most filthy narrow Streets crammed with beggars and blear eyed mendicants, the houses converging at ^{the} ~~top~~ ^{top} with their protruding balconies almost shutting out the light of heaven; emerged from the ^{best} ~~first~~ hole through the gate of ^[wooden gate] into the Wilderness, and passing a few Mosques, we dashed up a Valley or Gully between the hills at the back of the Citadel, all bleak and barren; we ^{now} ~~soon~~ found it so hot and suffocating from these close and confined ^{interstices} ~~apertures~~. The Pyramid was built by Cheops or Saphis, a pile of 300000 tons of stone, 85,00000 cubic feet; the base is supposed to occupy a space the size of Lincoln's Inn Fields, height 450 ft; I attempted the ascent of the next to it but found it rather dangerous; the 3rd Pyramid is much smaller; we now visited the Sphinx, almost buried in the sand, having only the head and shoulders above ground and this must be at least 40 ft. high; it is certainly a most stupendous monument of antiquity. We now entered many of the tombs on the hillside, in one of which we partook of our Turkey, ^{and} bottles of ~~some~~ wine, finishing the whole and enjoying it extingly. After paying all expenses, we again mounted and made the best of our way back to the banks of the Nile, and on crossing, visited the Islands and its gardens and the Nilometer; thence through the Turkish Bazaar where dresses of every country are to be seen from English to Indian and Abyssinian; returned to Hotel, washed and dressed, ^{while} our ^{baggage} ~~our~~ ^{travellers} ~~travellers~~ obtained fresh donkeys and again mounting, started for the wonderful Petrified Forest, through most filthy narrow streets crammed with Beggars and blasphemous mendicants, the houses converging at ^{top} with their protruding balconies almost shutting out the light of heaven; emerged from this ^{dark} ~~dark~~ hole through the gate of ^{the} ~~the~~ into the wilderness, and passing a few Mosques, we dashed up a Valley or Gully between the hills at the back of the Citadel, all black and barren; we ^{and} ~~we~~ found it so hot and suffocating and the air so full of sand ~~that~~ drifted from the hill above that we could scarcely bear it. After riding some 7 miles, we rose to a tableland bordering on the desert and were told that the ground on which we were was the sought-for forest; at first thought it a sell but on dismounting found the ground covered with petrified wood; every stone had at one time been wood, the ³interstices ²and ¹grains plainly visible; it is certainly very wonderful and unaccountable, supposed to have been a cedar forest; I kicked up a good piece of root and a few sticks ^{as} and being satisfied. We return through the gorge and ^{the} valley of the Tombs of the Mamelukes so brutally murdered by Mahomet Ali, and then entered the gates of the Citadel and ascended to the Grand Mosque; here we were forced to cover our feet with canvas before entering the Square opposite the Mosque; this building is the grandest I ever saw. It is one massive dome ^{raised} ~~reared~~ on an octagonal ~~articular~~ base, the latter being solely built as that of the square of solid alabaster brought from the 2nd Cataract of the Nile; its height is some 200 ft. and most elaborately ^{and coloured} painted. We then visited the Square where the Mamelukes were shot and the leap (40 ft) the Mameluke took over the parapet and escaped. The view from the Citadel is most grand and indescribable commanding a view of the Pyramid of Sakhara on the left hand to the Tombs of the Mamelukes right with Old and Grand Cairo beneath you with its hundreds of Domes and Minarets ^{and tombs} and objects of intense interest and the Nile and its verdant banks in the distance.

and the air so full of sand that drifts from the hill above that we could scarcely hear it. After riding some 7 miles, we rose to a tableland bordering on the desert and were told that the ground on which we were was the sought-for forest; at first thought it a self but on dismounting found the ground covered with petrified wood; every stone had at one time been wood, the interstices and grain plainly visible; it is certainly very wonderful and unaccountable, supposed to have been a cedar forest; I kicked up a good piece of rock and a few sticks and being satisfied. We return through the gorge and valley of the Tomb of the Mamelukes so brutally murdered by Mahomet Ali and then entered the gates of the Citadel and ascended to the Grand Mosque; here we were forced to cover our feet with canvas before entering the Square opposite the Mosque; this building is the grandest I ever saw. It is one massive dome ~~rested~~ on an octagonal base, the latter being solely built as that of the square of solid alabaster brought from the 2nd Cataract of the Nile; its height is some 200 ft. and most elaborately painted. We then visited the Square where the Mamelukes were shot and the leap (40 ft) the Mamelukes took over the parapet and escaped. The view from the Citadel is most grand and indescribable commanding a view of the Pyramid of Sakharah on the left hand to the Tomb of the Mamelukes right with Old and Grand Cairo beneath you with its hundreds of domes and minarets and objects of intense interest and the Nile and its verdant banks in the distance.

We then visited Said Pasha's Palace in the Citadel, a comfortable building inside. We now began to flag and getting late, we made our Dragoman take us to a Turkish Bath described as a great luxury. We entered a large room by a ^{narrow} ~~narrow~~ stinking lane in which were ^{numerous lines} ~~lines~~ on which were hanging towels etc., and all round were Turkish mats and sofas for lounging and smoking; here we were undressed and a small towel tied round our loins and thence marched into another small confined apartment filled with steam, and having a number of holes (for ventilation) in ^{its arched} ~~its arched~~ roof; here I was rubbed by the hands of a blear-eyed Egyptian for 5 minutes and then ~~we~~ marched into another room in the centre of which was a hot water fountain ^{and basin} surrounded by a marble seat; here the atmosphere must have been 120 deg. and on ^{my} ~~on~~ being seated I was pulled and mauled by my washerman trying to crack my joints etc. At last he threw some hot water over me and took a piece of Pig's hide and began rubbing me again; after this I was taken to another place and pushed into a hot bath of 160 deg. out of which I jumped sooner than my friend wished, almost scalded and repelled all further ^{endeavours} ~~exertions~~ of my companion; then I was covered with a lather of soap and well rubbed and washed; after all this was put into a private room and a bath and a barber with one eye came to shave me, not only my beard but every other part growing hair; this I could ^{no longer so} ~~not~~ stand ~~and~~ giving him an English curse and a kick I rushed out to the first apartment for my

We then visited Said Pasha's Palace in the Citadel, a comfortable building inside. We now began to flag and getting late, we made our dragoman take us to a Turkish Bath described as a great luxury. We entered a large room by a narrow striking lane in which were on which were hanging towels etc., and all round were Turkish mats and sofas for lounging and smoking; here we were undressed and a small towel tied round our loins and thence marched into another small confined apartment filled with steam, having a number of holes for ventilation in the ceiling. Here I was rubbed by the hands of a black-eyed Egyptian for 5 minutes and then marched into another room in the centre of which was a hot water fountain surrounded by a marble seat; here the atmosphere must have been 120 deg. and on being seated I was pulled and massaged by my washerman trying to crack my joints etc. At last he threw some hot water over me and took a piece of Pig's hide and began rubbing me again; after this I was taken to another place and pushed into a hot bath of 150 deg. out of which I jumped sooner than my friend wished, almost scalded and repelled all further exertions of my companion; then I was covered with a father of soap and well rubbed and washed; after all this was put into a private room and a bath and a barber with one eye came to shave me, not only my beard but every other part growing hair; this I could not stand and giving him an English curse and a kick I rushed out to the first apartment for my clothes and there after lying down to be shampooed, I dressed, not waiting for Short and rushed to the Hotel swearing it ^{was} would be the last time I ever attempted it; ^{again} my account amused many and many who like me, took one for curiosity, confirmed my tale.

