Surgeon General

Sir William Taylor deeply regrets that he was absent from home, after a severe illness, when Mr. Kelkeme's very kind invitation came here and he only received it on his return on Saturday last.

He would much like to have been present at the opening of the Historical Medical Museum.

My Dear Sir

I write to express my great
delight at the admirable Medical Museum
you have brought together.
You have accomplished
a great work, & I
rejoice to hear that it will be probably

permanently housed
in Leeds.

Yours faithfully

25th day of June 1913

Dear Mr. Wellcome,
Just a short
note to congratulate you - Mr. Thompson + all who have helped
- on the wonderful
exhibition opened yesterday. Only those who have to do with Museums can appreciate the labour & brawn behind such

an exhibition

My dear old friend
Just a word
to tell you how proud I am of you
today - & to be able to speak of
you as an old friend (though I

confess you don't look it) the man
who has brought together the most wonderful collection
on earth. When can I see you & when will you
come & see my
little show here.
We are such

near neighbors
now - it ought to be easy. Some some day when you will either
lunch or dine - &
tell me of some of
the wonders you
have seen.

Yrs ever

Dear Mr. Welcome

Thank you so much for your very kind invitation for the 24th, but I must sorrowfully decline it, because I am going off to-morrow for a fortnight, to try & get some sleep.

It may interest you to know that I have finished the Book on Syrian Anatomy, Pathology and Therapeutics, and that it will be out in a few weeks.

I send herewith register of lenders to H.M.M.

Invitations are to be issued in all cases excepting those in which the name ~~and objects~~ of objects lent are ruled through. I hope this is clear.

I should be glad if you would let me have the register as soon as you have finished with it.

re: Invitations for H.M.M. opening ceremony.

We have now revised this list, and have deleted a number of names and added others. Those against which I have written "Invited" have already been asked to participate in the opening ceremony, but I should send them a card of invitation as well, as it will be necessary to present it at the door. With regard to the Pharmaceutical Society, the President and Secretary should be invited, but not the members of the Council, and the same applies to the Institute of Chemists. The Society of Apothecaries should be represented by the Master and Registrar only. The President of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons should be invited, and the other names I have added here and there throughout the list must be included. A few additions will be sent on shortly.

Dear Sir,

The Historical Medical Museum in which I have been interested for some years past, will, I trust, be ready for opening on the 24th June next. As it is the first time, I believe, such a comprehensive collection of objects connected with the history of medicine has been brought together in England, I am desirous of having it opened under the most favourable auspices. It would give me great pleasure if you would honour me by your presence at the opening ceremony which has been fixed for 2.30 p.m. on the above date.

Sir Thomas Barlow has kindly promised to be present, and the Museum will be declared open by Dr. Norman Moore.

Thanking you in anticipation of an early reply,

I am,
