FROM

REV. J. H. BLOOM,

WHITCHURCH RECTORY,

STRATFORD-ON-AVON.

Dear Miss Briggs

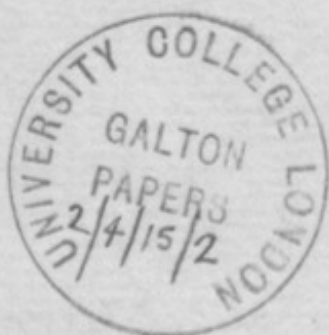

I am greatly indebted to you & Mr Galton for a sight of the interesting article. & for the specially kindly manner you have mentioned me. In return please accept the enclosed. reprints of my articles last year in the Herald. Wishing you a very happy New-Year Believe me
Yours faithfully
Harvey Bloom

An engaging example of the recreations of a scientific man is furnished by an investigation which Mr. Francis Galton has just concluded and which he undertook to oblige a lady. The lady was oppressed by the tradition that sequestrated Church property carries a curse with it which eventually comes home to roost on the head of the eldest son of some one or other of the sequestrator's descendants. Mr. Galton determined to treat the question statistically, and aided by an antiquarian he framed suitable forms of questions and directed them to the proper quarters. He examined 245 properties, half of them (approximately) not Church property, and half which had been Church property previous to the dissolution of the monasteries under Henry VIII. There is hardly a penny (or an eldest son) to choose between them. The mean length of tenure for both classes of property is between 25 and 26 years; the percentage of eldest sons who had succeeded to the properties is only one per cent. less in the case of sequestrated possessions than in those which were not the fruits of Church plunder. The only difference which statistics disclose is that Church properties come more than three times oftener into the market. But Mr. Galton is inclined to ascribe that not to curses but to the comparative unsuitability of abbeys and priories to modern requirements. They are nearly always built near to fish ponds, with bad drainage, and insalubrious surroundings; and the arrangement of the apartments is inconvenient. So that in spite of, or because of, their picturesqueness they are generally sold if they fall into the hands of an unsentimental distant relative.

expressed the opinion that the scheme was a safe and satisfactory one which would give them greater profits in the future, and to quote the metaphor of a shareholder they would secure a "healthy and valuable country bride." (Laughter and hear, hear.) The marriage would be on equal terms. Although there might not be an immediate advance in the profits they would be sure to ultimately benefit by the consolidation, and by the large country connection which would be secured to the London Joint Stock Bank. A special meeting would be held on the 29th inst., when full details of the amalgamation scheme would be submitted. The report was adopted.

THE LOW PRICE OF CONSOLS.

In his observations to the shareholders of the UNION DISCOUNT COMPANY OF LONDON at the half yearly meeting held yesterday Sir THOMAS JACKSON, Bart., said that he was able to give a most satisfactory account of their affairs. The first three months of the half year were very profitable to them and, he believed, for other discount houses. October, November, and December were less so; however, steady profits were realised. After the exciting period of finance experienced in 1907 and the early months of 1908 they had been dealing throughout the last half year with a Bank rate of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., while the average of discount for three months bills was only £1 15s., with call money at the exceptionally low rate of £1 6s., enabling them to realise a handsome profit on the contents of their well-filled bill-case, and on the large amount of their holdings of Consols, Exchequer Bonds, Indian Government and other Securities, which stood at £3,536,661 against £2,494,462 at the same date in 1907. Their holdings stood in their books at prices showing a handsome profit on present prices. (Applause.) The President of the Board of Trade recently addressing the Leicester Chamber of Commerce said that the year just

Sequestered Church Property

f. 15

A widely spread feeling exists, especially among Roman Catholics, that sequestered Church Property carries a curse along with it. That the effect of the curse is to extinguish the line of descent from its ~~succession~~ owners and to fall most heavily upon ^{the} eldest son.

A lady was so much impressed with what had been told her and with the evidence adduced as to the reality of the curse, that she asked me to help her ⁱⁿ investigating the matter.

It was not a letter that commended itself to me as worthy of serious attention. But it had ^{more than} one interesting aspect, ^{as regards} ~~concerning~~ the average tenure of properties and other ^{subject} ~~various~~ more or less connected with Eugenics, so I consented to help in starting the inquiry on proper statistical lines by framing an aphoristic questionnaire. This was printed, and 246 copies of it were filled up by a well known antiquarian the Rev. Harold Bloom ^{Whitechurch} of ~~Whitechurch~~ ^{near} Stratford on Avon, ^{in the order in which they happened to be entered in the works of reference, ~~used~~ by him.} selected ~~in a method that precluded bias.~~ Their contents were then discussed by Mr. Edgar Schuster, Fellow of New College Oxford a formerly Research Fellow of the Eugenics Laboratory in University College London.

