HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The State Board of Health of Massachusetts had its origin as early as 1849, but was not established by law until twenty years later. The year 1849 was one of unusual sickness and mortality throughout the State. Typhoid fever, dysentery and scarlet-fever had prevailed to an unusual extent, and, in addition to these, Asiatic cholera had invaded the State and destroyed about twelve hundred of its population.

In that year, by authority of the Legislature, a commission was appointed to report upon the sanitary condition of the State. One of the primary recommendations of this commission advised the establishment of a "general board of health," the functions of which were very clearly stated; and when the board was finally established in 1869, under the title of the State Board of Health and Vital Statistics, it was organized very nearly in accord with the suggestions of the sanitary commission of 1849.

The Board was reorganized, with enlarged powers, in 1886.

INTRODUCTION.

This Manual of the Statutes of Massachusetts relative to Public Health has been prepared at the direction of the State Board of Health, for the use of local boards and for all persons directly interested in questions which pertain to public health. It is not an annual publication, but is issued by the Board at intervals of three or four years, as occasion may demand.

A former manual prepared in 1882 followed quite closely through the first ninety-six sections the numbering employed in the Public Statutes. In consequence of the introduction of many new statutes, enacted since 1882, and the repeal of others, such numbering has necessarily been abandoned in the later editions, and the chapter and section is given in connection with each section. The present edition of the manual has been revised by Edmund M. Parker, Esq., attorney-at-law and member of the Cambridge Board of Health.

The statutes and the decisions of the supreme court have both been subjected to careful scrutiny with reference to the accuracy of their presentations, and much irrelevant material has been omitted and new and more important material added.

The present edition contains (in addition to the laws published in the Manual of 1894) all the health statutes enacted by the Legislatures of 1894, 1895 and 1896.

The dates in heavier type opposite many of the sections are the years in which those statutes, or laws essentially the same, together with their amendments, were enacted.

The laws relating to the medical examiners, and also those relating to the registration of vital statistics, both of which are of special interest to the medical practitioner, have been introduced in the later editions of the Manual.

The State registration of vital statistics appears to have had its origin in the following act, passed in 1639 : —

“Item, that there be records kept . . . of the days of every marriage, birth and death of every person within this jurisdiction.”—Colony Laws, Chap. III., 1639.

The next act having any direct sanitary bearing was the following : —

Chapter 23 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Massachusetts Bay (1692-1693). Second session.

An act for prevention of common nuisances arising by slaughter-houses, still-houses, etc., tallow-chandlers and curriers.

The following summary of the public health acts of Massachusetts is taken from the report of the Sanitary Commission of Massachusetts, presented to the Legislature in April, 1850 : —

In many cases references to decisions of the supreme court of the State are given under the sections to which they relate.

The statutes impose upon boards of health the duty of protecting the people from those causes and influences which may injuriously affect their health. Mr. Justice Wells, in delivering the opinion of the court in the case of Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 433, says, referring to local boards of health, "Their action is intended to be prompt and summary. They are clothed with extraordinary powers for the protection of the community from noxious influences affecting life and health; and it is important that their proceedings should be delayed as little as possible. Delay might defeat all beneficial results; and the necessity of the case, and the importance of the public interests at stake, justify prompt action."

The governor with the advice and consent of the council shall appoint seven persons who shall constitute the state board of health. The persons so appointed shall hold their offices for seven years; provided that the terms of office of the seven first appointed shall be so arranged that the term of one shall expire each year. All vacancies on said board, whether occurring by expiration of term, or otherwise, shall be filled by the governor with the advice and consent of the council.

The secretary shall receive from the treasury an annual salary of three thousand dollars and his necessary travelling expenses incurred in the performance of official duties. No member of the board shall receive any compensation; but the actual personal expenses of any member while engaged in the duties of the board shall be paid from the treasury, after they have been audited by the board. All other necessary expenses arising in the secretary's office or from the discharge of the duties of the board shall be paid out of the treasury in the same manner as those of the different departments of the government.

P. S., 80, § 1.

Acts of 1886, 101, § 4.

Certain general powers and duties of the state board of health.

The state board of health shall take cognizance of the interests of health and life among the citizens of the commonwealth. It shall make sanitary investigations and inquiries in respect to the causes of disease, and especially of epidemics and the sources of mortality and the effects of localities, employments, conditions, and circumstances, on the public health; and shall gather such information in respect to those matters as it may deem proper, for diffusion among the people. It shall advise the government in regard to the location and other sanitary conditions of any public institutions.

The state board of health was originally established by chap. 420, Acts of 1869.

Its powers were subsequently enlarged by chap. 167, Acts of 1871, and chap. 183, Acts of 1878.

By chap. 291, Acts of 1879, its powers were transferred to the newly established state board of health, lunacy and charity.

By chap. 101, Acts of 1886, the state board of health was re-established, and its powers were still further enlarged by chap. 274, Acts of 1886, and further by chap. 375, Acts of 1888.

State board shall have co-ordinate powers with local boards.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

P. S., 80, § 106.

The provisions of this chapter [c. 80, Public Statutes] extend to cities so far as the same are not inconsistent with their several charters or acts in amendment thereof.

Chapter extends to cities.

Acts of 1893, 460, § 1.

The supreme judicial court sitting in equity may, on the application of the board of health of a city or town, by any appropriate process or decree, enforce the provisions of chapter eighty of the Public Statutes, and of the acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, and this remedy shall not supersede, but shall be in addition to any other remedies provided for the purpose.

Supreme court may enforce health laws.

Acts of 1893, 460, § 2.

The court may frame issues of fact to be tried by a jury in any case under the preceding section, when requested by a party, and direct the same to be tried in the county where such cause is pending, at the bar of the supreme judicial court, or the superior court; and if the regular term for such trial does not come within one month from the making up of such issues, any justice of the court may order the clerk for the county where the case is pending, to summon a jury in the ordinary manner of trying any such issues, and the proceedings at such trial shall be in all respects the same as if at the regular term of the court, and the record thereof shall have the same force and effect as any other record of the court.

TOWN AND CITY BOARDS OF HEALTH.

Acts of 1895, 506, § 2.

Towns may elect boards of health by ballot. Three persons, each for three years. Selectmen to be the board, when.

1797

1878

Every town in the Commonwealth may elect a board of health by ballot at the annual meeting of the town, or at a meeting legally warned for the purpose, consisting of three persons, to serve, one for the term of three years, one for the term of two years and one for the term of one year, beginning with the day following such town meeting or until their respective successors are chosen and qualified; and thereafter such town shall, at its annual town meeting, choose in the same manner one person who shall hold office for three years from the day following such town meeting or until another is chosen and qualified in his stead. If no such board is chosen the selectmen shall constitute such board of health.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 3.

One member of board to be a physician in towns of 5,000 people.

Local board to report deaths to state board.

In each city and town having a population of more than five thousand inhabitants, as determined by the last census, at least one member of said board shall be a physician, and the board shall send an annual report of the deaths in such town to the state board of health. The form of such reports shall be prescribed and furnished by the state board of health.

Acts of 1895, 506, § 3.

Physician not required to be a member, when.

So much of section three of chapter two hundred and eighteen of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four as provides that one member of the board of health shall be a physician, shall not apply to towns in which the selectmen constitute the board of health.

Acts of 1885, 307, § 1.

Vacancy in local board by refusal to accept office, how filled.

If a person elected a member of a board of health in any town, respecting which no provision is made by special law for choosing a board of health, after being duly notified of his election in the manner in which town officers are required to be notified, refuses or neglects to accept said office, or if a member of a board of health in such town declines further service, or from change of residence or otherwise becomes unable to attend to the duties of the board, the remaining members shall, in writing, give notice of the fact to the selectmen of such town, and the two boards shall thereupon, after giving public notice of at least one week, jointly proceed to fill such vacancy.

Acts of 1895, 332, § 1.

In each city, except Boston, there shall be appointed by the mayor subject to confirmation or rejection by the board of aldermen, except where other provision is made in the city charter, a board of health, consisting of three members, who shall hold office for the term of three years from the first Monday in February next succeeding their appointment, one of whom shall be a doctor of medicine. They shall not be members of the city council. If such boards are not already in existence, appointments shall be made as herein provided of three persons, one for the term of one year, one for the term of two years and one for the term of three years; and thereafter one member shall be appointed annually for the term of three years from the first Monday in February next succeeding such appointment. Members of existing boards shall continue to hold office until the appointment of a new board in accordance with the provisions of this act. All vacancies shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term as above-provided. Each member so appointed shall be subject to removal by the mayor for cause, and shall receive such compensation as the city council shall from time to time determine.

P. S., 80, § 9.

How to be organized.1877

Such boards shall organize annually by the choice of one of their number as a chairman; they may also choose a clerk, not a member of the board, and make such rules and regulations for their own government and for the government of all subordinate officers in their department as they may deem expedient.

P. S., 80, § 10.

Powers and duties.1877

Such boards may exercise all the powers vested in, and shall perform all the duties prescribed to, city councils or mayors and aldermen as boards of health, under the statutes and ordinances in force in their respective cities on the seventeenth day of May in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-seven; and may appoint such subordinate officers, agents and assistants as they may deem necessary, and may fix their compensation and that of their clerk; but the whole amount of such compensation shall not exceed the sum appropriated therefor by the city council.

P. S., 80, § 11.

To make annual reports.1877

In each city such board of health shall annually, in January, present to the city council a report made up to and including the thirty-first day of the preceding December, and containing a full and comprehensive statement of its acts during the year, and a review of the sanitary condition of the city; it shall also, when the city council or the standing committee thereof on finance so requires, send to the auditor of accounts an estimate in detail of the appropriations required by its department during the next financial year.

P. S., 80, § 12.

May enforce regulations
as to house
drainage.1702*1877*1881

Such boards may prepare and enforce in their respective cities such regulations as they deem necessary for the safety and health of the people, with reference to house drainage and its connection with public sewers, where a public sewer abuts the estate to be drained.

The following decision was made on statutes applying to the city of Boston:—

The Statute of 1885, chap. 382, sect. 2, as amended by the Statute of 1889, chap. 450, sect. 2, providing under a penalty that certain buildings in Boston "situated on a public or private street, court, or passageway, in which there is a public sewer, and every building connected with any sewer, shall have sufficient water-closets connected with the sewer, and shall not have a cesspool or privy, except where in the opinion of the board of health it can be allowed to remain temporarily, and then only as said board shall approve," applies to violations which continue after its passage, or which then come into existence, and is constitutional as an exercise of the police power.

The Legislature by the use of the word "water-closet" in the Statutes of 1885, chap. 382, sects. 1, 2, and 1889, chap. 450, sect. 2, intended an arrangement, then in common use, connected with a sewer, and having a permanent water supply which can be used systematically and regularly for carrying whatever is deposited therein to the sewer, and not a privy vault, which, although connected with a sewer, has no water supply for flushing it, except such as depends on chance.

Commonwealth v. Roberts, 155 Mass. 281.

Acts of 1889, 108.

Any town may authorize its board of health to make and enforce in such town such regulations as said board may deem necessary for the safety and health of the people with reference to house drainage and its connection with public sewers, where a public sewer abuts the estate to be drained. Whoever violates any such regulation shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Towns may authorize boards of health to make regulations as to house drainage and its connection with sewers.

1889

Acts of 1890, 74, § 1.

No privy vault shall be established in a city which accepts this act either upon premises situated on a public or private street, court or passageway where there is a public sewer opposite thereto, or upon premises connected with a public or private sewer, without permission in writing first obtained from the board of health of such city. And whenever there is in such city a privy vault so situated which, in the opinion of the board of health of such city, is injurious to the public health, said board shall declare the same to be a nuisance, and forbid its continuance, and sections twenty-one to twenty-three inclusive of chapter eighty of the Public Statutes shall apply to such nuisances so declared.

Privy vault not to be established in sewer street without permission of board of health.

Board may declare vault a nuisance and forbid its continuance.

Acts of 1890, 74, § 2.

Act to take effect when accepted by city council.

This act shall take effect in any city of the Commonwealth when accepted by the city council thereof.

Acts of 1890, 132, § 1.

Buildings to be connected with sewer, when.

Every building situated on a public or private street, court or passageway, in which there is a public sewer, shall, when required by the board of health of the city or town in which it stands, be connected by a good and sufficient particular drain with such public sewer.

Acts of 1890, 132, § 2.

Penalty.

Any person owning, leasing or maintaining any building not connected with a public sewer as provided in the preceding section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

On a complaint under Statute of 1890, chap. 132, against the defendant for maintaining a building not connected with a public sewer, although required to connect it by the board of health, it appeared that the city council, under its charter, ordered the committee on drainage "to extend section 3 of the eastern intercepting sewer from its present terminus through C and New C streets to W Avenue"; that the sewer was laid through private land below the point where it passed the defendant's house, without other authority than the statute and the land-owner's unrecorded waiver under seal of damages, and that it was laid through the defendant's land at a place above his own house, and the defendant neither had licensed it nor had been paid for it. Held, that the order was sufficiently definite, and implied an adjudication of necessity; that the sewer was lawful below the defendant's house, and that it was immaterial that the waiver was not recorded; that if the sewer was unlawful where it crossed the land above, it was not made unlawful throughout; that the failure to keep the plan of the sewer in the city clerk's office had no bearing on the proceedings; and that a short answer to most of the defendant's objections was that they could be taken only by certiorari.

Commonwealth v. Abbott, 160 Mass. 282.

P. S., 80, § 16.

Board of health
may appoint agents, etc.

1866
1879

The board of health in a city or town may appoint an agent or agents to act for it in cases of emergency, or when it cannot be conveniently assembled; and such agent so appointed shall have all the authority which the board appointing them had; but he shall, within two days, report his action in each case to it for its approval, and shall be directly responsible to it and under its control and direction. An agent appointed to make sanitary inspections may make complaint in cases of violation of any law, ordinance, or by-law relating to the public health in a city or town.

It is not necessary that a complaint to recover the forfeiture provided by the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, for permitting a nuisance to remain on the premises after the time prescribed by the board of health of the town for its removal, should be made by the town treasurer, but it may be made by an agent of the board of health, appointed under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 16.

An omission in a complaint, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, for permitting a nuisance to remain on the premises after the time prescribed by the board of health of the town for its removal, to allege that the complainant is an agent of the board of health, he being in fact such agent, is at most a formal defect, which can be availed of only by a motion to quash.

Commonwealth v. Alden, 143 Mass. 113.

A notice issued, under Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, by the board of health of a town to the occupant of certain premises, ordering him to remove the nuisance existing thereon, may be served by a constable, although he is a member of the board of health and signs the notice.

Commonwealth v. Alden, 143 Mass. 113.

P. S., 80, § 17.

The board of health of a city or town shall retain charge of any case arising under the provisions of this chapter in which it shall have acted, to the exclusion of the overseers of the poor.

To retain charge of case, after acting therein.

1874

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

Acts of 1889, 326.

Whoever knowingly feeds or has in his possession with intent to feed to any milch cow, any garbage, refuse or offal collected by any city or town, or by any person having authority from any city or town, by contract or otherwise, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail or house of correction not exceeding sixty days or by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Garbage and offal not to be fed to milch cows.

Acts of 1889, 377.

City or town
may contract for the disposal of garbage, etc.

Any city or town may, by its board of aldermen, selectmen, board of health or other officer or officers having in charge the disposition of the garbage, refuse and offal of such city or town, contract for a term of years for the disposition of such garbage, refuse and offal by cremation or otherwise.

Acts of 1895, 385.

Feeding of certain garbage,
etc., to food animals, except swine, prohibited.
Penalty.

Whoever knowingly feeds or has in his possession with intent to feed to any food animal, except swine, any garbage, refuse or offal collected by any city of more than thirty thousand inhabitants, by contract or otherwise, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail or house of correction not exceeding thirty days, or by fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

NUISANCES, SOURCES OF FILTH, CAUSES OF SICKNESS, ETC.

P. S., 80, § 18.

Board of health
to make regulations respecting nuisances, etc.

1797

The board of health of a town shall make such regulations as it judges necessary for the public health and safety, respecting nuisances, sources of filth and causes of sickness, within its town, or on board of vessels within the harbor of such town, and respecting articles which are capable of containing or conveying infection or contagion, or of creating sickness, brought into or conveyed from its town, or into or from any vessel. Whoever violates any such regulation shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

A regulation that no person shall remove, cart, or carry through any of the streets, lanes or alleys of a city, any house-dirt, refuse, offal, filth or animal or vegetable substance from any of the dwelling-houses or other places occupied by the inhabitants, in any cart, wagon, truck, hand-cart or other vehicle, unless such person so removing, together with the cart, shall be duly licensed for that employment and purpose by the mayor and aldermen, upon such terms and conditions as they shall deem the health, comfort, convenience or interest of the city require, on pain of forfeiting a sum not less than three dollars nor more than twenty, is valid.

Vandine, petitioner, 6 Pick. 187.

For decision upholding the validity of a regulation prohibiting the keeping of swine in a particular district of a city, see Commonwealth v. Patch, 97 Mass. 221.

But see Commonwealth v. Young, 135 Mass. 522, to effect that keeping of swine is, in certain cases, an "employment," and that in prohibiting its exercise the board must proceed under Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 84, 87, 88, and not under sect. 18.

