With reference to the Exhibition you propose holding in London I beg to say I have some Medical, ^{Anatomical} & Surgical works dating from 1707 to 1790. Would these be suitable? I have not time to mention the names to day but can do so on hearing from you. I set great store by them as they have been in my family for many years but I feel sure they will be ^{well} taken care of in your hands. Some of them are very curious reading by the light of modern things. When will the Exhibition be held?

Dear Sir,

I sent to-day the object to Mr. J. L. Thompson.
I only wish I had a dozen more for the exhibition success.

Please don't make fun of myself on account of the perhaps overrated value put for insurance. The object is a keepsake and I would not lose it for this sum.

My best wishes for a complete success.

Faithfully yours,

RECEIVED,
13 FEB 1913

Dear Sir,

Indeed I had some interesting objects, old retorts and broken mortars. The former are broken and I have sold the others some two years ago, a very good price. Now I have only one thing and I cannot claim it is of pharmaceutical order. That's a Persian copper box very well engraved which was bought in Uckeran by my brother, because he was told it was the kind used by rich women to put essence and other toilette ingredients. To me it was perhaps used so well for cigars. In all cases, the object is pretty and has an air of relationship with the Egyptian drawing of the paper of the H.N. Museum.

And it is at your disposal. A post-card intimating your wish would be sufficient.

I am late in writing, because I had, firstly, asked «the Union Pharmaceutique de Charleroi» to contribute at your exhibition. These gentlemen have answered me «no» a month later, in the Bulletin, not by letter. I have immediately sent my resignation.

I read, some days ago, in the revue internationale de pharmacie, you had place for many objects more.

Perhaps you might obtain some from the collections of Belgian universities, from Liège, for instance. An application to the Minister of public instruction would be necessary, and I think well received especially were it supported by the English Embassy.

And the Society "Les Missions Catholiques", 17, rue de la Charité, Lyon, have a museum in which, I doubt not, must be some curious objects contributed by missionaries, from all parts of the world. The director is, "Monseigneur Morel, same adress as above.

I wish you the best success and I may ~~wait~~ three days, I shall be a visitor.

With many excuses for my imperfect English, believe me, dear Sir

Yours truly

Translation of letter from Lucien ^{Henry}~~Henry~~

Dr. Henry S. Wilcome,

I beg to acknowledge receipt of the booklet concerning Ancient Celtic Medicine. Since you insist on everything being sent you, I beg to submit your same remedies, superstitions & otherwise, known to me. Should they not be of interest to you you have only to consign them to the waste paper basket.

1. Remedy against corns. The patient should go in the spring & break a young shoot of a nut-tree, allowing it to adhere to the tree by a portion of the bark. He must go & see it every day & recite 3 pater's; when the broken portion is dried up, the corn will have disappeared.

2. Remedy against the same. When a corpse is taken to the cemetery you should happen to meet it on the road & recite 3 pater's, after each of which you should say, addressing the dead 'Take it, take it, take it'. And the corn will immediately disappear say the believers.

3. Remedy against jaundice, very interesting & very handy, but hardly charitable. First of all a 9 day prayer is made. Then go to the baker & take from the oven a little loaf. Urine on it & throw it into the road. The dog that has the misfortune to eat same will catch the jaundice from which you are suffering.

These 3 remedies as also the following are known in the ^{German} Ardennes along the German frontier.

For rheumatics use the fat of goats, as also the wool of rams or hair of goats situated near the genital parts. A decoction of book roots is used against hemorrhage, pulmonary phthisis. By the way it may interest you to know that amongst the people this disease is attributed to the victim having swallowed the hair of a cat. A peculiar remedy against toothache is the following. Catch a mole & hold it in your hand until it dies.

A little sheet-dust in a sack placed under the pillow is an antidote, apparently, for convulsions in children.

Against jaundice is also used a decoction of the large celandine, probably on account of the yellow liquid it contains.

Another popular cure for colds consists of balls of butter mixed with powdered sugar.

A second one is to drink 2 spoonfuls a day of the liquid obtained by placing alternately in a glass a slice of bookroot or ? broom & a layer of sugar-candy. It is said that this is a sovereign remedy against whooping-cough.

