On Dissection an enormous Abscess was found in the right lobe of the Liver, which had formed no Adhesions to the parietes Abdominis. a great many Adhesions had taken place between the pleura and right lobe of the liver. On cutting into the Abscess about \mathcal{L} ij. of Pus was discharged from it in a vessel exclusive of what remained mixed amongst the bowels and in the Peritonaeum.

Statement of Edward Poulton Age 23. landed in this country last Year. Was admitted with dysentery on the 15th of July - had first a large Dose of Calomel followed up with \mathcal{L} ij. of \mathcal{O} \mathcal{R} iini, and for many Days after Pills were ordered for him consisting of Opium & Calomel - guarded with a little Opium, so as to take Daily about \mathcal{L} ij. of Calomel - on the 25th of July this treatment was altered for Doses of Castor Oil three times a Day and Uter. \mathcal{H} id. \mathcal{L} ij. rubbed in Daily - with Oily Cremata &omentation but as all these remedies brought but temporary relief he began to take Cal \mathcal{L} ij. Daily from the 2th of August the rubbing in was continued: the Injections were given some Nights with Opium dissolved in them and occasionally without Opium. His Mouth was very slightly affected on the 5th but his Stools were still small & slimy mixed with Blood - which were but little improved by an occasional dose of Castor Oil. His Pulse still continued hard and full, and he disliked the Counting of his Belli; he never complained of any Pain any where else. Tho' often questioned had he any Pain in his right Side, but on pressing his Side on the 7th he confessed it gave him great Pain - 20 Leeches were applied to it that Day, and on the next as he breathed with Difficulty he was bled, and \mathcal{L} ij. of Blood drawn from the right Arm no more could be made to flow. A large Blister was Applied to his right Side, and \mathcal{L} ij. of Cal in four doses given, besides the rubbing in of the Uter. \mathcal{H} id. Under this treatment the Stools changed from slimy & small mixed with Blood, to watery ones, of a brownish colour. — the Pain in his Side abated but his Mouth did not become sore — on the 9th and 10th. ℞ grains of the blue Pills were given three a Day — Cal ℥ viij with ℞ Grain of Opium ℞ s. and the Urag. Hyd. continued, but with no benefit. The Calomel to ℥ xx daily, guarded with a little Opium was again reverted to, and the Stools became more frequent and of a more natural colour an Opiate was added at Night on the 15 and 17th his Liver was examined, the pressure of which gave him no Pain, tho' it felt a little hard — his Pulse never changed for the better, nor did his Mouth become sore, but the griping continued and the watery Stools of a brown colour returned. A Blister was laid over the Abdomen on the 20th, the Calomel omitted in the Day time, when doses of Castor Oil were given, and Cal ℥ viij with ℞ Gr of Opium of the Urag. Hyd. continued at Night. Oily Cremata were also given, all which improved the appearance of the Stools, without alleviating the griping much, and his Pulse became small tho' quick and hard — he was greatly debilitated by this time, but never complained of Pain in his right Side, on which he bore Pressure without feeling any uneasiness from it. He continued under this treatment adding dissolved Opium in the Clyster and keeping the Blister open untill the 24th on which Day Cal ℥ xx was given early in the Morning but he felt no benefit from any of these remedies, and died that Day a little after 12 o'Clock

On Dissection adhesions were found between the right lobe of the Lungs and the pleura, the convex side of the Liver looked black, and the right lobe was very large — but did not adhere to the parietes Abdominis, it descended low in the Abdomen on turning up this lobe an enormous abscess was found in it, on the point of bursting thro' the bony part of it into the Abdomen — by cutting into it about 4 ℥ of pus were discharged in a Vessel, exclusive of what escaped in the Thorax and amongst the intestines.

Daniel Montague Age 39 a large and formerly robust old Soldier, was admitted on the 23d of August with Acute, a Dose of Calomel ℥ viij of purging softs ^{was} immediately given him and 12 Leeches applied to Side and Cal ℥ x s. was blistered next Day, and ℥i of Calomel given in three doses, which was continued to the 10th adding a ℥ of Opium at Night his Mouth became sore by that time; on the 10th 12 more Leeches were applied to his Side, and on the next Day a Dose of Nitric Acid was ordered ℥ Cal ℥ x with an Anodyne at Night, It took either the Decat had Columbo, or some Salis pica in the Day time. This treatment continued till the 16th. On the 17th the Leeches were applied for the third time — the Calomel increased to ℥i and a second Blister — was applied on the 19th. On the 20th ℥ x of the Nitric Acid was ordered in 3℥ viij of Decat Hard and Cal ℥ x was continued at Night only — On the 29th Nitric Acid with Sat. Spirit ℥ xx was was Ordered - which not producing any Stools - half that quantity of R. Riri was given at Night. At this time, the illness of - ^{the} Surgeon Carter (in - whom was this Patient was) brought him under my more immediate Care and Observation. His countenance was sunk - of a sallow appearance, and he was extremely exhausted - his Pulse was small hard & quick, the last medicine had procured four Stools - but his breath was not affected, nor did it appear to have continued long after the tenth.

 From his exhausted State, ʒij of Wine were once at his request allowed him in Toast Water on the 30, but the treatment was in no other respect altered up to the 1st of September, during the Night of which he had nine watery stools of a yellow colour - he took a little of his medicine that Day being entirely exhausted - and died in the evening.

On Opening the Body, a large Abscess was found in the right Lobe of the Liver which adhered to the false ribs - a small quantity of pus had made its way thro' a small Opening in the Diaphragm into the Thorax; many Adhesions were formed between the right Lobe of the Lungs and the Pleura - The intestines appeared sound - but strongly tinged with the colour of the Bile

Sergeant Luke Peyer - Age about 40 of the Honorable Company's Service and attached to the Commissariat, a man of excellent Character and very regular conduct, very low in stature, broad Shoulders, short necked and very corpulent, arrived at this Station on the 5th of ^{of Septemr} ~~the 5th~~ Putterbar, during the whole of his Journey to this Station, the weather had been intensely hot, and he was taken ill by his own Account on the 5th. On the 8th Cal ʒxx and Mag ʒiij ʒi were Ordered for him and 15 Leeches were applied to his Temples - on the 9th Cal ʒi was given him in one dose and on the succeeding Day Cal ʒx Spals Gambog ʒ ʒss.

For the convenience of medical attendance he was placed in the highest Hospital of the Corps of Am. Surgeons. To late in the evening of the 12th Cal ʒx were given him that Night - on the morning of the 13th he stated he had not been greatly purged from the first medicines he had taken, except from the Pills ordered on the 10th, which procured several black Stools - his breath was not affected, had only one stool from the Calomel given the preceding Night - expected the Fever at ten. Black ʒ Mag ʒiij ʒi with ʒij of Ant Fever this Day, was purged pretty often, his first stools were of a Dark, the others of a yellow colour - but none of them were copious. Cal ʒx ʒij were given at Night - on the Morning

Morning of the 15th he stated he had had the Fever during the Night, which had been immediately checked by the Draught, as his Bowels felt still uneasy - He was ordered Gr. xv of Salap & Rhubarb with ʒi of Crem Tartar, which did not operate at all, had the Fever more severely than on the former Days, a purging Crema given in the Evening, relieved him much by the large stool it procured: four Pills were given containing Gr. ʒ of Calomel & Scammony & of Extract of Salap - his Head was shaked that Night - next Day the 16th his Head was not much relieved, tho' he had ten large stools of a yellow colour - the operation of the Pills had not then ceased - he was much reduced in strength, ʒij of the saline mixture were directed to be given every two Hours, and a large blister applied over his Head in the Evening - his Head was much relieved, but had had the Fever on him all Day, tho' not very violently - his Skin was always hot and dry, his Limbs had a peculiar tremulous feel, which I have not observed in other Cases - Cal. ʒij pul. Antim Gr. ʒ in two pills were given that Evening, in ^{hopes of} removing the continued hot and dry Appearance of his Skin - 16th had one stool toward Noon had not perspired, nor had he heat - Cal. ʒ were given at Midday he grew worse, pulse small & quick but not hard pain in his Head was much severer than it had been, was much griped, his Skin felt as the preceding Day - Leeches were applied to Temples - A purging Injection was given, which produced several copious stools of a brownish and yellow colour, and relieved the griping much - Cal. ʒ were ordered & Ungt. Hior ʒij rubbed in - In the Evening it was stated he had some stools during the Afternoon, was then comatose, a large blister was applied between his Shoulders, and the Camph. Miat ʒij with ʒxx of the Spirit of Mon. Comp given, which was once repeated before he died - he expired about 8 o'clock that Night, and was buried early next Morning.

