X.—Every Patient must be provided with apparel, as stated in the printed Schedule. An accurate list of every article brought with the Patient must, on admission, be delivered to the Steward, Superintendent of Ladies, or Matron, as the case may be. Such Visitors are earnestly recommended to forbear as much as possible from encroaching on the time of the Medical or other Officers so as to interfere with their duties; and, when a personal interview with the Physician Superintendent is required by any friend or guardian of a Patient, an appointment should previously be made for the purpose.

XVIII.—No Visitor shall be permitted to enter the apartment of any Patient of a different sex but under proper restrictions.

XIX.—Should the Friends or Guardians of any Patient conceive that they have any just ground of complaint in respect of the treatment, state, or management of such Patient, they are recommended to communicate the same in writing to the Physician Superintendent, who, after instituting a rigid inquiry, will report the whole matter to the Weekly Committee, by whom every satisfaction will be given.

It was at this period and connected with this matter and upon his return from one of these journies to Aviemore that I first observed that his mind was affected since that time and until his appre-hension he has continued in the same state with the exception that sometime he is better and sometimes he is worse. I have apprehended him on the twenty second of July last. About a week before then he took away his brother's horse from the hill of Corpach and rode it away to Balle-nock and was away several days. Upon his return his brother took away the horse from the Inn Stables at Banavie. As soon as Malcolm discovered this he came to me and preferred a charge against his brother for Horse stealing and said that if he had a pistol he would shoot him. He was in a very excited state and in my opinion perfectly insane unable to take care of himself and dangerous to the Liege. He has very often applied to me to apprehend all the young men at Corpach and take them before the Sheriff for insulting him. I have no doubt that he was insane.

Charles Kerr.

John Craig, Tenant of the farm of Dougary in the Parish of Kilmory aforesaid who being solemnly sworn and examined Deponed. I know Charles Kerr, and have known him for ten years last past. Previous to spring last I consider he was of sound mind & perfectly quiet. He was sub-tenant to me and his sister lived with him. In the month of April last when I came home after being absent I found him at home and he was taking things that did not belong to him and carried them to his own house. He took some boards and planks from about of Lord Ropmore's. He took these as if they had been his own property. He was breaking the boat and taking parts of it to his own house. He also took some ropes: he took a bow and a stick away from my house. The bow was a fishing bow. The stick a small bough. The house in which he lived did not belong to him. He was going to take down the house and made a hole in the wall more than once, and said he was going to build a new house and a larger one. He said he had sent for half a dozen masons to Glasgow to build a new house. Sometimes he said it was to complete ton he had sent for the masons, He frequently threatened to pull down the house and said that he was expecting the masons: He said this more than half a dozen times: I put him into the house frequently and his brother, John McAllister JJ put him in confinement believing him to be a madman and to prevent his pulling down the house Irons were got to put on his arms and feet. He said that if he could get off the irons he would be up with me He would set fire to my house and that he would stab me. I said that I would put irons on his feet and on my trying to do this he leapt upon the fire and sat down. I then put the irons on his feet and (~~put them on~~) left him in the house. They were taken off on his promising to be quiet but it became necessary to put them on again and they were kept on for several weeks and only taken off occasionally to change his clothes. When he appeared quiet they were taken off. They were only put on when it appeared necessary for his own and others safety. I have no doubt that he was insane. All which I depone to be truth as I shall answer to God.

(Signed) John Craig

Says further About the month of January last he appeared duller like more so than usual: I observed this change in his manner but I know of no reason for this change. I know his relatives and they are also quiet people, And this is truth.

(Signed) John Craig.

Patrick Mullarkey. says I am overseer and Game keeper and reside at Corsa Cottage Arran who being solemnly sworn and examined Deponeth I know Charles Kerr and he was employed under me for nearly twelve years previous to Martinmas last when he was laid off: He was a very quiet inoffensive man and conversed most rationally: His relatives are also of sound mind. He went to Brodick in the spring of this year to work and he came back or was sent back to his own house at Dougary and on enquiry, was informed that he was out of his mind. I saw Kerr two days after that: When I went in he had a great many miscellaneous things about him which he lifted up and put in one place and then in another without any apparent object. He was talking incoherently and said that Sir Charles Napier had got a suit of gold from the Queen and had given it to Lord Belmore who had given it to him. That he Kerr was going to build a large house & buy Lord Belmores furniture and that he had a couple of hundred pounds. He said that he was at the American War in 1798 and at the French Revolution under Napoleon He said that he was going to shoot the preceding witness and me for putting him in irons. I was not engaged in putting him in irons but he said I was the cause of his seeing put in irons Kerr appeared to think the things he had were his own & saw him on one occasion at a yacht of Lord Ormonde's that was wrecked and he was breaking off part and taking them away. He said that he got her from Lord Ormonde and that he was going to lengthen her and repair her & all which I depone to be truth as I shall answer to God

(Signed) Patrick Mullarkey.

