To Henry S. Wellcome, Esq.

Snow Hill Buildings. E.C.

Dear Sir.

I received - at my private address - a day or two ago, your Circular, respecting the Exhibition you contemplate holding sometime soon, and felt very pleased with the idea.

I have nothing that seems to me, to be very suitable for such an Exhibition, but I have a few things, which, while only of secondary importance would help to fill up such an Exhibition as you contemplate.

On the enclosed paper I have roughly entered a few items, which may perhaps be found interesting. I am not prepared to judge of their auditability myself, but if you care to send someone to see them, all or any are at your service.

I may say that the Mortars, and "Dodoens" are here, the rest are at my house 25 TOLLINGTON PARK. N.

I may perhaps come across one or two 15th Century books in my library, treating of medicine or alchemy, but I cannot think of anything at the moment.

I am Dear Sir.

Yours very Sincerely.

E. Rawshaw.

Dear Sir, Referring to my postcard of Feb. 20th, and to your kind reply thereto, on the subject of your forthcoming Exhibition, I have been sorry to find that the older samples, ^{- of Teas, etc. - Dir. 3, Sect. 12 -} I proposed to show, sold when Dr. Hassall was exposing adulteration in "The Lancet," in 1851-54, somehow or another have not been kept.

I thought I had better let you know this: because if any detailed catalogue be issued, reference to these should be omitted.

But in place of them, and in addition to a few specimens illustrative of recent food-adulteration, I shall be pleased to show specimens of vegetable and animal oils and fats, and waxes - some in use in the preparation of food-products, also for adulterating purposes.

Possibly, indeed, these will be of more general interest.

I am, Dear Sir,
Yours very truly,

Many thanks for your kind offer to loan me a copy of the Pharmacopoeia Londonensis, of 1651, and the old medical work by Moretus from the Congregational Library.

Dear Sir,

Many thanks for your kind letter of the 19th ult., and for the interesting account you have given me of the old cure for rumps. Would it be possible for you to find a pair of the old horse's "branks" you allude to? If so, I should be pleased to display the same in connection with your account of the "cure".

Again thanking you for your kind interest in the matter, where three drunks a month-fuls of water effected the cure. As far as I remember now it was thought better to have this done on three successive evenings. The practice has long since been given up. I am not sure however whether folk love medical practice would be much in the line of your exhibition and I doubt if I could help you with anything else.

Dear Sir,

I have read your programme of forthcoming Exhibition with great interest. I wish I could help in an object so worthy. I have no objects of interest suitable for exhibition but I might be able to collect a few

844

Plants in Co Donegal and send you with them the popular uses to which they are put. There are some curious beliefs and practices in districts far removed from the inroads of modern scientific theory and thought that might be interesting.

I am a Donegal man myself and forty years ago

I frequently "led" children for "the mumps". This power only belonged to me whose father and mother had the same surname. I was fortunate enough to be born into such an inheritance. The cure was performed in this way.

Horse's "branks" (a very old form of bridle) were put on the child (I used an ordinary bridle as the more ancient article had passed away) and after the sun had just set I trotted the child suffering from "mumps"

Gentlemen
My 25 re Wellcome Exhibition :-
Mr. F. Clifton, London Road, Leicester, possesses half a dozen or so ancient bongies in a case. He estimates their age to be upwards of 150 years.
I advised him that you would doubtless be pleased to accept them on loan.

Mr. Clifton will write their history. They are remarkable as examples of the extent to which the male urethra of those days could be dilated.
Kindly communicate with him in due course.

Dear Sir,

Many thanks for your kind letter of the 29th ult. and for the kind interest you have taken in the historical medical exhibition.

I already have copies of the works of the famous Boerhaave, but would be most pleased to have the antique pharmacy vases ornamented with coats of arms which you so kindly mention, on loan for the exhibition. It would be impossible for me to purchase these without first seeing them, but you can promise the owner that if they are loaned for the exhibition and a price is put upon them, I will do what I can to find them a purchaser.

The antient diplomas and licences would also be very acceptable as loans or if any of the owners are willing to send them to me on approval, I should be glad to have them and make an offer to buy.

