DEDICATION

TO THE SONS OF BRITAIN.

LOOKING back through the vista of time, one can hardly realize that less than twenty centuries ago the Sons of Britain were fighting with rude weapons against the trained legions of Rome. How well they fought and how nobly they died is a matter of history. Little did the world think then that, in less than 2,000 years, the inhabitants of this "tight little island" would become the dominant power and Mistress of the seas.

The Sons of Britain have advanced step by step, slowly yet surely. As centuries have rolled away, they have fought and suffered reverse, but their dogged perseverance has triumphed in the end and to-day the Union Jack flies over the greatest Empire the world has ever seen, an Empire 12,000,000 square miles in area, with a population of over 400,000,000, possessing an annual seaborne commerce of £1,488,785,000, a mercantile marine of which the tonnage is 13,000,000, and an Empire upon which the sun never sets.

The name of Boadicea, the female warrior who bravely led her troops against the invader, will live for ever in English history and be remembered with feelings of admiration.

*"Great Boadicea, glory of thy race,
Britannia's honour, and thy foe's disgrace;
In burning fancy I behold each fight
Where female valour warr'd for Albion's right;
Thy very fall perpetuates thy fame,
And Suetonius' laurels droop with shame."—T. DIBDIS.*

Caractacus too, of whom many have read but may not have had the opportunity of perusing his memorable defence before the Emperor at Rome, after defending himself with undaunted spirit against the Romans who had invaded his dominions, was betrayed to his enemies, by whom he was sent with the rest of his family in chains to Rome.

The behaviour of Caractacus in that metropolis of the world was truly splendid. When brought before the Emperor he stood erect and fearless, and addressing himself to Claudius said :

*"If in my prosperity the moderation of my conduct had been equivalent to my birth and fortune,
"I should have come into this city, not as a captive but as a friend ; nor would you, Caesar,
"have disdained the alliance of a man born of illustrious ancestors, and ruler over several nations.*

*"My present fate is to me dishonourable ; to you magnificently glorious. I once had horses ;
"I once had men ; I once had arms ; I once had riches ; can you wonder then I should part
"with them unwillingly ? Although, as Romans, you may aim at universal empire, it does not "follow that all mankind must tamely submit to be your slaves. If I had yielded without "resistance neither the perverseness of my fortune nor the glory of your triumph had been so
"remarkable. Punish me with death and I shall soon be forgotten. Suffer me to live and I
"shall remain a lasting monument to your clemency."*

Such noble sentiments, spoken with such fearless eloquence, affected equally the whole assembly, and the Emperor at once ordered the prisoners' chains to be removed.

A nation composed of such men was bound to advance.

To attempt to portray the rise and development of our Empire within the limits of this dedication would be impossible, nor can one more than refer to the heroism, the privations and difficulties met and overcome, or mention the names of the great men and women who have suffered death for principles held dear. And then there are those who, in the stillness of the night, have studied, written everlasting lines, or have invented things that have proved a blessing to humanity, and lastly the pioneers of discovery who sailed across the waters to unknown lands and created Britain beyond the seas. What pen can relate the story of their sufferings, trials, and their glorious victories?

The naval and military history of the empire is unique, and the names of her heroes and her victories are inscribed in imperishable letters on the pages of history, indeed none more so than those of Nelson and Trafalgar, Wellington and Waterloo.

Many whose names are contained in this book took part in the memorable campaign in the Crimea, and such could relate the terrible hardships endured, describe the never to be forgotten "Charge at Balaclava," the storming of the Redan, the battle of the Alma, or tell us of the battle of Inkerman, the "Soldiers' Battle."

Others might recall the anxious days, weeks and months they endured, the sleepless nights, when they heroically defended the British women and children in Lucknow against the merciless hordes of Sepoys.

The brilliant march from Cabul to Kandahar and the defence of Rorke's Drift are splendid examples of the endurance and pluck of "Tommy Atkins," and the battle of Omdourman is still fresh in the memories of many.

The annihilation of Major Wilson's party in Matabeleland will live while memory lasts; every man of that party was a hero and deserved the Victoria Cross. Picture for one minute that small body of horseman under the command of Major Wilson surrounded by thousands of Matabele warriors, against which overwhelming force they fought as Britishers can fight, until every cartridge had been expended and then, with indomitable pluck, they faced the foe singing the while "God save the Queen," and so met their death.

The South African campaign afforded the unique picture of the "Sons of Britain," from the uttermost parts of the earth rallying round the flag, and was an object lesson to the world.

