SINCE the reformation of the London Pharmacopoeia, no regular Formulary have been published. One, indeed, intitled, "A New Collection of Medical Prescriptions," by an anonymous Member of the College of Physicians, has been for some time extant; and a most excellent collection it is—but the Forms are given in English; and the most mischievous consequences must often ensue from a work of that sort in the hands of illiterate dabblers in physic; for every one must be sensible, that in many diseases of the eruptive kind, and particularly in the small-pox, the operation of symptoms often so sudden and dissymmetrically varies, as to render the plan to be pursued one hour, certain destruction the next. The plea generally urged for these publications is, that the poor are furnished with remedies where medical advice is not to be obtained; but the very reverse is the fact; because, the greater the ignorance, the more certain the mischief. Since, therefore, the more certain the mischief, the more have I been prompted to the present undertaking. I have been at considerable pains to select and arrange the Formulary of the most eminent physicians of this

PREFACE.

SINCE the reformation of the London Pharmacopeia, no regular Formulae have been published. One, indeed, intituled, "A New Collection of Medical Prescriptions," by an anonymous Member of the College of Physicians, has been for some time extant; and a most excellent collection it is—but the Forms are given in English; and the most mischievous consequences must often ensue from a work of that sort in the hands of illiterate dabblers in physic; for every one must be sensible, that in many diseases of the eruptive kind, and particularly in the small-pox, the operation of symptoms often so suddenly and diametrically varies, as to render the plan to be pursued one hour, certain destruction the next. The plea generally urged for these publications is, that the poor are furnished with remedies where medical advice is not to be obtained: but the very reverse is the fact; because, the greater the ignorance, the more certain the mischief. These reasons have prompted me to the present undertaking. I have been at considerable pains to select and new-model the Formulae of the most eminent physicians of this, and the last century: and have subjoined such of my own, as in the course of some years practice, I have found to be most efficacious.
the

It will be impossible to regulate the dose by any established principles, so much will depend on particular temperaments, idiosyncrasy, &c. The present enfeebled race of men cannot endure such ample doses; the antients on many occasions were wont to exhibit. It was by no means uncommon for them to administer a drachm of calomel for a dose; also sixteen grains of gamboge. And it was the practice of Zimmerman and Stoll (if they are to be credited) to give two scruples of ipecacuanha with the same quantity of antimoniated tartar at one time. If any calculations can be made, the following may be as nice as any.

Put a dosin pro adulto, annorum 21, esse 3j, hinc exhiberi possint cuidam ab anno 14 ad 21, $\frac{2}{3}$ vel Dij ; ab anno 7 ad 14, $\frac{1}{2}$ vel 3ß; ab anno 4 ad 7, $\frac{1}{3}$ vel Dj , seu quadrienni $\frac{1}{4}$ vel gr. xv; trienni $\frac{1}{6}$ seu Dß vel gr. x; bienni $\frac{1}{8}$ vel gr. vijß; infanti anniculo $\frac{1}{12}$ vel gr. v.

V. OBSERVATIONS on the DISEASES which prevail in Long Voyages to Hot Countries, particularly to those in the East Indies, and on the same Diseases as they appear in Great Britain, by JOHN CLARK, M.D. Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, at Edinburgh; Physician to the Infirmary and Dispensary at Newcastle, &c. 8vo. 2 vols. 10s. boards.

* * * The Parts of this Work which give an Historical Account of the DISEASES which usually occur in long Voyages, which prevail in various Places of Asia, and which treat of the Means of Prevention, are intended for the Perusal of Gentlemen in general, but more especially of Officers, on whom the Health of the Men depends. These Subjects are, therefore, treated in as perspicuous a Manner as possible, and all technical Terms avoided.

VI. A TREATISE on the FEVERS of JAMAICA, with some OBSERVATIONS on the INTERMITTING FEVER of AMERICA; and an Appendix, containing some Hints on the Means of preserving the Health of Soldiers in hot Climates, by ROBERT JACKSON, M.D. 8vo. 6s. 6d. boards.

VII. An

VII. An INQUIRY into the CAUSES which produce, and the MEANS of preventing, DISEASES among BRITISH OFFICERS, SOLDIERS, and others, in the West Indies; containing Observations on the Mode of Action of spirituous Liquors on the human Body, on the Use of Malt Liquor, and on salted Provisions; with Remarks on the most proper Means of preserving them. With Notes and Illustrations, relating to various Particulars in the British Army in Ireland and the West-Indies, by JOHN BELL, M. D. Member of the Royal Medical Society of Edinburgh; Physician in London; and formerly Surgeon to the late 94th and to the 5th (or Northumberland) Regiment of Foot. 8vo. 3s. 6d. boards.

VIII. An ESSAY on DISEASES incidental to EUROPEANS in Hot Climates; with the Method of preventing their fatal Consequences, by JAMES LIND, M. D. F. R. S. Edinburgh, &c. To which is added an APPENDIX, concerning Intermittent Fevers, and a simple and easy Way to render Sea Water fresh, and to prevent a Scarcity of Provisions in long Voyages at Sea. 8vo. 5s. boards.

IX. A TREATISE on the HYDROCELE, on SARCOCELE, or CANCER, and other Diseases of the TESTES, by BENJAMIN BELL, F. R. S. Member of the College of Surgeons of Ireland and Edinburgh, &c. 8vo. with Plates, 8s. boards.

X. A TREATISE on the GONNORRHOEA VIRULENTA and LUES VENEREA, by the same Author. 8vo. 2 vols. 12s. boards.
