Sir,
I have two glass lead necklaces, one with Evil Eye leads  and the other with hands to keep off illness .

My cousin, Dr. Monell, told me he thought they might be of interest to your Medical Museum.
Should you care to see them, I will gladly send them on approval.

Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you for your letter of the 30th ult. referring to the two necklaces. I should be glad if you would kindly forward them to me by post for inspection stating the price you require for the same, and if they are of sufficient interest to us, I shall be pleased to consider their purchase.

Thanking you,

I am,

Faithfully yours,

Dear Sir,

In reply to your letter of yesterday I now send the two necklaces.
I must say I honestly have no idea whatever as to their value, & if you think them worth buying I shall be willing to accept whatever you consider a fair price.

Yours truly
Ulric Daubeny.

Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you for so kindly sending me the glass necklaces for inspection. I am sorry they are of very little value, being the usual charm necklets that are sold in Syria and Palestine at the present time to tourists. I have purchased similar ones myself in Asia Minor, and their value is about three shillings each. If you are willing to accept that amount I should be pleased to keep them, and in view of this, am enclosing you a cheque for six shillings. If this is not agreeable to you, will you kindly return the cheque, and I will send the necklets back to you.

Thanking you for the trouble you have taken in the matter,

I am,

Faithfully yours,

C.J.S.T.