I never could believe accounts of Flies and insects in Egypt but truly I have now witnessed them. On getting to the clean Hotel I found 13 Flies on Mr. ~~Rosen~~ ^{Bosen: bugs} are everywhere and the common fly so numerous that I have seen tablecloths covered and the wretched inhabitants who are all suffering from ~~oph~~ ^{oph}thalmia and bleareyedness from child to Grandfather, are ^{so} ~~all~~ accustomed to them, ~~so much so~~ ^{some} that while talking to them, you see 12 flies sitting round their inflamed eyes passing their proboscis into the eye and eyelids and other ⁵⁰ angles disgusting to behold; no wonder it is considered contagious when flies are allowed to feed on the disease and inoculate the healthy conjunctiva of another person; one live in incessant fear, dread and irritation. After a splendid dinner at the best Hotel in Egypt (Shepherd's) we retired to rest.

Monday, 21st.

Am turned out at 5 a.m., and obtain hasty refreshment on the steamer (Nile Boat); leaves Boulac, the port of Cairo, at 7.; take a long farewell look at the beautiful green Square facing the Hotel and drive at once to the Nile steamer, 2 miles or one but sufficient to judge of what they must be in the desert.

clothes and there after lying down to be shagged. I dressed not waiting for Short and rushed to the Hotel swearing it would be the last time I ever attempted it. My account amused many and many who like me, took one for curiosity, confirmed my tale.
 I never could believe accounts of flies and insects in Egypt but truly I have now witnessed them. On getting to the clean Hotel I found 12 flies on Mr. Bessie's face everywhere and the common fly so numerous that I have seen ladies' faces covered and the wretched inhabitants who are all suffering from malaria and diarrhoea from child to Grandfather, are all accounted to them, as much as that while talking to them, you see 12 flies sitting round their inflamed eyes passing their proboscis into the eye and eyelids and other angles disgusting to behold; no wonder it is considered contagious when flies are allowed to feed on the disease and inoculate the healthy conjunctive of a other person; one live in incessant fear of bread and irritation.
 After a splendid dinner at the best Hotel in Egypt (Shepherd's) we retired to rest.

Monday, 21st.

Am turned out at 5 a.m., and obtain hasty refreshment on the steamer (Nile Boat); leaves Boula, the port of Cairo, at 7; take a long farwell look at the beautiful green Square facing the Hotel and drive at once to the Nile steamer, 2 miles or more. At 8. we start, crammed to excess in a most unpleasant vessel and are soon passing with current the various objects worth notice on the banks; the schools etc., and the Palace and Gardens at Shoutra on the right bank and on our right the noble Pyramids; we steam along at a rapid rate sometimes having the banks and country clothed with ripened cornfields and sugar plantations, at others the banks low and sandy and one great wilderness of desert all round whose thirsty sands seem to drink of this wonderful river which never fails and which for centuries has irrigated the plains round it; we after pass a miserable mud village and then stunted palms, again a large extent of green groves of sycamore and planes. At one moment passengers would call attention to the jackals on the sandy banks at others to the picturesque Nile boats with their enormous latteen sails expanded to the wind and their comfortable little aft cabins, again to a herd of camels and their young grazing on some small piece of green pasture, now to some water buffaloes totally immersed save their noses in the cooling waters of the Nile. We merrily steamed on varying the scene from desert wilderness to green cultivated islands of the Delta. After passing one of the mouths of this river on our right with the desert on our left till dinner, when one of those fearful sand storms came on and we proceeded on deck to witness it; it was not a very strong one but sufficient to judge of what they must be in the desert;

more. At 8. we start, cramped to excess in a most unpleasant vessel and are soon passing with current the various objects worth notice on the banks; the schools etc., and the Palace and Gardens at Shoutra on the right bank and on our right the noble Pyramids; we steam along at a rapid rate sometimes having the banks and country clothed with ripened cereals and sugar plantations, at others the banks low and sandy and one great wilderness of desert all round whose thirsty sands seem to drink of this wonderful river which never fails and which for centuries has irrigated the plains round it; we after pass a miserable mud village and then stunted palms, again a large extent of green groves of sycamore and planes. At one moment passengers would call attention to the Jackals on the sandy banks at others to the picturesque Nile boats with their enormous fat men sail's expanded to the wind and their comfortable little air cabins, again to a herd of camels and their young grazing on some small piece of green pasture, now to some water buffaloes totally immersed save their noses in the cooling waters of the Nile. We merrily steamed on varying the scene from desert wilderness to green cultivated islands of the Nile. After passing one of the mouths of this river on our right with the desert on our left till dinner, when one of those fearful sand storms came on and we proceeded on deck to witness it; it was not a very strong one but sufficient to judge of what they must be in the desert;

the Wind swept over the dry desert carrying with it clouds of sand so dry and hot that the sun came thro' its haze like a ball of fire and sometimes obscured as it swept over the river covering us with sand and causing us again to lower our sails; so fearfully irritating is it to the nostrils well could I understand the miseries of the poor Arabs with their inflamed eyes. We also witnessed 2 other extraordinary sand spouts resembling those at sea; these are volumes of sand carried up by a whirlwind to an enormous height and seen at immense distances. Those on the West coast are often carried by a strong wind after dispersion to many miles at sea, often witnessed by the sailors, the sails throwing quantities of sand on deck. We also passed the wonderful Bridge or Barrage built by Mehemet Ali of 5 arches each intended to have enormous sluice gates to dam up the river and cause it to overflow its banks and irrigate the country; it is a magnificent structure having small turrets at each arch and long basons or canals at each extremity for passage of vessels over which are drawbridges; it is not yet finished nor do I ever think it will be owing to the surmises and opinions of some scientific men who think it would turn the course of the river and thereby be rendered useless. At 6 p.m., we arrived at the terminus of the Egyptian Railway Kapellias where they are constructing a Bridge of iron across the river to continue it to Cairo. This is about 40 miles from Alexandria; the carriages are spacious and comfortable and a very great improvement on the

The Wind swept over the dry desert carrying with it clouds of sand so dry and hot that the sun came thro' its mass like a ball of fire and sometimes obscured as it swept over the river covering us with sand and causing us again to lower our sails; so fearfully irritating is it to the nostrils well could I understand the miseries of the poor Arabs with their inflamed eyes. We also witnessed 2 other extraordinary sand-spouts resembling those at sea; these are volumes of sand carried up by a whirlwind to an enormous height and seen at immense distances. Those on the West coast are often carried by a strong wind after dispersion to many miles at sea, often witnessed by the sailors, the sails throwing quantities of sand on deck. We also passed the wonderful Bridge or Barrage built by Mohamed Ali of 5 spans each intended to have enormous sluice gates to dam up the river and cause it to overflow its banks and irrigate the country; it is a magnificent structure having small towers at each arch and long basins or canals at each extremity for passage of vessels over which are drawbridges; it is not yet finished nor do I ever think it will be owing to the surmises and opinions of some scientific men who think it would turn the course of the river and thereby be rendered useless. At 6 p.m. we arrived at the terminus of the Egyptian Railway Kaptia where they are constructing a Bridge of iron across the river to continue it to Cairo. This is about 40 miles from Alexandria; the carriages are spacious and comfortable and a very great improvement on the

on the Canal Boat travelling of 20 hours. At 7 a.m., we got away and being very tired did not wake till we got to the Station at ~~the~~ where we got into comfortable omnibuses and drove to the Great Square to Hotel de l'Europe which we found so cramped that I had to shake down in a small room. At 11.30 arrived at Alexandria, at 1 a.m., retired to rest.