A private passageway about four feet wide, in the city of Boston, was laid out and maintained by the abutters thereon for the benefit of all their lots, which extended to the centre of the passageway. The land formerly belonged to the city of Boston, which reserved the right to lay a sewer through the whole of such passageway, and which for many years had kept the same clear, though it always claimed that it was not its duty to do so, and ceased to do so in the spring of 1891. Held, that an ordinance forbidding an abutter to allow filth to remain on that part of the passageway adjoining his land was not unreasonable and indefinite, and that it was no defence to a complaint for the violation thereof, that the defendant was required to remove matter which he had no agency in depositing in the passageway, or to do what he would not be obliged to do if he did not own land abutting on such passageway; or that the ordinance omitted to provide a time beyond which the filth should be allowed to remain; or that it required the defendant to do in part the work which the city had formerly done; or that another ordinance forbade the defendant from removing filth or refuse matter through the streets without a permit from the board of health, it appearing that such removal was intrusted by still another ordinance to the sanitary police; or that the complaint did not set out any of the defendant's right to use the passageway.

Cities and towns may adopt ordinances and by-laws for the preservation and promotion of the health of their inhabitants as an exercise of the police power.

The reasonableness or sufficiency of an ordinance or by-law is not to be tested always by its application to extreme cases.

Commonwealth v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52.

P. S., 80, § 19.

The board shall give notice of all regulations made by it by publishing the same in some newspaper of its town, or, where there is no such newspaper, by posting them up in some public place in the town. Such notice shall be deemed legal notice to all persons.

To give notice of regulations.
1816

See City of Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 443.

P. S., 80, § 20.

Board of health
to examine into and abate
nuisances, etc.

1797

The board shall examine into all nuisances, sources of filth and causes of sickness, within its town, or in any vessel within the harbor of such town, that may in its opinion be injurious to the health of the inhabitants, and shall destroy, remove, or prevent the same as the case may require.

P. S., 80, § 21.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

To order certain nuisances, etc., abated by owner.

1797

The board shall order the owner or occupant at his own expense to remove any nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness, found on private property, within twenty-four hours, or such other time as it deems reasonable, after notice served as provided in the following section; and if the owner or occupant neglects so to do, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding twenty dollars for every day during which he knowingly permits such nuisance or cause of sickness to remain after the time prescribed for the removal thereof.

An order of a board of health, under the Gen. Stats., chap. 26, sect. 8 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21), for the removal of a nuisance is valid without previous notice to the parties interested and opportunity for them to appear and be heard.

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431.

An order of a board of health under the Gen. Stats., chap. 26, sect. 8 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21), for removing a nuisance need not prescribe a mode for the removal.

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431.

An order of the board of health of a city, under the Gen. Stats., chap. 26, sect. 8 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21), directing the owner (or occupant) of land to remove a nuisance in a specific manner, is void.

Watuppa Reservoir v. Mackenzie, 132 Mass. 71.

A notice issued, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, by the board of health of a town to the occupant of certain premises, reciting that a nuisance, "consisting of a filthy hog-pen and stable," exists thereon, and ordering him "to abate the said nuisance on your estate, and also to remove your hogs outside the limits of the village, within forty-eight hours after the service hereof," is valid as an order to abate the nuisance, and is not rendered void by the direction to remove the hogs.

Commonwealth v. Alden, 143 Mass. 113.

In the absence of statutory authority neither the board of health nor the city council of a city has any power to erect a dam on a person's land, without his consent, for the purpose of abating a nuisance existing on adjacent land.

Cavanagh v. Boston, 139 Mass. 426.

cf. Huse v. Amesbury, 163 Mass. 240.

A piggery in which swine are kept in such numbers that their natural odors fill the air thereabout and make the occupation of the neighboring houses and passage over the adjacent highways disagreeable is a nuisance, and on the trial of an indictment for maintaining such nuisance evidence that it is the custom in this Commonwealth to locate such establishments in populous localities and to tolerate them there is inadmissible.

Commonwealth v. Perry, 139 Mass. 198.

cf. Commonwealth v. Young, 135 Mass. 526.

See also Fay v. Whitman, 100 Mass. 76.

Commonwealth v. Sweeney, 131 Mass. 579.

In order to amount to a nuisance, it is not necessary that the corruption of the atmosphere should be such as to be dangerous to health, it is sufficient that the effluvia are offensive to the senses and render habitations uncomfortable.

Per Shaw, C. J., in Eames v. Worsted Co., 11 Met. 570-572.

As to conclusiveness of adjudications of a board of health on the existence of a nuisance see

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 446-452.

cf. Miller v. Horton, 152 Mass. 540, 545 et seq.

The following rules as to orders made under this section may be deduced from the opinion in

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 444.

The order addressed to a person directing him to remove a nuisance should describe the nature and locality of the nuisance.

The order should not direct in what mode the person should proceed to remove the nuisance, but should direct the end to be accomplished, leaving the party to adopt any effectual mode he may choose.

"The manifest purpose . . . is to enable the owner or occupant to remedy the evil in the mode least detrimental or offensive to himself and thus secure himself and his premises from the intrusion of the agents of the board of health."

P. S., 80, § 22.

Such order shall be made in writing, and served by any person competent to serve a notice in a civil suit, personally on the owner, occupant, or his authorized agent; or a copy of the order may be left at the last and usual place of abode of the owner, occupant, or agent, if he is known and within the state. But if the premises are unoccupied and the residence of the owner or agent is unknown or without the state, the notice may be served by posting the same on the premises and advertising in one or more public newspapers in such manner and for such length of time as the board or health officer may direct.

A notice issued, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, by the board of health of a town to the occupant of certain premises, ordering him to remove the nuisance existing thereon, may be served by a constable, although he is a member of the board of health, and signs the notice.

Commonwealth v. Alden, 143 Mass. 113.

It is not necessary that a complaint to recover the forfeiture provided by the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, for permitting a nuisance to remain on the premises after the time prescribed by the board of health of a town for its removal should be made by the town treasurer, but it may be made by an agent of the board of health, appointed under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 16.

An omission in a complaint, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 21, for permitting a nuisance to remain on the premises after the time prescribed by the board of health of the town for its removal, to allege that the complainant is an agent of the board of health, he being in fact such agent, is at most a formal defect, which can be availed of only by a motion to quash.

Commonwealth v. Alden, 143 Mass. 113.

See also decisions and rules as to such orders, sect. 21, sup.

P. S., 80, § 23.

Owner not complying,
board to remove nuisance at his expense.

1797

If the owner or occupant fails to comply with such order, the board may cause the nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness, to be removed, and all expenses incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner, occupant, or other person who caused or permitted the same, if he has had actual notice from the board of health of the existence thereof.

"If the owner or occupant neglect to remove the nuisance, the board of health are then at liberty to enter upon the private property where it exists and take such measures as they may see fit for its removal."

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 444.

"The importance of the duty imposed upon the board of health, the necessity of prompt and decisive measures to protect the public health, require a wide discretion in the use of means by which 'to destroy, remove, or prevent' such cause of sickness. If it be necessary to the proper performance of their duty, they may, undoubtedly, in the exercise of their discretion, resort to means and measures which affect injuriously other lands than those upon which the manifestation of the cause of sickness is found."

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 446.

cf., however, Huse v. Amesbury, 163 Mass. 240.

Infra, Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 28.

In a suit to recover expenses incurred in removing a nuisance, when prosecuted against a party on the ground that he "caused the same," but who was not heard, and had no opportunity to be heard, such party is not concluded by the findings or adjudications of the board, and may contest all the facts upon which his liability is sought to be established.

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 447.

In a suit to recover expenses incurred in removing a nuisance, when prosecuted against a party on the ground that he "caused the same," the record of proceedings of the board is prima facie evidence of the existence of a nuisance which warranted the board in taking action and incurring expense for its removal; but where the defendant was not heard and had no opportunity to be heard, it is not evidence that the nuisance was caused by the defendant, and all the facts upon which it is sought to charge the defendant with liability are open to be tried and determined by the proofs in the case.

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431, 451.

An action to recover expenses incurred in the removal of a nuisance should be brought in the name of the city or town and not in the names of the members of the board.

Salem v. Eastern Railroad Company, 98 Mass. 431.

See also Winthrop v. Farrar, 11 Allen, 398.

P. S., 80, § 24.

The board, when satisfied upon due examination that a cellar, room, tenement, or building, in its town, occupied as a dwelling-place, has become, by reason of the number of occupants, want of cleanliness, or other cause, unfit for such purpose, and a cause of nuisance or sickness to the occupants or the public, may issue a notice in writing to such occupants, or any of them, requiring the premises to be put into a proper condition as to cleanliness, or, if they see fit, requiring the occupants to quit the premises within such time as the board may deem reasonable. If the persons so notified, or any of them, neglect or refuse to comply with the terms of the notice, the board may cause the premises to be properly cleansed at the expense of the owners, or may remove the occupants forcibly and close up the premises, and the same shall not again be occupied as a dwelling-place without the consent in writing of the board. If the owner thereafter occupies or knowingly permits the same to be occupied without such permission in writing, he shall forfeit not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

P. S., 80, § 25.

When a party is convicted of a nuisance, board may order it destroyed.

1801

When a person is convicted on an indictment for a common nuisance injurious to the public health, the court in its discretion may order it to be removed or destroyed at the expense of the defendant, under the direction of the board of health; and the form of the warrant to the sheriff or other officer may be varied accordingly.

P. S., 80, § 26.

Injunction may issue in cases of nuisance.

1827

The superior court, or a justice thereof, in term time or vacation, may, either before or pending a prosecution for a common nuisance affecting the public health, issue an injunction to stay or prevent the same until the matter is decided by a jury or otherwise; may enforce such injunction according to the course of proceedings in chancery; and may dissolve the same when the court or one of the justices shall think proper.

P. S., 80, § 27.

Board may make compulsory examination of premises, when.

1816

When the board thinks it necessary for the preservation of the lives or health of the inhabitants to enter any land, building, or premises, or vessel within its town, for the purpose of examining into and destroying, removing, or preventing a nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness, and the board or any agent thereof sent for that purpose is refused such entry, any member of the board or such agent may make complaint under oath to any justice of any court of record or to two justices of the peace of the county, stating the facts of the case so far as he has knowledge thereof; and said justice or justices may thereupon issue a warrant, directed to the sheriff or any of his deputies, to such agent of the board, or to any constable of such town, commanding him to take sufficient aid, and at any reasonable time repair to the place where such nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness complained of may be, and to destroy, remove, or prevent the same, under the directions of the board.

P. S., 80, § 80.

Expenses incurred by a town in the removal of nuisances or for the preservation of the public health, which are recoverable of a private person or corporation, may be sued for and recovered in an action of contract.

Expenses recoverable of individuals, how sued for.

1849

P. S., 80, § 81.

Fines and forfeitures incurred under general laws, the special laws applicable to a town, or the by-laws and regulations of a town, relating to health, shall inure to the use of such town.

Fines and forfeitures to inure to use of towns.

1849

Under Statutes of 1849, chap. 211, sect. 7, which provides that all fines and forfeitures, incurred under the general law or the special laws applicable to any town or city, or the ordinances, by-laws, and regulations of any town or city, relating to health, shall inure to the use of such town or city, as may be recovered by complaint in the name of the treasurer, it was held that such fines and forfeitures were recoverable only by complaint in the name of the treasurer of the city or town, and in no other way.

Commonwealth v. Fahey, 5 Cush. 408.

Under sect. 26, chap. 28 of the Pub. Stats., the city marshal or other police officer, or the city treasurer, may prosecute for all fines and forfeitures which may inure to the city.

The ordinances and by-laws of the city of Boston relating to burying-grounds and the burial of the dead were held to be regulations relating to health within the meaning of the above statute.

P. S., 80, § 28.

Acts of 1887, 338, § 1.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

Lands in a city or town which are wet, rotten, or spongy, or covered with stagnant water, so as to be offensive to persons residing in the vicinity thereof, or injurious to health, shall be deemed to be a nuisance, and the board of health of such city or town may, upon petition and hearing, abate such nuisance in the manner provided in the following sections, but no such nuisance shall be abated by a board of health of a city or town without a previous appropriation therefor by such city or town if the expense of such abatement will exceed the sum of two thousand dollars.

On a petition for a writ of certiorari to quash the proceedings of the board of health of a city, assessing the expense of abating a nuisance under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 28 et seq.), the record showed a petition, addressed to the board of health, which complained of large quantities of water standing in an open drain between two streets, from which arose such unhealthy odors as to cause great sickness in the neighborhood, and prayed for a hearing; a reference of the same to the next city government; a vote of the board of health, the next year, to view the premises; a view taken; an order that the city engineer, under direction of a committee, be directed to widen, straighten and deepen a watercourse between the two streets, and that the clerk be instructed to notify abutters on the watercourse of a hearing on a certain day, under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.); a warrant issued by the clerk to a constable to notify abutters of the intention of the board of health to enter upon the premises for the purpose of widening, deepening and straightening the brook, and that a hearing would be given at a time and place named, to all parties interested in the matter, as to the necessity and mode of abating the nuisance caused by the brook and the question of damages, and of the assessment and apportionment of the expenses thereof, and a notice setting forth these things and stating that it was in accordance with the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 28 et seq.). Held, that it sufficiently appeared that the board was attempting to act under this Statute. Held, also, that the petition was sufficient to give the board jurisdiction.

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

A petition to the board of health of a city described a nuisance as owing "to large quantities of stagnant water standing in an open drain between two streets of the city." The board of health issued a notice that it was acting under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), and abated the nuisance. On a petition for a writ of certiorari to quash the proceedings of the board of health, it did not appear whether the drain was a public or a private one, nor for what purpose it was made, and it appeared to be a watercourse. Held, that it could not be said that the nuisance was not such as could be abated under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), and that it was too late to take this objection.

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

Under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), a board of health may act by a committee in abating a nuisance.

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

"It [the Statute of 1868, chap. 160, Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.] contemplates that lands may be entered upon which are not themselves wet, rotten, spongy or covered with stagnant water, and excavations, embankments and drains made thereupon, in order to abate the nuisance, and that proceedings under the statute are in the nature of taking private property for public use."

Per Field, J., in Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490, 492.

Where a nuisance is artificially created by emptying the sewage of dwelling houses through a private drain in a private way upon the surface of such way and of abutting private land, the board of health has no authority when acting under Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq., to abate such nuisance by extending such private drain through such abutting private land to a brook thereon and by cleaning out the brook so that it would carry off the sewage.

Huse v. Amesbury, 163 Mass. 240.

In the opinion in this case it is suggested that the nuisance might have been dealt with under Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 18-25.

P. S., 80, § 29.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

Any person claiming to be injuriously affected by such nuisance may, by petition describing the premises upon which it is alleged to exist, and setting out the nature of the nuisance complained of, apply to the board for its abatement; thereupon such board shall proceed to view the premises, and examine into the nature and cause of such nuisance.

Persons injuriously affected, etc., may apply to board for abatement.

P. S., 80, § 30.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

Upon such examination the board if of opinion that the prayer of the petition or any part thereof should be granted, shall appoint a time and place for a hearing, and before the time so appointed shall cause reasonable notice of the time and place to be given to the petitioners, the persons whose lands it may be necessary to enter upon to abate the nuisance, and any other persons who may be affected by the proceedings, and, except in those cities and towns in which the mayor and aldermen and selectmen constitute the board of health, to the mayor or the chairman of the selectmen, that they may be heard upon the necessity and mode of abating such nuisance, and the questions of damages, and of the assessment and apportionment of the expenses of the abatement.

An order of the board of health of a city under Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), directing the owner of land to remove a nuisance, is void if passed without a previous notice and hearing.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

Form of notice,
and how served.

1868

Such notice shall be in writing, and may be served, by any person competent to serve civil process, upon the mayor or chairman of the selectmen, the petitioners, the owner or occupant of any land upon which it may be necessary to enter, or which may be benefited by the abatement, or the authorized agent of such owner or occupant, or by leaving an attested copy of such notice at the last and usual place of abode of such persons; but if the lands are unoccupied, and the owner or agent is unknown, or out of the state, the notice to such owner may be served by posting an attested copy thereof upon the premises, or by advertising in one or more public newspapers in such manner and for such length of time as the board may direct.

At the time and place appointed for the hearing, the board shall hear the parties, and after the hearing may cause such nuisance to be abated, according to its or his discretion; and for that purpose may enter and make such excavations, embankments, and drains upon any lands, and under and across any streets and ways, as may be necessary for such abatement; and shall also determine in what manner and at whose expense the improvements made shall be kept in repair, and shall estimate and award the amount of damage sustained by and benefit accruing to any person by reason of such improvements, and what proportion of the expense of making and keeping the same in repair shall be borne by the city or town and by any person benefited thereby. The damages so awarded shall be paid by the city or town, and there shall be assessed to the several persons benefited by such improvements their proportionate part, to be ascertained as before provided, of the expense of making and keeping in repair such improvements, and the same shall be included in the next city or town taxes of such persons, and shall be a lien upon the real estate benefited thereby, and be collected in the same manner as other taxes upon real estate. Any person aggrieved by the assessment so made may at any time within three months after receiving notice thereof, apply for a jury; such application shall be made in like manner and the proceedings thereon shall be the same as in case of lands taken for laying out of highways: provided, that before making his application, the party shall give one month's notice in writing to the selectmen or mayor and aldermen of his intention so to apply, and shall therein particularly specify his objections to the assessment, to which specification he shall be confined upon the hearing by the jury.

Party aggrieved may apply for a jury, but must give notice.

