My dearest Harry

Many thanks for your letter to myself, it gave me inexpressible comfort, to feel assured that all is well with you, as to the best of things, it is undoubtedly the blessed Spirit teaching, that leads you to Gods word, and prayer, as long as you follow such a course you must be right. With respect to my health, I scarcely know what to say, the symptoms vary a good deal, I will tell you as well as I can, although I certainly believe the only sure plan would be to come and see them yourself.

I have long thought you might (with Gods blessing) <sup>do me good</sup> ~~you know~~ if you did, at the same time I should be sorry to interfere with your plans, or hinder your advancement in any possible way perhaps your coming over for two or three weeks would not injure you. the funds for travelling I would provide, do think of it, if you could arrange to come in a week or two, it would do, I am better again just now I do not think I have any chance of being permanently.
Lillian

with my present medical advisers when I am very ill they send me a draught of Magnesia & Chamberlain's & a colomel pill & then perhaps I see no more of them unless they are fetched; with respect to diet they say eat what you can & now for the answers to your questions generally an hour sometimes two after eating I have great acidity & heartburn with most horrid noise in the bowels accompanied with pain sometimes very severe about the navel the flatulence so great that large lumps roll about one but I cannot perceive any permanent swelling although I have often felt very often if the acidity is sufferings comes on not corrected, (and if that once begins it generally goes on for some time) Magnesia Carbonate or soda and a mixture from gr. ℥ will often carry it off, the bowels are irregular either costive or very much the reverse the colour pale I think I may say I am seldom if ever feverish I have told you all I can think of and remain

My dearest Harry

I often think I am very ungrateful in not making a little effort to answer your most kind affectionate and interesting letters, your last as usual gave me great pleasure. In answer to one part of it (the inconsistencies of Christians) I would just remark the more experience you have of the plagues of your own heart, the less you will wonder at the conduct of others, at least this has been my own experience, daily and hourly have I reason to lament the deep pollution and iniquity of my heart, and as often do I come to the precious fountain opened for sin, the all atoning blood of our adorable Redeemer, depend

I was much pleased with your letter this morning of Mrs Roberts's call we shall be happy to see her, with respect to your father's health I am not very comfortable though Mr Easton says the lungs are clearer I fear he has not been well all the summer but just now he has been worse in consequence of taking cold fortunately he has not many pupils at present so he can rest he is ~~of~~ anxious also as he is about losing the newington properly if he is not permanently better. I shall urge his writing you a full description of <sup>his</sup> symptoms

I don't think Jo will return to London just yet but he will write to you soon

You left your Hannah Weston here in the spring but I hope to have an opportunity of sending a small parcel to you soon we have just finished your a sett of shirts and also have some night shirts ready when you want them I know will wish to hear how my health is this week thank God I am very comfortable last week quite ill so I go on always the greatest reason for thankfulness. I enclose an advertisement sent by my Aunt Sollett what do you say to it—

Dear Harry we often talk of you and the young ladies in Wrestler. I hope you will not commit yourself or give them reason to imagine you mean more than you really do. I am not dictating only giving you a hint. Lily is waiting for my note just now. So farewell dearest

ASSEMBLING IN

WESTMINSTER CHAPEL,

WESTMINSTER.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY,

That Henry Vanduyke Carter

Residing at College of Surgeons was admitted a Member of the above Church

On the 27 day of December 1859

Samuel Martin Pastor.

“For we, being many, are ONE bread, and ONE body.”

“Endeavouring to KEEP the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace.”

“Till we all come in the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: From whom the whole body fitly joined together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in love.”

DECLARATION OF THE CHURCH.

“We do publicly and solemnly declare, that we take the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament, as alike the rule of our faith and practice:—that we agree to be guided and governed in all things by the principle and usages of the primitive church, as these are enforced and stated in Holy Writ:—and that while we would earnestly seek each other’s edification in the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, so also that we will unite our efforts and our prayers to seek the extension of the kingdom of God our Saviour, both in this district and the world at large:—and that as the fellowship of the saints has many precious privileges connected with it, through the mediation of Jesus Christ, and by the influence of the Holy Ghost, we do most thankfully accept them of God our Father, and pray, that we may be able to the end of our lives to walk worthy of the vocation wherewith we are called.”

Declaration Of the Church of Christ, meeting in Westminster Chapel,

Adopted at the formation of the Church, October 4, 1841.