Tuesday, May 22nd.

Up at 5 a.m., and having overnight ordered dragoman and donkeys, issued forth to see the lions of Alexandria. The Great Square is certainly the finest part of the City containing Hotels, French Bazaar, Consulates, Houses; thence rode to Cleopatra's Needles, one of which is almost buried in sand and the part exposed, covered with stucco, the other standing erect; these obelisks were brought from the City of Heliopolis and are amongst the most ancient things here; it must have been a work of immense labour and time to have brought them from so great a distance. Thence we rode to Pompey's Pillar, thence round by the Mahmoudieh Canal crowded with boats from the Nile, thence to Station to find our baggage kicking about the place half smashed then to the Pasha's Palace built by Mehemet Ali; our course lay through the most densely populated parts then along the head of the harbour where bales of every article of commerce lay on the beach and wharves. We soon arrived at the head of an avenue of

on the Canal Boat travelling of 20 hours. At 7 a.m., we got away and being very tired did not wake till we got to the Station at Alexandria where we got into comfortable omnibuses and drove to the Great Square to Hotel de l'Europe which we found no cramped that I had to shake down in a small room. At 11.30 arrived at Alexandria, at 1 a.m., retired to rest.

Tuesday, May 22nd.

Up at 5 a.m., and having overnight ordered dragoman and donkeys, issued forth to see the lions of Alexandria. The Great Square is certainly the finest part of the City containing Hotels, French Bazaar, Consulates, Houses; thence rode to Cleopatra's Needle, one of which is almost buried in sand and the part exposed, covered with alabaster, the other standing erect; these obelisks were brought from the City of Heliopolis and are amongst the most ancient things here; it must have been a work of immense labour and time to have brought them from so great a distance. Thence we rode to Pompey's Pillar, thence round by the Mahmoudieh Canal crowded with boats from the Nile, thence to Station to find our baggage kicking about the place half smashed then to the Pasha's Palace built by Mehmet Ali; our course lay through the most densely populated parts then along the head of the harbour where piles of every article of commerce lay on the beach and wharves. We soon arrived at the head of an avenue of trees and a good straight road with the gates of the Palace Gardens at the extreme end; strong well disciplined Turkish soldiers were on parade. We passed thro' the Gates and entered the Square passing on our right and left the Barracks of the Soldiers and further lay the Harem on our right and the Palace on our left. We found the interior well worth our trouble, the lower apartments poorly furnished and staircase to Pasha's Grand rooms very inferior but on landing at the top, how totally different; the Hall was lined in the handsomest manner with satinas in every other apartment, the Grand Room octagonal in shape is in the centre of the building; the floor is inlaid with different coloured woods in diamonds, bearing the highest polish and having the most beautiful effect, the furniture of the most expensive description and the Baths purely Turkish; the Mirrors (French) immense; every floor was inlaid as the Grand Room. The view commands the whole of the Old Harbour Dockyard and Shipping; the fine yacht "Pacha" is lying off the Palace, the "Indus", "Valletta" and "Bombay" further on (Steamers) Tired of this we returned to Hotel to breakfast after which we took our tickets and wending our way to the transit pier, through crowds of every nation, took boat and pulled to the "Indus" where I find an old friend, Chapman. Other passengers are; - Mr. and Mrs Cavenagh and Child, Rev. Mr. Boswell, G. Turnbull, Lieut. Fitzgerald, I. Smith, Ensign Hughes, Capt. Harris, Mr.

dress and a good straight road with the water of the Palace Gardens at the extreme end; strong well disciplined Turkish soldiers were on parade. We passed thro' the gates and entered the Square passing on our right and left the Barracks of the Soldiers and further lay the Harem on our right and the Palace on our left. We found the interior well worth our trouble, the lower apartments poorly furnished and staircase to Pasha's Grand room very inferior but on landing at the top, how totally different;
the Hall was lined in the handsomest manner with satin in every other apartment, the Grand Room occasional in shape is in the centre of the building; the floor is inlaid with different coloured woods in diamonds, bearing the highest polish and having the most beautiful effect, the furniture of the most expensive description and the Bath purely Turkish; the Mirrors (French) immense; every floor was inlaid as the Grand Room.
The view commands the whole of the Old Harbour Dockyard and Shipping; the fine yacht "Pasha" is lying off the Palace, the "Indus", "Valletta" and "Bombay" further on (Steamers). Tired of this we returned to Hotel to breakfast after which we took our tickets and wending our way to the transit pier, through crowds of every nation, took boat and pulled to the "Indus" where I find an old friend, Chapman. Other passengers are;
Mr. and Mrs. Cavanagh and Child, Rev. Mr. Rowell, G. Turnbull, Lieut. Fitzgerald, I. Smith, Misses Hughes, Capt. Harris, Mr. G.

and Mrs Benke, 3 c. and 1 S., Major Capell, Mr. and Mrs Bentall 4 cs, 1S. Dr. and Mrs Rue, 1 C. Ellis, McKenzie, Capt. Wright,
 Mr. and Miss Challis, Mrs Harris, Gillson, Redman, Mr. and Mrs
 Porter, 4 c., 1 S., Col. and Mrs Franklyn, 1 S., Barwell, Hodson
 Lieut. Peill, Brown, 2 Miss McAndrews, 1 S., Sanderson, Ellerson
 Mr. and Mrs Samoudhas, Mr. Samondsham, 1S., Master and Miss Bishop, Mr Chapman, Mr. and Mrs Moyat and Miss Heathcot, Thomas, Smith, Mr. and Mrs D. Silver, Lt. Jardine, Miller, Rev. Oliver, Trotter, Wright, Sterling and Family, De Vera and 3 C., Devera ,
 Mr I., Miss Marshall, 1 S., Mr Dare, Mrs Ferner, and Family, Purvis, Priz, Mr. and Miss Wilcox, Mr. Vanziler, Bagshaw, Lord and Lady Haddo, Hon. Gordon, 2 S. Mr. Newson, Pestland, and Family. 1 p.m., get under weigh

Wednesday, May 23rd.

Lat. 32.49N.

Long. 25.32E.

236 miles.

Wind. N. and NE. Moderate breeze and clear.

Bar. Max. 30.09

Min. 30.04.

Thermom.

" 77.

" 74.

The usual monotony of Shipboard; again we steam merrily along on the waters of this beautiful sea in the fine "Indus", 10½ knots; find my Hong Kong friends the Sterlings from Bentineck the Family agreeable; another mad animal, Capt. H., married, who amuses me much, paying great attention to Miss Sterling who is a and Mrs. Benke, 3 c. and 1 s., Major Gabel, 1 s. and Mrs. Bentall 4 c., 1 s. Dr. and Mrs. Rue, 1 c. Miss, McKenna, Capt. Wright,

Mr. and Miss Chellis, Mrs. Harris, Gillson, Hedman, Mr. and Mrs.
Porter, 4 c., 1 s., Col. and Mrs. Franklin, 1 s., Barwell, Hedson
Lieut. Bell, Brown, 2 Miss McAndrews, 1 s., Sanderson, Wilton
Mr. and Mrs. Samondham, 1 s., Master and Miss Bishop, Mr. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyet and Miss Heston, Thomas, Smith, Mr. and Mrs. D. Silver, 1 s., Jardine, Miller, Rev. Oliver,
Trotter, Wright, Sterling and Family, De Vera and 3 c., Devera,
Mr. I., Miss Marshall, 1 s., Mr. Tate, Mrs. Turner, and Family, Purvis, Price, Mr. and Miss Wilcox, Mr. Vanniler, Ragshaw, Lord and Lady Haddo, Hon. Gordon, 2 s. Mr. Newson, Pestland, and Family. 1 p.m., get under weigh

Wednesday, May 23rd.