An assessment cannot be levied for expenses incurred by a board of health under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), upon a person to whom notice of the hearing provided for in sect. 3 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 30) is not given, although he has knowledge of the doing of the work whereby the expenses are incurred.

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

It is no ground for a writ of certiorari to quash an assessment levied for expenses incurred under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), that the expenses were not assessed proportionally upon all persons benefited, or that items were included in the expenses which ought to have been excluded.

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

If a board of health has given notice of a hearing under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160, sect. 3 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 30), it need not give a new notice of its intention to make an assessment under sect. 5 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 32).

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

A report of a committee of the board of health of a city, upon the assessment of damages and benefits sustained by the abatement of a nuisance, under the Statute of 1868, chap. 160 (Pub.

Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28 et seq.), was accompanied by orders drawn in accordance with the report, and by warrants upon the city treasurer for the collection of assessments. The record showed that the report was accepted and the orders and warrants adopted. Held, that the adoption of the report sufficiently appeared.

Grace v. Newton Board of Health, 135 Mass. 490.

Upon proceedings by the board of health pursuant to Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28-33, for the abatement of a nuisance consisting of wet and spongy lands injurious to health, the measure of damages for land upon which it has been necessary to enter to abate the nuisance is the difference between its fair market value before the act of the board and such value afterwards.

Driscoll v. Taunton, 160 Mass. 486.

Upon a petition for the assessment of damages to land in consequence of proceedings pursuant to the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28-33, for the abatement of a nuisance consisting of wet and spongy lands injurious to health, any nuisance on the land upon which it was necessary to enter, in order to be chargeable to the city or town, must be the result of the act of the board of health, and, unless such act results in a nuisance, evidence of a subsequent nuisance is immaterial.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

Any person entitled to notice of the time and place of hearing upon a petition to the board of health under the provisions of section twenty-eight of chapter eighty of the Public Statutes as prescribed by section thirty of said chapter, who is aggrieved by the decision of such board that the land described in such petition is a nuisance, may appeal therefrom to the superior court, who may hear and determine the matter of such appeal, and during such appeal all proceedings in regard to such nuisance by such board shall be stayed. The party so appealing shall within twenty-four hours after such decision give written notice to said board of his intention so to appeal and within seven days shall present a petition to the superior court setting forth the grievances complained of, and the action of the board of health thereon, and shall thereupon enter into such recognizance before said court in such sum and with such surety or sureties as shall be ordered.

Party aggrieved may appeal to superior court, and must give notice to board or health officers.

P. S., 80, § 35.

Acts of 1894, 218, § 4.

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board, or commissioners, in their estimate and award of damages, may make complaint to the county commissioners for the county at any time within one year after the return to the city or town clerk; whereupon the same proceedings shall be had as in cases where persons or parties are aggrieved by the award of damages by selectmen for land taken for a town way.

Persons aggrieved in award of damages may apply for jury.

The fact that Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 35, provide that any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of health in its estimate and award of damages upon proceedings brought pursuant to Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 28-33, for the abatement of a nuisance, consisting of wet and spongy lands injurious to health, "may make complaint to the county commissioners for the county," does not prevent such person from resorting to the superior court under the provisions of Pub. Stats., chap. 49, sect. 105.

The board of health of a town may grant permits for the removal of any nuisance, infected articles, or sick person, within the limits of its town, when it thinks it safe and proper so to do.

P. S., 80, § 40.

When a person coming from abroad or residing in a town in this state is infected, or lately has been infected, with the plague or other sickness dangerous to the public health, except as is otherwise provided in this chapter, the board shall make effectual provision in the manner which it judges best for the safety of the inhabitants by removing such person to a separate house or otherwise, and by providing nurses and other assistance and necessities, which shall be at the charge of the person himself, his parents, or master, if able, otherwise at the charge of the town to which he belongs; or if he is not an inhabitant of any town, at the charge of the commonwealth.

Board to make provision for persons infected.

Notice should be given to the town to which the infected person belongs, before commencing an action to recover the expenses incurred by furnishing him with assistance and necessities.

Springfield v. Worcester, 2 Cush. 52.

The following notice, sent by the selectmen of Springfield to the selectmen of Worcester, was held to be sufficient:—

SPRINGFIELD, May 25, 1846.

GENTLEMEN:—James E. Belden, a colored man, came here, not far from the first of this month, diseased with the small-pox. The expenses of his sickness have been borne by this town, the man himself having no means of paying them. According to the information we have, the town of Worcester is liable for these expenses. We have therefore thought it our duty (although not legally obliged so to do) to notify you of the case, that you may take such measures in regard to it as you may deem proper. We are told Henry W. Miller of your place is well acquainted with Belden.

The physicians who have had charge of the case state that their patient will probably recover. His disease has been the worst form of small-pox.

In behalf of the selectmen of Springfield,

HENRY MORRIS, Chairman.

TO THE SELECTMEN OF WORCESTER.

Springfield v. Worcester, 2 Cush. 52.

Under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 40, 41, 75, the board of health of a town has no authority to take possession of a dwelling-house and the furniture therein, without the consent of the owner and occupant and to his exclusion, and use the house as a hospital for a person found therein who is infected with a contagious disease, and is too sick to be removed without danger to his health; and the owner cannot maintain an action of contract against the town for the use and occupation of the house during the time it was so held by the board of health.

Spring v. Hyde Park, 137 Mass. 554.

A member of the board of health of a town has no authority, against the consent of the owner or occupant, to take possession of a dwelling-house in which a contagious disease exists, and of the furniture therein, to the exclusion of such owner or occupant, and to carry away and destroy portions of the furniture, or to station a person on the premises with instructions to prevent ingress to and egress from the same, except in the manner pointed out in the Pub. Stats., chap. 80.

In an action against a member of the board of health of a town, who unlawfully took possession of the furniture in a house in which a contagious disease existed, and destroyed it, the defendant asked the judge to rule that the measure of damages was the market value of the property in its infected condition. The judge refused so to rule, and instructed the jury that the plaintiff was entitled to recover what the property was worth at the time it was taken, taking into consideration how much the value had been affected by its exposure to infection. Held, that the defendant had no ground of exception.

Brown v. Murdock, 140 Mass. 314.

The board of health of a city cannot, without the consent of the owner, lawfully establish and use premises as a hospital for patients sick with the small-pox, except under a warrant issued in accordance with the provisions of Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 43.

An owner of land, who is not in possession and has no right of possession thereof, cannot maintain an action of trespass quare clausum fregit, but may maintain an action for an injury to the reversion.

The owner of a house in a city, which, while in the possession of a tenant at will, is taken and used, without the owner's consent, by the board of health of the city as a hospital for parties sick with the small-pox, may maintain an action against the members of the board for the injury to his reversion, if it appears that such use of the house diminished its rentable value.

A tenant at will in possession of a house in a city cannot, as against the rights of the owner, authorize the board of health of the city to establish in the house a hospital for patients afflicted with an infectious disease, and to maintain such a hospital there to the damage of the reversion.

Hersey v. Chapin, 162 Mass. 176.

The following rules for the guidance of local boards of health in dealing with cases of disease dangerous to the public health may be deduced from the foregoing decisions:—

In case it is desired to isolate the sick person, he should be removed to a hospital to be provided by the board, except in the case where he cannot be so removed without danger to his health.

Even where the condition of the sick person is such that he cannot be removed without danger to his health, the board has no authority to establish the place where the sick person is as a hospital, without the consent of the owner thereof.

In case the board desires to provide a hospital to which to remove such cases or to establish as a hospital the place where the sick person is, and is unable to hire the building for that purpose, it should procure the issuance of a warrant under sect. 43.

P. S., 80, § 41.

If the infected person cannot be removed without danger to his health, the board shall make provision for him, as directed in the preceding section, in the house in which he may be; and may cause the persons in the neighborhood to be removed, and take such other measures as it judges necessary for the safety of the inhabitants.

If infected person cannot be removed, others may be.

P. S., 80, § 42.

The board of health of a town near to or bordering upon either of the neighboring states may appoint, by writing, suitable persons to attend at places by which travellers may pass from infected places in other states; who may examine such travellers as it suspects of bringing any infection dangerous to the public health, and if need be may restrain them from travelling until licensed thereto by the board of health of the town to which they may come. A traveller coming from such infected place, who without such license travels within the state (except to return by the most direct way to the state whence he came), after he has been cautioned to depart by the persons so appointed, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Persons may be stationed in places bordering on other states to examine, etc.

P. S., 80, § 43.

Two justices of the peace may, if need be, make out a warrant directed to the sheriff of the county or his deputy, or to any constable, requiring them under the direction of the board to remove any person infected with contagious sickness, or to impress and take up convenient houses, lodging, nurses, attendants and other necessities, for the accommodation, safety and relief of the sick.

Two justices may issue warrant to remove sick persons, etc.

P. S., 80, § 49.

When a person confined in a common jail, house of correction or workhouse, has a disease which, in the opinion of the physician of the board or of such other physician as it may consult, is dangerous to the safety and health of other prisoners or of the inhabitants of the town, the board shall by its order in writing direct the removal of such person to some hospital or other place of safety, there to be provided for and securely kept so as to prevent his escape until its further order. Provincetown v. Smith, 120 Mass. 96.

In an action of replevin of certain rags imported into a city by the plaintiff, and retained by the defendant under a claim of lien for the charges for disinfecting the rags, it is not open to the plaintiff to object that the answer, which is demurred to, does not show that the disinfection was accomplished to the satisfaction of the board of health of the city in accordance with a regulation of the board, but only shows that the defendant's process of disinfection was one satisfactory to the board, if such objection is not specifically assigned as a cause of demurrer.

In an action of replevin of certain rags imported into a city by the plaintiff, and retained by the defendant under a claim of lien for the charges for disinfecting the rags, it is not open to the plaintiff to contend that the provisions of the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 64, 67, contemplate a special exercise of the judgment of the board of health as to each cargo arriving, and not the passage of a general regulation, if the answer, which is demurred to, shows that there was a distinct order for the disinfection of the rags in question.

A regulation of the board of health of a city, passed under the authority conferred by the Statute of 1816, chap. 44, and the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, and ordering "that on and after this date all rags arriving at this port from any foreign port shall, before being discharged, be disinfected under the supervision of an officer of this board, and in a manner satisfactory to this board," even if the order was formal only, and was passed without any inquiry into the character of the rags or their special history, is not unreasonable.

A regulation of the board of health of a city, passed under authority conferred by the Statute of 1816, chap. 44, and the

Pub. Stats., chap. 80, and ordering "that on and after this date all rags arriving at this port from a foreign port shall, before being discharged, be disinfected under the supervision of an officer of this board, and in a manner satisfactory to this board," is not void as infringing the power of Congress "to regulate commerce with foreign nations."

Under the Statute of 1816, chap. 44, and the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 18, 64, 65, 67, 69, the board of health of a city may pass a regulation without a hearing, ordering rags imported into the city to be disinfected, and the expense of such disinfection to be borne by the owner of the rags; and it is not competent for the owner of the rags, as a defence to the claim for charges for disinfection, to show that the rags did not require disinfection, and could not have transmitted disease, if they were of the class concerning which the regulation was made.

Under a regulation of the board of health of a city, made in pursuance of the authority conferred by the Statutes of 1816, chap. 44, and the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sects. 18, 64, 65, 67, 69, ordering rags imported into the city to be disinfected at the expense of the owner, the work of disinfection may be delegated by the board to a third person, who is entitled to claim a lien upon the rags for his charges.

OFFENSIVE TRADES.

P. S., 80, § 84.

The board of health of a town shall from time to time assign certain places for the exercise of any trade or employment which is a nuisance or hurtful to the inhabitants, or dangerous to the public health, or the exercise of which is attended by noisome and injurious odors, or is otherwise injurious to their estates, and may prohibit the exercise of such trade or employment in places not so assigned; the board may also prohibit such exercise within the limits of the town or in any particular locality thereof. All such assignments shall be entered in the records of the town, and may be revoked when the board shall think proper. Board to assign places for exercising offensive trades; and may prohibit them.

So far as this section extends, the rules and course of proceeding under the common law are superseded, but in all other respects it continues in force as before. If the board of health acts and assigns places in which any particular trade or employment may be carried on, such an assignment would undoubtedly legalize the occupation of any person conducting his business in that place, and he would then be liable to no process, suit or prosecution, other than those which are specially appointed and prescribed. But if no such assignment has been made, and the board, in the exercise of their discretion, have not seen fit to act at all, a remedy for injuries to the public or for violation of private rights by the permanent maintenance of offensive trades and employments must be found in the rules and principles of the common law. The statute, by leaving that body to act according to the discretion of its members, has imposed no duty upon them which they are imperatively bound to perform, and no means have been provided by a recourse to which, as by a complaint made to them, they can be compelled to exercise the power with which they are intrusted.

Commonwealth v. Rumford Chemical Works, 16 Gray, 231.

The board may pass an order prohibiting the exercise of an offensive trade, without having given previous notice to parties interested.

Belcher v. Farrar, 8 Allen, 327.

In the above case, Bigelow, C. J., says: "If, as preliminary to the exercise of any jurisdiction over the subject-matter, the selectmen were required to give notice to all persons exercising offensive trades or employments within the limits of the town, of their intention to prohibit the continuance of them, it would follow necessarily that such persons would have a right to appear and object, and ask for a hearing and trial on the question whether the use of their property was hateful or noxious, so as to fall within any of the classes contemplated by the statute. This would often lead to protracted examinations, which might occupy days or weeks. If, in the mean time, the alleged offensive and noisome trades might be carried on great injury to health might be occasioned; and it would be impossible to prevent the evils which it was the manifest object of the statute promptly to suppress."

It is questionable whether the prohibition of offensive trades is a proper subject of a by-law or ordinance, because that matter is specially provided for by statute; and to prohibit their exercise in any particular locality in a town or city by by-law or ordinance would interfere with the right of appeal to a jury which the statute secures.

Commonwealth v. Patch, 97 Mass. 223.

The keeping of swine cannot be considered a trade within the meaning of the law, and would be a proper subject of a by-law or ordinance.

Commonwealth v. Patch, 97 Mass. 223; but see 135 Mass. 526.

An order of the board under this section is not in the nature of an adjudication of a particular case, but of a general regulation of the trade or employment mentioned therein. It is not to be construed with technical strictness, but with the same liberality as all votes and proceedings of municipal bodies or officers who are not presumed to be versed in the forms of law; and every reasonable presumption is to be made in its favor. It need not state in direct terms that the trade which it prohibits is a nuisance. It is sufficient if the order clearly shows, that, in the opinion of the board, the exercise of such trade will be hurtful to the inhabitants, or injurious to the public health, or be attended by noisome and injurious odors.

Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 261.

A board of health of a town in 1881 made a regulation which provided that no swine should be kept in any place in a town, without a permit being first obtained from the board. On a complaint against a person for violation of this regulation, it appeared that the defendant kept about a hundred and fifty swine, and had been engaged for years in the business of feeding offal to swine. Held, that such a keeping of swine was an "employment," and that the authority of the board to regulate the same was under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 84 (Gen. Stats., chap. 26, sect. 52), and not under sect. 18 (5); that the defendant was entitled to notice under sect. 87 (55); and that a publication under sect. 19 (6) was not sufficient.

Commonwealth v. Young, 135 Mass. 526.

The following order of a board of health was held to be a valid exercise of the power conferred upon boards of health:—

"Ordered, that the exercise of the trade or employment of preparing tripe, manufacturing neat's-foot oil, tallow and glue stock, and the boiling and trying of bones, hoofs, heads, refuse, and partially decayed animal matter, and as a part of such trade or employment, the storing about the premises where such business is carried on, of putrid meats, bones, heads, legs, and the various other materials from which offensive smells emanate, which are used in such trade or employment, be and the same hereby is forbidden within the limits of the city of Taunton."

Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 261.

A board of health may regulate as well as prohibit the exercise of offensive trades.

Sawyer v. State Board of Health, 125 Mass. 195.

The same power by this section is given to the boards of health of towns and cities as is given by sect. 93, chap. 80, Pub. Stats., to the state board of health. The only difference is this, that by sect. 93 the state board is bound to give notice to a party, and allow him a hearing before it can pass an order of prohibition; but under this section the local boards may pass an order of prohibition without any previous notice.

Sawyer v. State Board of Health, 125 Mass. 191.

The board of health of a town may, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 84, pass a qualified order forbidding the exercise of the employment of keeping swine within the town "without a permit in writing first obtained from the board of health."

A notice ordered by the board and duly received is sufficiently served. It need not necessarily be served by a constable or other officer.

Winthrop v. Farrar, 11 Allen, 398.

The supreme judicial court has authority under its general jurisdiction as a court of equity to restrain by injunction the carrying on of an offensive trade which has been prohibited by a board of health. But the board must act in good faith towards the parties interested, and if by their action they have misled them and put them in a position to prevent their availing themselves of their right to appeal, and by reason thereof they have lost their opportunity to appeal, the court will refuse to enforce the orders of the board by a process in equity.

If a person by mistake of law or fact, or by accident, fails to appeal from any such order and to file his petition for a jury within three days, and if he makes it appear to the court or justice that such failure was caused by mistake or accident, and that he has not since the service of such order upon him exercised such trade or employment contrary to the order, he may at any time within thirty days from the service of the order upon him appeal therefrom and file his petition for a jury with the same effect as if done within the said three days.

Trade not to be exercised meanwhile.