---

“We do publicly and solemnly declare, that we take the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament, as alike the rule of our faith and practice:—that we agree to be guided and governed in all things by the principles and usages of the primitive church, as these are enforced and stated in Holy Writ :—and that, while we would earnestly seek each other’s edification in the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, so also, that we will unite our efforts and our prayers to seek the extension of the kingdom of God our Saviour, both in this district, and the world at large :—and that as the fellowship of saints has many precious privileges connected with it, through the mediation of Jesus Christ, and by the influence of the Holy Ghost, we do most thankfully accept them of God our Father ; and pray, that we may be able to the end of our lives to walk worthy of the vocation wherewith we are called.”

The Duties of the Members of a Church, as enforced and stated in Holy Writ, are —

I. Generally—Entire obedience to all the doctrines, ordinances, and laws of Christ; and, in order to this, a diligent study of the New Testament. (Matt. xxiii. 10; John xiv. 15, 21, 23, 24; John, xvii. 8.)

II. Particularly—1. Love to the brethren : including —

Towards the Pastor, or Bishop:—

Affection, submission, and obedience. (Heb. xiii. 17; 1 Thess. v. 12, 13.)

Contribution to his temporal need and comfort. (Luke, x. 7; 1 Cor. ix. 11—14; Gal. vi. 6.)

Attention to all the topics of his ministry. (Heb. ii. 1—4; 1 John, iv. 1; 1 Thess. v. 21.)

Towards each other:—

All possible sympathy with, and care for, every member. (Phil. ii. 4; Rom. xii. 15; 1 John, iii. 16.)

Proper concealment of the faults of offenders.—(1 Cor. xiii. 5—7; James, iv. 11; v. 19, 20.)

The reproof of offenders. (Matt. xviii. 15.)

When necessary, relief of those who are in temporal need. (Rom. xii. 13; 1 Cor. xvi. 1—3; Heb. xiii. 16.)

Forbearance towards the infirmities of others. (Rom. xv. 1—3; 1 Cor. viii. 13.)

2. Benevolence towards the souls of all men; leading to—Prayer on their behalf. (1 Tim. ii. 1—6.)

The exhibition of Christianity before them, by the life and conduct. (Matt. v. 15, 16; Col. iv. 5; Eph. v. 15.)

A provision of the means of grace for their benefit. (Matt. xxviii. 19, 20.)

The following have been adopted by the Church, as Rules for the guidance of the Members in its Assemblies and Discipline :—

At a Church Meeting, held MAY 3, 1842.

I. That no topic be brought before the Church without the previous knowledge and concurrence of the presiding Minister.

At a Church Meeting, held JANUARY 1, 1844.

II. Any member absenting himself or herself from the Lord's table during six successive months, without a reason satisfactory to the Pastor, shall cease to be a member of this Church.