Lat. 32.48N. Long. 25.32E. 230 miles.

Wind. N. and NE. Moderate breeze and clear.

Bar. Max. 30.09 Min. 30.04

Thermom. " 77. " 74.

The usual monotony of shipboard; again we steam merrily
along on the waters of this beautiful sea in the fine "Indus", 10½ knots; find my Hong Kong friends the Sterlings from Benlloch the family agreeable; another mad animal, Capt. V., married, who amuses me much, paying great attention to Miss Sterling who is a very nice girl having very red hair. The Bengal keep themselves on the other side but then the delightful climate at this season of the year so invigorates one with buoyant hopes of soon being in England, dispels all dejection; one paces the deck with renewed vigour and strength; how this contrasts with the other the Crew of European sailors (real English Jacks), the freedom of the decks from squatty natives, the good Beef and Mutton and Beer and the sea still deep blue ploughed by hundreds of steamers.

Thursday, 24th.

Lat. 34.28N.

Long. 20.41E.

261 miles.

Bar. Max. 29.98.

Min. 29.82.

Thermom. " 73.

" 67.

We are favoured with delightful weather; the clear bright mornings of the Mediterranean climate are indeed charming; the old Indian may be seen up at 6. as usual, walking violently to keep himself warm tho' the thermometer is at 72. and you may notice a change in his skin from a dark yellow to a light lurid blue. Our appetite returns, dyspepsia disappears and all seem to shake off all Indian customs; at table, a good wholesome joint and you see not one dish of the everlasting curry and rice in fact the Isthmus is the true line of demarcation and it is strange that the short space of transit should make such a thorough change in one's long accustomed habits. We are also fav-very nice girl having very red hair. The Bengal keep themselves on the other side but then the delightful climate at this season of the year so invigorates one with buoyant hopes of soon being in England, dispels all dejection; one passes the deck with renewed vigour and strength; how this contrasts with the other the crew of European sailors (real English Jacks), the freedom of the decks from sparsely natives, the good food and water and beer and the sea still deep blue ploughed by hundreds of steamers.

Thursday, 24th.

Lat. 34.28N.	Long. 20.41E.	201 miles.
Bar. Max. 29.92.	Min. 29.82.
Thermom. " 75.	" 67.

We are favoured with delightful weather; the clear bright mornings of the Mediterranean climate are indeed charming; the old Indian may be seen up at 6, as usual, walking vigorously to-keep himself warm tho' the thermometer is at 72. and you may notice a change in his skin from a dark yellow to a light lurid blue. Our appetite returns, dyspepsia disappears and all seem to shake off all Indian customs; at table, a good wholesome joint and you see not one dish of the everlasting curry and rice in fact the Indians is the true line of demarcation and it is strange that the short space of transit should make such a difference in one's long accustomed habits. We are also favcured with a Bishop of Ceylon, a good old gentleman who gives us Morning Prayer, occupying half an hour and how pleasing to see some 100 attend.

Friday, 25th.

Lat. 35.51N.

Long. 15.18E.

280 miles.

Wind. NW $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

Fresh breeze, steady.

Lovely weather, all anxiety to get into Malta before evening; at noon find distance only 36 miles, hope to be in at 3.30. Pass 2 French vessels laden with victims for the great executing ground. 2 a.m., Land in sight and we soon come upon the sight of Valletta, the buildings of Civita Vecchia on the high land at the back. We now steamed towards the mouth of the Quarantine harbour and the imposing and picturesque sight of Valletta from the sea with the Fort and Lighthouse guarding the entrance of both the Quarantine and Great Harbours and at the extreme end of the tongue of land on which stands the City of Valetta with its fortified enclosure, on the extreme left the Fort protecting the entrance of the harbour and extreme right small Fort Tigre guarding the Quarantine. We soon passed the entrance and steamed under the Lazaretto and Fort Mauvel and found the Steamer "Valetta" only just 3 hours before us. We were soon on shore, entering Valetta through an arched gateway some 100 ft. long and ascended by a series of steps to one of the stair streets under the guidance of a dragoman who marched us at once to St. John's owned with a Bishop of Ceylon, a good old gentleman who gives us Morning Prayer, occupying half an hour and how pleasing to see some 100 attend.

Friday, 23rd.

280 miles.

Long. 15.15 E.

Lat. 35.51 N.

Fresh breeze, steady.

Wind. NW & W.

Lovely weather, all anxiety to get into Malta before evening; at noon find distance only 36 miles, hope to be in at 3.30.
Pass 2 French vessels laden with victuals for the great excecing ground. 2 a.m., land in sight and we soon come upon the sight of Valletta, the buildings of Civita Vecchia on the high land at the back. We now steamed towards the mouth of the Garantine harbour and the imposing and picturesque sight of Valletta from the sea with the Fort and lighthouse guarding the entrance of both the Quarantine and Great Harbours and at the extreme end of the tongue of land on which stands the City of Valletta with its fortified enclosure, on the extreme left the Fort protecting the entrance of the harbour and extreme right small Fort firing guarding the Quarantine. We soon passed the entrance and steam ed under the Lazzaretto and Fort Manoel and found the Steamer
"Valletta" only just 3 hours before us. We were soon on shore, entering Valletta through an arched gateway some 100 ft. long and ascended by a series of steps to one of the stair streets under the guidance of a dragoon who marched us at once to St. John's Church, standing on the highest part and one side facing the Strada Reale or Main Street; its exterior is not imposing but on entering the contrast is indeed imposing, consisting of one vaulted Nave, the ceiling of which is covered with paintings of Knights etc., and the floor inlaid with various coloured marbles showing the order and cross of the various lodges; the walls are decorated with magnificent paintings; from this nave on each side are recessed the various Chapels of the different Nations. In the French Chapel is the monument of the Duc de Beaujolais, Son of Louis Phillippe; all these side Chapels contain splendid paintings and on the extreme right are the silver gates; at the end of the Nave stands the Grand Altar and beneath it the subterranean Chapel containing the remains of the celebrated Grand Masters, L'Isle Adam and Valetta contained in marble coffins elaborately carved; we visited this Chapel from the extreme left (St. John's) Chapel; the first on entering on the right is the largest and grandest containing the head of St. John in sculpture and the altar piece that of his being beheaded. We then visited the Palace, the abode of the Governor, Sir J. Read; the walls of the various rooms have the full figures of the Knights, Grand Masters etc. Thence to the Armoury, well worth seeing; this is a long apartment supported by a series of pillar and extending from one extreme to the other, beautifully arranged all the Knights in full costume each with his lance in hand and