I should like to have any of the votive offerings you mention made of wax that are still used at the present day if it would not be trespassing too much on your time to let me have a list of them with the prices they are sold at in the shops. The models of parts of the human body would be specially interesting and also the various names of the saints who have special powers over certain diseases or certain portions of the human body. If you will kindly let me know the cost of a set of assorted wax offerings like you mention, I should be pleased to remit it to you.

Thanking you for your kindness,

In answer to your Circular, respecting the Historical Exhibition you intend holding, I am sorry to tell you, that what I thought I could get to satisfy your demand is for me impossible to get, because nobody will buy, but they will sell, on account of the great demand by antiquarians, foreigners local, who buy antiquities at any price and cost; a person with whom I am acquainted has a very well preserved volume in Latin, bound in vellum, printed in Venice, containing all the works on Medicine, by the famous Rocchavere, and this person is the only one who is willing to send, if you insure the post, and you shall receive all about it on your own post card; another person has a possession, some antique porcelain vases ornamented and bearing the coat of arms of some Grand Masters of the Order of the Knights of Saint John of Jerusalem; these vases belonged to the pharmacy of the then Hospital of the Knights; two of these vases have been bought by General Greenfell, who was lately Governor of Malta for £5 - the owner asked me £3 each, but I gave him no answer. I not being authorized by you to buy anything for your account - Another person here in Malta has a Diploma ornamented and given by this Maltese University in 1770, at the time the Knights governed our Island, the Grand Master then being Emmanuel Pinto, the owner will not lend it he wants to sell it, and he asks £12 for it - another person has a licence given at those times to act as a phlebotomist - I have not yet seen it nor agreed with the owner whether he will or not send it to you, to be returned, or sold -

Another person has an old Almanac printed in Venice in M.D.C.C.I.XXXIV (1784) it is a very rare book containing Astrology, Physiognomy, Medicine (popular) and Surgery (popular) ^{astrolgical and machine or the game} being general precepts, how and when to take ^{and how to take and use} baths, personal diet, and exercise, how to bleed, and how to apply and where to apply Cauteries, and several other Curiosities, such as general prognostics; it moreover contains an epitome of Dates of historical facts and general Decrees, of an epitome of all Knowledge known at that time, it is in Italian, and therefore I do not know ~~whether~~ whether it agrees with you to have it, if you let me know I shall try to get it and send it, but I am sure he will not lend it, because as I have already told you such things are here sold at good prices - Idols are sold here made of wax and sold to people who hang them around some ^{in places of public prayer} special statues of saints or of holy images, they will ^{that is in churches} not be lent by those keepers who sell likewise sacrificative offerings, their replacement different

Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you for your kind letter of August 18th, which, owing to great pressure of work, I have been unable to reply to previously.

With reference to the skulls of which you kindly send me particulars I think perhaps the one that you loaned me for the Historical Medical Exhibition would suit my purpose best.

With respect to price I am informed that such skulls have been purchased here for about five pounds, so I am sorry that I cannot see my way to offering you more than ten pounds for the one you have sent me. As the Exhibition is being organised purely for the love of the history of science you will doubtless understand that I am limited as to price for such articles. Trusting it will be acceptable to you, I enclose at once a cheque for the above amount.

If this offer does not meet with your approval kindly return the cheque at your earliest convenience, and I will send back the skull to you when the Exhibition is over.

Dear Sir,

Your letter, dated May 31st came duly to hand & I enclose rough sketches & brief descriptions of 5 skulls which you may purchase if you wish. If you do not care for all of them you may have any you choose.

These things are not easily obtained. No other person in New Britain has succeeded in getting one & save 3 which I presented to the British Museum, 2 which I gave to Dr. Brown in Sydney & one which I sold to a local medical man here, there are no others outside of my own collection.

I should think the value of them would be at least Ten guineas each, perhaps more. I was offered £50 for the three wh. went to the British Museum.

Shall we say then Fifteen guineas for the one I loaned to your exhibition as it is unique & the best in my collection, being trepanned 8 times, and Ten guineas each for any or all of the remaining five, a description of which goes enclosed herewith.

If you can afford more or value them at more than this figure, I will trust to you to give me their worth, as at the present time I am much in need of money.

With thanks

I am

Yours very sincerely

Description of skulls from New Britain.

