FOR THE INSANE,

1. Objects.—That the objects of the Association shall be the improvement of asylums and hospitals for the insane; the acquisition and diffusion of a more extended knowledge of insanity and its treatment; and the promotion of a free communication on these subjects between the Members.

2. Members.—That the Association do consist of medical officers of hospitals and asylums for the insane, public and private, and of legally qualified medical practitioners, otherwise engaged in the treatment of insanity.

3. Election of Members.—That the election of Members do take place by ballot at the annual meetings, a majority of two-thirds of those present being required for the election of each candidate.

5. Arrears.—That any Member in arrear of his subscription more than twelve months after the expiration of the year for which it becomes due, and more than three months after application by the Secretary for the same, shall cease to be considered a Member of the Association, provided no reason satisfactory to the annual meeting be assigned for the non-payment of such arrears.

6. Honorary Members.—That gentlemen, whether of the medical profession or otherwise, who are distinguished by the interest they take in the erection and management of asylums and the proper treatment of the insane, be eligible for election as honorary Members, the election to be by ballot as in the case of ordinary Members.

7. Officers.—That the Officers of the Association do consist of a President, Treasurer, General Secretary, a Secretary for Scotland, a Secretary for Ireland, the Editor of the Journal, and two Auditors, who shall be elected at each annual meeting.

11. Committee.—That the officers of the Association, with the President elect and the President of the past year, do constitute a Committee, with power to add to their number, which shall meet at twelve o'clock on the day of each annual meeting, in order to arrange the business of the day.

the Editor of the said Journal and of the Treasurer of the Association shall be examined by two Auditors, who shall report to each annual meeting. Each ordinary Member of the Association to be entitled to receive the said publication without further payment.

16. Register of Cases.—That to insure a correct comparison of the results of treatment in the several institutions, it is strongly recommended to those Members who have the superintendence of public asylums to keep registers of the cases admitted, according to the form agreed on, at a meeting of the Association held at Lancaster in 1842; and to append to their respective annual reports, tabular statements on, as far as possible, a like uniform plan.

N.B. Copies of these registers, which were printed at the charge of the Association, may still be obtained at cost price, on application to the Secretary or to Mr. Simpson, Bookseller, York.

17. Disuse of Obsolete Terms.—That by Members of the Association such terms as "lunatic" and "lunatic asylum" be as far as possible disused, and that except for official or legal purposes the terms "insane person" and "asylum" or "hospital for the insane" be substituted; and that generally all terms having an opprobrious origin or application in connection with the insane be disused and discouraged.

18. Alteration of Rules.—That any Member wishing to propose any alteration in, or addition to the rules, do give notice of his intention at a previous annual meeting, or give a month's notice to the Secretary, who shall inform each Member of the Association of the same, in the circular by which such meeting is called.

Sect. 144. Every Creditor of the Bankrupt may, after Adjudication, prove his debt, by delivering or sending through the General Post, before the appointment of the Creditors' Assignee, to the Official Assignee, and after such appointment to the Creditors' Assignee, a statement of such debt, and of the account, if any, between the Creditor and the Bankrupt, together with a declaration, signed by the Creditor, appended thereto, that such statement is a full, true, and complete statement of account between the Creditor and the Bankrupt, and that the debt thereby appearing to be due from the estate of the bankrupt to the Creditor is justly due, and all bodies politic and public companies incorporated, or authorized to sue or bring actions, may prove by an Agent, provided such Agent shall in his declaration declare that he is such Agent, and that he is authorized to make such proof; and such declaration, signed by such Creditor and Agent respectively as aforesaid, shall be in such form as General Orders shall direct.

Sect. 145. Any person who shall wilfully and corruptly make any declaration for proof of debt as aforesaid, knowing the same, or the statement of account to which the same shall be appended, to be untrue in any material particular, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable to undergo the pains and penalties imposed upon persons guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sect. 146. Every Creditor of the Bankrupt may also, after Adjudication, prove his debt, by Deposition in Court or in Chambers, or before a Registrar at any meeting of Creditors elsewhere than in Court, or by Affidavit, upon his own oath, or upon that of any Clerk or other Person in his employment; provided that where such Deposition or Affidavit shall be made by any other Person than the Creditor, the Deponent shall, in his Deposition or Affidavit, set forth that he is duly authorized by his Principal to make the Deposition or Affidavit, and that it is within his own knowledge that the debt was incurred, and for the consideration stated, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the debt still remains unpaid and unsatisfied.

LONDON TERMINUS,

PADDINGTON,

3rd May 1862

Dear Sir

I am very sorry you should be under the impression that your request as regards the Corpse for Beodley should not have received the attention you expected, but the fact is that had I been able to decipher the signature I should have replied to your previous note to say that the Train mentioned, the 9.35 am, did not convey Vehicles in which a Corpse could be conveyed and as I did not expect the Corpse would be brought here only in time for that Train, I thought it would then be time enough to explain this to the sender, and also to make arrangements for its conveyance by the next Train leaving here at 11.30 pm.

I now find the Corpse was brought here over night - was loaded in a Horse Box and forwarded hence by b.c. and to Oxford, where a break of Gauge - occurs and a change of Train is necessary - I am extremely sorry and should have suffered annoyance through your original intention not being carried out, but I can assure you it was from no intentional neglect on our part, as in such cases we are always most desirous to offer every attention in our power.

I hope the Corpse was duly sent on from Oxford to Boddley but am unable to say with certainty, I will however make enquiry about it without delay. If it did not I am sure the only reason was they were unprovided with a narrow gauge box in which to place it

I am Sir