The statute giving to boards of health the power to forbid the exercise, within the limits of a town or city, or in any particular locality thereof, of any trade or employment which is a nuisance or hurtful to the inhabitants or dangerous to the public health, or the exercise of which is attended by noisome and injurious odors or is otherwise injurious to their estates, and providing for an appeal, and that during the pendency of the appeal such trade or employment shall not be exercised contrary to the order, is within the authority of the legislature and constitutional.

Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 254.

The order of the board of health of a city under the Gen. Stats., chap. 26 (Pub. Stats., chap. 80), forbidding the exercise of an offensive trade in a city, is a quasi judicial act, and can be revised only in the manner provided in the statute; and it is not competent for the defendant in a suit in equity brought by the board of health to enjoin him from continuing an offensive trade, to prove that the trade is not a nuisance.

Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 254.

In Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 260, Gray, C. J., says: "To allow the offensive trade to be carried on until it had been decided by a jury to be a nuisance, and the question of law arising upon such a trial had been determined by the court, would defeat the purpose of the statute. It is a case in which private rights must be held subordinate to the public welfare, and falls within the strictest interpretation of the maxim, Salus populi suprema lex."

"The rights of any person to be affected by the order of prohibition are reasonably secured by requiring the order to be served upon him or the person in charge of his business, and by allowing him an appeal to a jury to be impanelled immediately without waiting for a regular term of court, and by whose verdict the order may be altered, annulled or affirmed."

The following order was issued by the state board of health:—

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, BOSTON, April 5, 1876.

TO GEORGE A. SAWYER of the town of Watertown, in the county of Middlesex.

You are hereby notified, that at a meeting of the state board of health, held at Boston, in the county of Suffolk, on the third day of April, 1876, it was ordered, on the petition of W. H. Ingraham and four others, and after a hearing of the parties, that George A. Sawyer of Watertown be, and he hereby is, directed to discontinue the business of slaughtering and rendering on the premises now occupied by him, on and after the fifteenth day of May, 1876. And it is adjudged and determined by this board, that the premises are noxious and offensive, and that the public health and the public comfort and convenience require that the said George A. Sawyer be ordered as aforesaid, to cease and desist from carrying on the said business on the said premises, on and after the fifteenth day of May, 1876. And you are hereby directed to comply in all respects with the requirements of the said order, under penalty of what may follow thereon.

An appeal was taken to a jury of the superior court. The case was then tried in the superior court, and the jury returned the following verdict and special findings:—

The jury alter the order of the state board of health, dated April 5, 1876, as follows: That Mr. George A. Sawyer shall be permitted to continue the business of slaughtering animals on the premises now occupied by him in the town of Watertown, under the restrictions as per appended sheet.

1. Mr. George A. Sawyer shall be required to concrete the cellar under his slaughter-house, in concave form.

2. Mr. Sawyer shall not keep swine in or under his slaughter-house.

3. All offal and offensive matter shall be removed from the above premises before ten o'clock P.M. of the day of killing, in covered, water-tight boxes or tanks.

4. Said premises shall be kept at all times in a condition of neatness and cleanliness acceptable to the local board of health.

Held, that the several findings of the jury were sufficiently clear, precise, and definite in matters of form, and were proper in substance.

Sawyer v. State Board of Health, 125 Mass. 196.

Where an appeal is taken and trial had before a sheriff's jury, if the defendant is dissatisfied with the verdict, his remedy is, by application to the superior court, to set it aside, and, if aggrieved by any ruling of that court in matter of law, by bringing the question before the supreme court on exceptions or appeal.

Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 262.

Acts of 1889, 193, § 1.

If the order is affirmed by the verdict, the town shall recover costs against the appellant. If it is annulled, and the appellant has not been specially authorized by said board after the appeal to exercise such trade or employment during the pendency of the appeal, he shall recover damages and costs against the town; and if he has been specially authorized as aforesaid and the order is annulled, or if it is altered, the appellant shall not recover damages against the town, and the court shall render such judgment as to costs as in its discretion may seem just.

Whoever occupies or uses a building for carrying on therein the business of slaughtering cattle, sheep, or other animals, or for a melting or rendering establishment, or for other noxious or offensive trades and occupations, or permits or allows said trades or occupations to be carried on upon premises owned or occupied by him, without first obtaining the written consent* and permission of the mayor and aldermen, and of the common council, if there is such a board, of the city, or selectmen of the town in which the building or premises are situated, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars for every month he so occupies or uses such building or premises, and in like proportion for a longer or shorter time: provided, that this section shall not apply to any building or premises occupied or used for the trades or occupations before described on the eighth day of May in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one; but no person occupying or using any building or premises on said date for the trades or occupations aforesaid shall enlarge or extend the same without first obtaining the written consent and permission of the mayor and aldermen, and of the common council, if there is such a board, or selectmen.

The legislature in the exercise of its police power may prohibit the use of any building in cities or towns of a certain population for carrying on, without permission of the mayor and aldermen or selectmen, a trade necessary and lawful in itself, but which in its ordinary exercise may become a public nuisance.

Watertown v. Mayo, 109 Mass. 318.

Where a person before the passage of the Statute of 1871, chap. 167, used and occupied a building on his own land as a slaughter-house, and therein slaughtered cattle, sheep and other animals, as a business, and after the passage of the statute he continued the business of slaughtering in said building, when the same caught fire accidentally, and was consumed, and afterwards he immediately rebuilt said slaughter-house on the same site, and continued his business of slaughtering cattle, sheep and other animals therein, and it further appeared that the new building was different from the old one in its construction and arrangement, but was not larger or more extensive in size or capacity, the court held that the right to continue, without license, the same business in the building was not forfeited, and the building was within the exception stated in the section.

* See Cattle Commission Statute, on a later page, requiring consent of authorities to be obtained annually in the case of certain trades. Acts of 1894, 491, § 17, as amended by Acts of 1895, 496, § 3.

Watertown v. Sawyer, 109 Mass. 320.

The manifest purpose of the legislature is to protect the business already established, in the place where it is carried on, not the identical building which happened to be standing for its use when the law was enacted.

Watertown v. Sawyer, 109 Mass. 320.

A person was the owner of land and buildings used for a long period for a melting and rendering establishment and for the manufacture of soap in Somerville, a city containing more than four thousand inhabitants. In this rendering business he made use of two open kettles; but the building in which they were placed did not cover the entire lot of land. In the year 1872 he tore down a part of his buildings, which were old and dilapidated, and, without consent or permission from the mayor and aldermen of Somerville, erected a new building, standing partly on land covered by the old buildings and partly on land that had not been so covered. The new building covered about one-third as much space as the old buildings, and was two stories high with a French roof, while the old buildings were, for the most part, only one story in height. The owner's purpose was to place in that part of the new building formerly covered by the old one a covered kettle or tank for melting and rendering purposes, and to use the residue of the building for storage and other purposes connected with his business, and to tear down and discontinue the use of the old buildings and of the two open kettles. The capacity of the proposed new tank for rendering purposes would not exceed, and might not equal, that of the two open kettles. The old buildings were standing and in use, except so far as displaced by the new building.

Upon these facts the court held that it did not appear that the defendant had enlarged the premises occupied by him for the business in question, or that he had increased or proposed to increase the business, and refused to issue an injunction restraining him from so enlarging and extending them.

against whom the application is made, and after such notice and hearing may, if in its judgment the public health or the public comfort and convenience so require, order any person to desist and cease from further carrying on said trades or occupations in such building or premises; and any person thereafter continuing so to occupy or use such building or premises shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars for every month of such occupancy and use, and in like proportion for a longer or shorter time.

Precisely the same power is given by sect. 84, chap. 80 of the Public Statutes, to the local boards of health, as by this section is given to the state board. The only difference is this, that the state board is bound to give notice to a party, and allow him a hearing, before it can pass an order of prohibition; but the local boards may pass an order of prohibition without any previous notice.

The corporation shall carry on all its business in accordance with such regulations as said state board shall, from time to time, establish and furnish in writing to the clerk of the corporation ; and for each violation of said regulations, it shall forfeit not less than twenty nor more than five hundred dollars.

P. S., 107, § 5.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such corporation may manufacture and sell any of the usual products of said slaughtering and melting and rendering business, or may lease or permit other persons to use their buildings or parts thereof, on such terms as may be agreed upon. 1874

Each member of the corporation may slaughter swine on said premises, subject to such regulations and tariff of prices as the corporation may by vote at any regular meeting establish, and to the regulations of the said state board. P. S., 80, § 96.

Acts of 1896, 252, § 1.

No sewage, drainage, or refuse or polluting matter, of such kind and amount as either by itself or in connection with other matter will corrupt or impair the quality of the water of any stream or pond hereinafter referred to, for domestic use, or render it injurious to health, and no human excrement, shall be discharged into any stream or pond used as a source of water supply by a city, town or water company, or upon whose banks any filter basin so used is situated, or into any stream so used, or upon whose banks such filter basin is situated, within twenty miles above the point where such supply is taken, or into any feeders of such pond or stream within such twenty miles. 1878

Sources of water supply not to be polluted.

Since the passage of the Statute of 1878, chap. 183, forbidding the discharge into any river or stream, used as a source of water supply by any city or town, within twenty miles above the point where such supply is taken, of any sewage, drainage, refuse or polluting matter of such quality or amount as to be deleterious to health, a person cannot acquire by prescription the right so to foul a stream within such distance, as against a city or town using the stream as its source of water supply.

Brookline v. Mackintosh, 133 Mass. 215.

See also Harris v. Mackintosh, 133 Mass. 228.

A landlord is liable for the acts of his tenant in polluting the waters of a brook, which is a natural watercourse running through the premises, by discharging sink water therein, if the building leased is adapted and intended to be used in the manner complained of, whether he retains control over the house or not.

In an action for polluting the waters of a brook, which is a natural watercourse, if the injury to the plaintiff resulting from the defendant's acts can be specifically ascertained, it is no defence that the plaintiff has also polluted the brook.

A land owner may collect the surface water of his land, and the water drawn from wells therein, into an artificial stream, and discharge this stream into a natural watercourse running through his land, provided that this is done in the reasonable use of his land, and that the volume of water is not increased beyond the natural capacity of the watercourse to discharge it, and the land of an adjoining owner is not thereby overflowed and materially injured.

Supreme or superior court may grant an injunction against a violation of P. S., ch. 80, § 96.

The supreme judicial court or superior court, in term time or vacation, upon the application of the mayor of a city, selectmen of a town or a water company interested, may grant an injunction against any violation of the provisions of section ninety-six of chapter eighty of the Public Statutes.

P. S., 80, § 97.

Certain rights not to be impaired. Prohibition not applicable to certain rivers.

1878

The preceding section [i.e., Pub. Stats., chap. 80, sect. 96] shall not be construed to destroy or impair rights acquired by legislative grant prior to the first day of July in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, or to destroy or impair prescriptive rights of drainage or discharge, to the extent to which they lawfully existed on that date; and nothing therein contained shall be construed to authorize the pollution of any waters in this commonwealth, in any manner contrary to law; nor shall it be applicable to the Merrimack or Connecticut rivers, or to so much of the Concord river as lies within the limits of the city of Lowell.

If a pond and the waters of a stream running into the pond are taken for the purpose of supplying a city with pure water, it is no defence to a petition in equity, under the Statutes of 1884, chap. 154, for an injunction to restrain a person from polluting the stream, that the city has, by means of a dike, prevented the waters of the stream from running into and polluting the waters of the pond.

Acts of 1888, 160.

Any city or town having a water supply may contract with any other city or town situated in the water-shed of such supply to contribute, on such terms as may be deemed proper, to the cost of building a sewer or system of sewers which will aid in protecting any part of the source of such water supply from pollution.

Cities and towns may unite in building sewers to protect water supply.

It shall annually on or before the tenth day of January report to the general court its doings in the preceding year, and at the same time submit estimates of the sums required to meet the expenses of said board in relation to the care and oversight of inland waters for the ensuing year, and it shall also recommend legislation and suitable plans for such systems of main sewers as it may deem necessary for the preservation of the public health, and for the purification and prevention of pollution of the ponds, streams, and inland waters of the Commonwealth.

It shall also from time to time consult with and advise persons or corporations engaged or intending to engage in any manufacturing or other business, drainage or sewage from which may tend to cause the pollution of any inland water, as to the best practicable method of preventing such pollution by the interception, disposal or purification of such drainage or sewage: provided, that no person shall be compelled to bear the expense of such consultation or advice, or of experiments made for the purposes of this act. All such authorities, corporations, firms and individuals are hereby required to give notice to said board of their intentions in the premises, and to submit for its advice outlines of their proposed plans or schemes in relation to water supply and disposal of drainage and sewage, and all petitions to the legislature for authority to introduce a system of water supply, drainage or sewerage shall be accompanied by a copy of the recommendation and advice of the said board thereon. Said board shall bring to the notice of the attorney-general all instances which may come to its knowledge of omission to comply with existing laws respecting the pollution of water supplies and inland waters, and shall annually report to the legislature any specific cases not covered by the provisions of existing laws, which in its opinion call for further legislation.

If a person by mistake of law or fact or by accident fails to appeal from any such order and to file his petition for a jury within ten days, and if he makes it appear to the court or justice that such failure was caused by mistake or accident and that he has not since the service of such order upon him violated such order, he may at any time within thirty days from the service of the order upon him appeal therefrom and file his petition for a jury with the same effect as if done within the said ten days. During the pendency of the appeal the order of the said board of health shall be complied with unless otherwise authorized by said board after the appeal. Towns may establish and maintain public baths, etc.

A town in which chapter two hundred and fourteen of the statutes of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-four has been duly accepted, or in which this and the following section have been accepted by two thirds of the legal voters present and voting at an annual meeting, may purchase or lease lands, and erect, alter, enlarge, repair and improve buildings for public baths and wash-houses, either with or without open drying grounds, and may make open bathing places, and may fit up and furnish all of the same with the requisite furniture, fittings, and conveniences, and may raise and appropriate money therefor.

common the possession, care and control of said lot during her life. If he leaves a widow and no children, she shall have the possession, care and control of such lot during her life. If he leaves children and no widow, they or the survivor of them shall in common have the possession, care and control of such lot during the life of the survivor of them. The parties having such possession, care and control of such lot during the term thereof, may erect a monument and make other permanent improvements thereon. The widow shall have a right of interment for her own body in such lot or in a tomb in such lot, and a right to have her body remain permanently interred or entombed therein, except that her body may be removed therefrom to some other family lot or tomb with the consent of her heirs. At any time when more than one person is entitled to the possession, care and control of such lot, the persons so entitled thereto shall designate in writing to the clerk of the corporation which of their number shall represent the lot, and on their failure so to designate, the board of trustees or directors of the corporation shall enter of record which of said parties shall represent the lot, while such failure continues. The widow may at any time release her right in such lot, but no conveyance or devise by any other person shall deprive her of such right.

Acts of 1885, 278, § 1.

Boards of health
may make regulations.

1816

Boards of health of cities and towns may prohibit the use by undertakers, for the purpose of speculation, of tombs as places of deposit for bodies committed to them for burial; may, if in their opinion the public health requires it, close any tomb, burial ground, cemetery or other place of burial within the city or town, for such length of time as they may deem necessary for the protection of the public health; may make all regulations which they judge necessary concerning burial grounds and interments within their respective limits, and may establish penalties not exceeding one hundred dollars for any breach of such regulations.

The powers given to boards of health are large and general to make regulations for the interment of the dead and respecting burying-grounds.

Withington v. Harvard, 8 Cush. 68.

This section is not confined in its operation to acts done within the burial grounds. The word "interments" properly includes and describes the removal of the bodies of deceased persons for the purpose of burial.

That this necessary duty shall be performed, especially when undertaken for hire, by suitable and trustworthy persons, and that the moving of dead bodies through the public streets shall be conducted with decency and safety, are obviously matters proper for municipal regulation, and which, as well as the mode of burial, may concern the public health to no slight extent.

Commonwealth v. Goodrich, 13 Allen, 546.

cf. Austin v. Murray, 16 Pick. 121.

Commonwealth v. Parks, 155 Mass. 531, 533.

The board of health of a city may establish a regulation prohibiting any person, unless appointed an undertaker or otherwise authorized by the board of health, from moving from any house or other place in the city to any place of burial the body of any deceased person, and making it the duty of undertakers to attend funerals when required, and to collect and pay over the burial fees, and requiring, further, each undertaker to give bonds in the sum of two hundred dollars for the faithful performance of his duties.

The refusal or neglect of a person appointed an undertaker to give the bond required by the regulation would justify the revocation of his appointment without any previous notice to him.

Commonwealth v. Goodrich, 13 Allen, 546.

P. S., 82, § 20.

Notice of such regulations shall be given by publishing the same in some newspaper of the city or town or, if there is no such newspaper, by posting a copy in some public place therein; which shall be deemed legal notice to all persons.

Boards of health to give notice of regulations.

P. S., 80, § 21.

For every interment in violation of section eighteen, chapter eighty-two of the Public Statutes, in a city or town in which the notice prescribed in the preceding section has been given, the owner of the land so used shall forfeit not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars.

Penalty for interments in violation of section eighteen.

P. S., 82, § 22.

Before a tomb, burial-ground, or cemetery is closed by order of such board of health for a time longer than one month, all persons interested shall have an opportunity to be heard, and personal notice of the time and place of hearing shall be given to at least one owner of the tomb, and to three at least, if so many there are, of the proprietors of such burial-ground or cemetery, and notice

Appeal from order of board.