No 1.

Name of man
"Towon"

Place operated upon.

This man was struck on the left temple by a ding stone & stuporised. The hole remaining still is about the size of a florin but the growth of new bone is distinctly to be seen showing that he lived some considerable time after the operation. The skull is in a very good state of preservation the bone being almost of ivory hardness.
He was a native of Kabakada on the North coast of New Britain (now called New Pommern by the Germans) in the Bismark Archipelago German New Guinea Protectorate.

No 2.

Name "Tokakavir"

Seat of fracture & subsequent operation.

This man a native of Reber near Kabakada (see above) was struck with a flat club & his skull fractured over the whole of the shaded portion - a very bad smash up indeed the brain being exposed for about 4 inches by 2 inches wide. Successfully operated on & new growth of bone has extended from upper part of fracture to almost meet the lower part. Black marks still open into brain case. This was an old man the sinuses being quite gone. He was operated on about 23 years ago & lived 7 years after operation when he died of dysentery. (Account from man who performed operation) Skull in good preservation

No 3.

Name not known also clinical history.

Skull in fair preservation.

Locality North Coast New Britain / still remains in brain case

This man was evidently struck by a stone club. the hole being too large to be caused by a blow from a sling stone & too round to be caused by an ordinary flat club.

Seat of fracture

Shaded portion shows new growth of bone
Dark portion - opening

No 4.

Name "Tolapina"

Age about 30

Cause similitudin: New Growth of bone started Skull in fair preservation.

Seat of fracture

Locality "Pilapila" near Kabakada, New Britain.

No. 5.

Name unknownLocality New Ireland

now called New Mecklenburg by the Germans.

Seat of operation.

The shaded portion shows where a channel has been scraped through the bone for the cure of headache ~~not~~ because of direct injury from a blow. The New Ireland people frequently perform this operation sometimes scraping 3 or 4 channels out of the frontal bone. The same thing is done wherever pain is acute in the head & if any growth is to be seen on the brain it is removed. This is an interesting specimen showing some power of diagnosis as well as surgical skill.

Unfortunately this skull has been a long time in the ground & the bones of the face have broken away. The brain case is intact & the marks of the operation are clearly to be seen.

Messrs. Burroughs Wellcome & Co.,

Gentlemen,

(977)

Yours of 18th December just to hand. I am glad the skull has arrived safely and trust it will prove of interest.

With regard to the purchase of skulls, I may say I have not been able to acquire a large number and I know of no other man who has obtained any, save a Mr. Parkinson who only managed to get one after years of trying. They are hard to locate and the proportion operated on is small, and the natives do not readily part with them, since they are to some extent "tapu" as we say in Maori. But I could spare five perhaps - that is, four and the one I sent home and am open to receive an offer from Mr. Wellcome. He knows their value to him and I find money scarce so that we may be able to mutually agree to transfer some of these interesting relics.

I am,

Yours very sincerely,

(Signed) John A. Crump.

At the Museo Civico there are preserved two manifestos published by the government of the republic at the time of the plague in the 17th century, on the advice of the faculty of Padua - more peculiar things could hardly be imagined. I think they might be easily had by applying to Prof. Angelo Scrinzi, Director of the said museum. At the school of San Rocco, on the other hand, a special coat is kept which was supposed to preserve the wearer from infection by plague. For this you might apply to the administration of the institute. Notices and documents dealing with venom of serpents (teriac) - you might have from Prof. Gottardi, Farmacia alla Testa d'Oro, Rialto, Venice. With best wishes for the success of your interesting, I remain etc. ✓

If Ser. 9, Public Health would interest you, I could send you a book by myself written on the subject which obtained a prize at the Liège exhibition, which I would forward to you free of charge.

Dear Dr. Cock,

Thanks for your letter of the 12th inst.

I received the picture and manuscript quite safely.

I have looked in the case containing the objects you so kindly lent us, but we have no empty shagreen pocket surgeon's case with the other things. The only objects we have in addition to the bistoury are two fitted shagreen surgeon's pocket instrument cases, 1 shagreen ointment box and 1 shagreen lancet case also fitted.

I trust you are having better weather in the country than we are having in town.