Church, standing on the highest part and one side facing the Strada Reale or Main Street; its exterior is not imposing but on entering the contrast is indeed imposing, consisting of one vaulted nave, the ceiling of which is covered with paintings of Knights etc., and the floor inlaid with various coloured marbles showing the order and cross of the various lodges; the walls are decorated with magnificent paintings; from this nave on each side are recessed the various Chapels of the different Nations.
 In the French Chapel is the monument of the Duc de Beaufort, Son of Louis Philippe; all these side Chapels contain splendid paintings and on the extreme right are the silver gates; at the end of the nave stands the Grand Altar and beneath it the subterranean Chapel containing the remains of the celebrated Grand Masters, T. Lafe Adam and Vallette contained in marble coffins elaborately carved; we visited this Chapel from the extreme left (St. John's) Chapel; the first on entering on the right is the largest and grandest containing the head of St. John in sculpture and the altar piece that of his being beheaded. We then visited the Palace, the robes of the Governor, Sir F. Read; the walls of the various rooms have the full figures of the Knights, Grand Masters etc. Thence to the Armoury well worth seeing; this is a long apartment supported by a series of pillars and extending from one extreme to the other; beautifully arranged all the Knights in full costume each with his lance in hand and his vizor closed and you pass between those rows of warriors with considerable respect for those who so manfully defended themselves against the Turks during that memorable siege; on each side are the arms of the soldiers and at the extreme end those of L'Isle Adam and Valetta, the most interesting of them all. Thence we proceeded to the top of the Palace and there commanded the whole beneath us; on one side the Quarantine Harbour with its opposite Forts, particularly Tigire, the Fort where the Turks settled themselves and drove the Knights out of the other, its strength commanding the entrances of both harbours on each side, the densely crowded houses beneath us on this narrow tongue of land guarded on each side by its impregnable batteries and on the rear by double ditches and trenches protecting it from attacks by land; on our other side from Seaward, 1st., Ricasoli, built on a tongue of land stretching out to sea and narrowing entrance to Great Harbour, 2nd., Naval Hospital, 3rd, the City of built on another tongue of land and having Fort St. Angelo at its extreme end, 4th, Senglia and Fort on another tongue of land and between the 2 latter the commodious waters leading to the dockyard and surrounding these the outworks of strong walls and ditch now rendered impregnable. It was before Valetta was built that the great siege took place, Citta Vecchia (City of Victory), Fort St. Angelo and Senglia, the strong outworks were the site of the famous siege so ably descrhis valor closed and you pass between those rows of warriors with considerable respect for those who so manfully defended themselves against the Turks during that memorable siege; on each side are the arms of the soldiers and at the extreme ends those of L'Isle Adam and Valletta; the most interesting of them all. Thence we proceeded to the top of the Palace and there commanded the whole beneath us; on one side the Guarnatone Harbour with its opposite Forts, particularly Tighe, the Fort where the Turks settled themselves and drove the Knights out of the other, its strength commanding the entrances of both harbours on each side, the densely crowded houses beneath us on this narrow tongue of land guarded on each side by its impregnable batteries and on the rear by double ditches and trenches protecting it from attacks by land; on our other side from Seaward, Fort, Riccio, built on a tongue of land stretching out to sea and narrowing entrance to Great Harbour, 2nd., Naval Hospital, 3rd., the City of Valletta built on another tongue of land and having Port St. Angelo at its extreme end, 4th., Sengia and Port on another tongue of land and between the 2 latter the commodious waters leading to the dockyard and surrounding these the outworks of strong walls and ditch now rendered impracticable. It was before Valletta was built that the great siege took place, Citta Vecchia (City of Victory), Port St. Angelo and Sengia, the strong outworks were the site of the famous siege so ably besetibered in the "Gleanings on our land route". Thence we proceeded to the Upper Barracouta from which you obtain a view of the Great Harbour and all its strength to great advantage looking down on the decks of the hundreds of transports and steamers moored stern and stern. We then visited the Public Gardens (Floreanci) and saw many poor officers, some without legs, some without arms, all wounded recruiting. Then crossed the Great Harbour to the Dockyard and Arsenal crammed with repairing shipping for the Black Sea; returning we landed at the Common Hardstairs and again passed under the strong Archway and ascended one of the Stair Streets of Valetta thronged with Soldiers and Sailors, both French and English all fraternizing and half drunk having a peculiar effect contrasted with the miserable Maltese and costumes of other nations. We were soon again in the Strad Beale and visited Fort and Abercromby's tomb; the Shops, particularly Jewellers', are very good and the mosaic and filagree work as well as red coral, excellent. We find detachments of many regiments but the Valletta garrison, we find to be the East Kent. After purchasing a few little mementoes we return to the Ship "Indus", well tired but satisfied. Passengers received here;) Miss Spatt, Mr. Knox, child and 2 Servants, Miss Edmondstone, Mr. Currey, Melthorpe, Hutcheson, Mr. Rofferty, Maitou, Mrs Giddings, White, Taylor, Cheson, Matheson, Woodman, 8 Seamen.

ired in the "Gleanings on our land route". Thence we proceeded to the Upper Barracento from which you obtain a view of the Great Harbour and all its strength to great advantage looking down on the docks of the hundreds of transports and steamers moored stern and stern. We then visited the Public Gardens (Pjorann) and saw many poor officers, some without legs, some without arms, all wounded recruiting. Then crossed the Great Harbour to the Dockyard and Arsenal crowded with repairing shipping for the Black Sea; returning we landed at the Common Harbour and again passed under the strong Archway and ascended one of the Star Streets of Valletta thronged with Soldiers and Sailors, both French and English all fraternising and half drunk having a peculiar effect contrasted with the miserable Maltese and costumes of other nations. We were soon again in the Strand and visited Fort and Apotecomy's tomb; the Shops, particularly Jewellers, are very good and the mosaic and filigres work as well as red coral, excellent. We find detachments of many regiments but the Valletta Garrison, we find to be the best kept. After purchasing a few little mementoes we returned to the Ship "Indus", well fitted but satisfied. Passengers received here; Miss Spatt, Mr. Knox, child and 2 Servants, Miss Remondacene, Mr. Curvey, Melthorpe, Hutchison, Mr. Rottierly, Watson, Mrs. Giddings, White, Taylor, Gibson, Matheson, Woodman, 8 Gleaners.

Saturday, May 26th.

175.

Lat. 36.46N. Long. 12.36E. 84 miles.
Wind. N.W. Light and clear.
Bar. Max. 29.97. Min. 29.85.
Thermom. " 72. " 70.

We left Valetta at 12. 30., and at 9 a.m., the high land of Sicily, Mt. Etna on our starboard hand, at 3. were running along the coast of the Island of Pantellaria on our port hand; this is a penal settlement of Sicily; it is high land having little vegetation and terraced for cultivation; also passed my old Ship "Medway" carrying troops to the wars; towards made the African coast and passed Cape Bon and the Island of Iow a mour at the entrance of the beautiful Bay of Tunis and ancient Carthage; how much one longs to visit these spots, how one longs to remain in this lovely climate so baking, so bright, a sea so clear and blue, with everything around him bearing some ancient renown.

Sunday, May 27th.

Lat. 37.41N. Long. 7.55 44 miles.
Wind. S.W. Moderate, fine.

Fine fresh morning; fine weather, occasionally getting a glimpse of African coast; pass number of vessels; spend a quiet Sunday, service morning and evening.

Monday, 28th.

Bar. Max. 29.98. Min. 29.90
Thermom. " 75. " 68.

Saturday, May 28th.

Lat. 36.45N. Long. 12.35E. 84 miles.

Wind: N.W. light and clear.

Bar. Max. 29.97. Min. 29.88.

