Dearest Rosey

I saw yesterday evening three large bodies of children, - I should think quite 200 in each returning from school treats, so joyous; & I saw several ladies or young women with them & I thought of you, enjoying yourself in that happy way so like what your dear mother would have enjoyed in, and I blessed God who has given you - my dear one - the health & feelings to rejoice in such amusements rather than to indulge in such as well-wearing but light-thinking friends have offered you in London. -

I have nothing new to tell you - I go off this evg. to Ringwood and over the C.C. line tomorrow forenoon & in the evg. to Dinton Sunday at "Bucknwole House" near Wareham

Monday at 9 am. because stage there till Tuesday evg. & then back so as to be in London by 11 am. wedg. I hope to be back with you by 4.15 exp: on Wednesday.

Love to A. -

Good evening & much pray

My sweet Rose.

I sent up ~~the~~ ~~her~~ ~~with~~ ~~her~~ on Monday to get from them they arrived, & slept at the Markers.
& I had only time to write a few lines of love from from Hellic said she should write you yesterday but did I left her with a sad head-ache I think it more than probable she did not do so. we all feel & find her ever so happy, & improving greatly so much. You we all miss you Sadly from home. Caroline has just brought me my train & says "Please forgive my duty, & Mrs. Steele I say I wish she was back, it seems so lonely without her". — I will send all the things you ask for by the fitter tomorrow. & Mummy will see the husband of Billy's head.

The chicks are all as well & happy as possible. I heard from Isabella this morning, nothing to report Ickham got hit the last time at the house which I am glad of & like him very much. — The father has heard nothing of the Government Engineering College who begin Saturday morning's examination is most kindly take the opportunity.

I am sorry it has been a better act. of last Aug. th. I hope she is really coming round. Give my dear love & her 2 little ones I shall come & see her as soon as I properly can. I suppose they hear constantly from Leslie & also from Sarah. I am glad you happened to speak home when the meeting is called by you falling in love with the old man. I suppose he has nice & kind I am glad I hear about the little man. & that he will be rescued. -

I was going to copy Sir Chapp's letter, with the Swain's most kind message, but have not time to this morning. But I will send it with the other things tomorrow. — Papa begs you will tell Lucy, with his love, that he did not ask her to go to the Museum on Friday, because he thought you would return home with him, but he will be glad if she will go with you. — Strange & Sonnie to

My dear Rosie

Thanks for your note received yesterday, but which I was not able to read with my own eyes until the evening, as I was sick all day with a violent headache, but I managed to get down about 7. in the eve.
I say I am thankful & say Lucy pretty heavily all night against the hot very flaming as you may suppose Thank dear Aunt Lucy for her truly affectionate note & me & tell her I was indeed rejoiced to hear from herself that she was better & I trust she will soon be able to get about again tell her Harry & I think of going to Plymton for a fortnight before very long & that she had better arrange to go with us. I can assure it would do her good -- News from Ickham yet tho' I am in daily expectation now the chicks are all very flourishing & very happy.

Walter Tyler came on Thursday & spent with Mr. Dear Dr. & Shorcliffe in the evening. He has proven a fine handsome fellow he expect the 107th will come to Aldershot. - Pipe has taken the bracelet off the Lucia & says I can long for could not bear it in the case.
Mr. Sir C. Phillips wrote & say the Lucia would have for Dobson on Monday, & that he should like it delivered & day. The case is very handsome this sort of shape. Royal Blue velvet outside, bat lined with black silk.

Willis and his dead men

The mail goes home tomorrow I believe so I must not let it go without sending you a line to thank you for your two last letters. I got kind answers with one from Bishop. It is my birthday so you see your calculations were all right. I am much obliged to you all for your wishes and I also much for your brother's pencil - case which I hope I shall get all right when the mail comes in. I am very glad you thought of the clothes as I was thinking how I could let Anna know in time, I was in Grand yesterday and who should walk in but Bob.

I know on his way home he has been travelling in Italy with a poor fellow called Hinard who died at Palermo a day or two.
Before the steamer came in and Bob was taking his body home. I am so sorry to hear of poor Mr Hamilton's death pr

Toms sake he & I were just going to church when he got the telegram and luckily he was able to get away the next day in a little Hatched steamer but of course he will have been to late. It does seem strange as you say we know what of nothing but come I am glad Nelly is coming home. I wonder other will come instead or would the Cape do you know as if he comes instead I should be in you look out for him —.

H. seems so strange to me when I think when I go home I shall not see dear mother I have just been reading your last letter. I am afraid I must stop as we deep vase has gone.
Please give my love to Papa & mamma & all we are at home. God bless you dear Roni

Your affectionate
M. D. Morrison

My dearest Rosey

I have arranged to see the workmen here tomorrow, and everything is so clear that I can imagine nothing to prevent my coming up on Tuesday by the coach & getting to London at 6 & you to you by the 7. 15 departure arriving at Sandest about 8.45. Your husband and Tommy want me as I have no baggage that I know of. -

I wish upon your taking a lud with either Mr. Sturall or Mr. Farley, as I want to remain in town on Wednesday morn.

and I can return with you on Thursday.

If Mr. Walcott writes me (which I shall receive on Tuesday morning) that he is coming here to make Fossils & Turf of me, I am not at all sure that I shall stop for him, - because I have got Fawcett with 10 excavators who I think, will be able to take care of themselves, - but I name it last if I do not come about 9 AM on Tuesday, you should fancy the Train has broken down, and if I do not come then, you may conclude that something which I think of importance but not personally has occurred which I cannot now foresee & that I am detained till Wednesday.

In such case you will go to London by yourself as we arranged & a note to the Office will bring me to you.—

The fare from S.B. Station to F. Weston's or Farley's Holli-wood home is 2/- without tax.

I sent you a Dunch on Friday, just to let you know I was thinking of you. And your sum to take received as a well-applied beauty would, — as a man of years — and so dearest — I hope it always will be from your affectionate Mother — Goodby you. — W.H.

A Communion service today. More than 100 were present. - I felt dear, that you were at a similar Table & that we both were holding Communion with our Lord whom we have not seen, - yet believe, & with those dear ones whom we have seen & yet see not.

My dear Mr. Rose

Pipe did not get my letter & gnis. in time. I have very change in our ideas. So I must go home tomorrow & with her arrangements at the Lanes it is almost necessary that I should do so. but Pipe thinks he can manage & take me to St Leonards, on Friday the 29th. taking Mr. & Lucy back the same day. I hope this plan will do.

I shd then stay with dear Aunt Lucy, as long as little Lincoln manage to stay away. I think she liked to tomorrow but from the mummy world here there is a palp & a fidget. did I not make my appearance? I had not got to Parkman's office yet. — you so I shall be obliged if Lemire will you send it.

will like it. —

In the midst of telling of