In this short dedication one must not forget the patient mothers of Great Britain who reared their children amid the toil and turmoil of these historic centuries, braved a thousand dangers, suffered many hardships, and yet whose love overcame all difficulties. To them we owe an immeasurable debt.

It has been truly said :

*"The first being that rushes to the recollection of a sailor or a soldier, in his heart's difficulty,
"is his mother. She clings to his memory and affection in the midst of all the forgetfulness
"and hardihood induced by a roving life. The last message he leaves is for her; his last
"whisper breathes her name. The mother, as she instils the lessons of piety and filial obligation
"into the heart of her infant son, may drop into the grave, but she has left behind her*

"influences that will work for her. The bow is broken, but the arrow is sped and will do its "office."

And last, but not least, the humble toiler, whose daily work has been so honourably performed, whose name has not been placed upon the scroll of fame, but who, nevertheless, has done his or her share cheerfully, willingly and unostentatiously in either laying the foundations of or building up this great and mighty Empire.

*Let us see to it that the greatness of our Empire is maintained; perseverance, energy, sobriety, morality and inventive genius can do much, but if we neglect our duties as citizens, forget our moral obligations, cease to strive to higher marks of perfection, we shall surely decline in status and power.
Great Britain looks to her sons and calls upon them to quit themselves like men.*

PROGRAMME.

TOAST "The King" THE CHAIRMAN
SONG "The Veteran's Song" Stephen Adams
MR. ROBERT RADFORD.

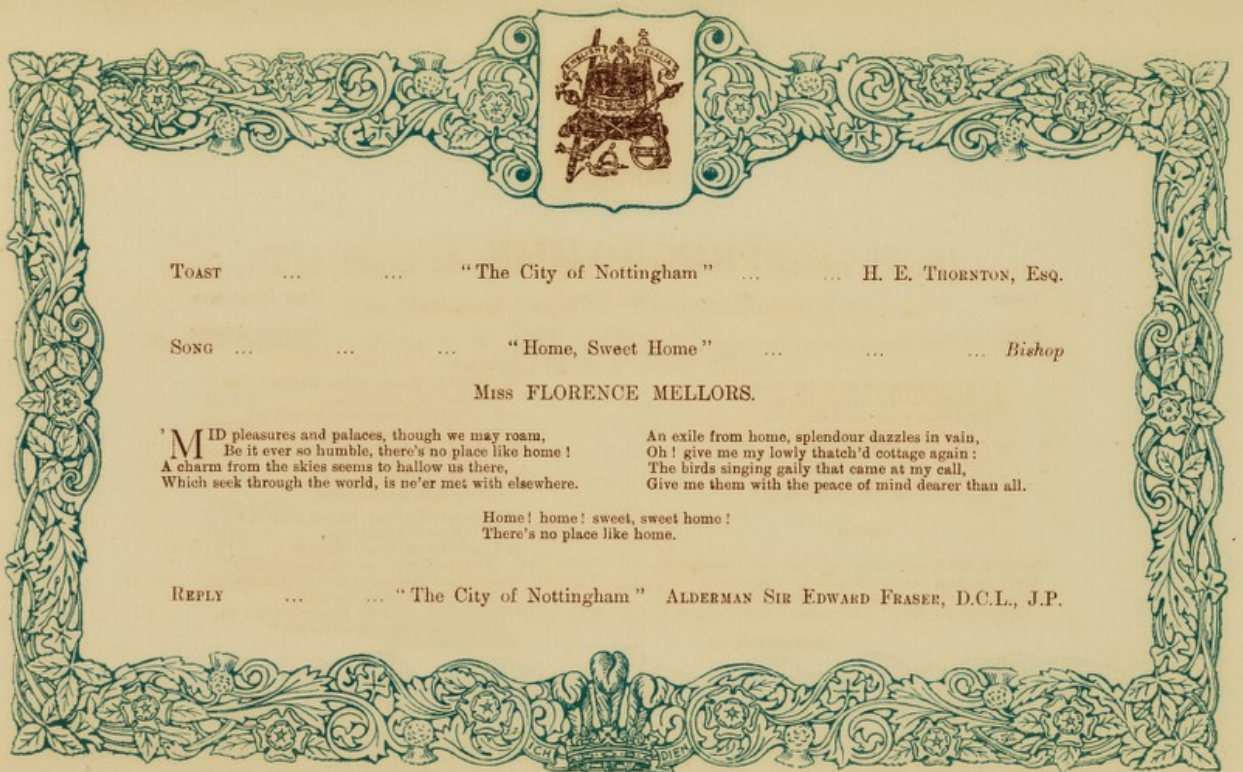

JUST wheel my chair to the window,
And wide the casement fling,
For I want to see the folks, lass,
As they go to greet the King:
So fetch me the old Martini,
And set me upon my feet,
For the King, the King is coming,
Don't you hear 'em in the street?