James Purter - See N. was admitted on the 13th of August complaining of Dysentery - was freely purged the two first Days by a large dose of Calomel and purging Salts with Tart. Elix. cont. after which Pills were given every four hours consisting of Calomel, Opium and a little Cassia, so as to take gr. x of Calomel Daily, under which treatment his complaint at first seemed to get better - intermissions occasionally a dose of Castor. Oil or of the Sulfuric with a few Drops of rect. gr. relieved him at times, when the pills did not, or disagreed with his stomach. As his complaint always returned, and his Mouth did not become affected by the 17th, the Laxg. was ordered to be rubbed in - he had been daily questioned had he not any pain in his right side, and on the 28th he stated he felt a severe pain there, supposing it was the first Day he perceived it, nor could he bear any Pressure on it: 2s. Leeches were immediately applied to it, and Cal. gr. x given.
 The next Day a large Blister was applied, Calomel gr. x given every four hours, and the Laxg. continued - his Mouth became slightly sore on the 29th, and he suffered much that Day from difficulty of Breathing, which was removed by a dose of Nitrous Ether - the Calomel was diminished to ten Grains that day the following Day; but as the Pain in the side again increased, 2s. Leeches were applied to it, from the 31st of August and 1st and 2d September ^{inclusive} a large quantity of Sulfuric was given & the Cal. augmented to 3i Daily - his Belly was vomited and Pili Cremata given - by the 3d his Mouth was pretty sore - thro' no Salivation was brought on, as the Pills of Cal alone grieved him much he took Cal. gr. x with 3i of a grain of Opium three a Day to alleviate the Pain in his Bowels: he began to rub in 3i of Laxg. the same Day, from the 3d to the 8th inclusive he took 3i 3ij of Calomel & rubbed in 3ij of the Laxg. without any material relief, except from a Blister applied lower down and further back than the former one. He continued to take gr. xxx of Calomel with 1gr of Opium and to rub in 3i of Laxg. till the 7th his Mouth all the while being sore - but without producing any ptyalism - he was however so severely grieved that the Calomel Pills were changed for the pil. Hyd. of which he took nine for a few Days - and rubbed in Laxg. 3ij: his Belly was vomited & the Blisters kept open by fly plasters, and Pili Cremata with with ℥ij of Opium dissolved in them given two or sometimes three in the 24 Hours. Doses of ℞ Raisin ℥ij with or without ^{of the Raisin} given once a Day and occasionally a second time at Night. As he did not get any better under this treatment ℥al ℥i with 1℥ of Opium in a Day was had recourse to, on the 11th. — which was repeated at Night his Mouth became sore on the 12th but he did not spit any the balamel was repeated once a Day and Unst. ℞ Raisin rubbed in. This treatment was followed up, with the aid of fly plasters, fomentations, Anodine Enemata, and small doses of Plantain Oil without relieving the griping & purging, and affording only temporary relief from the Pain in his Side. On the 18th in the Evening another Blister was applied, which caused the Pain in his Side to abate for a couple of Days — his stools were always Watery of a yellow or of a brown colour, mixed with Slime and matter. at times nothing but Slime was voided — his Pulse was always small quick and hard — he lingered until the 18th when he died.

On Opening the Body the Colon was found lying over the small Intestines across the 4th men passing lower down than the Stomach or the Liver to the left, its place was filled by the right lobe of the Liver which contained a large Abscess pointing toward the false ribs — the left Lobe pressed the Stomach under the false ribs of the left Side, and the whole Viscus was so much enlarged as to keep the Diaphragm pressed up higher than it is to be usually found. On making a slight cut in the lower side of the right lobe of the Liver a large quantity of Pus escaped.

and a purgative were immediately had recourse to - followed up with ʒij of Uragt Hyd. and one Scuple of Colomet Daily. As soon as his Mouth became affected he became better. In the 22^d the Alum Gargle began to be used and the Uragt Hyd. was left off, and as his Mouth still became sore on the 26th the Pills were left off also. - he used the Gargle alone until the 27th October when he began to appear much debilitated; the Cinchona was given in small quantities or in Reaction, and as soon as his Mouth got well, the Pil Hyd. & the Uragt Hyd. were also prescribed, and two or three glasses of Wine allowed daily. Under this Treatment he received little benefit; it was sometimes a little varied when he became much purged or had a troublesome Cough - but he did not complain again of any Pain in his Side during the whole of the Month of October.

In the Evening of the 1st of November the Pain returned he was blistered, rubbed in ʒij of Uragt Hyd. and the Cal ordered in large Doses the Cinchona mixt and the Wine were left off the blisters were kept open, fresh ones applied, and ʒi of Cal. given Morn. & Evening the blisters were after some Days dress'd with Uragt Hyd. and thro' this Treatment was continued from the 5th to the 20th his Mouth did not appear very sore until that Day & then without producing any salivation he was however extremely reduced in Strength at that time. The Cal. was diminished to ʒij x twice a Day, and dress'd with Opium, but left off on Account of the severe Purging; which he then began to suffer from. ʒiij of Uragt Hyd. were rubbed in daily, and Cremat. with ʒij of dissolved Opium given twice a Day. On the 25th his humors bled much but without any Salivation. In the 29th his Mouth had got better, and the Cal. with ʒi of Opium was given - another Blister was applied to his Side, and the Uragt Hyd. continued - this quantity of Mercury was first diminished and at last entirely left off on the 3^d of December, as the purging could not be restrained by any Cremata. his remaining strength was quite exhausted by the 26th, on the Evening of which Day he Died. On Opening the Body a very large Abscess was found in the right Lobe of the Liver, which burst on turning that Viscus, pus Amoyting to perhaps ʒvi rushed out of it.

Joseph Keilly Age 20. Captain Warringtons Troop was brought to the Hospital on the Morning of the 26th December and expired a few Minutes after. On Opening the Body, the Stomach was found filled entirely with pure Spirits and contained no food whatever.

The Body of John Kelly Age 22. Captain Courtlans Troop was brought to the Hospital on the Morning of the 27th December he had been found lying Dead in the Parade of the Barracks, had all his Cloths on, and his ~~head~~ ^{head} on his back, the Body was cold and stiff. Some Spouts ran out of his Mouth - the Face and a great part of the Body were black - it was Opened - some Spirits were found in the Stomach - the Lungs were black filled with blood and only partly collapsed. The Body smelted strongly of Spirits - neither of those men have been on the Hospital Books.

Christopher Barber. Age 28. Came to the Hospital on the 28th of December, with remittent Fever, and ~~much~~ much. Deliberated a purgative was given, and the Bark Mixture with Wine afterward Ordered, which was left off as it purged him much. On the 5th of January his Tongue was turned and Dig. Pulse good the Camphor Mixture and the Peact Linchon were Ordered, and four or five glasses of Wine allowed under which treatment he ~~appeared~~ ^{seemed} to improve. He however was always Drowsy and his Face appeared flushed, the Camphor Mixture was therefore left off on the 8th, and the quantity of Wine a little diminished, the Peact Linchon was given instead, and Attention paid to the state of his Bowels his Head was shaved and blistered. He took that Day 3j of Extract Linchon in Pills. On the 9th it ~~was observed~~ ^{was observed} that the Blister tho' repeated twice had not risen, nor could he be kept awake, his pulse had become very small & wiry. Sinapisms were applied to his Feet, a fresh Blister to his Head and to the calves of his legs ʒxxij of Wine were given him during that Day and Night and ʒiv of the Extract Linchon dissolved in the Peact Linchons given. In the Evening of this Day, he was less visible, and awake the Sinapisms seemed to ~~disturb~~ ^{disturb} him much, but his Pulse was scarcely perceptible. He died that Night. His Complaint having been a Pleurisy, the Body was not opened.

William Barber. Age 34. Came on the 30th of October to the Hospital with a Pleurisy of long standing said to have commenced after returning from the Doon, in December 1803. First a purgative & after Mercurial had combined with Opium were given, and his Mouth became soon very much affected, but without much benefit, very small Doses of Bastard Oil with a little Tinct of Opium were ordered while his Mouth was very sore these with Spodize Lactata, arrow root or Salep, mucose Diet and some Wine were continued for some Days but to no purpose Pills with a few grains of Rhubarb & a little Opium had no better success. The Injections with three or four gr of Opium were continued wherever the griping was severe the Injections with the Addition of Pulv. iuce could not be retained, and brought on Vomiting. As no good had resulted from this treatment, on the 2nd of December mercurial Medicines were once more Ordered, and by the 5th of that month his Mouth was so sore as to induce me to leave them off. The Pills of Rhubarb and Theriaca were given at the same time, still the Stools of a brownish watery appearance continued and here being declared he had never any pain in the Region of the Varietion till the end of the Month. Some were given mull'd producing free perspiration, was the only thing that relieved him for a Night, but the small watery Stools continued and the general emaciation increased. No Diet could be found that was acceptable to him for more than three or four Days. On the 21st of December the Lactata with only ʒj of the Pulv. iuce bailed on. were tried once or twice in his Stools and continued adding a little Opium to each, half a pint of Port Wine was allowed him daily his Mouth kept sore the Salep mucose again given for Diet but to no purpose he kept gradually sinking until the 1st of January when he died.

On Inspection of the Body, it was observed to be extremely emaciated. The intestines were found empty, the Liver but slightly indurated, and nothing particular was found in the Thorax or Abdomen which could account satisfactorily for the Complaint, of which this Patient had died.