Thermom. " 72. " 70.

We left Valletta at 12.30., and at 9 a.m. the high land of Skilly, Mt. Rtna on our starboard hand, at 5. were running along the coast of the island of Pantellaria on our port hand; this is a penal settlement of Skilly; it is high land having little vegetation and covered for cultivation; also passed my old ship "Medway" carrying troops to the wars; towards made the African coast and passed Cape Bon and the island of Tow a hour at the entrance of the beautiful Bay of Tunis and ancient Carthage; how much one longs to visit these spots, how one longs to remain in this lovely climate so baking, so bright, a sea so clear and blue, with everything around him bearing some ancient renown.

Sunday, May 29th.

Lat. 37.41N. Long. 7.55 44 miles.

Wind: S.W. Moderate, fine.

Fine fresh morning; fine weather, occasionally getting a glimpse of African coast; pass number of vessels; spend a quiet Sunday, service morning and evening.

Monday, 28th.

Bar. Max. 29.98. Min. 29.90

Thermom. " 75. " 68.

A lovely clear day, fine clear blue sky and we pass large numbers of sail and steamers bound Eastward; at one time counted 24; this is owing to our approaching the Straits of Gibraltar; are now running along the coast of Algeria, having the high land in sight all day; strong current against us. At point of the Rock and steam into this beautiful Bay formed by the Rock and its sandy isthmus to Tuesday, 29th. At the head of the Bay. Lat. 36.39N. Long. 1.36W. Spanish shore on 235 miles. Bar. sea pressure Max. 29.80. Min. 29.70. At the head of Thermom. 70. sea, the "Palomares" 68. and "Quedarrague" and at the head of the Bay. A dull rainy morning; fast approaching opposite coast (Spain) and at 3 p.m., expect to be close to Cape de Galle; trust to be in at Gibraltar to-morrow evening. Friend Bagshaw does not pass. At 3., abreast of Cape de Galle, having a rugged naked appearance some 15 ft. in height, cut and intersected by large ravines; the rain clears off and we distinctly see the numerous Moorish Watch Towers on every prominent point of land and in the distance the grand Chain of Mountains "Sierra Nevada" and the deep Bay in which the Town of Malaga is situated. We meet vast quantities of ships beating their way out of this Sea; still a strong current and we pass many smugglers. 1400 ft. perpendicular and only by careful scrutiny can you detect the cave like appearance of the excavated galleries through which the muzzles of heavy cannon can be seen; these galleries entirely command the isthmus and old fortifications of the Spanish lines. We now Wednesday, 30th.

Wind. Westerly, rain.

6 a.m., a miserable morning, cold wind and raining; see the Rock of Gibraltar ahead. Breakfast is ordered at 7.30. We are soon round Europa Point and lighthouse the South point of the Rock and steam into this beautiful Bay formed by the Rock and its sandy isthmus to the East connecting it with the main land, and Cabrella Point and the Spanish shore on which stands the sea port of Algeciras to the West, while at the head 2 rivers empty themselves, the "Palmones" and "Quadarrague" and at the mouth of the latter the ruins of ancient "Carteira". After breakfast we proceed on shore and landed under the lee of a projecting strong battery called the "Devil's Tongue" and passing over the drawbridge and through strong gates, entered the Market Place, where was every description of food, animal and vegetable and passing through another gate, entered another Square chiefly Barracks; thence entered the Main Street running parallel with the sea fortifications. We soon obtained a guide who immediately proceeded to the Town Major for permits to visit the Galleries; the view from the North face of the Rock is very deceptive, facing the isthmus, it is 1400 ft. perpendicular and only by careful scrutiny can you detect the cave like appearance of the excavated galleries through which the muzzles of heavy cannon can be seen; these galleries entirely command the perpendicular face like half a martello tower; it is at the Wednesday, 30th.

Wind: Westerly, rain.

6 a.m., a glassy morning, cold wind and rain; see the Rock of Gibraltar ahead. Breakfast is ordered at 7.30. We are soon round Europa Point and lighthouse the South point of the Rock and steam into this beautiful Bay formed by the Rock and its sandy isthmus to the East connecting it with the main land, and Gibralfaro Point and the Spanish shore on which stands the sea port of Algeciras to the West, while at the head of rivers empty themselves, the "Palmones" and "Guadarrama" and at the mouth of the latter the ruins of ancient "Carteia".

After breakfast we proceed on shore and landed under the lee of a projecting strong battery called the "Devil's Tongue" and passing over the drawbridge and through strong gates, entered the Market Place, where was every description of food, animal and vegetable and passing through another gate, entered another square chiefly barracks; thence entered the Main Street running parallel with the sea fortifications. We soon obtained a guide who immediately proceeded to the Town Major for permits to visit the Galleries; the view from the North face of the Rock is very deceptive, facing the isthmus, it is 1400 ft. perpendicular and only by careful scrutiny can you detect the cave like appearance of the excavated Galleries through which the muzzles of heavy cannon can be seen; these Galleries entirely command the isthmus and old fortifications of the Spanish lines. We now began our ascent to the Moorish Castle through which we passed to enter the deep cutting along the edge of the rock to the first tier of batteries and entered the dry tunnel to the "Lower Union", thence to the Upper Union and on to the Queen's Gallery; they are indeed stupendous and impregnable; it is a tremendous Tunnel running along the perpendicular precipice some 100 ft. from the outside and 800 ft. from the bottom and from this main tunnel, chambers are excavated to the outside of the rock having access to the air, lighted only by a port hole through which the gun's mouth is directed, having space in each chamber to work with nicety a single gun, each chamber being separate and distinct. From our lofty position we had a grand view of the neutral ground and Spanish lines of the Isthmus which were totally burnt by hot shot from the galleries we were now in. After the Queen's we emerged from the bowels of the rock on to a level platform above the galleries we passed through on which stands the strong battery of Willis on the summit of a lofty precipice with others equally lofty immediately around it; we now wound our way up the side of the hill to the opening of the Galleries leading to the celebrated St. George's Hall. These, (the Windsor Galleries) are similar to those below and terminate at St. George's Hall, one of the most wonderful pieces of engineering in the world; the Hall containing 6 Guns is an immense chamber excavated out of a huge fragment of the rock projecting from its perpendicular face like half a martello tower; it is at the isthmus and old fortifications of the Spanish lines. We now began our ascent to the Moorish Castle through which we passed to enter the deep cutting along the side of the rock to the tier of batteries and entered the dry tunnel to the "lower gallery", thence to the Upper Union and on to the Queen's Gallery;

