(ROYAL ASSENT, 7 AUGUST, 1851.)

WHEREAS by virtue of Letters Patent sealed by writ of Privy Seal on the fourteenth day of August, in the tenth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, a Charter of Incorporation was granted, whereby it was declared that for the purpose of establishing and maintaining the College therein and thereby designated King's College, London, the Lord High Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of London, the Chief Justice of England, the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, the Lord Mayor of the City of London, the Dean of the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul, London, and the Dean of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster, for the time being, respectively, should by virtue of their respective offices, be Perpetual Governors of the said College: and that every person who had already subscribed, or should thereafter during the term of one thousand years, to be computed from the date of the said Charter, subscribe for one or more Share or Shares of one hundred pounds each, for the purpose of the said College, and whose name should be entered in the Register Book thereafter mentioned, as a proprietor of such share or shares, should after such entry be styled "a Proprietor:" and that every person also whose name should thereafter during the said term of one thousand years be entered in the Register Book as a proprietor of any of the same shares, should after such entry be styled "a Proprietor:" and that every person who had already made, or should thereafter during the said term of one thousand years, make one or more donation or donations of one hundred pounds each at the least, for the purpose of the said College, and who should have paid the full amount of such donation or donations, either at one time or within the space of four successive years, and whose name should, after such payment or payments in full, be entered in the Register Book as a donor in respect of such donation or donations, should after such entry be styled a "Donor of the First Class:" and that every person also whose name should thereafter during the said term of one thousand years be entered in the Register Book as a Donor, in respect of any of the same donations, should, after such entry, be styled a "Donor of the First Class:" and that every person who had already made, or should thereafter during the said term of one thousand years make a donation of fifty pounds for the purpose of the said College, and who should have paid the full amount thereof, either at one time, or within the space of three successive years, and whose name should, after such payment in full, be entered in the Register Book as a Donor, in respect of such donation, should after such entry be styled a "Donor of the Second Class:" and that the said Perpetual Governors of the said College should, and all the persons for the time being who were thereinbefore respectively styled "Proprietors" and "Donors of the First Class," should, for the time being respectively, and all the persons thereinbefore styled "Donors of the Second Class," should, during their lives, and all persons whose names should after the expiration of the said term of one thousand years be entered in the Register Book by the Council for the time being, should during their lives, or until their names should be erased from the said Book, be and they were thereby constituted one body politic and corporate, by the name of "The Governors and Proprietors of King's College, London," and should by the same name, and for the purposes aforesaid, have perpetual succession, and have a common seal, and should by the same name sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, and answer and be answered unto in every Court of His said Majesty, his heirs and successors; and it was by the same Letters Patent ordained that, by the same name they and their successors should be able and capable in law to take, purchase, and hold, to them and their successors, any goods, chattels, or personal property whatsoever, and should also be able and capable in law, notwithstanding the Statutes of Mortmain, to take, purchase, and hold, to them and their successors, not only all such lands, buildings, hereditaments, and possessions as might be from time to time exclusively used and occupied for the immediate purposes of the said College, but also any other lands, buildings, hereditaments, and possessions whatsoever, situate within the United Kingdom, not exceeding the annual value of five thousand pounds; such annual value to be calculated and ascertained at the period of taking, purchasing, or acquiring the same; and that they and their successors should be able and capable in law to grant, demise, alien, or otherwise dispose of all or any of the property real or personal belonging to the said College, and also to do all other matters incidental or appertaining to a body corporate ; and it was by the said Letters Patent ordained that in addition to the Perpetual Governors aforesaid eight persons therein named should be Governors for life of the said College, and that whenever a vacancy should occur in the office of Life Governor, the same should be filled up by the Visitor of the said College, and in case of default by him as therein mentioned, then by the Governors of the said College out of the members of the Corporation, being laymen ; and it was by the said Letters Patent ordained that there should be a Council of the said College, consisting of the Governors for the time being, the Treasurer for the time being, and twenty-four other members of the Corporation to be from time to time elected as therein mentioned ; and it was by the said Letters Patent ordained that the various branches of literature and science should be taught in the said College under the superintendence of a Principal or other Head, Professors, Tutors, or such other Masters or Instructors as should from time to time be appointed in the manner thereafter mentioned ; and after directing the mode of conducting the meetings of the said Council, it was thereby further ordained that the Council for the time being should have full power and authority to direct and manage the affairs and concerns of the said College, in (among other things) receiving, investing, laying out, and disposing of all stocks, funds, and monies and securities for the use of the said College, and in selling, demising, aliening, or otherwise disposing of any property whatsoever, real or personal, belonging thereto; and that the said Council should have full power from time to time to appoint, and as they should see occasion, to remove, as well the Principal or other Head, the Professors, Tutors, and Masters, as also the Secretary, and all officers, agents, and servants of the said College (except the Treasurer and Auditors); and that, subject and without prejudice to the powers given by the said Charter to the Visitor, Governors, and General Courts, the said Council should have the entire management of and superintendence over the affairs, concerns, and property of the said College; and in all cases unprovided for by the said Charter, it should be lawful for the said Council to act in such manner as should appear to them best calculated to promote the welfare of the said College :