John Reynolds Age 34. a man addicted to constant intoxication, came to the Hospital on the 3^d of May with a Swelled Testicle from a contusion in riding, which was treated in the usual way, Leeches Comentation Sambalah leaves Tobacco leaves - The Ungt. Sig. Sanguis or a strong solution of Sal Ammoniac with the spirits and Kingar were all tried in their turns for a considerable time which indeed reduced the swelling to nearly the size of a Turkey egg, but no endeavors succeeded to restore it to the natural size, in July he began to complain of a cough which continued at intervals ever since till his death and was generally relieved by the usual cough mixtures of the Lungs - or the Decoct Glycyr. sometimes with B. sometimes without the Dist. Prib. Sanguis. or Vin Antim. In September he continued to get several times very drunk tho a patient in the Hospital. - was removed to the Surgeon house and readmitted afterwards. As an obscure fluctuation appeared in the Scrotum an incision 1/2 inch long was made thro' the integuments on the 26th of that month there were found very thick, and on making a deep puncture with a deep Lancet, nothing but blood following, the fluid seemed to be contained in the body of the Testicle itself, which not being painful, no Advantage was expected to be derived by laying open the whole Tunica Vaginalis, the incision was therefore healed up. On the 28th of September the Scrotum was again minutely examined and I was concluded to be most expedient not to lay it open, but a Plaster was applied without producing any good effect, since which nothing but moist Tobacco leaves, or goalard ointment was applied to it as the Patient was apt to be costive purging medicines were occasionally given, and the cough mixture continued in which he never expectorated much, or complained of pain in his Breast. He continued under this treatment apparently generally healthy until the 12th of this month when he ascended from the Hospital, to which he was brought back on the following Day extremely intoxicated, nor could learn whether he had been found lying in the Open Air or otherwise - his head was shaved Plasters were applied to his Stomach, and tomorrow as he complained on the 15th of great pain in his Breast and Belly, on the 17th a purge of Purgative was ordered - his Tongue appearing much loaded - and his bowels out of Order this Operated freely, but weakened him much tho it did not relieve his Head materially, the Siphon which was ordered and half a pint of Wine allowed him, his Head was blistered and as this rose imperfectly it was renewed, and another applied between the Shoulders. On the 20th the whole Body had a yellow tinge, the Breathing was pretty easy but he raved continually - the Sanguis & Wine that were brewed, and the quantity of Wine increased to eight. The state of his bowels was always attended to - The general appearance of low Fever however increased he was constantly troubled with a Sickness and his Tongue was always dry and furred the Wine was therefore augmented to a Bottle per diem and 5ij of the Extract of Siphon added to the Mixture all which had no beneficial effect, he kept declining till the afternoon of the 24th when he expired. On Examining the Body, the whole Abdomen was found tinged with bile, the Liver exceedingly large, and pressing on the stomach, the right Lobe of the lungs was much inflamed on cutting into which small quantities of Pus boozed out of every part of it. On Examining the Scrotum, a small Abscess was found in the Tunica Vaginalis of the right Testicle the thickness of the involucre of which had subdivided the Testis concerning the nature of the Disease.

Hughes Keating Age 31. A. Recruit of a delicate form joined last year and was Admitted in the Hospital on the 16th of March with Diarrhoea - a few Days after it was discovered he he had a Bubon Mercurial. Medicines were given him which soon affected his Mouth considerably, and for a while Diminished the purging, which again returned before his Mouth was quite well. In the beginning of May the Pills of Specacuan, Calomel & Opium, or doses of Castor Oil were resorted to with his great relief. On the 15th of that month Cal & Opium were given in an emulsion and Evening the Ungt. Hydr. rubbed in and Tragyre Enemata given. On the 16th he began to take Cal & Opium twice a Day and the Enemata changed for those of Mercurius. Having often been questioned had he any Pain in his side he admitted on the 17th he had some Pain in his right side by pressing on the Liver. Bleeches were applied to it, and the Tragyre Enemata given these relieved him for a while which those of Specacuan did not the Calomel was left off on the 19th, as he kept it down with much difficulty and it

Oppressed him greatly. he had taken six scruple doses in his Mouth was sore but no Ptyalism followed. The Ungt. was rubbed in to 3 or 4 daily small doses of Cal Ric given and the Tragyre Enemata given for several Days under which Treatment his purging diminished a little and his Appetite came about he was however extremely reduced. On the 29th recourse was had to the blue pill dissolved in Gum Gum Arab. and the rubbing in of Mercurial Ointment continued the purging was not altered, and the stools of either a yellow or a red or brown watery appearance continued. No favorable change was procured by a few grains of Rhubarb continued Gum Arab. or by small Doses of Oil of Turpentine and a few Drops of Tinct of Opium. The Salep Diet first with a little Wine and afterwards with Milk had been given him for some time. he kept declining until the 22d of June when he died. On opening the Body, the Liver was found a little enlarged and hard. Three very small Abscesses were found near the surface of the convex side of it, which each hardly contained 1/10 of pus. The Intestines were empty, of a dark gray colour the lower part of the Rectum was quite black.

Edward Gilfil Age 20. A recruit who joined last Year. of a very delicate habit and pale countenance had been often for considerable periods in the Hospital with Dysentery, and tho' he repeatedly recovered he generally relapsed after he had been a fortnight at his Duty. On the 21st of May he was suddenly seized with Paralysis of the left side his countenance was extremely pale but his speech was unimpeded and nothing was observed in the Pupil of the left Eye; his head was shaved some brisk purgatives given. — and Iodisms rubbed over his left Arm. his head was a few days after blistered under which Treatment he became able to move the thigh a little. but he continued extremely weak, without any material change taking place. On the 22d of June at 3 o'clock P.M. he was suddenly taken with a fainting fit, and expired almost immediately. The Body was too warm to admit of its being opened tho' Evening and he was buried next morning.

Robert Moor Age 35. A Man believed to be of very regular habits, who is at recollect to have been in the Hospital these some Years back, but who constantly exposed himself to the Sun or to the hot Winds was brought to the Hospital on the 27th of May with Hepatitis. 30 Bleeches were applied to his side, and a full dose of drastic purging pills given. next Day a scruple of Calomel was exhibited and his side blistered this practice was continued thro' the following days, and as he was brittle a Dose of purging pills and one of Compound powder of Jalap were ordered. his stools were observed to be of a white or light colour ran from his face. 20 Bleeches and another Blister were applied to his side and a Draught with Nitrous Ether was ordered. On the Evening of that Day Cal & Opium were exhibited. — all these produced however no good effect, nor did his Mouth become affected he died on the morning of the 5th. — On inspecting the Body, the Liver was found very large, heavy and entirely Schirrous.

Sergeant Carlisle. Age 39. Phthisis Pulmonalis. Had been three months in Hospital in 1815 and part of the month of March 1816, with a slight cough, which was apparently well, when we returned to his Duty, was again admitted on the 22^d of October last, with all the symptoms of Pulmonary consumption, he had then already lost a good deal of his flesh and strength, when he came to the Hospital. After the slimy vis were cleared out, a large Blister was applied to his Breast, which was afterwards either repeated or kept open during the first two or three months of his illness. The Medicines during that time consisted of the Mixture Musc of Gum Arab with some Antimonial Wine, and Camph Sinct of Opium, the quantum of which later was varied according to circumstances. These were sometimes combined with the Sac Ammon at others the Aet Pills was added and the other Articles left out or diminished. All these Medicines had in their turn for a while, a good effect promoted expectoration, and allowed of his Breathing easily - but they all lost their good effects after being persevered in for some time, and the disease continued its progress. Early this year the Squill Pills with Gum Ammon were ordered, and instead of the Blisters which had been omitted some time before, a large Complast Litharg on leather was applied to Breast and Back - the good Effects of this treatment did not last long and the Pills were omitted. The Decoction of Liquorice or the Aqua Horde with a few drops of the Vin Saturn and the Sinct Opium Camph seemed to have a beneficial effect for a while - particularly the latter - but the general Debility increased - he became more emaciated - his feet swelled, and the expectoration of Pus was considerable. He lingered thro the Month of May rapidly sinking his countenance became sunk partial cold Respiration was perceived on the 6th current a Diarrhoea came on, which continued, in spite of all endeavour to check it, till the 8th on the Afternoon of which Day he expired. The body was too warm to admit of its being Opened that Evening, and he was entered very early next morning.

Thomas Finegan - Age 27. A Recruit of a thin and spare make - with a hectic flush on his cheeks - landed sickly last year at Calcutta and continued so till he joined on 31st December but was in Hospital with Dysentery till the 19th March - when he had apparently recovered but was readmitted on the 16th of April with his old complaint - after a brisk purge - small Doses of Ipec & Op with a little Opium in Pills were ordered after H Ric in small doses with a few Drops of Spirit Opium these Med were each tried for several Days without success. The Root of Pil bet with Rhubarb was also without avail - large doses of Calomel and the Mercurial frictions, seemed to benefit him for a few Days - but his stomach could not bear the Calomel, tho combined with Opium, after it had been given for a short time. his mouth was quite sore at that time - the Castor Oil with Opium was again resorted to, and Pils Enemata administered, but with no great benefit. On the 17th of May, he began to complain of great inward heat and Thirst, which were always relieved by small Doses of purging Salts, by fomentations, and Enemata he became rather better about this time - The blue pills were ordered for him and the fomentations continued - his stomach did not bear the blue Pills, after a few Days, they were left off - small Doses of H Ric, and the Salep mixture given for Diet, and an Opium at Night, As his purging increased - this medicine was left off and a Mixture given of Musc Gum Arab with some Grains of Sulv Saliv. breast & Navel with some Part of Opium - his purging however continued until he died; he expired on the 8th of June at 2 o'clock P.M. - On inspecting the Body the Organs were found extremely small, particularly the right Lobe which was shrivelled up close to the roots of the Bronchia - as was appeared about either Lobe - nor had any Adhesions taken place. The Liver was harder than what it is in its natural state. The Gall bladder was extremely distended with a thin and watery Bile. the Testicles were enlarged but the Colon was found lying over the small intestines and over the Stomach.