 they are indeed stupendous and impenetrable; it is a tremendous Tunnel running along the perpendicular precipice some 100 ft.
 from the outside and 200 ft. from the bottom and from this main tunnel, chambers are excavated to the outside of the rock having access to the air, lighted only by a port hole through which the gun's mouth is directed, having space in each chamber to work with nicely a single gun, each chamber being separate and distinct. From our lofty position we had a grand view of the new red ground and Spanish lines of the isthmus which were totally burnt by hot shot from the galleries we were now in. After the Queen's we emerged from the bowels of the rock on to a level platform above the galleries we passed through on which stands the strong battery of Willis on the summit of a lofty precipice with others equally lofty immediately around it; we now wound our way up the side of the hill to the opening of the galleries leading to the celebrated St. George's Hall. These, (the Wind-nor Galleries) are similar to those below and terminate at St.
 George's Hall, one of the most wonderful pieces of engineering in the world; the Hall containing 5 guns in an immense chamber excavated out of a huge fragment of the rock projecting from the perpendicular face like half a martello tower; it is at the North East face but from its projection, commands not only the advance of an enemy from the and North but also prevents his taking refuge immediately under the Rock; from one of the Ports facing North East immediately beneath us looked up an old Moorish Tower called the Devil's Tower, for what purpose built we are not told. After returning again to Willis' Battery, we began our zig-zag ascent along the sloping face of the rock towards the Signal Station having immediately beneath us the Town, strong double walls, ditch and heavy battermèss extending from Isthmus to Europa Point, the exquisite Public Gardens and Walk (the Almeida) and the numerous villas surrounded by their sweet gardens, above us the serrated edge of the rock. We were soon at the flagstaff and small enclosure mounting 3 guns and below this a Gallery facing the Town of 6 guns; the station is built on the very edge of the beetling rock making one giddy to look over the wall into the clear blue water beneath us 1460 ft. From this spot to the North the view is truly grand, St. Roque in the rising undulating country laid out in green cornfields and vineyards beyond, the dark outline of the Sierra Nevada; to the South we look across the Straits to the mountainous Coast of Africa, Tangiers, the wonderful almost detached rock connected as Gibraltar by an isthmus and indeed in every way forming the Gibraltar of the other side called Ceuta, having been in the possession of the Spaniards and being impregnable, forms the same eyesore to the Moors as Gibraltar to the Spaniards; carryus to the edge of a deep pit on our left supposed to be connect-

North East face but from its projection, commands not only the advance of an enemy from the sea and North but also prevents his taking refuge immediately under the Rock; from one of the Ports facing North East immediately beneath us looked up an old Moorish Tower called the Devil's Tower, for what purpose built we are not told. After returning again to Willis' Battery, we began our zig-zag ascent along the sloping face of the rock towards the Signal Station having immediately beneath us the Town, strong double walls, ditch and heavy batteries extending from Isthmus to Europa Point, the exquisite Public Gardens and Walk (the Almeida) and the numerous villas surrounded by their sweet Gardens, above us the serrated edge of the rock. We were soon at the flagstaff and small enclosure mounting 3 guns and below this a Gallery facing the Town of 6 guns; the station is built on the very edge of the beetling rock making one giddy to look over the wall into the clear blue water beneath us 1460 ft. From this spot to the North the view is truly grand, St. Roque in the rising undulating country laid out in green cornfields and vineyards beyond, the dark outline of the Sierra Nevada; to the South we look across the Straits to the mountainous Coast of Africa, Tangiers, the wonderful almost detached rock connected as Gibraltar by an isthmus and indeed in every way forming the Gibraltar of the other side called Ceuta, having been in the possession of the Spaniards and being impregnable, forms the same eyecore to the Moors as Gibraltar to the Spaniards; carrying the eye Westward from Ceuta it is at once arrested by the extraordinary perpendicular mountain called Apes' Hill, forming the opposite pillar of Hercules and corresponding to its fellow on which we now stand; West we look down the sloping side of the rock on the Town, fortifications and beautiful Bay containing vast quantities of sail, transport and steamers; on the opposite side the town of Algeciras and its port and shipping and the beautiful country behind, having the rivers above named running their courses from the hills; to the Eastern look down the perpendicular impregnable precipice to the picturesque little Bay and fishing village of Catalan, the houses and boats looking like pigmies as they seem crouching for protection under the overhanging crags behind the clear blue waters of the Mediterranean and the bay studded with numerous felucca regia craft, smugglers, ships beating and tacking to get through the straits or round the rock and the blue line coast beyond on which stands Malaga; the waters seem almost alive with sail of all nations, some Russian; the Steamer is at the New Mole receiving within her iron sides 360 mules and immense quantity of 13" shells and detachments of recruits to carry to the great execution ground, the Crimea. We next proceeded to visit the celebrated St. Michael's Cave, midway between the Signal Station and the Southernmost peak O'Hara's; we entered the mouth of this by torchlight and descended some 20 ft. to the bottom of a huge chambersupported by columns of stalactites; our guide conducted us to the edge of a deep pit on our left supposed to be connecting the eye Westward from Genoa it is at once arrested by the extraordinary perpendicular mountain called Apes' Hill, forming the opposite pillar of Hercules and corresponding to its fellow on which we now stand; West we look down the sloping side of the rock on the Town, Fortifications and beautiful Bay containing vast quantities of sail, transport and steamers; on the opposite side the town of Algeiras and its port and shipping and the beautiful country behind, having the river above named running their courses from the hills; to the Eastern look down the perpendicular impracticable precipice to the picturesque little Bay and fishing village of Catalan, the houses and boats looking like pygmies as they seem crouching for protection under the overhanging crags behind the clear blue waters of the Mediterranean and the bay studded with numerous towers and castles, mangers, ships beating and tacking to get through the straits or round the rock and the blue line coast beyond on which stand Malaga; the waters seem almost alive with sail of all nations, some Russian; the Steamer is at the New Mole receiving with in her iron sides 350 mules and immense quantity of iron shells and detachments of recruits to carry to the great execution ground, the Crimea. We next proceeded to visit the celebrated St. Michael's Cave, midway between the Signal Station and the Southernmost peak O'Hara's; we entered the mouth of this by torchlight and descended some 20 ft. to the bottom of a huge chamber supported by columns of stalactites; our guide conducted us to the edge of a deep pit on our left supposed to be connected with the opposite coast, Mons Atyla or Apes' Hill by a subterranean passage under the Straits and that the large Apes used it as a transit to their native land; our torches lighted up the gulf some distance down and we threw our torch to see its extent but after descending some 70 ft., alighted on a ledge where we saw the blackness beneath and the brilliant stalactites from every pendulous point; we heard from various quarters strange noises which our guide informed us were apes; the roof of this cave is beautifully hung with bright stalactites, some almost reaching midway to join another ascending from the numerous pillars; we were told that many murders are committed here and the bodies thrown into this fearful pit; this Cave is worth seeing, but in my opinion does not equal those at Bermuda. We now went to Europa Point, saw the Governor's House, passed through the Alameda and thence to the landing place and were soon on board, just in time to save our passage, having spent 4 hours profitably. 12.30., Up steam and with a strong West wind and current against us, we leave the Bay and enter the Gut leaving Point Cahita on our right; the Passage is not more than 10 miles; we steam close to the Spanish Coast, passing pretty little Bays and cultivated valleys green to the water's edge; at 3.30., off Point Tarifa on which stands a light and small village under its lee; we now begin to pitch as we open the Atlantic; how cheering again to enter the familiar waters of this Ocean; 6.30., Cape ed with the opposite coast, Mons Ayla or Ayes, Hill by a subterranean passage under the Straits and that the large Ayes used it as a transit to their native land; our torches lighted up the gulf some distance down and we threw our torch to see its extent but after descending some 70 ft., alighted on a ledge where we saw the blackness beneath and the brilliant stalactites from every pendulous point; we heard from various quarters strange noises which our guide informed us were apes; the roof of this cave is beautifully hung with bright stalactites, some almost reaching midway to join together ascending from the numerous pilars; we were told that many murders are committed here and the bodies thrown into this fearful pit; this cave is worth seeing, but in my opinion does not equal those at Bermuda. We now went to Europa Point; saw the Governor's House, passed through the Alameda and thence to the landing place and were soon on board, just in time to save our passage, having spent some hours profit-lessly. 12.30. Up steam and with a strong West wind and current against us, we leave the Bay and enter the Gulf leaving Point Gaiter on our right; the Passage is not more than 10 miles; we steam close to the Spanish Coast, passing pretty little bays and cultivated valleys green to the water's edge; at 3.30. off Point Gaiter on which stands a light and small village under its lee; we now begin to pitch as we open the Atlantic; how cheering again to enter the familiar waters of this Ocean; 4.50. Cape

Spartali, S.S.W., 10 miles; 6.45, Cape Trafalgar, N.N.E., 7 miles; how clearly every incident of the Great Battle flashed across one's mind as we cross the waters where it was fought and the immortal name of Nelson sounds from every tongue. ~~one stands a~~ lighthouse.