And whereas before the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine the said Council had succeeded in forming a considerable Medical School in the said College, by reason of the large number of Students in attendance upon the lectures and examinations, in the several branches of Medicine and Surgery, delivered and conducted there by Professors appointed and remunerated by the said Council :

And whereas the said Council, finding that Hospital practice in connexion with and in the vicinity of the said College was indispensable for the complete education of its Medical Students, did, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine, take measures for the formation, in the Parish of Saint Clement Danes, in the County of Middlesex, of a public Hospital for the relief of poor sick and infirm persons, to be supported by voluntary contributions, and to which the Students of Medicine and Surgery belonging to the said College might, under proper regulations, for ever have access :

And whereas such Hospital, called "The King's College Hospital," was accordingly shortly afterwards instituted and established, under the immediate patronage of his late Most Gracious Majesty King William the Fourth, and the same is still maintained and carried on, in a Building situated on the west side of Carey Street, in the said Parish of Saint Clement Danes, and formerly the Workhouse of the same Parish :

And whereas by an Indenture of Lease, dated the first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine, the said Building, with two Yards thereto adjoining, and the appurtenances, were demised by the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union, in the County of Middlesex, and the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the said Parish of Saint Clement Danes, (with the approbation of the Poor Law Board for England and Wales, testified by their seal thereto affixed,) unto the said Corporation of the Governors and Proprietors of King's College, for the term of sixty years.

determinable as therein mentioned, from the twenty-fourth day of June then last, at the yearly rent of three hundred pounds :

And whereas the rent reserved by the said Lease has at all times been paid by the said Council of King's College, out of the funds of the said College :

And whereas the said Hospital was fitted up, and, except as aforesaid, has since been supported by the donations, annual subscriptions, and legacies of benevolent persons :

And whereas since the establishment of the said Hospital, the Medical Officers and the Chaplain thereof have been from time to time appointed by the Council of King's College, and the Physician's Assistant and the House Surgeon of the said Hospital have at all times been selected by such Council from among the Pupils of the said Hospital, being or having been Medical Students of the said College :

And whereas since the opening of the said Hospital, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine, more than seven hundred Medical Students of the said College have received clinical and other instruction in the said Hospital, and more than one hundred and fifty thousand sick and wounded persons have received medical and surgical relief therefrom ; and owing to the great increase in the number of persons applying for such relief, the present Building has for some time become totally inadequate for the important objects for which it was appropriated :

And whereas it has been determined by the said Council of King's College, and by the Governors of the said Hospital, to erect a new and more spacious Hospital, together with a Chapel for the celebration of Divine Service, on the site of the said present building, or contiguous thereto, the cost of which erections, and of purchasing the land and hereditaments requisite for the site of and approaches to the same, has been estimated at not less than forty thousand pounds, the greater part of which sum has already been raised by voluntary contributions :

And whereas, at a General Court of the Governors and Proprietors of King's College, held on the twenty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, and duly convened for that purpose, it was resolved that the sum of five thousand pounds should be contributed out of the funds of the said College, towards the Building and Endowment of the said new Hospital, on such conditions as the Council of the said College should think fit :

And whereas, at a Special Court of the Governors of the said Hospital, held on the twenty-ninth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, and duly convened for that purpose, it was resolved that the site of the Hospital, together with all property belonging to it, should vest in the Corporation of the Governors and Proprietors of King's College for the purposes of the Hospital :