CHORUS.

"Long live the King,"—don't you hear 'em cheering,
Don't you hear 'em shouting as the troops come by?
"Long live the King,"—that's the song they sing;
"God bless the King" is the nation's loving cry.

We ha'n't no flowers at the window,
For times is a bit severe,
But I think he'll stop when he sees me,
As I stand at attention here.
And tho' I've a wooden leg, dear,
And my eyes are old and dim,
I fought for his dear old father,
And I'd fight again for him.

Did you see him, lass, did you see him;
Did you see his merry eye,
As I gave the salute and shouted—
"Present Arms!" as the King went by.
Did you hear him speak to his marshalls?
I heard him through the noise;
"Thank God, when the young lads fall, sir,
We still have the dear old boys!"

TOAST ... "The City of Nottingham" ... H. E. THORNTON, ESQ.

SONG ... "Home, Sweet Home" ... Bishop

MISS FLORENCE MELLORS.

'MID pleasures and palaces, though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home !
A charm from the skies seems to hallow us there,
Which seek through the world, is ne'er met with elsewhere.

An exile from home, splendour dazzles in vain,
Oh ! give me my lowly thatch'd cottage again !
The birds singing gaily that came at my call,
Give me them with the peace of mind dearer than all.

Home ! home ! sweet, sweet home !
There's no place like home.

REPLY ... "The City of Nottingham" ALDERMAN SIR EDWARD FRASER, D.C.L., J.P.

DUET ... "In Springtime" ... Ernest Newton

Miss FLORENCE MELLORS & Mr. ROBERT RADFORD.

IT was a lover and his lass,
With a heigh and a ho and a heigh nonny no,
That o'er the green corn fields did pass.
In the Springtime, the only pretty ringtime,
When the birds do sing, hey ding, a ding, ding,
Sweet lovers love the Spring.

This carol they began that hour,
With a heigh and a ho and a heigh nonny no,
How that life was but a flower,
In the Springtime, etc.

And therefore take the present time,
With a heigh and a ho and a heigh nonny no,
For love is crowned with the prime.
In the Springtime, etc.

TOAST ... "The Imperial Forces" ... J. A. H. GREEN, Esq.

SONG ... "England, Mine!" ... Teresa del Riego.

MR. ROBERT RADFORD.

FAIR is your face and form to day,
England, mine!
With your cliffs and towns and breezy downs,
Rain and shine.
Your hamlets nestling fair and deep,
In morning sun and evening sleep,
Your herds of cows, your flocks of sheep,
England, mine!

In my youth I used to stray,
England, mine!
For distant shores, more strange than yours,
Did I pine;
But ne'er I found from year to year,
In mountain, valley, mead or mere,
A sweeter country, half so dear,
England, mine!

So let me by your dear shores stay,
England, mine!
For East or West, yet home is best,
England, mine!
From warfare you have found release,
And may your welfare never cease,
God bless you, my land, and give you peace;
England, mine!

RECITATION ... "The Charge of the Light Brigade" ... Tennyson

MR. BEN YOUNG.

REPLY ... "The Imperial Forces"

SONG ... "Haymaking" ... Alicia A. Needham

MISS FLORENCE MELLORS.

SWEET June roses were all ablow,
Scythes swung heavily to and fro,
Ripe grass fell in a level row,
Oh happy days, Heigh-ho!

Strong arms tossing the dying grass,
Raking, lading, and carts that pass,
Song and sunshine and lad and lass,
Oh happy days, Heigh-ho!

Light hearts laughed with the day begun,
Laughed at noon with the laughing sun,
Laughing still when the day was done,
Oh happy days, Heigh-ho!

Days of happiness, hours of play,
Time has carted you all away;
Stored you by like the scented hay,
Oh happy days, Heigh-ho!

APPRECIATION.

