 excellent application to Chancres.
 In their early state, its action on Pain & Wound - may be divided into two stages - the first called irritable, the second the indolent stage, to this last the plan about to be proposed is particularly applicable -

In those cases which ^{have} resisted the ordinary means or long standing, I substitute the following has been very efficacious The Head should be frequently shaved, & kept covered with an oil silk, or instead of which a thin bladder may be used - An Ointment should be formed by mixing together Cerate - Cetacei - Potash: Superhart. Puls: subtil: in such ~~Propter~~ proportions as to make it of a very firm consistence of which a piece the size of a nutmeg should be well rubbed, on the inflamed part - the same may be used for 3 or 4 Minutes every Night - the Head should be well covered

of which a piece the size of a nutmeg should be well rubbed on the affected part with the palm of the hand for 3 or 4 minutes every night - the head should be well washed with soap & water every night previously to the application of the liniment - This method if diligently pursued for from 3 to 6 weeks will rarely disappoint the expectations of those who try it - even in the most inveterate cases -

Comparative nutritive properties of Food

1 lb bread every 100 lbs weight are found to contain 80 lbs of nutritious matter; Butchers meat only 35 lbs in 100 lbs. French Beans ~~only~~ 92 in 100 lbs. - Broad beans 89 + Peas 93 + Lentils a kind of dry pea little known in England 94 lbs in 100 lbs Greens or Turnips which are of all Vegetable the most aqueous used for domestic purposes only 8 lbs in 100 lbs Carrots 14 lbs; and what is very remarkable as being in opposition to the hitherto acknowledged theory 100 lbs of Potatoes only yield 25 lbs. of substance valuable as nutrition

One Pound of Good Bread is equal to $2\frac{1}{2}$ or 3 pounds of the best potatoes; and 75 lbs of Bread, and 30 lbs of meat are equal to 300 lbs of Potatoes; or in detail, $\frac{3}{4}$ lb of Bread and 5 oz of Meat are equal to 3 lbs of Potatoes; 1 lb of Potatoes to 4 lbs of Cabbage, or, and 3 lbs of Turnips; but 1 lb of Rice, Broad beans, or french Beans, (in grain) is equal to 3 lbs of Potatoes. —

This calculation is considered perfectly correct, and may be valuable in Families where the best mode of supporting nature should be adopted at the least expense.

The value of this Plant which is easily cultivated & ornamental is scarcely known in most parts of this Kingdom —

The seed forms a most excellent & convenient Food for Poultry & it is only necessary to cut off the heads of the plant when ripe, tie them in Bunches and hang them up in dry places to be used as wanted - They not only fatten rapidly every kind of Poultry, but greatly increase the quantity of Eggs they lay, when cultivated to a considerable extent, they are also capital food for sheep, & pigs, & for Pheasants. —

The leaves when dried form a good powder for cattle, the dry stalks burn well and form in bloom, the flower is —

For Corns

The following cure has often been tried, and found effectual.

Bind a common muscle to the part affected, allowing it to remain during the night, the best mode of applying it is only to take off one half of the shell, leaving the other half to keep up the moisture and strength, one or two of these simple and cheap applications will effect a radical cure, and restore the skin to its natural softness. & Pliancy / Caledonian Mercury