1855

1859

The owner of a tomb aggrieved by the order of the board of health closing a tomb, burial-ground, or cemetery, may appeal therefrom, and at any time within six months from the date of the order enter his appeal in the superior court; and the appellant shall give the board of health fourteen days' notice of his appeal previous to the entry thereof. But the order of the board shall remain in force until a decision is had on the appeal.

Costs.

Appeals shall be tried in regular course before a jury, and if a jury find that the tomb, burial-ground or cemetery so closed was not a nuisance nor injurious to the public health at the time of the order, and that the closing thereof was not necessary for the protection of the public health, the court shall rescind such order so far as it affects such tomb, burial-ground or cemetery; and execution for the costs of the appeal shall issue in favor of the appellant, against the city or town in which the same was situated. But if the order is sustained execution shall issue for double costs against the appellant in favor of the board of health for the use of the city or town.

be procured,
etc.

No undertaker, sexton or other person shall bury in a city or town or remove therefrom a human body until he has received a permit so to do from the board of health or its duly appointed agent, or, if there is no board of health in such city or town, from the city or town clerk. No such permit shall be issued until there has been delivered to such board, or agent or clerk, as the case may be, a satisfactory written statement containing the facts required by this chapter to be returned and recorded, together with the certificate of the attending physician, if any, as required by section three of this chapter, or in lieu thereof a certificate as hereinafter provided. If there is no attending physician, or if the certificate of the attending physician cannot be obtained, for good and sufficient reasons, early enough for the purpose, the chairman of the board of health or any physician employed by a city or town for the purpose shall, upon request of said board, agent or clerk, make such certificate as is required of the attending physician; and in case of death by violence the medical examiner shall, if requested, make the same. When such satisfactory statement and certificate are delivered to the board of health or to its agent, the board or agent shall forthwith countersign and transmit the same to the clerk or registrar for registration. The person to whom the permit is so given shall thereafter furnish for registration any other information as to the deceased or to the manner and cause of the death, as the clerk or registrar may require. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars. Penalty.

Acts of 1887, 335.

No railroad corporation, or other common carrier or person, shall convey or cause to be conveyed, through or from any city or town in this Commonwealth, the remains of any person who has died of small-pox, scarlet-fever, diphtheria, or typhoid fever, until such body has been so encased and prepared as to preclude any danger of communicating the disease to others by its transportation; and no local registrar or clerk shall give a permit for the removal of such body until he has received from the board of health of the city, or the selectmen of the town where the death occurred, a certificate stating the cause of death, and that said body has been prepared in the manner set forth in this section, which certificate shall be delivered to the agent or person who receives the body. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by fine, not exceeding twenty-five dollars. Penalty.

1830

Whoever, not being authorized by the board of health, overseers of the poor, directors of a workhouse, or mayor and aldermen or selectmen of a city or town, or by the board of directors for public institutions or overseers of the poor of the city of Boston, wilfully digs up, disinters, removes, or conveys away a human body or the remains thereof, or knowingly aids in such disinterment, removal, or conveying away, and whoever is accessory thereto either before or after the fact, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison or jail not exceeding three years or by fine not exceeding two thousand dollars.

Penalty.

The common law, in relation to the offence of disinterring a dead body, is superseded by Statute of 1814, chap. 175, so that an indictment for this offence must conclude contra formam statuti.

Commonwealth v. Cooley, 10 Pick. 37.

The removal of a dead body is not an offence within the meaning of Statute of 1830, chap. 57 (Pub. Stats., chap. 130, sect. 19), unless it is removed with the intent to use it or dispose of it for the purpose of dissection; wherefore, in an indictment on that statute, such an intent should be averred.

Commonwealth v. Slack, 19 Pick. 304.

P. S., 207, § 48.

Buying, selling,
or having dead
body for purpose of sale,
etc.
Penalty.

Whoever buys, sells, or has in his possession for the purpose of buying, selling, or trafficking in the dead body of a human being, shall be punished by fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the jail for not less than three months nor more than three years.

P. S., 207, § 49.

Injuring or de-facing tomb, memorial of dead, etc.

Whoever wilfully destroys, mutilates, defaces, injures, or removes a tomb, monument, gravestone, or other structure or thing placed or designed for a memorial of the dead, or a fence, railing, curb, or other thing intended for the protection or ornament of a tomb, monument, gravestone, or other structure before mentioned, or of an enclosure for the burial of the dead, or wilfully destroys, mutilates, removes, cuts, breaks, or injures a tree, shrub, or plant placed or being within such enclosure, or wantonly or maliciously disturbs the contents of a tomb or grave, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the jail or house of correction not exceeding three years. Penalty.

An ancient burial ground, which for sixty years has been separated by a fence from the adjoining land, and used occasionally for burials until the present time, may be described as a public burial ground in an indictment for destroying trees in a place of burial, under Gen. Stats., chap. 28, sect. 12, although it can only be reached by a way, which has always been used for the purpose, over an adjoining private estate, of which it was originally a part, and the owners of which built and have maintained the fence for their own convenience, and have depastured the burial ground, cut the trees upon it and cultivated parts of it at their pleasure, under a claim of right, and no one else has exercised or claimed any control over the same until the town in which it lies assumed the charge thereof within three years.

Cutting trees upon a public burial ground for purposes of private profit, without consent of the public authorities having charge of it, is a violation of the Gen. Stats., chap. 28, sect. 12, which provides a penalty for destroying trees within the limits of a place of burial, although the person who cuts them is the owner of the fee of the land, and honestly believes that his acts are lawful.

Commonwealth v. Viall, 2 Allen, 512.

If an indictment for wrongfully desecrating and disfiguring a public burying ground contains an accurate description of it by metes and bounds, the proof must correspond with the averment; and it is not sufficient to prove that a part of the lot described was a public burying ground, although the acts complained of were committed upon that part.

A place may be shown to be a public burying ground, in the trial of an indictment for wrongfully desecrating and disfiguring it, by evidence of use and occupation for the purposes of burial by others than the owners of the soil, and as of right; and if it has once acquired that character, it will not cease to have it by mere disuse.

It is no defence to an indictment for wrongfully desecrating and disfiguring a public burying ground to show that the defendant was the owner of the fee of small lots within it, under titles derived from various grantees to whom they had been conveyed, "to be used for burial ground;" and evidence to show such ownership is inadmissible.

Commonwealth v. Wellington, 7 Allen, 299.

A land owner may lawfully build on his land, without regard to the effect of the structure in excluding surface water which otherwise would flow from lands adjoining, and it is immaterial that the adjoining land is a burial ground.

The erection of a structure on land of the builder to exclude surface water which otherwise would flow from an adjoining burial ground is not a violation of the provisions of the Gen. Stats., chap. 28, sect. 12, and chap. 165, sect. 39, for the protection of places of burial from injury or desecration.

Bates v. Smith, 100 Mass. 181.

P. S., 207, § 50.

Desecration of burial ground.

Whoever wrongfully, and by any act not included in the provisions of the preceding section, destroys, injures, or removes a building, fence, railing, or other thing lawfully erected in or around a place of burial or cemetery, or a tree, shrub, or plant situate within its limits, or wrongfully injures a walk or path, or places rubbish or offensive matter or commits a nuisance therein, or in any way desecrates or disfigures the same, shall forfeit for every such offence not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars. Upon the trial of a prosecution for the recovery of such penalty, use and occupation for the purposes of burial shall be deemed sufficient evidence of title.

Penalty.

Penalty for removing flowers,
flags or other memorial tokens
from graves.

Whoever, without authority, removes any flowers, flags or memorial tokens from any grave, tomb, monument or burial lot in any cemetery, or other place of burial shall be punished by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offence.

Acts of 1887, 250, § 1.

The governor is hereby authorized to accept on behalf of the state the rules and regulations prepared by the commissioner of agriculture, under and in pursuance of section three of an act of congress approved on the twenty-ninth day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-four, entitled "an act for the establishment of a bureau of animal industry, to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle and to provide means for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases among domestic animals," and to cooperate with the authorities of the United States in the enforcement of the provisions of said act.

Acts of 1894, 491, § 2.

Acts of 1894, 491, § 4.
Acts of 1895, 496, § 1.

To inspect domestic animals.

Said inspectors shall make regular and thorough inspections of all neat cattle, sheep and swine found within the limits of their several cities and towns. Such inspections shall be made at such times and in such manner as the board of cattle commissioners shall from time to time determine and direct. They shall also make, from time to time, inspections of all other domestic animals within the limits of their several cities and towns, whenever they have knowledge or reason to suspect that such animals are affected with or have been exposed to any contagious disease, and they shall immediately inspect any and all domestic animals and any barn, stable, or premises where any such animals are kept, whenever directed so to do by the board of cattle commissioners or any of its members: provided, nothing in this act shall apply to the inspection of sheep or swine slaughtered in wholesale slaughtering establishments, or to the obtaining of a license for the slaughtering of such sheep or swine.

Whenever any animal has been quarantined by an inspector under the provisions of this act such animal shall remain in quarantine until the further order of the board of health of the city or town wherein said animal is confined, or of the board of cattle commissioners or any of its members.

diseased or unfit for food, or when such meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions are found, on such inspection, to be tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed or unwholesome, from any cause, such inspector shall seize the same and cause it or them to be destroyed forthwith, or disposed of otherwise than for food; but if at the time of such seizure the owner of the property so seized notifies in writing the inspector seizing the same that he desires to appeal to the board of health of such city or town, such inspector shall retain the possession of such carcass, meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions so seized, and shall immediately notify such board of health of such appeal, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such board of health or a committee thereof, consisting of not less than two members, to hear the parties or inspect such seized carcass, meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions, and if, in the opinion of said board or said committee, the same is tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed or unwholesome, they shall order the same to be destroyed forthwith, or to be disposed of otherwise than for food. If said board or committee do not so find they shall order said carcass, meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions to be forthwith returned to the owner thereof. All moneys received by said inspectors or board of health for property disposed of as aforesaid shall, after deducting all expenses incurred by reason of said seizure, be paid to the owner of such property.

Acts of 1894, 491, § 11.

Whenever such inspector seizes or condemns any such carcass or meat by reason of the presence of, or of its being affected with, any contagious disease, he shall immediately notify the board of cattle commissioners, giving the name of the owner or person in whose possession the said meat or carcass was found, the nature of the disease and the disposition made of said meat or carcass.

ordered so to do by the board of health of such city or town, and if said veal is, in the opinion of said inspector, that of a calf killed under four weeks old, he shall seize the same and cause it to be destroyed or disposed of as provided in the preceding section, subject however to the provisions therein contained concerning appeal and the disposal of moneys.

P. S., 208, § 2.

Killing for sale,
or selling calf
less than four weeks old.

1866

Whoever kills or causes to be killed, for the purpose of sale, any calf less than four weeks old, or knowingly sells, or has in his possession with intent to sell, the meat of any calf killed when less than four weeks old, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail or house of correction not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, or by both such imprisonment and fine; and all such meat exposed for sale, or kept with intent to make sale thereof, may be seized and destroyed by any board of health or health officer, or by any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable or police officer.

Where a party is charged with an offence of "killing, or causing to be killed, for the purpose of sale, any calf less than four weeks old," it is not necessary to allege in the indictment or prove that he knew the calf to be less than four weeks old. The defendant is bound to know the facts and obey the law at his peril.

Under the next clause of this section, the offence is not the killing of the calf, but "knowingly" selling, or having in possession with intent to sell, the meat of a calf killed when less than four weeks old; and this language makes the defendant's knowledge essential to be alleged and proved.

The legislature saw fit to make the man who kills, or causes to be killed, a calf for the purpose of sale, at all events punishable if the animal was less than four weeks old; but to punish the man who sells veal only in case he knows it to have been killed when under four weeks old.

or any part thereof, enclosure or enclosures, or other place where any such animal, carcass, meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions of any kind are stored or kept, or exposed for slaughter or sale, and may examine or inspect the same. Any person who prevents, obstructs or interferes with any such inspector or other person having the power and authority conferred upon inspectors under this section, in the performance of any of his duties as provided herein, or who shall hinder, obstruct or interfere with his making any such inspection or examination, or who shall secrete or remove any animal, carcass, meat, fish, vegetables, fruit or provisions of any kind, for the purpose of preventing the same from being inspected or examined under the provisions of this act, shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to imprisonment in jail not exceeding sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Penalty for obstructing inspector, etc.

Acts of 1894, 491, § 14.

When complaint is made on oath to any police, district or municipal court, or any magistrate authorized to issue warrants in criminal cases, that the complainant believes that any diseased animal or carcass, or any tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed or unwholesome meat, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit or provisions of any kind, or any veal of a calf killed under four weeks old, are kept or concealed in a particular building or place with the intent to kill, sell or offer for sale for food, the same or any product thereof, the court or magistrate, if satisfied there is reasonable cause for such belief, shall issue a warrant to search for such animals or articles, and all such warrants shall be directed and executed as provided in section three of chapter two hundred and twelve of the Public Statutes. If, upon hearing, said court or magistrate determines that any such diseased animal or carcass, or any such tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed or unwholesome article, or any of them, were kept or concealed for any of the purposes aforesaid, the same shall be destroyed or disposed of by an inspector appointed hereunder, or by any officer designated by the court or magistrate, and such disposal shall be in accordance with the provisions of section ten of this act. If the court or magistrate does not so determine, said animals or articles shall be returned to the owner.

Board of health may cause publication of certain facts.

The board of health for the city or town where any animal or property has been condemned under the provisions of sections ten and twelve of this act, may cause to be published in two newspapers published in the county in which said property was found, a description of the place where such condemned property was found, and the name of every person in whose possession the same was found, and may also cause to be published the name of every person convicted of an offence under section fifteen of this act.

Acts of 1895, 496, § 3.

Every such application shall be sworn to before a justice of the peace.

Acts of 1894, 491, § 18.

Acts of 1895, 496, § 4.

The mayor and aldermen of cities and the selectmen of towns, or such other board of officers as they shall designate, may annually issue to persons applying therefor licenses to carry on the business of slaughtering neat cattle, sheep or swine, and there shall be paid to such city or town for every such license, by the person or persons obtaining the same, a fee of one dollar. Every such license shall name the person or persons licensed to conduct such business, the building or establishment where the same is to be carried on, and such license shall continue until the first day of May of the year next ensuing, or until sooner forfeited or rendered void. The board or officer of every city or town authorized to issue licenses hereby, shall keep a record of all applications for licenses under section seventeen, and shall record therein every license issued by him or them, and such records shall be competent evidence in any court of the issue of any such license. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be Penalty. punished by a fine of five dollars for each and every day such offence continues, and any court having equity jurisdiction may restrain any such erection, occupation or use contrary to the provisions of this act.

On a bill in equity praying that the defendants be enjoined from erecting or causing to be erected a stable, it appeared that they had received from the board of health of the city a license to erect it, granted under the Statutes of 1891, chap. 220, at a public hearing at which the petitioners were represented. The petitioners wished to introduce evidence of what would be the natural and probable effect of the erection and use of the proposed building according to the terms of the license. Held, that the statute gave the determination of this question to the board of health, and that the bill should be dismissed with costs.

The provisions of Statute of 1891, chap. 220, prohibiting the erection, occupation or use of any building in any city for a stable for more than four horses, unless first licensed so to do by the board of health of the city, are an exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth, and are constitutional, although no provision is made for compensation and no right of appeal is given.

Acts of 1885, 352, § 5.

An inspector appointed under the provisions of said chapter two hundred and sixty-three of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-two shall have the same powers and authority conferred upon a city or town inspector by section two of chapter fifty-seven of the Public Statutes. [As amended by section 4 of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1885:] They shall also have the power and authority conferred upon inspectors of milk by section twenty of chapter fifty-six of the Public Statutes. Selling corrupt or unwholesome provisions without notice.

1784

The gist of the offence under this section consists in the guilty knowledge or evil intent of a party in selling what he knows to be unfit for food. The sale, of itself, is not made criminal; but it is the sale coupled with the knowledge of the diseased state of the thing sold which constitutes the offence.

Commonwealth v. Boynton, 12 Cush. 499.

P. S., 208, § 3.

Adulterating
food.

Whoever fraudulently adulterates, for the purpose of sale, bread or any other substance intended for food, with any substance injurious to health, or knowingly barter, gives away, sells, or has in possession with intent to sell, any substance intended for food, which has been adulterated with any substance injurious to health, shall be punished by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars; and the articles so adulterated shall be forfeited, and destroyed under the direction of the court.

An indictment under the Gen. Sts., chap. 166, sect. 3, which charges the defendant with unlawfully and fraudulently adulterating "a certain substance intended for food, to wit, one pound of confectionery," does not sufficiently describe the substance alleged to have been adulterated, and, if seasonably objected to for that cause, must be quashed.

Commonwealth v. Chase, 125 Mass. 202.

P. S., 208, § 4.

Adulterating

Acts of 1896, 272.

Liquors sold
must be of good standard quality.

Section nine of chapter one hundred of the Public Statutes is hereby amended by striking out all of the third clause and inserting in place thereof the following:—Third, That no spirituous or intoxicating liquor shall be sold, exchanged or delivered, or exposed, offered or kept for sale, exchange or delivery, upon the premises described in any license, except such as is of good standard quality, and such as is free from any adulteration prohibited in the Pharmacopœia of the United States, and under the several acts relating to adulteration of food and drugs, for either a food or a drug. And if marked, labeled, or represented as being the product of any foreign country it shall also be of the standard quality required for its legal sale for domestic use in the country of its reputed production. All such liquors as are sold, exchanged or delivered, or which are exposed or kept for sale, exchange or delivery, under a license of the sixth class, shall be of the quality required for their sale as drugs under the provision of the acts relating to the adulteration of food and drugs.