The dried leaves of the oak are used to calm the irritation caused by chilblains.

Plasters of cow-dung, very hot, against boils, tumors, anthrax etc. (I have seen this remedy used in this region)

(1) Plaster of fresh birch-leaves against ulcers on the legs.

The celebrated veterinary remedy against sheep's foot disease, the formula of which varies with each shepherd, is as follows.

Alum, Sulph/opper, verdigris, Sulph/Zinc, Bitter of antimony, nitric acid aa. abt. 30 gr. Each shepherd keeps this religiously secret. I know that you must boil the lot & add several liters of vinegar. You doubtless are aware that here in many villages they are still looked upon as being more or less wizards.

I enclose the original recipe which was given me with its particular flavor.

I do not believe that these prescriptions will be much good to you in which case please accept my apologies.

If I have the time, I will go & see your exhibition, but it is hardly likely. In any case I congratulate you on your initiative & remain etc.

Monsieur Henry S. Welcome,

402

Monsieur.

J'ai l'honneur de vous accuser réception de la brochure sur l'ancienne médecine Kymrique.

Puisque vous insistez pour que l'on vous envoie tout, je me ferois de vous communiquer quelques remèdes superstitieux et autres, de ma connaissance.

Si cela ne vous sert pas, vous aurez toujours la ressource de jeter ma lettre au feu.

1^o Remède pour les cors aux pieds.
Le patient doit aller au printemps, casser un jet de noisetier et le laisser adhérer à la sou-che far une portion de l'écorce. Il doit aller le voir chaque jour et réciter 3 pater; quand la partie cassée est desséchée, le cor est parti.

2^o remède pour le même. Lorsqu'un mort est conduit au cimetière, on se trouve sur le chemin et on récite 3 pater; après chacun desquels on dit en s'adressant au mort "Prends-le, prends-le, prends-le" Et le cor disparaît instantanément, disent les croyants.

3^o remède pour la jaunisse, très intéressant et très commode, mais peu charitable

Il faut d'abord faire une neuvaine. Ensuite aller chez le boulanger et prendre dans le four une miche (petit pain)

On urine dessus et on la jette sur le chemin. Le chien qui a le malheur de la manger, attrape
la jaunisse dont vous souffrez.

Ces 3 remèdes ainsi que les suivants sont connus dans les Andennes Belges, le long de la fron-tière allemande.

Pour les rhumatismes, on em-ploie la graisse de renard, ainsi que la laine du bélier ou poil
de bouc situé près des parties génitales.
La décoction de racine de patience (Rumex) est usitée contre hémor-roides, phthisie pulmonaire. A ce propos il peut vous intéresser de savoir que le peuple attribue cette maladie au fait d'avoir avalé
un poil de chat.

Un remède singulier pour les maux de dents est celui-ci: Il faut attraper une taupe (mole) et la tenir en main jusqu'à ce qu'elle meure.

Un peu de poudre de rue, dans un sachet, placé sous l'oreiller, prévient, paraît-il, les convulsions des enfants.

Contre la jaunisse est également employée la décoction de la grande chélidoine, probablement à cause du suc jaune qu'elle contient.

Une autre médecine populaire pour les rhumes se compose de boulette de beurre mélangé à du sucre en poudre.

Une seconde est de boire deux cuillerées par jour du suc obtenu en mettant dans une verre alternativement une tranche de betterave

(5)

ou de ramonac et une couche de miere caudr. C'est, dit-on, le remède souverain de la coqueluche.

Les feuilles seiches de chêne sont employées pour calmer les démangements causés par les engelures.

Les cataplasmes de bourse de vache, bien chauffés, contre les clous, les tumeurs, anthrax... etc. J'ai vu employer ce remède dans ce pays-ci pour un fanario.

Un emplâtre de feuilles de bouleau fraîches contre les ulcères des jambes.

Voici le fameux remède vétérinaire contre le piétain des moutons, dont la formule varie avec chaque terroir.

Alun, sulfate de cuivre, vert-de-gris,
sulfate de zinc, fleur d'antimoine,
acide nitrique à 30 gr environ.

