My dear Dr. Farn
There were three letters in the Lancet yesterday against our Army Medical School. They are easily answered.
But Mr. Herbert
has also received demonstrations from
And has a Refroy
Sh. P. for Dublin.

And we want to have the Lancet
on our side.

Would you ask the Editor not to commit himself
till he has heard
our side of the question?

You will find Inghelard here
tomorrow at 6 o'clock - And we will draw up a statement

which we depend upon you to further upon the Lancet, & make them give a leading Article
in our favor -

Yours most sincerely
F. Nightingale

My dear Dr. Farr,

There were three letters in the Lancet yesterday against our Army Medical School. They are easily answered. But Mr. Herbert has also received remonstrances from Lord Hass and Lefroy, M.P. for Dublin. And we want to have the Lancet on our side.

Would you ask the Editor not to commit himself till he has heard our side of the question.

You will find Sutherland here tomorrow at 6 o'clock. And we will draw up a statement which we depend upon you to father upon the Lancet, and make them give a leading article in our favour.

Yours most sincerely,

F. Nightingale.

There were three letters in the Lancet yesterday against our Army Medical School. They are easily answered. But Mr. Herbert has also received remonstrances from Lord Haas and Lefroy, M.P. for Dublin. And we want to have the Lancet on our side.

Would you ask the Editor not to commit himself till he has heard our side of the question.

You will find Sutherland here tomorrow at 6 o'clock. And we will draw up a statement which we depend upon you to father upon the Lancet, and make them give a leading article in our favour.

Yours most sincerely,

F.Nightingale.