Foreign liquors to be of the quality required in country where produced.

Acts of 1896, 397, § 19.

Whoever fraudulently adulterates, for the purpose of sale, any drug or medicine, or sells any fraudulently adulterated drug or medicine, knowing the same to be adulterated, shall be punished by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding four hundred dollars; and such adulterated drugs and medicines shall be forfeited, and destroyed under the direction of the court.

The name of an antidote, if there be any, for the poison sold shall also be upon the label. RELATIVE TO

SPECIAL ARTICLES OF FOOD.

OF THE INSPECTION AND SALE OF MILK AND MILK PRODUCTS.

P. S., 57, § 1.

Appointment of inspectors of milk.

1864

The mayor and aldermen of cities shall, and the selectmen of towns may, annually appoint one or more persons to be inspectors of milk for their respective places, who shall be sworn before entering upon the duties of their office. Each inspector shall publish a notice of his appointment for two weeks in a newspaper published in his city or town, or, if no newspaper is published therein, he shall post up such notice in two or more public places in such city or town.

P. S., 57, § 2.

Acts of 1885, 352, § 4.

Acts of 1886, 318, § 1.

Their duties
and powers.

Such inspectors shall keep an office, and shall record in books kept for the purpose the names and places of business of all persons engaged in the sale of milk within their city or town. Said inspectors may, with the approval of the mayor or the selectmen, employ suitable persons to act as collectors of samples, who shall be sworn before entering upon their duties. Said inspectors, or the collectors employed and qualified as aforesaid, may enter all places where milk is stored or kept for sale, and all carriages used for the conveyance of milk, and the said inspectors or the collectors may take samples for analysis from all such places or carriages, and at the same time a portion of each sample so taken shall, if the person taking the same be requested so to do, be sealed and delivered to the owner or person from whose possession the same is taken and a receipt given therefor to the person taking the same. The inspectors shall cause the samples of milk so taken to be analyzed or otherwise satisfactorily tested, the results of which analysis or test they shall record and preserve as evidence. The inspectors shall receive such compensation as the mayor and aldermen or selectmen may determine.

Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 2 (Statute of 1864, chap. 122, sect. 2), so far as it authorizes inspectors of milk to enter all carriages used in the conveyance of milk, and, whenever they have reason to believe any milk found therein is adulterated, to take specimens thereof for the purpose of analyzing or otherwise satisfactorily testing the same, is constitutional.

Commonwealth v. Carter, 132 Mass. 12.

Placing wax upon the top of the cork in a bottle containing a portion reserved from a sample of milk taken for analysis, and not extending the wax over the mouth of the bottle and thus rendering the bottle air-tight, is not a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the Statutes of 1884, chap. 310, sect. 4, that such reserved portion shall be "sealed."

Commonwealth v. Lockhardt, 144 Mass. 132.

Acts of 1886, 318, § 3.

If the said inspector or collector after being so requested shall refuse or neglect to seal and deliver to the owner or person from whose possession the same is taken, as provided in section one of this act, a portion of the sample taken as aforesaid, no evidence shall be received in any court of the results of the analysis or test of the same, which may have been recorded and preserved as aforesaid.

No evidence of analysis to be received if inspector neglects to deliver sample.

The fact that a collector of samples of milk, who was not acting under the authority of the Statute of 1886, chap. 318, made a purchase of milk in a restaurant and retained a portion thereof for analysis without disclosing that he was such a collector, and without giving to the person from whom it was purchased an opportunity to ask for a sealed sample, will not render evidence incompetent to show that the milk so purchased was below the legal standard.

Commonwealth v. Coleman, 157 Mass. 460.

Acts of 1886, 318, § 4.

Acts of 1896, 398, § 3.

Penalty for imitating seal or tampering with sample.

Whoever makes, causes to be made, uses or has in his possession any imitation or counterfeit of any seal used by any inspector of milk, collector of samples or other official engaged in the inspection of milk, and whoever changes or in any way tampers with any sample taken or sealed as provided in section two, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and by imprisonment in the house of correction not less than three nor more than six months.

P. S., 57, § 3.

Persons selling milk from carriages to be licensed.

In all cities, and in all towns in which there is an inspector of milk, every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise for the purpose of selling the same in such city or town shall annually, on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter, be licensed by the inspector or inspectors of milk of such city or town to sell milk within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such inspector or inspectors fifty cents each to the use of the city or town. The inspector or inspectors shall pay over monthly to the treasurer of such city or town all sums collected by him or them. Licenses shall be issued only in the names of the owners of carriages or other vehicles, and shall for the purposes of this chapter be conclusive evidence of ownership. No license shall be sold, assigned, or transferred. Each license shall record the name, residence, place of business, number of carriages or other vehicles used, name and residence of every driver or other person engaged in carrying or selling said milk, and the number of the license. Each licensee shall before engaging in the sale of milk cause his name, the number of his license, and his place of business to be legibly placed on each outer side of all carriages or vehicles used by him in the conveyance and sale of milk, and he shall report to the inspector or inspectors any change of driver or other person employed by him which may occur during the term of his license. Whoever, without being first licensed under the provisions of this section, sells milk or exposes it for sale from carriages or other vehicles, or has it in his custody or possession with intent so to sell and whoever violates any of the provisions of this section, shall for a first offence be punished by fine of not less than thirty nor more than one hundred dollars; for a second offence by fine of not less than fifty nor more than three hundred dollars; and for a subsequent offence by fine of fifty dollars and by imprisonment in the house of correction for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days.

P. S., 57, § 4.

Every person before selling milk or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand or market-place in a city or in a town in which an inspector or inspectors of milk are appointed, shall register in the books of such inspector or inspectors, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects so to register shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

Persons selling milk in stores, etc., to be registered.

1880

P. S., 57, § 5.

Acts of 1886, 318, § 2.

Whoever, by himself or by his servant or agent, or as the servant or agent of any other person, sells, exchanges or delivers, or has in his custody or possession with intent to sell or exchange, or exposes or offers for sale or exchange, adulterated milk, or milk to which water or any foreign substance has been added, or milk produced from cows fed on the refuse of distilleries, or from sick or diseased cows, or milk not of good standard quality, shall, for a first offence, be punished by fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars; for a second offence, by fine of not less than one hundred nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the house of correction for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days, and, for a subsequent offence, by fine of fifty dollars and by imprisonment in the house of correction for not less than sixty nor more than ninety days.

Penalty for selling, etc., adulterated milk.

An indictment which alleges that the defendant "did unlawfully keep, offer for sale and sell" adulterated milk charges but one offence.

In support of such indictment, one, who in a great many instances has used a lactometer for the purpose of testing the quality and the purity of milk, may testify to the result of an experiment made by him with the same lactometer upon the milk in question, although no evidence is offered as to the character of the instrument.

Commonwealth v. Nichols, 10 Allen, 199.

At the trial of an indictment on Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5 (Statute of 1868, chap. 263), for selling adulterated milk, there was evidence that the defendant [who was a son of the owner of a milk route], with a companion who was in the same employment with himself, knowingly adulterated milk on its way for distribution to his father's customers, and then, having charge, with his companion, of its distribution from the wagon on which it was conveyed upon the route, caused a can of it to be delivered to one of the customers by the hand of his companion. Held, that he had no ground of exception to instructions to the jury, that, in the absence of proof of any previous contract to supply milk to the customer, the delivery might be deemed an act of sale; nor to an instruction framed on a supposition that the jury might find that he was in the employment of his father, although there was no averment in the indictment to that effect.

Commonwealth v. Haynes, 107 Mass. 194.

A person may be convicted of selling adulterated milk upon a complaint under Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5 (Statute of 1880, chap. 209, sect. 3), without allegation or proof that he knew it to be adulterated.

Commonwealth v. Evans, 132 Mass. 11.

A complaint under Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging that the defendant, at a time and place named, had in his possession a certain quantity, to wit, one pint, of adulterated milk, to wit, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, with intent then and there unlawfully to sell the same, is sufficient, without further alleging that the milk was analyzed, and found on analysis to contain less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids. At the trial of a complaint under Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging that the defendant had in his possession adulterated milk, to wit, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, with intent to sell the same, it is immaterial in what manner the quantity of milk solids has been reduced below thirteen per cent., if the intent is to sell the milk as pure milk, and not as skimmed milk.

Commonwealth v. Bowers, 140 Mass. 483.

A complaint, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging, in one count, that the defendant, at a time and place named, sold a certain quantity, to wit, one pint, of adulterated milk, to wit, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, and in another count alleging that the defendant, at the same time and place, had in his possession a certain quantity, to wit, one pint, of adulterated milk, to wit, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, with intent then and there unlawfully to sell the same, is sufficient, without further alleging that the milk was analyzed, and found, on analysis, to contain less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids.

The Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 10, do not prohibit any person not an inspector of milk from making a complaint for a violation of the provisions of the chapter.

A complaint, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging that the defendant sold one pint of adulterated milk, to wit, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, is not supported by the proof that he sold the milk as skimmed milk out of a tank marked as required by sect. 7, although the milk was watered.

A complaint under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging a sale of adulterated milk, to wit, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, is supported by proof of a sale of milk, which, by the removal of a part of the cream, has been reduced to solids below thirteen per cent., unless the milk was sold as skimmed milk, and out of a vessel, can, or package marked as required by sect. 7; and it is not necessary that a complaint charging such offence should be drawn under sect. 6.

At the trial of a complaint, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging, in the first count, a sale by the defendant, at a time and place named, of adulterated milk, and, in the second count, the having in his possession, at the same time and place, such milk, with intent unlawfully to sell the same, the defendant asked the judge to rule, that, "if the jury find, on the evidence, that there was a consummated sale, they cannot convict under the second count." The judge declined so to rule, and, after instructing the jury as to what would authorize a conviction on the first count, instructed them that, "if they should further find that the defendant kept the same milk with intent to sell it, they would be authorized to return a verdict of guilty on the second count." Held, that the defendant had no ground for exception.

Commonwealth v. Tobias, 141 Mass. 129.

At the trial of a complaint, under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, alleging that the defendant had in his possession adulterated milk, with intent unlawfully to sell the same, the evidence showed that a wagon with the defendant's name and a number on it was standing upon a public street in a city at an early hour of the morning; that the defendant's servant was on the wagon, and there were several eight-quart cans in the wagon; that a collector of samples in the employ of the inspector of milk for the city took a sample of milk from one of the cans, which was not marked "skimmed milk;" and that an analysis of the milk taken showed that it was below the legal standard. Held, that there was evidence of an intent on the part of the defendant to sell the milk, which was properly submitted to the jury.

Commonwealth v. Smith, 143 Mass. 169.

At the trial of an indictment on the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, charging the defendant with having adulterated milk in his possession, with intent unlawfully to sell the same, an analyst in the employ of the inspector of milk may testify to the result of his analysis of the milk taken from the defendant from memory, using a memorandum made by him at the time of analysis to refresh his memory, without further proof that the requirements of the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 2, as amended by the Statutes of 1884, chap. 310, sect. 3, having been complied with.

At the trial of an indictment on the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, charging the defendant with having adulterated milk in his possession with intent unlawfully to sell the same, an analyst in the employ of the inspector of milk, who analyzed the milk taken from the defendant, testified that he reserved a portion of the milk so taken by putting it into a bottle, which he corked and sealed. A chemist to whom the analyst delivered a portion of the milk so reserved, testified, for the defendant, that the bottle was not sealed. The defendant asked the judge to rule that, if the bottle was corked only, it was not a compliance with the Statutes of 1884, chap. 310, sect. 4, as to the sealing of such reserved portion. The judge declined so to rule, and instructed the jury that they might consider the evidence as bearing upon the credibility of the government witness. Held, that the defendant had no ground for exception.

If at a trial of an indictment on the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, charging the defendant with having adulterated milk in his possession, with intent unlawfully to sell the same, an analyst in the employ of the inspector of milk of a city testifies that he added, for the preserving it, a few drops of carbolic acid to the sample reserved from milk delivered to him for analysis, it is a question of fact for the jury whether the reservation of the sample was in accordance with the requirement of the Statutes of 1884, chap. 310, sect. 4.

Commonwealth v. Spear, 143 Mass. 172

A complaint on the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, alleging that, on the first day of July, 1886, the defendant had in his possession "one pint of milk not of standard quality, that is to say, milk containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, with intent then and there unlawfully to sell the same within this Commonwealth," is sufficient, without negating the exception of the months of May and June.

The Statutes of 1885, chap. 352, sect. 6, provide that sect. 9 of the Pub. Stats., chap. 57 (which relates to the sale of adulterated milk), "Is hereby amended so as to read as follows." In each section, after the words quoted, there follows a sentence which covers the whole subject of the original section. Held, that the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, was a valid enactment.

The Statutes of 1884, chap. 310, sect. 4, providing for the reservation and sealing, before commencing the analysis, of a portion of the sample of milk taken for analysis, is impliedly repealed by the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, sects. 1, 3.

Commonwealth v. Kenneson, 143 Mass. 418.

The Statute of 1885, chap. 352, sect. 8, provides that no person shall sell, or have in his possession with intent to sell, skimmed milk below a certain standard, and enacts that whoever violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by the penalties provided in the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5. Held, on a complaint, made under the Statutes of 1885, chap. 352, sect. 8, for an offence committed after the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, 2, took effect, that even if the last-named statute repealed by implication the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, the complaint could be maintained.

Commonwealth v. Kendall, 144 Mass. 357.

On a complaint for the sale of milk not of good standard quality, evidence that the milk was delivered under a special contract is immaterial.

If a buyer of milk takes a portion to a milk inspector, the latter may testify on the trial of such a complaint as to the results of his analysis.

Commonwealth v. Holt, 146 Mass. 38.

An averment in a complaint under the milk acts, that the defendants were "partners," is mere surplusage, and need not be proved.

On such a complaint, evidence that the defendant was on a wagon with a license number on it, and containing milk cans, from one of which was taken adulterated milk, is competent on the issue that he was in possession of the milk to sell it.

Commonwealth v. Rowell, 146 Mass. 128.

A motion to quash an indictment because it "sets forth no crime or offence known to the law," made after the impanelling of the jury, is filed too late; nor does it assign "specifically the objection relied on," within the Pub. Stats., chap. 214, sect. 25.

An indictment on the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, alleging that the defendant had in his "possession milk to which a certain foreign substance had been added, to wit, annotto coloring matter," with intent unlawfully to sell the same, is sufficient without naming the quantity.

Evidence offered at the trial of such an indictment as to two samples of milk, taken from the defendant's possession at substantially the same time, is competent, and the government cannot be required at the time of the offer, if ever, to elect which sample it will rely on.

The addition of annotto coloring matter, whether injurious to health or not, is punishable under the statute.

Evidence that the milk was of low grade is competent, although it may tend to prove another offence.

Commonwealth v. Schaffner, 146 Mass. 512.

Complaint under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, as amended by the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, to the municipal court of the Charlestown district in the city of Boston, alleging that the defendant, on March 27, 1890, "did have in his possession milk to which a foreign substance had been added, to wit, annotto coloring matter," with intent unlawfully to sell the same.

Under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, as amended by the Statutes of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, relating to the adulteration of "milk," it is an offence to have in one's possession skimmed milk containing a foreign substance with intent unlawfully to sell the same.

Commonwealth v. Wetherbee, 153 Mass. 159.

A hotel-keeper, who sells milk to his guests to be drunk by them on his premises, may be convicted of an offence under the Statute of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, if the milk so sold is not of the required standard of quality.

If a sale of milk, which is not of the required standard of quality, is made by a hotel-keeper's servant, in the ordinary course of his employment, to a guest to be drunk on the premises, the hotel-keeper will be responsible therefor, under the Statute of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, though he was not present and did not consent to or know of the particular sale.

Commonwealth v. Vieth, 155 Mass. 442.

A complaint under Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, charging the defendant with having in his possession, with intent to sell, milk to which a foreign substance had been added, is sustained by proof of possession, with that intent, of cream to which boracic acid had been added.

A complaint under Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 5, charging the defendant with having in his possession, with intent to sell, milk to which a foreign substance had been added, was heard on an "agreed statement of facts," which was not a case stated in writing and filed, but an admission of facts from which the jury were at liberty to draw inferences. Held, that the jury might infer the offence charged from a sale by the defendant from his restaurant.

Commonwealth v. Gordon, 159 Mass. 8.

A person may be convicted of violating Statute of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, whose servant in the course of his employment makes an inadvertent sale of milk "not of good standard quality."

If milk is ordered by and delivered to a customer in a hotel as a part of his breakfast, for which he pays a round sum, it is a sale of the milk which, if the milk is "not of good standard quality," will support a complaint on Statute of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2.

Commonwealth v. Warren, 160 Mass. 533.

A master may be convicted, under Statute of 1886, chap. 318, sect. 2, of having in his custody and possession milk not of the required standard of quality, if in the custody and possession of a servant, in the ordinary course of his employment, and the general law governing the responsibility of a master for the acts of his servant in such cases was not intended to be affected by Statute of 1894, chap. 425.

Commonwealth v. Proctor, 165 Mass. 38.