Corporal Denison Age 22 came to the Hospital with Dysentery on the 16th of April after the purging Medicines usually given had been administered the Stools of Green Blood were ordered, and a few Days after the bal. alone or with Opium in large Doses his Mouth was soon much affected, and he appeared to get better, his Mouth was kept slightly sore - and the bal. diminished at the end of May, but on the 1st of June his Complaint returned, and the bal. was again resorted to in scruple Doses with Opium, and after in Doses of ℥x with Opium - his Mouth was soon by the 5th - but on the 10th he complained of a pain in his Stomach and could not keep any thing down - he had no pain in his Side - his Stomach was blistered and bled with ℥ij of Opium given twice a Day - his purging got better under this Treatment, but no Ptyalism brought on, thro his Mouth was sore - on the 26th he began to complain of great Pain in his Breast and difficulty of Breathing on which Account the bal. was left off for four Days - his Mouth keeping sore all that while - the purging however returned - and on the 2d of July scruple Doses of bal. were again ordered and the Nuc. med. for his Breast given at the same time - his Stomach could however not retain the Colomet whether combined with Opium or without it - it was therefore of necessity again left off as had happened before - and half an Ounce of Mercurial Ointment rubbed in daily in twice of it. On the 7th July a swelling over the Stomach was first perceived which had not appeared in former examinations - the Ungt. ℥ij was continued, and the Salep misce given for diet and Anodyne Evacua. also Draught with Strains - either on two or three Occasions when he breathed with excessive difficulty - warm fomentations were applied over the Stomach - the Ungt. ℥ij was omitted on the 10th and the fomenting continued, he died suddenly on the 11th of July.

On inspecting the Body the lungs and intestines appeared sound but the Liver was of an excessive size adhering however no where to the peritoneal Abdomines, it descended very low into the Abdomen, and the left Lobe particularly so, which with the Abscess that Lobe contained accounted for the Patient having always complained of the Pain in his Bowels being chiefly felt a little above his Navel. On the concave side of the left Lobe a large Abscess was found - the Liver was removed and found to weigh nine pounds and a half - on opening the Abscess above the $\frac{1}{2}$ of pub. escaped from it.

L. George Haly - Aged 33 Years a man of a delicate Constitution, but of regular habits, had been long ailing before he at last came to the Hospital on the 6th of March last with a remittent Fever and an affection of the Lungs: - he appeared from the beginning very weak - but not a good deal, but did not complain of any pain in his Breast - Quinine and the Colagium mixtur with the Vin. Sativum were alternately given till the 13th when the Fever ceased, and some Phlegm began to come up with the cough - the Mixture of the Gum. Tragacanth and Vin. Sativum was continued and the Squill Pills given - so as to take ʒij of Squills daily - under which treatment his Health improved a little until the 29th of March when he began to complain of pain in his Chest - Leeches were applied and the pills continued. The Squill Pills produced a great flow of Urine and the Leeches gave relief there, to the Amount of Thirty or Forty at a time - were repeated every four or five Days - and the Mixture was resumed - but as the Pain returned, a Blister was applied to his Side on the 16th of April tho' he appeared very weak - a Vein was Tapped, but in spite of all Endeavours no more than ʒij of blood could be obtained - the Leeches and Blisters were renewed - and the Mixture alone continued; on the 18th another Attempt to bleed him in the Arm was made - but only ʒij could be got out of the Vein.
 This was repeated on the 19th, when no blood whatever could be made to flow.
 At this time his Pulse which had been before quick - but not very small became quick small and irregular, but his Breathing was easier, and the cough less; some Pus began to be found mixed in what he spit up, since the 16th.

On the 21st of April the Muc. Mistr. was continued with only ʒij of the Vin.
 Sativum, and other sorts of Digitalis given three times a Day, beginning with ʒij in each Dose, which Doses were daily increased by one Drop to each, until he took ʒij three times a Day; he mended much under this treatment - the Vin. Sat. was entirely left out of his Mistr, which was otherwise continued, and the State of his Bowels daily attended to; his Pulse also became regular and slow - the good effects of the Digitalis of the Digitalis began soon after it was commenced upon 21st April, and lasted to the 20th of June, when the Fever returned; the Digitalis was then left off and his Bowels cleared by a Solution of Salts in the Saliva Mistr, which was repeated in moderate Doses till the 24th, when the Fever ceased, tho' he was greatly weakened during these four Days, and his cough became more troublesome; his former cough Mistr of the Gum with the Vin. Sativum was again given, and the Dose of Digitalis to the Amount of ʒij three a Day again commenced upon, to be gradually increased; a Blister was applied to his Side, and kept open by fly plaster - he apparently mended a little under this treatment, - and the fly plaster seemed to give him much relief - on the 6th of July the Dose of Digitalis had gradually reached ʒss three times a Day - no particular change was observed in him in any way - but in the evenings he always breathed with more difficulty - the Nights were very uneasy and slow about that time. On the 7th about 10 o'clock A.M. he began to breathe with great Difficulty, a Tragacanth was given him with spirit of Ether Distilled; but he died without a Struggle shortly after.

On inspecting the Body, the right Lobe of the Lungs was found a little inflamed, but the left one was ulcerated wasted contracted and bandaged with Pus and in it a very considerable quantity of Water was found mixed with Matter.

Patrick Lawler a thin man of a good constitution - but 65 years old Seld. in Hospital, and who landed with the Regiment in India in 1802 - it was admitted on the 30th of July, with a remittent Fever, he had been very weak for several days before and his Head appeared affected from the beginning of his sickness tho' he did not complain of any Pain in it. His head was shaved for two days, very copiously purged by a large Dose of Calomel followed up by purging pills, and a Mixture of Salts in Saline draughts. These evacuations relieved him greatly but Weakness continued. On the 1st of August the Diet was given without any Wine, but on the second his skin became again hot and dry, which were again removed by Calomel followed up by Salts, but the Weakness increased. On the 5th he took some extract in Wine and he now began to Smit when asked, that his Head was heavy, 20 Leeches were applied to his temples and a Blister on the Nape of his Neck and the Mixture of Diacarb. and Saline Mixture continued he was followed a little ^{Wine} in Sago on the 6th. On the succeeding day (5th) he appeared better but his Weakness much increased. Digestive Treatment was applied to the Blister, and 1/2 of the Sal. Sulf. in a Mixture with 3/4 of Wine and 3/4 of Diacarb. each Ordered in the Evening, he has taken 3/4 of this Mixture, and about 3/4 of Wine in Sago in all. 3/4 of Wine, his Lips were found hot and dry, his face flushed, had raved a good deal, Pulse full - he had no Stools, the Mixture was omitted. 3/4 of Wine and a draught with 3/4 of Vin. Ant. given - after a purging Crocus - and fly plaster to Blister. Camph. Mixture was given, and a Blister between his Shoulders. Died late in the Evening of that Day.

On inspecting the Body the Abdomen was found filled with Water of a light yellow hue - the Stomach contained a thick blackish fluid like the sediment of Coffee - both the Spleen and the Liver were much enlarged.

John Ma. An Decurion an old Soldier of an excellent good constitution but forty one years old, was admitted into the Hospital on the 30th of June with the acute Hepatitis - 30 Leeches were instantly applied and followed up by thirty more ten Hours after, and the bleeding from the bites encouraged as much as possible a large Dose of Cal. Salts was also given - this was followed up by a large Blister, and by Calomel given in Sago Doses twice a Day, and rubbing in 3/4 of Ungt. Fly daily. These Medicines soon made his Mouth very sore, and abated the Pain in his Side they were left off on the 11th the large Hum. pil. Hyd. and moderate purgatives were daily given as his Mouth got better, his Side began to pain him again when 3/4 of Vin. twice a Day was Ordered, and between the 17th and 30th Leeches were three times applied to his Side, besides a Blister which was kept open by fly plaster, and the Ungt. Fly to 3/4 daily rubbed

rubbed in. His mouth was this time - not made so very sore, nor did it become as sore as was wished before the 15th of July. As the Calomel disagreed much with his bowels it was left off but the Urag Sijon was continued, and mild purgatives in small Doses daily ordered, his side remained however painful, thro' Leeches were twice applied between the 15th and 18th of July, on the 19th a fresh Blister was laid on his side, and as he now became too weak purging Emetics ordered added to gently purgatives. From the 20th to the 27th he suffered much from severe purging and griping, and most of his stools were of a bloody watery appearance, he no longer complained of much Pain in Side but the Purging wore out all his remaining strength small Doses of R. Kim. sacced with extract of Opium, Terebinth Gum Arab. and some Relief assist'd Frigid. Ejections, but his Mouth got well, in spite of the rubbing in - and the Calomel in scruple Doses combined with Opium had no effect, these large Doses of Cal & Opium were given from the 27th to the 30th in the afternoon of which Day he died.

On inspecting the Body, a small Abscess was found in the right Lobe of the Liver, which adhered to the short ribs, it contained a moderate quantity of Pus - but the Bowels were not inflamed.

John Brearley aged 20. a young man about three Years in India of very regular and steady conduct, with an apparent good Constitution, was admitted on the 30th of July with remittent Fever. He was very freely purged during the first two Days and Nights when the Fever ceased. On the 1st of August he took the Syreth mixt with ʒij of Wine, but as his fever returned between the 2 and 3th it was left off - and in spite of his Weakness - Cal ʒss followed up by Salts given him on that and on the succeeding Day - during the 3th 4th and 5th he had but little fever. He took the Syreth with ʒss of Salts these purged him but moderately, he was however much reduced in Strength, and on the 6th his whole Skin became of a light yellow hue; he was ordered ʒss of Calomel three times a Day with the Syreth mixt with Salts as before which last was left off on the 7th during the two preceding Days, he had the fever but slightly, nor did the pills grip him - his Weakness however increased on the 8th ʒij of Urag Sijon - was rubbed in in addition to the other Med. - On the Evening of this Day he became much worse Skin hot and dry - and his Head affected - it was shaved 20 Leeches applied to the Head his Temples a Blister applied to the Head - two purging Emetics given given — and ʒi of Calomel.