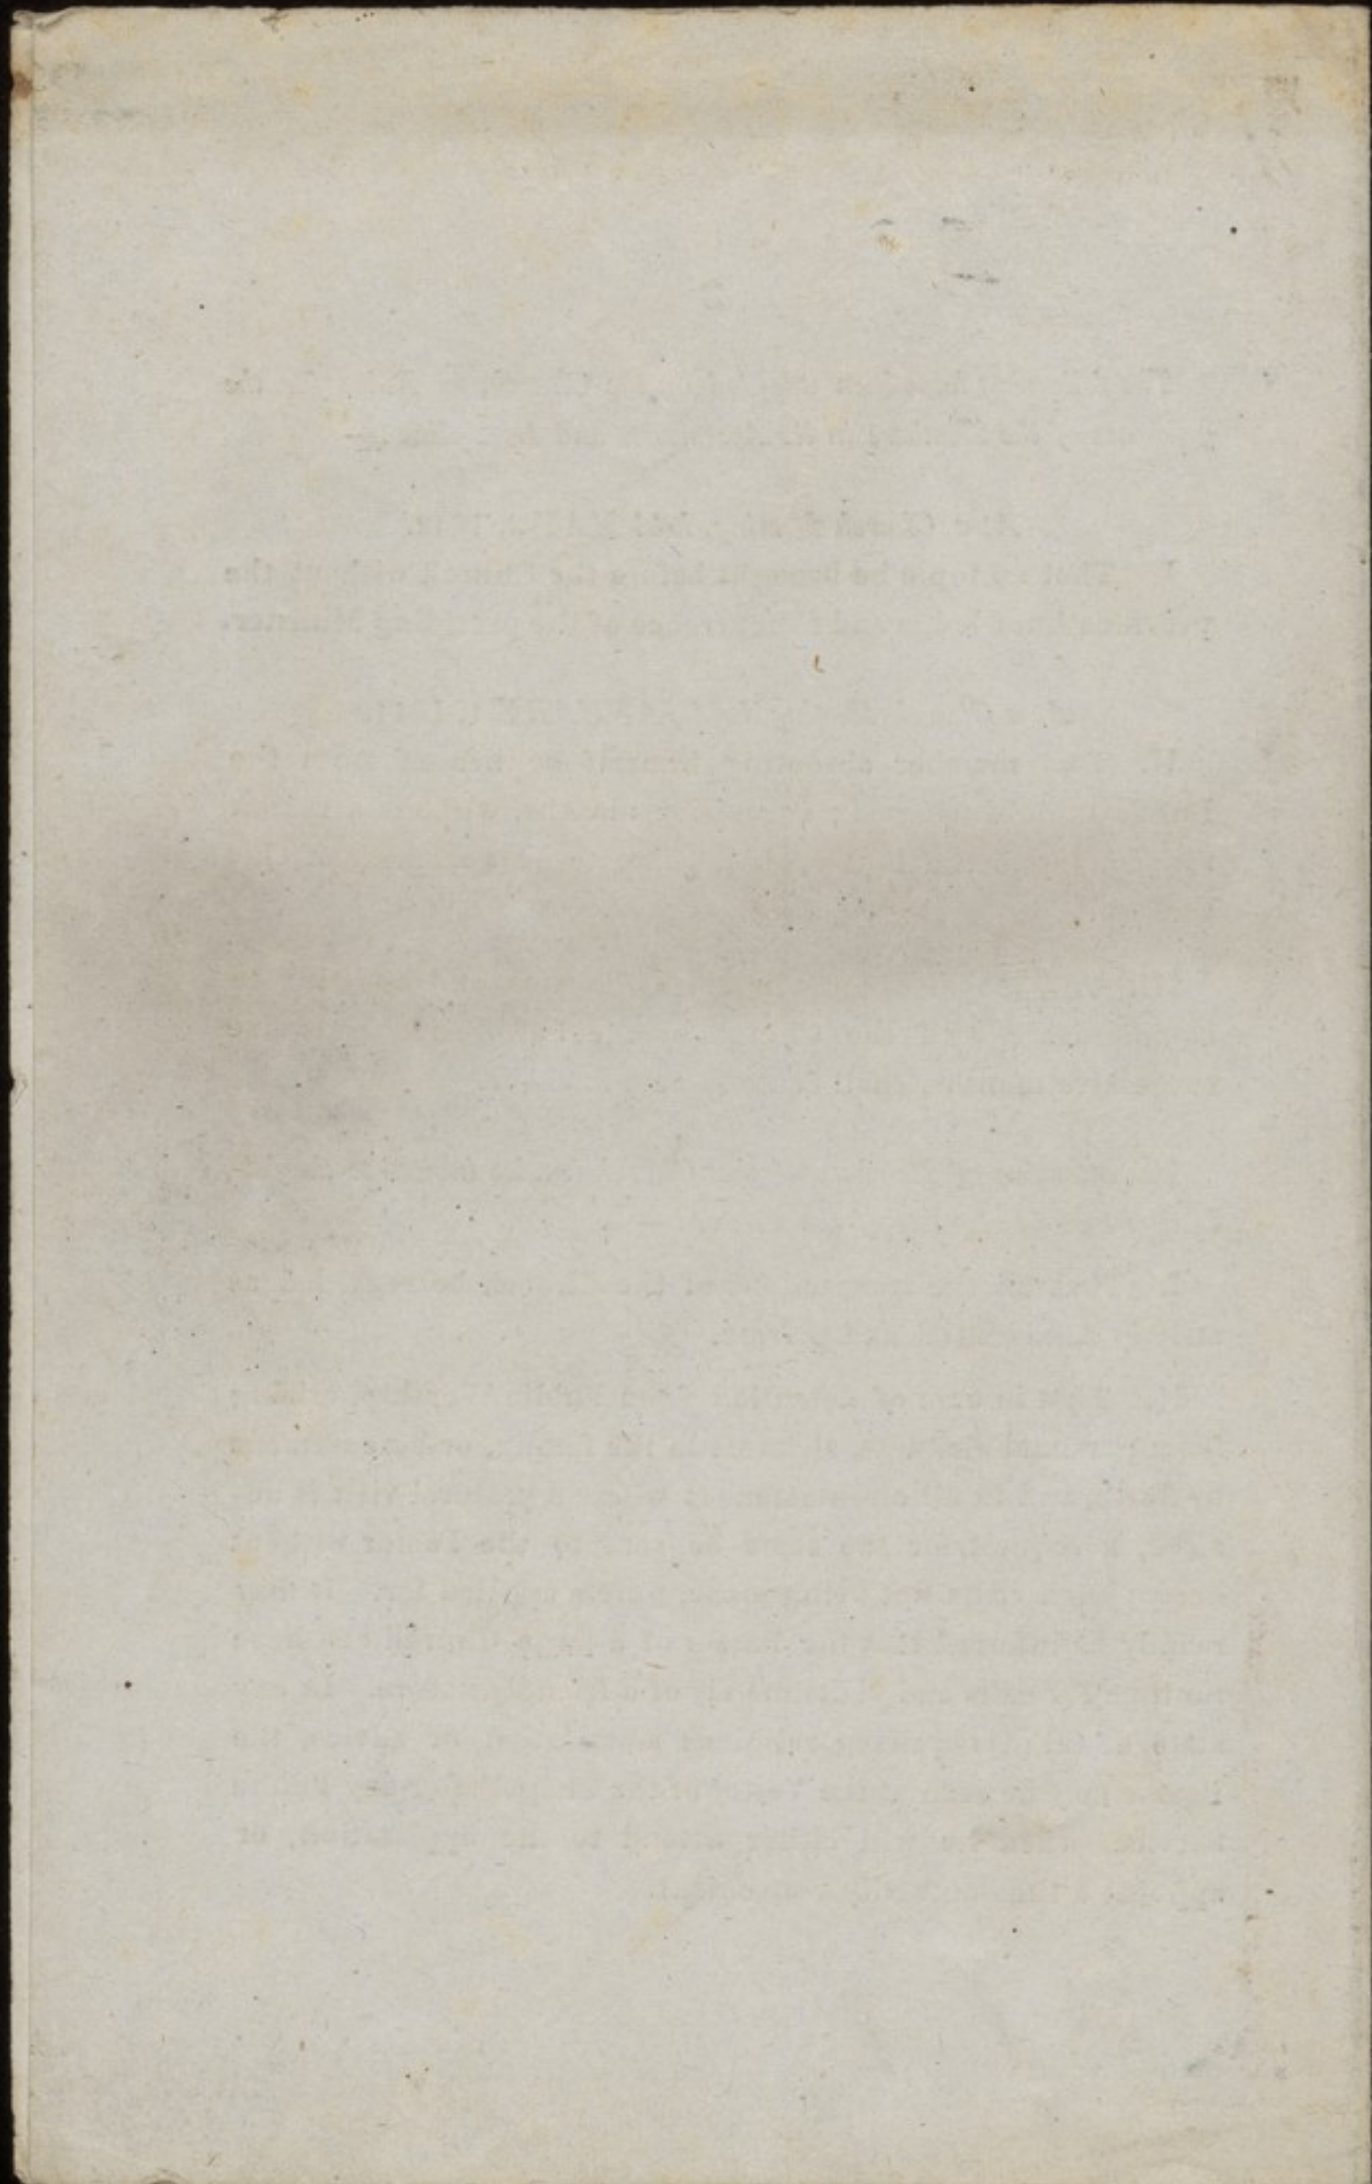

III. Any member removing to a distance, and omitting to communicate with the Church or the Pastor, during twelve successive months, shall cease to be a member.

The attention of Members of the Church is also invited to the following earnest requests of the Pastor :—

I. That all the transactions of the Church be regarded as strictly confidential and private.

II. That in case of detention from Public Worship, arising from personal sickness, sickness in the family, or bereavement by death, and in all circumstances where a pastoral visit is desired, a request for the same be sent to the Pastor without delay; such visits not being made, unless applied for. It may readily be inferred that the Pastor of a large Church can have no time for calls and visits merely of a friendly nature. In any state of mind requiring religious consolation or advice, the Pastor may be seen at the Vestry of the Chapel after any Public Service, when he will either attend to the application, or appoint a time mutually convenient.