Thursday, May 31st.

Lat. 36.56N.

Long. 8.44W. ~~June 2nd.~~

160 miles.

Wind. N.W.

Strong head wind, gale.

~~220 miles.~~

A miserable introduction to our native Ocean, blowing hard and by 12 it rises to a perfect gale; she is labouring and pitching heavily and most of the Passengers are on their beam ends. During the morning, pass N.P. "Orinoco", also 2 screws and 2 gun boats, all bound for the seat of war with troops etc. At 1.30. we pass the sterile and precipitous Cape St. Vincent but no excitement prevails as yesterday at the great battle of St. Vincent by Lord Howe; on rounding this Cape the sea increases; no one musters, save a few old stagers (say 20 out of 80) 8 p.m., blowing a regular Nor Wester such as we often get off the Western Islands. Turn in early with very bad cold.

Friday, June 1st.

Lat. 36.38N.

Long. 9.38W.

Wind. N.W.

Gradually abating.

Bar. Max. 30.10.

Min. 30.07.

Thermom. " 66.

" 59.

Spent all day at the office; 4.45, Cape Wetherby, N.W.R. 1.75 miles; how clearly every incident of the Great Pacific Flash across one's mind as we cross the water where the fishing and the immortal names of Nelson sounds from every corner.
The afternoon was very fine, with a light breeze from the west. The temperature was 71° at 4 p.m.
Thursday, May 31st
Lat. 36.58N. Long. 154.44W. 160 miles.
Wind N.W. Strong head wind, gale.
A miserable introduction to our native Ocean, blowing hard and by 12 at least to a perfect gale; she is labouring and pitching heavily and most of the passengers are on their beam ends.
During the morning, pass N.P. 40th sec. 2nd sec. and 3rd sec.
boats, all bound for the east of war with troops etc. At 1.50 we pass the sterile and precipitous Cape St. Vincent but no excellent profile as yesterday at the great battle of St. Vincent Bay; on rounding this Cape the sea increases; no one is able to see the old towers (say 20 out of 80) at 8 p.m. blowing a regular Nor Wester such as we often get off the Western Islands. Turn in early with very bad cold.

Friday, June 1st

Lat. 36.58N. Long. 154.38W.
Wind N.W. Gradually abating.
Bar. Max. 30.10. Min. 30.07.
Thermom. 68. " " 68.
The morning was very fine, with a light breeze from the west. The temperature was 71° at 4 p.m.

Passed a miserable night knocking about; at 5 a.m., pass mouth of Tagus and Lisbon, beautiful Cintra and Cape Roca; are running along the coast of Portugal; at 10 we pass the extraordinary Burlings, rocks detached from mainland, on one stands a lighthouse.

Saturday, June 2nd.

Lat. 43.23 N. Long. 9.8.W. 226 miles.
 Wind. West $\frac{1}{2}$ S. Light and fine.
 Bar. Max. 30.20. Min. 30.05.
 Thermom. " 64. " 55.

A beautiful morning and at 8.30., are passing Cape Finis-terre which forms the South boundary or point of the Bay of Biscay; pass very close Cape Foriana at 9.30, and Cape Villano 10.5 and now we are steaming up this bad charactered Bay of Biscay in the best of weather as usual, it being now my 30th time without seeing bad weather.

Sunday, June 3rd.

Lat. 47.8N. Long. 6.14W. 258 miles.
 Wind. S.W. Dull, fresh breeze.
 Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.98.
 Thermom. " 60. " 58.

A very dull misty morning and my cold much worse. Few vessels are passed as we boom along at 11 knots an hour towards

Passed a miserable night smoking about at 2 a.m., pass mouth of Tama and Tison, beautiful cliffs and Cape Rose; are running along the coast of Portugal; at 10 we pass the extraordinary Burings, rocks detached from mainland, on one stands a lighthouse.

Saturday, June 2nd.

Lat. 43.23 N. Long. 9.18 W. 228 miles.
Wind. West 8. Light and fine.
Bar. Max. 30.20. Min. 30.03.
Thermom. " 64. " 55.

A beautiful morning and at 8.30, are passing Cape Finisterre which forms the South boundary or point of the Bay of Biscay; pass very close Cape Forana at 9.30, and Cape Villano 10.5 and now we are steaming up this bad characterized Bay of Biscay in the best of weather as usual, it being now my 50th time without seeing bad weather.

Sunday, June 3rd.

Lat. 47.28 N. Long. 6.14 W. 228 miles.
Wind. S.W. Bdl, fresh breeze.
Bar. Max. 30. Min. 29.98.
Thermom. " 60. " 58.

A very dull misty morning and my cold much worse. Few vessels are passed as we boom along at 11 knots an hour towards Ushant. Service after which splendid sermon from Bishop.

All expectation of arriving in Southampton to-morrow.

Monday, June 4th.

Arrive home on this day. Go back to my old room 32 Craven Street from this date to December. I visit my relatives, Humphrey at Lodge Farm, Bob at Rectory, and Edwin, Ledbury. Meet Capt. Bowen who asked me to join him as surgeon in .

Ushant. Service after which splendid sermon from Bishop. All expectation of arriving in Southampton to-morrow.

Monday, June 4th.

Arrive home on this day. Go back to my old room 32 Graven Street from this date to December. I visit my relatives, Humphrey at Lodge Farm, Bob at ~~Lodge~~, and Edwin, Leabury.

Next Capt. Bowen who asked me to join him as surgeon in ? Bombay!

Monday, August 28th, 1854.

bona mounted at 5 o'clock and rode all round ^{the} city; visited ^{the Parbuttee reservoirs}; renable to ^{go to mess-}eat breakfast, feel completely done, ^{can eat nothing;} try to il; am visited by ^{the} Indian Jugglers, ^{am} astonished ^{to see} at ful performance; 1st, taking from his mouth a quantity of ^{various} arfficient to fill a quart pot, after which he emitted lifting ^a stone weighing 56 shells under his eyelids and ^{a tree grows in the path, &c. &c.} the same; ~~a growing tree.~~ and find I can eat nothing;
anies me to the Post Office At 6 p.m. I bid adieu to es the reins; ~~then~~ we are off ^{a little} revives me ~~somewhat~~ and I ^{pace} ng at a furious ~~rate~~ and at-rs are often killed. meet ity of 30 head, nose and tail, nst them. 12 Midnight, arrive Ghauts in ~~my~~ palanquin, get to ing this time. At bottom get into another buggy and some jackals, nearly drive over one. Get to Vollum & thence on board a small steamer ^{Snake} ~~"Snake"~~ and go along-iz" at Mazagon; dreadfully knocked up. Am pleased at nce more home, try to sleep, find it impossible; turn ^a good night.

Wellcome Collection