Was not much better on the 9th had had several bilious stools Blisters did not rise well — Cal. ʒi. ʒi. and Evening given. Fly plaster to blisters and Symplicism to feet.

He was not better on the 10th, both not sore but skin cool many redness observed on his yellow skin, was always comatose, Vomited constantly greenish. Cal. after each dish — the Calomel was continued. Callowid up by ʒi of Jalap and a little Wine given in Luge. His skin was very hot that day a Draught with Spirit Ammon. during the Night between 15th and 16th. He had two Curious stools. but his Pulse was become very small and his Hands cold as they had been on the mornings of the 11th and 12th. Fly plaster was ordered to be applied over the Blister. His a little Beef Tea with Secundo or a little Luge with ʒi of Wine or that quantity of Wine in great Water two or three times a Day. The decoct of Birch with the Camph spirit was given during the Day which had a good effect on his Pulse and his Hands became warm again. but his Head became more affected: it was left off in the Evening, and the same mixt with ʒi of the Spirit Ammon. was in. Cal. was ordered.

On the 13th he appeared no better, tho' he was more visible when spoken to, there never had been any discharge from the Blister which had not risen well — as the Fly plaster had exhaled but little.
The whole Head was now ordered to be Plastered and the mixt was continued. In the Evening it was found that the Blister has not risen his Tongue clean, but his Pulse very small — his face was also much sunk by napisms were ordered to his feet and Fly plaster over his Head and Neck. the mixt with the Spirit Ammon. was continued — he died on the morning of the 18th.

On inspecting the Body, the Spleen was found much enlarged and insurated — the same was observed of the Liver — on cutting into which a single Tran. was aged out of the middle of its Substance the Stomach and Bowels were not inflamed.

Sept James Soume 40 years of age was admitted on the 9th of January with chronic Rheumatism and an enlargement of the Bones of the Knee joint of a Syphilitic nature he had been subject to. The Medicines ordered were Calomel combined with Sal. Saturn. friction of the Feet with and sometimes without Lymph. Leeches and Blisters were applied to the Knee — these Medicines were varied according to circumstances and at last the Swelling in the Knee was considerably diminished and his general Health remained good till the beginning of June when he began to complain of pain in his chest: the various Lymph. frictions, the Luge with a little Vin. Saturn. and the great Lymph Lymph. were ordered changed and modified occasionally — Leeches were applied to the Breast

Breast and emetic at one time given, all which had no beneficial effect. In July the case was covered with a large Empl. Sic. on leather, and kept on with a plaster, after which the complaint of his Breast was chiefly attended to, he however declined. The diet of Breast with some Wine was given him at the same time that he took his cough Mixture without Sen. Semen. his Diet was raised and he was lately fed thickly on whole Mutton. he however became daily more emaciated and died on the 21st of August.

In dissecting the Body, nothing particular was observed, except that the chest and Abdomen contained a considerable quantity of Water.

John Day. Aged 21 Years a young man about two Years in India, was admitted on the 21st with remittent Fever. large doses of purging Medicines were given him on that and the succeeding Day, which operated very freely, the Fever however returned on the 23rd, when he took a Mixture of Diet theriac with Salts, which procured him three Stools, and the fit of Fever did not last more than two Hours. On the Morning of the 24th he appeared very weak, but he was free from Fever. his Countenance had turned yellow, and he had a look of anxiety about him. the Theriac and Salts were continued, and a Draught with Vin. Sertum and Tinct. of Gum. arabis in the event of the Fever coming on again. In the Evening that the Fever had come on about noon, which the Draught had failed to check, he had only two Stools before the Fever came on and none after, was then much exhausted, had sore fore arms, cold, much Oppression in his Breathing, and complained of great Uneasiness in his Bowels. a Draught was ordered with ʒij of Tinct. Opium and ʒij of spirit. Alther Nitras and two purging Emetics directed to be given to be repeated, if he was not freely purged. these procured several copious and easy Stools, which relieved him much. About Eleven o'clock at Night his lower extremities became at once stiff, and he died half an Hour after without a Struggle. It is remarkable that this Man's Head was never in the least affected, nor could any thing particular be found on the Inspection of the Body, except that the Liver and Spleen were both a little tumefied.

Robert Quaily aged 23. a Man of regular Habits, came to the Hospital on the 21st of August with remittent Fever, with great irritability of Stomach, and severe Headache. He was on that and the three following Days freely purged, his Head was shaved, and his Stomach blistered. these Medicines produced remissions, but did not abate the Fever when it came on, and his Tongue still continued loaded Complains: he also stated he felt severe Pain in his Bowels: he always perspired profusely when the Fever abated. During the 25th and 26th Issues of balsam of Sulphur by baster Pills, Emmentations to his Belly & Diluent Drinks and various Applications were ordered: to settle his Stomach the Effusion of Traights became once more necessary.

As these Medicines did not abate his Complaint recourse was had on the 27th to larger Doses of Cal. of St. Mary and Evening, which was continued on the 28th on which Day fifty Leeches were applied over his Kidneys, as he stated that the Pain in his Belly had abated but that he felt it chiefly in that part. On the 29th his Mouth began to be sore, but he was extremely weak his Stomach was settled and his Bowels continued open by his own feelings he said he thought him self better. His Medicine (balsam) was left off a little Saltp. Miree with Wine given for Diet, and 3℥ of Wine in toast Water and Drink some Saline Milt was ordered to be taken. On the 30th he stated the Wine had heated him, it was left off, and 50 Leeches on the edge of the short ribs of his right side, which he said felt painful. This gave him relief and the pyatition became moderately Copious his Tongue was still loathsome he wished for Acid, perspired often freely, at other times his Hands were cold his pulse quick and rather hard thro' small, the Saline Mixture with Salts was continued, and a little Lime Juice added to his toast Water.

On the 1st of September his Mouth became very sore, and he refused to take the Saltp. Miree a little Egg Sea or a little Chicken Broth was given him repeatedly, and every three Hours 3℥ of the extract or Saps of Bark with 10℥ of Wine in each dose the Lime Juice was still added to the toast Water during his treatment, on the 1st and 2d he continued to get weaker, and all Attempts to give him any kind of nourishment nearly failed completely the Wine was still the excessive, and Spongia applied to his feet on the Evening of that day. He lingered on until the 3d of the morning of the 3d when he died. On examining the Body the contents of the Stomach were found healthy, the Liver was a little indurated and of a very dark colour the Gall Bladder was entirely filled and distended with a black substance resembling coffee, just moistened it lay on the Scalp like stiff mud. The small Intestines were much inflamed and the whole Canal was of a dark colour the Stomach was outwardly healthy, no leisure was afforded to examine the inside of it and of the Bowels.

2 Bernard Collocher aged 37, a robust man came to the Hospital on the 5th of February with Diarrhoea, which was removed by freely purging him for three days, and by the exhibition of an Emetic. He had a fit of Fever on the 21st which returned in a diminished degree till the 25th when it ceased entirely during these five days Purgatives with the interposition of some Grains of jalomel were given, with a good effect, as soon the 25th of February to the 7th of March, he complained only of Weakness: The Lochia first with 3j of the powder and ʒss Wine were daily given, but without any beneficial Effect - the state of his Bowels was always attended to, on the Night of the 8th the fever returned a fit of Decad of Tertian, exhalite was visible in her of the former fit, but the Urine continued in Urine Water - his Stomach became very irritable and was only settled by a Draught of Spirit of ʒss. The disease now assumed a different appearance - he continued very weak, but repeatedly bled much from his nose, no difficulty of breathing was perceptible - he had no pain in his chest the secret of Urination with some tingling was strict which agreed with his stomach, but he repeatedly bled from his nose a little more wine was given him on the 10th in the Evening, which appeared to have been of no service to him, tho' he was very nervous and Weak, his Pulse became fuller, the Lochia first and Urine of Part Drink were ordered the Lochia diminished and at last entirely left off - on the 16th he began to rave, and a Draught he had lately complained of, became more severe - he brought up much Phlegm: a small quantity of Vin. Tartum was added to his Urine, and a Draught of Spirit of Ether Nitros given at Night tho' he bled from his nose repeatedly and was very weak. Bleedings were applied to his Breast on the 17th which bled very profusely after they left off, the Urine with the Vin. Tartum, was continued and ʒss of Digitalis given four times a day on the 18th Blister was applied to his Breast, the state of his Bowels was always attended to he became from this day raving and incoherent. On the afternoon of the 19th he began to vomit, his Tongue became brown, and dry, and every other Symptom worse - the Digitalis was omitted his Urine continued with the addition of some Spirit of Ether Nitros, and the Urine of Part Drink an Electary with the powder of Squills, Honey and Distilled Vinegar was tried it was of no service - he continued in the same state, raved much, and on the returning of the vomiting the Squills were left off. He died on the Afternoon of the 20th. On inspecting the Body the Liver was found enlarged, but the contents of the Gall bladder were otherwise healthy. The left lobe of the Lung was hard, the upper part of the right Lobe had many strong Adhesions to the Pleura, but was otherwise in a natural state: at the bottom of that part of the Pleura about ʒj of Water were found. No time was had to examine the Head.

