Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you for kindly sending me the old pair of Chinese scales for inspection. I have several of these of different kinds, and they are not very uncommon in this country. Their value is from six to seven shillings, and if the gentleman to whom they belong is willing to accept that, I will send you a postal order for the amount.

I regret delay in replying to your letter and in acknowledging the parcel, owing to absence from town.

Thanking you for the trouble you have taken in the matter, and awaiting the favour of your reply,

I am,

Yours very truly,

Henry Wellcome Esq.
Dear Sir

When away in the County last Monday, I came across the accompanying weighing machine, and was informed that it came from the village Chemist (closed many years ago) and was used for dispensing.

As I did not remember to have seen anything of the kind before I at once wondered if it was ancient enough for your medical exhibition.

The man to whom they belong would like to sell them and if after

You have seen them you would like to purchase I shall be pleased to forward any communication to him.

Yours respectfully.

W. Henry