My dear Mr. Peet.

With regard to the subject referred to you today, please understand me to say that had I been aware of the existence of such an unfavourable impression concerning my private affairs as I now find to prevail I should not for a moment have placed myself in a position that ~~such a reception could be taken~~ ~~could be open to censure~~.

I am surprised Mr. Green should conceive it possible that I could have introduced into his house a person whom I did not solemnly <sup>at the time</sup> regard as my wife; and had I thought it necessary to refer to any irregularity in my marriage when treating with him I should most assuredly never have proposed to take part of the house... but knowing done so, I now regret <sup>my former consideration</sup> he was not made aware of all the circumstances of the case.

With regard to another topic also referred to you I can only say

Sir,

We have been requested by Mrs Carter to enclose you the copy opinions of Dr Spinks on the subject of the validity of her Marriage with M. Carter. We collect from her that she left Bombay and came to England by your advice in consequence of a question raised at Bombay upon the validity of her husband's marriage with her which rendered a separation in your judgment for the time desirable - Having now taken the best Opinions she can obtain upon the validity of her marriage she thinks it right to send them to you through us under the persuasion that the motives which induced you to recommend her separation will now induce you to use your influence to remove those impressions which have erroneously existed and which

Gentlemen,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Letter of yesterday's date asking me certain questions, arising from the present position of Mrs Bushell and of the child born in her second marriage. -

Having been one of the Judges forming the Court which pronounced Judgment in the suit for a divorce instituted against her I need hardly say that there is no doubt in my mind as to the competency of the Supreme Court at the Cape taking Cognizance of and passing Judgments in such actions of divorce where the parties are brought under the Jurisdiction of the Court. - The Case of Kimberley v Newberry tried many years ago where the parties were a military Officer and his wife, on their Voyage from India to England, and the adultery forming the ground of Action having been committed on the High Sea, having long settled that first point. - In how far such a Decree may affect real property out of the Jurisdiction of that Court is however a nice point which has not been finally determined. -

In answer to your 2nd question, I beg to state that there is no provision in our Colonial Laws fixing the time, after the lapse of which from the date of the Decree the parties may remarry - Indeed the Judgment of the Court generally runs (in terms of the Plaintiff's Declaration) allowing him or her only to remarry but the "Vinculum matrimonii" being severed it has been fully settled that the guilty party (or the Defendant) is equally entitled to remarry the only restriction being to the effect that the Defendant may be prevented from marrying with the "guilty paramour" who gave cause to the Action. -

Trusting that this will sufficiently answer your inquiries

I remain &c

Case

Mrs Bushell was divorced for adultery at the Cape of Good Hope sometime about the middle of 1858 and followed her husband to India immediately after, where she lived upon his property for some months & on his departure she then assumed his name. She then became acquainted with Dr Carter her cousin & became married to him. She resided in India for some time, at last returning home & attempting a marriage by representing herself as a widow and so avoiding the debate on the question of divorce <sup>the plaintiff</sup> about which she had herself doubts. This was done <sup>in December 1859</sup> and as the marriage <sup>was</sup> the extract of the Registrar's Books will show. She afterwards passed as his wife but the marriage was not communicated to the military authorities as usual, for doubts still existed as to its validity. <sup>Consequently more which would</sup> her divorce being, her husband being <sup>taken in the name of</sup> ~~the plaintiff~~ the question seems to depend 1st on the efficacy of the divorce effected at the Cape 2 on the <sup>consequences</sup> ~~effect~~ of a false ~~statement~~ statement before the Registrar. ~~on the validity of the marriage~~ ~~marriage is not quashed~~ Is not the marriage invalid?