And whereas, by a Statutory Deed, dated the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and made, by virtue of the Act passed in the fifth and sixth years of the Reign of King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to facilitate the conveyance of Workhouses and other property of Parishes, and of Incorporations or Unions of Parishes, in England and Wales," and under the direction of the said Poor Law Board (testified as aforesaid,) in consideration of the clear yearly rent or sum of two hundred and forty pounds, payable quarterly as therein mentioned, the said building, yards, and premises, by the description of All that large brick building, or tenement, situate and being on the West side of Carey Street, in the County of Middlesex, and forming the corner of Carey Street and Portugal Street, in the said Parish of Saint Clement Danes, formerly the Workhouse of the said Parish, and since occupied by the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union, And also, the two pieces of ground on the South-West end of the said building, and which were formerly used as yards for the said Workhouse, And also, a wooden building or shed, on the North side of that one of such two pieces of ground which is the furthest towards the West, next the premises formerly known as the Grange Inn, (and which said premises, by the Deed now in recital conveyed, are more particularly delineated in the Plan drawn in the margin thereof,) were with their appurtenances granted and conveyed by the aforesaid Guardians of the Poor, discharged from the said lease, and the rents and covenants therein contained, unto, and to be holden by the said Governors and Proprietors of King's College, their successors and assigns for ever; and by the same Deed, the said Governors and Proprietors of King's College, for themselves, their successors and assigns, covenanted with the said Guardians of the Poor, their successors and assigns, for the payment unto the said Guardians and their successors, of the said yearly rent of two hundred and forty pounds; and by the Deed now in recital, powers of distress and entry, and detention of possession, and perception of the rents and profits, were also given unto the said Guardians, their successors and assigns, for the further enforcing and securing payment of the said yearly rent or sum :

And whereas, for the purpose of acquiring a sufficient site for the said new Hospital and Chapel, and the outbuildings, court yards, and approaches of and to the same, the Governors of the said Hospital, with the approbation of the said Council of King's College, have, out of the funds already subscribed for that purpose, purchased certain other messuages or tenements, lands, and hereditaments, adjoining or near to the said present Hospital, (the particulars of which are specified in the Schedule (A) to this Act annexed,) and have caused the same and the fee simple and inheritance thereof, subject only as in the same Schedule is mentioned, to be conveyed to the

Governors and Proprietors of the said College for the purposes of the said Hospital :

And whereas some question may arise whether the Governors and Proprietors of the said College are authorized by their said Charter of Incorporation to take or hold lands for the purposes of the said Hospital :

And whereas, in order to erect a suitable edifice for the said new Hospital, and to make a suitable front and access thereto, and to ensure sufficient space for the erection of the said Chapel, and for other the purposes of the said Hospital, it is expedient that the Governors of the said Hospital, with the approbation of the Council for the time being of King's College, should be empowered to purchase and take the several messuages, buildings, pieces of land and hereditaments abutting on Portugal Street, Carey Street, Grange Court, Clement's Lane and Clement's Inn Passage respectively, in the Parish of Saint Clement Danes aforesaid, which are specified in the Schedules (B) and (C) to this Act annexed, and which are delineated on the map or plan hereinafter referred to, and to extend Houghton Street in a direct line into Clement's Lane aforesaid, by means whereof not only will facilities of access to the said Hospital (now greatly needed) be provided, but also a new and commodious thoroughfare will be opened for the public between the Strand and the populous neighbourhood surrounding Clare Market and Lincoln's Inn Fields, which improvement is more particularly described or shown on the map or plan hereinafter referred to :

And whereas the Governors and Proprietors of King's College, and the Governors of the said Hospital, are desirous of further promoting the aforesaid important objects of public benefit, and of perpetuating the connexion between the said College and the said Hospital, and it is apprehended that the incorporating the President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Governors of the said Hospital together with the persons constituting the Council for the time being of King's College, as one body politic and corporate, and the giving them the powers and authorities hereinafter conferred, will greatly promote the aforesaid charitable and important purposes, and will materially conduce to increase the funds of the said Hospital ; but the same cannot be effected without the aid of Parliament :

And whereas your Most Gracious Majesty has been pleased to extend to the said Hospital your royal patronage and support :

May it therefore please YOUR MAJESTY,
That it may be enacted ; AND BE IT ENACTED, by the QUEEN'S Most Excellent MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same,
