

To the admirers of the wonderful production of nature, to be seen alive at no.99 Holborn Hill : a most astonishing creature, called the Ethiopian Satyr, or Real wild-man of the woods.

Publication/Creation

[Place of publication not identified] : [publisher not identified], [1778?]

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/qnmvuw7>

License and attribution

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

Extempore, Wrote-feeling that amazing-
tion of Nature,
The ETHIOPIAN--

Those who've Arabia's-Or roam'd thro' Africa's-
In search of Nature's deep-Could ne'er with certainty-(In vain their all attempts-Whence sprang this Pro-No art's here us'd, the-
He all excels.—

by a Gentleman on and singular produc-
-SA VAGE,

—dreary 'deserts trac'd,
—vast expansive waste;
—mysterious laws,
—assert the cause;
—as yet do scan,
digg' twixt Brute & Man;
—Public to deceive, Haste, see him, and believe.

To the admirers of the wonderful Production of Nature,
To be Seen alive at No. 99 HOLBORN HILL
A most Astonishing Creature, called the Ethiopian

S A T Y R, or Real wild-Man of the Woods,

IT may be justly asserted, that this Animal is of a different Species from any Creature ever seen in Europe, and seems to be the Link between the rational and brute Creation. It was brought from the Deserts of Abyssinia in Ethiopia Superior, to Amsterdam in a Dutch ship, and purchased by the Proprietor for a large Sum.

This astonishing Creature, when he stands erect, is near five feet high, and in many respects is a striking resemblance of the Human species. his Ears are small, but have large apertues, so that he is extremely quick of hearing; his Face is Black with a white Circle round it, which resembles a Mask, his Fore-feet are like the Arms and Hands of a Man, and grow gradually taper till they come to the Wrist, and he uses his Fingers with surprizing Facility, his Body is covered with a fine long hair, perfectly smooth on the surface, his Posteriors are amazingly tinctured with Blue and Scarlet, he sits in a Chair in a very pleasing and majestic attitude, to receive and eat his Food; he is very affable and obedient to the commands of his Keeper, who can even sleep by his side with safety. This wonderful Creature is a fine display of Nature's amazing Productions, and is allowed to be the greatest Curiosity ever exhibited in Britain.

And as this Animal has not been taken notice of, by Linnens, Baffon, Johnston, and Gesner's Natural Histories, it is certain that he is the first of the kind that was ever brought to Europe.

N. B. Foreign Birds, Beasts, &c. Bought and Sold.