Sergeant James Carter, aged 30, generally a healthy man, but delicate in his make, came to the Hospital on the 4th of March with a severe fit of Fever on him which was checked by a Draught with Vin. Tartum and Spirit of Wine - Purgatives were given in large Doses and in various

Thence till the 8th which operated powerfully upwards and downwards and kept the Green off his tongue - began to appear clean on that Day; he now seemed to be mending, when a cough supervened but without any difficulty of breathing, and the Heat off from the previous Medicines was then increased by the Mixture with only ʒʳ of Vin. Antim. which were begun upon as soon as the Cough became tolerable some: the Cough abated under this treatment, but he became very thirsty and his Tongue brown and dry - the beam of Part drink and the Saline Mixture with Salts were ordered with a delectful good effect, his Tongue became cleaner - his Thirst abated, he was very freely purged and the Cough became for a few Days less tolerable some - but he became extremely weak. From the 13th to the 15th the Decoct. Simplic. ʒʳ was given with a few drops of Sweet Oil in five doses and ʒij of wine in warm Water both of which were left off on the Evening of the latter day, as his Tongue became again dry, and his Thirst returned - the Saline Mixture with ʒʳ of Vin.
Antim. was again ordered, and weak began to Part drink - plentifully given the Vin. Antim. was increased to ʒʳ XXXV and some Spirit of Theriaca added this treatment produced occasional and sometimes only partial respiration acted powerfully on his Bowels - decreased the Discharge of Phlegm, but the Thirst and Dryness of his Tongue always returned and his general debility increased much. On the 20th the Mixture made up with only ʒʳ of Vin. Antim. the Electuary of Squills with Honey and Distilled Vinegar as to give him about ʒʳ XIV of Squills daily, and his Head, Face, Hands and Feet, were directed to be washed with Vinegar and Water whenever he felt hot and dry, under which treatment he seemed to mend a little till the 22th after which his Tongue once more became furrowed, brown and dry - he became very deaf - did not complain of any pain anywhere and was always sleepy - a large Blister was applied to the Bare of his Neck - the former Med. left off the Saline Mixture with Vin. Antim. given, added Spirit of Theriaca to it and the beam of Part drink resumed. The Sparging with Vinegar was continued - No favorable change took place, tho' the Squills acted powerfully in the urinary passages and his Bowels were very free, he remained comatose and his Tongue generally dry - the Squills were left off and his Mixture altered for one with the Decoct. Simplic. and Saline Mixture - after the Decoct. Simplic. with the same Mixture were tried, and lastly the Saline Mixture ʒʳij with ʒʳ of the Spirit of Ammon. Comp. and ʒʳ of of the Sweet Oil - to be given in four Doses. he kept declining until the 22d of April when he died - No Opportunity offered to inspect the Body.
It may be worth while to observe that this poor Patient and his Sister who died on the 22d of March, had been both much in the habit of fishing together in the lake at Fenkerowly sitting in the sun all Day long and frequently in wet clothes, which they allowed to dry on their backs.

Surg. Reily - aged 20, a man of small stature, florid complexion and delicate habit, came to the Hospital on the 1st of March, with pain in his Head and Breast which fixed itself in his Liver. Shortly after; large doses of purgatives given for several Days, having his Head, Leeches to bleed followed up by a Blister and Colman's pills removed these Complaints. On the 30th his Mouth was very sore, shortly after which he was attacked by a return of his Head ache and a remittent fever, which was once more removed by purgatives combined with Bitters and by sparging the Head with Reger and Water. On the 6th of April the pain in his right Side returned, as the mercurials in large doses purged, much, the blue pills were given, and by the 11th of April his Mouth was again thoroughly affected, and he gradually made to the pain in his Side left him, his Stool became regular, his Strength and appetite increased, the bitter Mist, which was daily given together with blue pills and Kungoyle all agreed well with him; but this benevolent state ceased on the 15th of May when the pain in his Side became once more severe, the quantity of the blue pills was then increased a Blister applied to his Side, and the Reger or rubbed in under which treatment his Mouth became once more very sore, but a violent purging came on, of a nature as if pus was mixed in the Stool. small Doses of Opium and other purgatives with Injections removed these Complaints, and his Mouth was once more made very sore. By the first of June his Bowels became regular, and his Side was quite easy, he was however very much reduced in Strength the Reger Mist with a little Ginger, with an Opiate at Night agreed well with him till the 6th when the purging once more returned, nor did the Mist of Loos powder, chalk, Opiate, Froline or Spica ucaha Injections the bitter pills of Kungoyle and Reger, or any other remedy restrain this purging much; the Salomel of Doves twice a day, was tried for three days and the Injections continued, but his Mouth did not get sore - tho' his Gums were bloody, he still kept shaking - the Nitric Acid with Opium was then tried in vain, he died on the 16th in the Morning.

On inspecting the Body the Colon was found entirely displaced lying across and over the small Intestines about the Navel; the Liver contained no large Abscess, but in cutting into it matter oozed out of all its Vessels; the Intestines were in many places extensively Ulcerated, and pus could be seen in several parts under and in their external Coat.

James Emore - age 41. a man of a very sickly appearance of long standing this Seldom in Hospital, was admitted from the large house on the 10th of June he had been sent there for committing some Excess in Liquor, and came to the Hospital two days after, this took place on the 10th of June; his countenance was sunk, walked with a tottering step and his whole Skin was tinged with a yellow hue - he was otherwise not emaciated, and chiefly complained of Head ache; his Head was shaved and after a couple of purgatives tonics were given - and he was allowed some Wine - a Blister was afterwards put in the Nape of his Neck; this treatment afforded but temporary relief; his debility increased increased - fainted on sitting up long - or on walking thirty paces. An excessive mixture of the bark and Wine his head became affected, & it is to be due this kind being admitted. Some Calomel was tried, which soon affected his mouth - considerably the Wine in most Water to 3℥ was continued and Ham Gargle given. His mouth became gradually better and the Decantion of Cinchon with an increased quantity of Wine with Nourishing Diet were Ordered. On the 1st of July he was seized with a violent Diarrhoea which was but little controlled by all the usual remedies, such as pills with Opium Rhubarb and long Peas of black. In addition to these made with the Decant of Cassia & his mind became also greatly affected, in which state he continued till the 5th of July, on which day he Died.

On inspecting the Body the colon was found diseased, lying low down across the small intestines, a yellow tinge was seen over where thro the liver was not diseased - nor could sufficient disease to account for his death be found in the Pleurae or Thorax. - time was not had to examine the Head, where probably more insight might have been obtained in the causes of the disease which produced his Death.

William Butler - Aged 54 a man of broken Constitution from long continued excesses in alcohol - came to the Hospital on the 10th of April with remittent fever, and great Headache - large quantities having his Head and repeated application of leeches first subdued the fever, and afterwards diminished the Headache an Emetic given on the 29th of April had a good effect, it was exhibited to attempt to clean his stomach - and remove the white and dirty appearance of his tongue; the fever returned, but irregularly, the Decant of Cinchon with small doses of potash to it, his appetite became good. On the 10th of May his fever returned without any apparent cause, and after he had been gathering strength up to that day 20 Leeches were applied to his Head purging medicines being given - blisters applied to his temples, and the therapy and salts ordered daily, besides the draughts of Tincture of Vin Tartaric to break the fever - when it came on; hyperaemia in this treatment and repeating the leeches, he became once more convalescent for some days; he always stated he felt rather warm - when he had not four or six stools - A blister applied over the Head on the 11th of June - contributed in diminution of the Headache, which has still continued; a slight degree of fever returned however - daily, and his tongue became once more loaded - plunging the face hands and feet with vinegar gave relief. After some Calomel the Cinchon mixt in various proportions was tried to no purpose. - the Head was again shaved a dose of salts given - and the Decant of Cinchon with a few drops of the Juice of Nitric - a blister was applied to the nape of his Neck, which was kept open, and salt's for several days his bowels were always kept free; he stated he felt more relief from the bathing of the face Hands and feet in vinegar and water than from anything else. His treatment was generally continued till the 27th July when his mouth got moderately sore - he complained latterly more of Singing in his Head than pain, but his tongue was always loaded. After the ulcers had set in, the uncleanings in his Head had abated, for a few days. but it returned on the 12th of July, thus small blisters were applied to his temples the Calomel had been left off before, and the Decant of Cinchon was daily given taking taking care of the state of his bowels, which constantly required some small dose of Crocus Metellicus. he had some days a fit of fever on other he missed it, and on the whole he did not get any better. On the 21st of July he began to complain of very profuse perspirations every night his head ache ceased but the fever came on daily to the sweat of benison some drops of Sicc. Vita dilut were added this was changed to the sweat of cheray and the Sicc Vita diluta ceased the dose of tartar drink which he had taking this long time back was removed the perspirations weakened him extremely and the fever continued to come on daily an attempt to give him Sicc of benison in substance with some Wine did no good, a small dose of Rhiz was ordered but on the succeeding day (the 27th of July) he was attacked with severe purging and griping his Mist and Crem of tartar drink had been omitted. Scabine & opium were now given and two doses of Calomel of Rhiz, this abated the purging and griping, but his pulse became hard small and quick. Pills Crocata with and without Opium were ordered, the better Pills of Pulchra & Sicc and Pulchra Sicc were given and late at night Sicc of dissolved Opium added to the Opium was also given as the patient took Sicc misce and Wine in small but repeated doses, but all to no purpose. Some milled wine and the pulchra Sicc with Magell and Opium were tried with no better success; he however kept declining till the 1st of August on which day he died. No opportunity was afforded to inspect the body. His Power had been invalidated on the day preceeding his death Dennis's stuff ^{was} of a little man broken by dissipation had been invalidated on the 31st of July, since which he had committed some excesses came to Hospital on the evening of the 8th of August with an intermitted fever - was freely purged that night and the following day which stopped the fever. On the 6th and 7th he took only 3℥ of Salts in Sicc of cheray in the 24 hours his bowels were thereby kept free had no more fever and was considered convalescent in the prescripbook, but about noon on the 8th he was seized with a very violent fit of fever without ague, which had not abated much about sunset, he had vomit a little, and was covered with cold perspiration a glass of milled Wine was given him, and he brought with him Sicc and Vinum Antium, which was repeated; his head was shaved.