Dear Dr. Chalmers,

Very many thanks for the most interesting medical charm that you have kindly sent for the Museum which arrived quite safely on Monday. We are very busy re-arranging the Museum which is to be re-opened in its permanent form next spring, and I am going to make the charms and talismans a prominent feature.

We heard a few days ago by cable that Dr. Sambon is leaving Barbadoes for England on December 13th, so I expect he will be with us by the end of the year. We have had no other report from him since he has been in the West Indies so we do not know the progress or the results of his investigations.

My wife joins with me in wishing you and Mrs. Chalmers a very happy Christmastime and a bright and happy New Year.

I am,

Yours sincerely,

C. T.

Gentlemen,

We are about to arrange an alcove devoted to Lord Lister's work in the permanent Historical Medical Museum, and we have had promises of an interesting collection of relics, apparatus, etc. that he used in his early career. In connection with this, we are desirous of having a really good portrait, and we wish to know if you would be so kind as to grant us permission to have a copy made of smaller size of the portrait of Lord Lister by R. Oulless R.A. in the Royal College of Surgeons. The work would be carried out for us by Mr. Ernest Schwarz who is a well-known portrait painter.

Trusting you will see your way to accede to our request,

I am,

Faithfully yours,

W. H. Murray

Dear Professor Keith,

In the re-arrangement of the Historical Medical Museum which I am now carrying out, we propose to have an alcove devoted to portraits, relics and objects connected with Lord Lister. Many interesting relics have already been presented, and we are getting the loan of portions of the apparatus that he used in his early experiments, but we lack one thing, a good important portrait. I write to know if you would be kind enough to obtain us permission to have a copy made of Oules's portrait in the Royal College of Surgeons. I have an excellent artist in view who could start on the work in a week or two if we might have permission. Please excuse my troubling you on the matter, but I thought I would ask you first before writing a formal letter which I can do if necessary to the Council.

Trusting you are well, and wishing you a very happy New Year,

Faithfully yours,

re H.M.M.

The following is copy of a letter we have received from one of our representatives, and if you do not propose communicating direct with Mr. Collins, will you please advise us how we should deal with the matter.

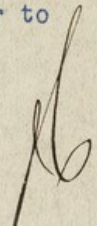

"Mr. Collins, Manager of Messrs. Boots, Tavern St, Ipswich, asked me to call and see him to-night re H.M.M.

He has an engraving "The Conversion of Galen" which he considered might be of interest. I informed him gently that his swan was a goose, since I had seen several. It is not in very good preservation either.

Since he is willing to present it to you, it might be as well to write him stating that I have brought the matter to your notice."

Dear Dr. Crawford,

In reply to your note just to hand, the clyster is a big subject. One could write a book on it, and the references are very numerous.

I should be pleased to let you see the specimens we have in the Museum when you take the matter up.

I do not recall for the moment any works actually on the subject, but some are sure to be met with in a study of the French bibliographies of the 18th and early 19th century. The references in medical, surgical and pharmaceutical works from the 15th to the 19th century are innumerable. Of illustrations and pictures there are a number, especially of French origin.

I shall be glad to give you any help I can on the matter later on.

Faithfully yours,

L. J. S. T.

Dear Dr. Crawford,

Thanks for your postcard of the 4th inst. duly to hand.

Unfortunately I shall be unable to be present at the next meeting as I have to be in Paris during that week.

I should be very pleased to bring suitable objects from the Museum to future meetings during the session. I would, however, suggest that it would be well if you could let me know in advance the subjects of the papers to be delivered, so that I might select such objects, books and pictures as would serve to some extent to illustrate these papers.

Do you ever commecross Mr. Lovett, an Ex-Secretary of the Folk-lore Society? He has a most interesting personality and for the last quarter of a century has been studying the charms and amulets of Great Britain, of which he has a fine collection. In the course of a conversation I had with him the other day he offered to give a lecture for us on "The Folk-medicine of London", illustrated from his collection, which he has collected personally. I know of nobody who has had more experience in this branch of work, and I feel sure his remarks would be not only very interesting but well worthy of record.

Kindly let me know what you think of this suggestion.

We are extremely busy just now returning the objects lent to the Museum; I hope to send yours back next week.

Faithfully yours,
