

Dr. Fontaine's balm of thousand flowers.

Contributors

Fontaine, A. de, 1798-
Hotchkiss & Co. (Boston, Mass.)
National Library of Medicine (U.S.)

Publication/Creation

Boston : Hotchkiss & Co, [1846], ©1846.

Persistent URL

<https://wellcomecollection.org/works/vu8krx7u>

License and attribution

This material has been provided by This material has been provided by the National Library of Medicine (U.S.), through the Medical Heritage Library. The original may be consulted at the National Library of Medicine (U.S.) where the originals may be consulted.

This work has been identified as being free of known restrictions under copyright law, including all related and neighbouring rights and is being made available under the Creative Commons, Public Domain Mark.

You can copy, modify, distribute and perform the work, even for commercial purposes, without asking permission.

Wellcome Collection
183 Euston Road
London NW1 2BE UK
T +44 (0)20 7611 8722
E library@wellcomecollection.org
<https://wellcomecollection.org>

DR. FONTAINE'S BALM OF THOUSAND FLOWERS.

For the Toilet, Nursery, Bathing, and many medicinal purposes; highly perfumed by its own ingredients, recommended by the Faculty of three different states; and established under the patronage of many Physicians and Nurses in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, who make use of it daily and exclusively in their families and nurseries. It is the greatest luxury a fashionable lady or gentleman could wish for the improvement of health, comfort and personal embellishment. Its delicate soothing sensations, the delightful softness it imparts to the complexion, and its never-failing sanative properties, may be experienced by actual trial, so that no one need hazard any thing in purchasing, or class our assertions with those respecting the thousand and one nostrums of the day.

We give a few of the most prominent properties of the Balm of Thousand Flowers, already established by actual experience:—1st, This Balm eradicates every defect of the Complexion, and establishes in its stead beauty and health, at the time when both, by the changes and freaks of age, nature or disease, have been obscured and undermined. It cleanses the skin, and draws from the inner cuticle to the surface all impurities and every species of Pimples and Blotches, leaving a pure, renovated skin beneath, produced at the expense only of a gentle prickling sensation, a change which no other means can effect; also removes tan, sunburn, sallowness, freckles, chapping of the epidermis, chilblains, &c. It shades with time the impress of scars and Small Pox marks; imparts to the skin a resemblance of its original purity, and an unsurpassed freshness, rendering it clear, smooth, white and expanded, so that the wrinkles and roughness of the face, neck, arms, hands, &c. will actually be modified and to a great extent disappear, imparting a youthful bloom.

2. It promotes the growth and increase of the Hair, prevents its falling off, gives to it richness and a glossy firmness: it cleanses the head from dandruff and all impurities, giving vigor, health and life to the very roots of the hair. We are so positive of its efficacy, that if a price is agreed upon between the proprietor and purchaser, we will warrant our assertions under the penalty of $50 forfeiture. This pledge, though apparently hazardous and presumptuous, must, nevertheless, prove very lucrative to our interests, and to the purchaser an undisputed evidence of the certain benefits of this Balm. It has been ascertained that of one hundred individuals thus treated, ninety of them have obtained the desired object even beyond their anticipations; and the partial disappointment of the remaining number has been equally rewarded by the delightful soothing virtues and healing effects it produced, which have far exceeded the representations of the discoverer.

3. It is a most useful article for Shaving, superior to all descriptions of Soaps, Creams, Pastes, &c. It gives a rich, penetrating lather, and has no equal in rendering the beard soft, emollient, and tender; so that, in removing it, it gives way at the slightest resistance to the razor, without producing the least sensation, leaving a fresh, white, and delicate countenance.

4. As a dentifrice for cleansing the Teeth, it is by far the most medicinal of any compound yet known, preventing their decay, removing pain, ulcers and cankers, and renders the teeth as white as alabaster.

5. For the Nursery and for Bathing, for the suffering infant and adult, to promote sweetness of body, cleanliness, health and strength, and to prevent disease, eruptions, &c. there is no article more suitable. It may be used in cold, warm, hard, soft, or even salt water.

Price Fifty cents per Bottle, and One Dollar.

GENERAL AGENCY AND DEPOT, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL, -

HOTCHKISS & CO., 13 Court Street, Boston.

AND BY THE INVENTOR AND PROPRIETOR, AT THE

LINNÆAN GROTT, 11 Summer Street, Boston.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1846, by A. DE FONTAINE, M. D. in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the District of Massachusetts.

TAKE NOTICE.

Since we published the above Circular, we have obtained and now hold in our possession the testimony of over one hundred physicians of Boston, who, on actual experience, acknowledge the Balm of Thousand Flowers to be the best compound which has ever yet been brought forth, to their knowledge, for the purposes above enumerated, so that the incredulous and skeptic need no longer hesitate to give their sanction. Those who have never used this article, may depend that with a little attention to the directions, they will receive a substantial benefit at a small expense. We are well aware that much is published in newspapers and pamphlets, in reference to many Cosmetics, some of which are intended to nourish the hair, and others to embellish nature and to eradicate cutaneous diseases, and that many are thus deceived, and imposed upon, and many are sorely injured, so that public confidence is shaken, and with good cause, and that for this reason many will doubt the truth of our statements. Yet we have the gratification of presenting the Balm of Thousand Flowers to the public on its own merits, and precisely as it has been recommended by the celebrated Dr. Mott, in his interesting notice to ladies and gentlemen, relating to the Skin and Complexion, which notice originally appeared in the Philadelphia Ladies' Periodical, and was copied into the Ladies' Magazine, New York, and from thence into the most popular periodicals throughout the country.

If our assertions and those of others are of no avail, we are willing, as above stated, to abide by a trial on actual experience, under any forfeiture that may be agreed upon with the proprietor.

The Balm may be procured at most of the Fancy Goods and Perfumery Stores, and the Apothecaries' and Hair Dressers' Shops, &c. of our largest cities, and at