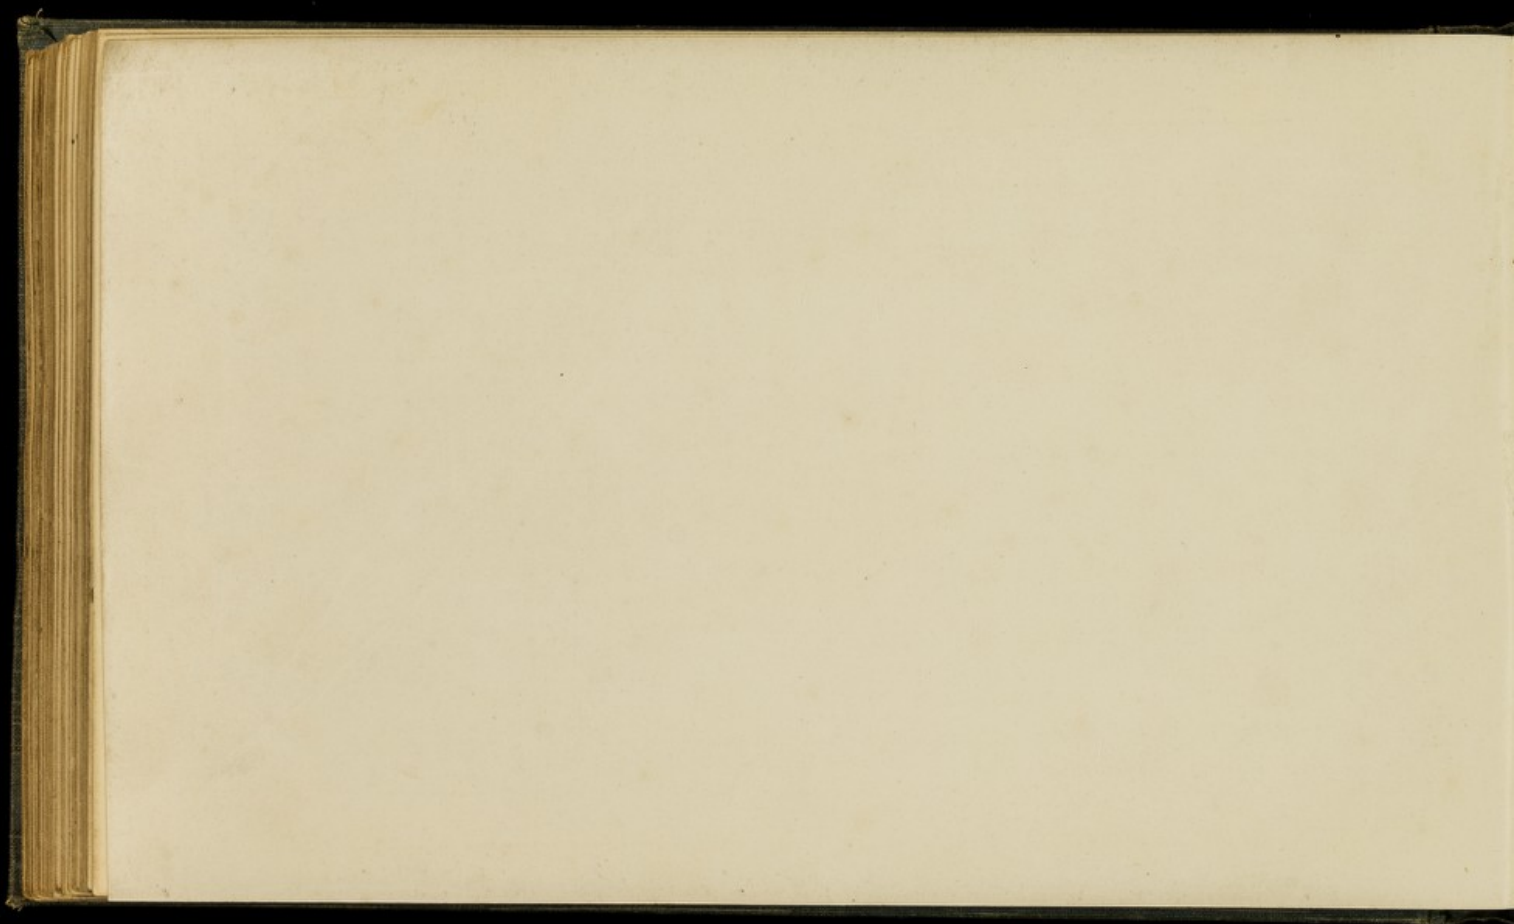

THE author would not like to conclude without expressing his appreciation and thanks to Messrs. Agnew & Son for permission to reproduce the series of Crimean photographs ; to Mr. J. Johnson who is responsible for the designs which add so much to the artistic character of the book ; to Mr. Arthur Marshall, A.R.I.B.A., for designing the Stewards' badge, and for much practical help in the arrangement of the hall ; but especially to Captain J. A. Morrison, M.P., without whose interest and generosity this Souvenir could not have been produced, nor this unique celebration have been held.