Chaque berger garde soigneusement cela secret. Je sais qu'ils font bouillir le tout et y ajoutent plusieurs lîtres de vinaigre. Vous savez sans doute qu'ici, dans beaucoup de village, ils sont encore considérés un peu comme sorciers.

Je joins à ceci la recette originale qui m'a été communiquée avec sa saveur particulière.

Je crains que toutes ces prescriptions ne vous servent pas à grand chose. Veuillez en ce cas recevoir mes excuses.

Si j'ai le temps, j'irai voir votre exposition, mais c'est fort douteux. En tous cas, je vous felicite de cette initiative
et vous prie d'accepter mes salutations empreintes.

Ordonnance. —

Prenez mauves, guimauve, racines de lys, parietaire, feuille de bouillon blanc, semence de lin et de ~~guimauve~~
guimauve, fleurs de Camomille et de mélilot.
Le tout soit cuit en égale partie d'eau, de vin et de vinaigre: puis passez par le tamis, en
y ajoutant farine d'orge, de felves, poudre
de camomille et de rose, graisse de poule beurre frais.

(Faire emplâtre sur le mal.

Mode d'emploi.

- 1) Faire une emplâtre bien épaisse le soir
pour se coucher et la renouveler le matin.
- 2) Couvrir l'emplâtre chaudement avec un
linge et ensuite avec de la ouate hydrophile que l'on trouve chez le pharmacien.

Le mieux doit se faire sentir au bout
d'une semaine. —

Le malade pour lequel cette prescription m'a été demandée était atteint d'un sarcome. Il est mort peu de temps après. Le père de sa femme était mort du même mal et il paraît que le remède ci-dessus l'avait guéri une première fois, d'après ce qu'en a dit sa fille. Stz

Dear Sir,

Many thanks for yours of the 9th inst., in which you so kindly promise to loan me some engravings and photographs of alchemists from your collection for my forthcoming historical medical exhibition. I have a number myself and perhaps the best plan would be for me or a representative to call and see yours if you will kindly show them to us, and we can then, with your permission, choose those we have not got.

I need hardly say that the greatest possible care will be taken of them during the time the exhibition is open, and they will be insured during the whole time for any reasonable value you may place upon them. We shall of course defray all cost of packing and carriage.

Dear Sir,

Many thanks for your letter and for the kind offer to loan me the ivory stick used by the native doctor, and samples of drugs and powders for my forthcoming historical medical exhibition. I shall be most pleased to have the loan of the same when the exhibition takes place.

I am afraid that no Insurance Company would insure the object for the amount of £500 (five hundred pounds) which you name. If you could put a more reasonable valuation for insurance, I think it would stand a better chance.

As soon as the date of the exhibition is fixed, I shall be pleased to advise you in due course.

Description of proposed loans, with particulars of date and history (if known), approximate dimensions and weight
A real ivory stick (one piece) about 3 1/2 ft long - A native medical practitioner about the year 1910 A.D. made the stick stand perpendicularly by the aid of a strong magnet & iron. Improving upon his clients by this strategem, and by effecting many cures with the agency of native (Indian) indigenous drugs & powders won a good reputation. Samples of drugs & powders and instructions of how they were administered will be sent along with the stick. Also a clear history of the practitioner, photographs of his abode and the mysteries of the stick will also be sent.

Estimated value for insurance.

It would not be my intention to part with the property of the book I proposed to lend you, until the exhibition you are going to open in London is closed, and this, because I should like the exhibitor of this rare book to remain an Italian. Anyhow, considering its rarity and its kind, I could not sell this book (Nuova Selva di Cirugia) for less than 300 Italian lire.

I have in my ~~case~~ some old medical books, including an anatomical plate of a male & female in which each layer of the tissues can be removed to show the muscles, organs etc underneath.

This dates from the 1600's.

They are the property of my friend

& he writes to me stating that if they are worth exhibiting in your collection, he will be pleased to lend them.

I should be glad to hear from you.

