Company Orders, No. 4.

By Lieut.-Col. H. D. BROOK, V.D., R.A.M.C. (T.F.)
Commanding.

PORTSMOUTH, 25th May, 1911.

1.—The following extract from Army Orders is published for information:

Coronation Processions, Naval Review, and Gala Performances at the Royal Opera and His Majesty's Theatre. Dress of Officers: His Majesty the King directs that all officers on the active list witnessing the Royal Processions on 22nd, 23rd and 29th June, 1911, or witnessing the Naval Review on 24th June, 1911, from His Majesty's Ships of War, or attending the Gala Performances at the Royal Opera and His Majesty's Theatre, shall appear in full dress uniform.

Officers of the Territorial Force who are not in possession of full dress uniform will be permitted to wear service dress, except at the Gala Performances at the Royal Opera and His Majesty's Theatre.

2.—Extract from Wessex Divisional Orders, dated 17th May, 1911:

No. 151—Dress Contingents, Coronation.—The dress for contingents from units of the Territorial Force detailed for duty at, or attending ceremonies in connection with, the Coronation will be full dress or walking out dress according to the description of uniform in possession of the Unit. Should, however, any Unit not be in possession of either full dress or walking out dress, service dress may be worn.

The dress for officers will conform to that of non-commissioned officers and men. If the latter wear full dress or walking out dress, officers will wear full dress (paragraph 437 T.F. Regulations). If service dress is worn by non-commissioned officers and men, it will also be worn by officers.

Contingents will bring with them arms, accoutrements, haversacks, water bottles and great coats.

It must be understood that the above instructions refer to Coronation ceremonials only, and that no modification of paragraph 437 T.F. Regulations, directing that full dress must be worn by officers attending levees, courts, etc., is contemplated.