Finally ^{most} ~~some~~ of the results ~~such as~~ ^{here} ~~in this~~ letter.

Mr. Schuster's report was elaborate and ought as he wrote ^{when he sent it to be further checked} ~~to be checked~~ as regards some for minute particulars, but he is quite content that the ~~main~~ broad results ~~shall~~ ^{will} go on in the paper ^{if} (which he has seen) should go forth as they stand.

The questions referred to the owner of the Property in 1800 and to the owner at the present time or at the latest date at which information was easily accessible and to each of the intermediate owners or Successors

The phrase "Church Property" refers to such as were ^{ecclesiastical property} ~~wholly~~ wholly or in part ^{at the time of} ~~at the time of~~ the Dissolution of Monasteries under Henry VIII.
"Not Church Property" to those that were not so.

Mr. Schuster however says in his letter to the lady "Perhaps
 " I ought to warn you that, although I believe my figures to be " essentially correct, if I were preparing them for publication, I " should take some steps towards having them checked". I^{*} presume that this warning applies to the more minute parts of the calculation, as to the probable errors etc like, which are not given here, so after submitting this letter to Mr. Schuster, and not receiving ~~probationary~~ permission from him to publish it,
 I do so.

The problem can here be resolved into two ^{separate} ~~convergent~~ ^{convergent} decisions,
 1) ^{non-church} Church Property, & 2) ^{church} Church Property, in part or altogether, at the time of the Dissolution under Henry VIII.

Will Mr Schuster kindly either accept, alter, or repudiate this?
 F. Baller

* I meant more especially that there might be small errors in the tabulation of the data. for instance I would not guarantee that the number of eldest sons inheriting the non-church property is actually 241 out of 459. It might be 240 out of 460, or 242 out of 458 etc - I do not think that such errors would be large enough seriously to affect the results. 84/5

Survival of Elder sons.

(Total number Owners		of eldest sons among the	Percent
Not Church Property	459	241	52.5
Church Property	464	246	52.7

Length of Tenure (excluding first and last in the list)*

	Mean length	Median length
Not Church Property	27.1 years	between 25 and 26 years
Church Property	27.3 "	between 25 and 26 years

* These are excluded, - the first, because the data did not give the commencement of his tenure; the last, because the ^{owner} was living, and therefore the future close ^{of his tenure} was unknown.

Calculations were also made ~~as a diagram drawn from them~~ of the ^{mean} relative frequency of tenures in each of the 8 groups 0-9 years, 10-19; - ... 70-79 years - ^{the lines} in the diagram constructed from these ~~the lines~~ can closely alike, quite as closely as could be expected from ^(eight times reduced) the ~~smaller~~ store of the samples from which the means were derived.

We may therefore rest satisfied that no appreciable effect is exerted by a curse supposed to ~~prevent~~ thwart either the ^{the} inheritance by elder sons or to shorten the tenure of its ownership.

(Of Church Property)

A curious anomaly is however found in the ^{more than} three-fold greater frequency with which Church Properties come into the market as compared with non-Church Properties. The facts are given in the following Table

	Total of owners	Total of transmittals by purchase	Percentage transmittals by purchase
Not Church Property	459	15	3.3
Church Property	464	50	10.8

The answers to the questionnaire do not give material for a ~~more definite~~ minute examination into the ^{remarkable} ~~great~~ frequency ^{with which} Church Properties come into the market, notwithstanding what has just been established concerning the length of its Tenure. It would require another ^{more} delicate investigation to explain ^{it} ~~the length~~. For the present, I am inclined to ascribe ^{the anomaly} ~~it~~ to the comparative unsuitability of modern requirements of the Abbey, &c, which frequently accompany Church Properties. They are ~~usually~~ ^{are} built in low situations near to fish ponds, with bad drainage ^{and} therefore unsalubrious, while ^{and} the arrangement of the rooms is ^{usually} ~~and~~ inconvenient, in important respects, and they are ^{very} ~~often~~ ^{likely} to be modified.

A summary of results is presented by the following Table

Frequency with which estates have been transmitted & purchases
 - number of ~~estates~~ number of houses

Not Church Property

On the other hand the picturesqueness & romance of old buildings add much to their market value. So it might be expected that when one of them falls into the possession of ~~some~~ a distant relation, who has no early associations with the place, who knows its discomforts, and who probably has a residence of his own, he would be glad to sell it. This is ~~pure~~ ^{possibly} a pure speculation, but may ~~suffice~~ ^{show} that the contents of the above table are not so provocative of a mysterious interpretation as they might otherwise be.
