RECEIVED,
25 MAR 1913

Dear Sir,

We received your
broket & notices about
the coming Historical Exhibition to be held in London shortly -

We have an old
Calf bound book
with a collection of
curious old prescriptions (not printed, but in beautiful & legible
writing which we shall be glad if you will purchase.

also we have another
ancient book in print 1634 with a few
medical prescriptions
in it.

We have a perfect
microscope, in perfect condition, geological specimens with it -
it cost originally £40
& is by Beck & Smith
We wish to dispose of this -

Also we have an old Bible dated 1600
Will take £20
for the microscope -

Mr. Doctor, examined
the microscope the other <sup>day</sup> says it is a very good one &
perfect -

Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you for your kind letter of the 22nd inst., and should be glad if you would kindly send me the old MS. collection of prescriptions also the ancient printed book on medicine, when I will give the matter my careful consideration.

Judging from your description, I am afraid that the microscope and Bible would scarcely fall within the scope of the Museum.

Dear Sir,

I desire to thank you for so kindly sending me the MS. book of medical recipes and the printed book entitled "Extravagants".

I have examined them carefully, but did not find anything of special interest among the recipes not already known, and I should think the value of the two books would be about £1-1-0. If you care to accept that amount I shall be pleased to send you a cheque on hearing from you.

Dear Sir,

Your kind letter of the 4th inst. addressed to Messrs. Burroughs Wellcome & Co. has been handed to me. With respect to the old medical books that you have to dispose of, I should be glad if you would kindly let me have a complete list of titles, authors' names and dates of publication, or still better if you would pack them and send them to me for inspection. I will give the matter early consideration.

1913

Dear Sir

I thank you for your letter of yesterday, in answer to my last to you respecting case

of books.

I have been up to Pickford's Office here, and find they have had a letter from their Office in London
this morning, stating the case was refused at 54 Wimpole St!

Thus, to my great regret, I find an incorrect address was given,
and that it should have been Wigmore St.

I have requested it shall be forwarded there at once & charged to me. I had not paid carriage in advance.

With much apology to you for the delay

I remain in haste

Dear Sir,

The parcel of old medical books which you kindly sent for for inspection have now duly reached us, and I have examined them carefully. I find on collating them that all are more or less imperfect, several leaves missing in most of them. This of course detracts very greatly from their value, and in that condition they are only worth a comparatively small sum. We have perfect copies of each of them also in the Historical Medical Museum. Kindly let me know if I shall return them to you, as otherwise I am afraid any offer I could make would only be very small.