P. S., 57, § 6.

Whoever, by himself or by his servant, or as the servant or agent of any other person, sells, exchanges, or delivers, or has in his custody or possession with intent to sell or exchange, or exposes or offers for sale as pure milk, any milk from which the cream or a part thereof has been removed, shall be punished by the penalties provided in the preceding section.

Penalty for selling milk from which cream has been removed.

P. S., 57, § 7.

Acts of 1896, 398, § 1.

No person, by himself or his agents, shall sell, exchange or deliver, or have in his custody or possession, with intent to sell, exchange or deliver, milk from which the cream or any part thereof has been removed, unless in a conspicuous place upon every vessel, can or package of more than two quarts capacity from or in which such milk is sold, exchanged or delivered, the words "Skimmed Milk", are distinctly marked in plain uncondensed gothic letters not less than one inch in length, said marking to be in dark letters on a light ground, and to be on the vessel, can or package itself and not upon a detachable label or tag; and unless in a conspicuous place upon every vessel, can or package of two quarts or less capacity from or in which such milk is sold, exchanged or delivered, the words "Skimmed Milk", are distinctly marked in plain uncondensed Gothic letters, said marking to be in dark letters on a light ground, and to be either on the vessel, can or package itself or upon a detachable label or tag. Whoever violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by the penalties provided in section five.

Vessels containing milk from which cream has been removed to be marked "skimmed milk."

Penalty.

Acts of 1885, 352, § 8.

Standard of skimmed milk and penalty for violation.

No person shall sell, exchange or deliver, or have in his custody or possession with intent to sell, exchange or deliver, skimmed milk containing less than nine and three-tenths per cent. of milk solids exclusive of fat. Whoever violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by the penalties provided in section five of chapter fifty-seven of the Public Statutes.

See Commonwealth v. Kendall, 144 Mass. 357, p. 137.

Acts of 1896, 264, § 1.

Condensed milk to be properly labeled.

No person shall sell or offer for sale or exchange in hermetically sealed cans any condensed milk or condensed skim milk, unless in cans which are distinctly labeled with the name of the person or company manufacturing said condensed milk or skim milk, the brand under which it is made, and the contents of the can.

Acts of 1896, 264, § 2.

To be labeled when not hermetically
sealed.

Condensed milk sold from cans or packages not hermetically sealed shall be branded or labeled with the name of the manufacturer.

Acts of 1896, 264, § 3.

Penalty.

Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be subject to the same penalties as for the adulteration of milk.

P. S., 57, § 8.

Acts of 1884, 310, § 5.

Penalty on inspectors, etc.,
for conniving,
etc.

Any inspector of milk, and any servant or agent of an inspector, who wilfully connives at or assists in a violation of the provisions of this chapter, and whoever hinders, obstructs, or in any way interferes with any inspector of milk, or any servant or agent of an inspector, in the performance of his duty, shall be punished by fine of not less than one hundred nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days.

P. S., 57, § 9.

Acts of 1885, 352, § 6.

Acts of 1886, 318, § 2.

Acts of 1896, 398, § 2.

Standard of milk.

In all prosecutions under this chapter, if the milk is shown upon analysis to contain less than thirteen per cent.

of milk solids, or to contain less than nine and three tenths per cent. of milk solids exclusive of fat, or to contain less than three and seven tenths per cent. of fat, it shall be deemed for the purposes of this act to be not of good standard quality, except during the months of April, May, June, July and August, when milk containing less than twelve per cent. of milk solids, or less than nine per cent. of milk solids exclusive of fat, or less than three per cent. of fat, shall be deemed to be not of good standard quality.

Standard in certain months.

Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sect. 9 (Statute of 1880, chap. 209, sect. 7), providing that "in all prosecutions under this act," for selling adulterated milk, "if the milk shall be shown upon analysis to contain more than eighty-seven per centum of watery fluid or to contain less than thirteen per centum of milk solids, it shall be deemed for the purposes of this act to be adulterated," is constitutional.

Commonwealth v. Evans, 132 Mass. 11.

A complaint under the Pub. Stats., chap. 57, sects. 5, 9, alleging that the defendant, at a time and place named, had in his custody and possession a certain quantity, to wit, one pint, of adulterated milk, to wit, milk then and there containing less than thirteen per cent. of milk solids, with intent then and there unlawfully to sell the same, is sufficient.

Commonwealth v. Keenan, 139 Mass. 193.

P. S., 57, § 10.

It shall be the duty of every inspector to institute a complaint for a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter on the information of any person who lays before him satisfactory evidence by which to sustain such complaint.

Inspectors to institute complaints.

P. S., 57, § 11.

Each inspector shall cause the name and place of business of every person convicted of selling adulterated milk, or of having the same in his possession with intent to sell, to be published in two newspapers in the county in which the offence was committed.

Names, etc., of persons convicted to be published.

Acts of 1885, 352, § 5.

Inspectors appointed under the provisions of chapter two hundred and sixty-three of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-two shall have the power and authority conferred upon a city or town inspector by section two of chapter fifty-seven of the Public Statutes as amended by section one of chapter three hundred and eighteen of the acts of eighteen hundred and eighty-six. They shall also have the power and authority conferred upon inspectors of milk by section twenty of chapter fifty-six of the Public Statutes.

Powers of inspectors under chap. 263 of Acts of 1882.

Acts of 1885, 149, § 1.

Lower courts
may try milk cases.

Municipal, district and police courts and trial justices shall, in their respective counties, concurrently with the superior court, have jurisdiction of cases arising under the provisions of chapter fifty-seven of the Public Statutes relating to the inspection and sale of milk, and may impose the same penalties for any violation of the provisions of said chapter as therein provided.

Acts of 1894, 425.

Producers exempt from prosecution,
when.

No producer of milk shall be liable to prosecution on the ground that the milk produced by him is not of good standard quality, unless the milk alleged not to be of such quality was taken upon the premises, or while in the possession or under the control of the producer by an inspector of milk, or by the agents of the dairy bureau or state board of health, or collector of samples duly authorized by such inspector, and a sealed sample of the same given to the producer.

BUTTER, IMITATION BUTTER AND CHEESE.

P. S., 56, § 17.

Acts of 1884, 310, § 1.

Acts of 1886, 317, § 1.

Spurious butter
to be marked.

Whoever, by himself or his agents, sells, exposes for sale, or has in his possession with intent to sell, any article, substance or compound, made in imitation or semblance of butter or as a substitute for butter, and not made exclusively and wholly of milk or cream, or containing any fats, oils or grease not produced from milk or cream, shall have the words "imitation butter," or if such substitute is the compound known as oleomargarine, then the word "oleomargarine," or if it is known as butterine, then the word "butterine," stamped, labelled or marked in a straight line in printed letters of plain, uncondensed Gothic type, not less than one-half inch in length, so that said words cannot be easily defaced, upon the top, side and bottom of every tub, firkin, box or package containing any of said article, substance or compound. The said stamp, label or mark shall contain no other words. And whoever, by himself or his agents, exposes or offers for sale any of the said article, substance or compound not in the original package, shall attach to the said article, substance or compound, in a conspicuous place, a label bearing the words "imitation butter," "oleomargarine," or "butterine," as the article may be, in printed letters of plain, uncondensed Gothic type, not less than one-half inch in length. And in cases of retail sales of any of said article, substance or compound not in the original packages, the seller shall, by himself or his agents, attach to each package so sold, and shall deliver therewith to the purchaser, a label or wrapper bearing in a conspicuous place upon the outside of the package the words "imitation butter," "oleomargarine," or "butterine," and no other words, in printed letters in a straight line of plain, uncondensed Gothic type, not less than one-half inch in length.

Retail packages
to be marked.

Oleomargarine was exposed for sale in the original package, namely, a tub, the top of the cover of which had been duly marked, as well as the side and bottom, but from which the cover had been removed, disclosing the superficial surface of the oleomargarine without any mark. Held, that the terms of the Statutes of 1886, chap. 317, sect. 1, had been complied with.

Commonwealth v. Bean, 148 Mass. 172.

A complaint on the Statutes of 1886, chap. 317, sect. 1, charging the defendant with selling imitation butter at retail without a descriptive wrapper, need not allege that the sale was actually made by the defendant's agent.

Commonwealth v. Gray, 150 Mass. 327.

If a complaint charges a person with having in his possession, with intent to sell, oleomargarine in a tub not marked as required by law, he cannot be convicted, if the exceptions show that he had no intent to sell it without having it so marked.

It is not to be inferred that the legislature, merely by making it the duty of certain officers to enforce penal laws of general application, intended that the enforcement should be dependent upon these officers; and a complaint charging a person with having in his possession, with intent to sell, oleomargarine contrary to the requirements of the Statutes of 1886, chap. 317, sect. 1, is not defective because made by an inspector of the state board of health, instead of by an inspector of milk or by the treasurer of the town in which the offence was committed.

Commonwealth v. McDonnell, 157 Mass. 407.

The following decision has reference to the sale of oleomargarine by hawkers and pedlers:—

Oleomargarine and butterine are "provisions," within the meaning of the Pub. Stats., chap. 68, sect. 1; and a complaint on sect. 16, for going about carrying and exposing them for sale without a license, cannot be sustained.

Where a bill of exceptions was inartificially drawn, this court construed it as intended to raise the question which the court decided.

Commonwealth v. Lutton, 157 Mass. 392.

P. S., 56, § 18.

Acts of 1885, 352, § 2.

Spurious cheese to be plainly marked as such.

Whoever, by himself or his agents, sells, exposes for sale, or has in his possession with intent to sell, any article, substance or compound made in imitation or semblance of cheese, or as a substitute for cheese, and not made exclusively and wholly of milk or cream, or containing any fats, oils or grease not produced from milk or cream, shall have the words "imitation cheese," stamped, labelled or marked, in printed letters of plain, uncondensed Gothic type, not less than one inch in length, so that said words cannot be easily defaced, upon the side of every cheese cloth or band around the same, and upon the top and side of every tub, firkin, box or package containing any of said article, substance or compound. And in case of retail sales of any of said article, substance or compound not in the original packages, the seller shall, by himself or his agents, attach to each package so sold at retail, and shall deliver therewith to the purchaser, a label or wrapper bearing in a conspicuous place upon the outside of the package the words "imitation cheese," in printed letters of plain, uncondensed Gothic type, not less than one-half inch in length.

Wrappers to be marked.

P. S., 56, § 19.

Acts of 1886, 317, § 2.

Whoever sells, exposes for sale, or has in his possession with intent to sell, any article, substance or compound made in imitation or semblance of butter or cheese, or as a substitute for butter or cheese, except as provided in the two preceding sections, and whoever with intent to deceive, defaces, erases, cancels or removes any mark, stamp, brand, label or wrapper provided for in said sections, or in any manner shall falsely label, stamp or mark any box, tub, article or package marked, stamped or labelled as aforesaid, shall for every such offence forfeit to the city or town where the offence was committed one hundred dollars, and for a second and each subsequent offence two hundred dollars.

Penalties for violation of statutes and for erasure of marks, etc.

P. S., 56, § 20.

Acts of 1884, 310, § 2.

Inspectors of milk shall institute complaints for violations of the provisions of the three preceding sections when they have reasonable cause to believe that such provisions have been violated, and on the information of any person who lays before them satisfactory evidence by which to sustain such complaint. Said inspectors may enter all places where butter or cheese is stored or kept for sale, and said inspectors shall also take specimens of suspected butter and cheese and cause them to be analyzed or otherwise satisfactorily tested, the result of which analysis or test they shall record and preserve as evidence; and a certificate of such result, sworn to by the analyzer, shall be admitted in evidence in all prosecutions under this and the three preceding sections. The expense of such analysis or test, not exceeding twenty dollars in any one case, may be included in the costs of such prosecutions. Whoever hinders, obstructs, or in any way interferes with any inspector, or any agent of an inspector, in the performance of his duty, shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars for the first offence, and of one hundred dollars for each subsequent offence.

Complaints for violations to be instituted by inspectors of milk.

Acts of 1884, 310, § 4.

Portion of sample to be reserved for defendant.

Before commencing the analysis of any sample the person making the same shall reserve a portion which shall be sealed; and in case of a complaint against any person the reserved portion of the sample alleged to be adulterated shall upon application be delivered to the defendant or his attorney.

P. S., 56, § 21.

Terms "butter" and "cheese" defined.

For the purposes of the four preceding sections * the terms "butter" and "cheese" shall mean the products which are usually known by these names, and are manufactured exclusively from milk or cream, with salt and rennet, and with or without coloring matter.

Acts of 1886, 317, § 3.

Acts of 1894, 280, § 1.

Spurious butter not to be marked "dairy" or "creamery." Penalty.

Whoever, by himself or his agents, sells, exposes for sale, or has in his possession with intent to sell, any article, substance or compound, made in imitation or semblance of butter or as a substitute for butter, and not made exclusively and wholly of milk or cream, or containing any fats, oils or grease not produced from milk or cream, contained in any box, tub, article or package, marked or labelled with the word "dairy," or the word "creamery," or the name of any breed of dairy cattle, shall for every such offence forfeit to the city or town where the offence was committed one hundred dollars, and for a second and each subsequent offence two hundred dollars.

Acts of 1886, 317, § 4.

Persons selling imitation butter from carriages to be licensed. Penalties.

Every person who conveys any imitation butter, oleo-margarine or butterine in carriages or otherwise, for the purpose of selling the same in any city or town, shall within thirty days of the passage of this act, and annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter, be licensed by the inspector or inspectors of milk of such city or town to sell the same within the limits thereof, and shall pay to such inspector or inspectors

* Public Statutes, sections 17, 18, 19 and 20 of chapter 56.

fifty cents to the use of the city or town. The inspector or inspectors shall pay over monthly to the treasurer of such city or town all sums collected by him or them. In towns in which there is no inspector of milk, licenses shall be issued by the town clerk. Licenses shall be issued only in the names of the owners of carriages or other vehicles, and shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be conclusive evidence of ownership. No license shall be sold, assigned or transferred. Each license shall record the name, residence, place of business, number of carriages or other vehicles used, the name and residence of every driver or other person engaged in carrying or selling imitation butter, oleomargarine or butterine, and the number of the license. Each licensee shall before engaging in the sale of any of the articles as aforesaid cause his name, the number of his license, and his place of business to be legibly placed on each outer side of all carriages or vehicles used by him in the conveyance and sale of the articles as aforesaid, in Gothic letters not less than one inch in length, and he shall report to the inspector or inspectors any change of driver or other person employed by him which may occur during the term of his license. Whoever, without being first licensed under the provisions of this section, sells any of the said articles as aforesaid, or exposes or offers them for sale from carriages or other vehicles, or has them in his custody or possession with intent so to sell, and whoever violates any of the provisions of this section, shall, for the first offence, be punished by fine of not less than thirty nor more than one hundred dollars; for a second offence, by fine of not less than fifty nor more than three hundred dollars.

Acts of 1886, 317, § 5.

Every person before selling or offering for sale any of the said articles in a store, booth, stand or market-place in a city or in a town in which an inspector or inspectors of milk are appointed, shall within thirty days of the passage of this act, and annually on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter, register in the books of such inspector or inspectors, or if there be no inspector then in the books of the town clerk, and shall pay to him or them fifty cents to the use of such city or town; and whoever neglects to so register shall be punished for each offence by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

Acts of 1891, 58, § 1.

Acts of 1894, 280, § 6.

Acts of 1896, 377, § 1.

Sale of imitations of yellow butter prohibited.

No person, by himself or his agents or his servants, shall render or manufacture, sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, take orders for the future delivery of, have in his possession, keep in storage, distribute, deliver, transfer, or convey, with intent to sell within this Commonwealth any article, product or compound made wholly or partly out of any fat, oil or oleaginous substance or compound thereof, not produced from unadulterated milk or cream from the same, which shall be in imitation of yellow butter produced from pure unadulterated milk or cream of the same: provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine in a separate and distinct form and in such manner as will advise the consumer of its real character, free from coloration or ingredient that causes it to look like butter.

The Statute of 1891, chap. 58, which makes a distinction between oleomargarine which is an imitation of yellow butter and that which is not, and which statute is directed only towards oleomargarine of the former class, is not repealed by the Statute of 1891, chap. 412, sect. 1, which is directed to the distinct fraud of selling or offering to persons calling for butter something besides butter.

The fact that two statutes, similar in their nature and purpose, were both passed at the same session of the legislature, and took effect on the same day, is strong evidence that they were intended to stand together.

The enactment of a statute which forbids the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine which is made in imitation of yellow butter is a valid exercise of the police power which remains in the several states, though such oleomargarine has been imported from another state; and it is not in violation of the constitutional provisions giving to congress the power to regulate commerce among the several states.

Commonwealth v. Huntley, 156 Mass. 236.

See also Plumley v. Massachusetts, 155 U. S. 461.

If a person has for sale in his shop oleomargarine colored in imitation of yellow butter, which is kept in a closed and covered refrigerator and cannot be seen by customers, although he has a sign in the shop to the effect that oleomargarine is sold there, he does not "expose for sale" such oleomargarine, within the meaning of the Statute of 1891, chap. 58, sect. 1.

Commonwealth v. Byrnes, 158 Mass. 172.

The Statute of 1891, chap. 58, sect. 1, entitled "An Act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of imitation butter," forbids the exposing for sale of oleomargarine colored to look like butter, and it is immaterial whether the particular purchaser was advised of its real character or not.