There is also a large book
of anatomical plates by

Dear Sir

I received your booklet re Specimens for Historical Medical Exhibitions to be held in 1913, and having a very old Dispensary of 1761 in my possession, in which there are Quack Receipts

for preparations by John Dr Quincy - It occurs to me that it might be of use to you when preparing the Pharmacy section of the exhibit - If you think it would aid you in your work I shall be glad to forward it to you - I should be glad to have it back when you are finished with it; or if some antiquarian wants it for his collection I shall be glad to sell it for what you may consider a fair
price - Your proposed

Exhibition might take a great attraction to the Medical world, and I wish to All success - I have too,
a collection of stone implements
made by the aboriginal Carib Tribes of the West Indies,
among which are sacrificial knives and edged tools for flaying animals, and possibly for surgical purposes.
There is a ready sale for these in America; possibly you may see your way to taking some

Dear Mr. Newbery,

I regret delay in replying to your kind letter of the 6th inst., owing to pressure of work, but I have now looked up your letters of some years ago, and found the list that you sent Mr. Wellcome then.

The following is a list of the documents I have extracted from it, which we should like to have, if you would be so good as to loan the same:-

1. The first catalogue of Medicines, 1750.

2. Articles of agreement about Medicine, dated 1755, signed by John Newbery.

We should have been very pleased to have exhibited the 3 volumes of Dr. James' Surgical and Medical Dictionaries, which you kindly offer, but the demand on our space is so great that we are unable to exhibit any more books. I beg to thank you in Mr. Wellcome's name for offering same.

I enclose a lender's form, which I should be glad if you would fill in as we require a description of the documents for the catalogue.

Dear Sirs,

In reply to your letter of the 16th inst. I cannot understand how the two articles, viz., the first catalogue of medicines, dated 1750 and the articles of agreement about medicine, 1755, signed by John Newbery, have been returned to you without any communication. The only explanation I can offer is that it occurred through an oversight on the part of one of our assistants. Are you quite sure, however, that the objects were forwarded to us ?

I should be greatly obliged if you would kindly return same to us, as we have a place reserved for them in a glass case in the Museum.

I enclose a lender's form which I should be glad if you would fill in and return to me.

With many apologies and thanking you for the trouble you have taken in the matter,

Private letter herewith from Mr Arthur Newbery. I found, upon enquiry, that an Historical Medical Exhibition circular and typewritten letter were sent to Messrs Francis Newbery & Sons with their price list. Obviously a member of Mr Newbery's staff has mislaid or retained the copy of the circular and sent through to Mr Newbery the typewritten letter, copy of which I affix herewith. This of course is undated.

Dear Mr. Wellcome

I have beside me a typed letter, without date, telling me that your firm was established a quarter of a century ago, that an exhibition professional, scientific, is decided upon, mentioning an enclosed circular, which I have not seen, & that you trusted upon my assistance by lending things enumerated on it to you.

How long this typed letter bearing your signature has been here, what I can do to assist you in rendering the exhibition
a success I do not know.

But I shall be very happy to receive a line from you giving me all particulars,
my seeing unpolitely
in taking no earlier notice
of your letter please forgive.

Believe me

with best compliments

Yours, sincerely

Dear Sir,

A quarter of a century has elapsed since the firm of Burroughs Wellcome & Co. was founded. In commemoration of this event, I have decided to hold in London, shortly, an exhibition in connection with medicine, chemistry, pharmacy and the allied sciences.

The exhibition will be strictly professional and scientific in character. It will be my aim to bring together a collection of historical objects illustrating the development of the art and science of healing throughout the ages.

The success of this undertaking will largely depend upon the co-operation of those who, like myself, are interested in these subjects. The enclosed circular indicates the range of the proposed exhibition. Should you possess any of the articles mentioned therein, I trust I may count upon your kind assistance by lending them to me, so that the exhibition may be thoroughly representative. Similarly I should highly esteem your kindness if you would inform me of such objects in the possession of others.

I need hardly say that great care will be taken of all objects sent on loan, and they will be insured. If desired, I will also insure specially valuable articles while in transit. Packing and carriage, both ways, will be paid by me.

Hints and suggestions in connection with the exhibition will be much appreciated.

Yours faithfully,

Henry J. Wellcome
