PHARMACEUTICAL JOURNAL

1921

See also 1922-24

July 12th 1921.

Dear Sir,

I must apologise for the long delay in replying to your letter of the 4th, which owing to absence from town has only just reached me.

With reference to the old syrup jar the label "S: DE: SYMPHITO" is Syrup of Great Comfrey, which was much used in the early part of the XVIIIth Century. It was official in the Paris Codex in 1748, and included in several other European Pharmacopoeias.

I return your correspondent's note. Trusting this will give him the information he requires.

I am only too pleased at any time to help you in this way.

Faithfully yours,

To The Editor, Pharmaceutical Journal.

Dear Sir,

Your letter of the 4th inst, addressed to
Mr.Thompson, has been duly received.

Mr.Thompson is at present out of town, but on his return at the end of this week, I will bring the matter before him.

Faithfully yours,

Secretary.

Hume

17 October 1913.

Dear Mr. Humphrey,

I have pleasure in enclosing you six photographs that I selected with your assistant to illustrate the proposed article on the Historical Medical Museum in the 'Pharmaceutical Journal'; the titles you will find written on the back of each. Kindly return any you do not use, at your convenience.

I am,

Faithfully yours,

C. J. T.

Humphrey

The Pharmaceutical Journal and Pharmacist.

LONDON, W.C.

July 4/21.

C. J. S. Thompson, Esq.,

Dear Mr. Thompson,

We have received an inquiry
to-day (from Baldock) about an old symp for which puzzles us & we are obliged to invoke the aid of the Expert.
We therefore submit the matter to you feeling sure that you will be ready to enlighten us: a copy of the inquirer's letter & illustration is enclosed.
With kindest regards,

Yours faithfully,
The Editor,
P. A. G.

38 QUEENSWOOD ROAD,

FOREST HILL. S.E.

3rd July 1911.

Dear Sir,

With reference to the attached advertisement, for the second time you have inserted this in the wrong column, and I have been put to much inconvenience in consequence, by people writing, asking for particulars.

Can I make you explicitly understand that the articles are required by me, and I have no such objects for sale.

Will you please remedy this by inserting my advertisement in your rented column in your next issue.

The delay is causing a great deal of inconvenience.

Faithfully yours,

The Publisher,

The Pharmaceutical Journal
& Pharmacist.

24th June 1911.

Dear Sirs,

In this week's Pharmaceutical Journal and Pharmacist, you have inserted my advertisement for Old Druggists' Shop Fixtures under articles offered for sale, instead of under "Wanted."

This advertisement was a cutting from the "Wanted" column of the Chemist & Druggist. This mistake has caused much inconvenience, and I should be glad if you would rectify it in that week's Pharmaceutical Journal & Pharmacist.

Faithfully yours,

The Publisher,

The Pharmaceutical

SALE AND EXCHANGE.

Prepaid Advertisements, not partaking of the nature of regular trade advertisements, can be inserted under this heading on the following terms:—

TEN WORDS OR LESS, 6d.

Each additional two words or less will be charged 1d.; two figures or two initials count as one word.

Replies to private announcements may be addressed to the Publishing Office, 72, Great Russell St., London, W.C., in which case an additional fee of 6d. will be charged.

All money orders and postal orders should be made payable to THE PHARMACEUTICAL JOURNAL.

Regular trade advertisements can be accepted for insertion in the special division headed "Trade Offers," if prepaid at the rate of one penny per word; minimum one shilling.

Deposit System.—When dealing with strangers care should be exercised before credit is given or cash remitted, and purchasers may, if they so desire, remit the amount of their purchases (by money orders or postal orders, but not by cheques) to the Publisher of THE PHARMACEUTICAL JOURNAL, who will not remit the money to the seller until advised by the sender. In any such instance 6d. in stamps must be sent in addition to the money order or postal order sent in payment for the goods.