Sir

I have received your letter of the 25th Ultimo. I beg again to assure you that I had no wish to interfere in any matter not relating to my concerns, but what I would ask you was I do when a lady applied to me in distress. I had not the heart to turn her adrift & tell her that her troubles were nothing to me and I therefore heard her story & gave such advice & assistance as was required =

I have already informed you that I consulted a most eminent Lawyer, & that he was satisfied that the 1st marriage was completely annulled & that the 2nd marriage was valid = In respect to the 1st marriage the only point for consideration was whether the Court at the Cape had the power to annul a marriage contracted in England & this was answered in the affirmative, but even admitting for the sake of argument that the Court had no such power yet still ~~had it~~ ~~power~~ as it had passed such a decree, that decree was at least valid until it was repealed by a Superior Court =

It stands to reason therefore that you cannot get rid of her <sup>after</sup> under the plea of her 1st marriage, until you can get a superior court to decide that the decision passed at the Cape was illegal = This action could only be brought in England & would fail but even it was successful, it would cost you at least £2,000 = & you could not recover any portion from Mrs Carter because she has nothing =

In conformity with your request I asked Mrs Carter whether she would agree to a separation, but at once <sup>a</sup> without any hesitation she said that she never was really attached to any person except you - that she loved you dearly - would do whatever you wished & never spend a Rupee without your permission - & that she would prefer living with you although she might ~~be~~ he could receive or receive not at all by <sup>the</sup> Bonding Community = In fact it appears to me that she is determined to stick to you, & that you cannot get rid of her & under these circumstances I would venture to suggest to your consideration whether it would not be advisable to treat her kindly & let her live with you again -

After a few years all former occurrences will be gradually buried in oblivion = As to your superior officer compelling you to live apart from ~~the~~ your wife.
You ought to have appealed against such interference, & you would then have been informed that as you had married her of course you ought to live with her = Believe me

Yours Faithfully

Do be charitable and put me not to my fruitless search by naming a few books that you think I can understand.
 books to make me wiser.

I should so much like to know what you are doing, in fact I would give words to know.
I pray pardon me

Yours sincerely

16
JUDGMENT.—“ARGENT v. ARGENT.”—This was a case of probate, in which the plaintiff propounded the will of her husband, who was a soldier in her Majesty's army, and for some time in the Cape Mounted Rifles, and who was resident at the Cape of Good Hope for many years, and died there. It appeared that while resident at the Cape, in 1850, the deceased married a woman of the name of Amelia Adams. That marriage was dissolved by the courts at the Cape in 1852, in consequence of the adultery of the wife. In 1852, while still resident at the Cape, the deceased contracted a second marriage with Helena Pridmore, who survives him, and who now claims letters of administration of his estate. Her claim was opposed by the defendant on the ground that the second marriage was illegal by the law of England, the courts at the Cape not having authority to dissolve the first marriage, the deceased at the time being a domiciled Englishman. The Judge-Ordinary, however, held that such a doctrine would be carrying the law of domicile to an extraordinary length. The deceased had for many years been resident at the Cape. The first marriage had been contracted there, and dissolved there by the proper tribunals. The second marriage had also been contracted there, and the deceased died there. His lordship should, therefore, in this case decline to pronounce the second marriage invalid, and decree administration to the plaintiff as the administrator of the testator.—Administration decreed accordingly.

...as her girl would soon be back. She went out with the baby. It was dead. She undressed it, and we went into the bedroom and opened a box. I took out the things it contained. She wrapped the child up in newspapers and then she put it into the box. I put down the lid, and she locked it and put the key into her pocket. Pratt came home, and the prisoner told her that Mary's aunt had been and taken away little Tommy, and put red socks on it. I had given her a piece of carpet, which is the one in which the child was found. I then made an engagement to meet the prisoner on the 14th at the Clarence Hotel, to go over around Peignton with the child. I did not meet her. I saw her on the 15th at Mrs. Wansey's. She came there with her little girl. She had a basket. She said "You did not come out last night." I said "No." She said, "Never mind; let me have 4s. to take it up to Exeter." I said I had not 4s. She said I might draw from my mistress. I went to Mrs. Wansey, who gave me 1s. 6d. I gave it to the prisoner, and said I could not get any more. The prisoner said she would send up the next day for the rest, and she did send, but I had not the 2s. 6d. On the next Sunday I went to Mrs. Gibson's and had some conversation with her, and then I went to the prisoner's house; she said, "Oh, it's you, Mary?" I said, "Yes." She said she had just come home. I said, "There has been a child picked up, between three and four months old." She said, "Yes; they tell me Government will take it in hand." I said, "So they ought." We went into her bedroom. She said, "I've got you under the rabbit-box." I said, "Have you, really?" She said, "Yes, I have." I said, "Mrs. Gibson has dreamt it was mine, and that you have killed it and I am going to let her get anything out