 On the 9th the former fever had gone off, and the Respiration was warm but his Pulse was small and irregular. Sicc of Rhiz was given and some Wine in bougie, and the saline Mist with the spirit of ether. Vitae. Some Wine in Sicc in small doses was ordered to be given all day long - and a Blister applied over his Head. About noon his fingers became blue and his Hands cold the Blister was repeated the morning misters left off some milled Wine given, and a draught with Sicc of Opium and the Sicc Mist in substance with the Sicc of benison directed to be given, but he could not keep this Mist on his stomach - the coldness of his extremities increased, and he died 7 o'clock of that day.

John Little aged 56 years a man of very regular habits, and every way deserving of commendation had been a resident on the 1st August came to the Hospital on the 11th of August complaining of great Head aches, of griping with great difficulty to keep any thing on his stomach and purging $\zeta\zeta$ were given which were not brought up; then purged him well by which and the shaving of his head he was much relieved and his stomach became settled. During the night of the 12th the vomiting and griping returned took only $\zeta\zeta$ after 12 o'clock with $\zeta\zeta$ of the Opium which he did not vomit, it purged him, but his tongue continued greatly loaded the poor man felt much general uneasiness he could not say what was the matter; as his mouth was not clean, another dose of Cal and Opium was given on the 13th with an Opiate of $\zeta\zeta$ at night on the 14th it appeared that the vomiting had returned and that he had had five stools from the medicine his countenance was altered, tho' not pale his hands kept warm from the cholera than prevailing. tho' in this case the symptoms were different. I ordered him a draught with $\zeta\zeta$ of Putrid Spirit of Cassia water every three hours and a glass of mulled Spice Wine that morning and at noon also glass of Wine in the day to be given him by little and a little all day long so that he had not vomited. Ordered him a nit of $\zeta\zeta$ of Opium. At 5 o'clock he had a pretty good night, had slept a little and had had three stools during the night had not vomited, but was extremely weak to check the purging, four pills were ordered of $\zeta\zeta$ of Rhubarb with $\zeta\zeta$ of Opium, the mulled Spice Wine and glass of Wine was continued as the preceding day. At the evening the vomiting had returned and he had raved a good deal and some time before some mulled Spice Wine was given and the glass of wine to be continued. During the night also that evening a draught with $\zeta\zeta$ of Putrid Spirit of Cassia after which the vomiting ceased but no other favorable sign appeared he died the 14th night about ten o'clock.

James Parker aged 64 years a man with a deformed chest and without the necessary complaint came to the Hospital on the 14th of August with a Plethoric pulse had a great deal of blood to the 15th when he began to be a little better in his chest, he was able to walk when he said he was going to visit. A Surgeon that had appeared in a former Plethoric on bleeding him, and which then brought on a bit of Plethoric. Leeches were applied and afterwards repeated. His chest was blistered he was freely purged and the mixture with Vin. iatru. given. Under this treatment he mended but little, tho' the cough became moist and easier he was by the 16th very weak, the mixture was varied being sometimes with and after without the sac. D. upon as he was apt to be. best care was paid to the state of his bowels and the Decoction of Liquorice given for his cough. As the pain in his breast still continued, Leeches were once more applied on the 20th and another blister to the painful part of

of his breast, he however got daily worse, and his back illustrated from a maceration was found dead in his back on the morning of the 25th On inspecting the body, a deep wound was found in the intercostal muscles between the third and fourth ribs of the right side. The matter spread inwardly between the fibres of the pectoral muscle, and inwardly to the heart. The right side of the lungs was entirely macerated, and under the ribs above mentioned to the death of perhaps a pint of water. The matter was of a maliceous kind, and did not putrify when the right side was dissected with blood, and that side of the chest contained at least a pint of water. It is said that this unhappy man had fallen out of a window two stories high six or seven days before he received so severe an injury on the right side of his chest, that his life was close to being off - he never recovered completely, and the appearance after his death rendered this almost probable. The Patient had a fever, but that the separation in his chest had proceeded from that fall.

Barnard. Aged 26. A delicate but apparently healthy man. Came to the Hospital on the 4th of August with a violent fever, a little vomiting, severe headache and frequent relapses, but that the fever left him on the 21st, his side became more painful, a blister was applied, and the balsam of Sulphur was given, this relieved the pain in his side for a while, his pulse became very slow and he became very weak. On the pain recurring in his side, fresh blisters were applied on the 1st of September, and purgatives repeatedly given, as he always became costive. On the 5th twelve leeches were again applied, and in the evening he was bled to 3x, was sadder and more difficult of breathing than come on. A third blister was also applied, this relieved him considerably. On the 11th he apparently was dead, and the treatment was varied according to the circumstances, consisting of different blisters for his cough, blue pills - a little pulv. Antim. and purgatives to keep his bowels open, as he always became costive without this aid. He afterwards claimed his principal complaint. On the 14th and 15th he refused to receive whatever several of his physicians disagreed with him, but on the 16th the phlegm he brought up was found streaked with blood the pain in his side again recurred, to which after some drops of Tinct. of Digitalis was added, but a still disagreed with him, it was left off. He afterwards became very feverish on the 18th at which time he was taking the Dolant Symp. but he became worse worse; looking hot and dry, his pulse small and quick, and he every way shewed he was in imminent danger, the treatment was altered, steps taken to check the purging, but to no purpose - he died on the morning of the 30th.
 On inspecting the body, a very large Abscess was found in the right Lobe of the Liver which had broke thro' the Dia Phragm into the Chest. The Abscess contained a considerable quantity of water, the same was found to be the case in the chest, but chiefly in the right side in which full 4 or 5 of Water and pus were found.

William Fenley aged 26 - a man of regular habits but delicate and of a fine complexion, came to the Hospital on the evening of the 29th October, with a fever which turned out to be one of the remittent kind, and very great irritability of Stomach; he vomited his first Me. and a craghy balsam equally so. His head was shaved - his Stomach blistered the Balsam repeated, and the after draught given; all which procured many copious stools. On the little was observed. This in the Bed. Bleeds were applied and again repeated in the Evening, but in the Morning it was repeated at Night. Some stools were produced and the patient considerable relief, his stomach had become settled before this his pulse was with a clean that his bowels were still laboring the same Night with 50 drops was given in divided doses, and cold Camphire straight of severe Sea-sick. Bleeds were applied to his temples. It was that night the week that he nearly faints by only sitting up in his bed a little - general reading was thereupon, obstructed from. On the 12th he and his fever came away on with great heat and pain in his Head and Heat in the sides of his feet - the bleed to his temples had relieved him much - he had had 8 more stools, and his tongue was still quite clean; 30 the next morning 30 of Decant of wine was ordered to be given in divided doses his head heat and feet settled with cold water during the hot stages of the fever and the lesser draught at night a thermurgine given. His treatment was successful for two days only, when he had become again flushed and his face very red, he began to rage, and his answers were more in pain, used as he was) became late. The Physicians were left off - Bleeds were applied to each temple, but of seven or eight. Camphire supported his head and Camphire was used, on the 5th he appeared very weak his mouth a little sore and his thin clammy, the former Decant of wine with 30 of the powder and 30 of Wine were ordered - he was put on a stop of rice diet a little less over now and then. Appearance were rather favorable during the 10th and 11th except that his face became more and more too faint for so weak a man; on the 12th he began to be rather purged in his tongue and dry but his stools were natural, he was allowed that 30 of Wine in all, the next morning was increased to 50, but at this time could not be retained, and was left off during the day, on the 13th he was looking past the his tongue had got on a good deal of pear-dice, and his stools were natural, it said that in a few examinations the body the veins on the brain were found very tense, some a large as a goose-quill, the cranium adhered most firmly to the dura mater and was removed with difficulty, a small quantity of extra-vascular blood was found under the brain on the left side, in the Throat the right lungs showed very firm, to the pleura, in the Throat men were washed between the intestines, to the amount of perhaps 35; the small intestine much inflamed and in some places much contracted - the rectum was remarkably contracted.