Angus M'Callym shepherd to and residing with John Craig a precedings witness who being solemnly sworn and examined deponeth I have known Charles Kerr for two years, he took away from my masters house a fishing buoy and a boom which belonged to my master and he took them as if they were his own: I heard him threatening to shoot the precedings witness: It is not very long since these things occured & all which I depone to be truth as I shall answer to God, (Signd) Angus M.c Callum.

Duncan Kerr gardener residing at Corsa Cottage Arran who being solemnly sworn and examined deponeth I have known Charles Kerr for seven years: Since last spring I have heard him threaten to shoot M.r Mullarkey He did not say why he was going to shoot him. It was on my saying that Mr. Mullarkey was coming up to see him that he said it: I saw him taking away pieces of a boat of Lord Rosmores and ropes and he took them as if they were his own. He also took barrels in the same way &c. which I deplore the truth as I shall answer to God

(Signed) J Duncan Kerr.

Lachlan Mc Kirdy Ploughman residing at Dykehead near Brodick who being solemnly sworn and examined deposes I have known Charles Kerr for twelve years past and he was quite quiet and sound in the mind and like the other men: In spring this year he was working at Brodick and I saw him there: Nothing occurred to him in the way of injury to his person or any thing to affect his mind: He came to me one morning about six o'clock with a bottle of whisky and he said that the D. allowed him to take it for his health: He was speaking nonsense he said there was something wrong in his head: that he had rescued the mens wages and that he was foreman. He said that he had Eighty pound to get from Mr Stanley: I went home with him after breakfast that day as he was apparently out of his mind: He was at Brodick one day afterwards & told me he was to get ground from Mr Gourley to build a house for himself and that he would build a house for me also. While I was taking him home he talked all the way about Brodick and the great things he was doing there. All which he deponed to be truth as he shall answer to God.

(Signed) Lauchlin McKirdy

Charles Cook Surgeon residing at Woodside maketh Oath and saith as follows being solemnly sworn and examined deponed I have a diploma as Surgeon from the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons in Glasgow; I produce a joint report by myself and Dr Jamieson as to the state of mind of Charles Kerr. I met Kerr one day coming from Church and on some conversation I had with him he stated that Dr Jamieson had given him a dose of medicine which had put him all to errors and that he would be revenged on him he also stated that he would be revenged on Mr Mullarky and John Davis for putting him in irons. I observed that he had a vacant appearance about the eyes and appeared dull. His stomach and bowels were much deranged. I have known this to be the cause of derangement and hallucination frequently. A regular course of treatment might remove this state of derangement. I consider that the particular hallucination of Kerr imagining himself a rich man is liable to induce danger to the lieges: All which is truth as I shall answer to God.

(Signed) Charles Cook.

John Anderson Jamieson Physician and Surgeon at Bordick who being solemnly sworn and examined Deponed I have a diploma from the Faculty of Physicians & Surgeons in Glasgow I produce a joint report by me and Mr Charles Cook as to the state of ~~his~~ mind: I think Kerr's derangement may be cured by treatment. Such derangement as Kerr's might arise from a deranged state of his stomach and bowels. I saw him in Spring and he was then very excitable and irritable and talking very incoherently. He was then perfectly deranged and talking of drinking champagne and dining at the Castle. I think such derangement as that manifested by Kerr might lead to acts of violence All which is truth as I shall answer to God.

X Charles Kerr's,

(Signed) A. Jamieson

John Roy keeper of the Prison of Rothesay who being solemnly sworn and examined Deponed Kerr has been talking incoherently during his confinement, but from what I took from him it appeared to me that he considered himself a rich and great man. He spoke of building a Castle and such things All which is truth as I shall answer to God