Commonwealth v. Russell, 162 Mass. 520.

Oleomargarine artificially colored by annatto so as to cause it to look like yellow butter produced from pure unadulterated milk, or cream from the same, is within the prohibition of Statute of 1891, chap. 58, sect. 1, which statute has not been repealed, and is constitutional and valid as applied to oleomargarine so colored.

marked.

Whoever exposes for sale oleomargarine, butterine or any substance made in imitation or semblance of pure butter, not marked and distinguished by all the marks, words and stamps required by existing laws, and not having in addition thereto upon the exposed contents of every opened tub, package or parcel thereof a conspicuous placard with the word "oleomargarine" printed thereon in plain, uncondensed gothic letters, not less than one inch long, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars for each offence.

Penalty.

be marked.

Whoever sells oleomargarine, butterine or any other substance made in imitation or semblance of pure butter, from any dwelling, store, office or public mart shall have conspicuously posted thereon the placard or sign, in letters not less than four inches in length, "oleomargarine sold here", or "butterine sold here." Said placard to be approved by the bureau hereinafter provided for by this act.

Any person neglecting or failing to post the placard Penalty. herein provided for shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars for the first offence and one hundred dollars for each day's neglect thereafter.

Acts of 1894, 280, § 4.

Whoever, by himself or agents, peddles, sells, solicits Peddlers' wagons to be marked. orders for the future delivery of, or delivers from any cart, wagon or other vehicle, oleomargarine, butterine or any substance made in imitation or semblance of pure butter, not having on both sides of said cart, wagon or other vehicle the placard in uncondensed gothic letters, not less than three inches in length, "licensed to sell oleomargarine", shall be punished by a fine of not less Penalty. than one hundred dollars or imprisonment for not less than thirty days for each offence.

A complaint under the Statute of 1891, chap. 412, sect. 4, for selling oleomargarine from a wagon, at a time and place named, the defendant "not having then and there on both sides of said vehicle the placard, in uncondensed Gothic letters not less than three inches in length, 'Licensed to sell Oleomargarine,'" is supported by proof that the defendant's wagon was a covered one, with the front and rear ends open; that on the inside of the cover on each side was a placard, in form and size such as the statute requires; that these placards could be seen from the front and rear of the wagon, but could not be seen from the sides thereof; and that there were no placards on the outer sides of the wagon.

At the trial of a complaint under the Statute of 1891, chap. 412, sect. 4, for selling oleomargarine from a wagon, at a time and place named, the defendant "not having then and there on both sides of said vehicle the placard, in uncondensed Gothic letters not less than three inches in length, 'Licensed to sell Oleomargarine,'" the defendant has no ground of exception to the refusal of the judge to rule that this section of the statute "is in conflict with the act of congress of August 2, 1886, and the rules and regulations of the commissioner of internal revenue thereunder, and is therefore unconstitutional and void"

Commonwealth v. Crane, 158 Mass. 218.

The Statute of 1891, chap. 412, sect. 4, was not intended to draw fine distinctions between different kinds of oleomargarine, all of which would resemble butter; but it requires that every one who delivers oleomargarine, of whatever sort, from a vehicle upon the public streets, shall carry along with him upon his vehicle a public notice that he is licensed to sell oleomargarine.

Penalty.

The proprietor of a restaurant furnished oleomargarine to a guest in the place of butter. There were signs in conspicuous places in the restaurant bearing the words, "Butterine used only here," and on the tables were bills of fare on which were printed the words, "Only fine butterine used here." The guest saw neither of the signs, and did not examine the bill of fare, and no oral notice was given to him that the substance furnished to him was not butter. Held, that the proprietor of the restaurant could be convicted of an offence under the Statute of 1891, chap. 412, sect. 5.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH RELATIVE TO THE INSPECTION AND ANALYSIS OF FOOD AND DRUGS.

1. The State Board of Health shall appoint analysts and inspectors, as provided in section 5 of chapter 263, Acts of 1882.

2. It shall be the duty of the inspectors to procure samples of drugs and articles of food at such times and places as the secretary shall direct, in the manner provided in section 6 of chapter 263 of the Acts of 1882, and in section 3 of chapter 289 of the Acts of 1884, and in all acts amendatory of said provisions.

3. Under the direction of the secretary, the inspectors shall, for the identification of samples, affix a number to each sample of food or drugs obtained by them in such manner as may be prescribed. Under no circumstances shall an inspector convey any information to an analyst as to the source from which any sample was obtained.

4. The inspector shall keep records of each sample, each record to include the following items: —

- (a) The inspector's number.
- (b) The date of purchase or receipt of sample.
- (c) The character of the sample.
- (d) The name of the vendor.
- (e) The name of the city or town and street and number where the sample is obtained, and in the case of a licensed milk peddler, the number of his license.
- (f) As far as possible the names of manufacturers, producers or wholesalers, with marks, brands or labels stamped or printed upon goods.

5. It shall be the duty of the analysts so appointed to determine, under the direction of the secretary, by proper examination and analysis, whether articles of food and drugs, manufactured for sale, offered for sale, or sold within this Commonwealth, are adulterated within the meaning of chapter 263 of the Acts and Resolves passed by the General Court of Massachusetts in 1882, and all acts amendatory thereof, adulteration being defined as follows, viz. : —

In the case of drugs, (1) If sold under or by a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia, it differs from the standard of strength, quality or purity laid down therein, unless the order calls for an article inferior to such standard, or unless such difference is made known or so appears to the purchaser at the time of such sale. (2) If when sold under or by a name not recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia, but which is found in some other pharmacopœia or standard work on Materia Medica, it differs materially from the standard of strength, quality or purity laid down in such work. (3) If its strength or purity falls below the professed standard under which it is sold.

In case of food, (1) If any substance or substances have been mixed with it, so as to reduce or lower or injuriously affect its quality or strength. (2) If any inferior or cheaper substance or substances have been substituted wholly or in part for it. (3) If any valuable constituent has been wholly or in part abstracted from it. (4) If it is an imitation of or is sold under the name of another article. (5) If it consists wholly or in part of a diseased, decomposed, putrid or rotten animal or vegetable substance, whether manufactured or not, or in the case of milk, if it is the produce of a diseased animal. (6) If it is colored, coated, polished or powdered, whereby damage is concealed, or if it is made to appear of better or of greater value than it really is. (7) If it contains any added poisonous ingredient, or any ingredient which may render it injurious to the health of the person consuming it.

6. It shall also be the duty of the analysts to receive such specimens of food and drugs for analysis as may be delivered to them by the secretary, or by the inspectors, and to examine the same. To avoid, as far as possible, all suggestions or danger of specimens having been tampered with, each analyst shall keep each specimen in his possession in a suitable and secure place, labelled in such a manner as to prevent any person from having access to the same without the knowledge and presence of the analyst.

Analyses of perishable articles should be made promptly after they are received.

7. An analyst shall give no information, under any circumstances, regarding the result of any analysis, to any person except to the secretary of the board, prior to any trial in court in reference to such analysis.

The analysts shall carefully avoid any error regarding the inspector's number attached to each sample, and shall report the results of their work in detail to the secretary.

In the case of all articles having a numerical standard provided by statute, the result of the analysis should show their relation to such standard.

8. Before beginning the analysis of any sample, the analyst shall reserve a portion, which shall be sealed, and in the event of finding the portion analyzed to be adulterated, he shall preserve the sealed portion, so that in case of a complaint against any person the last named portion may, on application, be delivered by the secretary to the defendant or to his attorney.

9. Each analyst shall present to the secretary, on the Monday before the first Thursday of each month, a summary of the analyses made by him during the previous month.

Each analyst shall also present, on or before the first of January of each year, an annual report of the work done for the year ending on the 30th of September preceding.

10. The secretary shall have charge of the reports of analyses, and shall cause cases founded on such reports to be submitted to the courts for prosecution.

In each case of a retailer, and of every dealer not a manufacturer or producer, he may, if the party has not been previously complained of in court, issue a notice or warning of any violation of the law relative to the adulteration of food and drugs, and of the offender's liability to prosecution on a repetition of the sale.

11. Should the result obtained by any analyst be questioned in any given case, another analyst shall repeat the analysis, unless otherwise instructed by the board, provided a sufficient sum to meet the expense of the analysis be deposited with the secretary by any interested party feeling aggrieved, which sum will not be returned unless the second analysis fails to confirm the first in essential particulars.

12. Any appeal from the decision of an analyst shall be filed with the secretary, who shall report it, and any matter in controversy, to the board, giving his judgment thereon, and the board shall supervise and control the action of its officers in executing the law.

13. Where standards of strength, quality or purity are not fixed by the act, the analysts shall present to the secretary such standard as in their judgment should be fixed, and the secretary shall report the same to the board for its action.

14. Whenever a drug or preparation, not described in a national pharmacopœia or other standard work on Materia Medica, shall be manufactured, offered for sale or used in this state, the standard of such drug, and the standard and proportion of the ingredients of such preparation, and the range of variability from such standard or standards, shall be ascertained by the analysts, who shall report the same through the secretary to the board.

15. The analysts shall occupy such time in the performance of their respective duties as a reasonable compliance with the terms of the statute shall require, and shall be present one hour of each day, at such time of the day and at such place as shall be designated by the board, to meet the convenience of interested parties and the public.

(1888, c. 375, § 2.)

39. (1888, c. 375, § 3.)

(1890, c. 441, § 2.)

57. If a person by mistake of law or fact or by accident fails to appeal from any such order and to file his petition for a jury within ten days, and if he makes it appear to the court or justice that such failure was caused by mistake or accident and that he has not since the service of such order upon him violated such order, he may at any time within thirty days from the service of the order upon him appeal therefrom and file his petition for a jury with the same effect as if done within the said ten days. [Pub. Stat., Chap. 4.]

SECT. 5. The annual reports which are required by law or custom to be made to the governor and council, to the general court, to the secretary of the commonwealth, or to the governor to be by him transmitted to the general court, shall, except when other provision is made, include the year ending on the thirtieth day of September, and be submitted to the secretary of the commonwealth on or before the fifteenth day of October; and whoever wilfully neglects to make and transmit a report as required by this section shall forfeit ten dollars for each day such neglect continues.

SECT. 6. Public officers and boards, and managers of public institutions, shall, in addition to their annual reports, make special reports when the public interests require them.

SECT. 7. There shall be printed annually, on or before the assembling of the general court, or as soon thereafter as possible, the number of copies of documents and reports specified in the following list, the same to be numbered in a series to be called Public Documents, and distributed as herein provided. Said reports shall be made as brief as may be without omitting any facts or information which the officers or departments making them are required by law to furnish therein, and they shall be transmitted to the general court through the office of the secretary of the commonwealth. No larger number of copies than is herein provided for shall be printed at the expense of the commonwealth, or be paid for out of any contingent fund or out of the earnings of any department or institution, where such earnings are the property of the commonwealth; and no bill for printing any larger number shall be approved by the auditor or paid out of any funds belonging to the commonwealth. . . . Report of the state board of health five thousand copies.

SECT. 8. Five hundred copies of each of the series of public documents named in the preceding section shall be retained by the state printers for binding in sets; and the secretary of the Commonwealth shall furnish one set, in a bound volume with a brief index, to each city or town in the commonwealth, to be preserved in some public place therein, and one set to such public and other libraries as he in his discretion may select. All public documents, the distribution of which is not otherwise provided for, shall be distributed under direction of the secretary of the commonwealth and of the secretaries or heads of the several boards or departments to which they relate.

SECT. 10. Each member of the executive and legislative department, the clerks of both branches of the general court, and each reporter assigned a seat in either branch, shall be entitled to receive one copy of each of the books named in sections seven and nine. Each member of the general court and the clerks of the two branches shall also be entitled to receive . . . seven additional copies of the report of the state board of health.

[Acts of 1893, Chap. 144.]

Such parts of the annual reports of state boards or commissions, required by law to be made to the governor and council or to the general court, as contain recommendations or suggestions for legislative action, shall be deposited with the secretary of the commonwealth on or before the first Wednesday in January of each year, and shall by him be transmitted forthwith to the governor and council or to the general court.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF STATISTICS.

[Pub. Stat., Chap. 31.]

SECT. 17. A member of said board shall be appointed chairman thereof by the governor with the advice of the council, and shall have power to appoint a secretary. The board shall meet regularly at the state house at least once in each month, and at other times when called together by the chairman.

SECT. 18. The board shall have general supervision on all matters relating to the statistics to be gathered and reported by either of the departments represented on the board. An investigation contemplated by either of said departments shall, before it is made, be reported to the board, which shall so direct the method thereof as to prevent unnecessary work, and to make plain the presentation of the facts, and shall simplify and abridge, as far as may be, the statistical matter to be presented by any department represented, and, when such matter is germane to that under the care of another department, shall see that such matters are consolidated and presented by one department only.

SECT. 19. A sum not exceeding five hundred dollars shall be allowed said board for annual contingent expenses.

SPECIAL DUTIES
ASSIGNED TO THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

SINCE ITS REORGANIZATION IN 1886.

In addition to the regular duties prescribed by the Statutes, to be performed by the State Board of Health, several important investigations have been entrusted to the Board since 1886, which are as follows : —

The sewage disposal of the Mystic and Charles River Valleys. In compliance with the requirements of chapter 95 of the Resolves of 1887, the State Board of Health made the investigations required in that resolve, and reported the same to the General Court in January, 1889. A commission was then appointed to carry out the work outlined by the Board, which is now rapidly approaching its completion. The report of the State Board of Health on this subject formed a separate document, — Senate Document 2 of 1889.

By an order of the same Legislature (1887) the Board was required to make a special investigation and to report to the General Court on the manufacture and sale of oleo-margarine. This report was submitted to the Legislature in January, 1888, and was published in the nineteenth annual report of the Board

By a resolution of the Legislature of 1888 the State Board of Health was requested to make an investigation concerning the sale and use of opium. This resolution was reported upon by the Board to the Legislature of 1889, and its report thereon is published in the twentieth annual report of the Board.

By chapter 84 of the Resolves of the same year (1888), the State Board of Health was directed to make an investigation upon the pollution of ponds, lakes, streams and other bodies of water used as ice supplies. The report upon this subject was made to the Legislature of 1890, and is published in the twenty-first annual report of the Board.

By the provisions of chapter 374, section 2, of the Acts of 1891, the State Board of Health was authorized to make such investigations and inquiries as they deemed necessary as to the existence of arsenic in any paper fabric or other article offered for sale and exchange. The report upon this subject was made to the Legislature Feb. 1, 1892, and is published in the twenty-third annual report of the Board.

By an order of the Legislature of 1893 the Board was directed to extend its investigations upon impurities of ice to manufactured ice, and to report to the same Legislature. The report upon this subject was made to the Legislature of 1893, on May 16, 1893, and is published in the twenty-fourth annual report of the Board.

By the provisions of chapter 459 of the Acts of 1893, the Board was "authorized and directed to investigate, consider and report upon the question of a water supply for the city of Boston and its suburbs within a radius of ten miles from the State House, and for such other cities and towns as in its opinion should be included in connection therewith." The report upon this important question was made to the Legislature in February 1895, and was published as House Document 500 of the year 1895.

A commission was appointed in the same year to carry out the work thus outlined, and the work of constructing and introducing the Metropolitan Water Supply is now in progress.

By the terms of chapter 475 of the Acts of 1893, the Metropolitan Park Commission and the State Board of Health were made a joint board to investigate the sanitary condition and to prepare plans for the improvement of the beds, shores and waters of the Charles River between the Charles River bridge and the Waltham line, and for the removal of any nuisances therefrom.

The joint report upon this question was completed and sent to the Legislature in April 1894, and was published as House Document 775, 1894.

By the provisions of chapter 529 of the Acts of 1894, the same joint board was directed "to investigate the sanitary condition and to prepare plans for the improvement of the Charles River and its banks from the line between Waltham and Watertown, and Mother Brook in Dedham, and for the removal of any nuisances therefrom." This report was completed and sent to the Legislature in May 1896.

By the provisions of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1894, the State Board of Health was authorized and directed to dredge the bars in the Concord and Sudbury rivers above the dam at North Billerica and to remove the weeds from said rivers, and take "such other measures as shall in the opinion of the board, tend to the restoration of the marshes along the river to their original condition, and to the abatement of malaria, and other perils to the public health arising from the present state of the same."

This investigation was carried out by the board, and a report upon the same was made to the Legislature Feb. 6, 1896. (House Document 891, 1896.) In the process of the work it was found necessary to take down and rebuild a bridge in Wayland, and a further appropriation was made for this purpose by the Legislature of 1896.

By chapter 83 of the Resolves of 1895, the Board was directed to investigate the sanitary condition of the Neponset river and meadows and report a plan for improving the same, if the condition was found to be dangerous to the public health.

By chapter 112 of the Resolves of 1895, the Board was authorized and directed to consider and report a general system of drainage and sewerage for the city of Salem and the town of Peabody.

By the provisions of chapter 495 of the acts of 1896, the State Board of Health, and the Harbor and Land Commissioners, acting as a joint Board, were "required to cause an examination of Green Harbor in the town of Marshfield, and of the Green Harbor Marshes, and the dam and dike constructed across Green Harbor River" to be made, and to report to the next General Court, whether substantial improvement in and benefit to Green Harbor will result from the removal of the dam and dike and whether no damage to vested property rights, greater than the benefit derived from such removal will result therefrom. The investigations required by this act are in progress and will be reported upon when completed.