Thomas Sparce aged 62 - of an apparently good constitution, came to the Hospital on the 10th of July with an intermittent fever, and a Subo, tho' he had had no fever on the acid - it appeared to be a venereal one - large quantities Calomel - Leeches to Subo and tinctures combined with the purgatives were given - till the 5th of August, at which time the Subo diminished much - the fever abated and every thing was favorable - the pinch pint was then given and the fever continued and by the 7th the high heat was gone and the fever stopped - the Calomel and tinct. guard subject of Opium was continued - however the tinct. purged him - Gum Gargle for his mouth, these quite over, in the morning of the 11th found him very weak, had been much purged and his looks portended some new disease: 30 of tinct. of Opium were then put in his pint - adding 30 of Rhubarb to it and the Calomel left off.
 At noon found his face, with and a deadly pale red, his hands and fore Arms cold - he had had no stools since morning had not vomited once complained of a great pain, yet had he all the appearances of a man attacked with the Cholera, which then prevailed in the station - the tinct. was omitted a glass of milled wine wine given and some wine in Sago during the whole afternoon - found at night he had neither vomited nor been purged, and his Arms were not so cold - another glass of Spice hot wine was given him - also a draught with 30 of tinct. of Opium and 30 of spat. Laxative and the wine and Sago ordered to be continued during night - on the 12th he was better - some warmth perceived in in his hands the Draught of sweet Spirit and spirit of Cassia was repeated the mull'd spiced wine and the Sugar wine continued in order to give him a pint during the Day also some Salsey misce with wine at Night. On the 13th his hands were warm and every thing for some the same treatment was continued and his pulse had no Natural Cool a surge Exema and pit purging if given these procured three stools his Appetite returned and he slept. This on his return His Medicines were left off on the 14th and with relying on the Diet of sweet tea, Sago and wine and on the evening of the 15th a surging Exema which procured a very copious stool containing many hardened feces. On the 16th the Surge returned his Pulse had disappeared tho' he had not taken Mercury for any considerable time - but still was ordered daily surging Medicines combined with Theriaca and a pill of ʒij of Opium a Couple of Calomel before the fever was expected to come on. The Surge however returned but very irregularly and his mouth was not affected, every remains of the Pulse totally disappeared about that time. As this treatment had procured no material relief, I was left off on the 22nd of Saffron and Bark Wine and Opium twice interposing purgatives when required.

 This treatment stopped the Surge on the 28th of August and hopes were now entertained of his recovering the treatment was generally continued but purgatives always interposed without which he became costive. But on the 31st of September the Surge once more returned, tho' not violently - Theriaca and salts varied according to circumstances put once more a stop to it before the end of September. He was now more treated as a Convalescent, his full Diet and the Scurvy Mixture and occasionally Salts were daily ordered - this state of Convalescence lasted till the 15th of October, but his face always remained of a sallow pale colour. - and after the 16th of October he was seized with a Diarrhoea which gave way to bitter pills combined occasionally with some Sine and a little Opium the surging left him before the close of October, and he began to go out on an Coach in the morning but these promising appearances ceased on the 5th of November when he complained of violent pain in the region of the Spleen - Leeches, Emmentions, a Blister purging Exemate were all had recourse to, with but little benefit, and on the morning of the 7th he was seized with a fit resembling Epilepsy - the pupils of his eyes dilating and contracting alternately rapidly and in a way not observed in any case of Epilepsy before - no more Blood than 3 or 4 could be got out of the Vein his head was shak'd and a large blister applied over it. 12 Leeches were put to his Temples and his left side lanced - on visiting him at Night found he had had twenty fresh fits during the Day - had been insensible all Day could not swallow any thing, nor could an Injection be made to pass by the Rectum - if Ignation were applied to his feet which were relaxed on the 8th besides a large blister in the Spleen of his Neck - he had had twelve more fits during the Night, and Died at 3 o'clock P.M. of that day.
 On inspecting the body the Brain was found turgid and full, but it had no other particular morbid appearance - the Ventricles were in a natural state, a little more of a viscous fluid was found under the Brain than what is usual but it was but little - the Spleen was much larger than usual, and no other preternatural appearance could be detailed in the Abdomen or Thorax.

John Powers aged 39. was brought to the Hospital on the morning of the 20th having been found dead in his bed about seven o'clock. tho he had appeared well at four o'clock when he had been sent to bed. On opening the body the stomach was found much contracted and empty; the inner Membrane was much inflamed there was no smell of spirits to be perceived. On examining the Head a considerable quantity of Water was found to fill the Longitudinal sinus and both the Ventricles. water was also found under the Brain and pressing on the cerebellum. This patient had for many Years been a hard Drinker, which was evident from the deep red colour of his countenance, to which this sudden attack of Apoplexy must be attributed, tho he had had no appearance of intoxication on the day preceding his Death.

William Martin aged 25 years had pined from the effects of a disorder during last year, and appeared more debilitated than of a bad constitution, sent to the Hospital on the 30th December, complaining of pain in his bowels, but unattended with any other remarkable symptoms. After giving of Calomel ℥i of Magnesia and on the Evening of the same day ℥i of Opium with ℥ss of the oil of Opium. On the 1st tho the Med had operated he still complained of pain in the abdomen. a pill of ℥ij of Opium, ℥ss of Calomel & ℥ss of Opium was ordered every full Hour - Was not better on the 1st of January never complained of any pain in his stomach nor did he vomit what he drank. it was said he had been drinking very hard for several days before he came in. ℥i of Calomel was given in the Morning and ℥ss of the same Medicine at night combined with ℥ss of Opium. he raved much during the Night his bowels were still painful, and his needings to go to stool frequent his hands were cold his pulse very small, and he was generally very much reduced. 3 or 4 wine in Sago was ordered for him to be given him in divided quantities all day long - some pills of Rhubarb and pulv. of Crota b. was ordered besides an injection of Sassafras & Oil to be repeated 4 times, and his Head was shaved he was no better in the Evening, but seemed weaker he had however had left one stool during the day. 3 or 4 more of Sago and Wine were ordered to be given during the Night. Died on the Morning of the 3d that he had raved all night had had four small stools, was extremely exhausted - sweat bad, hands colder than usual a blister was laid over his Head the Sago and Wine continued, and a Mixture of Gum Gualac arab. with 3℥ of R. Rice given in divided doses found in the Evening that the blister had not risen and that all hopes of saving him were vain - the Sago and Wine was continued. he expired on the Morning of the 15th. On inspecting the body found the bowels nearly empty and the contents of the Abdomen healthy. the stomach was filled with what he had taken the preceding day, and it was only discovered on emptying it thoroughly, that the inner coat was highly inflamed which inflammation must have brought on the fatal termination.

 It is remarkable that this poor man never complained of any pain in his stomach, which retained whatever he took, this indeed he never eat any Sago or took any drink but in small quantities he always pointed to his belly as the seat of pain his head as a bad state was much affected, but his general debility, and the state of his complaint, not indicating that the stomach was the seat of disease prevented bleeding and blisters, having been resorted to.

The first case of Pneumonia had occurred in a young man (James Wild) aged 23 born in the Regiment at the Cape and with the Corps for 20 years in India. He was a tall thin and rather feeble man, who it appears had on former occasions suffered from pain in his chest, for which he had been repeatedly bled, but of which I have no recollection he came to the Hospital on the 1st February 1824. Complaining of pain in his chest, difficulty of breathing, fever, with hard pulse skin hot and dry, with cough. - He was bled to $\text{℥} \times \text{vi}$ when he became faint, this bleeding relieved him and was followed up by a purgative of Calomel and Jalap which operated freely. Spoon diet 2nd Was much retained, could make a free inspiration, a mixture of Sulphat of Magnesia with a Solution containing $\text{℥} \text{ss}$ of Carb. Sact. was ordered.

3rd The fever had left him, but he complained of a dry cough, a Mixture of pulv. Gum. Accacia $\text{℥} \text{ij}$ with $\text{℥} \text{ij}$ of nitre was ordered, with considerable benefit.

4th and 5th has persevered in ^{drinking} the 2 days his bowels continued regular and he began to expectorate 6th and 7th Cough not so frequent but the patient appears weak though his general health has improved and his mixture was continued.

8th On the preceding evening had a slight attack of fever which was relieved by a draught with $\text{℥} \text{ss}$ of the Solution of Carb. Sact. his tongue appeared this day much loaded, and his bowels were not free, his mixture of Gum Accacia with nitre was omitted and one ordered with $\text{℥} \text{ij}$ of Carb. Sact. dissolved in $\text{℥} \text{vi}$ of Water and $\text{℥} \text{vi}$ of the Sulphat. of Magnesia, at this did not act on his bowels a purging enema was ordered in the afternoon followed up by Cal of $\text{℥} \text{ss}$ Jalap Mad Carb of $\text{℥} \text{ss}$, bleeding him again did not seem advantageous to myself or Mr. Farnes who was at Norwich until then.

9th

The medicines operated powerfully on his bowels, but the fever had come on at night without much cough and without the patient complaining of pain in his chest, his tongue continued foul, he was more increased in strength and his pulse was very quick and small and his skin again wet and dry.

his mixture of Sulphat of Magnesia ʒss was continued adding ʒss more of the Solution of Ant. Tart. to it, the mixture then into ʒij of Ant. Tart. in Solution.

Found that the medicines had operated repeatedly downwards, that the nauseating effects of it had been such as to make him vomit several times, and that on a visit after my evening visit (9 o'clock) the patient had been seized with great difficulty of breathing, which then continued, he had the fever severely all night, he now complained of great pain in his chest, his pulse was extremely small and irregular - A large Empl. Lymph. was applied over his chest subv. Ant. ʒij with ʒss of Opium were given, this last medicine produced a copious perspiration, but the blister did not unite and the patient died a little after midday.

Dissection

On opening the body the contents of the Thorax and Abdomen were examined. - The lungs were found of a pink red - the lower part of each was of a deep crimson hue and nearly black at the bottom. Adhesions were found between the left lobe and the pleura. On cutting in the lower part of one of them it was observed that an effusion of blood had taken place there, a piece cut from the bottom of one of them sank in a vessel filled with water. The heart appeared healthy. Nothing particular was seen in the Abdomen except that the liver was unusually large.
